MOOSE SCARED HIM.

Man Had Diamond In His Mouth—Swallows It in Fright.

Montreal, June 19.—A man named Charles Cochrane arrived by C.P.R. at the Windsor station from Kippewa district. He appeared to be suffering acute agony, but refused all medical assistance, saying that he could find no relief until he arrived at his journey's end.

Cochrane is a diamond expert, and went north with two others to the district north of Kippewa, diamond prospecting.

Cochrane was moistening a large stone with his lips, in order to bring out its brilliant, when, he says, he looked up and saw an immense moose standing within a few feet of him. In his sudden fright he swallowed the stone and started to run for his life.

He is now hurrying to New York to be operated upon.

Gave Bogus Cheques.

Brantford, June 19.—A man calling himself George Clay, Monday afternoon swindled four local merchants out of $60 by presenting bogus cheques for purchases and receiving change in return. Those who were caught were A. N. Pequegnat, J. O'Neil, G. S. Winter and A. Cockburn.

THE LATE ADAM DAWSON

Integer vitae scelisque puris.

Not for many years has the solid, substantial and upright citizenship of Peterborough suffered a greater loss than that represented by the death of Mr. Adam Dawson, who passed away yesterday afternoon, June 18th, at the age of fifty-nine years. Few citizens were better known, few have been as highly respected and few have been so abundantly worthy of respect.

He was a gentleman of strong convictions and fearless in the expression of the opinions he held, and those who could not share them were forced to respect their honesty, and the sincerity of their possession. He was conspicuous for his uprightness and integrity, and by their persistent practice he built up a character as solid and honest as the walls he constructed. He made many opponents during the forty years he spent in Peterborough, but no enemies in the bitter sense of the word. In whatever capacity he acted, as a man of business, as public servant, as a member of a church communion, he made the same strong record, sincerity and honesty of purpose and practice. Whatever monument may be placed over his mortal remains none can be more creditable than the recollection of the life he lived and the character he developed.

The late Mr. Dawson was a native of Ireland, Rook Corry, County Monaghan, came to Canada in 1866, and has since that time been a resident of Peterborough and has witnessed, and has been a large contributor to, the great growth and prosperity of the town and city. From the earliest years of his residence he identified himself with movements in the public interest. He was a member of the old Fire Brigade, when a hand engine was the most formidable means of fighting fires. He was also a member of the 57th Battalion under the command of Col. J. Z. Roger. Later in life he took an active and intelligent interest in municipal matters, and occupied the position of alderman for thirteen years, during that time being chairman of several of the most important committees. In this capacity he gave excellent service, marked by good judgment, honesty of purpose and intelligent solicitude for the public welfare. Though other members might not always agree with the positions he took they felt that they were honestly taken and they always knew where to find Adam Dawson.

Mr. Dawson became a member of Corinthian Lodge of Masons in 1875. He was elected as Worshipful Master in 1888 and up to the time of his demise was an enthusiastic member of that fraternity. He was appointed by Rt. Worshipful Grand Master Harding to an office in the Grand Lodge of Canada. He was also a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Mr. Dawson served his time as a builder and served it to excellent advantage, with the late Mr. David Carlisle, and after the death of that gentleman, successfully carried on the contracting business up to the time of his last illness.

In religion Mr. Dawson was a staunch member of the English Church, having at times been a member of all three congregations in the city. First of St. John's and then, on the establishment of St. Luke's, he joined that congregation, of which he was a member for twenty-five years, and during that time was for two terms Rector's Church Warden, and at times occupied other positions of responsibility. Two years ago, owing to failing health Mr. Dawson became a member of All Saints' congregation, more easily accessible. The same sterling characteristics that marked Mr. Dawson in his other relations attended him in his church relations and in his daily life.

In politics Mr. Dawson was a staunch Conservative.

He was married in 1877 to Jane, eldest daughter of Mr. Robert Butler, Cobourg. Mrs. Dawson and six children survive,—Ethyl, Alice, Frank, Vernon, Elsie and Phyllis. Mr. Thos. Dawson is a brother of deceased.

Mr. Dawson has been ill for some time with stomach disease, and about seven weeks ago this trouble took an aggravated form and proved fatal.

The funeral, to Little Lake Cemetery, will be conducted under Masonic auspices on Friday, June 21st, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt and Rev. Wm. Major taking the religious portion of the services.

A private service for the family will be held at the residence, 483 Donegal street, and a public service at All Saints' church at 3 o'clock.

RESIDENCE FOR SALE

The undersigned will dispose of at a bargain THE BRICK RESIDENCE, corner of George and Dublin Sts. (formerly occupied by Mr. Geo. Hilliard, M. P.) The residence has fourteen-inch brick wall, brick kitchen and summer kitchen, parlor, folding doors, splendid dining-room and six bed-rooms. As this property must be turned over quickly the purchaser will get a good bargain.

Thousands of Women suffer Untold Misery Every Day with Aching Backs That Really have no Business to Ache.

Under ordinary conditions it ought to be strong and ready to bear the burdens of life. It is hard to do housework with an aching back. Backache comes from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause.

But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it is not to be wondered that they get out of order.

Backache is simply a warning from the kidneys and should be attended to immediately so as to avoid years of terrible suffering from Kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills

will cure you in the same way as they have cured thousands of others.

Mrs. Thos. Craig, Almonte, Ont., writes: "I was doctoring for six months for kidney trouble and my back was so lame I had to lie in bed. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I did so and in one week I was able to walk with very little pain, and in five months my back was as strong as ever."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers, or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

LAND SEEKERS DRENCHED.

Crowd However Refused to Give Up Their Places.

Yorkton, Sask., June 19.—One of the choicest and largest townships of the entire Doukhobor reserve has been thrown open for homesteading and one of the wildest scenes ever witnessed here was the result.

In order to better control the crowd and avoid the long hours of waiting, the mounted police some time ago ordered all those desiring homesteads to be at the land office at 6 o'clock and from up at the edge of the sidewalk in front of the building, then, at a word from the police, they were allowed to rush for the door and form up in single file along the wall. Each man was then given a number and No. 1 gets first choice of the land.

The crowd was so large that this order of things was completely upset. At 3 o'clock in the morning a large crowd gathered and kept increasing and at 6 o'clock the street and sidewalks were both crowded and the police were almost powerless to handle it.

The assistant chief of the town fire brigade was assisting the police in the capacity of special constable, when it occurred to him that the crowd would be easily dispersed if the hose was turned on them. He communicated his idea to the sergeant in charge, who promptly acted on it and the fire bell was rung, the brigade called out and in a very short time a powerful stream was drenching the sweating, struggling, tired mass of humanity through and through, but they did not budge. They took their drenching rather than lose their chance of a homestead.

The greatest indignation was aroused.

Will Consult Premiers.

London, June 19.—(C. A. P.)—The Government will consult the Premiers who objected to the publication of the preference debate at the colonial conference in 1902 as to whether they are prepared to reconsider the matter.

ST. PETERSBURG QUIET.

Guards Removed; All Fears of an Outbreak Now Gone.

St. Petersburg, June 19.—The return of the Guard Regiments to their summer camp at Krasnoye Selo indicates that the authorities have definitely ceased to reckon on an outbreak of disorder at the capital following the coup d'etat. This view is confirmed by the action of the revolutionary parties in declaring against armed outbreaks at the present time, when the troops are loyal to the Government.

A high police official, however, says that speedy resumption of the terrorist campaign, including attempts on the lives of the Ministers and other high officials, may be expected.

There was a collision Monday between Cossacks and workmen near Yekaterinoslav. The Cossacks fired a volley, seriously wounding four men. The trouble was provoked by the insolent bearing of Caucasian mercenaries employed to protect private estates in the Caucusus.

Ten of the 16 Social Democratic members of the late Parliament, whose arrest was demanded by Premier Stolypin, are now in the hands of the police. Several Social revolutionary deputies and a number of members of the first Parliament, among them being Ramischwili, Annikin and Tesla, have also been arrested.

A number of workmen have been arrested for tearing down and defacing the Emperor's manifesto.

FOREST FIRES RAGING.

Three Men Reported Burned to Death—Much Property Destroyed.

Sault Ste. Marie, June 19.—More serious reports came from the woods yesterday regarding forest fires. Although rain fell Monday night the fires were not checked.

It is reported from Webbwood that three men were burned to death near there. Many miles of forest along the Algoma Central have been burned, and the flames seem to be increasing in spite of light rains.

Thousands of dollars' worth of timber has been destroyed in the Georgian Bay district also, and many operators have lost all of their supplies and equipments.

Destructive fires are burning on the Michigan side, too. Unless heavy rains falls at once the fires may burn for days.

Mining Buildings Damaged.

Mine Centre, Ont., June 19.—Bush fires west of here Monday did damage to the extent of $15,000 to the property and buildings of the Olive Gold Mining Co., Limited, destroyed two shaft-houses and machinery, also blacksmith-shops, double tramways and some outbuildings belonging to the plant.

ADDRESSES WERE PRESENTED

Interesting Meeting of Women's Missionary Society of George Street Church Yesterday—Mrs. Crothers Honoured

A LIFE MEMBERSHIP PIN

The June meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the George street Methodist church, was held yesterday afternoon in the church, parlour and was of a most interesting character.

Mrs. (Rev.) A. R. Campbell gave a very interesting and able report of the proceedings of the branch meeting of the society, held last week in Picton. This report showed advancement and progress, especially in finances and the widening of the work being accomplished.

At the close of Mrs. Campbell's address, Miss Muriel Crothers touched every heart by the pathetic tenderness of her sweet voice in the well rendered solo, "Is this Saviour Yours?"

Mrs. Alexander Morrow then read the following address to Mrs. (Rev) Crothers, who to the deepest regret of every member of the Auxiliary is leaving this city for St. Catharines:

Dear Mrs. Crothers,—

It is with deep regret that we realise that this is the last regular meeting of our Auxiliary that we will have you with us.

During the three years we have been favoured with your presence you have been an inspiration to us in leading up to see more of the grandeur of the work God has called us to do in our Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church of Canada. You have been at all times so faithful, so kind, so self-denying, and yet so genial that you have won an abiding place in our hearts.

It would have been our wish to have given you a certificate of life membership in our Auxiliary, as some little expression of our love, but as you are already in that relationship it is our pleasure to do that for your daughter, and we ask you to accept this membership pin from us, and with it our heartfelt wishes for the continual health and happiness of yourself and your dear ones.

Our prayers go with you that you may be made a blessing in the new sphere of usefulness to which you are called.

That you may be kept in the secret of his presence all through life's journey is the desire of your friends of the Peterborough Auxiliary.

June 18, 1907.

The chaste little gold pin of life membership in the society was handed to Mrs. Crothers by Mrs. James Stubbs, the second vice-president of the auxiliary. Mrs. Carlisle, the first vice-president, then presented Miss Mabel Crothers with a certificate of life membership and read the following address:

Dear Miss Crothers,—

Not only to your mother's daughter, but to your own dear self, do we desire to express our affection and our regret that you are about to leave us.

You have so cheerfully and willingly helped in whatever had to be done at any time in connection with church affairs, and above all, you have been a consistent follower of our Lord.

We ask your acceptance of this certificate of Life Membership in our W. M. S. and we trust that it will bring you happiness in some degree.

We pray that you may meet with congenial friendships in the new life to which you are going, that you may "allure to brighten worlds, and lead the way," ever following that which is good, is the desire of your friends of the Peterborough Auxiliary.

June 18, 1907.

The president of the Auxiliary then called on Mrs. Campbell, "the Mother of the Parsonage," to present to Miss Muriel Crothers, "the child of the parsonage," a certificate of life membership in the society. This certificate, the gift of Mrs. Campbell, was presented to little Miss Muriel, accompanied by a few well chosen words by the donor.

Mrs. Crothers feelingly replied to the address, and the gathering dispersed after tendering the best wishes of all to Mrs. Crothers and her family.

Yesterday's Storm Did Much Damage In City And County

Fine Barn of Mr. John Stothart, of Smith Township, Destroyed—Struck by Lightning and Burned

LAD'S NARROW ESCAPE

Young Son of Mr. Stewart, 174 Stewart Street, Was Stunned—Other Damage Done by Storm

Almost an inch of rain fell yesterday afternoon in the first severe thunderstorm of the summer. To be exact up to nine o'clock last night .66 of an inch of rain had fallen on the level, and it was expected that during the night sufficient rain fell to bring the total precipitation up to an inch. The value of this rain from the standpoint of the agriculturist is not easily computed. When it is remembered that an inch of rain means that over one hundred tons of water fell on every acre of land it will be seen that the growing crops should be well watered. The farmers' prospects are very materially brightened by this rain, and it seems probable that with a continuance of favourable weather, with occasional rains, the crops this year will be fully up to those obtained in the past.

The rain yesterday was accompanied by sharp lightning, and a number of buildings were struck with more or less injurious effects.

Mr. Wm. Mitchell during the storm was telephoning in Adamson and Dobbin's store when suddenly he observed a small ball of blue flame shoot out from the instrument. He was slightly stunned for a few seconds but soon recovered.

A telephone pole was struck on Water street to the rear of Hamilton's Foundry, but little damage was inflicted.

LIGHTNING DEMOLISHED CHIMNEY; STUNNED BOY

Bruce, the young son of Mr. Jos. Stewart, of 174 Stewart street, had a very narrow escape yesterday afternoon during the progress of the electric storm. The lightning struck the chimney of the house, shattering it and throwing some of the bricks through a neighbour's window. The fluid, coming down the chimney, ran down the staircase, carrying with it pieces of paper and plaster, and passed out through the screen door. The young lad was standing in the doorway, and was given a severe shock by the electricity as it passed. He was knocked unconscious for some minutes, and his mother, who was alone with him, was greatly alarmed, fearing that he had been killed. He revived, however, in a short time, and, although suffering from the shock, is, it is thought, little the worse for his experience.

Mrs. Stewart was given a nervous shock, and was not able to go upstairs to ascertain the amount of damage done until her husband returned home from work at 6 o'clock.

It was found that a partition upstairs had been rather severely shattered by the shock, but beyond this and the destruction of the chimney, no damage had been done.

VALUABLE SMITH BARN COMPLETELY DESTROYED

The greatest loss inflicted in this district by the electric fluid during yesterday's severe but timely storm, was upon the barns of Mr. John Stothart, who lives to the left of the watering trough on the Nassau road. The lightning struck the big barn shortly after four o'clock and according to an eyewitness of the occurrence it was almost immediately enveloped in flames. Not alone was the barn destroyed, but some outbuildings, a corn silo, some machinery and also a valuable holstein bull suffered death in the conflagration.

Mr. Stothart estimates the entire loss at about $3,000. The barn was a model one in every respect and one of the finest in the county of Peterborough, and it is doubtful if it can be replaced, together with the other losses, with $3,000. It was 75x50 in dimensions with 20 foot posts. It stood on a stone foundation, the basement being fitted up in the most modern style with cement floors, water basins for the cattle, etc. The large corn silo, and a corn chopping machine belonging to Mr. Thos. Stothart, a sheep fold, hog pen and connecting fences were included in the sweep of the flames. In fact there is only one similar barn in the county, which is also owned by a Smith farmer, Mr. Sanderson.

Mr. Stothart also lost between 400 and 500 bushels of grain including wheat, oats, barley and peas. The barns were insured but it is not yet known whether the insurance will cover the loss or not.

PECULIAR BALL OF FIRE DROPPED ON SIMCOE STREET

Among other freaks of the electric fluid was one reported at the corner of Simcoe and Water streets. A ball of fire was seen to drop into the middle of the road, but before reaching it, the electricity appeared to explode. Sparks shot in every direction, one in particular going down Simcoe street. The road bed was afterwards examined but no trace of the effects could be seen.

HORSE ELECTROCUTED IN DOURO TOWNSHIP

According to reports, the Township of Douro suffered but little from the big storm. The only loss reported was that of a horse belonging to Mr. James Haley. The animal was standing in a pasture field under a tree. When it was struck, and electrocuted. The loss will be about $200, which is covered by insurance.

YOUNG LADIES FAINTED DURING THE BIG STORM

The closeness of the thunder and lightning had the effect of causing consternation among many who are somewhat timid during electric storms. It was reported that two young ladies employed in a local dry goods store, fainted with the loud crash of thunder that instantly followed a sharp flash of lightning. The young ladies had to be taken home in a cab.

Many sought the seclusion of the cellars and dark closets during the storm to get as far away as possible from the startling flashes of electricity and the loud peals of thunder.

COWS WERE KILLED IN YESTERDAY'S STORM

The storm of yesterday was hard on the cattle. Word was received in the city to-day to the effect that a valuable cow belonging to Mr. W. J. Crough, of Ennismore was struck in the field and killed. From the township of Douro a similar story comes, a cow, the property of Mr. O'Connor, suffered a like fate.

SUSAN RICHARDS GETS LAST CHANCE

General Police Court News—Contractor and Man in Difficulty

Susan Richards after being in gaol three or four days, appeared at police court again this morning on the same old charge but was let go. She was given the same warning and really, she is like the proverbial cat, "she always comes back," and may be expected again. If she does she will receive a lengthy term in goal.

Walter Moore, a young scamp with mischievous propensities, left his footprints on the shoals of time when he walked on the new pavement on Water street. He was given a severe warning by the Magistrate to behave himself in future.

Jas. Box believed that Mr. Jas. Haywood had not treated him justly in regard to a cement cellar which he and "a friend" had constructed. They took the contract and although it was the first cellar they had ever put in still, like true Englishmen, they were confident they could manage it. They received $27.00 for the job and Mr. Haywood later found that it was poorly finished. Box promised to fix it up but entirely neglected it and as a result Mr. Haywood had to spend $5.00 for work Box should have done. There was $1.50 which Box claimed for digging sand and it was about this that he tried the police court to obtain it. Mr. Haywood considered he had done more than he should, and so did the magistrate and dismissed the case.

Yesterday J. B. Dundas had $1.00 to pay as poll tax. He went out to get the money, but did not return and now he has $3.05 to pay in a specified time or the usual course of the law will be pursued.

HALF DAY TRIPS

On Saturday, June 22nd, the New Fast Sailing Twin Screw Excursion Steamer Otonabee will commence her regular Thursday and Saturday afternoon trips to Idyl Wyld, leaving Wolfe Street Wharf at 2, returning at 8 o'clock, return tickets 50c, children under 8, 25. 3d-143

HARRY RAYMOND WAS DISCHARGED

Accused of Assaulting Chas. Stevens, With Intent to Do Bodily Harm—Many Remands

NO CONVICTION MADE

"There's your death, Raymond; choose for yourself!" were words used by Charles Stevens, as he pointed a revolver at Harry Raymond, on the evening of May 16th, according to the testimony of Eldridge Wesley Wescott, a prominent dealer in rags, bones and general junk.

Raymond was given a hearing this morning, after having been remanded weekly for more than a month. Mr. F. D. Kerr, counsel for the accused, elected to be tried summarily, and Magistrate Dumble, after hearing all the evidence, concluded that there was not sufficient grounds for a conviction, and thus Raymond was discharged.

The Circumstances

It will be remembered that the affair was reported on May 17th, but the full account was received this morning. The evidence of Eldridge Wesley Wescott was most exhaustive and comprehensive, and, as he was a witness of the fight his evidence is reported as entirely describing the event. Witness said that Charles Stevens drove into his father's — Mr. George Stevens' — yard about 8 o'clock on the night in question. He picked up Stevens' whip and began flicking the horse's legs, agitating it and making the animal nervous. Stevens asked him three times to desist, and on the last demand jumped from the wagon and hit Raymond full in the face. The latter returned with his right and then both clinched. Raymond, to quiet his opponent, said, "Easy, Charlie," but the latter paid no attention and then Raymond threw him to the ground. As they fell Stevens' right leg was heard to break, so witness said, and while on the ground witness struck him twice on the head, when he heard Stevens say, "My leg is broken." Mr. George Stevens came running upon the scene and said he would have Raymond's life, but the latter had a stone in his hand, and Mr. Stevens drew back.

Drew a Gun

Then young Stevens drew a .32 calibre from his pocket and aiming it at Raymond's breast, repeated the blood-curdling words mentioned above. His father made him put it away and finally the boy gave it to him. The father went for a doctor and the boy was soon under medical care. Witness saw the revolver with Stevens several days previous to the fight and he told witness he was carrying it for protection.

Westcott was asked if he was in any way related to Raymond, and he replied, "Well, no; not particularly; he's just married to my daughter, that's all."

That was the principal evidence, and covered the whole case. Raymond said he had served a term in a Toronto prison about five years ago for stealing a horse. On the above evidence His Worship discharged the prisoner. Mr. F. D. Kerr, appeared for the defendant, and Mr. A. P. Poussette represented the Crown.

TRUE BLUES IMPORTANT MEETING

Many Matters of Importance Were Considered at Gathering Held Last Night

The Loyal True Blue meeting was well attended last evening, considering the very disagreeable weather. The Worshipful Master was again able to preside. Several matters of important business that have been under debate for a number of meetings, were finally satisfactorily settled, and the results of last night's meeting will be very beneficial to the Lodge. Several other matters were brought up and decided last night, leaving the members more determined than ever to make this a very successful True Blue Lodge. It was also very pleasing to the members to have Mr. Jones present as a visiting brother from Fenelon Falls. The first Wednesday evening in July an important meeting will be held, as several of the different committees will give in their reports of the business they have under consideration. The members will be pleased to have all visiting brethren in the city attend the next meeting. Also any L.O.L. members are invited to attend during the Good of the Order. For information regarding the regalia, the members will communicate with the recording-secretary.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP PIN GIVEN

Members of Mark Street Women's Missionary Society Honoured Pastor's Wife

At the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Mark Street Methodist Church, held in the church, Mrs. S. Taylor, who was the delegate to the branch meeting at Picton, gave a very comprehensive report of that gathering, which was appreciated by the large number of ladies present. An interesting feature of the meeting was the presentation of an address and Life Membership pin to Mrs. (Rev.) J. G. Lewis. The address was read by Mrs. W. D. Sargeant, and Mrs. Wand made the presentation.

Following the meeting refreshments were served and a delightful social hour was spent.

FOUR DUMP CARS FELL INTO THE RIVER

Heavy Rains of Yesterday Undermined Rails Which Gave Way This Afternoon

Four dump carts used in carrying the dredgings from the "Trent" down to the dumping grounds at the end of Charlotte street, tumbled into the river this afternoon. The storm of yesterday had undermined the clay, beneath the tracks, allowing the rails to give way, and precipitating the four carloads of material into the river. Had the employes who guided the cars been on the opposite side there would have been little chance of escape from serious injury.

CATCHING LUNGE IN A POND

Mr. Mathias Kondolf Has a New Scheme to Stock His Pond in Rochester.

The best fish story of the young season was told by Mr. George Brown this morning to the Examiner. The popular proprietor of the Chemong Hotel stated that Mr. Mathias Kondolf, of Rochester was trying to stock a pond with live maskinonge to ship to his home in Rochester. He has been meeting with good luck so far and has secured a number of beauties which he has imprisoned in his pond at the lake.

Ill Temper From a Bad Liver

Calyle justly attributes the ill-temper which made him a monster in the eyes of the world, to a bad liver. Nothing makes one feel more miserable or gloomy and discouraged than liver complaint, and consequent biliousness and dyspepsia, and nothing so thoroughly and promptly sets the liver right and overcomes these ailments as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the great family medicine.

New Line to Muskoka

Canada's greatest railway, in building a line to connect Toronto with the main transcontinental track at Sudbury, has incidentally given us a new direct route to the Muskoka Lakes district, over which fast passenger trains will be running after Saturday, June 22. Bala, which is reached in three and a half hours from Toronto, will be the Lakes terminus this summer, and there steamers of the Muskoka Navigation Co. will connect with trains, carrying travellers to all points on Lakes Muskoka, Joseph and Rosseau. The roadbed is heavily aid and well ballasted, train equipment is new and handsome, and excellent time is made. In addition to the local trains, there will be two flyers to the Lakes, the Lakeland Limited and Sunrise Express, and two flyers south-bound, the Queen City Flyer and Twilight Limited. Through sleepers will run to and from Toronto, Buffalo, Pittsburgh and New York, and, of course, a splendid equipment of parlour cars, dining cars and luxurious day coaches. C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent, C.P.R., at Toronto, will be glad to mail full particulars of trains and handsome illustrated Muskoka folder, or same may be obtained from local C.P.R. agents. 2d143

THE PEACE PROBLEM

Time is not essential to the development of a civilization high enough to prevent the maintenance of the feuds among nations, that are natural enough between barbarous or semi-civilized countries. Europe has been for centuries working out the problems of civilization and progress, but with little results, so far as what may be called tribal feuds, are concerned. It is composed of a large number of states, which are always, and have been for hundreds of years, ready to spring at each other's throats. Tremendous war preparations are maintained, which in themselves are almost as burdensome and productive of waste of national resources, as war itself. The theory is, that readiness for war is conducive to peace. This theory is faulty, of which we on this continent have actual proof. Three thousand miles of boundary stretch between us and the United States, and peace between the countries is so much assured that even the presence of one war vessel, outside of a fishing patrol boat, would tend to a breach of the peace. The Methodist Conference is justified, and to be commended for protesting against the abrogation of the agreement that neither Canada nor the United States shall maintain a war vessel on the boundary lakes. Our open and unguarded frontiers are our best protection against war, a lesson that Europe might well lay to heart. There would no need for Hague peace conferences, which cry peace, when there is no peace,

MINISTERS AND POLITICS

Several Anglican Synods have declared for the purification of politics, and the subject has been discussed also in the Presbyterian General Assembly, and in one or more Methodist Conferences. To enforce these declarations, it is highly important that ministers should themselves keep clear of the seamy side of politics. It is very doubtful whether the Rev. Mr. Chambers ought to have accepted the position of governor of the Toronto Jail. The dismissal of Governor VanZant was brought about by the most disinterested means, and if Mr. Chambers had refused the office he would have conjured these methods, condemned the spoils system, and greatly aided the purification of the spoils system.

Brantford politicians are seeking an excuse for the dismissal of Magistrate Woodyatt. Mr. Woodyatt got into a dispute with two local clergymen, Messrs. Imrie and Thompson. The latter case, says the Brantford Courier, was considered at a meeting of the Lord's Day Alliance, and also at a meeting of the Ministerial Association of the city. In both instances, resolutions were passed declaring that the matter should be taken up with the Government. A deputation was appointed to see Mr. Whitney, and Rev. Mr. Caswell and Rev. Mr. Thompson went to Toronto.

Without discussing the merits of these disputes, it may be pointed out that it looks very much as if the Brantford ministers are being used to carry out the designs of local Conservative politicians, and to lend an appearance of respectability to the spoils system. This is a danger which the denominational parliaments cannot afford to ignore.—Toronto Star.

Fowler's Absence Is Causing Some Comment

Montreal Star's Correspondent Points Out That the Man Who Was Behind the Emmerson Charges Is Not at the Trial.

REMAINS IN THE WEST

The following despatch to the Montreal Star, the chief organ of the Conservative party in Canada, derives a good deal of significance from the fact of its appearing in that journal:

Fredericton, N. B., June 19. — A good deal of comment is being indulged in by the spectators regarding the absence of G. W. Fowler, M.P., during the trial of the Emmerson-Crockett libel case. Mr. Fowler is the president of the Gleaner Publishing Company; he is also, as is well known, the author of the famous phrase, out of which the Emmerson-Crockett cause celebre arose. His political fortunes hinge more or less on the trial. His natural place therefore, in the opinion of many people, is in the ranks of the counsel for the defence. At present Mr. Fowler is somewhere in Albert or British Columbia, breathing long distance threats of slaughter against "two more Cabinet Ministers," who, he says, will shortly have to retire from the ranks of the Laurier Administration. Mr. Fowler went west just before the opening of the trial, and has been there ever since, although there is good reason to believe that New Brunswick friends have urged him to return to take part in the conduct of the trial, and aid in clearing up a situation which he himself has largely created. His continued absence and silence are construed as a refusal, and give rise to much unfavourable comment on the member for Kings-Albert. First, it is pointed out, he made grave charges in parliament, which he never "made good." Now, again, in an hour of crisis so far as (what is considered) his personal organ is concerned, he takes himself out of the province, and remains out. There is good reason to believe, too, that Mr. Fowler did not contribute one iota of evidence in the present libel case and that had Mr. Crockett depended upon his generalities and unsupported statements the results would have been disastrous for the defence.

WHERE THE RESPONSIBILITY LIES

Speaking at the South Huron nominating convention, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth said:

As to the charge of women, I can point to more than one Conservative constituency in Ontario which in the past has been represented by a member who was living openly with a woman who was not his wife. I speak truthfully. Names could be given—names associated with the history of the legislation of this country.

But again I say, are these the matters the people want investigated in the Parliament of Canada? Are not these not matters for the people of Canada, of the different constituencies, to decide? I fully agree that no public man should come before the people of any constituency if he is not a man of character, if he is not a man of fair reputation, a man who conducts his own private business fairly and decently.

Is there not something reasonable, asks the Brantford Expositor, in the position assumed by the Minister of Parliament to be investigating the private lives of its members? Is a man to be expelled from Parliament because he gets drunk? Or because of social sins? No one can condone such offences on the part of public men, but, on the other hand, Parliament is hardly in a position to investigate other than breaches of public trust. It is for the constituencies to see that their representative men are such as to bring no reproach upon them, and if they are careless in this matter they can scarcely complain if the moral tone of Parliament is not what it ought to be.

In saying this, however, we are satisfied that the wholesale charges which are now being indulged in relative to the public men of Canada are without justification, and that the many are being brought into condemnation for the offences of the isolated few.

EDITORIAL NOTES

In the year 1905-6, while the United States got the great bulk of its immigration from Italy and other undesirable countries as to character of immigrants, during the same time, Canada, out of a total immigration of 189,064, received 56 per cent. from the desirable countries, Italy furnished only four per cent, and Russia and Finland only 2 per cent. Canada received 30 per cent. of the entire year's immigration from the United States. In return, the United States got from Canada and Newfoundland combined less than one-half of one per cent. of her entire immigration.

RIVIERE DU LOUP'S ENTERPRISE

A Pretty Booklet Sent Out Advertising the Advantages of This Delightful Spot

A most creditable illustrated booklet issued from Riviere Du Loup, Quebec, containing views of that progressive little city, is acknowledged by the Examiner. It contains a number of views of the city with pictures of many of its industries and pretty residences and church buildings. The natural beauties surrounding Riviere du Loup, or Fraserville, as it is officially known, should prove attractive enough to induce many city residences to spend the summer months at some of the many delightful resorts for which it is now becoming famous.

The book is sent out by the Publicity Department of Fraserville, the secretary of which advises all who are "searching for health and happiness, wondering where to spend your holidays, looking for a desirable place of summer residence, or seeking to locate a live industry to write to him. With enterprise such as this Fraserville should continue to in in prosperity.

WAINWRIGHT WILL BE HEARD

Engineer Will Explain His Grievances to the Fire, Water and Light Committee

The resignation of Engineer Wainwright of the Fire Department was taken up by the Fire, Water and Light Committee last night. Foreman Pakenham was present and stated that when he had informed Wainwright that if an alarm came in while he was on duty at the fire hall that he should drive the second rig to the fire instead of jumping on the first wagon with the volunteer firemen and that the engineer had refused to do this and had left off work at once.

The Mayor interpreted the bylaws to mean that the foreman had no authority over the engineer while going to or at a fire, and that such orders should come from Chief Rutherford.

Foreman Pakenham was of the opinion that he had full control of everything in the fire hall and that he was within his rights in ordering the engineer to drive one of the rigs in case a driver was absent.

Ald. Morgan thought that Wainwright should be given a hearing and moved that he should be heard before the committee as well as before the Board of Works and Chief Rutherford. Foreman Pakenham and Street Commissioner Evans.—Carried.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 TRADE MARK ROGERS BROS.

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

Early Season Notes Of Stony Lake Points

Warm Weather is Causing an Influx of Visitors—Boschink and Crowe's Landing Items of Interest.

SOME FISH CAUGHT

Boschink, Stony Lake, June 18.—The warm weather and the fact that the fishing season opened on Monday has resulted in an influx of visitors to this end of the lake.

Mrs. Riggs, of Toronto, is building a cottage near Mr. Dodsworth's cottage. Mr. Herrington of Unionville, is the contractor and he is accompanied by his wife. On Monday Mrs. Herrington and Miss Maud Breeze succeeded in landing a nice ten pound lunge as well as a four pound bass.

Mr. Dodsworth, of Pittsburg is having his cottage improved, the verandah being made larger.

Mr. R J Winch is at Yarrowbrae and with him as his guests are Mr. Miller and son, and Mr. Norman Reid.

Mrs. Sanderson visited her cottage this week and planted some flowers. She will open her cottage for the season during the first week in July.

Mr. Fred Addison, of Toronto had had his cottage repainted and the exterior now presents a very handsome appearance.

Mr. McCreadie, of Toronto, has been busily engaged in painting Mr. Ferguson's sailing yacht. His own yacht "Margo" has been launched and is ready to take the guests of Mrs. Breeze at Glenwood for the delightful trips to Juniper which were so much enjoyed last year.

Crowe's Landing Eastern Stony Lake

Mr. Brodie with a gang of fifteen men has started work at the quarry near Kell's Creek. The stone they are taking out is being cut into four foot slabs and it is understood will be used in constructing the new Catholic church in the south end of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Nicholl, of Norwood, are spending a few days at their cottage at Crow's Landing.

Owing to ill-health Mr. Robt. Lundy has rented his cottage for the season, and with Mrs. Lundy will spend the summer at Chemong. Mr. and Mrs. Lundy have been very popular among the cottagers and will be greatly missed. It is hoped that Mr. Lundy will soon be restored to his usual health.

Mr. Robt. Crowe, of Warsaw, is spending a few days at Crowe's Landing, the guest of his father, Mr. Christopher Crowe.

Miss Cora Crowe, who has been visiting friends in Norwood, returned.

Mr. Harry Winch with a jolly bunch of fellows are spending a few days at Mr. H. LeBrun's cottage. They arrived Saturday night and in the still of the night their melodious voices could be heard fully a mile singing popular song "Everybody Works but Father." Mr. A. Jackson, the good-natured chef is with the party.

Mr. and Miss Burnham and Miss Isabel Foy are spending a few days at the Burnham cottage, Crowe's Landing.

Mr. and Mrs. F P Gould and Miss Carrie, of Toronto, have opened their cottage for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gibson spent Sunday at their cottage.

Mr. R J Winch and party came up Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Langton, who have been spending the last 10 days at "Belle Isle" returned to the city to-day.

Pains in the Back Over the Kidneys

TELL OF DISEASED KIDNEYS AND THEJ PROVEN CURE FOR THIS DREADFULLY PAINFUL AILMENT IS

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

When kidney disease does not arise from exposure to a draft or chilling of the body it is usually developed gradually as a result of liver and bowel disorders.

It is because of the intimate and dependent relations of the liver, kidneys and bowels, that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure diseases of the Kidneys when mere kidney medicines fail.

By quickening the action of the liver and bowels this treatment immediately lessens the work of the kidneys, and at the same time restores their natural vigour. In this way the most serious and complicated diseases of the kidneys are thoroughly cured.

Miss Della McDermott, 373 Main street, Moncton, N.B., writes:

"For some time my mother could not walk across the floor, or stoop over because the pains in her back just over the kidneys were so severe. She had severe headaches, backache, spells of blindness and dizziness, and tried many remedies without obtaining any relief. The doctors of our town said that the trouble was due to the turn of life.

"A lady friend advised mother to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and by the time she had used two boxes of this great medicine she was perfectly cured and the old trouble has never returned."

Mr. J. Edwards of Colborne, Ont., and who is employed by the Kennedy and Davis Milling Company, Lindsay, Ont., states: "I have been taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for some time and can positively say they are the best medicine I have ever used. I was troubled very much with my kidneys, and had dreadful pains in my back, which increased by leaning over.

"I can testify to the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, because they have cured me, and shall gladly recommend them to anyone inquiring about them.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

TOURIST NUMBER OF ROD AND GUN

An Especially Attractive Number of Canada's Leading Outing Magazine is That for June

In the beautiful month of June, the great tourist army is on the move. The cities become unbearable and the delights of the water and of the country create a longing which only gratification can satisfy. Alike to those who go, and those, who, for various reasons, cannot go, the June number of Rod and Gun, and Motor Sports in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont., is welcomed, telling, as it does, about both boating and summer resorts. In both the Dominion is extremely rich. Let the boating be taken in the form of canoeing, yachting or motoring, Canada has numerous devotees and ample water surface of all kinds for all tastes and all requirements. The wonderful wealth and variety of boating in Canada is well illustrated by the stories to be found in this number. Angling on Newboro Lake; Camping among the Thousand Islands, Yachting on Georgian Bay, and exploring by canoe in Northern Ontario, are but a few of the phases that boating assumes in the Dominion. Hunters, Fishermen, mountaineers, motorists on land and water, trap shooters and sportsmen of every variety, are all catered for in addition, and the whole number worthily maintains the high position the magazine has achieved throughout the wide field of the Dominion and the wider one of the North American Continent.

NO INMATES FROM THE CITY

County Council Decides Not to Accept Any for the County House of Refuge

Yesterday afternoon the County Council discussed the question of admitting city inmates to the House of Refuge and it was decided in view of the difficulty of securing help that that at the present time it would be impracticable to admit persons from the city. There are now sixteen inmates, some of whom are confined to bed, and although it was arranged that a conference should be held between the City and County Councils in reference to making a schedule of prices for city inmates, that conference will now be unnecessary in view of the decision reached. It is probable that later on a mutual agreement will be entered into.

CONTRACTOR CONDEMS BUILDING PERMITS

Publication of Cost of Houses Cause of Inactivity of Building, He Says

In speaking to a prominent contractor and real estate man to-day, an Examiner representative heard some pretty strong language in condemnation of the building permits, particularly because they were allowed to be published. The contractor blamed this for the inactivity in residence building, on the grounds that those who built for speculative purposes did not wish to have the estimated cost of the buildings known. Nothing, he said, could be more detrimental to the building trade so far as contractors and speculators were concerned.

ANOTHER YOUNG MAN LEAVES FOR WINNIPEG

Mr. Jno. Hardwicke Departs This Evening for the West

Mr. Jno. Hardwicke is another of the young Peterborough men who leaves the district to seek his fortune in the Canadian West. He departs from the city this evening on the 4.48 C.P.R. train for Winnipeg, which city he intends to make his home. Mr. Hardwicke will be missed by a large number of young people in Peterborough, and particularly by those attached to the Murray Street Baptist Church.

OFFICIAL PICTURES OF THE NEW LIFT LOCK

Mr. Fred Roy, of the Roy Studio, Has Gone to Kirkfield for This Purpose

Mr. Fred Roy has gone to Kirkfield, where he will take the official photographs of the new lift lock, which will be opened on Saturday, July 6th. Every facility will be afforded Mr. Roy for securing pictures which will do credit to the importance of the work and to the artiste.

The School Inspectors' Salaries Are Too Low

Inspector Lees Says He and His Colleague Are Paid Less Than Those in Other Counties.

OTHER MATTERS IN REPORT

The question of the salaries paid the County Public School Inspectors was touched upon in the annual report of Inspector Lees, presented at the afternoon session of the County Council yesterday. He stated that the salaries paid the inspectors here were much lower than those in other counties. The report, which dealt with a number of matters of importance to the educational interests of the county, was, on motion of Mr. Shaw, received. The report was as follows:

To the Warden and Council of the County of Peterborough.

Gentlemen,—

I beg respectfully to submit my second annual report on the schools of the county.

Since reporting last, I have visited the schools of the western division, making 54 official inspections and a number of informal visits. In this division there are 48 teachers in the rural schools and six in the village of Lakefield. Of these 54, one holds a first-class certificate, 19 hold second; 21, third; 7, district, and 6 temporary certificates, or none at all. A number of the teachers are without experience, and a few of those who have taught for some time are doing indifferent work, but, on the whole, I found the teachers earnest and anxious to do their best. Some of the younger teachers are working hard, and, by their energy and enthusiasm, doing much to compensate for their lack of experience.

In my visits to the schools during the past year, I have had two main purposes in view. First, I have endeavoured to meet as many of the trustees as possible, discuss with them the needs of the schools, and explain the requirements and conditions of the New Laws and Regulations. Whatever may be said for or against this law, it is essential to its successful working that the school authorities should become thoroughly familiar with it as quickly as possible. My second object has been to assist and stimulate the teachers to a more thorough and successful performance of their duties, rather than to discover and report on failures and shortcomings. I hope that in both these objects my visits may not have been without some beneficial results.

There are, in the county, 100 rural school houses, of which 19 are brick, 2 stone, 35 frame, and 14 log. As compared with other parts of the Province, the buildings are not good. Few of them have any provision for ventilation besides windows and doors. Most of them are dingy, bare and uninviting both inside and out. The out-buildings are, in many cases, rough, paintless and in poor repair. The grounds are unadorned, except for a few trees about the fences, and these poorly cared for. I am pleased to report, however, that things are improving in this respect. In many cases, something has been done during the past year, and though much yet remains to be accomplished, there are signs of an increasing interest in these things. During the year a new school was built in Section No. 11, Otonabee. At the present time one is in course of erection in Section No. 6, Asphodel. It is costing about $2,000, is modern in design and arrangement, and will be the best rural school building in the county.

During last year there were registered at the rural schools of the county, 3851 pupils, with an average attendance of 1977, or slightly over 50 per cent. The total expenditure was $41,964.63, equal to $10.90 per capita of the registered, or $21.22 per capita of the average attendance. In the villages there were enrolled 904 pupils, with an average of 509, or slightly over 56 per cent. The total cost was $8,795.85, being $9.73 each on the registered, or $14.90 on the average attendance. In this connection, a few figures by way of comparison may be interesting and profitable. In the year 1905 (the last for which returns are available) the average attendance for all Ontario was 69.15 per cent. of the enrolment, and, for the United States, 70 per cent. The expenditure per capita of the average attendance was, for Ontario, $24.971 for Massachusetts, $39.60; for Michigan, $28, and for the whole United States, $24.14. Massachusetts and Michigan are mentioned because the former is generally recognized as probably the most progressive in educational matters, and Michigan is, in general conditions, most nearly like Ontario.

Distribution of Grants

Important changes are to be made in the mode of distribution of the grants, which are to be largely increased. There will be

1. A fixed grant to all schools in townships where the assessment is less than an average of $50,000 per school section. Under this head the schools in Belmont and Methuen, Burleigh and Anstruther, Chandos, Galway and Cavendish, and Harvey will each receive $30, if they have been open a full year since August last, if less, half that sum.

2. In the above mentioned townships a grant of 40 per cent. of what the teacher is paid in excess of $150, with the same exception as above in all the other schools of the county this grant will be 40 per cent. of the excess of salary over $300.

3. A grant of $20 to every school employing an efficient teacher holding a first or second class certificate.

These three grants are to be known as the General Legislative Grant, and will be paid in July to all schools that have complied with the requirements in regard to Minimum Equipment. In the case of others, the grant cannot be paid till these conditions are complied with.

4. A special grant for equipment and accommodation, which will be based on the value of the equipment and the grading of the accommodation, according to a scheme furnished by the Department of Education. This is to be paid as soon as possible, but not later than Dec 1st. The county is required to pay the equivalent of this grant.

Continuation Schools

The question of Continuation Schools is receiving a good deal of attention from the authorities. It is probable that in future only one grade of these schools will be recognized, viz., Grade A, in which the teacher will give all his time to this work. The only school of this grade now in the county is the Continuation School in the Township of Ennismore. The Havelock School Board, however, purpose erecting an addition to their building, thus providing the necessary accommodation and raising theirs to this status in September. It is to be hoped that the people of Lakefield will also take similar steps as the grants to these schools are going to be liberal, and there is no reason why any village community should now be without the advantages to be derived from such a school. The other grades will rank as Fifth Classes and will still be liberally dealt with in the matter of Legislative and County grants.

I would respectfully call your attention to the fact that the salary paid your inspectors is considerably lower than that received by any other county inspector in the province, and notwithstanding the substantial increase made a year ago in the part paid by the legislature, is still inadequate to the services rendered While the duties are not burdensome as regards the time required for their performance, it they are such as to prevent the doing of any other remunerative work, and the necessary expenses connected with them are considerable.

I have the honor to be
Your obedient servant,
RICHARD LEES.
Peterborough, June 18, 1907.

Tuesday's Session

A deputation, representing the West Peterborough Agricultural Society, was introduced, and Ald. Elliott addressed the Council, asking for the usual assistance to the Exhibition as in the past. The speaker referred to the great benefit to the farmers which agricultural fairs proved. The competition in stock at fairs had resulted in an improvement in the quality of the stock produced. The fact that the Canadian farmers had taken such a high place among the agriculturalists of the world was due largely to the educational influences of the fall fairs.

Mr. J. H. Garbutt asked the Council if an increase could not be made this year. Mr. W. B. Stewart asked the Council to give them all it could.

On behalf of the East Peterborough Association, Mr. F. Birdsall, the president, addressed the Council for a grant to his association. He made a request for a larger grant this year, because of the fact that the Government grant would be smaller, and new buildings were needed. Under the new Fairs Act the city fairs were to be benefitted at the expense of the county fairs, and he was afraid that the latter might suffer.

Mr. Chas. O'Reilly, the secretary, stated that the society was on a level footing, but had no surplus. He hoped that the Council would be liberal. Mr. Ed. Hawthorne, Warsaw; S. B. Pearce, J. A. Sexsmith, Jas. Andrews and W. T. Buck also addressed the Council on the request for the grant.

On motion, it was decided to refer both requests to the Finance Committee.

At the afternoon session of the County Council yesterday the question of the expenditure of money on a road in Asphodel and the assuming of a bridge over the Indian River near Stony Lake was considered.

Messrs Brown and Comstock, of Asphodel, addressed the council, asking for a grant to repair a road in that township on which there is a very steep hill at the present time practically impassable. Mr. W. T. Buck, who was present at the request of the Warden, stated his knowledge of the hill, which, he said was a very bad one, and one which the township if left to its own resources could not put into good condition. The matter was referred to the Road and Bridges Committee.

Mr. J. C. Brown, Public School Inspector, reported verbally to the effect that on account of the many changes being made in the school system he had not prepared any formal written report.

Mr. Wm. Miles, of North Dummer, addressed the Council, asking that body to take into its consideration the question of the bridge between Stony Lake and White Lake on the Indian River.

Mr. J. J. Crowe thought that the bridge in question should be assumed by the county. The bridge in question is within a few hundred yards of Stony Lake.

Mr. H. A. Moore also spoke in support of the request. This matter, too, was referred to the Committee on Roads and Bridges.

CELEBRATED PUGILISTS' NAMES REGISTERED

Represent Namesakes of Former World Famed Fighters—Here From Port Hope

On the Oriental hotel register today appears the names of Jas. Corbett, Robt. Fitzsimmons and Jack O'Brien, all from Port Hope. This seems to be a very formidable line-up and at a glance to be fictitious. But a Port Hope visitor standing near when a reporter copied the names into a note book, gave the assurance that it was no joke and that the above mentioned persons were residents of Port Hope. Further assurance of the truth of his statement can easily be derived from the fact that Port Hope is a land of "bon beens."

The Fatal Germ and its Remedy Now Facts of Science

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots need be bald if he uses Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that eats the hair off at the root, and cleans the scalp of dandruff, and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six months he had a normal growth of hair. ## POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — I wish to touch upon a grievance through your handy little post card column. Why doesn't the street railway management do a little management, and manage to have sufficient car accommodation at the electric works on a rainy night? Crowding 97 working men and girls who have been crowded all day in the stuffy rooms of a factory, into one car, is not just the thing. Will the hint be taken? If so, we shall hereafter take the cars more comfortably.

Yours truly,
SQUEEZED.

More Lights For Dark Portions Of The City

Fire, Water and Light Committee Decides Upon the Location of a Large Number of Incandescent and Arc Lights.

RESULT OF THE TOUR

The principal matter which was taken up by the Fire, Water and Light Committee, at its meeting last night was the location of a number of lights, which have been asked for. The committee recently drove around to the places in question, and were thus able to intelligently deal with the matter. Four arc lamps and ten incandescents will be placed in positions where they will give the most service.

There were present Ald. Johnston, chairman, the Mayor, Ald. Morgan and Bradburn.

Mr. Henry Carveth, the contractor for the new Fire hall was present and complained about some particulars in his account for the work

Mr. Carveth said that Mr. Blackwell, the architect, in making his final award, had charged him up with insurance, which he did not think he should pay.

The contract between the city and Mr. Carveth was examined, and it was discovered that there was a clause in the contract providing for the insuring of the building, and the charging of the expense to the contractor. In view of this the committee felt that no action could be taken.

The balance of Mr. Carveth's bill for work in connection with the fire alarm, and for extras in connection with the fire alarm, was ordered to be paid, on the certificate of the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

It was moved by Ald. Bradburn, and seconded by Ald. Morgan that a hydrant be placed on Water street, between Charlotte and King streets; and also at the corner of Hunter street east and Concession street.—Carried.

New Lamps

The committee took up the question of the location of new street lights, to gain information about which they have recently made a tour of the city. It was decided to place one lamp on Bolivar avenue west, at the corner of Boswell avenue and King street, on Charlotte street between St. Thomas street and the boundary and Homewood avenue, 600 feet west of Babb's Lane.

It was decided to change the light at the corner of Smith and Stewart streets to the north-east corner.

The committee decided to change the light at the corner of Park and Charlotte street, to Charlotte street at the corner of Downie street.

An arm will be placed on the lamp on Park street, opposite Gilmour street.

An incandescent lamp will be placed at the corner of Homewood avenue and Belmont avenue.

The arc lamp at the corner of Downie and Hunter streets will be removed and four incandescent lamps substituted.

An incandescent lamp will be placed on Downie street between Brock and Murray streets.

Four incandescent lamps will be placed on Stewart street between London and Smith street.

It was decided to place an incandescent lamp on Division and Union streets.

In East City, incandescent lamps will be placed on Mark street opposite the church, and at the elevator at the railway crossing.

An incandescent lamp will be taken from Rogers street and placed on Mark street between Hunter and Douro street.

It was decided to place a long arm on the corner of Lake and Aylmer streets so as to give light over the G. T. R. crossing at Lake and Bethune street.

The light on Stewart street south will be raised.

The matter of cleaning up the rooms in the fire hall was left in the hands of the chairman, who will make the best arrangements possible.

An account of $5 for medical attendance to Fireman W. Metheral, who was injured at the Peter Hamilton fire recently, was ordered to be paid.

BIG EXCURSION IN THE CITY

Moulders of Port Hope and Cobourg Invade the City This Morning

ARE HAVING A GOOD TIME

Peterborough was invaded this morning by a moulders excursion from Port Hope and Cobourg, under the auspices of the Moulders Local nion No. 189 of the two lakeshore towns. Nearly five hundred excursionists were in the party—to be exact, 475 people, arriving by special G. T. R. train a few minutes after 9 o'clock. They were met at the station by the Peterborough Moulders' Union No. 191, headed by the 57th Band, who marched in a body from the Labour Hall, George street. A procession was formed, consisting of the two unions, and with the band playing martial music, they marched to Inverlea Park by way of Charlotte street, George and Smith streets. At the park, Mr. Hugh Robertson, corresponding secretary of the Peterborough union, cordially welcomed the visitors to Peterborough and referred to the kindly manner in which the local union had been treated, on visits to Cobourg in the past. Officers of the visiting union replied on their behalf.

A number of the visitors spent a pleasant hour in the park, where the band rendered some enjoyable selections. The museum was visited by a large number, who found the examinations of the relics there most interesting. The excursionists spent the morning in sight-seeing, the lift took, of course, attracting the majority of the crowd, while many went to Jackson Park, and the Street Railway Company reaped a harvest.

A drawing contest too place at Inverlea Park at 2 o'clock this afternoon for a number of valuable prizes.

The chief event of interest was the ball game between Port Hope and Peterborough at Riverside Park, which attracted a big crowd.

The various moulding shops in the city were closed to-day and the employees were given a holiday, and shared in the festivities of the day. They exerted every effort to give the visitors a good time, and apparently succeeded.

The visitors will leave for home at 8.30 o'clock to-night.

Boyd and Haskill pulled in to shore with a six-pound lunge in the bottom of the canoe—and the bet was won.

The details of the arrangements are in the hands of the firemen.

It was moved by the Mayor, seconded by Ald. Morgan, that the sum of $100 be granted the firemen for the expenses connected with the opening. —Carried.

CLAIMED TEACHER ILL-TREATED PUPILS IN PUBLIC SCHOOL

Complaints have been made to the acting chairman of the Board of Education in connection with the alleged ill-treatment of pupils in one of the city's public schools. Two gentlemen, fathers of two girls attending this particular school, waited on the acting chairman, and advised him of what they considered cruelty on the part of a lady teacher, and informed him that unless the teacher in question treated the children better they would be taken away from the public school and sent to a private school.

The specific complaint is made that recently one of the little girls had her dress literally torn off by the teacher, who dragged her around the room.

Complaint is also made that she injured the girls by poking them in the body with her ponter. The matter has been referred to the inspector to take action on.

PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of ever getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

AN AGE OF REASON.

The days of mystery have passed. There must be a reason for everything, and we demand to be shown the whys and the wherefores. Secret or patent medicines must go with the other mysteries. King Palmetto Compound is not a secret remedy,—the formula is printed on the label, and you can get expert advice from your physician, who will tell you that it is the most useful prescription ever prepared. Saw Palmetto for the kidneys, Cascara Sagrada for the bowels, Couch Grass, Corn Silk, for the bladder, Golden Seal and Compound Kerunfel,—a perfect combination. The cause of ill-health is not a mystery either, and we know we should apply our reason to our daily habits, but we do not do so. The modern struggle is too much for us. The result is a clogged liver, and a generally disordered condition of the stomach, liver, nerves, and kidneys. These things lead to very serious results, and render the body an easy prey to germ diseases, such as Typhus, Typhoid, and Consumption. The reasonable solution is to begin taking King Palmetto Compound to-day. One dose a day, and the cure begins with the first dose. It will renovate your entire system, cure constipation and indigestion, and purify the blood. Give it a trial. Write for a free sample bottle to the King Palmetto Company, Bridgeburg, Ontario.

Sold and guaranteed by McDermid & Jury, druggists.

SAYS THIS IS BEST

A leading health journal in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood?" prints in a recent issue the following:

Fluid Extract Dandelion one ounce;
Compound Salatone, one ounce;
Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, four ounces.

Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

A well-known physician states that these are harmless vegetable ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy.

This mixture will clean the blood of all impurities. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It puts vigor and energy into run-down debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Salatone and Extract Dandelion, works wonders. This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid, and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.

DOES THE "DIVINE CALL" TO MINISTRY CEASE WHEN LURE OF GOLD COMES?

An Interesting Discussion Indulged in by Members of the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church.

INTO SECULAR CALLINGS

Last night's Toronto Star has the following report of a discussion in the Toronto Methodist Conference, which will be of interest in view of the fact that the matter has been creating widespread interest:

"God knows I'm after no man, but I'm exceedingly jealous of the reputation of the Methodist Church."

So declared Rev. Dr. Rankin at this morning's session of the Toronto Methodist Conference, when the members took up the question of the use of the title, "Reverend," by those ministers who leave the ministry to engage in business life.

Dr. Rankin, seconded by Rev. J. R. L. Starr, moved as follows:

That this Conference is of the opinion that when any minister in the native work, discontinuing that work for the purpose of engaging in what is known as secular work, for any cause other than well authenticated illness, that he should resign from the ministry.

Rev. Dr. Burns rose to a point of order that the question was one covered by the discipline.

Raised Technical Point.

"It's not British, nor fair play," he said, referring to the reflections on that class of ministers.

Rev. Dr. Rankin regretted if the matter would be disposed of by a technicality.

The meeting called for the ruling of the chairman.

"If you listen, I'll tell you what I'm after," said Mr. Rankin.

"We don't need to hear him to know what he's after," said Rev. Dr. Chambers.

"This Conference can pronounce on matters on the great lakes and on Woodbine betting — why not on matters affecting itself?" asked Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C.

Chairman Speer decided that the Conference could discuss the motion.

"Have we the right to demand the resignation of a minister?" asked Dr. Burns.

"The motion does not call for that. It says such a minister should resign," replied Dr. Rankin.

A Milder One

Rev. W. H. Hincks thought the motion was too strong, and he moved an amendment, that a minister who goes into industrial work should surrender his title for the time he holds the position.

Rev. Dr. German has still another amendment. It was to the effect that laymen engaging in business compromising their characters should first resign from the Church.

"I'll second that," shouted Mr. Joseph Tait.

A laugh greeted the amendment.

"If we would talk less about these matters, and act more in accordance with the discipline, we'd do more," said Dr. Burns. "Let us make an example of any brother who breaks the discipline rules."

They Might Quit.

The chairman stated that the moral effect of the motion might cause an offending clergyman to leave the ministry. One preacher had resigned at the General Conference.

"Others might have to resign, also," added the chairman, significantly.

Dr. Rankin did not understand how men who said they had been divinely called to the work could so easily leave it.

"If this is not a divine calling, let the know it," he said. "The Methodist Church is going to impress the world that they believe in the divinity of the call to the ministry as a theory rather than a fact.

"There is such a thing as conducting a legitimate business in an illegitimate way," he went on.

He put in the clause re "well-authenticated illness" because he had heard that it was easy to get a certificate of illness from a doctor. He did not wish to reflect on the doctors, though.

An Aged Man's Advice

Rev. Peter Addison, an old, superannuated preacher, spoke in favour of the motion.

"It's an awful condition of affairs," he said. He wouldn't like to meet in judgment such men as those who professed to hear the divine call and then left the pulpit to make money.

"It's true—you know it is," he added. "Those ministers have lost the love for souls."

He had no use for the preacher who stepped out of the ministry to make money, or sat idle for a year to see what would turn up.

Why he was Bitter

Rev. G. W. Dewey of Davenport created a sensation when he told of being in the house of a man who was bitter against Methodist preachers because his pastor had taken advantage of his position to sell him stock. The man was wild, and so were some of his neighbours, who bought the worthless stock.

Dr. Crummy rose to a point of order and read the clause in the discipline making it incumbent on any preacher or layman knowing of any fault of cause to lay charges properly against the preacher in question.

Mr. Dewey replied that he was not aware of any rule in the discipline that prevented a preacher from selling stock to one of the members of his flock.

"If there is, I'm glad to hear it, for, I'm just the chap to make it smart for the man that does that kind of thing," he said.

Doubt on Discipline

There seemed to be much doubt as to whether the point of stock-dealing was covered by the discipline.

Mr. Dewey emphasized the importance of the ministry, and the need for preachers to be pure.

"I'd rather have my boy a humble preacher of the Methodist Church than Governor-General of Canada."

"The idea of an ambassador of Christ coming down to be an insurance agent," he concluded, with contempt in his tone.

Mr. John Locke held that there was really no difference between the sacred and the secular.

Rev. Dr. Burns said that now that the motion was before them he hoped it would be carried by a big majority. He agreed with its aim, though he thought the ends aimed at could be achieved through the discipline. Any minister who left the pulpit to engage in secular pursuits for the simple purpose of making money should not only drop the "Reverend," but leave the ranks of the ministry for good.

Other Goods Callings

Rev. Dr. Baker thought that the call to the medical profession, or to the farm, or to the store, was just as much divine as to the ministry.

Rev. W. K. Hagar denounced the prevailing methods of making appointments to public positions by political patronage.

"I say to laymen and ministers alike, accept no position that comes to you by political patronage."

He thought a preacher, before leaving the active work of the ministry, should be convinced that he was called to the secular work he had chosen, whether it was that of insurance agent or seller of stocks, or jail governor.

The Jail Governor

Then Dr. Chambers, the new jail governor, rose, and the Conference listened attentively to his statement.

He began by saying that his name should be excepted from the class of preachers who had been discussed.

"I challenge my brethren to put me in that class!" he exclaimed. "In all my life I have never held as much as ten shares of stock. I never bought stock in the Henderson Roller Bearing Co."

The point taken in the motion, he said, did not fit him as one of the evening papers had stated.

Hears Divine Call

"I heard the divine call to the ministry—I hear it now," he went on. "Forty-three years have I served in the ministry, and neither charge nor challenge was made against me."

After that he thought the charge did not fit him now. He had no competency, and when the chance of the position came to him he did not want to wait until Conference met and demand his superannuation, as he might have done. No! He chose rather to accept the position before Conference met and to ask them to leave him without a charge. He would then relieve the Church from paying him $416 a year, which would be his superannuation allowance. At the best, he said, he had not more than one more term ahead of him in the ministry.

"I can serve my God and my country in the jail," he argued.

On Saturday he had made a memo of 18 prisoners entering the jail. Thirteen of them came there because of drink. Four of the 13 were women, and one of the women was a Methodist. See what a chance there was for him to work among such poor unfortunates.

Then the jail governor went on to instance cases where preachers had been appointed to Government positions. Dr. Egerton Ryerson had been made Superintendent of Education for the Province. Rev. Mr. Aylsworth had accepted the appointment of Provincial License Inspector, and a Methodist preacher had been made chaplain of the Penetang Reformatory.

"Dr. Carman was asked to appoint him," interrupted a preacher in the audience.

Then Dr. Chambers' voice rang out in his final declaration.

"Resign! If I were asked by this Conference to-day to resign from the Methodist Church I would send my resignation to Queen's Park first, brethren!"

A section of the clergymen applauded this statement.

Dr. Rankin spoke again, saying that he had not associated Dr. Chambers' name with his motion, and he regretted that the governor's name had been dragged into the debate.

"I regard him as an honourable man, honourably appointed to an honourable position."

Then the vote was taken.

Dr. German's amendment regarding the laymen was voted down, only two or three hands going up in its support.

Rev. Mr. Hincks' amendment got scant support.

A big show of hands went up in favour of Dr. Rankin's motion. Two or three ministers voted against it.

MOB FRIGHTENED BY TROOPS

Wine Growers Revolt in France Speedily Put Down.

STRIKING MAYOR ARRESTED

Anticipated Bloodshed Was Prevented — Leaders Taken by Police Without Any Resistance — Body Guard of Amazons — Peasants Overawed by Military Display —Bridge Burned Down.

Paris, June 20.—M. Ferroul, the striking mayor of Narbonne, and, next to Marcelin Albert, the most prominent figure in the wine-growers' revolt, was arrested yesterday and hurried away to Montpelier.

Before daybreak all roads leading to M. Ferroul's house were held by cuirassiers in strong force. His bodyguard of wine growers, among whom were many Amazons, which had been nightly watching over the safety of their leader, was on duty as usual, but when the wine-growers found themselves surrounded by troops they did not attempt rescuance. When M. Ferroul appeared in custody of a police commissary the crowd momentarily threatened to rescue him, but the mayor begged that there be no conflict with the troops, and he was placed in a carriage, escorted by 150 cuirassiers, and taken to the railroad station at Narbonne, where a special train was awaiting and started with him for Montpelier.

Intense excitement prevails at Narbonne, but the people thus far have been overawed by the military display.

At Argelliers the state and police authorities, escorted by an imposing military force, raided the headquarters of the Central Committee of the Wine-growers' organization at daybreak with warrants for the arrest of Albert and the members of the Central Committee, but they found that the leader of the movement and several of his lieutenants had already fled. Only three committeemen were captured. They were sent to Montpelier.

Strong forces of troops are scouring the country, hunting down the fugitives. Their escape was facilitated by the fact that the people burned the bridge at the entrance of Argelliers Tuesday evening delaying the arrival of the Government's reports.

JUDGE CORTES MURDER.

Recent Crime May Reveal How Assassination Was Done.

Paterson, N. J., June 20.—The mysterious murder of Justice Robert Cortes of this city, who was killed by the explosion of a bomb in his office last winter, may, the police believe, be solved as a result of developments following another murder.

Michael Monachon was found murdered on Garret Mountain last week and Joseph Mustel was arrested, charged with the crime. Yesterday Hampton A. Voorhees, a clerk in an express office in Newark, identified Mustel as the man who delivered to him the infernal machine which later killed Justice Cortes. Voorhees also identified a photograph of Monachon as that of a man who accompanied Mustel.

The police are now working on the theory that several men were involved in the assassination of Cortes, that Monachon was one of them and that one of his companions, fearing that he had been tempted to betray them by the large rewards offered, killed him and left his body where it was found on the mountain.

Justice Cortes incurred the enmity of the criminal element among the Italians in this vicinity because of his activity in assisting the police to run down these law-breakers.

Fort William, June 20.—The trial of Manson Patterson, the Port Elgin boy charged with the murder of Bernard Armstrong, has been adjourned. On the prisoner being asked to plead, he claimed that he was not sane enough to instruct counsel, and adjournment was taken till doctors examine the prisoner.

NO FOOTBALL MATCH HERE THIS EVENING

Cobourg Unable to Send Their Team To-day

The senior footba'l game scheduled for this evening, has unavoidably had to be called off. The Cobourg aggregation sent word this morning that they were unable to come for various reasons, so that the match will be deferred until some evening next week.

A good game, however, will be seen on Saturday afternoon of this week, on the Riverside Park, when the crack Oshawa team will play the Quakers in a League match.

BASEBALL

The Lilies and the Lakeviews will finish their game on the worst field in the city—Patterson street west. The Lilies have a good lead and intend to maintain it.

• • • •

Port Hope and Peterborough are playing a ball game at Riverside Park this afternoon. Fetherstonhaugh occupied the box for Port Hope, Surphlis being held over to pitch against Oshawa on Saturday. Burns was on the rubber for Peterborough, with Burridge doing the receiving.

Some think water

pure because it is carbonated—charged with carbonic acid gas. That is wrong. ¶ Carbonating water doesn't purify it. Carbonic acid gas doesn't cleanse water. ¶ Plenty of carbonated waters are just ordinary city water, charged with gas. That gas is mostly made by the action of sulphuric acid on whiting (such as is used for calcimining), or from the fumes of burning coke. Pleasant, isn't it? ¶ Even spring waters that are naturally fizzy, carbonated far within the earth, are not always safe to drink. Natural carbonation is likely to load water with more lime or magnesia than the system ought to get. So a natural fizzy water may be wholesome and it may not. ¶ The safe way—doctors think the only safe way—for people who like carbonated water, either plain as a beverage, or as a diluent for spirits—is to get an ideally pure spring water, charged with purified carbonic acid gas, and ¶ Carbonated and bottled under absolutely safe, cleanly, and scrupulously sanitary conditions. ¶ Water like that is zestful, refreshing, wholesome, and enhances the flavor of whatever it dilutes—liquors especially. ¶ The water that surely meets every requirement is sold in your neighborhood by merchants who care for the custom of particular people, and in your city by the right kind of hotels, bars and clubs. It is worth asking for; and it is labelled

York Sparks

(York Springs Water, charged with purified carbonic gas and bottled at the Springs for surety of purity.)

THE HORSES ESPECIALLY VALUABLE

More Than 500 Equines With the Forepaugh-Sells Circus, Which Shows Here Next Tuesday

The great attraction of the circus is the horse. To give a circus without horses would be like producing opera without music, or running a watch without a spring. When the circus of to-day comes to town with its calliope and gaudy wagons, fluttering flags and big tents, the horse in all his glory is a vitalizing part of the picture, and he is there in numbers that old Dan Rice never dreamed of. It is the life and animation of the horse, together with the beauty and intelligence of the animal, that lends as much charm and pleasure to the exploits of the sawdust ring as the grace and dash of the rider himself.

There are over five hundred horses in the Forepaugh-Sells show, and this list embraces every known breed of the equine species. To keep this list of aristocratic horseflesh in the pink of condition is no small concern of the proprietors, as may well be imagined. Of course, in the hurry and rush of circus life — making parades, running in the different rings, racing on the hippodrome track and quickly loading the railway cars occasional mishaps are unavoidable. That more accidents do not occur is due to perfect discipline and intelligent supervision. Besides, the veterinary and his corps of aids, more than 150 grooms, drivers and assistants are necessary for the proper care of this great string of horses.

A skilled veterinary surgeon and four assistants supervise the careful handling of the Forepaugh-Sells animals; they know the name of each horse in the great collection, and know also the disposition, temperament and vitality of each. For the more valuable specimens, including the best of Arabian, Kentucky and English runners and ring horses, the veterinary prescribes the nature and exact amount of food for each. He knows each horse's capacity for work, as well as the food for each, and when they are sick he knows the special treatment required for the best constitutional results.

The Forepaugh-Sells Circus will give two exhibitions here next Tuesday.

ANNUAL EXCURSION OF ST. ANDREW'S GUILD

Good weather favoured the annual excursion of the Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church this morning for the trip around Stony Lake. Over a hundred persons left the G.T.R. station on the regular train at 8.30, and the steamer Stoney Lake was boarded at Lakefield for the usual sail of the lakes. A special train will bring the party back from Lakefield to-night.

OBITUARY

EMMA FAULKNER

Word was received in the city to day of the death by lightning in Uxbridge of Mrs. Emma Faulkner, of that town. Mrs. Faulkner was, until last spring a resident of Peterborough, living here until her removal to Uxbridge. Additional interest is lent this sad event by reason of the fact that the deceased lady was a delegate to the recent Free Methodist Camp Meeting, the late Mrs. Faulkner having been a member of that denomination.

WEDDING BELLS.

EVANS-FRY

Examiner Special.

Norwood, June 19.—A very pretty home wedding was celebrated at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fry, Wellington street, at 12.30 o'clock on Wednesday June 19th, when their daughter, Hattie and Mr. T. H. Evans, of Omemee, were united in bonds of matrimony by Rev. W. H. Adams, pastor of the Methodist church. To the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Annie Bert, the bride entered the parlour leaning on the arm of her father, where the ceremony was performed in the presence of about thirty guests. The bride was charmingly attired in a dress of white silk and carried white roses, while the bridesmaid, Miss F. Patterson was dressed in a very pretty suit of white silk and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Lake of Peterborough. The bride's travelling suit was navy blue silk with hat to match. After the ceremony was over and congratulations offered, all sat down to a sumptuous repast, which was served in the dining room, decorated for the occasion. The groom's gift to the bride was a locket and chain and to the bridesmaid a pearl ring. The happy young couple left on the afternoon express for Revelstoke, B.C., where they will take up residence. The many costly and beautiful presents received, testify to the esteem in which the bride was held, among them being a handsome cheque from her father. Their many friends join in wishing them a long life of joy and happiness.

CROWLEY-LYNCH

Hastings, June 20. — A very pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev Father Bretherton, at the Church of Mount Carmel, on Tuesday morning when Miss Kate Lynch of Asphodel was united in marriage to Mr. Bartlet Crowley. After the nuptial knot was tied the party adjourned to the residence of the bride's parents, where dinner was served, after which the guests present enjoyed the afternoon in dancing and other amusements until tea time.

After supper had been served, the young folks to the number of about one hundred and fifty spent the evening at games and dancing until the small hours of the morning were reached. Mr. and Mrs. Crowley left on the morning train on Wednesday, for Rochester and western points, stopping en route in Peterborough, and on their return they will take up their residence in Asphodel.

TIMMERMAN-BARLOW

In St. John's church yesterday afternoon a pretty wedding took place, the bride and groom being Havelock residents, the bride, Miss Myrtle Barlow, daughter of Mr. John Barlow and the groom Mr. Clement Timmerman, a brakesman on the C.P.R. running out of that town. The bride was dressed in white silk trimmed with lace. The couple were unattended. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Davidson, and the newly married couple left on the 4.48 C.P.R. train for a honeymoon trip to the west, and on their return they will reside in Havelock.

JONES-SWITZER

A double nuptial knot was yesterday tied in Emily township of more than usual interest on account of the fact that twin sisters became the brides of two brothers. The unique ceremony was performed at the residence of Mr. Gabriel Switzer at 2 o'clock, his twin daughters Misses Minnie and Emma, being the brides.

The grooms were Messrs. James and Lewis Jones of Midland and the officiating clergyman, the Rev. Mr. Johnston of Bethel.

The brides were similarly attired in white silk over net, wore bridal veils and lily of the valley and carried white carnations and smilax. The brides and grooms were not supported by bridesmaids or groomsmen, but were attended by two page boys, Earnest Lowes and Roy Fee. The wedding march was played by Miss Alice Switzer, sister of the brides. The usual wedding dinner followed the ceremony and afterwards the Messrs. and Mesdames Jones left on a honeymoon trip to Niagara. Among those present from Peterborough at the wedding were Mrs. W. C. Switzer and Miss Eva Switzer of Waller street, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Fitzgerald, Mrs. E. Elliott and Miss B. Elliott. Among the 150 or more guests present were some from Peel County, and from Lindsay. The two Jones families will reside in Midland.

SIMMONS-TROTTER

St. John's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday afternoon at five o'clock, when Miss Florence May Trotter, second daughter of Mr. John Trotter was united in marriage to Mr. James Henry Simmons, second son of Mr. Charles Simmons, both of this city, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Canon Davidson. The bride was dressed in white silk voile over taffetta and wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of carnations and roses. She was attended by Miss Mary Chilton, who wore white Persian lawn, with trimmings of torchon lace and insertion; she also wore a white leghorn hat. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Edward Simmons. After the ceremony the happy couple and members of the party drove to the home of Mr. Charles Simmons, father of the groom where a reception was held, about forty guests being present, and where the wedding dinner was served. The bride was the recipient of a number of very handsome presents. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons will live in Peterborough, taking up residence at 247 Park street.

ANALYSTS and Health Authorities strongly emphasize the fact that the Royal Baking Powder is always uniform in leavening strength. It always does perfect work, each spoonful the same as every other. It makes every cake or batch of biscuits uniformly light, sweet and wholesome. This important quality results from a scientific combination of the most highly refined ingredients, and no other powder possesses it. Many of the cheaper-made baking powders, imperfectly combined, have spoiled upon the hands of the grocers.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE CONDITIONS IN JAPAN WONDER OF THE AGE

Paul Vintinkle, Who Has Travelled Around the World Twice, Pays Visit to Peterborough, and His Story is One of Interest.

GREAT CHANGES IN JAPAN

What the War Has Wrought—An Interesting Character — Speaks Six Languages—Has No Nationality, Though.

Mr. Paul Veltinkle, with a vocabulary extending through the intricate mazes of six languages, a good growth of Paderwski hair and a violin arried in the city yesterday on his second trip around the world and will remain a day or two, picking up enough pocket money with this playing to carry him to his next stepping place. Paul knows how to handle a violin all right; he demonstrated that fact to an admiring crowd in the Oriental Hotel last night after tea when for some time he played in the rotunda. He also has a fund of information about the countries of the world he has visited which makes a conversation with him very interesting.

Canada, while it is, he believes, a good place for one who is content to live a settled life and become a citizen is all right, but the jumps between towns are too long to suit Paul; it costs too much in railway fare. He landed in Vancouver five months ago, coming from the Sandwich Islands and he has spent the time since that crossing the continent, playing in the different towns and cities he has visited—and incidentally getting rid of some of the $150 he saved up while he was going through Japan and China, where the jumps between towns are short and living is cheap.

This is Paul's first visit to Canada, for while it is his second trip around the world, on his former tour he crossed America through the United States, and he is frank in the expression of his opinion that he would have been better off had he followed the same course this time.

The historic spots where the scenes of the late Russo-Japanese War were laid are familiar to Mr. Veltinkle, who visited Port Arthur a few years before the war and again a short time ago. The city around which there was such blood-shed, and in which such death-dealing bombardments took place is gradually resuming its normal conditions, though the visitor states that there are still evidences of the awful destruction wrought in and around the city. The population is becoming predominatingly Japanese, and the enterprise of that nation is seen on every hand.

Mr. Veltinkle referred to the wonderful progress which Japan had made during the last seven years. He was in that Empire seven years years ago, and again last year, and he stated that he found an entirely changed condition of affairs. The lethargy of an apparently sleeping nation had been replaced by the rush and bustle of a now thoroughly aroused people, and the result upon the prosperity of the country was everywhere apparent.

A peculiarity noticed in the Japanese people is the fact that there are among them a greater number of blind or partially blind persons than among any other nation. This is due, Paul states, to the practice of sitting over a fire and allowing the smoke to get into them.

This interesting visitor to the city converses in six languages, English, French, German, Italian, Spanish and Russian. He was born in Germany, though it can hardly be said that he is a German—in fact, to be perfectly candid with his interviewer, Paul admitted that he really did not know what his nationality was. His mother was French and his father was an American citizen, a native of Baltimore. He happened to be born in Germany, but he does not consider that fact of sufficient importance to warrant his claiming allegiance to the land of Bismark.

His native tongue is French, because that was the language of his mother. He looks like a German, and his English has a pretty accent of a combination of French and German.

Kingfisher Attacks Two Youths In Market Hall

One Boy's Hand Pierced With the Bird's Sharp, Strong Bill—Flew in Through Broken Windows and Lost Its Head.

KILLED WITH A BROOM

A broken pane of glass in one of the windows of the market hall, allowed the passage through of a vicious kingfisher from the river yesterday afternoon, which attacked two small boys who were cleaning up the market hall preparatory for the market day on Saturday. The bird's bill was about two inches in length, and with it it angrily pecked at young Fair, the boy who was assisting the market clerk's son, Allan.

The boy threw up his hands to ward off the bird's intended attack upon his face and in doing so the index finger of his right hand was pierced by the sharp bill. The kingfisher then flew against the window and returned the full length of the hall to where Mr. McIlmoyle's son was working, and made straight for him.

The youth however was on the alert and with one stroke of the broom he was handling, knocked the vicious bird senseless on the floor, and it died shortly afterwards. The boys were very much frightened over the unexpected occurrence and it took them many minutes to relate their experiences.

From the vicious actions of the bird one would infer that these were not the "halcyon days" spoken of by the poets when the birds are peacefully nesting by the river-side.

TWO MEN INJURED BY THE FALL OF A SCAFFOLD

Yesterday morning two men employed on a new house being erected for Mr. Fred Stoakdale, on Homewood avenue met with an accident which will incapacitate at least one of them for work for a week at any rate.

The two men hurt were Jacob Carr, an employee of Adam Hall and Andrew Torrance, as bricklayer's helper. They were on a scaffold, the former measuring the roof for an eavestrough and the latter carrying a hod of brick. In attempting to pass each other their combined weight broke the supports of the scaffold and it fell and the two men upon it were precipitated twenty feet to the ground. Mr. Carr was somewhat seriously injured, his hip being hurt and his ankle sprained, while one of his arms was rather badly cut. He will be laid up at least a week. Mr. Torrance received a bad cut in the head, one necessitating several stitches, and he will also be unable to work for some days.

"FARMERS' DAY" TO BE SET ASIDE

As Result of Successful Excursion to Idyl Wyld Yesterday

The farmers' excursion to Idyl Wild yesterday was a most successful event, and on this account the third Thursday of June will henceforth be set apart as "Farmers' Day" on which the farmers will take their annual trip to Rice Lake. The occasion was doubly important. It was the maiden trip of the new steamer Otonabee, and the resuscitation of the farmers' annual picnic of past years.

About 300 left Peterborough but many more were taken on board along thee river, so that the Otonabee carried at least 400 persons to Idyl Wild yesterday. The steamers Water Lily, Monarch and Rainbow also carried large crowds to the island, and it is estimated that fully one thousand persons were there to enjoy the day.

The new steamer acted splendidly on her maiden trip. Where there were no wharves or landing places, some time was lost both going and coming, so that considering these deadys the Otonabee made excellent time.

The speakers at the island were Messrs. Dawson Kennedy, Joseph Barnard, North Monaghan, Joshua Smithson, Otonabee; Rev. W. J. Johnston, Harwood; Mr. Berry, South Monaghan.

Mr. Lockie Wilson, provincial superintendent of agricultural associations, who missed the boat at Peterborough, drove to Harwood and met the excursionists at Idyl Wild, where he addressed the gathering from the top of a scow.

The day was voted a success, and a resolution, moved by Mr. Smithson and seconded by Mr. Berry, was carried, that in future the third Thursday in June should be set apart as Farmers' Day.

A SPECIAL COMMITTEE MEETING

Important Matter Engaging the Attention of Special Conference Committee of Methodist Church

To-day an important meeting of the Conference Special Committee of the Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference is being held in Trenton, and Rev. H. M. Manning, as chairman of the Peterborough District, is in attendance. Rev. C. H. Coon, of Bobcaygeon the coming pastor of the Mark street Methodist church is secretary of the Conference and he is also attending the meeting, passing through the city en route.

YEAR'S LONGEST DAY BUT NOT THE HOTTEST

It Was 82 in the Shade at Noon, But Most People Thought That Was Enough

To-day is the longest day in the year; it is also the first day of summer, chronologically speaking. There are those who expressed the opinion at noon, that in addition it was the hottest day of the year, but in this they were mistaken for the thermometer at noon registered only 82. It probably went a little higher shortly after the noon hour, but not more than two degrees.

The probabilities are for a continuance of the present conditions, for some days, with another thunder storm.

J. G. Sing, Public Works Engineer, Here to Look Over Work Being Done on Otonabee

He also took a trip to Lakefield to decide on the location for the new wharf there, and left left this afternoon for Stirling, where there is some work requiring his attention.

RESULT OF THE DRAWING CONTEST

Peterborough Man One of the Lucky Ones—Received a Clock

One of the features of the excursionists' excursion to Peterborough yesterday was the prize-drawing contest for a bath tub and a $14 clock. The event took place at Riverside Park at the conclusion of the ball game, and the lucky numbers were 234, held by W. A. Hodgett of Centreton, who received the bath tub, and 1174, held by Rich. Shelton of Peterborough, who was presented with the handsome clock.

WARSAW FORESTERS AT CRAWFORD'S GROVE

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

Edmonton seems to have made a success of the ownership and operation of public utilities. Mr. G. J. Kinnaird, one of the commissioners of the city, who is on a visit to Toronto, tells The World of its success. As an instance of the city's successful operation of its utilities, Mr. Kinnaird cites the electric light and power supply, where last year the rates were reduced by 25 per cent., after making full allowance for the sinking fund and depreciation of plant and paying all working expenses. Even after all that there remained an $8,000 surplus, and further reductions in prices are in contemplation for the current year.

Edmonton has gone further afield in the interest of its citizens. Finding that the cost of coal acted as a hardship on its operations, the city has purchased a coal field of its own, from which supplies will later be obtained at much lower cost. But the success of Edmonton has not been achieved by "municipal operation" in the ordinary sense of the term. The municipal council, as a body, has no hand in mending or muddling matters in connection with municipal operation. The function of the Edmonton council is simply legislative—the actual work of operative administration is entrusted to two paid commissioners, who get $3,000 each. The mayor is ex-officio a commissioner. Under these circumstances the commissioners can, and do, devote their whole time to the duties of their office, and, being, presumably capable business men, distracted by no consideration which would appeal to the ordinary councillor or alderman, can do the right thing without considering conciliation of electors, or interests with a pull. The comissioners can do right and fear not. It is probable that these are the only conditions under which municipal operation can be successfully handled. There is considerable municipal ownership in the air in Peterborough at present. Before undertaking the plunge, the City Council should maturely study the situation. The weight of evidence, as furnished by the experience of Edmonton, Galveston, (Texas, and other southern cities, strongly favours the commission idea. Many have long held that municipal councils are so large, and the personnel changes so often, that management on the right ways to administer the public service and opportunity to aquire the necessary skill that experience alone can give, are not easy and available. We know that our Waterworks system is well administered by a commission, and, if the membership were made more permanent and the remuneration larger, their duties might be extended to include services in relation to other public utilities with distinct advantage to the city. For instance, the care of the streets and all the work that comes under the province of the Board of Works could be much more effectively done than under the present system, or, rather, complete lack of system. Even a perfunctory consideration of the question and the evidence afforded by the experience of only a few cities leads to the conviction that municipal operation of public utilities can only be regarded with favour by eliminating a municipal council as a factor, and substituting an efficient commission. A board of directors of a business corporation of four or five managed it business successfully, whereas, a committe of shareholders, elected by the other shareholders under conditions similar to those which decide the election of aldermen, would make a muddle of it. Municipal ownership and operation of public utilities are only desirable when the work is properly done, and the weight of evidence is that it cannot be probably properly done by a municipal council, except under conditions which the postponement of the millennium forbid us to expect or realize.

ALL RIGHT IN PLACE

It is stated that the offence for which Police Magistrate Woodyatt, of Brantford, lost his head, was using intemperate language towards members of the Ministerial Alliance. The real cause, however, is that at the last Provincial election the Conservative candidate pledged himself to effect Mr. Woodgate's dismissal. Like a gentleman he has kept his word; and not only does he deserve credit for keeping his word, but also for the gentlemanly means he uses to implement his promise. He selects the Ministerial Association as his instruments and the Ministerial Association, nothing loth, joins with him in giving effect to the application of the spoils system of the Whitney Government. A sacred medium for a bad action does not make it sacred. Ministerial Associations are all right when operating in their legitimate sphere but that they encounter trouble when the practice hand begins daubing with untempered mortar.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Belleville boy-firebug doubtless feels his responsibility. He is bound to wake up the "Bay City," even if he has to commit a crime.

The dove of peace will be a goose to expect anything from the Hague Peace Conference.

There is some uncertainty as to the date of the dissolution of the Dominion Parliament, but little doubt that the dissolution of the Conservative party took place in 1896.

Our French allies are enterprising. An automobile hearse has been introduced in Paris—ingenious, but quite consistent, if regarded as an auxiliary or tender to the ordinary auto—one furnishes the bodies, and the other disposes of them.

FATALITY AT BASEBALL.

Five-Year-Old Boy Succumbs to Blow on Head.

Guelph, June 21.—Arthur, the five-year-old son of Mr. Freeman Felker, who was accidentally struck on the head by a ball a week ago, died yesterday morning. Since the accident he had suffered greatly.

At the time of the accident the lad was watching a game of ball in the Church League series, when a pitched ball went wide and struck the little lad on the head.

INSANE MAN THREW BOMB.

Sensational Incident Causes Panic In Greek Chamber of Deputies.

Athens, June 21.—An unknown man threw a dynamite cartridge from the gallery of the Chamber of Deputies during an all-night session which began Wednesday. The cartridge fell among the benches, which were crowded with deputies, but a disaster was averted by the fuse becoming detached in the flight of the missile.

Victoria, B. C., June 21.—President Roosevelt is coming to British Columbia to shoot grizzlies in the Kootenays when his term of office expires.

To a friend here, Warburton Pike, a prominent British Columbia hunter, tells of dining with the president, who informed him that as soon as his terms of office expires he would leave on a shooting trip to British Columbia, to which he was looking forward.

Honduras Not Recognized.

Washington, June 21.—Secretary of State Root has declined to grant the request of Dr. Angel Ugarte, to be received at the department as the diplomatic representative of the Honduran provisional Government, which declaration amounts to a refusal to recognise the Government at this time.

King Wants to See Humorist.

London, June 21.—Mark Twain (Samuel L. Clemens) has accepted an invitation to attend a garden party at Windsor Castle, June 22, when King Edward will entertain 8,000 guests as a wind-up to the Ascot race meeting.

His Majesty has expressed a desire to meet the American humorist, and it is possible that a private audience will be arranged.

Shock Like An Earthquake.

Quebec, June 21.—It is reported that a terrific shock occurred in the La Tuque region a couple of days ago, a large quantity of dynamite and powder having exploded as a result of forest fires.

No loss of life is reported, but a shock like an earthquake was felt for miles around.

THREE FACTS

For Sick Women To Consider.

Fact.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Fact.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating the periods perfectly and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the change of life.

Truth.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.—Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

IRISH LEADER ANGRY.

Declares Commission on Convents is an Insult to Catholics.

London, June 21.—Despite an angry Irish protest the House of Commons, by a vote of 125 to 121, carried a motion permitting the introduction of a bill for the appointment of a commission to enquire into the need of inspection of monastic and conventual institutions.

Mr. Redmond, the Irish leader, declared that this action implied a gross offence and insult to Roman Catholics in Ireland and England. On learning the result of the division, Mr. Redmond declared:—

"This puts an end to the Liberal alliance anyhow."

H. W. Brick Acquitted.

Perth, June 21.—H. W. Brick, former manager of H. K. Wampole & Co., manufacturing chemists here, who has been charged with the misappropriation of large sums of money belonging to the said firm, appeared before His Honor Judge Senkler yesterday morning and was acquitted. All matters in dispute were satisfactorily accounted for by Mr. Brick.

Opposes Change of Name.

London, June 21.—Lord Elgin, in addressing the Corona Club, London, deprecated any disposition to change the historic name of colonies for dominions.

He was also opposed to drawing any strict line of division between the self-governing and crown colonies.

Deck Hand Drowned.

Cornwall, June 21.—A deck hand on the R. & O. Navigation Company's steamer Prescott fell overboard and was drowned Wednesday night just as the boat was entering lock 19.

He was a young man on his first trip and his name could not be ascertained.

Returns To The City With Samples Of Cobalt Bloom

Mr. Thos. Drew in the City on Visit After Spending Some Time in the New Ontario Silver Region

HAS MANY RICH SAMPLES

Mr. Thos. Drew, with his wife and Masters Kenneth and Melville, well known in the city, have been visiting with Mr. E. E. Lord, Dalhousie street, during the past week. Mr. Drew, with his family, has been a resident of Cobalt for over a year past, filling an important engagement with the Nipissing Mining Company of that town. He has been renewing acquaintances (with his friends in this city — and relating some of his varied experiences in and around this wonderful mineral mecca of New Ontario. Mr. Drew had with him many interesting specimens of the silver, nickelite bloom and other valuable minerals secured from different mines in Cobalt, the silver especially being particularly pure and abundant.

The various mining camps in Cobalt are nearly all in active working order and yielding good paying investments. The following were mentioned by Mr. Drew as among the speedily good properties of the Nipissing Mining Company:—The Mackay & Dane, Silver Queen, Townsite, Hudson Bay, Buffalo.

Mr. Drew and his family returned to Cobalt yesterday, where they will continue to reside. Mr. Drew is preparing to undertake a prospecting tour in the gold fields of Abitibi, 100 miles north of Cobalt, near Larder Lake.

OFFICIAL PICTURES OF NEW LOCK

Mr. Fred Roy at Kirkfield, and Snapped First Boat to Go Over the New Lift Lock

PERFECT MECHANISM

Mr. Fred Roy was at Kirkfield yesterday making official photographs of the new Lift Lock, which will be formally declared open on Saturday, July 6th. Mr. Roy says that he secured a splendid set of views, every facility for taking the pictures being afforded by Lockmaster Jobe, and Mr. Murphy, the engineer for the Dominion Bridge Company, the steel structural contractors. He was very fortunate in getting a picture of the first boat to go over the lock, the steamer Bob Hall being photographed as she was in the lock chamber. By reason of this fact the photographs will have additional interest.

The new lock is different in many respects from the one in Peterborough, one of the main points of dissimilarity being the fact that it is built largely of steel, instead of concrete, as is the Peterborough lock. The large concrete towers, which make the lock here conspicuous, are absent in the Kirkfield structure.

Mr. Roy was informed that in every respect the new lock worked perfectly and that it was giving complete satisfaction.

To Keep the Skin In Health

AVOID PORE-CLOGGING POWDERS AND CURE ALL SKIN IRRITATIONS AND ERUPTIONS WITH

Dr. Chase's Ointment

It is quite possible that, while you know of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema psoriasis and the most severe forms of itching skin disease, you may have overlooked its value as a beautifier of the skin.

There are minor forms of skin trouble, such as rough, red, skin, chafing, chapping, pimples, blackheads, blotches, irritation, or poisoning from the clothing, etc., which disfigure and form a starting point for serious trouble.

A few applications of Dr. Chase's Ointment at such times not only remove these blemishes, but also restore the health and beauty of the skin, and positively prevent further development.

Miss C. Stanley-Jones, professional masseuse and nurse, 278 Simcoe street, Toronto, Ont., writes: "In my occupation as a nurse I have come across many cases in which Dr. Chase's Ointment has been used with extraordinary results. One case I recall was that of a child of sixteen months, who was in a bad way with scaly head. It was a really nasty case, causing the child to suffer very much and to be very troublesome. I persuaded the mother to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and in ten days the child was entirely cured.

"Another case was that of a lady who was greatly troubled with eczema on the face. The doctor was dosing her with medicine, which was doing no good. In this case cure was effected in seven days with only one box of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Both of these cures were lasting."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is delightfully pure and creamy, is pleasant to use, and is rapidly absorbed. It acts as a food for the skin, making it soft, smooth and velvety. By its soothing, antiseptic and healing properties it allays inflammation, relieves itching, and heals sores, wounds and ulcers; 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THE NEW BUILDING IS COMPLETED

Machine Shop Erected by Mr. G. Walter Green Practically Ready for Occupancy Now

SOME OTHER EXPANSIONS

The new brick machine shop for Mr. G. Walter Green's works, McDonell street, is now nearly completed and ready for occupation. A gang of workmen is engaged in laying a Portland cement base for the flooring, which requires a solid bed for the machines to rest on. The roof of this building is well covered and protected with a fireproof combination of felt and cement. The necessity for this splendid new shop for these works becomes more obvious every day.

Mr. Green has also increased the capacity of his new foundry building, which was built a little over a year ago. The east walls were torn down and an additional thirty-three feet secured for the moulding shop. Besides the large amount of local orders for castings, Mr. Green has quite a number of heavy contracts to fill for outside firms. New coke sheds and sand houses have also been built alongside the railway track, and attached conveniently to the foundry. The arrangement of these makes them very handy and labour-saving. Every new improvement and addition that goes upon the premises indicates not only careful consideration, but bears evidence of the rapid growth of trade at these works.

PROSPEROUS SEASON FOR CHEMONG

Mr. Geo. Brown Has 200 Bookings for First Week in July—Many New Cottages Going Up

The best season in the history of Chemong, is the prospect that Mr. George Brown, the proprietor of the hotel there, looks forward to, for 1907.

He stated to the Examiner yesterday that for the first week in July alone he had bookings for 200 guests. This large number of visitors is the result of the Methodist Summer School, which will be held at the park from July 2nd to 7th. In former years the visitors usually rent cottages or live in tents, but this year it is understood that a change will be made, and all the visitors will stay at the hotel, where preparations are being made for their reception.

Outside of these visitors Mr. Brown will have a full list of bookings for the entire summer season.

That Chemong is gaining in popularity is evidenced by the fact that this summer no less than nine new cottages have been or will be erected.

THE DURHAM OLD BOYS' EXCURSION

This Year Train Will be Run From Peterborough and Objective Point Will be Niagara Falls

The annual excursion under the auspices of the Durham Old Boys is an event looked forward to each year not only by residents and former residents of that county, as an outing filled with pleasant incidents, but by many others as well, and this year an innovation has been decided upon and, instead of running the excursion simply from points in Durham, and from Toronto, the headquarters of the Durham Old Boys, arrangements have been made by which a train will run direct from Peterborough by way of Port Hope, and embracing all stations between this city and Whitby, to Toronto, where the magnificent steamers of the Niagara Navigation Company will be boarded for a delightful sail across the lake to Niagara Falls, reaching the Falls from Lewiston by electric railway. The train will leave here in time to reach Toronto at 8.30 a.m., and returning a special train will leave Toronto at nine o'clock, but those who wish may remain until the following day. The date of this delightful outing has been fixed for Thursday, July 25th.

HARWOOD GUIDE SAYS FISHING IS AT ITS BEST

Good Season for Lunge Lasts From June 16th to July 10th

Mr. George Hogg, the well known guide of Harwood, is in the city, and reports that the fishing at Rice Lake is excellent. Yesterday morning before he left Harwood, he was the lucky owner of two two lunge each weighing about 15 pounds.

Mr. Hogg is a fisherman of experience and he states that this is the best season of the year in which to get lunge. Beginning with the opening of the season and lasting until the tenth of July, is the season, he claims, in which they bite the best.

BAPTIST CHURCHES' CONVENTION

Reports Presented, Showing Work Done by Women in Peterborough Association During the Past Year

REV. J. R. WEBB'S ADDRESS

Examiner Special.

Port Hope, June 21.—The annual meeting of the Peterborough Association of Baptist Churches opened in the Baptist Church, Port Hope, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The afternoon session was devoted to women's work, Mrs. (Dr.) Scott of Peterborough, the president, occupying the chair. After singing a hymn, Mrs. (Rev.) Brien read a portion of Scripture, and Miss Jackson offered prayer.

Mrs. (Rev.) Davies, Colborne, was appointed secretary.

After the appointment of a nominating committee, a resolution of sympathy with Mrs. Trotter and family in their sad bereavement was unanimously passed.

The roll calls of circles and bands was an interesting feature, when responses were given by delegates in regard to the work done during the year.

The large number of delegates and visitors present was expressive of the interest of the women in missions. A very helpful address on mission band work was given by Mrs. Martin, in which she emphasized the importance of interesting the children in missions and developing a systematic method of giving.

An interesting letter from Mrs. Peen was ready by Miss Tapscott, giving a description of life and work in mission fields in New Ontario.

Mrs. Hume read a letter from Mr. Sharp, Baptist missionary on St. Peter's Reserve, Man., in which much information of interest was given concerning work among the Indians.

Mr. Webb's Address

The address of Rev. J. R. Webb on "Grand Ligne" was greatly enjoyed. He presented some interesting phases in the lives of the missionaries, and declared that the importance of Grande Ligne work could not be over-estimated.

The paper on "Foreign Missions," prepared by Mrs. (Rev.) Quarrington and in her absence read by Miss Squirce, was a comprehensive review of the work during the past year. The discouragement of the beginning of the year, caused by the fire and the scourge of cholera, has given place to courage, joy and enthusiasm, consequent on the gracious revival which has swept over the mission fields.

The report of the Nominating Committee resulted in the re-election of the following officers:

President—Mrs. (Dr.) Scott.
Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Edmunds.
Directress—Miss Walton.

The following is the financial report of the directress, Miss Walton:

The presentation of the statistics for the past year proved very interesting, and indicated that the Mission Circles in the Peterborough Association are in a healthy condition.

The following are the figures for the year so far as they relate to the work done by the Mission Circles and Bands in this Association:—

Circles, 13; all heard from.

Number of women in churches where Circles are, 827; number of contributors to Foreign Missions, 245; to Home Missions, 257; money sent to Home treasury, $258.14; to Foreign, $335.31; to Indians, $22.60. Total money from Circles $616.65, which is $49.37 more than last year.

Bands, 12; one of these not heard from, Bewdley, and one reports no money this year, Norwood.

Members on roll, 295; money sent to Home Treasurer, $58.01; to Foreign, $97.82; total money from Bands, $155.89, which is $18.70 more than last year. Total money from Circles and Bands, $772.54, which is $18.70 more Bands, $772.54, which is $18.70 less than last year.

Visitors subscribed for, 314; Links subscribed for, 167.

Besides the above we have done other work as follows:—

Campbellford Circle sent a box of clothing to a needy field.

Peterborough Park street Circle gave $7.00 to an outside object.

Cramahe Circle sent $1.00 thankoffering, not included in their report elsewhere.

Port Hope sent by Circle, three bales of clothing away, also $12.00 sent to India for Bungalow Fund.

Gilmour sent clothing to Peterough poor.

Port Hope Band sent $1.25 to Bungalow Fund.

Lakefield Band sent $4.00 to Bungalow Fund.

Our Life Certificate was presented for Foreign Missions by Gilmour Memorial Circle to Mrs. James Mann, Sr.

Delegates Welcomed

The Wednesday evening session, with which this meetings of the association proper began, was opened at 7.45 with devotional exercises conducted by the Moderator, Rev. Jas Deeson of Norwood.

Words of welcome to the delegates to the Association on behalf of the Port Hope Church were then spoken by the supplying pastor, Mr. Sneyd, who made very feeling reference to the heavy and dark cloud under which the church lies just now, but nevertheless, extended very hearty and cordial welcome to all.

Reply to this was made by the Moderator.

Following several minor matters of business came the Moderator's annual address, which was upon the subject of "The Development of the Spiritual Man."

The address on "Home Missions" was given by Rev. W. E. Norton, D.D., of Toronto, Home Mission Superintendent. Dr. Norton based his address upon the key-word,—"Opportunity." He defined opportunity as a chance to be something or to do something, accompanied by certain conditions which were not likely ever to be so favourable again, and said that the opportunities before the churches were of three kinds, namely, those which had passed their best, but were still of great value, those which were now at their flood, and those which are still held in the future. He urged the grasping of opportunity when at its best, some of which before our churches now, in the work of Home Missions, being, the opportunity of evangelization, of giving out Christianl ife to churches in other parts, and the building up of a Christian Canadian National life. The address throughout was delivered in Dr. Norton's usual lucid and vigorous manner.

A solo was exquisitely rendered by Mrs. Johnson.

The meeting closed with the benediction.

The Convention was continued during yesterday.

Salvation Army Immigrants Saw Sailor Drown In The Deep

Seven New Bandsmen Add Strength to the Local Band—All Experienced Musicians—But Lately Arrived in Canada.

STORY OF THE VOYAGE

A party of old countrymen who came to Canada on the Salvation Army's chartered liner, Vancouver, is in the city and will be found with the local corps, as every one of them is an experienced bandsmen and, strange to say, they play different instruments, constituting in themselves the nucleus of a band. The men are very likely looking and should be a favourable addition to the city's population. Their names are as follows: Mr. Harry Leaman of Woolwich, is married, a machinist by trade, plays solo cornet and has had 25 years' experience in Newton-Abbot, Devonshire.

Mr. Robt. Darling of Liverpool, formerly a deputy handmaster, with 15 years' band experience, plays solo cornet, is married, and has a small family.

Mr. Geo. Butcher; plays first tenor, having had eight years' experience in Marylebone, London, and is unmarried.

Mr. Sam. Livermore; plays baritone horn, three years' experience, is a young man and comes from the same place as Mr. Butcher; is single.

Mr. E. Moyns; plays solo trombone, has had 25 years' experience as a bandsman in Marylebone; was bandmaster of the band at the Army's colony at Hadleigh Farm. Mr. Moyns is married and is experienced in the insurance business.

Mr. R. J. Cowin; plays E flat bass, is married, and has had extensive experience.

Mr. Bernard Brown, four years with a corps in London, playing side drums. He is a young man and unmarried.

These gentlemen are all desirous of staying in the city and are delighted with Canada, and, as they said themselves, had made up their minds to like the new country. Their addition to the band raises its strength to 50 pieces, and there are more that might be entered had the management the instruments with which to provide them.

Their Voyage

The party left Liverpool on the Vancouver on June 8 and landed in Quebec on June 18. There were 1200 people on board. Only one accident occurred during the trip, which was not a pleasant one owing to the fog and chilly atmosphere. When the Vancouver was a few days out, a sailor was engaged in tying up an awning, when the rope broke and he was hurled into the ocean from the stern of the vessel. Mr. Darling was an eye-witness of the unfortunate affair and saw the man swimming as the vessel kept on its way. The steamer was travelling at 14 knots and a mile had soon been covered before the officials were warned of the accident. The passengers could still see the sailor until the officers came along and ordered them below. The efforts of the crew were then useless as they did not know where their unfortunate comrade was. Whether he was the victim of the ravenous monsters of the deep or whether he became exhausted and sank is not known. Only the mighty ocean can tell what were his last struggles.

His loss cast a gloom over the ship for a time, but he was soon forgotten in the general depression of spirits caused by the fog. The members of the party are anxious to settle down and bring out their wives and—sweethearts. They would like to remain in Peterborough, and, with success in securing positions, will do so.

HALF DAY TRIPS

On Saturday, June 22nd, the New Fast Sailing Twin Screw Excursion Steamer Otonabee will commence her regular Thursday and Saturday afternoon trips to Idyl Wyld, leaving Wolfe Street Wharf at 2, returning at 8 o'clock, return tickets 50c, children under 8, 25. 3d-143

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column, —

Dear Sir. — Can you tell me why city teamsters, who have been employed on work for the city, under the Board of Works, are laid off, and teams engaged from the country. I am informed that at the present time there are three teams from outside the city working on corporation jobs, and at the same time teams owned by the ratepayers are laid off. The city men pay the taxes, and should, I believe, be given the city's work.

Three-Quarters Of Century A Resident Of Dummer

Late Mr. Gilbert Douglas, Lived 75 Years in Warsaw and Dummer, Passed Away To-day.

A RESPECTED RESIDENT

Examiner Special.

Warsaw, June 21. — For seventy-five years a resident of the township of Dummer, and during all that period of three-quarters of a century one of its most respected residents, Mr. Gilbert Douglas passed away here to-day at the ripe age of 78 after an illness of comparatively short duration, for while he had been ailing for some time, it was only a few days ago that he became seriously ill.

The deceased was born in Glasgow, and came with his parents to the township of Dummer in 1832, and had lived in that township or in Warsaw ever since. He was one of the county's most progressive and industrious farmers, and some 14 years ago he was able to retire with a competency gained by intelligent husbandry. Since that time he has lived in Warsaw. The late Mr. Douglas was a member of the Presbyterian church and an ardent supporter, both materially and otherwise, of that denomination, and was in politics a Liberal.

His opinions, however, either religious or political, were never obtrusively exhibited, and he had none but friends among his circle of acquaintances.

The deceased is survived by his wife and five children, three sons and two daughters, all of whom live in Warsaw. The sons are William W., Glen and Bruce; and the daughters Charlotte Calder and Cattie Bell.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, Warsaw, on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to the Warsaw cemetery.

Donnelly Found Guilty Of Theft Of Otonabee Eggs

Magistrate Edmison Found Conviction on Circumstantial Evidence — His Partner Gave Evidence for the Crown—Assessed With the Costs.

TO MAKE RESTITUTION

On circumstantial evidence John Donnelly was this morning found guilty of the theft of partially hatched eggs from Mrs. Manley, of Otonabee, over a month ago. The famous egg case is now at an end and restitution will be made to the losers, Mrs. Manley and Miss Noyes, clerk in the general store at Allandale, whose wages were lessened $2.00 for receiving bad eggs from the prisoner. The evidence also showed that the case of eggs which Donnelly sold to her contained about six dozen eggs less than he had stated.

Harold Scott, of Sutton, who accompanied him on the memorable trip through Otonabee and who was engaged in selling varnish, of which Donnelly had the receipe, turned King's evidence and was one of the crown's chief witnesses.

Donnelly was remanded until Tuesday, when the amount of costs will be presented. He works in Belleville and his employer there has promised to advance the necessary funds.

Crown Attorney R. H. Wood acted for the crown and Mr. D. O'Connell of O'Connel & Gordon, for the prisoner.

Mrs. Manley's Evidence

Mr. Manley, in her evidence, stated that at the time that Scott was in the house attempting to sell the varnish she was suspicious of the actions of Donnelly, who was with the horse in the vicinity of the barn. She, however, did not make investigations, as she knew her daughter was at the barn at the time. Her daughter, however, was in another building and did not know that the eggs were gone.

She also stated that Scott asked if she had any eggs for sale and she told him she had just set five hens the day before with fifteen eggs under each. Scott then went out and spoke to Donnelly and she was sure he had told him about this last statement.

Mr. O'Connel then questioned the witness about the eggs set the day before, but Mrs. Manley did not think that question should have been brought up at all as those eggs were not taken. Those that were gone were due to be hatched the Saturday following the day the eggs had disappeared.

Miss Manley, daughter of the former witness, stated to Mr. Wood that she was certain the eggs were there in the morning as she had looked underneath the hens to see if there were any newly laid.

Keene Witness

Mr. R. N. Skinner, who runs a general store in Keene, was the next witness. He recognized the prisoners as having called at his store about the time of the robbery. They offered to sell him eggs from a case, but when he examined them he found some to be unsound. He threw one out on the street and it cracked like a pistol. That indicated that the egg was rotten and he refused to take them.

Robert Ord, an Otonabee farmer, testified that two young men called at his residence about noon about the time in question and he recognized Donnelly to be one of them. He saw the eggs and thought they didn't look very well. Next day he missed a setting from under a hen but he would not say the young men had taken them.

Allandale Witness

The next witness was Miss Helen Noyes, clerk in a general store at Allandale. She gave evidence that Donnelly came into the store and asked if she wanted to buy any eggs. She consented to take them at 15 cents and after opening the crate and counting them she discovered there were six dozen short of what the young man had advised her. Some of them were marked with lead pencil to show that they had been set and she found there were about twelve dozen bad eggs. She was charged up in her wages for $2.00 for the loss sustained by the transaction.

Harold Scott testified that he had only met Donnelly on Sunday previous to the Wednesday that the eggs disappeared. He went out into the country with Donnelly on Tuesday on the invitation of the latter and went to the Manley residence. He referred to the varnishing of the chair, but stated that when he went out to the rig the first time, Mrs. Manley had not then stated anything about having set eggs the previous day. He stated that, as far as he knew, they had only collected about nine or ten dozen of eggs that day.

The varnish he had manufactured himself from a receipe of Donnelly's.

To Mr. O'Connell he stated that he was to have gotten half the profits from the eggs and on the day in question he got 50 cents from Donnelly as his share. The varnish, he said, sold well and they had to make more at Keene.

Scott also testified that Mr. Cochrane and others had told him that Donnelly was going to give evidence against him, and that when he heard this he decided to protect himself and give evidence for the crown.

Mr. Cochrane positively denied telling Scott that Donnelly was going to give evidence against him.

This closed the case and after short addresses by Mr. O'Connel and Mr. Wood, Magistrate Edmison reviewed the evidence and decided that the prisoner was guilty.

THE TATE OPTICAL CO.
PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

NOT PUBLISHED FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD

More Rumors Cannot Be Made Justification For Libel.

DELAY IN EMMERSON SUIT

No Right to Discuss Public Man's Private Life— Crocket Not Justified Says Counsel—Hazen for Defence Quotes Action of London Times In Parnell Case—The Judge Admits Mr. Crocket's Plea.

Fredericton, N. B., June 21.—In the Emmerson libel suit yesterday the prosecution filed the promised demurrer to the plea of justification presented to the Crocket counsel, and the six lawyers at once fell to work to convince the judge on the one hand that the plea should not stand, and on the other that it should.

As soon as Judge Landry had taken his seat, Mr. Pugsley began. He was ready with a reply to the plea of the defence, a denial of the truth of the allegation and demurrer. The defence must, under the code, prove that the publication of the matter complained of was in the public interest and that the matter was true. Facts showing in what way the publication was for the public benefit must be set forth in the plea.

This was the stand where J. D. Hazen, K.C., leading counsel for J. P. Crocket, might have been expected to ask for delay.

Unpleasant Observations.

"I was not served with this demurrer till this morning," he told the court. "Two ex-Attorneys-General had been all day yesterday preparing the document. Mr. Hazen would have been justified in asking for same. I do not ask it. I am ready to go on with the arguments." Mr. Pugsley considered that this little speech of his learned friend's called for remarks.

It was unfortunate Mr. Pugsley said that in the trial of the case counsel should see fit to make observations of an unpleasant character. The demurrer had been prepared as rapidly as possible, and not with an idea of unduly spreading facts upon the record.

A. A. White, K.C., forthwith began the argument in support of the demurrer.

First Mr. White set out to argue that the indictment, while referring only to St. Lawrence Hall, left an inference that more than one hotel had been the scenes of objections. This the defence must in some way substantiate. Then under the plea as drawn the defence should produce evidence to the association of Mr. Emmerson with women of ill-repute at other times and in other places. The plea should specify the times and places.

Term Ill-Repute.

As to the term, ill-repute, the plea left the defence room to say that the ordinary sense of ill-repute was not meant; that they referred only to those whose character had been affected by some indiscretion, who were addicted to drink, or who flirted with the men in a perfectly harmless way.

E. J. D. Hazen, K.C., opened the argument. He explained again that he had not been able to prepare, and was thus at a disadvantage.

Anxious To Go On.

"My client is anxious to go on, and will not take the responsibility for further delay."

Taking up the Criminal Code, Mr. Hazen said that in actions of defamatory libel under the code, the defendant could plead that all alleged defamatory matter was true, and could justify.

"We have set up no defence, except that alleged defamatory matter was true."

Judge Landry pointed out that if the defence failed in the plea of justification they would be in the same position as if the plea had not been entered.

It is desirable that in the general life of the country we should have men of the highest character, said Mr. White, but the plea of the defence in this respect is "not law and not common sense." Judge Landry and Mr. White agreed that the matter of public interest must be determined by the court.

Another of Mr. White's contentions was that a newspaper could not attack any minister in this way. It was not arguable "reductio ad absurdum," said Mr. White, and he also said, "how could the Government of the country be carried on."

KIDNEY DISEASE

COMES ON QUIETLY

Perhaps no other organ work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some form of Kidney Complaint, but do not suspect it. It may have been in the system for some time. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as, brick dust deposits in the urine, highly colored, cloudy or bloody urine, bladder pains, frequent or suppressed urinations, burning sensation when urinating, etc.

Do not neglect any of these symptoms, for, if neglected they will eventually lead to Bright's Disease, Dropsy and Diabetes.

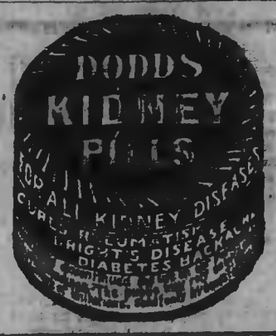
On the first sign of anything wrong

Doan's Kidney Pills

SHOULD BE TAKEN.

They go to the seat of trouble, strengthen the kidneys and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble. Mr. Thomas Petty, Massey, Ont., writes: "After I arrived in Canada from New Zealand, a couple of years ago, I suffered very much from kidney trouble. I tried several remedies, but they did me no good. Finally my back became so lame I could scarcely work. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking them I felt like a new man.

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.



J. D. Hazen quoted authorities in support of the contention that the private character of public men could not be discussed as matters of public interest. It had been said that a public man's character was a matter for investigation only by his constituents.

Too Narrow, Says Judge.

"I should think that rather narrow," said Judge Landry. "If the accusation were against the Prime Minister and only his constituents were to know of it, it might prevent other constituencies from judging as to his worthiness."

Mr. Hazen took up the paragraphs of the demurrer seriatim. He said that to tell who ejected Mr. Emmerson would be to give the evidence which the authorities prohibited.

In complaining that ill repute was not definite the prosecution was fishing around for reasons. It is entirely unnecessary for us to say in what way the reputation of these women was ill. A woman of ill-repute is a woman whose reputation is ill by reason of her personal conduct.

As to such matters being matters of public interest Mr. Hazen referred to the Parnell and Dilke cases in English history. As to Parliament being all powerful to deal with the question as stated by the lawyers for prosecution, "Why then are they bringing this case here?"

"We could not indict before Parliament," said Mr. Barry.

"You could bring Mr. Crocket to the bar of the House," was the retort.

Produced Hansard.

A copy of Hansard of March 26 was produced by Mr. Hazen and Sir Wilfrid quoted as saying that the women, wine and graft charge could not be investigated by Parliament, that Parliament was not a police court, and he (Laurier) not a detective. Finally Mr. Hazen urged that in a case of such public interest it was for the benefit of both sides, that the enquiry should not be limited.

At a quarter to four Judge Landry collected the authorities passed up to him by counsel and retired.

Three minutes later he returned with a written decision sustaining the plea.

His Honor said that his greatest doubt was as to the definition of the words, "ill repute," but he thought the words sufficiently explicit.

More Delay.

Mr. Pugsley protested the question at issue was so important that it should be reserved for decision by the full court. Moreover, the court wanted delay. There was a man named O'Brien in the United States whose testimony was needed, then, too. Mrs. Buethner was in Quebec and Mrs. Allen was ill at Moncton. He would telegraph for a doctor's certificate.

Mr. Hazen, for the defence, opposed any postponement. His lordship announced that he would hear the application for a commission and for delay this morning. Were this application granted, then he might refer the legal questions to the Supreme Court.

"It may be weakness on my part," he said, "but I would personally prefer to have my own opinion reviewed by the full court."

SETTLED DOWN TO WORK.

Committees Appointed by Peace Conference Commence Their Duties.

The Hague, June 21.—Yesterday the various delegations to the Peace Conference met and selected members to be assigned to the four general committees. Under the rule each delegation has full liberty of choice in this respect.

The real work of the Conference will be done in the committees. A month is expected to elapse before the next plenary sitting, as the plan was to have the committee work well advanced before again calling a full conference together.

M. Nelidoff has received a petition from the committees of Armenian and Albanian organizations praying that the Conference consider some measure for alleviating the deplorable position of these people. Similar petitions are filed with the secretary and are acknowledged with a notification that the conference could not occupy itself with matters not presented by delegates.

PENSIONS FOR OLD AGE.

Premier Carruthers Brings Forward Paternal Legislation in Australia.

Sydney, N.S.W., June 21.—On the eve of Socialistic legislation more paternal than even Australia has hitherto known, Premier Carruthers yesterday announced the plans for the next session of Parliament. The program embraces pensions for invalids, subventions to friendly societies and the establishment of a system whereby the poorest persons may purchase annuities. There is little doubt that the proposals will be adopted. The annuities will be arranged by applicants opening accounts in the Government savings banks and their deposits, by the aid of Government subsidies, will draw special rates of interest.

Premier Carruthers justifies his proposals by arguing that they seek to uplift the community, swell the ranks of the friendly societies, increase the inducement to thrift and generally aid in the battle against improvidence.

SIX BRIDGES BURNED IN FOREST FIRE

Serious Damage By Forest Fires Along Railway Lines.

AIR THICK WITH SMOKE

Companies Lose Heavily—Thousands of Ties Burned—Flames Shooting High In Air—People Fleeing in Terror—Many Homes Consumed —Traveling Rendered Dangerous by Dense Smoke.

Fort William, June 21.—East of here fire is running along the line of the C.P.R. track on both sides. It extends for miles, and trains running on the Lake Superior division travel through dense clouds of smoke.

Wednesday the smoke was so thick that it was necessary to light the lamps of the cars early in the afternoon, and it was not until the train reached Mackenzie that the trainmen were able to turn the lights off. Trainmen state they have never before experienced anything like it. Engineers are able to see but a few feet ahead of them.

North of Peel River practically the whole country is red hot. Flames and smoke are shooting hundreds of feet into the air. People living all along the line are in the greatest terror, and they are ready to flee to the towns at a minute's notice.

Railways Lose Heavily.

On the C.N.R. the fire is still raging fiercely, and the losses to the company will be very large. No less than 20,000 ties were destroyed at one point, and 6,000 at another. Six bridges also were a prey to the flames between the fifteen-mile post and Silver Mountain.

At one time residents of Rymers were seriously considering the advisability of deserting the place. On the main line of the C.N.R. the bridge at Mattawin was destroyed, in addition to 15,000 ties. The conflagration is so serious that two train crews were sent out from Stanley to fight it.

It finally burned itself out, and the bridge was rebuilt, so that the line is once more clear.

To Construct Battleships.

Peterborough Won Good Game From Midland Leaguers

Defeated Port Hope Yesterday by 9-8---Surphlis, the Visitors Star Pitcher, Was Hammered Hard in the Fifth---Game Was Exciting

The Port Hope Midland League team, headed by Harry Surphlis, the Lemont King twirler, and assisted by My Man Turpin and Bulger of Cobourg, were the attractions at the Riverside ball yards yesterday afternoon, when their foresight in barring Peterborough out of the Midland League was shown by the locals bumping them to the tune of 9-8 in a game that was chuck-full of excitement, much baseball and a few dumb plays. The visitors were accompanied by a large number of rooters who came to the city with the moulders' excursion, and the Port Hope and Cobourg people forgot their fight over the ferry and other matters and cheered for the lakeshore bunch. As local people turned out in good numbers there was a cultured and representative audience present.

It was in the fifth chapter that Peterborough broke up the game. Up to that time the versatile artists that have been winning honours for Port Hope this season had been doing fairly well. Pethick, who has been playing ball in Port Hope since the Trent Canal was first heard of, was on the slab for the visitors, and he had our gladiators breaking their backs swinging at his slow ball. The Spalding was coming in as big as a house, but the locals could not connect with any degree of certainty with the ball, four hits representing the sum total of their efforts in the club-swinging line, netting three runs. In the meantime the visitors had gathered in five runs. Then the visitors decided to cinch the game by putting in Surphlis, the Toronto twirler who has won so many games for them. Their supporters settled back in their seats with "it's a-shame-to-take-the-money" smile. But what the locals did to Mr. Surphlis was a shame, an everlasting disgrace. Sheridan, the first man up, planted a pretty single to centre, and sauntered to second when Henderson let the ball get away from him. Then Turpin dropped the throw when Burns hit to shortstop. Callaghan singled and Sheridan scored. With two on the bases, Harry Burridge drove out a beautiful three-bagger to deep centre, clearing the sacks and scoring himself when O'Brien let the throw from the outfield pass him. Three hits and four runs off Mr. Surphlis without a man gone was certainly bumping the ball on the piccolo, as the Montreal Star would say. The elongated box artist came back to earth, however, and retired the side, but the damage had been done.

Port Hope were thanked in the first, while the locals broke into the scoring column in their half. Burns led off with a long drive to left for three bases on which he should have scored. Callaghan fanned to third and Burns was nipped at the plate. Callaghan being safe on the play. He stole second and third and scored on Burridge's fly to Rowden. Connors went out on a foul fly to O'Brien.

There was no further scoring until the third, when Port Hope gathered in three counters. Singles by Pethick, O'Neil and Turpin, with Quinlan's error, were responsible for the trouble.

Peterborough tied up the score in the fourth. After Burridge had fanned, Connors and Quinlan and Graham singled, sending two runs over the rubber. Graham was nipped at the plate on a throw from left.

There was more trouble in the fifth. O'Brien led off with a two-bagger to centre. Henderson was out on a grounder to short, but Callaghan allowed O'Neil's grounder to get away from him, O'Brien scoring. Turpin singled scoring O'Neil. Kolb fanned for the third time. Walters singled to right, and Flaherty made a pretty return to the plate, nipping Turpin, who attempted to score on the play.

What Peterborough did to Surphlis in the fifth has already been told and when the balloon came down the locals were two to the good.

Port Hope got one in the sixth. Callaghan fumbled Bulger's grounder and the Cobourg man was safe. Pethick hit to Poulter, who threw to second too late to get Bulger, and both runners were safe. Surphlis grounded out to Graham, but Bulger scored on O'Brien's long fly to Connors. Henderson was out, pitcher to first.

The visitors went ahead again in the seventh. O'Neil singled and Turpin was safe on fielder's choice. Kolb was caught at the plate on a relay from Connors to Poulter to Burridge.

Peterborough tied the score in their half. With one gone, Burridge planted a pretty single to right centre, coming home on Poulter's single along the first base line.

Both teams were blanked in the eighth.

Port Hope started off well. O'Brien led off with a single but was caught at second a minute later on a neat double play from Quinlan to Callaghan to Graham.

With no one gone in Peterborough's half, Graham made a pretty single and stole second, but was doubled up on Sheridan's fly to left.

Port Hope received another coat of white-wash in the ninth. Flaherty made a pretty catch of Turpin's long fly to left and Kolb struck out. With two gone, Walters was passed, but Bulger grounded out to Burns.

The score was thus a tie when Peterborough came to bat in the ninth. Burns opened with a corking single to left and promptly stole second and third. Callaghan was fanned, but O'Neil dropped the third one. He threw to first to catch Callaghan, and Burns, by a pretty slide, beat Turpin's return to the plate and the game was over.

Burns was in the box for the locals and pitched good ball, holding the hard-hitting visitors down to nine hits and keeping the bingles well scattered, with the exception of a couple of innings. He struck out 10 men. The team, generally, gave him good support, fielding better than they have done this season. Flaherty's catch in the ninth was one of the features, and he also had a splendid throw to the plate to his credit. Poulter the new shortstop, made a most favourable impression. He is fast and clean fielder, with a good wing and shapes up like a good sticker as well. Graham played splendid ball on first, while Burridge's all-round playing was one of the bright spots of the affray. He had 15 chances without an error, and made two hits and two runs.

The Port Hope bunch play snappy ball, especially O'Brien at third and Henderson in the outfield. O'Brien covered third in good style and was effective with the willow, getting two pretty hits. The two Cobourg men played good ball, Turpin's work with the willow being of much assistance.

W. Wareham gave satisfaction as umpire.

HAD THIRTY-TWO BOILS AT ONE TIME

Two Bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters Cured Him.

Imperfect organic action makes bad blood, so, too, bad blood, in turn, makes imperfect action of every bodily organ. If the blood becomes impure, poisoned or contaminated in any way from constipation, biliousness or any other cause, some especially weak organ must soon become diseased thereby, or the whole system may suffer in consequence.

Pimples, boils, blotches, ulcers, festering sores, abscesses, tumors, rashes or some serious and perhaps incurable blood disease may result. There is no medicine on the market to-day to equal the old and well-known remedy, for all cases of bad blood.

Mr. Ernest B. Tupper, Round Hill, N.S., says: "I think Burdock Blood Bitters a great medicine for boils. I had them so bad I could not work. I had thirty-two on my back at one time. I used only two bottles of B.B.B. and they completely cured me. I cannot recommend it too highly." Price $1.00 per bottle or 6 bottles for $5.00.

LAKEVIEWS MADE A DETERMINED EFFORT

No Errors in Their Game With the Lillies Last Night

With the Lillies in the lead by the wide margin of ten runs to 3, the Lakeviews made a mighty effort to turn the tables in the last three innings that were played last night, on the Patterson street grounds.

The Lakeviews were in their regular form last night and notched 9 runs to their opponents 4, leaving the total score 14—12, in favour of the Lillies. The latter team was not up to their usual form, whereas the Lakeviews went at it with the determination to win, but the lead was too wide. Graham for the Lillies, was decidedly off colour, and did not play the game he did on Monday night. There was no particular stellar work done by either team. Doherty made a fine running catch of a fly to left, and Huston stole the bases easily. Connors and Hillier played a steady game for the Lillies.

The teams lined up as follows:

Lillies — Hillier c; Graham p; 1b; Shambo 2b; Connors 3b; Forley ss; Webbb cf; Simmons lf; Pilling rf.

Lakeviews—Mahoney p; Menzies, c; Wilson 1b; McGill 2b; Winch 3b; Holland ss; Doherty lf; Carson cf; Houston rf.

First base on balls, off Graham, 5; off Mahoney, 1.

Struck out, by Graham, 3; by Mahoney, 5.

Hit by pitcher, Menzies.

Mr. Stacey again gave entire satisfaction. His kindness in lending his services to the League is greatly appreciated, and in every case his decisions have been undisputed.

OSHAWA SOCCER TEAM HERE TO-MORROW

Play the Quakers at 2.30 on Riverside Park

The Oshawa Intermediate Football Team will arrive in the city to-morrow about 11.30, and on the Riverside Park at 2.30 will meet the Intermediate Quakers. The game promises to be one of the best ever witnessed on local ground as the Oshawa team has a great record of wins to their credit. They defeated Port Hope league team on the round by 11 to 2, and will make a strong bid for the Intermediate championship of the Midland League.

The Quakers are also playing great football and will put on a strong team. Their line up will be:

Goal, Laing.

Backs, Scrimshaw, Sullivan.

Half backs, Deforge, Dingman and Archibald.

Forwards, Yates, Brodie, Crough, Caniff, Hagley.

Referee, Fred Doherty, Norwood.

Ill Temper From a Bad Liver

Calyle justly attributes the ill-temper which made him a monster in the eyes of the world, to a bad liver. Nothing makes one feel more miserable or gloomy and discouraged than liver complaint, and consequent biliousness and dyspepsia, and nothing so thoroughly and promptly sets the liver right and overcomes these ailments as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the great family medicine.

MOBS OFFER EIGHT TO TROOPS

Serious Disorders in Wine-Growing Districts of France.

GRAVE NEWS FOR PREMIER

Soldiers Hurt in Riot—Fired Straight Into the Crowd—Three Killed and One Hundred Wounded — Many Women Injured — Attempt to Break Open the Prison—Erected Barricades on the Street.

Paris, June 21.—The brief despatches which reached Paris yesterday showed that the conflicts which have occurred between the troops and mobs in the south were more sanguinary than at first suspected. At Narbonne three persons were killed and a hundred soldiers and civilians, including a score of women, are said to have been wounded, a number of them fatally. The troops, who were ordered to fire in the air, shot straight at the mob besieging them in the courtyard of the superstructure.

A whole army corps has been put in motion to deal with the rebellious wine-growers.

State Banquet Cancelled.

The state banquet which was to have been given last night in honor of the King of Siam, was countermanded in consequence of the bloodshed. The newspapers report another attempt to burn the sub-prefecture at Narbonne. Gendarmes fired from the upper storey and the attackers fled.

It is also announced that there has been further shooting in the streets of Narbonne, and that many persons have been wounded. Many wine-growers continue to pour into Narbonne, and threaten to set fire to the hotels occupied by the army officers. Fresh troops are arriving there.

Tried to Rescue Prisoners.

Montpelier, France, June 21.—Serious rioting broke out here Wednesday night, lasting all evening. The mob attempted to burn down the door of the prison and rescue the prisoners. The troops were turned out, but were received with volleys of stones and bottles. Troopers were pulled off their horses and clubbed. A prominent police official was seriously wounded by a broken bottle. Many soldiers were less seriously injured.

Incendiaries Driven Off.

Narbonne, France, June 21.—A violent mob from the outlying villages gathered Wednesday night. They poured petroleum over the door of the sub-prefecture, which they set on fire, but were driven off after repeated charges by the troops. In the course of the fighting the manifestants fired revolvers, but no one was hit. The disorder was augmented by the absence of lights, the mob having cut the electric cables. In other parts of the town barricades were erected. These were stormed by the troops and torn down, only to be set up again by the rioters.

Late last night Premier Clemenceau received grave news from the Midi, the district of the discontented wine-growers, where the exasperation of the people is increasing. Messages to the Premier came indirectly by way of Lyons, indicating that the wires had been cut. The Argelieres committee has been reconstituted, a third committee being named in case the members of the second committee also were arrested. It is now certain that Marcelin Albert has not been arrested, and it is admitted that the police have no idea of his whereabouts.

STATE CLOSES ITS CASE.

Counsel for Haywood Will Move For an Acquittal.

Boise, Idaho, June 21.—Unless nine o'clock should bring unforeseen delay in obtaining a few final pieces of evidence, the state will close its case to-day against Wm. D. Haywood, whom it charges with the murder of Frank Steunenberg.

This announcement was made yesterday afternoon by Senator Borah of the prosecution, and when Clarence Darrow of the defence took up the discussion of the arrangement of time he made it clear that directly the state closed, he and his associates would move the court for an instruction directing a verdict of acquittal.

The prosecution succeeded again yesterday in showing a direct connection between the store of George Pettibone in Denver, and Harry Orchard while he was at work on the Bradley crime in San Francisco, and promised to prove the connection which Orchard says he had with Pettibone personally by handwriting experts who will be called to-day.

Original records of the Pacific Postal Telegraph Co. were produced, showing that in September and October, 1904, remittances of $97.50 and $48 respectively were made, the first by "J. Wolff" and the second by "P. Bone."

Judge Wood admitted as evidence many of the strongly-worded articles of The Miners' Magazine, in which Steunenberg was bitterly denounced. Mr. Borah read them to the jury. These were admitted as showing the animus of the federation officials against Steunenberg and against Justices Goddard and Gabbert of the Supreme Court of Colorado, whom Orchard swore he tried many times to kill.

The state introduced in evidence the decisions of the judges on the Colorado eight-hour law, and the habeas corpus application of Charles H. Moyer. To practically every piece of evidence offered during the day the defence took an exception.

Teamsters Strike.

Montreal, June 21.—Yesterday morning some three hundred of the teamsters employed by the Dominion Transport Company struck work for an increase in the wage basis of $1.75 per day and 20 cents per hour after 6 p.m. They are now getting $1.60.

Cow Puncher Killed.

Calgary, June 21.—James Ross, a rancher, was killed at Cochrane races Wednesday. The crowd rushed on the course when two cow punchers, Ross and a man named Burks were knocked down.

NINTH EXCURSION WAS A SUCCESS

A Delightful Outing Held Under Auspices of St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild Yesterday

The ninth annual excursion of the Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church, was held yesterday at Stony Lake, and the outing was one of the most successful and enjoyable, held by the Guild which is saying a good deal to those who have had the good fortune to be present at any of these airings. About one hundred and fifty people were on board the steamer Stoney Lake, when she steamed away from the Lakefield wharf. The steamer proceeded at once to Burleigh Falls, where dinner was partaken of and a couple of hours spent at the beautiful spot. The excursionists then boarded the steamer again and were taken for a sail around the lake, calling at Mt. Julian and Juniper Island. At five o'clock McCracken's Landing was reached, and a very enjoyable programme of sports was run off, including a tug of war contest which proved decidedly interesting.

The winners of the different races were as follows:

Single Men's Race, Bert Lang.
Married Men's Race, J. J. Cocks.
Tandem race, Miss Anderson and W. Richardson.

The Mandolin Club accompanied the excursionists and their music was generously given and greatly enjoyed.

The outing was voted a great success and reflects great credit upon those who had the arrangements in charge. The weather conditions were perfect.

Irrigation in Canadian West, on Line of Canadian Pacific Railway

Whether the reason be mere inexplainable negligence or that she is more than her neighbours susceptible to the principle which lies at the back of the truism, "A prophet is not without honour but in his own country," the fact remains that Canada is not and has never been overready to shout of her own charms and advantages from the housetops. As a consequence comparatively few even of her own people, really know to any great extent of the beauties of her scenery, the enormity of her territory or even of the magnitude of the works which are being pushed forward here or there to the advancement of her commerce.

Among the most prominent of the latter is the great irrigation project of the C.P.R., which is now well under way in Southern Alberta, and which when completed will be the largest irrigation system in the world.

If the real benefactor of the human race is the man who "makes two ears of corn grow where one gre wbefore," then in a very literal sense the C. P. R. may take its full toll of credit. Southern Alberta has always produced its one ear of corn. It has never been a dry arid desert, such as is usually connected with the idea of irrigation. The semi-arid tracts extending down and down, in enormous slopes — 3,000,000 acres of —land running eastward from the Rockies, have always been found admirable for grazing. Even during the winter hosts of cattle, have them, finding, except during a very exceptionable season, abundance of food, while in such districts as have been given up to wheat raising, the returns have as a rule, justified the claims of "Sunny" Alberta. The great trouble has been that the crop could not be depended upon as uniform. Owing to drought it has often been found impossible to have the fall crop sown one year matured in time to permit of extensive fall cropping operations the next, while for the same reason the cultivation of oats, corn and alfalfa has been, perforce, somewhat limited. To bring about the very reverse of these conditions, and in addition, to greatly increase the annual yield, became the dream of the C. P. R.

It was observed that the gentle slope eastward, with the Bow River fed not only by the direct waters from the snows and glaciers of the Rockies, but also by the overflow from Devil's and other mountain lakes at its head, afforded an almost ideal opportunity for irrigation at an exceptionally low cost, and a survey of the area showed an acreage of 3,000,000, of which 1,500,000 acres could be advantageously irrigated, the remainder being still valuable as before for grazing. This area, it may be explained, lies between Calgary and Medicine Hat, is 150 miles long and 40 broad, and is bounded by the Red Deer River on the north, and on the south by the River.

Since, in Canada, all rivers belong to the Crown, the first step was to obtain an absolute title to such amount of water as might be necessary. This was secured to the extent of 2000 cubic feet of water per second from the Bow River, hence the C. P. R. was enabled to guarantee to the purchasers of farms within thee district a supply of water for all time; and the work, under the direction of Mr. J. S. Dennis, an engineer of high repute in the Dominion, began.

For convenience the area was divided into three sections, and as yet only the western division has been extensively operated upon; but even the amount that has been done is an earnest of the enormousness of the completed work, while its success has removed all doubt that may have existed regarding the practicability and advisability of the venture.

The water for this section is diverted from the Bow River at a point about two miles from Calgary, and is carried through a main canal 17 miles in length, 60 feet wide at the bottom and 120 feet wide at the top, with a capacity for carrying 10 feet in depth of water. This canal terminates in a natural reservoir, 3 miles long, 1-2 mile wide, and 40 feet deep, from which run three secondary canals, which in turn deal out the water in the distributing ditches. In all the total length of water channels for the western division alone will be 967 miles, exclusive of the laterals which each farmer will have opened to suit himself, and the amount of land irrigated will total 350,000 acres.

When this section has been fully developed and colonized the work will extend to the other sections and if constructed in the same proportions the completed work will show about 2900 miles of water channel, involving the excavation of 24,750,000 cubic yards of material.

In making the excavations which have been carried on by means of the steam shovel and locomotive, the greatest care has been taken to render the work permanent and to prevent loss through seepage or accident. In every part the softer surface soil has been discarded and the embankments made of the harder subsoil, wet and packed by heavy rollers. In some parts the use of heavy timbers has been necessary, and at one point the removal of a portion of a cliff 1000 feet long, 180 feet wide and 100 feet deep.

As a matter of course the expenditure in money has been great, and will by the time the work has been completed aggregate about $5,000,000. Nevertheless the water will be supplied to farmers at the extraordinarily low rate of 50 cents per acre per annum, the amount to be supplied at present being fixed at one cubic foot per second for each 150 acres, as needed during an irrigation season, lasting from May 1st to 1October 1st.

The exceeding reasonableness of this rate, along with the certainty in perpetuity of being able to irrigate the crops when needed must assure a rapid colonization and a revenue of richness as yet scarcely to be estimated from this Holland of the Canadian west.

Havelock, June 10.—The Norwood school boys drove over to town on Saturday to play the return baseball match with the Havelock school boys. The game commenced at three o'clock in the afternoon and a large crowd attended to cheer the youngsters. All classes from the Second Book to the Junior Fourth are trying their examinations this week. The entrance class examinations will take place the last three days in June.

Miss Maud Kelly, teacher in the primary department in the public school, gave a picnic for the little ones at the park and pleasure grounds on Tuesday afternoon.

Some one in the town seem to have that taking way with them. On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Fowler drove over to Hastings, and while away some person, not known as yet, made their way through the window and went down cellar and took a number of things in the way of eatables, such as eggs, butter and preserves. This is all that has been missed as yet, so it is believed that it must have been a stangry creature.

Miss Loretta Bennett was in Peterborough on Tuesday.

Miss Smith, of Campbellford, was in town on Tuesday.

The Board of Health met on Friday night, June 14th, at 7.30. Present, Chairman Thompson, Secretary Bryans and Messrs. Brewster, Knox, Mathews, Crawford and Williams.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Dr. Crawford presented his account for fumigating, $57.35 and express on water, $1.30; total, $58.65.

Moved by Mr. Brewster, seconded by Mr. Knox, that Dr. Crawford's account of $57.35 for fumigating and $1.30 for express on well water be paid.—Carried.

Moved and seconded that the Board recommend that the medical health officer be paid $30.00 per year for doing all the fumigating.

Mr. Benore, of Campbellford, was in town on Tuesday.

The committee for the 1st of July celebration are busy at work, and have large bills put up all over the town. This is the opening of the public park and a large crowd is expected. The great event in the morning will be the "Trades Procession" at 10 o'clock, comprising fleets of Havelock's enterprising merchants in all lines of business, manufactures and trades, will parade the principal streets of the town. In the afternoon a baseball and foot ball match will take place. The baseball match will be between Hastings and Havelock and the foot ball match between Norwood and Havelock. A number of other sports will also be pulled off in the way of all kinds of races, for which prizes will be given. A special attraction in the afternoon will be a slow horse race. This event is sure to prove a most laughable feature. Owners have to exchange horses and the last horse in wins a cash prize of $5.00. A second prize valued at $3.00 and a third prize at $2.00 will also be awarded for this event. Another attraction will be tug-of-war, between Havelock and all-comers. The Citizens band will furnish music for the days. A special train will leave Peterborough at 11.16 a.m., arriving in Havelock at 11.55 a.m.; returning will leave Havelock at 3.55 p.m. The return fare will be 75c.

THE MAN WHO WENT

New York, the Present Home of a Great Canadian Inventor

Mankind has ever held out offers of reward to those who would supply the better things. What people need and what they want may be different, therefore, the prize is to the man who studies what mankind wants.

The man who invented the Semi-ready idea of tailoring fine clothes for men sold out his idea to those who have since perfected it. But to this man, now in New York, is owing a laurel wreath of honour and the clothes of riches. Semi-ready represents progress. Progress is evolution. "Semi-ready" to-day is the evolution of an idea which still evolutes every season into the better thing.

Mud of Madville

Last evening one of Mr. Albert Jewett's hacks, driven by "Friday" Madison, got into a tight place on Yeoman street. The driver had turned towards the walk in front of Mr. Armstrong's residence, when two wheels sank above the hubs in the mud, the rain having washed out a drain which is located there. Considerable difficulty was experienced in getting the vehicle on sound land, but finally it was accomplished with the aid of grips and logs.—Lindsay Post.

Calyle justly attributes the ill temper which made him a monster in the eyes of the world, to a bad liver. Nothing makes one feel more miserable or gloomy and discouraged than liver complaint, and consequent biliousness and dyspepsia, and nothing so thoroughly and promptly sets the liver right and overcomes these ailments as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the great family medicine.

THE LATEST IN FASHION'S REALM; ITEMS OF INTEREST TO THE LADIES

IN FASHION'S REALM.

Reign of the Parasol Soon to Begin.

A NEW EMPIRE SUNSHADE.

The Season to Be a Lavish One For the Sunshade Maker—The Day of the Fussy, Overtrimmed Parasol Is Past. Plain Ones In Vogue.

One of the most distinctive and charming novelties that have made their appearance for a very long time is the new empire parasol. Entirely reversing that accepted order of things, it is the handle part of the stick that is short and the ferrule end extended to an extreme length, while the silken sunshade itself droops with the tips pointing downward instead of the mere usual way.

When the parasol is raised, this long end cannot help but project far in the rear, really endangering the eyesight of such as may be so foolish as to press too closely in the wake of the fashionable mondaine who follows the very latest fad in parasols.

For walking use, however, they are both picturesque and delightful and accord to a charming degree with the period designs that rule the moment in dress.

Quite at the other end of the procession are the new pompadour parasols. Not that we have the slightest evidence or reason for believing that the famous—or infamous, whichever view one prefers to take of history—Mme. la Marquise de Pompadour ever carried or advocated a parasol that completely reverses the current mode in those effective little additions to the street or carriage toilet, but that the ideas ascribed to this period in dress are the ones that are attracting most attention just now make the name seem somewhat appropriate.

This is the parasol in which the handle is the short end of the stick and the ferrule the longer, so that when not opened the silken sunshade droops, with its tips hanging toward the ferrule.

It is just as though the parasol had been mounted wrong end upon the stick. While there is grave danger that when hoisted to serve its nominal purpose it may work havoc with the hats and eyesight of those who are walking in a too close vicinity to its wearer, it must be confessed that when it is carried in the hand it does make a most effective addition to the chic and finish of one's street toilet.

For the races, for lawn and garden parties, for the promenade along lengthy hotel piazzas in the summer time, it will be wondrously fetching, but it remains to be seen whether the vogue predicted for its use will eventuate later.

Some really beautiful examples have been imported in this style. The first that were seen on this side of the ocean came over last autumn securely packed away in the trunks of some society women who planned for stunning appearances at southern resorts later on.

One thing is very apparent, even thus early in the season, and that is that the day of the fussy and overtrimmed parasol is past and gone. There is a certain amount of plainness to even the most expensive examples, and the befrilled and beruffled varieties have been relegated to that oblivion that overtakes fashions that have been overdone.

AMY VARNUM.

A Luncheon Dish.

Here is a nice little luncheon dish that should prove an acceptable addition to a Friday menu:

Eggs a la Romaine.—First butter several small pattypans, separate the yolks and whites of the eggs, being very careful not to break the yolks. Now put a yellow into each tin and add to it a teaspoonful of cream and a little pepper and salt. Then beat the whites to a very stiff froth and pile this evenly on the top of each yolk. Sprinkle a little cayenne and some grated cheese over all and bake in a moderate oven for about fifteen minutes. Serve at once.

Cooking Vegetables.

A good general rule to remember is that green vegetables should be cooked in hard water, while dry vegetables and many root vegetables should be cooked in soft water.

When water has been boiling in the kettle for some time it has parted with its gases and become hard; hence the importance of using water which has been freshly boiled. A teaspoonful of salt added to a gallon of water will make it hard, while half of a level teaspoonful of baking soda added to the same quantity renders it soft.

The term "green vegetables" includes all those varieties which grow above the ground while in a fresh state. Dried vegetables take in all manner of dried beans, peas and lentils; also such derivatives of corn as hominy and samp. Rice and macaroni are also meant when to be served as an accompaniment to meat or fish.

HERE AND THERE.

Modes In Motor Hats—Trimming For Jumper Waists and Etons.

In motor hats the Romney shape, with its deformed brim cut closely away in front and baggy crown, is favored. This is really very becoming to the wearer, although it sounds anything but attractive.

There is no question as to whether the overskirt is to be a note in summer fashions as it is seen on the prettiest afternoon costumes.

The cap sleeves seen on many jumper waists and Eton jackets may be slashed and fastened across with tiny velvet bows and the jacket fronts held together in the same way.

A favorite way of trimming the small mushroom hat is with bouquets at the side with a bow of ribbon between them. A change from this style is to place a huge rose or a bed of leaves and buds around the rest of the hat.

Very sheer foundations are used for the new embroideries, the patterns of which are done in heavy effect. Chiffon or thin veiling is sometimes used as a foundation for holding an embroidery done with heavy floss.

Picture leghorns with large bows of flowered gauze are wonderfully alluring and cheap for a garden party hat. When the gauze is employed it does away with the necessity for the more expensive flowers.

Bracelets in yellow dull finished gold in openwork designs are attractive. One of these bracelets forms a spider web all round the wearer's wrist. A diamond fly and a ruby eyed spider glitter in the golden meshes.

Young girls find the jumper waist peculiarly suited to their needs and consequently have hailed it with delight. Here is one that is as charming as it is simple. As illustrated the blouse is made of pale blue messaline, with trimming of cream lace edged with pale blue velvet.

tender, remove from the water (use this for soup) and let become chilled. Put about four stalks through rings cut from slices of cooked beet. Set these on lettuce hearts, pour over a French dressing and serve at once. Crackers and cheese may accompany this salad.

A Use For Old Balls.

When lawn tennis balls get broken and are no longer fit for lawn tennis it is a very good plan to make bright colored covers for them and send them to the children's hospitals. The covers, for which odds and ends of wool can be used, are easily made in crochet, the two halves being worked separately, then drawn over the ball and sewn or crocheted together. They are very quickly made, when finished are capital playthings for children, and any cracks or holes in the balls are hidden by the covers.

VOGUE POINTS.

Pearl Buttons For the New Spats—A Smart Street Frock.

Buttons of fancy pearl in form like shirt buttons promise to be a fad. They will also be used on new spats of linen and duck to be worn on occasion with low shoes.

Blue chiffon voile over self color or white is the material for many pretty street frocks. These are made with vague little boleros or empire coatees and with skirts long or of walking length according as they are intended for walking or for carriage wear.

Word now comes from Paris that we are to have pockets again. In many recent model tailor mades pockets are placed in the seams of the skirts a little over the right hip. They are set into the skirt and finished with a flap that buttons over. In evening gowns they are hidden in the folds of the skirt and placed well back.

Hats to match costumes are no longer obligatory, but there must always be introduced into the hat a touch of the most prominent color in the gown. In many instances, however, the hat is still made to match the gown exactly. The straws are dyed to match the materials of the costume.

The petticoat illustrated is a good model for an active child. The full skirt is joined to a smoothly fitted underwaist and can be made plain or elaborate, as the occasion demands. The waist is perfectly fitted, and the petticoat is simply straight and gathered at its upper edge, so that the laundering is a simple matter.

WHAT IS WORN.

The Daisy Fashionable—The Popular Ruffled Sleeve.

Daisies are the most likable flowers of spring. Men admire hats adorned with these flowers. To men all flowers are either daisies or roses. The former are suggestive of spring bonnets, while the latter are for wear all the year round, men think.

Lace ruffles are the sleeves used now in net evening gowns. The ruffles carry out the oriental idea of full, flowing sleeves which were predicted for summer wear.

Plain and novelty materials are combined in summer suitings—the striped skirt with the plain cloth jacket, for instance.

A practical suiting for hard usage that is three-quarters wool comes in two tone gray checks and stripes, yard wide.

Among the lingerie waists there is one of French lawn with an elaborate jacket effect of German valenciennes lace, embroidered medallions on the front and lace medallions on the shoulders. It has three-quarter sleeves.

Many gowns are made princess in front and empire in the back, which mode requires a perfect figure.

What is known as the new empire skirt or the one that is extended up the back to give a short waisted effect is much used. In the present instance it is combined with one of the prettiest of the overwaists that is crossed in surpliced style. The gown is made of plaid chiffon voile, with trimmings of plain color. The guimpe is of embroidered net, with frills of valenciennes lace.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Nonpoisonous Fly Paper.

In the home where there are little children or pet animals poisonous fly paper should never be used, and the sticky kind leads to many unpleasant accidents. An excellent substitute for either is made by mixing a quantity of ground pepper with twice its amount of brown sugar and adding enough condensed milk to make a smooth paste. Spread on paper and place where flies are numerous. They die almost immediately after eating it.

BRIEF AND PRACTICAL.

Vogue of the Wide Japanese Sleeve. Soft Materials Preferred.

Short boleros and bodices in general have wide Japanese sleeves over undersleeves of lace. This fashionable sleeve was recently created by a French dressmaker for Signora Duse, and the celebrated actress favors no other. The "manches a la Duse" have drooping shoulders and will remain popular for a long time.

Materials are still of the softest description. Thin cloth, voile, grenadine crepe de chine, mousseline de soie and the most supple of taffetas lend themselves to endless combinations.

Some delightful frocks were seen recently at a social function. They were of tussore and mousseline de soie. One dress was composed of a skirt, bodice and jacket. The tussore formed a wide band and fancy strappings upon the skirt. The sleeveless jacket had cord embroideries at the shoulders and round the neck, completed at the waist with large cut steel buttons. The bodice had a Japanese cachet in the way the tussore was sewed upon the mousseline de soie. A yoke in cream point lace gave a delightful finish. This handsome dress looks as effective in fawn as in dull gray.

The pretty graduation gown shown herewith is of Persian lawn trimmed simply with valenciennes lace. Voile and marquisette are also suitable if wool dresses are desired.

Why She Is Trim.

"Please tell me," said the man, "why young ladies are looking so trim this year. I can't just explain it, but I notice that all the girls I meet have an unusually compact, neat looking effect, quite different from other years."

"The reason," explained the woman, "is that this spring it is fashionable for coats to fit and not hang loosely, after the potato sack fashion of other years; also said coats are plain, without the dingledangles and fripperies that erstwhile bedizened our helpless persons. Moreover, skirts are short and close fitting around the hips—no bunchy gathers and things. In addition, hats are little and fit close to the head instead of rearing off it in the toplofty manner they affected last year. What is more, shirt waists are tailory and severe, the air holed, cobweb, frilly lingerie blouses being reserved for high days and holidays. Furthermore"—

"Thanks," said the man, "that certainly accounts for it. I shouldn't think they would ever go back to the dingledangles and potato sacks again after looking so fit in these tight tailory things, should you?"

But the woman, being a woman, smiled quizzically and observed, in the language of Mr. Shaw, that you never can tell.

NORWOOD BASEBALL TEAM WON

Stevens-Baptie Nuptials Celebrated—Norwood Civic Holiday on June 21st.

CHILDREN GAVE CONCERT

Examiner Special.

Norwood, June 18. — The return game between Marmora and Norwood baseball teams, was played on the exhibition grounds at this place on Friday last. Marmora lost by a score of 16—10. A fairly good crowd was in attendance and watched the game until the last innings, notwithstanding that it was very one-sided. Fred Doherty, who acted as umpire, shut down on the local boys in the sixth innings, and it is stated made many bad decisions, but the local boys were satisfied as long as Marmora did not catch up to them, and thus no kicking ensued. Storms and Hendren were the local back stop and both did good work while Kempt, Doherty and Coughlin the local twirlers, each had a hand in the box, and pitched good ball. Kempt held his record, while Coughlin's southpaw twirling was a continuous puzzle to the visitors. Only two flies reached the outfield, and these were quickly collared by Huyck and Juniac, while the Marmora outfields were continually finding stray balls, with 2nd and 3rd base bags attached, which they failed to get under. The Norwood team was defeated in Marmora a week ago, and this leaves it a tie, which will likely be played off in the near future at Campbellford.

The teams lined up as follows:

| Marmora. | | Norwood. |
|---|---|---|
| Shannon, | Pitcher. | Coughlin. |
| Wells. | Catcher. | Hendren |
| Bleecker | 1st base. | Edwards |
| Grieves, | 2nd base, | Juniac, |

| Smith, | Short stop. | Kempt. |
| McWilliams, | Left field. | Finlay, |

The Norwood brass band has been engaged for the day and they with the Italian orchestra which is to be on board, will furnish the music.

The children of the Mission Band in connection with the Methodist church, gave a very interesting programme in the auditorium of the church on Monday evening last, and deserve great credit for the way in which they took their parts. The programme consisted of recitations, songs, dialogues, mouth organ solos and instrumental duets, etc., by the children. A silver collection was taken, which amounted to nearly $7, which is to be used in making things for the Kitamaat Home.

Fishing Generally Good Regulations Well Observed

These Conditions Reported by Fish Overseers From This District —Some Suggestions Are Made

HIGH WATER INJURIOUS

The eighth annual report of the Department of Fisheries of the Province of Ontario has just been issued by the Ontario Government, and contains some interesting information. The overseers have reported on the conditions existing during the past year, the summaries of the reports from this district being as follows:

Overseer W. R. Johnson, of Harwood, reports that the fishery laws have on the whole been fairly well observed. He removed from the waters at the mouth of the River Trent one large hoop net, but did not succeed in discovering who the guilty parties were. During the past season a great many tourists visited Rice Lake, and met with good success. It is his impression that this year has been one of the best in many for the protection of spawn and little fish in Rice Lake. In the beginning of the season the water was low, which prevented the fish from depositing their spawn as high in the marshes as in former years, as the water continued to stay about the same all through the close season, which was a great protection to spawn and little fish. In other years the water would be very high in the first of the season, the fish depositing their spawn high in the marshes, and before the season was over the water would fall very fast, and in consequence there would be a great loss of spawn and little fish.

Overseer Wellington Lean, of Apsley reports that he visited the lakes in his division at various times during the season, and no illegal fishing came under his personal notice. A summer boarding house was built at Loon Lake last year, and quite a number of tourists visited the said lake during the summer. All were satisfied with the fishing, and observed th regulations.

There are no fishways in his division. There are four saw mills, and he is very pleased to say that he visited them all during the season and found that no sawdaust or mill refuse was being allowed to go into the water.

He would like to draw the attention of the Department to the placing of fish in Wolf and Crab Lakes. It would be of great benefit to the settlers, and would also give new openings for tourists.

Overseer J. R. McAllister, Gore's Landings reports that on account of high water in Rice Lake there was very poor fishing until the last part of the month of August, when the water went down to the usual mark, and then a great many fine catches were made. Some very large fish, both bass and muskinonge, were taken, one black bass over seven pounds. Tehre has been very little law breaking that he has heard of in that part of the lake.

He is anxious that something should be done about the water. It goes up one month and down the next, and if it is not kept up to a certain height fishing and shooting on Rice Lake will be of no account. He is told that the water is kept high on account of steamboats going from Hastings to Peterborough. Navigation closed about the middle of November, and the water two weeks later was higher than it was last April. The wild rice was all killed out this year by the raising and lowering of the water.

Overseer Enoch Merriam, of Harwood, reports that the fish were more plentiful than ever last spring. The water was so low that the fish had to spawn outside of the bays or marshes, and there was none of their spawn lost, as it was all laid where the young fry could not be stranded. The young fry were in millions along the shores in about three or four inches of water. Many American tourists were there this summer, but the first part of the season was not good for fishing as there was so much wind; but after the first of August the rice and weed beds grew up and afforded shelter on one side or the other. The fishing was good for the remainder of the season, and every one was well pleased with the catch. A great many of the Americans thought the $2 rate was pretty hard, and that a fee of $1 would be about right for the privilege of fishing in our waters from three to six days in a summer, which is about the average number of days the Americans stop here. No violations came before his notice, although fish are bought and sold all the time. He knew that for a fact before he was appointed overseer, but people know where the danger lies and keep in the shade when the overseer is around. He thinks that if a private detective were to come to an overseer's assistance when there is a number handing fish there would be no trouble in bringing them to justice.

There is no saw mill in his division. There is no saw mill in his division.

Overseer F. J. Moore, of Lakefield reports that during the past season fish have been fairly plentiful. The law has been well observed with the exception of a few cases of illegal fishing, which were promptly stamped out by the seizure of the nets. The restocking of Stony Lake with parent bass has been successful, and several schools of the young bass have been seen during the summer, and the progress watched with much interest.

A great many tourists visited our waters during the summer, and had good fishing. In this connection he thinks that the $2 license fee charged to non-residents is a good thing, as it brings the overseer into contact with the fisherman.

In some of the waters in his district there are ling, catfish, eels and suckers, and, as they destroy the spawn of maskinonge and bass, he suggests that some means be used to get them out of these waters.

He estimates the quantity of fish used for home consumption at 14,000 pounds of bass and 8,000 pounds of maskinonge.

ATTRACTIONS OF EASTERN CANADA

Intercolonial Railway's Series of Booklets

The Attractions of the Maritime Provinces for the Tourists and Sportsmen

Well Illustrated and Excellently Printed Booklets, Which Should be Read by All

(The Toronto, Ont., Globe, June 5.)

Eastern Canada possesses attractions for the tourist and sportsman unsurpassed by any other portion of North America. Glowing skies, magnificent coast scenery, behind which lurk lovely harbours, rivers leading to lakes which Frechette calls "sapphires dropped from the caskets of fairies;" forests of pine, spruce, waving birch and "quivering poplar," dark cedar and brilliant maple, and withal the cool air which is life to the weary resident of the city who is fortunate enough to visit this land. For the sportsman these rivers and bays abound with fish of all descriptions, and in no part of America is there so much game, moose, caribou, deer, bear, etc.

For the lover of history and romance there are also many interests. Long before the Pilgrims landed on the gusty coast of New England venturesome fishermen from St. Malo and elsewhere in the old world came to ply their calling in the northern waters, which Jacques Cartier named the Gulf of St. Lawrence and Baie des Chaleur in 1534, and around the coasts of which, now forming the shores of the Province of Quebec and northern New Brunswick, linger the shadows of romance, fame and glory.

To present a few of the attractions of this beautiful summer land, which notwithstanding the thousands who travel over the road each year is yet a veritable terra incognito to the average tourist and sportsman, the passenger department of the Intercolonial Railway has prepared a beautiful and useful series of booklets. For general information this series is far in advance of anything of the kind ever presented to the public by this railway before, and should be in the hands of everyone seeking rest and sport.

The first of these publications is entitled "Tours to Summer Haunts." It is a pamphlet of some hundred pages, printed on coated book paper and generously illustrated with artistic half-tone reproductions of scenes lonidant to the text, with sub-heads in marginal indent, supplementing which is a schedule of tours and excursions from Montreal to the principal points of interest in the Maritime Provinces. The text details the character of the country, the historic and scenic points of interest, and facilities offered to votaries of rod and gun, all interesting and instructive reading for even those who have no opportunity of visiting the places described. Then follow "Fishing and Hunting," "The Hunting Grounds of the Micmacs," "A Week in the Canaan Woods," "Big Game of the Southwest Miramichi" and "The Maritime Express," all of which are eminently practical subjects, indicated by their respective titles.

"Fishing and Hunting" has the game laws of the different Provinces compiled in addition to tabulated information concerning the varieties of game and fish to be found in each locality along the whole line. It is a splendid effort to present desired information in concise form, and meets the requirements admirably.

"The Hunting Grounds of the Micmacs" presents to its readers a short historical reference to the tribe from which it is named, and directs the lovers of rod and gun where to find victims. It is an admirable little hand-book, readable and full of information.

"A Week in the Canaan Woods" and "Big Game of the Southwest Miramichi" informs the hunter and tourist of the attractions of the territories indicated by the names.

"The Maritime Express" is really an annotated time table describing the locality of each station, and giving valuable information regarding business, sport and other data necessary or desired by travellers from Montreal to the eastern termini of the road.

The booklets are legibly printed, well illustrated with half-tones, and each has a full four-page map of the country traversed by the railway.

The booklets are issued by the Intercolonial Railway, and may be obtained free from local C.P.R. agents. 2d143

FAMOUS DOCTOR DEAD

WAS DISTINGUISHED SURVIVOR OF GARRISON AT LUCKNOW.

Sir Joseph Fayrer Had an Adventurous Career—Novel Remedy for Sunstroke—Strenuous Days During the Indian Mutiny—Shell Explodes at Close Quarters — Bed Clothes on Fire—Held Many Important Offices

The death has taken place at Falmouth of Sir Joseph Fayrer, Bart., F.R.S., Surgeon-General in the Army, and one of the most distinguished survivors of the heroic garrison of Lucknow. Sir Joseph lived an eventful life, his name being chiefly associated with India. Born at Plymouth in December, 1824, Sir Joseph Fayrer was the son of Mr. R. J. Fayrer, Commander in the Royal Navy. He took the degree of M.D. in the University of Edinburgh, and entered the medical service of the Navy, being in the military hospital of Palermo during the siege of that city in 1847-8. He was also present at the siege of Rome in 1848. Sir Joseph Fayrer entered the Bengal medical service in 1850, and was successively vice-president and president of the Asiatic Society of Bengal. In his "Recollections of My Life," published in 1900, he has given some striking accounts of his experiences in Burma during the war of 1852 and India, more particularly of the Mutiny period.

As a reward for his services in Burma Sir Joseph was appointed Residency Surgeon at Lucknow, the post being all the more desirable as it gave him magnificent opportunities of tiger shooting and other sport. In October, 1855, he had married Bertha Mary, the eldest daughter of General Andrew Spens; and his patients more than once begged permission to present her with costly jewels in addition to his ordinary fees. For feeling the pulse of a rich merchant's wife he was offered a splendidly caparisoned charger. The expected insurrection, for which Sir Henry Lawrence had made every possible preparation, broke out at Lucknow on May 30, 1857. Sir Joseph Fayrer's house was close behind the Bailey Guard Gate and in front of the Begum Koti. It was quickly put in a state of defence. Sand bags were piled up on the flat roof and an 18-pounder and a 9-pounder mounted there to command the Bailey Guard gateway of the Residency. Many ladies of the garrison took shelter in the house, repairing to the underground cellars, whenever the mutineers' firing became hot, which happened not infrequently, as Sir Joseph's house was one of the warmest corners in Lucknow. He himself and Captain Weston were in command of the post; and the relation of what happened there forms no inconsiderable part of the story of the siege. In June Sir Joseph's younger brother, Richard, a lieutenant in the Oudh Irregular Cavalry, having been sent with a squadron to aid General Sir Hugh Wheeler's force, was cut down by one of his own men. Sir Joseph, of course, was in constant attendance on his chief, Sir Henry Lawrence, and was with him when he died, mortally wounded by a shell.

Eight or nine years afterwards Sir Joseph Fayrer acted as guide to the Prince of Wales, now King Edward, at Lucknow, pointing out to him the various buildings, his own house among them, which still stand to commemorate the momentous struggle. In 1859 he went to reside at Calcutta as professor of surgery in the Medical College, and surgeon to the College Hospital. In 1874 he retired from the service with the rank of surgeon-general, and was appointed to succeed Sir J. Ronald Martin in the medical department of the India Office. In the winter of 1875-6 he went to India in the suite of the Prince of Wales as physician, and was advanced to the grade of Knight Commander of the Star of India (having been a Companion since 1868) at the investiture of the Order held by the Prince at Allahabad.

ENGLAND'S KING A DEBTOR.

Payment of $200,000,000, May Be Demanded—600 Years' Interest.

Reports recently revived that the representatives of the ancient Florentine family of Peruzzi intend pressing their claim upon the English royal family for the liquidation of immense loans made to the first three Kings Edward have led the Corriere della Sera to institute special inquiries in Florence.

The Marchese Vicenzo Peruzzi, the present head of the house, is now away in London for his marriage with Miss Betty Cox, the daughter of a deceased magistrate. The other members of the family profess to know nothing about the revived demand for restitution, but on learning the particulars remarked that though according to British law the recovery of both capital and interest was now barred, yet debts of this kind in the case of royal families remain debts of honor uncanceled by the lapse of ages.

The sum of 1,000,000,000f. ($200,000,000) does not represent the real total advanced by the merchant brothers, Simon and Bindo Peruzzi, but includes interest calculated in respect of the 600 odd years that have passed since the first loan, amounting to 60,000,000 lire ($12,000,000), was advanced to Edward I in 1200. One of the original bills of exchange is preserved in the British Museum.

The researches of the Corriere della Sera have verified the ipsissimi verba of the boast made in the last century by the Italian patriot, Ubaldino Peruzzi, then mayor of Florence, at a banquet he gave in honor of the then lord mayor of London during the latter's sojourn in Florence. "The ancient Florentine merchants, Peruzzi and Baldi, lent such a sum to English sovereigns," exclaimed Signor Ubaldino Peruzzi, "as to-day, perhaps, not crown treasures themselves would suffice to pay."

The lord mayor, struck by the allusion, later signified to Signori Peruzzi and Baldi that a concession could be granted them to ornament their family crest with the English royal arms. Signor Baldi accepted the offer, as visitors to Florence may see by noting the family tree in the private chapel belonging to the Baldis in the Basilica of Santa Croce. The Peruzzis, however, declined the quasi-bribe, though the prestige of their house had sadly waned meanwhile, owing to faithless debtors.

RELIC OF MEDIAEVAL LONDON.

Crosby Hall Is in Danger of Being Pulled Down.

Crosby Hall, one of the most interesting of mediaeval London, is now in danger of being pulled down so that the site can be used for bank and office buildings. Strong efforts are being made to arouse public sentiment to rescue it from the house wreckers, but the freehold, consisting of 6,300 square feet, which in 1523 was purchased for $1,035, must be of enormous value to-day, situated as it is in the very heart of the city of London.

Crosby Hall, which is in a fine state of preservation, with the original roof, is now an eating house. It was originally built for Sir John Crosby. The Duke of Gloucester purchased it from Sir John's widow. In the council chamber of the hall the crown was offered to Richard Crookback, the Duke of Gloucester, in 1483.

After Richard became King the hall became the residence of the Lord Mayor of London. Catharine of Aragon entertained there on the occasion of her marriage with Prince Arthur in 1516. In 1523 the hall belonged to Sir Thomas More. Sir John Spencer owned it during Elizabeth's days and frequently entertained the Queen there. Sir Thomas Gresham and the Earl of Northampton were the next owners.

Escaping the great fire in London it became a temporary prison for malignants. In 1672 it was a Presbyterian chapel, and in 1678 a salesroom for "a quantity of tapestry, a good chariot and a black girl of about 15." In 1830 it was a warehouse of the East India Company. In 1836 it was repaired and restored by public subscriptions and a literary and scientific institute was installed. It has been for the last generation an eating house.

In no other country, says one newspaper, could such a building be allowed to fall into the hands of house wreckers.

OPPOSE DISARMAMENT

Few Englishmen Agree With It—Some Favor Larger Armies.

The London correspondent of The Wiener Tageblatt received 177 answers from leading British politicians, generals and writers to a circular asking for their opinions about raising the disarmament question at The Hague Conference.

Only eleven believe disarmament is practicable, sixteen are violently against it and the rest are more or less skeptical, including Mr. Balfour, Lord Lansdowne, Lord Rosebery, the Duke of Devonshire, Austen Chamberlain and Sir A. Conan Doyle.

The Duke of Sutherland prefers arbitration. Bernard Shaw declares that disarmament is pure nonsense and that with the assistance of a progressive income tax Britain could treble her armaments. Why, therefore, disarm?

Mr. Shaw is against war because he is afraid, and believes that war will only come to an end when every one has the courage to confess himself a coward.

Sir Thomas Lipton wishes Great Britain to increase her armaments instead of decreasing them.

Among those who are favorable to Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's proposal are Sydney Buxton, Lord Ripon and Lord Avebury, who point out that Europe has four times the inhabitants of the United States, but forty times more soldiers. Consequently, Europe is economically handicapped.

Lemon Glace Icing.

For a plain lemon icing take the strained juice of a lemon, two tablespoonsfuls of water and stir in sugar enough to spread nicely. Spread smoothly over the cake and let stand in a cool place about two hours.

WITH DIAMOND SEEKERS

HOW THESE STONES ARE TAKEN FROM KIMBERLEY MINES.

Origin of Famous Rand—Boers Escaping From British Rule — New Yields Enormous Wealth Every Year—A Geological Pudding—Little Leakage by Theft—Negro Swallows $2,700 Worth of Gems.

The story of the Kimberley diamond mines began two generations ago, when two bands of Boer immigrants fled out of Cape Colony to escape British rule.

One of them, says a writer in The World To-day, settled on a patch of gold forty miles in extent which has since become the famous Rand and yields a hundred million dollars every year in the precious metal.

On the other hand, Burgher Jacobs off-saddled on a hundred acres of diamonds, and his little claim to-day contains an absolute monopoly in these gems.

His children used to play in the sand with bright pebbles for marbles. Neighbor Schalk Van Neikirk saw one of the stones, took it from the little ones with the remark that it might be valuable, and the following year it was on show at the Universal Exposition of Paris as a magnificent diamond of twenty-one carats.

Two years later old Van Neikirk himself picked out of the mud plaster of neighbor Du Toit's hut the famous Star of Africa, which sold for $56,000. That was the beginning of the diamond mines which to-day employ 15,000 Kaffirs and 4,000 Europeans.

The pits run in tubes or funnels many acres in extent, evidently forced up ages ago by volcanic action. At first a yellow ground was found, and men left the blue below this severely alone. But the era of open workings soon came to an end, although thousands of independent diggers made huge fortunes in a few months.

To-day you will find depths of 3,000 feet in the diamond mines, and the bottom of the blue funnel has not yet been reached. Both blue and yellow earths, studded with diamonds like a geological pudding, are supposed to be volcanic mud.

Holes for blasting are drilled, and after the blasts are touched off the crushed blue ground is conveyed to the mine shaft, 1,500 feet from the tunnels. Here the ore is dumped into buckets on wheels and drawn out of the mines by powerful engines. You will see thousands of men, mostly negroes, earning $1.25 a day, perched upon the blue ground rock in the tunnels, patiently drilling with hammer and chisel.

Marked Off In Squares.

Great stretches of ground known as the floors are marked off like tennis courts to receive the precious ore; for air, rain and sun do the work of disintegration as no costly machinery could do it. One mine alone has five miles of dumping floors. Upon their smooth surface is spread the blue clay to the depth of a foot, and after several months it crumbles and releases the indestructible crystals within, such as diamonds, garnets, olivines and other stones of lesser value usually found associated with the most precious of all gems.

The disintegration process is helped by harrowing with steam plows; and all such ground as remains obdurate goes into the crushing machine. The washing gear is a marvel of ingenuity; and as the dirt and gravel pass down its plane the diamonds are arrested by a tallowy coating. This fat is then scraped off and melted in a caldron, in whose bottom the diamonds are found like precious grounds in a gigantic coffee cup.

They are taken from here to the general offices of the monopoly and sorted according to value and size. Stones worth $200,000 have been washed in a single day.

But even the waste earth is not yet done with. This is specially treated lest tallow and machinery alike should have overlooked anything of value. That the precaution is worth while is seen from the fact that diamonds worth $1,400,000 were recovered from these tailings last year.

A London syndicate contracts to take the entire output of the mines; and all cutting is done in the Continent of Europe, chiefly in Amsterdam and Antwerp. The stones vary enormously in quality and fetch in the rough from $1.50 to $200 a carat.

There is very little leakage, considering the stupendous scale on which the diamond mining is done. One year, however, a negro sorter was found to have swallowed $3,700 of stones, but a colleague broke this record by swallowing 348 carats of diamonds, worth $5,300.

The Kaffirs are constantly devising new modes of smuggling. They will load their pipe bowl with small diamonds under a layer of tobacco and vigorously puff smoke to divert suspicion.

Leaves of books have been so cut that no one would think diamonds were concealed between them. Other smugglers have gone so far as to inflict serious cut upon themselves and stuff valuable stones into these wounds.

A correspondent to Canada says: "There are complaints from quite a number of the leading Scottish football clubs that their teams are being disorganized by the departure for Canada of many of their best players. This is a very curious grievance, but it was exactly what might have been expected. The professional football player is usually a young man of enterprise and energy, as well as of splendid physique—just the type of man to succeed in a new country. A humorist suggests an export tax on goalkeepers, backs, and forwards. As a joke this is passable, as a remedy it is impossible. Canada, as usual, gains by the transaction. Already Scotland is depleted of many of her best players by the high salaries paid by English clubs. If Canada, too, begins to take our good players as they grow up, we may as well give up the attempt to hold our own in what is undoubtedly our national game. Even now we cannot compete with England without drawing on Scottish players who are employed by English clubs. Will the time come when we shall have to send over to Canada for men to help us to beat England in the International?"

THE PERILOUS AGE.

Dangers of Drink At Life's Threshold Shown In Prison Reports.

Many interesting details as to the causes of crime and the treatment of criminals are given in the annual report for 1906 of the Prison Commissioners for Scotland just issued. The report states that the number of receptions into ordinary prisons in Scotland in 1906 was 60,115. Of these, 42,121 were males, and this number has been exceeded only twice, namely, in 1901 and 1902. The females numbered 17,994, which shows a rise on the previous year, but a reduction on the preceding five years' average. The curious paradox is put forward that material prosperity tends to foster crime. The year was a good one as regards employment in the coarser kind of labor, and the Commissioners' experience has been that such circumstances tend to produce an increase of crimes connected with drink. The short histories of prisoners which they have compiled tend to confirm this. They record some of the main features of the lives of 60 males received at one of the prisons, and show that, except in two cases, the breakdown has been closely associated with drinking to excess. The time when be first goes to work and earns wages seems to be a dangerous epoch, say the Commissioners, in the life of a lad who is not well looked after by his natural guardians; and there is room for further development of the benevolent societies which in such circumstances take the boy in hand when he leaves school, see him apprenticed to a trade, and continue to look after his home surroundings for some years, until he is fairly started in life. The evil of excessive drinking provides not only tens of thousands of prisoners for offences which may be grouped under the head of disorder, but the Commissioners find drink closely allied with serious crime. From a recent investigation of fifty cases of a serious nature it has been ascertained that half of the crimes were perpetrated under the partial influence of drink, and 26 per cent. of them were committed on Saturdays, when there should have been more money in the pockets of the working classes than on another day. The most deplorable fact, however, in connection with prison statistics is the large number of persons who are every year reported as having appeared in prison for the first time. They number generally about 13,000, and it is this steady supply of new prisoners which maintains the high population of the prisons. Until this stream of new prisoners is checked there is small prospect of any material improvement in the criminal records.

NAVAL DESERTIONS.

Admiralty Anxious About Increasing Numbers of Runaways.

For some time past rumors of a large number of desertions from the ships composing the First Cruiser Squadron that has lately been visiting American waters have been in circulation, and these are now confirmed by the official announcement issued from the Admiralty to the effect that no less than 90 men deserted their ships during this cruise. The admiral commanding the squadron has now been called upon to prepare an exhaustive report upon the circumstances leading up to these desertions so far as they can be discovered, and this will at once be most carefully considered by the Board of Admiralty. For the past two or three years the number of naval desertions has been on the increase, and considerable anxiety is now being shown by the authorities over this matter. These desertions are by no means confined to one class, but engineer ratings, seamen, and stokers are alike concerned. It is believed that a committee of naval experts will shortly be assembled at the Admiralty, under the presidency of one of the Sea Lords, to discuss the whole question, and to devise means for preventing desertion in the future. The opinions of the admirals commanding the different fleets in commission will be invited for the guidance of this committee, while several officers on the retired list will be asked to give the committee their views. In the meantime, it is understaad that questions are to be asked in both Houses of Parliament on the subject.

Edward to Visit Czar.

It is said on very good authority that King Edward purposes paying a visit, which must needs be full of diplomatic interest, to the Emperor of Russia. The meeting will, if the present plans are adhered to, take place in the Baltic under much the same circumstances as that of the Kaiser and Nicholas II. some eighteen months ago.

The Russian Emperor is particularly grateful to King Edward for the manner in which the latter has carried out his promise to stand by Russia in the time of her trouble, and that therefore the coming meeting is liable to bear fruitful results born of reawakened confidence and proved friendship.

M. Isvolsky, the Russian Minister of State, has received instructions to do everything possible to bring about better relations between Russia and England, and his first active move in that direction was intentionally made public in the long-standing Persian question when directions were given to all Russian Consuls to alter their traditional tone of enmity to England and reverse the same by doing everything to conciliate their British colleagues.

Such Is Fame.

A London newspaper man who has been staying at Stratford-on-Avon says he asked his landlady one day: "Who is that Shakespeare of whom one hears so much down here? Was he a very great man?" To which she replied: "Lor', sir, 'e worn't thought nothing on a few years ago. It's the Americans as 'as made 'im what 'e is."—Kansas City Star.

Tricked the Police.

A curious story comes from Belfast of an inter-county cock-fight between Londonderry and Antrim, which took place one morning recently on a small island in Lough Neagh. About two hundred men gathered on the shore of the lough near the mouth of the Moyola River, and having commandeered all the available small boats, rowed out to the island. The birds were soon brought face to face, and a number of battles were fought. Meanwhile half a dozen policemen arrived at the place where the men had embarked, but all the boats, having been taken away they were compelled to watch helplessly the violation of the law on the island. The jeers of the crowd on the mainland finally impelled them to action. Pulling off their tunics they waded into the water until it was breast high, and then they swam until they reached the island. Finding the police were on their track, the cock-fighters quickly sped, jumped into their boats, and returned to the mainland. The policemen had to make the return journey in the same way as they had gone out, and did not reach the land until all the cockfighters had dispersed.

Caught Marked Fish.

Stranraer fishermen, while at work off Corsewall, caught a flounder which had fixed to it by a small silver wire a brass plate marked L769. The fish was forwarded to the Fishery Laboratory, Liverpool, and it transpires that it was set free at Fleetwood on 19th February, 1906. Since then it had grown two inches. As a result of the experiment in Luce Bay, it was shown that many of the fishes liberated there found their way into the Irish Channel.

Second Wives.

You cannot be too careful in your choice of a second wife. If you make a mistake in choosing your second wife, it is obvious that you did not deserve to lose your first. Marriage is a habit that grows on one. The reason that so many marriages turn out unhappily for the parties concerned lies in the unfortunate but by no means unnatural desire that men have for marrying their second wives in the first instance. If a man could marry his second wife first, there would be fewer bachelors.—Frank Richardson in Pall Mall Gazette.

Put the Blood In Condition

BY THE RESTORATIVE BLOOD-FORMING PROPERTIES OF

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

It is weakness that causes most of our sufferings — weakness of the heart, weakness of the stomach, weakness of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

The result is feeling of langour and depression, and impaired action of the vital organs, headaches, indigestion, spells of dizziness and weakness, sleeplessness, irritability, and a general rundown condition of the system.

Put the blood in good condition by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and you have a foundation for health to build on. Weakness and disease will give way to new strength and vigor, and angour and discouragement will yield to ne hope and happiness.

Mr. Fergus Conn, Lily Oak, Ont., writes;—"As a result of the severe winter and an attack of la grippe, I was all run down this spring. I soon improved very much by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. My appetite is better than it has been for years, and though sixty years of age I am able to do a man's work on the farm following a team. I believe that I owe my good health to the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

Mrs. Geo. Battie, Carr's Brook, Colchester Co., N.S., writes: — "Last spring I was very much run down, felt tired all the time and did not seem to have life or energy enough to do my work. Three boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food did me a world of good and made work a pleasure to me. I have not had occasion to use any medicine since, and have recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to all my friends.

"We always keep Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house to be used for constipation, pains in the back and stomach troubles."

By means of good blood only can Nature make weak people strong, and Chase's Nerve Food is composed of the most powerful blood-forming elements known to medical science. Every dose is bound to be of some benefit to you; 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

SPLENDID PROGRAMME HAS BEEN ARRANGED FOR SUMMER SCHOOL AT CHEMONG PARK

It Will be Attended by a Great Many Young Persons From Epworth Leagues in the Bay of Quinte Conference.

TO SPEND WEEK AT PARK

Addresses of Interest to Young Church Members Will be Given by Prominent Methodist Preachers and Laymen.

Programmes for the Summer School, which will be held at Chemong Park this year, under the auspices of the Epworth League organizations of the Bay of Quinte Conference, are out, and, judging by them those who attend are assured a profitable and interesting week.

Last year two schools were held in this conference, one at Bobcaygeon and the other at Twelve O'clock Point, on Lake Ontario. Both were in a measure successful, but it was thought that better results could b reached by combining the two efforts into one school, which was decided on, and Chemong was selected as the most desirable location for the school.

Those in charge are confident that results will prove that no mistake was made in deciding to hold the school at Chemong, a large number of young people already having signified their intention of attending. A good list of speakers has been secured and the meetings are so arranged that ample time is provided between them to enable the young people to enjoy the bathing and other pleasures obtainable at the park.

Market Clerk McIlmoyle Explains A Few Matters

Points Out That in His Estimation, He Has Been Given a Raw Deal by City Council—Light Weight Butter Question Again in the Limelight

SOME QUESTIONS ARE ASKED

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,—As clerk of the public market of Peterborough, I wish to correct a few wrong impressions, by means of your valuable paper, which have gotten abroad concerning the recent light-weight butter episode which occurred here two weeks ago, and also to give the public a few facts about how I have been treated by city officials since I paid for the permission to collect the tolls. In this letter, therefore, I shall endeavour to clearly show the public how I paid for privileges that have been denied me; how that the city market, to my mind, has been practically ruined, and, lastly, the glaring inconsistency of our civic authorities.

Last spring, when I purchased the market tolls, I purchased all privileges the past clerks enjoyed, and of these I was well aware before I bid at the auction sale. I have made particular inquiries and found that the City Council placed no license fee on the show given by a medicine man on the market last year, neither was there any placed upon the Hermies at Christmas. Yet when I was about to derive a revenue from the operation of the "Ocean Wave" a few weeks ago, the City Council demanded a license fee which prohibited him to locate on the market. Is that fair? Is it right that I should be "marked" by the city authorities in such a manner? Why should not I be given the same privileges as past market clerks? Before I purchased the tolls I was not informed that such licenses would be charged and had no idea of an existing bylaw, which, the mayor now states—after the deal has been closed and after the city has gotten $1,660 from me, which, by the way, is $30 more than last year—must be enforced. Does the mayor imagine that I am being treated fairly? If he does I consider that he has a very poor idea of what a British square deal means.

Everyone knows that the "Ocean Wave" located elsewhere, which only bears out what I have stated, and I am the poorer, through the mayor's "sense of justice," by over $100.

To further demonstrate the inconsistency of the actions of the City Council, I may state that there is an unlicensed set of weigh scales in East City which can afford to weigh cheaper than I can on the public market. Farmers are getting their produce weighed there because it costs less, and I, who am guaranteeing the city $1,660 a year, have to suffer? Does that appear to be just?

In reference to the butter episode, I first would like to state, particularly for the benefit of the farmers, that I was not responsible for the police raid in search of light weight butter. Since the occurrence I have been personally blamed for it by parties who believed me to be the instigator of the raid. I have even had difficulty in convincing some that I was not to blame. Many have told me to my face that they will never come to the city market again on account of the manner in which the police raided it two weeks ago.

Had the police used the forethought that one would expect them to possess, they should have seen that their actions would spoil the citizens' market. I have been told that they slammed things around and talked gruffly to the sellers. In my opinion, I don't believe that one of those who were fined wilfully intended to have light weight butter. They use prints stamped with the Government stamp. I am told that butter expands in hot weather. If that is the case it would take less to fill the print. If the farmers' wives did not wilfully break the law, should they be fined? I have often read of similar cases in Peterborough in which there was no fine.

Are policemen competent men to weigh butter? When did the Chief of Police ever learn the art? I am also informed that the scales on which the butter was weighed have not been inspected for two years.

The above is some of the history, Mr. Editor, of the treatment accorded me since I have had charge of the market. I leave the public to decide whether I am justified in these complaints or not. I may add that my prospects for making any money this year with the market are hopeless. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the above space, I remain,

Yours, etc.,

WM. McILMOYLE,
Market Clerk.

Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." # THE MENAGERIE A FEATURE

A Wealth of Fun and Humour in Forepaugh-Sells Circus—Wild Animal Show and Entertaining, Too

THE MONKEY'S ANTICS

The menagerie department of the Forepaugh-Sells Circus, which comes here Tuesday next enjoys, in addition to its entertaining features, a wealth of fun and humor. The monkey cage holds a fascination for many. There is a Siamese monkey in a cage with several others, who, for some reason, will have nothing to do with him. This ostracism exasperated the Siamese and whenever he got a chance he would grab one of the others by the tail, drag him all over the high perches and drop his victim with a dull thud.

Mr. Patterson, who has charge of the Zoological department, is the owner of a fine watch dog which is on friendly terms with many of the animals. Mr. Patterson has another pet, a large "spider" monkey so tame that he is allowed the freedom of the menagerie, except at exhibition hours. "Zulu," the monkey, takes a delight in teasing the dog. As soon as the dog settles himself for a doze the monkey will steal up and, give the canine's tail a vicious tug. Of course, the dog will go for her, but she will simply wait until he gets close enough then leap over his head and from behind give his tail another pull.

There is another monkey, of the baboon species, that at times will take hold of the dish in which her food is served and put it on her head, as if it were a hat. Thus adorned, she provokes roars of laughter, to her evident gratification, from the crowd around her cage. There is another baboon in Mr. Patterson's collection which "got good and even" with one of the caretakers who had a penchant for teasing the baboon. Seeing the caretaker approaching, the baboon poured some water into a hole in the ground, mixing it with earth so as to make mud. When his enemy came up he splashed the muddy water on the caretaker's uniform. For a long time after this every time the animal saw the caretaker he indulged in what had every appearance of being laughter.

The elephants have a decided sense of humour, or signs of one anyway, and many are the amusing capers they indulge in between exhibition hours. There are twenty-four of these mammoth pachyderms with the Forepaugh-Sells collection, two of which are said to be the rarest and most costly in the world, the only two of their species known to be in captivity. They have huge, umbrella-shaped ears which cover nearly the half of their bodies. One of them is deeply attached to "Boston," the baby elephant of the group, and is never quiet when "Boston" is out of her sight.

The Zoological department of the combined Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers menagerie is, it is said, the largest collection of rare wild animals in the world.

WARDEN M'NULTY'S ADDRESS

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, the regular June session of the County Council was resumed, after the adjournment from the opening of the session in the afternoon.

The only matter of business was the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, which were adopted, and the address of Warden McNulty, which was as follows:

To the members of the County Council of Peterborough, in council assembled:—

Gentlemen, — Permit me to avail myself of the opportunity to address you on the important matters which will probably occupy your attention during this session, the same being a precedent established many years ago.

Before doing so, I beg to ask your endorsation of a few remarks with regard to the general prosperity of the county. This being an agricultural county, and the ratepayers of the county being agriculturists, as a majority of them, will, I am sure, join with me in recognising the hand of a kind Providence in bestowing upon us for the past decade, a bountiful harvest, and even though the present spring is somewhat late, we may look forward to a remunerative harvest in 1907.

I am pleased to know that the advanced system of farming now employed will ensure fair results under somewhat unfavourable circumstances.

The council of 1906, commenced the important duty of building and equipping a county House of Refuge, and inasfar as they carried the work into effect, did so economically and judiciously. Although having done all that was possible in 1906 there still remains plenty to do, not only to complete the establishing of the same, but your board of managers have had their hands full of not only completion, but a new duty to county councillors devolved upon them, viz., the maintenance and management of the said building, now being in active operation. I wish to say to my colleagues that the superintendent and matron are doing all that can be expected of them, and due to lack of help, the matron has sometimes too much to do.

As you are aware debentures were issued for the purpose in 1906, for $30,000, realising $29,214. Of that sum there was expended in 1906 $23,812.36, and contracted for about $8,600 more, being almost $33,000. There was in all available for completion and equipment, $33,214, counting the Government grant, not yet received, of $4,000. Consequently it became necessary to issue $2,000 worth of debentures in 1907, which was done, realizing $1960, making in all available for capital account, $35,184. Your board of management have still at their disposal an amount adequate to complete grounds, fences, etc.

The matter of admitting inmates from other municipalities, will come before you during the session.

The matter relating to bridges will be dealt with. According to reports from the chairman of the Roads and Bridges Committee, and the several commissioners, and, having visited some of them, I will be able to confer with you when the time comes, during the session, or committee meeting.

I am pleased to be able to say that the Government has agreed to accept our terms with regard to a new bridge at Buckhorn, thereby justifying our venture in going in a body to the Minister of Railways and Canals last winter. The matter of completing arrangements with the Government will also be submitted to you during the session, and, if satisfactorily arranged, means a saving to the county of upwards of $7000.

There will have to be provided for this year by way of debenture liquidation $3,387.70, more than formerly, due to debenture issue in 1906 for the House of Refuge, and new bridges, and also an amount necessary for the maintenance of the House of Refuge.

It will be necessary to strike three rates, viz., General county rate, House of Refuge rate, and equivalent to the Government grant for school purposes.

In conclusion again permit me to thank you for the honour conferred upon me in electing me warden; also for the cheerful assistance rendered by each and all of you.

Respectfully yours,

P. McNULTY,

Peterborough, June 18, 1907.

FOR THE WORLD'S PEACE

DELEGATES TO THE CONFERENCE GATHERING AT THE HAGUE.

Deliberations Will Extend Over Two Months—Question of Disarmament to Be Discussed — Sittings Will Take Place in Hall of the Knights —Some Important Decisions—Arbitration Versus Bloodshed.

The coming peace conference at The Hague will convene on June 15, and there is every prospect that its deliberations will extend over a period at least two months in duration. If the subject of national disarmament should come up for general discussion —as it seems likely to do at the present writing—the sojourn of the peace representatives at the picturesque Dutch capital will be extended considerably.

Nations In Last Conference.

The conference of 1899, held in the House In the Wood, provided for the congress by Queen Wilhelmina, was representative of 26 powers and had for members the United States, Germany, Austria, Belgium, China, Denmark, Spain, Mexico, France, Great Britain, Greece, Italy, Japan, Luxembourg, Montenegro, the Netherlands, Persia, Portugal, Roumania, Russia, Servia, Siam, Sweden and Norway, Switzerland, Turkey and Bulgaria. All of these powers bound themselves to observe certain rules. All the Governments which signed the agreement —not all of them were in a condition so to commit themselves — promised to respect the decrees of a permanent peace court made up of four members for each power in the compact. From this permanent court there is appointed, as occasion demands one or more arbitrators to sit as a deciding power. These arbitrators are to serve six years, and there is no salary attached. It is expected, however, that the countries that are parties to a quarrel which is being arbitrated will repay liberally all time and effort directed toward the settlement of a dispute which, unsettled, might involve a costly and bloody war.

At least three important cases have been referred to the new international tribunal since its organization. One of these was the dispute between the United States and Mexico over the interest money which, according to Uncle Sam's contention, the Mexican republic owed to the Roman Catholic church in California. This case went to The Hague and was argued at great length, with the result that every material claim of the United States was substantiated and allowed.

Then came the Venezuela preferential treatment case, a matter in which several nations were interested. Great Britain, Italy and Germany tried to collect money due them from the South American republic by a show of force. Other powers having claims concluded that their rights were in danger of being violated by this preemptory demand and protested against any priority in settlement. The matter was referred to The Hague, and in the hearing the three nations that had precipitated the dispute were ranged against the United States, France, Spain, Mexico, Belgium, the Netherlands and Norway and Sweden. Finally it was agreed to permit the Czar of Russia to select the arbitrators, and two Russians and one Austrian were chosen to settle the matter.

The conference of this year will not be held in the House In the Wood. It has been arranged to hold the sittings of the international body in the ancient and historical Riddersaal, or Hall of the Knights, which has been restored only recently. The next conference will occupy the splendid home of its own which Andrew Carnegie has made possible.

A Neighborhood Fleck.

The time would not seem to be far away, in fact in some localities it is already here, when it would pay a half dozen or more near neighbors to consolidate their flocks of sheep during the summer season, put the same in the charge of one of the grandfathers of the community and a trusty shepherd dog and have them pasture the nearby roadsides, where a wealth of valuable fodder annually goes to waste for lack of handling at the proper time or as a result of entire neglect. Such a plan carried out would not only be the means of utilizing what had before been wasted, but would improve the appearance of the highways immensely. When the grain was cut and stacked, the flock of sheep with their guardian could be turned on to the different stubble fields, where they could find abundant rations of succulent weeds which are quite often left to mature a crop of seed.

THE IRISH CODE.

Dueling As It Flourished Years Ago In the Green Isle.

In the Green Isle dueling flourished years ago as much as it did in France. When a Trinity college student asked the provost what books he had better bring to college the latter said: "Never mind the books. Bring a case of pistols." The students were in the habit of settling those little affairs either just before or just after morning prayers. All the distinguished Irishmen of the eighteenth century were duelists. Curran, Grattan, Sheridan, Barrington, Fitzgibbon, Flood, O'Connell, were often "out," and later the O'Gorman Mahon had twenty-two affairs to his credit. The bar led the list.

Lord chancellors and masters of the rolls fought like cocknets of horse. Lord Norbury fought "Fighting" Fitzgerald and two others, besides "frightening" Naper Tandy, as the Irish historians tell us. Galway was great with the pistol, Tipperary with the sword. Two English "fines lames," Major Park and Captain Creed, went to Ireland to find foemen worthy of their steel and found them in Mr. Matthew and Mr. Macnamara, who fought with them in a private room at an inn, wounded them nearly unto death, nursed them back into health and were rewarded with their friendship. Colonel Barrington and Mr. Gilbert, two middle aged married men, had a desperate duel in 1759 because they did not wish to leave an unsettled quarrel as a legacy for their children. They fought on horseback with sword, pistol and "skeen," or Irish bowie knife. First the pistols were fired, Barrington receiving some of the charge in his face, but he rushed on Gilbert, killed his horse with his broadsword, dismounted and, putting his "skeen" to the other's throat, called upon him to "ask for his life on pain of death." Gilbert agreed to shake hands and be friends, but without condition or apology. Barrington consented.

"Fighting" Fitzgerald, a well known character, a cousin of the Earl of Desmond, an Eton boy, an Oxford graduate and an officer in the Sixty-ninth foot, fought eighteen duels and was thought by many to be mad. He hired a gang of ruffians, waylaid and killed a gentleman on the king's highway and was hanged at Castlebar. Among others he encountered Martin of Galway, the Rev. Richard Bate and Captain Harvey Ashton, afterward killed at Madras in a duel with Colonel Allen. The Ashton duel and another fought by Clive with a Calcutta civilian indirectly helped British arms to many victories. The first made way for a Colonel Wellesley, afterward better known under another name, to an important command before Seringapatam. The second had, by displaying the desperate courage of Clive, secured him a military appointment in a time of emergency.—Cornhill Magazine.

STORY OF A STOWAWAY.

Boy Found Half Frozen In Fish Room of Trawler.

A remarkable story of a stowaway's experience was told by the skipper of the steam trawler King Edward, which arrived in Aberdeen from a voyage to Iceland recently. The King Edward left Aberdeen about three weeks ago, and on her run north called at Longhope. On the trawler continuing her journey, one of the men on deck was considerably alarmed by strange noises coming from the fish-room. He reported the fact, and when the vessel was about 54 miles off Longhope the mate decided to go into the hold with a view of finding out the cause of the noises, and on doing so he made a startling discovery. Crouched in the corner of the fish-room, and almost frozen, was a boy about 10 years of age. The boy was immediately removed to the deck, and taken below to the cabin. On recovering sufficiently to be able to give an account of how he managed to get into the fishroom the boy stated that he had long wished to go to sea, and seeing the trawler lying in Longhope harbor, he thought he had a favorable opportunity of gratifying his wish. When the boy had fully recovered the skipper of the King Edward (Robert Chetteborough) asked him if he wished to go to Iceland on the trawler, and on the boy intimating that he did, he was allowed to remain on board. On the vessel's return journey she called at Longhope, where the boy was landed, much to the delight of his parents, who had given up all hope of ever seeing him again.

KEEP IT TO YOURSELF.

An Old Proverb Verified Many Times and Oft.

"Never trouble trouble till trouble troubles you" is a very neat and very true proverb. How many of us almost court unhappiness by meeting it halfway—nay, more, a large number of us positively welcome it because it gives us a grievance and we like to feel like martyrs. There is a sort of feeling of glorious heroism in suffering "untold mental anguish" that tugs at the heartstrings and makes all the world look black, especially when we take a friend into our confidence and be or she condoles with us.

But we must all learn to keep our troubles to ourselves and not tell them to all and sundry. True heroism lies in patiently bearing our worries and anxieties in solitude. Bury your sorrow in the depths of your own heart.

Things thus securely covered are often cured without a scar, but when they are once published and confided to meddling friends there is no end to the trouble they may cause.

If your feelings are injured, don't brood over your poor wounded self. Rather pray for that poor misguided sister who slighted you. Perhaps she may have done so quite unwittingly. Perhaps some of us have husbands, brothers and sisters who are very unkind, who wound us cruelly by bitter words, angry retorts and much selfishness.

If this sad state of things exists, we must keep it to ourselves even if it is only for the sake of those who offend us, for by taking any one into our confidence we must necessarily divulge to our friends the shortcomings of our fellows. To do this is adverse to all laws of Christianity. We must be charitable; we must patiently bear with those who cause us stabs of pain; we must ask that their hearts be softened and that they may be brought to see with a true, clear mind the misery they bring to others by their unruly tongues. Rest assured that those who utter bitter words and unkind criticisms have moments of regret and remorse and pangs of conscience. Were the truth known, they actually suffer far more than the recipients of their hasty and ill judged attacks.

After all, troubles are transient things, and when they are all passed and sorrow is outside the door what a comfort it is to say:

"No one ever knew until it was over with us."

READY-MADE CITY.

Built of Galvanized Iron In British East Africa.

One of the oddest of towns has just risen to political distinction. Nairobi, a European settlement on the high plateau of east tropical Africa, has been made capital of the British East Africa Protectorate, says The New York Sun.

Mombasa, on the Indian Ocean, is still the most important town commercially in the Protectorate, for its development on European lines is advanced and it is the leading seaport along the coast north of Zanzibar. The great advantage of Nairobi as the seat of government is that it has a central position in the Protectorate, being 328 miles from Mombasa, and 256 from Port Florence on Victoria Nyanza, and it is on the edge of the lofty region where British farmers are now settling and developing new homes.

The nicknames of "Tin City" and "Zinc City" are applied to Nairobi by the white men who have visited it.

There is not a wooden building in the place.

Every building was constructed of galvanized iron, which was brought from Europe in sheets ready to be fastened together to form the walls, roofs and partitions of houses. The town came into existence by the flat of Sir George Whitehouse, the chief engineer of the Uganda railroad.

Grumbling Britons who think he might have chosen a more picturesque site for the town agree that Sir George is a good engineer, but say he has no artistic sense. His white tents were scattered over the plain where the town now stands when one morning Sir George announced:

"On this spot we are going to have a large settlement. Here will be the entrepot of the Uganda Railroad. Here will be the machine shops and here will live hundreds of our countrymen and thousands of Indian and native workmen."

Everybody was surprised. People asked the chief why he had selected this place on the vast Masia plateau, where there was not an inhabitant or a tree. Why did he not choose for the site of his town one of the wooded ridges within sight of the plateau? He would have plenty of elbow room on the flat plan, but it offered no other advantages.

"Well," said Sir George, "I have been thinking of this matter for a long time and the town will be built on the plain.

"There is not room for it on the surrounding ridges. Its situation is first-rate for our purposes. It is high and beautiful, and the railroad officials with their families can live in this region in good health, while they would probably die at Mombasa or Port Florence.

"This spot is right on the edge of the territories occupied by the Masai and the Kikuyu, and here better than in any other place we can manage these two turbulent tribes. The land rises rapidly to the north, and there is the fertile region to which we are going to invite British farmers.

"Nairobi Creek runs across the site and supplies the best of waters. The name of the settlement will be Nairobi. The homes of the officials will be built on these surrounding ridges, but all other employes of the railroad, with all the shops and other interests of the place, will be in the town."

So the place has developed at a great rate. In December last its population consisted of 4,852 persons, of whom 162 were Europeans.

Tree Treasure.

Piratic hoards of Spanish doubloons are not the only buried wealth one may seek with spade and pick, says The London Chronicle. A wonderful relic of the past has just been brought to light in Peterborough, Eng., in the discovery of a buried forest.

At a depth of seven feet have been found a number of oak trees which have been covered for some 2,000 years. Most of the trees are almost perfect in condition, and are being sold to furniture manufacturers and others.

Altogether about 80 trees have been raised and hundreds more are left in the ground untouched at a depth of five or six feet. To nearly all the trees the roots are found attached. The wood is extremely hard and can be worked only by machinery, as it turns the edge of an axe.

Man and the Bat.

Man, alone of all the animals, habitually stands erect, with his head toward the zenith. The exact antithesis of man in this respect is the bat, which when at rest habitually remains suspended in a vertical direction, with the head toward the centre of the earth. Between these two extremes all the other mammals are ranged, apes and monkeys approaching nearest to man.—New York Herald

ELLEN TERRY TO WRITE

FAMOUS ACTRESS WILL PUBLISH HER REMINISCENCES.

Has Had Venturesome Career—Identified With Many Great Stage Products—Her Companionship With Henry Irving—Early Public Appearances — Friendship With Tennyson—A Fragrant Personality.

Although but recently made a blushing bride on her third matrimonial venture, Ellen Terry, the most fragrant personality on the stage of the past fifty years, is contemplating the writing of her reminiscences. It is something which comes to nearly all the greater lights. It is expected of them and they have memories enough to stock a large volume. Ellen Terry has had a venturesome career completely identified with the stage. She has appeared under the very best auspices throughout her brilliant life—under Charles Kean, Charles Reade, Tom Taylor, Henry Labouchere of the Queen's Theatre, the Bancrofts, John Hare and Charles Frohman.

ELLEN TERRY

Irving's Confidant.

But her memories of the Lyceum, where she worked so many years with that great kindred spirit, the benign Sir Henry Irving, will reach farther in public interest than that of any other period of her life. It may not be generally known, but it bears the authority of Bram Stoker that she was always consulted by Sir Henry about everything; the choice of plays, of scenery, of dresses, of actors, of stage groupings, of effects generally. Naturally as one player with another she was perhaps closer in his counsels as to the doings of things, especially in details, than anyone else. Her experiences of dressmaking and dressmakers alone would run into chapters; and as to rehearsals she could recall enough to make an education for the young. To the public there is a genuine wonder-world behind the footlights—a world which has its own laws, its own difficulties, its own technique, its own traditions and limitations, and if anyone can throw pleasant and truthful light upon its workings, Ellen Terry can.

Cradled On the Stage.

Ellen Terry's stage education began from her cradle. A child of players she first courted public approval from a basket of roses wherein was ensconced the tiny Ellen. At eight years of age she played her first speaking part as Mamillius in "The Winter's Tale," in which both her father and mother, we are told, gave her careful coaching, also no less a person that Ellen Tree well-known at that time. Indeed, this lady, who was Mrs. Charles Kean in private life, seems to have taken the utmost pains with her precocious little charge. When in after years, she toured with her elder sister, Kate, as "child" actors in little plays or scenes especially prepared for them, she still had the benefit of her parents' experience, both of them matured actors of the old school. When still in her young womanhood she played with Henry Irving, then himself just beginning to display to metropolitan audiences some of that marvellous genius and the supremacy of art which finally won for him a place in the National Pantheon—Westminster Abbey. Moreover, she had the knowledge and experience of Charles Reade and Tom Taylor, then both budding dramatists entirely at her beck and call.

Book Promises Interest.

An intimate of Ellen Terry's has this to say: "Ellen Terry has almost always, as was but a fitting recognition of her talents and position, been in the confidence of those who rule the stage; authors, stage managers, leading actors. For the most part of her stage life the ultimate intentions of all concerned in productions were confided to her, and, as her own judgment in art is of the very highest kind, with excellent effect to the venturers in the enterprise. And it is this which is likely to make the great excellence of her book. Not having been trained from her youth up in the study of philosophy, it is hardly to be expected that she will tabulate laws of art, but she will probably do better. She will give data from which riper scholars more versed in logical and philosophic use can compile philosophy. Her nature is so acute, and her grasp of the true inwardness of facts so sympathetic and comprehensive that all she tells will be illuminative. Even her anecdotes will have a utility as illustrating some phase of individual character, some lesson of acceptance or avoidance, the exposition of some eternal principle of art. A friend of Tennyson in middle life, and one of the brilliant group of which he was so distinguished a figure, she must have many reminiscences of transcendent interest. The great artists of all the great arts were her intimate friends. From them almost universally the charm of her enchanting personality, her radiant beauty, her quick wit, her genuine humor, her abounding and comprehensive sympathy, won innumerable confidences. Her opportunities for the discernment of character were manifold and often unique."

ARE CANADIANS SLOW?

Harsh Criticisms Offered By Former Resident In the Dominion.

When a Canadian has been ten or fifteen years in the United States and has "made good" he often talks to his fellow-Canadians like a self-made man addressing a class of boys in a night school. When a man comes back on a visit after having made his pile in the Republic, or when he comes back bulging with a desire to make it appear that he is now a man of wealth and consequence, or when you run across him in New York or Chicago in the midst of a bustle that seems to have to do with matters of the weightiest import, it is sometimes a tax on your patience to listen to his talk about Canada and the slowness of Canadians.

The trouble with most of these fellow-countrymen of ours who try to tell us things for our own good, is that they pile it on a little too thick. Also they nearly always forget some things.

An article written for the New York Independent by W. R. Givens, a Canadian resident in Gotham, is a case in point. The Dominion is away behind the times, according to this exiled son, and he proceeds to tell us what's the matter with us as a people. He says in brief:

Ours is an old man's land, where nobody is supposed to be fit to fill any important position until he has reached the age of sixty.

Our young men swarm across the boundary to seek the openings closed to them at home.

We are under the blight of old-fogeyish notions brought out from England; we have distinctions of class and caste; the military set lord it over the civilian class; a man cannot rise above his station in life.

A small ruling class keep us always facing towards England rather than looking for trade towards our natural market on this continent.

Our universities are under control of professors imported from Great Britain who care nothing about Canada.

Our newspapers are nearly all blind party organs afraid to speak out what they think.

These are some of the points made against us by W. R. Givens, formerly of Canada. That he is determined to make a strong indictment against us is shown by his statement that "but for the Americans who have crossed into the western provinces of late the population of Canada would now be less than it was ten or twenty-five years ago." This is so far from the truth that it does much to discredit Mr. Givens. In fact, taking his article as a whole, it is pretty safe to conclude that Mr. Givens is one of those who left Canada years ago, and knows nothing of the great changes that a few years have brought about. He is writing of a Dominion that is no more; he is writing of the Canada of the nineteenth century, not of the twentieth. He does not seem to be aware that our leading cities in the past fifteen years have equalled in rate of growth any cities on the continent; that our foreign trade shows a ratio of growth greater than that of the republic; that our trade per capita has become greater than that of the republic; that our trade per capital has become greater than that of the republic; that our railway mileage shows a greater percentage of growth; that in our so-called "natural market" we buy three dollars' worth of goods for every dollar's worth that market takes from us, which is not encouraging, and which, perhaps, influences us to some extent in seeking to sell our surplus in Europe.—Mack in Saturday Night.

FINE ORE SPECIMENS.

How Prospective Investors In Mining Shares Are Duped.

There is a story going the rounds of the mining exchange of a mode by which fine "specimens" are being produced for the benefit of prospective investors in mining shares. It is to be feared that despite the mineral richness of Canada there is hardly enough high grade ore to go round among the very large number of mining companies which hold charters. A good kind dentist, however, has, it is said, found a means to remedy this deficiency. Filling holes in people's teeth, it is said, gave him the idea. Why not fill quarts in the same way and produce specimens that would dazzle the eye of the unwary investor. Now, when a kerb broker who is not too scrupulous has a proposition to float he takes to the dentist a few chunks of quarts. The latter patiently toils at it with gold leaf and dental tools until he has produced as handsome a set of specimens as the eye could desire, and they are sent to adorn the broker's office desk. All of which goes to show that it would be wise for the man who wants to get rich out of mining stocks to find out whether the property has passed Government inspection.

ENGLAND

Consternation prevailed among residents and occupiers of offices in Lincoln's Inn, London, one day recently. Gentlemen who had lunched well came back to their chambers, and were convinced that they were very ill, the cucumber having disagreed with them. For a Roman gladiator with his short sword, a retiarius with his net, a knight in full crusading armour the, three musketeers and D'Artagan, were on the greensward of the gardens, and swords flashed in the sun, and men fell apparently wounded to the death. It was a rehearsal for the open air fete and tournment. Swords flashed out and by and by within the sacred precincts of the law abiding Lincoln's Inn, seemingly dead men strewed the ground, one Cardinal's guard was fleeing for his life, Jusserac lay wounded, and one heroic survivor of the fight had hurled down his sword and was being assaulted by the victors. One historic duel which is to be re-produced is the famous duel Des Mignons. The duel was fought in 1578, with rapiers and daggers. The principals, Quelus and D'Entragues, were the only people who had any quarrel but while they were fighting their squires began to do so also, more or less for amusement. Of the six engaged, Quelus, Riberas, Schomberg, Maugiron, d'Entragues, and Livarot, only the last two survived the fight. While this duel was in progress nothing could have exceeded the astonishment of a bencher of the inn who came in from the fields by the small door. He plunged into the midst of the combatants and was appalled when the knight in armour called to him, "Go back, you twentieth century." He sat down on a heat and gasped.

Some time ago a young Italian seaman named Venezia, fell in love with a Cardiff girl known as "Rosie Bulley." Marriage was hinted at, and then the sailor started on a voyage from which he returned to to find to his surprise that his sweetheart had been claimed by the guardians, and in spite of the protests of the sailor the board declined to allow the girl to leave the workhouse. They stated that she had been born in the workhouse, that she was only 16 years of age, and that they were exercising the rights of parents. Venezia thereupon consulted the girl's grandmother, who lives in Devonshire, with the result that a solicitor was instructed to take proceedings against the guardians for the girl's recovery. The solicitor, it is claimed, has found several independent women witnesses who deny that Rosie Bulley was born in the workhouse, and state she is over 16 years of age. One woman states that she was present at the birth. The guardians, however, possess some papers according to which a girl who received the name of "Ellen Bulley" was born in the workhouse in 1891. It is suggested that Rosie and Ellen Bulley are two distinct persons and that the guardians have assumed control over the wrong girl. Venezia says he is determined to clear up the mystery.

Climbing through a fourth story window of a house in Ladbroke Grove, Notting Hill, London, the other day, a woman apparently about 40 years of age, sat on the sill, and, with her feet dangling in the air, proceeded to address the crowd which rapidly gathered in the street below. The occupants of the house were helpless for the woman loudly threatened to jump off if anyone came near her; while the police, who were summoned were undecided as to whether to call the fire escape or give the lady time to grow weary of her airy and perilous position. Soon the street in front of the house became blocked by the crowd and the police had to telephone for reforcements to maintain order. It was eventually decided to send to the nearest station for a fire escape, and on its appearance the woman suddenly became alert, and as the firemen raised it towards the window she hurriedly scrambled inside and slammed down the casement. The police who had sent for a doctor to examine her, went into the house to secure her, but found she had barricaded herself in her room, and the door had to be battered in before she could be examined. The doctor certified her to be insane and ordered her removal to an asylum. The woman, whose name is Murray, is said to be the wife of an admiral and lived for some time in Australia.

An obscure disease which may play a prominent part in future murder or manslughter cases, was described at an inquest at Shoreditch, London, recently, on a baby which had died suddenly. Mr. Ruston Coorlawala, an expert, stated that he had made a post-mortem examination and found the child was suffering from an extraordinary growth of the lymphatic glands. The disease which is being carefully investigated by continental doctors, predisposes individuals to death from trivial causes. He thought the child had been partially suffocated. The slightest pressure over the face in such a child would be fatal. Even a cold bath might kill it. The coroner stated that this was very important from a medico legal point of view, for a man might be charged with murder or manslaughter, by giving another a slight blow and the medical man who overlooked the disease would loss a valuable point for the defence.

Sixty thousand people gathered recently on Mow Cop, the lonely hill marking the boundary between Staffordshire and Cheshire, to celebrate the centenary of Primitive Methodism, which had its birth-place on the wind-swept point, from which five counties can be seen, a hundred years ago. The huge size of the gathering came as a surprise to the North Staffordshire Railway and at some of the stations the supply of tickets gave out. People came from all parts of the country and from all parts of the Potteries, five to ten miles away, the people walked in thousands.

SCOTLAND

The annual report of the Prison Commissioners for Scotland, just issued, contains some interesting information on criminology north of the Tweed. The numbers received into prison were unfortunately higher than usual, and the increase in such crimes as assaults on the police, cruelty to children, and drunkenness, is accounted for by the fact that 1906 was a prosperous year of employment in the lower grades of labour. Too many prisoners have never been taught any trade. The standard of education among them is low. Out of 54,000 convicted prisoners the report states, only 28 had a superior education, and one-sixth were illiterate. Many, of course, show signs of defective intellect. The main idea of the treatment of a prisoner is to teach him some useful trade so that he may have the means of earning an honest livelihood on leaving jail. The physical welfare of the prisoners is well looked after. The men are drilled and the women are given classes in Swedish drill. The presence of a small mirror in each cell has gone a long way towards heightening pride of appearance in both men and women prisoners.

Thomas Griffin, aged 25, an ex-soldier of the Scottish Borderers, who fought in South Africa, has been agreeably surprised by an intimation through a London firm of solicitors that a Boer lady intends to reward his kindness to her by sending him two, three and four hundred pounds. Griffin informed a newspaper representative that he only gave his coat to the lady, who was with a large number of refugees in an unscovered train. He pitied her, especially because she had two small children, one suffering from enteric. A storm was coming on at the time, and the lady, who was a valdt cornet's wife, thanked him in Dutch and made him understand that she wanted his name and address. The only things he had were a jackknife, which he used to open bully-beef with, and his identity card, which he gave her. When the storm came on he got drenched, but he thought nothing of it. Griffin is a mechanic, a modest, unassuming young man, with a kind nature.

Colonel Mathias, the famous leader of the assault by the Gordon Highlanders on the heights of Dargai in the autumn of 1897, will retire from the army under the age regulation in the near future. It was a critical moment in the fight with the Afridis when Col. Mathias said to his men: "Highlanders, the General says the position must be taken at all costs. The Gordons will take it." And they did. The regiment, to use the words of Sir William Lockhart's official despatch, dashed through a murderous fire, and in 40 minutes had won the heights, leaving three officers and thirty men killed or wounded on the way. Among the wounded was Piper Findlater, who, shot in both ankles, dropped himself up against a boulder and piped "The Cock o' the North" until the Gordons had won the heights and he had won the Victoria Cross.

The close of a famous career extending over five reigns came legally, when Lord Young died in London of cerebral hemorrhage. Lord Young was born in 1813. He was twice Solicitor-General for Scotland, and was Judge of the Court of Session, Scotland, from 1874 to 1905, when he retired. He sat in Parliament from 1868 to 1874. As a boy, Lord Young often got "cups of tea, bread and jam, and kind words" from the widow of Robert Burns. He first met Carlyle in his father's house. It was Young who divided them into three classes: Lords, —— laws and expert witnesses. When he heard of Mr. Baird's contribution of a quarter of a million to the funds of the Church of Scotland, he remarked that it was "the heaviest fire insurance on record."

A shocking discovery was made on the canal bank between Pulteney street and Kyle street, in the northern division of Glasgow, recently, when the decomposed body of a child was found under circumstances that point to a serious charge. It appears that a lamplighter, while engaged cleaning a lamp on the canal bank, had his attention directed to a brown paper parcel lying between a heap of stone and the boundary wall. On opening it the man was shocked to observe that it contained the dead body of a child. A startling feature, however, was that a piece of tape had been tied tightly round the neck of the infant, whose appearance supports the theory that death was due to strangulation.

Recently, near Clydebank, an old hollow ash tree was considered to be in a dangerous condition, and workmen were instructed to cut it down and remove the root. During the process of uprooting, for the purpose of levelling the ground, and ancient earthenware jug was found, exactly under where the trunk of the tree had stood. The jug has a well-shaped handle, but the thick unglazed body has been crudely formed by hand, and not by potter's wheel—the last part of the making has apparently been the sticking on of the bottom piece. Similar vessels of earthenware in museums are attributed to the 12th and 13th centuries.

A race for life, in which eight students narrowly escaped a horrible death, marked the departure recently of the Edinburgh University Artillery Volunteers from Buddon Camp, Forfarshire, where they had been in camp for Whitsuntide. The students were practising with 4.7-inch guns at 8,000 yards, when, owing to fog, the signals were misunderstood, and a gun opened fire at the wrong target, and a shrapnel shell whizzed over the heads of a range party of eight, who, realizing their danger, rushed for shelter. They got clear just as a second shrapnel burst on the spot where they had stood a minute before.

Recently complaint was made by the tenants at 18 Florence street, Glasgow, that the cistern on the first landing was not drawing water properly. The other morning a plumber arrived to repair the tank, when he discovered to his surprise and horror that it contained the body of a newly-born male child. The body was wrapped in part of a newspaper, and a piece of brown paper, and had evidently been lying there for some considerable time.

IRELAND

Exciting scenes were witnessed at Roscrea recently, when sixteen men were charged at the local police court with unlawful assembly and intimidation against a shopkeeper who holds a large grazing ranch in the district. Several members of Parliament and and prominent priests were present. A force of 120 extra police had been drafted into the district, but several hundred persons, with bands and banners, managed to break through cordons armed with rifles and batons, and as many as possible crowded into the court house. Here they made matters very lively, and the proceedings were stopped several times. The climax came when the Crown solicitor remarked that the shopkeeper had been persecuted because he was a Protestant. Defendants' counsel hotly resented this, the "boys" in court took up the refrain with a will, and, the police being powerless to cope with the trouble, the cases were adjourned for a fortnight.

Even the Dublin Corporation, the majority of which is Nationalist, had not a single good word to say for Mr. Birrell's Irish Council Bill, which it described as an insult to the Irish. Mr. Harrington, M.P., said he was quite as much opposed to its details as anyone, but protested against any attempt to discredit the Irish representation because an inadequate bill had been introduced by Liberals. Alderman Farnell, who stigmatised it as a gross attempt to purchase the imperishable and noble aspirations of the Irish race by the creation of a new garrison, quoted the following:

There was an old squirrel,
Whose name was —— ——,
Who thought he could act the fool;
So he brought in a Bill
Our pockets to fill
And keep us from wanting Home Rule.

A couple of weeks ago while Mr. Kennedy, Gurteenakilla, was walking through his farm at Tullamore Park, he was surprised to see something wriggling in the grass. On closer observation Mr. Kennedy saw that the creature was a snake, which hissed at him as he closed upon it. The reptile made an attempt to get into a neighbouring ditch, but Mr. Kennedy struck it twice with a black thorn, and killed it, and carried it to his home. A neighbour of Mr. Kennedy's, who spent a long time in the Southern States of American, gave it as his opinion that it was a spotted adder of poisonous variety. It is two feet eight inches long, and about as thick as an ordinary walking stick, coloured dark green on the back, with white spots, and pale green underneath, with a beautiful orange band at the back of the head.

A 19-year-old girl named Anne Hughes committed suicide at Belfast by setting herself on fire, and at the inquest the other day it was shown that she left home to seek refuge at the union, before she was removed to the home of an aunt. During the night she saturated he hair with paraffin, which flowed over her clothing, and then applied a match. In her agony she screamed for her uncle, who, with assistance, was eventually able to extinguish the flames. She died shortly afterwards, saying: "I am tired of life, and thought I should suffer no pain." It was stated that the girl's home life had been pitiable, and the jury added to their verdict a rider censuring the father.

An elderly couple named O'Kane were recently married at Ballinderry and proceeded to their future residence. On arrival there they were welcomed by a crowd of nearly two hundred men armed with trumpets, blackhorns and revolvers. An intolerable din was maintained by the self-invited guests in the hopes of inducing O'Kane to celebrate the occasion by supplying them with drink. When it became obvious that he would give them none they proceeded to set fire to the hedge surrounding the dwelling, and burned to the ground a thatched outhouse. The dwelling-house itself narrowly escaped a similar fate.

The Dungiven (Co. Derry) Magistrates recently refused information in a charge against a young man named McClenkey of shooting at and wounding a girl named Gilderson on the occasion of a local wedding, holding that the affair was accidental. According to the custom of the district, McClenkey fired a gun as a friendly salute, while the wedding party was driving past his house, and some of the shot struck a young woman who was a bridesmaid. The affair occurred on December 27th last year, and it was only last week for the first time that Miss Gilderson was able to appear.

The marriage took place the other day at Dromore (Co. Tyrone) of a man named Francis McCrossan, aged 90 years, the bride being Mary McQuaide, who has attained her 80th year. The bridegroom belongs to the farming class, as also does the bride, and both have been married twice before, this being their third time. The night after the wedding the country around Lettergesh, from which they hailed, was illuminated with bon-fires and torches, and cheers were heartily given for the happy couple.

One evening recently a car which was sent to meet a party of Cook's tourists who had proceeded up the Lakes of Killarney and bring them back through the Gap of Dunloe was shot at when it had proceeded some distance down the gap. The tourists, fortunately, had hired ponies on their own account, and were following the car some distance behind. Five shots were fired. The car with two policemen, who were escorting it, raced back up the gap again. The tourists, who were escorted by a large cavalcade of pony men, were allowed to proceed down the gap.

A BRILLIANT FUNCTION WILL BE OPENING OF KIRKFIELD LIFT LOCK

Canal Superintendent's Office Arranges Details of the Programme for Reception and Entertainment of Visitors.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL HERE

Party Will Pass Over New Lock and Sail to Beaverton on Lake Simcoe---The First Steamer to Traverse Waters.

Arrangements have been practically completed for the official opening of the new Kirkfield Lift Lock, on Saturday, July 6th. The staff in the superintendent's office has put in a pretty busy week in arranging the details of the function, and, at the present time little remains to be done, and it would seem that so far as human instrumentality is concerned nothing more could be done, which would in any way contribute to the success of the event.

Invitations have been extended to the senators of the Dominion, members of the House of Commons, and members of the Ontario Legislature, to be present, and assurances have been received from a large number that they will accept the invitations. In addition to these other men occupying public positions will be given invitations to participate in the function.

As has been announced the Government will be represented by Hon. Rudolphe Lemieux, Postmaster General and Minister of Labour, who will on this important occasion, pay his first visit to this section of the province, since he was appointed to the office he now holds, and the duties of which he fills with such acceptance.

Mr. M. J. Butler, who is one of the best friends the Trent Canal has, and who, in his official capacity, as Chief Engineer and Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, is in a position to do much to further the completion of this mammoth work, will also be present at the opening.

For the reception and entertainment of the distinguished visitors, arrangements have been completed. The party will leave Peterborough on the 7.20 G.T.R. Flyer, and arriving at Lindsay, a steamer will be in waiting to convey them, leaving at 9 o'clock, to Kirkfield, sailing en route through the picturesque lakes of Sturgeon, Cameron and Balsam, to the lock, arriving at the objective point, it is expected, about one p.m.

The opening ceremonies will then be proceeded with, and following this the party will then proceed through the new section of the canal reaches to Lake Simcoe, the steamer in use that day being the first to negotiate these waters, with the exception of the Government tug which is now engaged in clearing the water of stumps. Passing through the canal to Lake Simcoe, the steamer will proceed to Beaverton, where the water journey will end, and where a special train will be in readiness to convey the party back to Peterborough, or Lindsay, as the case may be. At this city connection will be made with the regular midnight C. P. R. train for the east, for those who travel in that direction, or they may proceed to Port Hope, the objective point of the special train, and take the Grand Trunk trains for the east. Peterborough will be reached at nine o'clock, and Port Hope an hour later.

It will thus be seen that very complete arrangements have been made and it would seem that only disagreeable weather could prevent the function being a success.

92,000 Miles Long Are Sun Spots By Measurement To-day

—DR. MARSH'S STATEMENT

The Solar Disturbances Affects Compasses on Steamers Navigating Lake Ontario — Vary in Their Course Fully Two Miles at Times.

AREA OF SPOTS UNCHANGED

Shape Changes Materially--An Interesting Solar Disturbance and its Effect on the Earth ---Discovered First By Dr. Marsh.

Dr. Marsh, the president of the Royal Astronomical Society, Peterborough branch, who deserves credit for having been the first to discover and call the attention of the public to the immense sun spots which have been causing widespread interest during the last week or ten days, informed the Examiner to-day that the spots were practically unchanged, so far as the total area was concerned, though their shape had changed considerably. A measurement made to-day gives their size as 92,000 miles long by 40,000 miles wide.

On a trip which Dr. Marsh took across Lake Ontario this week, his prophecy that the magnetic influences following as a result of the sun spots would affect compasses and other magnetic instruments was verified. He found that the compasses on the steamers of the Niagara Navigation Company were affected to such an extent that in a fog, when land could not be seen, and the boat was run solely by the aid of the compass, fully two miles out of her course were travelled, to one side in the morning and the opposite side in the afternoon.

The first officer of the boat knew that the compass was not right, but could not tell what was the cause of the trouble until enlightened by Dr. Marsh.

Western Crops Late But Optimism Still Prevails In Manitoba

Mr. P. A. McLean, Who Returned From Winnipeg Yesterday, Saw Farmers Seeding This Week Along Railway.

MONEY SCARCE IN WEST

Some of the farmers of Western Canada are but now in the midst of their seeding operations. In view of this fact the harvest in the West must necessarily be later than usual. This is the information given the Examiner by Mr. A. P. McLean, who yesterday returned from a business trip to Winnipeg.

In spite of the fact, however, that the harvest will be late and, in some respects, uncertain, Mr. McLean does not find any feeling of pessimism pervading the buoyant West. On the contrary, everyone is confident, apparently, that the harvest will be possibly not quite so large as that of last year, still sufficiently satisfactory to warrant the optimism which prevails.

Money, however, is scarce in the West. The banks are not as free to loan money on real estate as they were in the past, not because of their lack of faith in real estate as an investment, but principally because they can loan it to better advantage in New York on call loans.

During the last week, and while Mr. McLean was in Winnipeg, the western portion of Canada was visited by a cyclone, which, while it did not do any particular damage to the crops because they were not advanced far enough for it to harm them, made the American settlers in the West think of home, and gave the Canadians a bad scare.

The weather in the West, Mr. McLean describes as practically the same as that prevailing in the east. They too, are getting the same warm spell, and the farmers are feeling the same jubilation as a consequence.

STRAWBERRY CROP IS A MONTH LATE BUT IT WILL BE UP TO AVERAGE

St. Catharines, June 22.—The first home-grown strawberries came in yesterday, and were an exceptionally fine sample of berry. Last year the first home grown strawberries came in on May 24th. The plentiful rain of late has helped the berries wonderfully, and the yield will be quite as large as usual, if not larger. Reports from Fonthill and other districts, say that next week the growers will be shipping heavily. Peach growers say now that the prospects for a good crop were never better.

Forty-Two Carloads Average Daily Output Of Quaker Oats Mills

An Almost Inconceivable Quantity of Cereal Products Shipped From Peterborough Every 24 Hours

WHEAT BERRIES POPULAR

Forty-two carloads of manufactured products as the daily output of one establishment in the city is a volume of business which few persons appreciate the immensity of.

At the present time this is said to be the average daily output of the mills of the Quaker Oats Company, and it represents quite two trainloads of products leaving the mills every 24 hours. This does not take into consideration the quantity of raw material necessary to produce this enormous output, and it is probable that fully 30 carloads of grain each day are received.

The output mentioned represents the shipments of flour, rolled oats, feed and cake goods.

The new Quaker Wheat Berries, the latest product of these mills, contributes in no small measure to the volume of shipments sent daily from these mills, and it is understood that the orders for this new cereal have been coming in at a rate which leaves no possibility of doubt as to the reception which the consuming public is according it.

Character in Medicine

In medicine, as in every sphere of human action; it is character that tells. Every prescription that Dr. A. W. Chase gave to his fellowmen is full of character, full of the honest, sterling character which made the grand old doctor respected, admired and loved by all who knew him. The integrity of Dr. Chase is shown in every one of his famous medicines.

EXAMINER TO-DAY BREAKS A RECORD; LARGEST ORDINARY PAPER EVER ISSUED UNDER NORMAL CONDITIONS IN THE CITY

There are three sections to the Examiner to-day. See that your newsboy leaves them all at your door.

For the first time in the history of Peterborough, or for that matter, any of the minor cities in Ontario, conditions make necessary the publication of a 22-page paper as a regular Saturday edition. This is not a special edition, in the generally accepted definition of the term; it is simply an ordinary paper, but in order to meet the extra demand for advertising space, and to provide its readers with a proportionate quantity of news, the Examiner is to-day breaking all records under similar circumstances.

For special editions, of course, the Examiner and other Peterborough papers have issued papers larger than twenty-two pages, but under the ordinary conditions—and especially in the so-called summer months—never.

These facts are pointed out simply to call attention to the growing popularity of the Examiner as an advertising medium. Advertisers use it; why? Because they appreciate the fact that the paper the people read is the paper in which to advertise. It's a simple case of common business judgment.

To-day is the 14th Anniversary of the Appalling Catastrophe on the Mediterranean—Harry Dunford, of Perry Street, One of Ship's Company

SOME CANNIBAL STORIES

His Travels Among the South Sea Islands Where He Had Many Startling Experiences in Recent Years — 21 Years With the Navy.

The memories of many Peterborough citizens will recall the loss of H. M. S. "Victoria," together with 364 human lives just fourteen years ago to-day in one of the most appalling naval catastrophes the world has ever known. Yet there are few in Peterborough who are aware that there is living in this city at the present time, a man who served under Admiral Tryon, of the "Victoria," and who to-day, the 22nd day of June, celebrates the anniversary of his miraculous escape from that ill-fated ship. The reference is made to Mr. Harry Dunford, for many years a member of the British navy, who now resides at 227 Perry street.

Mr. Dunford was seen by an Examiner representative last night, when he related a most remarkable tale of life at sea, covering a period of more than twenty years service under Her Late Majesty, Queen Victoria. He gave a most vivid description of the awful collision of the steamers "Victoria" and "Camperdown" on the great Mediterranean, July 22nd, 1893, which at the time was published throughout the known world, and recognized in all countries as an unparalleled disaster. Mr. Dunford has also a picture of the scene, showing the bow of the steamship "Camperdown" just as it has crashed in the starboard of the "Victoria." He has yet the sailor's suit that he wore on that ill-fated day, when 364 of his comrades lost their lives in the Mediterranean Sea. This suit was shown to the reporter and is a memento of the memorable event which Mr. Dunford prizes most highly.

The Mediterranean squadron was under the command of Vice-Admiral Sir George Tryon, and on the day of the disaster the fleet was manoeuvring off the coast of Tripoli. It was steaming along in two lines with the "Victoria" and "Camperdown" in the lead. The admiral gave the signal to perform the "Cridiron Evolution"—which means that each line of vessels turns inwards upon itself to enable the men-of-war to fire broadside from the opposite side. It was in this in-turning movement that the collision occurred.

The Victoria Wrecked

The "Camperdown" struck with tremendous force on the starboard side of the "Victoria," about twenty feet before the turret. The admiral ordered the water-tight doors to be closed and turned the vessel's bows toward shore in hopes of saving her. But the water poured into the great breach made by the "Camperdown's" ram so rapidly that the fore part of the "Victoria" began to settle down. Seeing all attempts to save his vessel the admiral signalled for assistance and ordered all to try to save themselves.

Suddenly, to the consternation of the fleet, the "Victoria" turned right over,

"DISGRACE TO DISHONOURED PRESS"

Yesterday the Mayor received the following communication from W. A. Bailey:

Box 927, Peterborough, June 20. 1907.

Worshipful Sir,—

Permit me to draw your attention to an article on Page 1, of last evening's Examiner, headed "W. A. Bailey demands an apology." Apart altogether from my letter, the remarks of the Examiner are most mendacious and vulgar. I would ask you as Chief Magistrate, to chastise this blackguardly newspaper, a disgrace even to a dishonoured press.

Yours obediently,

W. A. BAILEY.

BENEFITS DISTRIBUTED

The remarkable increase in the manufacturing production of the Dominion in the five years from 1900 to 1905, covered by the recent census and set forth in the returns, is not confined to the output. In 1900 an output of $481,053,375 was responsible for wages paid to workmen amounting to $113,249,350. The amount distributed in wages in the manufacture of the output of last year—$715,035,965 — was $200,000,000. On the basis of the wages paid in 1900, the amount of wages paid would have been only $170,000,000. The scales of wages in all branches of industry has increased in proportion to the increased output. So that the workingmen of the Dominion are all liberal sharers in the great prosperity which has prevailed in Canada for the past few years. Incidentally, it may be mentioned that evidence of the general prosperity and improved purchasing power of the people is furnished by the fact that of $364,906,866 of agricultural products, we exported only $83,000,000, leaving for home consumption the large amount of $281,000,000.

MARRING A MANLY GAME

Cricket is a noble sport, too much neglected. It is pronounced slow, which perhaps is a compliment rather than a reproach. This is a rapid age and in sport, as in other things, a balance wheel is needed. This, cricket, in the realm of sport supplies. If cricket is too respectable a game to be popular; if it is dignified and played in a gentlemanly manner, it affords a contrast to other games which are by no means over-loaded with these characteristics, and is deserving of encouragement. We speak of manly sports. What game deserves this title like cricket, which brings out and develops manliness in its best essentials, self-restraint, and respect for authority? Who ever heard, except as an astonishing and repudiated exception, a cricketer dispute a decision of an umpire? Often a decision is given which to the extinguished batsman is—a mistake. He "registers no kick," and a little internal profanity is the extent of his revolt. He bows to authority thus performing the part of a good and loyal citizen—he exhibits manly qualities, which, to that extent, may be claimed to be the development of the game. A manly man is essentially a gentlemanly man. There is therefore warrant for regarding cricket as a gentlemanly game.

But the action of the Canadian Cricket Association is unworthy of this characteristic of the game. Self-seeking and lack of self-forgetfulness in the interests of others are no marks of a gentleman. At a meeting of this association in Toronto, it killed the proposal of Montreal to have the annual so-called "international" match played in Ottawa, constitutionally the capital of Canada, with, of course, the idea of playing the match in Toronto. Eastern cricketers are naturally indignant and will decline the invitation to rejoin the association. The result will be that the "international" match will be played in the West without the help of the East and the team competing will be dubbed an "international" team, get kicked as usual, and thus reflect discredit upon the Dominion. Toronto may consider itself the whole of Canada, but it has a monopoly of that opinion as it strives to get a monopoly of everything else. It plays the dog in the manger or the hog in the stye in almost every way possible. This action is not patriotic, it is not sportsmanlike, it is not gentlemanly. When Canada sends its contestants to the Greek or Boston Marathon it sends its best, no matter where they may reside. An international cricket team should be recruited from the ranks of our best players, without thought of the place of residence, whether it be Toronto or Tompkins' Corners. The action of the Canadian—Toronto—Cricket Association tends to discredit cricket, for it ignores the essential characteristics of the game, and by putting up a team of third-raters at cricket, dubbed "international," who get regularly walloped, thus discredits the Dominion.

MINISTERS IN SECULAR CALLINGS

The question whether a minister who goes into secular business should drop the title "Reverend" is a part of a larger question; whether while engaged wholly in secular pursuits he shall retain his ministerial standing, and be at liberty to take a pulpit again at any time. This again depends on the kind of business in which he engages, and the manner in which he conducts himself therein. If a minister engages in commercial or financial business, and sets an example of integrity, if his standard of commercial honesty is higher than the average, he reflects credit on his religious denomination and profession. If he falls below the average, or if he is satisfied with an average standard that is low or doubtful, he reflects discredit on that denomination and profession.

In stock transactions and other business dealings there are doubtful cases, in which one party, rightly or wrongly, questions the honesty of another. The man who loses his money on stocks is apt to be sore and angry with the person from whom, or on whose advice, he purchased. If that person is a minister his resentment and suspicion are likely to extend beyond the minister to his denomination and profession. If the minister resumes his place in the pulpit, his career will be watched by that losing party with disfavour and his pulpit utterances will be regarded by him as hypocritical. There is a danger here that cannot be ignored.

Dr. Baker says that the divine call does not apply to the ministry alone. It is doubtless true that in many other callings there are opportunities for unselfishness and conscientious devotion to duty. A man may build a house or till a farm in that spirit, the income being a secondary consideration. But when a man leaves the pulpit to go into business the income is not likely to be a secondary consideration; nor can he devote himself to his secular business as life work if he regards it as temporary, and always has before his mind the prospect of resuming his ministerial calling.

The only cause that would justify temporary engagement in business with ministerial standing would be unfair treatment of the minister, depriving him of reasonable opportunities of preaching or doing other ministerial work, or of maintaining himself or his family. Such a cause is assigned by the Rev. William Kettlewell and, accepting his statement of the case, it is sufficient cause. It would not be fair to bind a man for life to a calling in which he is hampered, discouraged, and deprived of scope for his energy and ability. Such a man may reasonably take the ground that he will find scope for his powers and means of livelihood in some secular business until his church is willing to accord him fair treatment.

OLD BRITISH SAILOR TELLS OF THE LOSS OF H. M. S. "VICTORIA"

her steel masts shrinking the water with tremendous force. This was only six minutes after the collision. The great vessel was then seen with keel upwards and hot twin screws poised in air, rapidly revolving the whole time, until the sinking ship gradually reached the water. The boilers soon after exploded with two loud reports and the vessel went under. In the meantime boats were lowered and succeeded in rescuing 237 out of the 651 sailors on board, who had managed to keep away from the suction.

Mr. Dunford happened to be on duty that day, although several of the ship's company were below, it being a Thursday afternoon and a sort of holiday. He was standing under the bridge at the time of the crash, only a few feet from where the "Camperdown" struck. He saw a man who was lying on a table have his legs cut completely off by the bow of the ship, so terrific was the collision. It opened a breach through which a coach might have been driven.

Admiral Blamed Himself

The men worked until the salt sea had gathered around their waists. The admiral then ordered all hands to fall in on the upper deck, after everything possible was done to save the fated vessel. When he saw that all was lost he turned to his staff commander and Mr. Dunford heard the words, "Capt. Smith, it's all my fault." Directly afterwards he gave his last order "Men, save yourselves."

The discipline and loyalty of the crew, which prevailed the whole time, prompted many for the first time in their naval lives to disobey the order of the admiral and to remain on deck with their brave commander. When last seen as the ship capsized, Sir George Tryon was calmly standing on the bridge with folded arms.

Some Awful Scenes

As the vessel began to sink Mr. Dunford made a rush for the side and in getting over his right arm was jammed with a heavy spar. He braced his feet against the side of the ship and wrenched his arm from its cramped position. He also received blows on the back of the neck, and on the right leg with broken material and was struck again on the arm.

A thousand thoughts ran through his head in the few minutes as he was helplessly tossed about. When he rose to the surface, about one hundred yards distant, and grabbed a bit of spar his eyes met some terrible scenes. The screws of the upturned vessel were literaly cutting men into pieces and the screams and cries were indescribable.

A man came floating towards him and between the two as they spoke floated the head of a man. Another fellow—an Irishman, whose face would always remain fresh in his memory—came near and handed him a life belt and soon after he was picked up by life boats from the "Nile."

Mr. Dunford lay between life and death in an unconscious condition all night, but he recovered the following day and yet lives to tell the tale.

The bow of the "Camperdown" was also badly damaged and it had to be taken rapidly to shore. A cofferdam had to be constructed around her to prevent her from sinking. After the accident the "Victoria's" men were taken to Malta and were afterwards taken home in the "Triumph." Mr. Dunford remained in a hospital for some time and seven months later was invalided.

Tribute to the Admiral

Admiral Tryon, said Mr. Dunford, was one of the finest officers that ever trod the deck of a vessel. He was 6 ft. 2 1-2 inches in height and weighed 20 stone 2 lbs.—282 lbs.

The relator of the story also paid a high tribute to Lady Tryon, a sister of the present Earl of Ancaster. In doing so he related an incident that came within his own experience in the year '76, when a squadron was leaving England for duty in the east. When all were on board the ships a telegram arrived to state that the wife of one of the sailors was dying. The captain's orders were that no man was to leave the ship and the request of the dying wife was refused. Lady Tryon, who overheard the conversation, quickly remarked, "What's that captain? A man's wife dying and he not allowed to see her! Let him go and if the ship sails before he returns I'll pay his passage in another vessel."

When the subscription list was opened for the relief of the invalid sailors from the Victoria, Miss Agnes E. Weston, the sailors' friend, collected £8,777 and was relieving 100 persons in less than a week, when it took the Patriotic Committee four months to begin to release.

Sketch of Naval Career

Mr. Dunford had also some interesting and some horrible tales to tell of his career as a member of the British navy. He has seen active service on a couple of occasions, has travelled among the islands of the south Sea, where the cannibals roam like wild animals, and has even seen in recent years men brutally murdered by that heathenish race. In fact, Mr. Dunford could relate experiences full of novelty and venture for a whole day and then his fund of experiences would not be exhausted.

He joined the service at Portsmouth on January 9th, in '73, was invalided on the 9th of February, in '94, so that he was connected with the navy for twenty-one years and one month. In 1875 and 1876 he was one of the escort of the present King of England in his trip to the various ports of India.

He was also with the fleet that in 1877, during the Russo-Turkish war, blockaded the Strait of Dardanelles to prevent the Russian fleet from getting through.

Fastened to Tripod

Three years later he sailed with the "Renard" to Australian waters, when the British Government was making some surveys among the South Sea Islands. This was when the horrible massacre of the crew of the "Sandfly" schooner took place. The boat had steamed into a harbour on the coast of Solomon Island and while Captain Bowyers, who was in command, and another man went up through the bush in search of birds for a meal. In their absence the unsuspecting sailors were surprised by the cowardly natives and all were murdered. On the return of the two from the forest they were horrified to find that their comrades were massacred and the native cannibals in possession of their ship.

The captain climbed a tree to escape capture, while his comrade took to the water. After remaining continuously in the ocean for eight hours, where sharks were known to abound, he reached a friendly island and reported the calamity. Immediately the "Renard," on which Mr. Dunford was, went out to revenge the wrong and by means of Bishop Selwyn, of Polynesia and the native Christians the perpetrators of the deed were discovered.

One Man Eater

On Solomon Island Mr. Dunford witnessed a harrowing scene. Captain Bowyers had been shot from the tree he climbed for safety, with his own rifle. Three of the sailors were lying dead, another had had his arms, legs and head cut off and was trysted to a tripod—one of the most heathenish acts known to mankind. Only the hair of another was found. He had been eaten by the ravenous natives. When found the leader of the band was tied to a tree and riddled with bullets and four were hung.

On his arrival home to England Mr. Dunford was stationed in the North American West Indies and came out in '83. After spending three years around the West Indies and Halifax he returned to Portsmouth and joined the troopship "Orontes." For three years he sailed with it, distributing troops in various parts of the eastern hemisphere, and during that time he travelled over 114,000 miles by sea.

Spoke in Peterborough

Mr. Dunford again came to North America, when he was stationed on the "Pylades" in the West Indies. In July, 1892, he was in Peterborough and at a S. O. E. banquet he was called upon to reply to a toast, so that he will be remembered by many Peterborough people.

He went back to England in December of that year and on April 1st of the following year joined the ill-fated "Victoria." It was in this year, 1893, that the accident related above occurred, in which so many human lives were lost.

Such is the brief history of a British sailor, with a few of the experiences associated with the life at sea in modern times, which is almost universally considered to be void of dangers and trials.

A Wiltshire Man

Mr. Dunford was born in Wiltshire, but before coming to Canada last April resided in Bristol. Among the positions he filled there was Chairman of the British Operatives Radical Association during the general elections of '06; a member of the Old Market Street Men's Bible Class in connection with the Wesleyan Church; a member of the Executive Committee of the United Kingdom Alliance. He also belonged to the Independent Order of Oddfellows Manchester Unity, to North Bristol Liberal 400 and was a member of the Executive Committee to the Right Hon. Augustine (Birrell, K.C., M.P., Secretary for Ireland. He is a prominent lecturer, upon naval subjects and he carries letters of recommendation from prominent British Members of Parliament, Cabinet Ministers and clergymen.

Pictures Exhibited

The picture of the collision between the "Victoria" and "Camperdown" was to-day placed in the window of Messrs. J. J. Turner & Son's establishment, to commemorate the fourteenth anniversary of that appalling naval catastrophe.

THE LAST PESPECTS WERE PAID

Funeral of Mr. Adam Dawson Yesterday Afternoon Under Masonic Auspices.

A REMARKABLE TRIBUTE

The funeral of the late Adam Dawson yesterday afternoon was a remarkable tribute to the esteem in which he, the deceased gentleman, was held by the community generally. The funeral cortege was a long and imposing one, many citizens taking advantage of the opportunity to pay their last respects to the memory of the departed.

The members of Corinthian and Peterborough Lodges, A. F. and A. M., attended the funeral in a body, as did the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union of which the deceased was a member. The City Council and city representatives also attended and the Foresters were also represented in the cortege.

A private service was conducted at the family residence by Rev. Wm. Major, rector of All Saints'. This was followed by a public service in All Saints' church which was crowded with friends and acquaintances of the deceased.

After the reading of the 39th Psalm Rev. Canon Davidson, of St. John's, read the lesson which was taken from Corinthians 20th chapter, 15th verse. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt paid a warm tribute to the late Mr. Dawson, saying that those present had met to pay their last respects to a beloved friend and brother whose excellent qualities as a man of business, as a neighbour and friend, were referred to. Those who knew the life he had led saw that life before them as in an open book in which they could read the stern integrity the honesty and uprightness the sympathy for those in need of help, which characterized his life. His efforts had always been in the direction of honesty and uprightness. As a member of the City Council and in his business dealings there was always the one predominant note of honesty and integrity at the bottom. He was a good man because he believed in God. In the days when so many were heard denying the Divinity of God it was refreshing to find one who was a firm believer in Jesus Christ.

His illness had been bravely borne because he knew that God could not make a mistake. When the physician had told him that there was no hope of recovery, he was able to say "Thy will be done."

The deceased had been a true child of God and not a professed Christian only. He was not one of those who believed that there was no necessity of going to Church.

The speaker exhorted his hearers to look upon the deceased as he had lived and follow the good example set by him.

Everyone joined in deep sympathy with the bereaved widow and children, who should be uplifted and strengthened because they knew that they were not alone in their sorrow but had the sympathy of the entire community.

At the Little Lake Cemetery the solemn and impressive Masonic funeral service was conducted by Worshipful Bro. J. D. Craig, Wor. Master of Corinthian Lodge, assisted by Rt. Wor. Bro. R. E. Wood, of Corinthian Lodge; Rt. Wor. Bro. Alex. Gibson, of Peterborough Lodge; Wor. Bro. Duncan Walker, of Corinthian Lodge, and Wor. Bro. Rev. W. Major, of Corinthian Lodge. The pall bearers were Very Wor. Bro. J. J. Lundy, Very Wor. Bro. H. C. Winch, Wor. Bro. T. A. S. Hay, Wor. Bro. T. E. Bradburn, Wor. Bro. D. Walker and Bro. Col. H. C. Rogers. Bro. D. H. Burritt officiated as director of ceremonies.

The floral tributes were numerous and very beautiful including some from the different societies and organizations to which the deceased belonged.

UNTIMELY DEATH OF MRS. SKITCH

Young Lady, 28 Years of Age Passed Away After an Illness of About Three Years

LIVED HERE EIGHTEEN YEARS

After a lingering illness of about three years, Mrs. Fred W. Skitch, passed away early this morning, at her residence, 231 Dublin street. The late Mrs. Skitch's death will be learned with the deepest regret, by her many friends in the city, many of whom she had grown up from childhood to womanhood with, and to whom her untimely death will be the cause of sincere sorrow.

The deceased was a daughter of Mr. George W. Powell, and was 28 years of age. She was born in Cobourg, but came with her parents to Peterborough to live about 18 years ago, and since that time her home has been here. Three years ago last August she was married to her now sorrowing husband, and he with their only child, a son, Vernon Wentworth, survive her. She is also survived by her father and mother, two sisters, Bessie and Marion, and two brothers, Roy and Morley. Dr. N. A. Powell of Toronto, and Mr. William Powell of the Massey-Harris Co., Toronto, are uncles, and the aunts are Mrs. W. L. Payne, Colborne, Mrs. John Gallinger, Niagara Falls; Mrs. W. Beatty, Toronto; Mrs. W. B. Shirk, Galt, and Miss Lucy Powell, Niagara Falls.

The deceased was a member of the George street Methodist church, and the funeral, which will be held on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the family residence, will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Crothers, the pastor of the church with which the deceased was connected, and in which during her lifetime, until she became ill, she was an active worker.

HOT WEATHER HARD ON CHEESE

Cool Curing Rooms Are Now Almost a Necessity

The scorching hot weather of the past week or more has had a bad effect on the cheese unprotected by cool curing rooms. The local buyers are complaining of this, as cheese which sits in curing rooms with temperatures up to 90 degrees or more loses much of good quality and suffers by shrinkage.

In cool curing rooms, with the temperature down to about 56 degrees, the makers have no difficulty in sending out their cheese in perfect condition. The buyers also claim that they are liable to have some of the cheese refused when they are in such a condition. Until cool curing rooms become universal there is little chance, they believe, in sending out the best quality of cheese. There are only three in Peterborough County.

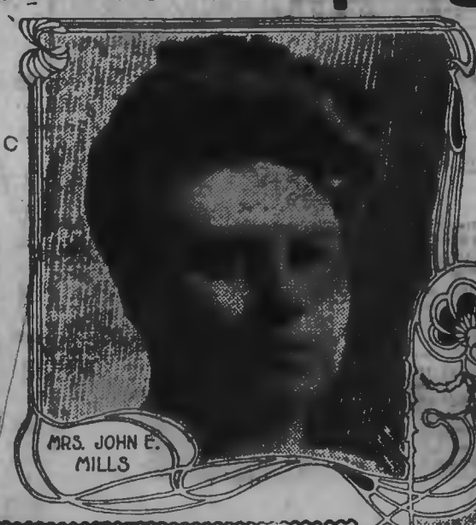
Slaves to Spring Catarrh Restored to Health By Pe-ru-na.

Honest People Tell Their Experiences. Spring,—the Time to Cure Catarrh.



Mr. J. Q. Craig, a well-known athlete, whose home address is Bridgeton, N. J., writes from the Hotel Donavin, Delaware, Ohio, as follows:

"I can say of Peruna that, as a tonic for the spring of the year, it is the best for athletes, and as such I can give it a hearty recommendation."

Peruna does not fail to prevent the lassitude and languor incident to the approach of warm weather, if taken in time.

Mr. Wienand Houseman, a prominent and aged citizen of Seneca Falls, N. Y., is the inventor of a number of implements of modern warfare. He writes:

"For several years past, I and my family used your Peruna as a tonic and for the purification of the system in general and find that it is an excellent medicine to restore weak nerves to a healthy condition."

Mrs. John E. Mills, 86 Mulberry St., Lynn, Mass., writes:

"I have been troubled with catarrh since I was ten years old. At times my head troubled me so that I was obliged to stay in a dark room. Nothing helped me and my physician said I could never be cured.

"I began taking Peruna this spring and find myself greatly benefited by it. I have not had an attack since I took my first bottle. I think in time it will cure me. It has already improved my appetite and my general health and I have gained twenty pounds in three months.

"I have recommended it to several of my friends, who also find it very beneficial. I advise any one troubled with catarrh to use Peruna."

Mrs. A. S. Rucker, 1324 Cedar street, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"I wish to tell you what Peruna has done for me. In the spring of 1902 I was very sick and so weak I could scarcely be up. I was alarmed at my condition.

"I had a bad cough for some time and I tried several cough medicines, but grew worse all the time. I knew if I did not get relief, I would soon go into consumption.

"So I decided to try Peruna. I had confidence in it before I took it and found it was just the medicine I needed, for in a short time my cough ceased and my strength returned.

"I have enjoyed better health since taking it than I had for several years previous."

Spring Catarrh.

Almost every one has come to believe that spring is a season that brings derangements of the body dependent on blood impurities.

This belief is an old one, is nearly universal, and has arisen, not as the result of the teachings of the medical fraternity, but has been learned in the bitter school of experience.

Nervous Depression.

Depression of the nervous system at the approach of spring is a fertile source of blood impurities.

There are general lassitude, dull, heavy sensations, continual tired feelings, with irregular appetite, and sometimes loss of sleep.

That Tired Feeling.

That tired feeling, which is the natural result of the depressing effect of warm weather immediately after the invigorating cold of winter, quickly disappears when Peruna is taken.

The Correct Remedy.

Peruna meets every indication and proves itself to be perfectly adapted to all their varied peculiarities. Peruna invigorates the system, rejuvenates the feelings, restores the normal appetite and procures regular sleep.

Do Not Delay.

Get a bottle of Peruna when the first languid feelings make themselves apparent in the spring. Take it according to the directions on the bottle. Continue this treatment through the first months of spring

This course of treatment is no experiment. It has helped thousands. Why should it not help you?

A Spring Tonic.

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mr. Warren M. Taylor, 1216 8th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., who, in a recent letter, writes:

"I suffered from a general feeling of lassitude, with occasional creeping chills, followed sometimes by fever and biliousness.

"These symptoms manifested themselves mostly in the spring and fall.

"I suffered this way for about seven years.

"Last spring I began using Peruna and followed the instructions as set forth in one of Dr. Hartman's booklets which I picked up in a drug store and to my great joy I noticed that within a week I was nearly cured.

"At the end of two months I was entirely cured and feel as though I have a new lease of life."

Nature's Assistance.

Spring is the best time to treat catarrh. Nature renews herself every spring. The system is rejuvenated by spring weather. This renders medicines more effective.

A short course of Peruna, assisted by the balmy air of spring, will often relieve old, stubborn cases of catarrh that have resisted treatment for years.

A Word of Advice.

To those who have been afflicted with chronic catarrh we wish to say that the spring season affords you a splendid opportunity to get rid of your disease.

It may be you have been afflicted for several years; you may have tried different remedies. Perhaps you have become discouraged.

Now Is Your Opportunity.

This failure was during the winter months. But now is your opportunity. Nature comes to your assistance at this season.

Just help her a little and she will bring you out of the quagmire in which you have been floundering so long. Give Nature a little assistance, lest her struggles be in vain.

A Typical Case.

Geo. M. Fillmore, formerly 1st Lieut. 3rd U. S. Artillery, writes from 909 L St., N. W., Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I brought forward from winter 1910 spring a sickening case of catarrh which was making existence miserable for me, until I was induced to try a bottle of Peruna.

"An immediate improvement gave me hope, if not relief. I kept up taking Peruna and it has so strengthened and relieved me that I am now confident of a cure. I heartily endorse Peruna for catarrhal affections and as a tonic for their weakening effects."—Geo. M. Fillmore.

A short course of Peruna now will be just in time. During the month of April you will find the strategic time to rid yourself of chronic catarrh, one of the most persistent, stubborn diseases in the whole list of human ailments.

After you have tried it you will say Peruna is positively the best spring medicine you have ever used.

A great many years of extensive trials of this remedy in this class of derangements have demonstrated its efficiency.

Numerous Testimonials.

Thousands of cases might be quoted in which Peruna has rescued people from the ravages of spring catarrh, and put them on a good, solid foundation of health.

We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements Dr. Hartman is constantly receiving. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

PORT HOPE MOURNS LOST GLORY

A Comparison Made of the Harbour Dues Paid Thirty Years Ago

The Port Hope Guide, mourning over glories departed, publishes the following article, which will be read with considerable interest here:

(We have had placed in our hands the book of the receipts and expenditures of our harbour from 1854 to 1867, or, more correctly speaking, for the four months of 1867, viz.: May, June, July and August. The then harbour master was the late Mr. Harvey Hagerman. In 1854 the accounts were kept in pounds, shillings and pence. In 1861 the decimal currency mode of reckoning was adopted. In this old relic of forty years ago is found some most interesting details of our harbour expenditure, and we shall take the liberty of quoting from its columns some facts and figures that at this date are unknown, save and except by some of our old timers—like our friend Mr. J. G. Williams and a few, very few, others. We find that in the year 1854 the harbour tolls amounted to £3,090 4s. 3d., as follows:

A DELIGHTFUL BAND CONCERT AT THE PARK

Many Beautiful Selections Given—Lights Failed Again

The green slopes of Victoria Park were covered with an enthusiastic audience last evening which listened with pleasure to the refined concert given by the 57th Regimental Band under the leadership of Mr. Gliddon. This was the third concert of the season and included some beautiful selections as the overture "Bohemian Girl," the grand march "Indienne" and "Gilmour's Triumphal" march. The final contribution was an excellent rendition of "My Old Kentucky Home" with variations, which always proves popular among Peterborough audiences.

A euphonium solo "The Vacant Chair," by Bandsman Crook, was an appreciated number and received with much enthusiasm.

The lights failed to appear again last night and for this reason the crowd was not as large as it might have been.

G. T. R. Summer Time Table Gives Idea Of Daily Service

Every Day Marked by Many Arrivals and Departures of Passenger Trains---A Complete System of Connections For Kawartha District---Trip to Lakefield is Made in Twenty Minutes---The Morning is Very Busy at the Local Station

Now that the G.T.R. summer passenger service has been commenced and is already working smoothly, it might be interesting to show on paper just how many trains arrive at and depart from the local station. The business has increased rapidly during the past few years until at present on a summer morning the station platform is literally crowded with people — tourists and regular passengers. The Kawartha Lakes have become very popular and should continue to be so. The G.T.R. lines have benefitted in every particular by increased traffic in the summer and should grow with the demands of the public.

People of Peterborough have scarcely a real idea of the crowds that are at the G.T.R. station at train time. It remains for strangers to become confused in the trains and last year many instances were reported of people boarding the wrong train. The following shows the arrivals of the trains during the day and when they depart:—

At 7.20 a.m. the flyer leaves Peterborough, it proceeds to Lindsay, crossing the train from that place at Omemee.

At 8.10 a.m. a train arrives from Belleville. It remains in Peterborough until 8.30, when it departs for Lakefield.

At 8.15 a.m. a train arrives from from Lindsay. It departs for Belleville at 8.20 a.m.

At 8.20 a.m. a train arrives from Port Hope. It leaves for Toronto at 8.25 a.m.

At 8.35 a.m. a train leaves this city for Port Hope. It returns at 11.45 a.m. after connecting with the main line at 11.55 a.m., departs for Lakefield.

At 9.50 a.m. a train arrives from Lakefield, it remains until 2 p. m. when it departs for Belleville.

At 11.40 a.m. a train arrives from Port Hope, remains here 15 minutes.

At 11.45 a.m. a train arrives from Toronto by way of Lindsay and continues to Port Hope.

At 11.55 a.m. the Lakefield train departs with passengers from north and south.

At 5.15 p.m. the train arrives from Lakefield.

At 5.33 p.m. train arrives from Port Hope and proceeds to Toronto by way of Lindsay.

At 5.40 p.m. the Lakefield train again leaves this city for the village.

At 6.40 p.m. the train returns from Lakefield, after connecting with the steamer Stoney Lake.

At 8.40 p.m. a train arrives from Belleville.

At 9.00 p.m. a train from Toronto and Lindsay arrives and proceeds to Port Hope.

At 9.10 p.m. a train from Belleville departs for Lindsay.

At 10.05 the flyer arrives from Toronto and remains in the local yards until the following morning.

By the above list of arrivals and departures it can be readily seen that there are few idle hours at the G.T.R. station. The time table is a most exhaustive one and covers every line, making close connections. The Lakefield train makes frequent runs between Peterborough and the village on the Trent and on account of being free of all freight cars, the one way trip is made in 20 minutes.

Perhaps the only difficulty is the confusion that may arise by having so many trains moving almost at the same time. Of course the conductors are always there to call out the trains, but there are people who merely run and jump onto a car and think no more about it until too late. The best method would be to have some kind of placards on the trains that might be taken in as soon as the train leaves. It is hoped that the company will adopt some early methods to remove this slight inconvenience and complete a system that is practically perfect.

Permission Secured To Use Tents For 57th's Trip

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., Received Word to That Effect, That Militia Department Had Granted His Request.

FACILITATE ARRANGEMENTS

Mr. Hall, M.P., has received a telegram from the Department of Militia, Ottawa, conveying the information that, in response to representations made by him to that department, the Minister of Militia has decided to issue to the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, tents and rations for the trip to St. Catharines for Dominion Day.

This decision referred to will facilitate very materially the work of quartering the regiment on this annual trip, and the officers and men of the local battalion will doubtless appreciate the interest displayed in their welfare by the member, for West Peterborough.

WEDDING BELLS

WATSON-GREEN

Havelock, June 22.—Another June wedding of much interest took place on Wednesday afternoon at 5.30 at the residence of Mr. D. A. Forde, when Miss Rose E. Green was joined in holy matrimony to Mr. Willard Watson. Rev. A. E. Camp performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss A. Green of Madoc, both being attired in pretty white organdie dresses, trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertion and carrying pretty bouquets of carnations, the groom being supported by Mr. Robert Flynn, brother of the bride. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and to the bridesmaid a pretty gold brooch. After the ceremony a dainty repast was partaken of in the dining-room, the tables being prettily adorned with cut flowers and smilax. The young couple have many friends in Havelock, having resided here for a number of years, who wish them a long and prosperous life. They will reside in their newly-built house on George street east.

Back From A Long Trip To The Pacific Coast

Peterborough Gentlemen Returned Yesterday---More Confident Than Ever In Canada's Greatness—Some Impressions of Trip.

MR. J. C. SHOOK'S VIEWS

With pleasant recollection of a most enjoyable journey, and with a fitting realization of the fact that Canada, in point of resources and advantages, compares most favourably with her prosperous neighbours to the south, Messrs. E. H. D. Hall, G. M. Rogers and J. C. Shook returned yesterday from a five-weeks' trip to the Pacific Coast. Their journey to Uncle Sam's domain has only served to convince them more thoroughly of Canada's greatness and also of the fact that Peterborough, when compared to places of its population across the border, has much reason to pride itself upon its showing.

Mr. Shook, when seen by the Examiner in reference to his trip, very kindly supplied some very interesting information.

"We visited a good many places while away," he said, "but we did not see a place of Peterborough's size more progressive than this city."

The party left Peterborough for the West on May 13, and during their journey they travelled through ten states of the Union.

Pike's Peak Visited

The outward trip was made via Chicago, and the party stopped for a day at Denver, Col., which place did not very favourably impress Mr. Shook. Mr. Geo. Edwards, brother of Col. E. B. Edwards, was met in Denver. Two days were pleasantly spent at Colorado Springs, where the famous Pike's Peak, 14,000 feet above the level of the sea was visited. The tourists made the ascent to the summit on the cogged railway and enjoyed the novel view from the top. Leaving Colorado Springs, they passed through Pueblo, where are situated great smelting works. A day was very pleasantly spent in Salt Lake City, the population of which is predominated by the followers of Brigham Young. The place is well laid out and progressive. Here the party visited the famous tabernacle which seats 10,000 people and which is built without a single column in the interior of the structure, the roof being dome-shaped. The local gentleman had the pleasure of listening to an organ recital on the tabernacle organ, said to be the finest in America.

A Desolate Waste

Al feature that was remarked upon by the party was that soon after passing Omaha the country seemed to be a desolate waste for the most part, cattle and sheep raising appearing to be the principal industries, while corn is about the only grain grown.

Leaving Salt Lake on the San Pedro and Salt Lake line the same conditions were found. The country was an arid desert with no growth of timber, and this continued until they reached a few miles north of San Bernardino, California, where they suddenly entered a most beautiful country, with orange trees and tropical fruits and flowers of all kinds. Most of the oranges, with the exception of the late varieties, had been gathered.

Beautiful California

The party was delighted with the climate and scenery of California around Redlands and Riverside. The land there is very productive if irrigated, a process made necessary by the fact that for the greater part of the rain falls in the winter, when it is not needed. The visitors were greatly interested in the palm trees and fruits and flowers, and spent several days most pleasantly and profitably in the neighbourhood of Riverside.

Los Angeles, 80 miles away and situated in a country of almost continuous orchards and vineyards, was next visited, and was found to be a thriving and busy place, with beautiful parks and residences. A visit to the ostrich farm was one of the features of the stay in this city, and the party also found time to visit Pasadena, called by its inhabitants in their modest American fashion, "The paradise of the world." It is the winter home of a large number of eastern millionaires, whose residences are made beautiful in every way that wealth and art can suggest. Mr. Graham, son of Mr. Graham of Lakefield, who is Inspector of Public Schools in Pasadena, very pleasantly entertained the visitors, the programme including a drive around the city.

A Noted Summer Resort

The next place visited was the Catalina Islands, 28 miles from San Pedro, on the coast, a beautiful, natural summer resort, where submarine gardens and seal rocks are among the attractions. Seals were seen swimming among the boats in the bay.

The party next went to Santa Barbara, where they saw the old Spanish mission established there in 1776.

Leaving here, the Southern Pacific brought them to San Francisco, the city of the earthquake, where the party spent but one day. It was found that the city was in a very bad state, owing to labour troubles and a street car strike, which, coupled with a weak administration, left the city almost in the hands of the mob. So dangerous was the condition of affairs that San Francisco people who happened to be returning to the city at night would wait over until morning at some station not far away, rather than risk being abroad in the city late at night.

The Mayor in Trouble

The mayor is under indictment on a charge of alleged misappropriation of the funds sent in to the relief of the earthquake sufferers. The amount of work done in rebuilding the city has been disappointingly small, and was practically at a stand-still when the party visited the city.

Passing up the coast through Seattle, the party once more entered Canada and spent some time at Vancouver. The buoyant feeling of hope for the future of their city, which had been encountered among the people of every place visited, was even more pronounced in Vancouver, every citizen of which thinks that it will be the finest city in the world. Great progress is being made there, and, in the hope of being a terminus of the Hill lines, a new city is springing up in North Vancouver.

Nelson, B. C., was also visited, and land values were found to be very high. The country seems peculiarly adapted to fruit farming and a great amount is being done.

Canada's Greatness

After passing the Rockies on their way east, the party began to realize Canada's greatness. When they contrasted the green prairies with the desolate wastes of the American Western States and the bustling towns and villages, each with its two or three grain elevators, with the towns across the border, they could understand why so many Americans were leaving their homes to help us to develop Canada's great Northwest.

In the West everything seemed to be bursting forth with the promise of an abundant and rich harvest this year. Trainload after trainload of immigrants were met by the party, who are delighted and astounded by the possibilities offered by the West.

BROTHERS-IN-LAW WERE BOTH ELECTROCUTED AT RAVEN LAKE

Examiner Special.

Lindsay, June 22. — A man named Armstrong, employed at the the Raven Lake Cement Company's works, north of Victoria Road, lost his life on Wednesday evening, by coming in contact with a live wire, which he was adjusting.

Dr. Blanchard, coroner, of this town, was notified, and proceeded north to hold an investigation. A jury was empannelled, but the proceedings had to be adjourned until Monday next.

This is the second fatality of the kind within a few months, the first victim being a brother-in-law of Armstrong.

An Iron Cooking Pot That Was Used In Reign Of Henry VIII

An Interesting Relic From the Tudor Era is an Heirloom in a Local Family---An Iron Utensil That Was Moulded Many Years Ago and Is Yet in Good Condition---Traced Back 385 Years.

MR. WM. DENNIS, OWNER

Mr. William Dennis of Rubidge street, is the possessor of an heirloom, in the form of a small iron cooking pot or kettle, which his wife can date back in her family at least 385 years. This ordinary household article has been in use in four countries, and was among the first that was ever used in this vicinity.

Its history is most interesting to Peterborough people, as it was brought to this locality nearly one hundred years ago, when the Robinson immigrants from the old land settled in the present township of Douro.

First Appearance

Mrs. Dennis says that according to her family's history, the kettle was manufactured in Scotland, and, since it is characteristic of the Scotch to make things so that they may withstand the wear and tear of time. It is probably due to this that the article is intact to-day. In what year it first received shape, Mrs. Dennis does not know, by by a careful computation of the ages of her nearer forefathers, she is certain that it is at least 385 years in service. Perhaps it was first used by the thrifty Scotch in preparing their usual meals of porridge, if this is not an anachronism, and it is a certainty that it was used in Ireland to boil the national food—potatoes; and in later years in Peterborough county, it was put to a similar use, with the addition of other vegetables and meat. First known in Scotland, it was taken to England, thence to the county of Cork, Ireland, and then to Canada, and is now looked upon as a relic and a remembrance of a forgotten people, who begot a sturdy race of men and bred them on simple, but healthy foods.

How it was Traced

Mrs. Dennis' maiden name was Mary Sullivan. Her father passed away 14 years ago, at the age of 75 years. He received the kettle from his mother, who died when she was 90 years old, and she had received it from her mother at the latter's death, when she was 100 years old; and now comes the last link: This last mentioned lady, who lived during a whole century, received the kettle from her mother, who died at the age of 106 years. This is all that is known of the utensil, and it may be years older, than is really known; however, during these 385 years just accounted for, it is known to have been in the family. The first owner then was the great grandmother of Mrs. Dennis' father. It will be noticed that as the years passed, each generation of this family became more short-lived, which fact is true of the whole race.

Contemporaneous History

From these statements which are undoubtedly true and supposing the kettle was manufactured 385 years ago, the first owner used it in the reign of Henry VIII., when the Reformation was agitating England, and the country was entering upon the Tudor era. James V. was King of Scotland, and Mary, Queen of Scots, was probably a little child. It has passed through many stormy periods but the local history is as interesting as any.

Brought to Canada

Mrs. Dennis' father came to Canada when only a little boy, with his mother, from Tipperary, with the Robinson immigration. The family settled in Douro, and when young Sullivan was married and moved to the present township of Galway, and undoubtedly was the first settler in that district. Times were very dull then, and the people had to work hard to exist. Mr. Sullivan was also the first settler in Douro, settling there at least 90 years ago. There were no roads then, and the people had to walk through the woods to the settlement here for their immediate necessities. One man, a Mr. Michael O'Brien, walked from Galway to this place, then but sparsely built up, with an infant child, which he desired a priest to baptise. This is but an example of the condition of the primeval Peterborolans, but it suffices to show that the men then knew nothing of fatigue.

Mr. Quinn is as yet undecided as to what he will do with his heirloom but he has every record to prove that this story is true, and that this ordinary iron kettle was really used by his wife's forefathers in the fifteenth century.

PIANO PUPILS GAVE A RECITAL

Pupils of Miss Gumpricht Rendered a Delightful Programme

Last night a delightful recital was given by the pupils of Miss Wilhelmine Gumpricht, A.T.C.M. and A.O.C.M., at her studio, which was crowded with pupils and their friends. The following programme was rendered, and the young musicians did themselves and their teacher great credit.

When Your Health Fails, What Then

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle. Success is for the strong and alert — for those whose blood is rich and whose nerve cells are filled with vigour and energy. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion and to keep health at high water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Special Committee Decides To Allow Matters To Stand

Request of Picton Methodist Church ts Allow Rev. J. J. Rae to Continue Pastorate, Canuot be Granted.

MEETING AT TRENTON

The Special Conference Committe of the Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference met yesterday in Trenton to consider the request of the Picton Methodist congregation, of which Rev. J. J. Rae has been pastor, that he should continue his pastorate during the coming year. It is understood that a deputation from the church was present to present the request, and the matter was given a full consideration.

The decision of the committee was the matters should be allowed to stand as they were, which means that Mr. Rae, as he requested, will be without a station this year, and Rev. V. H. Emory of Bowmanville will succeed him in the pastorate of the Picton church.

ADJT. WIGGINS LENDS AID TO WOMAN

Without Money to Take Her to Her Husband in Hamilton

One of the late arrivals from the Old Country is Mrs Thos. Wren, who arrived in Peterborough after crossing the Atlantic in the Salvation Army's chartered steamer, Vancouver. Her husband had been living in this city for some time and was boarding at the Y.M.C.A. She had written him and stated she would come to Canada as soon as possible and Mr. Wren did not expect her for a month at least. He received a position in Hamilton and left for that place two weeks ago. Mrs. Wren arrived before she had received word of her husband's changed address and had expected to meet him here. Her allowance of money had reached low ebb and had not sufficient to pay her fare to Hamilton. She said that one of the men on the C.P.R. train had promised to lend her money until she reached Hamilton.

She went to the Y.M.C.A. and learned that her husband was not there. She passed the night at the Y.W.C.A. and the next day determined to proceed on her way. She had called at the Salvation Army barracks and it remained to Adjt. Wiggins' unlimited kindness to see that the woman received proper care. He advanced the necessary money and Mrs. Wren started for Hamilton to join her husband. This is another proof of the true interest that the Army people have for those who are in need and in this case the officer's assistance was very timely.

THE LAWN SOCIAL WAS UNIQUE

An Interesting Event Held Last Night at Springville Presbyterian Church

Last night a lawn social, unique, in many ways, was held on the Presbyterian church lawn, Springville. It was well attended, and a most delightful evening was spent. A splendid programme was given, solos being contributed by Miss Robson, of Norwood, who is a favourite with Springville audiences, and she had to respond to a demand for an encore. Addresses were given by Rev. Messrs Sexsmith, Methodist minister of Cavanville, and McKenzie, Presbyterian minister at Centreville.

An interesting and novel feature was the exhibition of views by limelight, pictures of Labrador, and the far north being shown, along with views taken by Dr. Marsh himself. Illustrated plantation songs were also included in the programme.

To many, doubtless, to the majority of those present, the most interesting feature in connection with the social, was the opportunity given of looking at the moon and stars, through Rev. Dr. Marsh's telescope. Two minute star-gazing was allowed for ten cents and about two hundred persons availed themselves of the opportunity of viewing the heavens through the range.

From every standpoint, the social, which closed with the serving of refreshments, was a decided success.

AN ENJOYABLE OUTING TAKEN

Ketchecum Club Returned Last Night From Week's Trip

The Ketchecum fishing party returned last night after a most enjoyable outing at Belle Chaise, Mr. H. LeBrun's beautiful summer home on Stony Lake. In point of enjoyment and good luck in fishing, the party has never had a better week at Stony Lake. Everyone in the party had a fish to bring home and also a crop of new fish stories. Mr. Alex. Elliott had the honour of landing the biggest lunge caught, hooking one that tipped the scales at 15 pounds. Mr. Livingstone of Montreal, caught three bass weighing 12 1-2 pounds. The weather conditions were perfect throughout the week.

COUNTY COUNCIL CLOSES SESSION

Business of June Meeting Was Concluded This Morning

At the concluding sitting of the June session of the County Council this morning, the reports of the different committees were read and adopted, and bylaws confirming the reports passed. During this session of the Council considerable business has been transacted which will be productive, doubtless, of improved conditions.

POTATOES SOLD AT 1.40 PER BAG

Market Not Well Attended—Farmers Want Protection From Hot Sun

The market this morning was again very small and with the exception of garden products and butter and eggs, there was little offered for sale. The day was scorching hot and many of the market frequenters were complaining. They would like some sort of covering to keep the sun and rain off.

Butter took a drop from last Saturday, selling to-day at 22c and 24c per pound. Potatoes are still expensive the big demand putting the price up to $1.25 and $1.40 per bag. Eggs were offered at 18c per dozen, ad chickens at from 75c to $1 per pair. Hay is yet in good demand and is being disposed of at $15 per ton.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of ever getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

EMMERSON LIBEL CASE IS OFF

Dr. Pugsley Refuses to Continue Trial At Present Sitting.

ADJOURNED UNTIL MONDAY

Judge Landry Refuses Application For Commission—Witnesses For Defence Leave For Home—Decision On Legal Points Reserved —May Refer to Supreme Court —Counsel Questions Ruling.

Fredericton, N. B., June 22.—As far as the present sitting of the court is concerned the now celebrated case of the King, on the information of H. R. Emmerson vs. James H. Crocket is concluded. Yesterday morning Judge Landry refused the application of the Crown for a commission to issue to examine two former night porters at St. Lawrence Hall, Montreal, and intimated that on the question of referring the legal points raised on the demurrer to the full Bench he would give his decision on Monday. Hon. Wm. Pugsley, in reply, said that in view of the extreme importance of the issues involved he would appeal from his Honor's decision should it be adverse to the Crown, and would not go on with the trial at the present sitting. The witnesses for the defence left for their homes yesterday, as the proceedings on Monday, in any event, will be only formal.

Court opened with an attempt by the prosecution to procure a postponement because two witnesses, by name Foster and O'Brien, were missing, one being in England and the other in the United States. So swore Hon. William Pugsley, by affidavit, to the best of his knowledge and belief. One of these men, it was believed, had been the porter who had assured Mr. Emmerson's lady friends that there was no need to leave the hotel. The affidavit concluded with the assertion that it was not made for the purpose of delay.

Mr. Pugsley followed up the filing of this document with a citation of decisions as to adjournments of criminal cases. As to the time of making the application, the contention was that the crown could not have moved before the plea of justification has been entered.

"In connection with this, I propose to ask your honor to refer to the Supreme Court, which meets on Aug. 30, the question of law as to whether or not your honor should have overruled the demurrer.

A Ruling on Libel.

"It is a question affecting libel suits generally, because there is a section in the code which says that no man is guilty of publishing defamatory matter, which he on reasonable grounds believes to be true. If your honor's memory is correct, on any charge of this nature bearing upon private character, if the court holds that the publication is in the public interest, no matter whether the statement is true or not, all the defendant has to do is to enter the box, give the source of information, and say that on reasonable ground he believes the statement to be true."

Judge Landry went over the code on this subject, and Mr. Pugsley proceeded to declare that under his honor's ruling there could be no successful prosecution for libel.

Court Overrules Motion.

John Lloyd, the ex-night clerk, and Harry Dean, ex-night watchman, at the St. Lawrence Hall, were then placed on the stand. They were positive that neither O'Brien nor Foster, both ascribed as employes of that hotel, had been in the service of the hotel on June 10, or for a considerable time prior thereto.

The court overruled the motion for a commission to examine these witnesses.

Mr. Pugsley again implored the court not to bring on the trial, but to refer the legal questions contained in the demurrer to the full court.

This led Judge Landry to say: "I feel strongly on the question of a reference to the full court. While I am satisfied that my decison of yesterday was right, yet it would be a relief to me to have it upheld by the full court. I will give a decision on Monday, but I would suggest that witnesses be on hand.

"Then I may tell your honor frankly," interposed Mr. Pugsley, "that if your honor refuses to refer the case to the Supreme Court, in view of the strong feeling that I have and though there would be no great difficulty in getting an appeal to the Supreme Court, I would feel in my duty before going to trial to exhaust every resource that the law offers. I may tell my learned friend (Mr. Hazen) that he need not have his witnesses here on Monday, as I will not go on then, nor at this court."

Judge Landry said that it was because of the difficulty in the way of an appeal that he was reserving judgmen. He wanted to get information as to the sittings of the Supreme Court, to see if there could be a speedy argument.

Mr. Hazen: "Do I understand that my learned friend will not go on?"

Mr. Pugsley: "Not at this court."

"Do I understand that you will enter a nolle prosequi?"

"No, I have made my statement. I do not proposed to add or to detract from it."

During the argument Mr. Pugsley remark that it was not a private prosecution, but in every case there must be some one to lay the information.

Dies of Lockjaw.

Belleville, June 22.—George Wilson Mitchell, son of James K. Mitchell of this city, died in the hospital early yesterday morning. He was 17 years old. Two weeks ago he stepped on a rusty nail, which penetrated his right foot. Lockjaw developed.

Was Instantly Killed.

Walkerville, June 22.—Harry Eastman, an employe of the Canadian Bridge Co. here, was struck by a falling girder yesterday, and killed almost instantly. He was a young man and only lately married.

FRENCH TROOPS ARE IN MUTINY

Battalion of Infantry Join Rioters In Southern France.

CLEMENCEAU REMAINS FIRM

Cabinet Holds All-Night Session—Mutineers Receive Warm Welcome From Insurgents—Artillery Sent to Compel Submission — Will Use Whole French Army if Necessary—Police Beaten.

Paris, June 22.—A battalion of the 17th Infantry Regiment, stationed at Agde, in the Department of Herault, has deserted with its arms and ammunition and joined the insurgent wine-growers at Beziers, the headquarters of the regiment. The mutineers, who mostly were recruited from the wine-growers, number about 400 men. They marched into Beziers, which has about 50,000 inhabitants, with drums beating and colors flying, and are now camped in the principal square of that city, with stacked arms. The deserters tried to enlist the sympathies of the remainder of the regiment, stationed at Beziers, but, failing to do so, they promised to eject them from the barracks.

Premier's Curt Reply.

Early yesterday afternoon the subprefect of Beziers notified Premier Clemenceau that the mutineers had offered to return to Agde on the condition that they were not punished. A little later they renewed their demand to be allowed to re-occupy their former barracks at Beziers. M. Clemenceau curtly replied that he refused to parley with deserters, or consider any proposal but unconditional surrender, adding that he was determined to utilize all the country's force, if necessary, in order to suppress the uprising.

General Bailloud, with artillery and other troops, is proceeding to Beziers in order to compel the unconditional surrender of the mutineers, who are now said to number 607 men.

The Cabinet held a lengthy session Thursday night, only breaking up at midnight. The crisis in the Midi was thoroughly discussed. At 2 a.m. it was announced that Premier Clemenceau had received a message from the Prefect at Narbonne stating that order had been restored.

Blood Incensed Mob.

Narbonne, June 22.—A conflict in which the 139th fired, volleys caused the worst possible impression. The shooting appears to have been due to the precipitancy of a non-commissioned officer, and it is stated that the commandant of the 139th was so horror-stricken at the unfortunate affair that he tore off his insignia of rank in front of his men, and later resigned his commission, but this is not confirmed. Crowds stood Thursday night [illegible] pools of blood where the dead and wounded fell. On the bloodstained paving stones is chalked the inscription: "Here fell the victims of the 139th. Death to Clemenceau and Picquart."

The funeral of the victims was fixed to take place yesterday, and the greatest precautions were apprehended. A police commissary of Paris who was detached on special duty at Narbonne was caught by the mob and horribly beaten. It is feared he will not recover.

There are persistent rumors that the Prefect of the Department of the Aude has been assassinated at Narbonne.

Support Cabinet.

After six hours' debate the Chamber last night by 327 to 223 votes decided to support the Cabinet and give the Ministers a free hand to employ any measures they deem best to re-establish order.

The receipt of a despatch from Beziers later in the day announcing that the mutinous battalion had decided to return to the rest of the regiment caused decided satisfaction in official circles, as it was hoped that the action taken would head off any further open insubordination among the troops.

Charles Ward, on a grave charge, also got ten years. His wife and two daughters testified against him.

Strikers Win Out.

Montreal, June 23.—The strike of the Dominion Transport Co.'s teamsters, which started Wednesday, when 300 men employed by the company stopped work, was ended last night by the company agreeing to grant the increase demanded by the men, who will receive $1.75 a day and 20c an hour overtime. They were receiving $1.60 a day.

Will Not Declare Strike.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—A conference yesterday of delegates representing all the revolutionary groups, including the Polish socialists, union of railway employes, group of toil and peasants party, rejected the proposal to declare a general strike as a response to the dissolution of Parliament.

CAUGHT LIKE RATS IN A TRAP

Several Men, Perish In Flames On Board "Crystal Stream."

DISASTER ON ST. JOHN RIVER

Others of Crew Severely Injured—Spark Sets Fire to Hay Cargo—Blaze Spread With Great Rapidity—Men Were Sleeping Below—Charred Bodies Found in Ruins—Loss $62,500.

St. John, N. B., June 22.—Four men were burned to death and half a dozen other persons badly hurt in a disaster at Cole's Island early yesterday morning, when the steamer Crystal Stream was totally destroyed.

The Crystal Stream was an old New York sidewheeler, brought here five years ago to run on the St. John River and Washademoak Lake. D. J. Purdy, M.P.P., of St. John, is the principal owner.

The steamer, which makes two trips a week, was lying on the west wharf at Cole's Island, 50 miles from St. John, on her down trip to this city, heavily loaded with hay.

Shortly after 1 o'clock fire was discovered on the upper deck. It had evidently caught in the hay from a spark from the smokestack. With great rapidity it spread through the light freight, and before the members of the crew could be awakened the whole steamer was in flames.

Hemmed In Like Rats.

Most of the men were sleeping in the lower deck below the freight, and were hemmed in by the fire like rats in a trap. As soon as those on the upper decks were aroused they endeavored, but without success, to extinguish the flames, turning their attention also to those of their comrades who were below decks.

Strenuous efforts were put forth to rescue the men who were below, and it was not until the rescuers were unable to approach even the side of the steamer that the task was given up.

William Logan and Allan Logan, two brothers, belonging to Land's End; Fred Smith of Shannon, Queen's County, and a fourth man named Baxter, were burned to death, and yesterday morning their charred bodies were found in the ruins.

Engineer Wentworth Roberts and the stewardess, Mrs. Chase, both belonging to St. John, were quite seriously burned, while Capt. Mabee and other members of the crew sustained painful injuries. Herbert McAlary, the mate, and H. P. Belyea, the purser, were also badly burned.

The steamer cost $22,500 and is insured for half her value.

WHOLE FAMILY SLAIN.

Man Kills Wife and Three Children, Then Suicides.

Atlanta, Ga., June 22.—A special to the Journal from Jasper, Fla., says W. W. Barton, a carpenter, shot and instantly killed his wife, three children, and himself at his home there, Wednesday night. One victim, a child five years old, survived long enough to tell that Barton did the killing. Barton left home Tuesday and did not return until late Wednesday evening, when he found the doors nailed against him. He battered them down and began his work of destruction.

TOOK MORPHINE TABLETS.

Domestic Trouble Leads Doctor's Wife to Commit Suicide.

Brockville, June 22.—Mrs. Sadie Mulholland, wife of Dr. W. Mulholland of Henvelton, committed suicide by swallowing morphine tablets. The woman's act is thought to have been due to domestic troubles.

The couple had disagreed, and the doctor took their child to the home of his parents in Massena. It was during his absence that she took the fatal dose. Some hours later she was found in an unconscious condition, and soon afterwards died.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Powder Explodes In Man's Pocket, But He Escapes Injury.

Sydney, N. S., June 23.—While Norman McLeod was carrying some plugs of powder inside his clothing on the way to work yesterday morning, a spark fell from his pipe and set off the powder.

The explosion actually blew the clothing from his body and did damage to the street, but beyond a slight burn and a bad fright McLeod is none the worse for the experience.

TO AMEND SUBSIDIES ACT.

Second Reading Passed in British House of Commons Yesterday.

London, June 22.—The British North America Act, as amended, passed the second reading yesterday.

Winston Churchill and Lamar Greenwood supported it, pointing out that, whilst the Government could not interfere between British Columbia and the Dominion, the door was still open for any province to make better terms if possible.

The words "final and unalterable" were omitted, because it was impossible to bind the successive Parliaments.

Mr. Greenwood inflicted with pride as a Canadian the dignified and quiet way the Canadian Prime Ministers, including Mr. McBride, had brought the matter to the Colonial Office. Mr. Greenwood said the bill must pass by July 1. He said the Government intended it to pass.

Don't Like Lemieux Act.

Ottawa, June 22.—R. W. Botterell, who is the only grand officer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in Canada, returned yesterday from Quebec, where that body has been in session. The meetings were private.

He says that generally the engineers were not satisfied with Mr. Lemieux's Labor Disputes Act, but decided to leave the matter over for further discussion.

The locomotive engineers will hold their convention in Ottawa next year.

JURY MUST DECIDE.

Judge Refuses to Direct Haywood's Acquittal on Murder Charge.

Boise, Idaho, June 22.—When the state yesterday closed its case against Wm. D. Haywood, charged with the murder of ex-Governor Frank Steunenberg, the defence made an unsuccessful attempt to have the court direct the jury to acquite the prisoner on the ground that the state had not proved its charge. Judge Woods' ruling, which requires the defence to meet with evidence the case that the state has presented, was made at the close of court, and it was then arranged that Haywood's counsel should make their opening statement and present their first testimony on Monday.

The prosecution introduced a few witnesses to corroborate previous evidence, and then formerly rested its case. The motion for an instruction to the jury to acquit was by agreement, presented at the afternoon session, and the jury was sent out of hearing.

Statute Forbads Conviction.

Mr. Richardson said among other things:

"I would say to your honor, that if Haywood was guilty of the blowing up of the Vindicator Mine, which he is not; if he had guilty knowledge of the attempt on Gabbert, which he had not; if Haywood were guilty of the conspiracy on the life of Peabody, which he is not; if he killed Walley, which he did not; if he planned to kill Bradley, which he did not; if all these things were true, which they are not; all this would be insufficient to convict him of a crime on the body of Steunenberg. These were all crimes committed in states other than the State of Idaho, and this man Haywood stands charged only with a crime committed within the borders of the State of Idaho.

"We come, therefore, to the proposition: By whom does this man stand connected with the murder of Steunenberg, except by the mouth of the man who sat in that witness chair, and whose unsupported word is not worthy of belief by any living person.

"Why, your honor, we can find 5,000 men in Idaho who are guilty of the murder of Steunenberg if a denunciation of Steunenberg made a man guilty of that murder.

SEEKS BRITISH SHELTER.

Shah of Persia's Rebellious Brother Asks Protection at Consulate.

Teheran, Persia, June 22.—Aboul Fath Mirza Salared Dowlah, the rebel brother of the Shah, and third son of the predecessor, Muzaffer-ed-Din, has taken refuge at the British Consulate at Kermanshah and asked security for himself and his family.

Aboul Fath Mirza raised the standard of revolt immediately on his father's death. His claim is that Mohammed Ali Mirza, the present Shah, though his father's eldest son, is not the son of a princess of the Kadjar race and therefore, is not qualified to become Shah. Aboul asserts that he is the eldest son by a Kadjar mother. He was Governor of Luristan, a mountainous province in Western Persia, previous to his revolt, and he had a force of 10,000 local troops at the outset, with which he started to march to Teheran.

BAD AUTO ACCIDENT.

Motor Going at Tremendous Speed—All Occupants Killed.

Naples, June 22.—A most appalling automobile accident occurred at Caisanelle, about 100 miles distant from Naples, Thursday, five men being killed. The motor car, which was going at high speed, ran into a rock and was demolished.

Among the killed was Prince Pescara, a member of the Italian nobility and related to the Spanish royal house, on account of whose death the aristocracy of the whole of lower Italy will be in mourning.

Word has been received in Rome that the automobile containing Marquis Ferraro, the Duke de la Regina, two guests, one of whom is believed to have been an American woman, and chauffeur, plunged into a ravine on the Naples road. All were killed.

Engineer Badly Scalded.

Ottawa, June 22.—Engineer Edward Reddick of Ottawa was severely scalded on the arms, legs, body and face in a collision Thursday night at Lachute, as a result of the steam escaping from a break. His head also was badly injured. He is in the hospital here critically ill.

Fireman Row was also badly scalded, but not so seriously. They were brought to Ottawa by special train this morning that had just passed on the way to Montreal.

Edward Reddick, the Ottawa engineer so badly injured at Lachute Thursday night through steam escaping in the cab he was in, died at the general hospital yesterday afternoon.

It is understood there will be a full enquiry as to how another train was standing at Lachute station. Coroner Baptie opens an inquest this morning.

Accused of Stealing $3,000.

Montreal, June 22.—Joseph E. Costin, an agent of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., was brought before the court yesterday morning on a charge of stealing the sum of $3,000 from the company. Costin is alleged to have secured the money by means of a forged cheque. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded.

Condemned to Death.

Kiev, Russia, June 22.—The court-martial convened to try the mutinous sappers at the summer camp, at Bankievka, is said to have acted with promptness and severity. It is reported that forty-eight mutineers have already been condemned and shot.

Thief Throws $100 Away.

London, June 22.—While returning to the city from Springbank, Abraham Slater, a member of the firm of Slater Bros., tailors, was relieved of $700 by a pickpocket, while riding on the rear end of a heavily loaded trolley car. The thief got away with the cash.

At midnight Slater came across his man at the Grand Trunk depot, and again gave chase, during which he saw the pickpocket throw something into a pile of old bricks. This was found to be $100. The thief escaped.

THE HIGHEST RECOMMENDATION

for the shares of the LUCKY BOYS GOLD MINES, LIMITED, is the fact that large blocks are being rapidly subscribed for at Cobalt, Haileybury, New Liskeard and Larder Lake. We are receiving letters from mining engineers and miners every day reserving large blocks of LUCKY BOYS shares. These men have been over the ground, and in all of the letters we receive from them they say that the properties are even better than we represent them, and that LUCKY BOYS will be the greatest and most profitable mines in the Larder Lake district. The fact that these experienced men are investing their own money in LUCKY BOYS should be sufficient to satisfy the most skeptical. Miners employed on the nearby mines are all pinning their faith to the LUCKY BOYS. They are buying all the shares they can. They realize what a splendid investment they are getting in buying LUCKY BOYS [illegible] PER SHARE. They know a good thing when they see it. Are you going to join them in making a fortune? Bankers and conservative business men throughout the whole country are now buying LUCKY BOYS for their investment. We strongly advise our clients not to hesitate, but buy LUCKY BOYS to-day at SIX CENTS PER SHARE. We have only one million shares to dispose of at this price, and at the rate that these shares are being absorbed we predict that they will not last long. The public will be kicking over themselves six months from now trying to buy at One Dollar per share or more. We strongly urge the immediate purchase of these shares. We are placing our own funds in it and we are willing to stake our reputation on the merits of LUCKY BOYS.

LUCKY BOYS

The LUCKY BOYS properties consist of 20 claims of 40 acres each, making a total acreage of 800 acres. Some of the claims adjoin the famous Reddick claims, others adjoin the Proprietary Gold Fields, and others adjoin the wonderful Blue Bell properties.

We have sent our own mining engineers to examine and report on the properties, we have looked exhaustively into the merits of LUCKY BOYS before offering the shares to our clients. We question if an opportunity like this will ever present itself to you again. We advise our clients to buy LUCKY BOYS.

We advise you to buy all you can, you are bound to greatly profit thereby.

The stock of the LUCKY BOYS is actually worth a great deal more money than the price we are asking for it. Our engineers figure there is in sight on the properties of this Company gold equal to many times the par value of the total capitalization of the Company. All it requires for investors to make money is to have faith and confidence in the LUCKY BOYS proposition, and we strongly advise investors to put every dollar that they can in these shares at the present price.

Could you visit the Larder Lake district and examine the properties, as we have done, you would not hesitate a single moment in placing every dollar at your command in the shares of LUCKY BOYS at

6 CENTS PER SHARE

(Par Value, $1.00. Fully Paid and Non-assessable.)

It should be noted that all of the Directors of the Company are well-known and successful business men—not men that are simply interested in a mine—but men that are miners in every sense of the word, and who know how to operate, maintain and conduct a mine in a business-like manner, and who have been connected with the strongest and most successful mines in the Cobalt camp. These gentlemen are just the kind of mining men that investors should be glad to become identified with.

The fact that some of these gentlemen, who are Directors of the Company, and originally owned a part interest in some of the LUCKY BOYS claims, are buying the shares at 6 cents each with the cash that they receive for their interest in the properties should be sufficient to satisfy the most sceptical. These men know what a splendid investment they are getting in buying the shares at 6 cents each.

The mineral production during the current year has been remarkable as compared with former records, and it will be still greater in 1907. Remember, when you see the enormous advances in the prices of Larder Lake mining securities that are coming immediately and that will continue for months and months, if not for years, that we told you to select one or more good stocks, and that a small investment in them will yield inside of a very short time enormous profits that would be impossible in any other industry.

We are not trying to sell stocks of LUCKY BOYS to uneducated or half-witted people. We are trying to interest legitimate business men in a proposition that we believe will turn out to be one of the greatest of its kind the world has ever known, and again we say, if you are not in a position to hold this stock until such time as the LUCKY BOYS GOLD MINES, LIMITED, properties are developed, we do not want you to buy it. A mine cannot be developed in a day any more than a railway of 50 miles can be built in an hour, and no railway ever paid dividends or ever amounted to anything until the trains were running, and a mining property cannot amount to anything until the ore is being treated. People who purchase the stock of the LUCKY BOYS cannot expect the Officers and Directors of the Company to pay dividends until dividends are earned. We do honestly believe, however, that before the present summer is past LUCKY BOYS will be paying dividends to its stockholders. We are in business to-day and we propose to stay in it while there is any business to be had, and we can say to you now that in some years to come we expect to be counted among the financial houses that are spoken of and referred to in the highest terms by investors.

When we offered the first block of Blue Bell shares, we predicted that the Larder Lake district would be the greatest gold district in the world, and our predictions are being endorsed daily by miners arriving from the golden north with the beautiful specimens of pure free gold. These men fully endorse our predictions. The time is not far distant when the eyes of the whole world will be concentrated upon the wonderful golden north of New Ontario.

A year ago very few white men had trodden the trail through the Larder Lake district. To-day the greatest stampede the world has ever known is taking place. Capitalists, mining engineers and prospectors are now "hitting the trail" and hurrying through as fast as they can. Millions of dollars will be offered for some of the Larder Lake properties within the next few months.

FIRE DANGER NOW OVER.

Five Horses Burned to Death—Settlers Have Heavy Losses.

Toronto, June 22.—Word has been received at the Parliament Buildings that a heavy rain is following along the line of the T. & N. O. Railway between New Liskeard and Moose Lake, and all danger of further fires in that district is over for the present.

Deputy Minister of Lands Aubrey White was informed from Webbwood that ten or twelve lots were burned over in the Township of Dunlop, and that Scott and Brown, jobbers, had five horses burned to death in Porter Township.

Mr. Henderson, Government agent at Sudbury, wrote that Moore and Molthrop had $10,000 worth of supplies destroyed by a fire in the Township of Hurley.

At Chapleau the fire approached so close to the village that it was with the greatest difficulty that the people saved their homes. The whole population had to turn out to fight the flames, and it was only after hours of hard work that the danger was averted.

Chief Fire Ranger Macdonald wired the department yesterday that the fires in James Township were all out. The damage in this district has been very heavy, but no detailed estimate is yet possible.

The chief ranger reports that five miles of the crown revenue between Silver Lake and Bear Creek were burned over, but most of the timber destroyed was Jack pine and the pine was practically left untouched.

A corps of specials was sent north yesterday by Hon. Frank Cochrane to make an estimate of the damage done. Their report, however, is not expected for a couple of weeks at the earliest.

The report that three people were burned in one of the fires has not been substantiated, and the department is not inclined to place much faith in the rumor.

Business Men In Convention Ask That System Be Extended.

Prince Albert, June 22.—Associated boards of trade closed a very important convention here on Thursday, and it was decided to meet in Medicine Hat next year.

The business included a resolution approving the action of the Government of Alberta in taking steps to provide a Government telephone service and calling upon the Saskatchewan Government to take a similar action. This was unanimously passed.

The abolition of local improvement districts and substitution therefor of regularly organized municipalities was also urged. It was decided to ask the Dominion Government to name the point of redemption in each of the new provinces and nominate deputy receivers-general to reside at such points. More roadways through forests, increase in number of fire rangers and other steps to preserve timber were also demanded. Provincial Governments are to be asked to provide 50 per cent. of the cost of hospitals when the balance is provided by municipalities; this is in addition to ordinary Government grants for maintenance.

The Dominion Government will be asked to establish several customs outports in Alberta and Saskatchewan, to facilitate handling customs business. Demand will also be made for more adequate postal service throughout new portions of the western provinces.

BURRIDGE LEADS IN BATTING

Local Backstop is Batting at a .444 Clip—The Records for the Season

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES

The averages so far for the Peterborough Baseball Club in the five games played show that Harry Burridge, the clever backstop, is leading with the stick with the splendid average of 444. # LOCAL COMPANIES DEPARTURE

Orders in Connection With the Transportation of Local Volunteers to Barriefield Camp

PARADE 7.30 ON TUESDAY

Final orders directing attention to the arrangements for the departure of the two local companies of the Composite Regiment for the Barriefield Camp have been issued by Major Clegg, commanding the detachment from the 57th Regiment. The two companies are fairly well filled, but if there are any others who would like to go to camp they may make application to the company officers, and places can probably be found for them.

Following are the orders:—

Headquarters, Peterboro, June 20.

Orders by Major E. B. Clegg, commanding 57th Regiment detachment Composite Regiment, No. 3 District; in accordance with Regimental order of the 21st inst.;

2. As much baggage as possible will be got ready and sent with the advance party which leaves at 8.30 a.m. on Monday, June 24th. All baggage not sent with the advance party must be ready at the drill hall not later than 7.30 a.m., Tuesday 25th inst.

3. That part of order No. 3, of the 18th inst. that calls for tunics as part of the clothing to be taken to camp is hereby cancelled, except for the members of the bugle band who will take tunics.

E. M. BEST, Lieut.
Acting Adjutant.

ORGANIST ENTERTAINED THE CHOIR

Members of St. Andrew's Choir Spent a Pleasant Evening

The choir of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church spent a pleasant evening last night, when the regular weekly practice was held at the home of Mrs. Chas. McClelland, Downie street, organist of the church. At the close of the practice refreshments were served and a social hour spent. Rev. J. G. Potter, being present, took opportunity to thank the choir for the help rendered to him and the church in the service of praise.

The musical service to-morrow will be as follows:

Morning Service.

Sanctus, "Holy Lord, God of Hosts."

Anthem—"I Will Arise and Go to My Father."

Solo—Mrs. Davidson.

Evening Service.

Anthem—"Savour, When Night Involves the Skies," Shelly.

Solo—Mr. Freeland.

MR. GEORGE HALL LANDED TWO LUNGE UP THE LAKES

Lucky Capture Made Near Juniper Island on Thursday

Mr. George Hall, of Toronto, who is visiting in the city, made two good catches of lunge at Stony Lake on Thursday evening. He went up with St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild excursion and in the evening went out for a trawl in the vicinity of Juniper Island. To make a long story short he captured two lunge, weighing seven and eight pounds respectively.

TWO LIQUOR CASES NOT SUBSTANTIATED

Liquor the Cause of All Other Trouble at the Police Court

Liquor was the cause of all the trouble at the police court this morning. David Moher was fined $2.00 for having been found drunk in a public place yesterday.

Two local hotelkeepers were each charged with having permitted a drunken person to consume intoxicating liquor on their premises. Inspector Jos. Stewart was the prosecutor, but failed to prove either case. Mr. Jas. Haverson, K.C., of Toronto appeared for the defendants and in one case argued that the man supplied with the liquor did not show any visible signs of his intoxication to the bartender. That is although he was seen staggering on the streets, he braced up in the bar and was seemingly sober. Magistrate Dumble agreed with counsel for defence. In the other case the prosecution fell flat.

CITY WATER FOUNTAIN IS BEING REMODELLED

Ice Cold Water Will Soon Flow Freely —A Necessity to the Public

The city fountain is being remodelled this morning and it will soon be ready for use—not before it is needed. The public will thank the city authorities most heartily if they attend to the regularly filling of the fountain with ice this year. A cool water drinking fountain is absolutely necessary.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of rural correspondents, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post-Card Column.

Dear Sir,—I notice that the drinking fountain at Central Park has been made ready for use, but, as yet no ice has been put in, and the people refuse to drink the lukewarm city water. It seems to me that if the Council would see that ice is placed in this fountain and the one at the police station they would be doing something that would be appreciated by the citizens, which is more than can be said of some of their actions.

Yours truly,
"THIRSTY."

FROG INDUSTRY IS IN DANGER

Lindsay Sees Possibility of One of its Most Flourishing Industries Being Injured and Appeals to Government

WANTS SOME RESTRICTIONS

In the last issue of Rod and Gun the following item appears:—

The Lindsay Branch of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association recently sent a deputation to the Minister of Public Works asking that the taking of frogs from the waters of Victoria County be prohibited during the spawning season, and covering the months of May, June and July. It was stated that owing to the ease by which frogs could be captured at night time by means of jack lights such immense quantities of frogs' legs had been shipped to the States during the past few years that the numbers of frogs had decreased to a point harmful to many interests. The frog hunters themselves were alive to the danger of the industry being ruined and the members stated that a great injury was being done by reducing the food supply for black bass, maskinonge, wild ducks and certain valuable fur bearing animals, such as mink, skunk, otter, etc., which depended on young frogs as a portion of their food. One delegate who, had dealt in the export of frogs' legs, stated that a few years ago a band of three men had sold to him in three months a sufficient quantity of frogs to fetch $5,000 in the New York market but at present it was utterly impossible to obtain such quantities. The Minister, (the Hon. Dr. Reaume) promised careful consideration of the representations that had been made to him.

When Your Health Fails, What Then

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle. Success is for the strong and alert — for those whose blood is rich and whose nerve cells are filled with vigour and energy. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion and to keep up the supply of rich, red blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this and nothing else. They actually make new blood and thus reach every part of the system. Mrs. Wm. Hall, Bloomfield, Ont., says: "I was a great sufferer from nervous prostration and heart trouble. I had dizzy spells and could not sleep. I was under the doctor's care for a long time but got no relief. I was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after using a few boxes I felt much better. I continued their use until I was entirely cured and can highly recommend them to all sufferers." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WARSAW STAGE DRIVER SENDS REPLY

Answers Councillor Quinlan's Letter About the Watering Trough

To the Editor of the Examiner, —

Dear Sir, — Last week while looking over a copy of your valuable paper I noticed a letter from Councillor Quinlan of Douro, in answer to my letter of the week previous. I notice by his letter he takes it rather sorely, and I am sorry he has taken it to heart. I simply said I was surprised that Councillor Quinlan left Mr. Leaby's motion without a seconder, when it was backed by a petition signed by 50 ratepayers of Douro, but when I saw his letter I am not at all surprised. I only wonder what he is talking about. Mr. Quinlan asked me a few questions which I must answer,

The reason I applied for a watering trough where I did, was because it wouldn't cost only about one-half, and would accommodate more ratepayers, and was more near the middle of my route than the trough proposed by Mr. Quinlan.

Mr. Quinlan seems to doubt my giving two dollars to encourage this watering place. If so let him ask the man who took up the subscription, then in his own words, open his eyes, and see where it is expended. I ask every ratepayer in Douro, from the north, south, east and west, to come and see for himself if I am not advocating a just cause at an expense of less than two cents for every hundred acres of land in the rich and prosperous township of Douro. I think Mr. Quinlan must be jollying me in his letter when he mentions all those watering places the Douro township has established years ago, and when he asked me why I did not mention Mr. Moher, the reeve, for not seconding the motion.

Hoping some councillor will second Mr. Leaby's motion at the next meeting and give Mr. Moher a chance to do his duty.

I remain, yours truly,

JOSEPH CROWE,
Warsaw stage driver.

A FAMILY MEDICINE

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the One Medicine Best Suited for the Whole Household

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest blood-builder known to medical science. They never fail to make rich, red blood—lots of it—the kind that brings health and strength to the sufferer. They are a family medicine—good for the grandmother or grandfather; the mother of father and for the growing children. Thousands have found new health and strength through the use of these pills. As proof of their being family medicine Mrs. Chas Castonguay, Michipicoten River, Ont., Says: — "My husband was ill for five months and was unable to do any work. He made several trips to the Soo to consult doctors and spent much money on medicine but nothing helped him—in fact he grew worse. He could not eat much and the little he did eat would not remain on his stomach. His stomach was examined by X Rays and found to be in a terribly inflammed condition. After remaining at the Soo for some time under the doctor's care without finding relief he returned home discouraged and afraid he was going to die. It was then Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended and by the time we had taken nine boxes he was perfectly well and able to go to work again." Mrs. Castonguay continues: "I have also used the Pills for female troubles and found them a perfect medicine. My little one also was good health and a rosy colour to Wh[illegible]em." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all the troubles due to poor blood or shattered nerves, such as anaemia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance, partial paralysis, etc., simply because they make rich, red, life-giving blood. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Time For the Graduation Gown—Attractive Styles For Old Ladies.

The type of girlish gowns classed as graduating frocks is of great interest to many people at this season. Such frocks are not only well adapted to the festivities that mark the close of the school term, but are quite as desirable for any other of the purposes for which an especially smart girlish toilet is required.

All the grandmother styles are reckoned especially attractive today, but no one now thinks of selecting any model without first making an estimate of the requirements, as a builder does before he contracts to build a house. The items are different, the materials filmy textured fabrics and pretty colored trimmings instead of bricks, paint, etc., but the principle is the same.

Embroidered collar and cuff sets in linen and similar fabrics are used on the spring coats. A touch of linen or an entire vest of it is seen even on some heavyweight suits.

Combs are now generally in sets. Back comb and side combs of different sorts are not at all smart.

A saleswoman said that she had sold more dotted brown veils this season than ever before.

Striped suitings of all sorts are greatly in vogue, but the gray and white ones are especially well liked. Here is a suit of this material with one of the new fitted jackets combined with a pleated skirt. Such a costume is admirable for a number of occasions, such as shopping, walking and traveling.

MEN THE BETTER COOKS.

They Pay Heed to Perfection of Details, Says an Authority.

M. Escoffier, the great chef, my man or maid; there never was a stuff too good for a cobbler or a cooper or a king to sit in; never a house too fine to shelter the human head. Elegance fits man. But do we not value these tools a little more than they are worth and sometimes mortgage a house for the mahogany we bring into it? I had rather eat my dinner off the head of a barrel or dress after the fashion of John the Baptist in the wilderness or sit on a block all my life than consume all myself before I got to a home and take so much pains with the outside that the inside was as hollow as an empty nut. Beauty is a great thing, but beauty of garment, house and furniture are tawdry ornaments compared with domestic love. All the elegance in the world will not make a home, and I would give more for a spoonful of real hearty love than for whole shiploads of furniture and all the gorgeousness the world can gather. —Oliver Wendell Holmes.

EXPLANATIONS ON COW TESTING

Binnie Tells of the Advantages of Associations to the Farmers

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—As a great many have been wondering what the objects and which results of the work of the Cow Testing Associations are, I thought a few lines in your valuable paper might point out exactly what each one is or is not doing. To obtain these results the dairy farmer weighs and tests each cow's milk, morning and evening, on three days of the month. These samples are tested by the Babcock test for butter-fat, at the end of the month. Knowing the total number of milk given and the per cent. of butter-fat in this milk, it is easy to calculate the actual value of each cow.

The new feature is, if the farmer knows the actual value of his cows he knows which ones are much or little profit from and which ones to do away with. When disposing of a cow, if I can dispose of his poorest one and keep the best ones to breed from, controlled the system and by using a bull that will surely touch the good milking strain, he can in time build up a herd which will give the large flow of rich milk.

This system of "breeding" and "feeding" is followed, in conjunction with testing, it will result in a richer and better quality of milk being sent to the factories. This will be advantageous to the milk producer because more and better quality of cheese can be made from a rich milk than from a poorer milk. For this reason it is in the interests of the milk producer to send a rich milk to the factories as he enriches himself as well as the country.

Another lesson to learn from these associations is that of co-operation. Why do not the farmers work together for their own common good? Almost all other trades and professions have "unions" and each member stands by his comrade in misfortune and in the end they win their case. Can the farmer not do the same? The Milk Producers' Association of Toronto, is a beginning of "Agricultural Unionism," and is a step in the right direction. We see that when they stood by their rights they won. They did not get exactly what they demanded but they got more than they would have, had each one acted independently. Hoping this will clear away a few of the mysteries of these Associations, I am,

Yours truly,

T. H. BINNIE.

PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of ever getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

1907 TIRES

More fun than ever bicycling this season. There's the new Dunlop Bicycle Tire, made by the Doughty Process. All dealers have them. They cost no more than the old style. A new shape; more elasticity; less liability to puncture; a slipless tread that won't wear off.

Look for the name embossed on the tread.

ENTITLED TO PARTICULARS

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion;
One ounce Compound Salatone;
Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla;

Mix, and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime, drinking plenty of water.

The above prescription has been found invaluable in the treatment of kidney, bladder and urinary troubles, and diseases arising therefrom, such as rheumatism, sciatica, lame back and lumbago, and we feel that the public are entitled to particulars concerning it.

A prominent physician states that the excellent results that have been obtained from the use of the mixture are due to its direct action upon the kidneys, assisting them in their work of filtering all poisonous waste matter and acids from the blood and expelling same in the urine, and at the same time restoring the kidneys to a healthy condition.

He further states that anyone suffering from afflictions of this nature will find it to be very beneficial, and suggests that it be given a trial.

"ALL GOOD THINGS" must win upon their merits. The International Dictionary has won a greater distinction upon its merits and is in more general use than any other work of its kind in the English language.

A. H. Sayce, LL.D., D.D., of Oxford University, England, has recently said of it: It is indeed a marvelous work; it is difficult to conceive of a dictionary more exhaustive and complete. Everything is in it—not only what we might expect to find in such a work, but also what few of us would ever have thought of looking for.

A supplement to the new edition has brought it fully up to date. I have been looking through the latter with a feeling of astonishment at its completeness, and the amount of labor that has been put into it.

Another Adventure of Sherlock Holmes.

BY A. CONAN DOYLE.

Author of "The Green Flag" and "The Great Boer War"

Copyright (1902) by A. Conan Doyle.

"Sir Henry's falling in love could do no harm to anyone except Sir Henry. He took particular care that Sir Henry did not make love to her, as you have yourself observed. I repeat that the lady is his wife and not his sister."

"But why this elaborate deception?"

"Because he foresaw that she would be very much more useful to him in the character of a free woman."

All my unspoken instincts, my vague suspicions, suddenly took shape and centred upon the naturalist. In that impassive, colorless man, with his straw hat and his butterfly-net, I seemed to see something terrible—a creature of infinite patience and craft, with a smiling face and a murderous heart.

"It is he, then, who is our enemy—it is he who dogged us in London?"

"So I read the riddle."

"And the warning—it must have come from her!"

"Exactly."

The shape of some monstrous villainy, half seen, half guessed, loomed through the darkness which had girt me so long.

"But are you sure of this Holmes? How do you know that the woman is his wife?"

"Because he so far forgot himself as to tell you a true piece of autobiography upon the occasion when he first met you, and I daresay he has many a time regretted it since. He was once a schoolmaster in the North of England. Now, there is no one more easy to trace than a schoolmaster. There are scholastic agencies by which one may identify any man who has been in the profession. A little investigation showed me that a school had come to grief under atrocious circumstances, and that the man who had owned it—the name was different—had disappeared with his wife. The descriptions agreed. When I learned that the missing man was devoted to entomology the identification was complete."

The darkness was rising, but much was still hidden by the shadows.

"If this woman is in truth his wife, where does Mrs. Laura Lyons come in?" I asked.

"That is one of the points upon which your own researches have shed a light. Your interview with the lady has cleared the situation very much. I did not know about a projected divorce between herself and her husband. In that case, regarding Stapleton as an unmarried man, she counted no doubt upon becoming his wife."

"And when she is undeceived?"

"Why, then we may find the lady of service. It must be our first duty to see her—both of us—to-morrow. Don't you think, Watson, that you are away from your charge rather long? Your place should be at Baskerville Hall."

The last red streaks had faded away in the west and night had settled upon the moor. A few faint stars were gleaming in a violet sky.

"One last question, Holmes," I said, as I rose. "Surely there is no need of secrecy between you and me. What is the meaning of it all? What is he after?"

Holmes's voice sank as he answered:—

"It is murder, Watson—refined, cold-blooded, deliberate murder. Do not ask me for particulars. My nets are closing upon him, even as his are upon Sir Henry, and with your help he is already almost at my mercy. There is but one danger which can threaten us. It is that he should strike before we are ready to do so. Another day—two at the most—and I have my case complete, but until then guard your charge as closely as ever a fond mother watched her ailing child. Your mission to-day has justified itself, and yet I could almost wish that you had not left his side—Hark!"

A terrible scream—a prolonged yell of horror and anguish burst out of the silence of the moor. That frightful cry turned the blood to ice in my veins.

"Oh, my God!" I gasped. "What is it? What does it mean?"

Holmes had sprung to his feet, and I saw his dark, athletic outline at the door of the hut, his shoulders stooping, his head thrust forward, his face peering into the darkness.

It was a prostrate man, face downwards.

"Hush!" he whispered. "Hush!"

The cry had been loud on account of its vehemence, but it had pealed out from somewhere far off on the shadowy plain. Now it burst upon our ears, nearer, louder, more urgent than before.

"Where is it?" Holmes whispered; and I knew from the thrill of his voice that he, the man of iron, was shaken to the soul. "Where is it, Watson?"

"There, I think." I pointed into the darkness.

"No, there!"

Again the agonized cry swept through the silent night, louder and much nearer than ever. And a new sound mingled with it, a deep, muttered rumble, musical and yet menacing, rising and falling like the low, constant murmur of the sea.

"The hound!" cried Holmes. "Come, Watson, come! Great heavens, if we are too late!"

He had started running swiftly over the moor, and I had followed at his heels. But now from somewhere among the broken ground immediately in front of us there came one last despairing yell, and then a dull, heavy thud. We halted and listened. Not another sound broke the heavy silence of the windless night.

I saw Holmes put his hand to his forehead like a man distracted. He stamped his feet upon the ground.

"He has beaten us, Watson. We are too late."

"No, no, surely not!"

"Fool that I was to hold my hand. And you Watson, see what comes of abandoning your charge! But, by Heaven, if the worst has happened, we'll avenge him!"

Blindly we ran through the gloom, blundering against boulders, forcing our way through gorse bushes, panting up hills and rushing down slopes, heading always in the direction whence those dreadful sounds had come. At every rise Holmes looked eagerly round him, but the shadows were thick upon the moor, and nothing moved upon its dreary face.

"Can you see anything?"

"Nothing."

"But, hark, what is that?"

A low moan had fallen upon our ears. There it was again upon our left! On that side a ridge of rocks ended in a sheer cliff which overlooked a stone-strewn slope. On its jagged face was spread-eagled some dark, irregular object. As we ran towards it the vague outline hardened into a definite shape. It was a prostrate man face downwards upon the ground, the head doubled under him at a horrible angle, the shoulders rounded and the body hunched together as if in the act of throwing a summersault. So grotesque was the attitude that I could not for the instant realize that that moan had been the passing of his soul. Not a whisper, not a rustle, rose now from the dark figure over which we stooped. Holmes laid his hand upon him, and held it up again, with an exclamation of horror. The gleam of the match which he struck shone upon his clotted fingers and upon the ghastly pool which widened slowly from the crushed skull of the victim. And it shone upon something else which turned our hearts sick and faint within us—the body of Sir Henry Baskerville!

There was no chance of either of us forgetting that peculiar ruddy tweed suit—the very one which he had worn on the first morning that we had seen him in Baker Street. We caught the one clear glimpse of it, and then the match flickered and went out, even as the hope had gone out of our souls. Holmes groaned, and his face glimmered white through the darkness.

"The brute! the brute!" I cried, with clenched hands. "Oh, Holmes, I shall never forgive myself for having left him to his fate."

"I am more to blame than you, Watson. In order to have my case well rounded and complete, I have thrown away the life of my client. It is the greatest blow which has befallen me in my career. But how could I know—how could I know—that he would risk his life alone upon the moor in the face of all my warnings?"

"That we should have heard his screams—my God, those screams!—and yet have been unable to save him! Where is this brute of a hound which drove him to his death? It may be lurking among these rocks at this instant. And Stapleton, where is he? He shall answer for this deed."

"He shall. I will see to that. Uncle and nephew have been murdered—the one frightened to death by the very sight of a beast which he thought to be supernatural, the other driven to his end in his wild flight to escape from it. But now we have to prove the connection between the man and the beast. Save from what we heard, we cannot even swear to the existence of the latter, since Sir Henry has evidently died from the fall. But, by heavens, cunning as he is, the fellow shall be in my power before another day is past!"

We stood with bitter hearts on either side of the mangled body, overwhelmed by this sudden and irrevocable disaster which had brought all our long and weary labors to so piteous an end. Then, as the moon rose, we climbed to the top of the rocks over which our poor friend had fallen, and from the summit we gazed out over the shadowy moor, half silver and half gloom. Far away, miles off, in the direction of Grimpen, a single steady yellow light was shining. It could only come from the lonely abode of the Stapletons. With a bitter curse I shook my fist at it as I gazed.

"Why should we not seize him at once?"

"Our case is not complete. The fellow is wary and cunning to the last degree. It is not what we know, but what we can prove. If we make one false move the villain may escape us yet."

"What can we do?"

"There will be plenty for us to do to-morrow. To-night we can only perform the last offices to our poor friend."

Together we made our way down the precipitous slope and approached the body, black and clear against the silvered stones. The agony of those contorted limbs struck me with a spasm of pain and blurred my eyes with tears.

"We must send for help, Holmes! We cannot carry him all the way to the Hall. Good heavens, are you mad?"

He had uttered a cry and bent over the body. Now he was dancing and laughing and wringing my hand. Could this be my stern, self-contained friend? These were hidden fires, indeed!

"A beard! A beard! The man has a beard!"

"A beard?"

"It is not the baronet—it is—why, it is my neighbor, the convict!"

With feverish haste we had turned the body over, and that dripping beard was pointing up to the cold, clear moon. There could be no doubt about the beetling forehead, the sunken animal eyes. It was, indeed, the same face which had glared upon me in the light of the candle from over the rock—the face of Selden, the criminal.

Then in an instant it was all clear to me. I remembered how the baronet had told me that he had handed his old wardrobe to Barrymore. Barrymore had passed it on in order to help Selden in his escape. Boots, shirt, cap—it was all Sir Henry's. The tragedy was still black enough, but this man had at least deserved death by the laws of his country. I told Holmes how the matter stood, my heart bubbling over with thankfulness and joy.

"Then the clothes have been the poor devil's death," said he. "It is clear enough that the hound has been laid on from some article of Sir Henry's—the boot which was abstracted in the hotel, in all probability—and so ran this man down. There is one very singular thing, however: How came Selden, in the darkness, to know that the hound was on his trail?"

"He heard him."

"To hear a hound upon the moor would not work a hard man like this convict into such a paroxysm of terror that he would risk recapture by screaming wildly for help. By his cries he must have run a long way after he knew the animal was on his track. How did he know?"

"A greater mystery to me is why this hound, presuming that all our conjectures are correct——"

"I presume nothing."

"Well, then, why this hound should be loose to-night. I suppose that it does not always run loose upon the moor. Stapleton would not let it go unless he had reason to think that Sir Henry would be there."

"My difficulty is the more formidable of the two, for I think that we shall very shortly get an explanation of yours, while mine may remain for ever a mystery. The question now is, what shall we do with this poor wretch's body? We cannot leave it here to the foxes and the ravens."

"I suggest that we put it in one of the huts until we can communicate with the police."

"Exactly. I have no doubt that you and I could carry it so far. Halloa, Watson, what's this? It's the man himself, by all that wonderful and audacious! Not a word to show your suspicions—not a word, or my plans crumble to the ground."

A figure was approaching us over the moor, and I saw the dull red glow of a cigar. The moon shone upon him, and I could distinguish the dapper shape and jaunty walk of the naturalist. He stopped when he saw us, and then came on again.

"Why, Dr. Watson, that's not you, is it? You are the last man that I should have expected to see out on the moor at this time of night. But, dear me, what's this? Somebody hurt? No—don't tell me that it is our friend Sir Henry!" He hurried past me and stooped over the dead man. I heard a sharp intake of his breath and the cigar fell from his fingers.

"Who—who's this?" he stammered.

"It is Selden, the man who escaped from Princetown."

Stapleton turned a ghastly face upon us, but by a supreme effort he had overcome his amazement and his disappointment. He looked sharply from Holmes to me.

"Dear me! What a very shocking affair! How did he die?"

"He appears to have broken his neck by falling over these rocks. My friend and I were strolling on the moor when we heard a cry."

"I heard a cry also. That was what brought me out. I was uneasy about Sir Henry."

"Why about Sir Henry in particular?" I could not help asking.

"Because I had suggested that he should come over. When he did not come I was surprised, and I naturally became alarmed for his safety when I heard cries upon the moor. By the way"—his eyes darted from my face to Holmes's—"did you hear any cry else besides a cry?"

"No," said Holmes; "did you?"

"No."

"Oh, you know the stories that the peasants tell about a phantom hound, and so on. It is said to be heard only upon the moor. I was wondering if there were any evidence of such a sound to-night."

"We heard nothing of the kind," said I.

"And what is your theory of this poor fellow's death?"

"I have no doubt that anxiety and exposure have driven him off his head. He has rushed about the moor in a crazy state and eventually fallen down here and broken his neck."

"That seems the most reasonable theory," said Stapleton, and he gave a sigh which I took to indicate his relief. "What do you think about it, Sherlock Holmes?"

My friend bowed his compliments.

"You are quick at identifying me," said he.

"We have been expecting you in these parts since Dr. Watson came down. You are in time to see the last act of the tragedy."

"Yes, indeed. I have no doubt my friend's explanation will cover the facts. I will take an unpleasant embrance back to London with me to-morrow."

"Oh, you return to-morrow?"

"That is my intention."

"I hope your visit has cleared up all those points which puzzled us?"

Holmes shrugged his shoulders.

"One cannot always have the success for which one hopes. An investigator needs facts, and not legends or rumors. It has not been a satisfactory case."

My friend spoke in his frankest and most unconcerned manner. Stapleton still looked hard at him. Then he turned to me.

"I would suggest carrying this poor fellow to my house, but it would give my sister such a fright that I do not feel justified in doing it. I think that if we put something over his face he will be safe until morning."

And so it was arranged. Resisting Stapleton's offer of hospitality, Holmes and I set off to Baskerville Hall, leaving the naturalist to return alone. Looking back we saw the figure moving slowly away over the broad moor, and behind him that one black smudge on the silvered slope which showed where the man was lying who had come so horribly to his end.

CHAPTER XIII.

"We're at close grips at last," said Holmes, as we walked together across the moor. "What a nerve the fellow has! How he pulled himself together in the face of what must have been a paralyzing shock when he found that the wrong man had fallen a victim to his plot. I told you in London, Watson, and I tell you now again, that we have never had a foeman more worthy of our steel."

"I am sorry that he has seen you."

"And so was I at first. But there was no getting out of it."

"What effect do you think it will have upon his plans, now that he knows you are here?"

"It may cause him to be more cautious, or it may drive him to desperate measures at once. Like most clever criminals, he may be too confident in his own cleverness and imagine that he has completely deceived us."

"Why should we not arrest him at once?"

"My dear Watson, you were born to be a man of action. Your instinct is always to do something energetic. But supposing, for argument's sake, that we had him arrested to-night, what on earth the better off should we be for that? We could prove nothing against him. There's the devilish cunning of it! If he were acting through a human agent we could get some evidence, but if we were to drag this great dog to the light of day it would not help us in putting a rope round the neck of its master."

"Surely we have a case."

"Not a shadow of one—only surmise and conjecture. We should be laughed out of court if we came with such a story and such evidence."

"There is Sir Charles's death."

"Found dead without a mark upon him. You and I know that he died of sheer fright, and we know also what frightened him; but how are we to

INTENSIFIED FRUIT JUICES AN IMPROVEMENT ON NATURE

A Discovery that is Revolutionizing Medicine.

Remarkable Success Attends the Finding of a New Medicinal Compound by Combining the Juices of Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes.

Fruit helps to keep one healthy. Fruit, in itself, will not cure disease. The medicinal principle—or that part of fruit which has a curative effect—is in such infinitesimal quantities, that it is unable to overcome a diseased condition of the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys or skin.

Just here is where science stepped in. An Ottawa physician did what nature could not do. He first found that some fruits were stronger medicinally than others—and that apples, oranges, figs and prunes contained all the healing properties of other fruits. There are two principles in fruit juices—bitter and sweet. After extracting the juices of the four fruits mentioned, this physician succeeded in replacing one atom of the sweet principle by one of the bitter. This resulted in an entirely new combination being formed. This new compound was many times more active medicinally than the fruit juices. Where eating fruit only helped to keep one well, this compound actually cured disease.

To make it more valuable still, this physician added the finest tonics and antiseptics, and then, by evaporating the entire compound to a powder, made it into tablets.

This, in short, is the method of making "Fruit-a-tives"—these wonderful tablets — the most reliable cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Stomach Troubles, Kidney and Bladder Disease and Skin Affections. Being made from fruit, "Fruit-a-tives" may be taken by women and children without fear of ill-effect.

manufactured especially for the heating of large halls and public edifices, is designed to thoroughly warm the greatest amount of cold air in the least possible time. Entering the flues, as shown in the accompanying cross section of the fire pot, the cold air is taken up through this heated column which overhangs the fire, as illustrated, thus coming in direct contact with all products of combustion, and insuring a very rapid circulation. This warmed air ascending straight through the flues in which it started, can be carried direct, with practically all its heat retained, to the furthest and coldest part of the building. 106

SARTORIAL NEWS.

Short-Sleeves Will Reign All Summer. Brown Linen Frocks.

The becomingness and convenience of the short sleeve are excellent reasons for its continuance through the season. In spite of the many rumors to the contrary, it will lose none of its popularity during the hot season, and it looks now as if it might again be carried over into another season.

A SMART LINEN FROCK—5655.

Pale blue linen trimmed with embroidered bands and edging and a further decoration of white soutache makes an attractive little frock for a young girl. The guimpe should be separate from the dress and should be of some other material.

A brown linen frock is sure to be a most useful dress, for it can be worn in town and then altered many times during the summer when a dark gown is necessary, but when it is too hot for either silk or cloth. A brown linen princess dress, with white lace collar and cuff, is stylish for simple morning wear, and a bolero to correspond with the costume makes an exceedingly attractive suit.

Corded linens may not give satisfactory wear, but they are so exquisitely pretty, many of them, that there is no danger of their passing out of favor for some time to come. Many of these are elaborately embroidered, others only trimmed with lace and tucking, but really all of these models so far are exceedingly attractive.

The heavy linens are being extensively used for guimpe princess dresses. The picture displays a frock of this genre in pale blue linen with embroideries of white batiste.

Curing a Cold.

"What we commonly call colds," said a doctor the other day, "come from one of these three causes—indigestion, fatigue or contact with another person suffering from cold, or coryza, as it should be termed.

"If taken in hand at the very beginning, they are all curable, but if neglected for even a few hours beyond the first warning symptoms they will take the revenge called 'running their course.'

"When the system is run down and one feels weak, nervous and irritable from overwork or worry, the proper remedy is to go instantly to bed, drink hot lemonade, eat plenty of nourishing, easily digested food and not get out of bed for twenty-four hours."

Cure For Insomnia.

In sleeping do not lie flat. Let your pillow lift the head until it rests even with the shoulders. It may be that there are people who can sleep without a pillow, but the ordinary mortal who tries it will get up in the morning with a headache. Sometimes a little scent sprinkled on one's pillow will induce sleep, and some people find it an excellent plan to also rub a little over the face and chest.

The Beautiful Home.

I never saw a garment too fine for a man or cattle; there never was a shirt too good for a cobbler or a cooper or a king to sit in; never a house too fine to shelter the human head. Elegance fits man. But do we not value these tools a little more than they are worth and sometimes mortgage a house for the mahogany we bring into it? I had rather eat my dinner off the head of a barrel or dress after the fashion of John the Baptist in the wilderness or sit on a block all my life than consume all myself before I got to a home and take so much pains with the outside that the inside was as hollow as an empty nut. Beauty is a great thing, but beauty of garment, house and furniture are tawdry ornaments compared with domestic love. All the elegance in the world will not make a home, and I would give more for a spoonful of real hearty love than for whole shiploads of furniture and all the gorgeousness the world can gather. —Oliver Wendell Holmes.

MODISTIC MATTERS.

Jaunty Cutaway Coat—New Brown Stockings Are Stunning.

Cutaway coats have pushed their trim and jaunty way to the front and pushed behind them at the same time the Eton and the three-quarter lengths, all save the pony coat, which shares the joys of popularity with the cutaway.

Golden brown thread stockings with openwork bowknots at the sides are smart to wear with brown pumps.

Brown shoes are easily the leaders in footgear, and some of these shoes are ornamented with cut steel buckles. Leather bows are also a pretty finish for the bronze boot. Some that are laced with wide ribbon have two bows, one at the top and one at the instep.

Champagne color and pale gray gloves are worn with white linen suits. Many of the summer evening gloves are made with lace uppers.

Long light dust coats are made of tinted linen embroidered in white. Pongee or shantung silk is also very good for these coats. Collars and cuffs of green and blue foulard give them a smart touch.

OF BORDERED FOULARD—5506, 5658.

Three piece costumes, consisting of chiffon skirt, lace blouse and coatee of brocade, are modish for afternoon wear.

Bordered materials are very much used this season and are to be found in bewildering beauty and variety. The gown illustrated is an exceedingly chic example of ecru foulard bordered with dots of brown. JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT TO WEAR.

Time For the Graduation Gown—Attractive Styles For Old Ladies.

The type of girlish gowns classed as graduation frocks is of great interest to many people at this season. Such frocks are not only well adapted to the festivities that mark the close of the school term, but are quite as desirable for any other of the purposes for which an especially smart girlish toilet is required.

All the grandmother styles are reckoned especially attractive today, but no one now thinks of selecting any model without first making an estimate of the requirements, as a builder does before he contracts to build a house. The items are different, the materials filmy textured fabrics and pretty colored trimmings instead of bricks, paint, etc., but the principle is the same.

Embroidered collar and cuff sets in linen and similar fabrics are used on the spring coats. A touch of linen or an entire vest of it is seen even on some heavyweight suits.

A POPULAR STRIPED SUIT—5653, 5496.

Combs are now generally in sets. Back comb and side combs of different sorts are not at all smart.

A saleswoman said that she had sold more dotted brown veils this season than ever before.

Striped suitings of all sorts are greatly in vogue, but the gray and white ones are especially well liked. Here is a suit of this material with one of the new fitted jackets combined with a pleated skirt. Such a costume is admirable for a number of occasions, such as shopping, walking and traveling. JUDIC CHOLLET.

MEN THE BETTER COOKS.

They Pay Heed to Perfection of Details, Says an Authority.

M. Escoffier, the great chef, say men are better cooks than women because they watch trifles with thoroughness and insist upon having all needed ingredients, while women will manage with whatever they have at hand. The average woman has had always to make out with what was handy and has not had the management of the purse strings. She has not cooked for profit, but from duty. When men cook they are either in camp or do it for a lark to concoct some chafing dish dainty they have had at a club or they are professional cooks.

Women in homes know the failings of their servants, and any house mother will tell you that she has always taken the overdone muffins and the piece of streaky cake, the nicked cup and the wing of the chicken to hide failures or to make the family contented. Give women of like intelligence the same incentive and the same training and supplies to do with and then see in time what kind of cooks women will become.

Do not boil salted meats rapidly. When cooking ham and tongue, the meat, after being washed and prepared, should be placed in cold water and brought slowly to the boiling point. Let it boil five minutes, and then let it only slightly bubble up until the meat is tender.

Fresh meat, on the contrary, should be placed in boiling water and then boiled rapidly for five minutes. After that it should be kept below the boiling point, "just quivering," as one authority remarks, at one side of the saucepan until the meat is tender. Add salt to meat when it is about half cooked.

Absurd Little Hats.

There are absurd little hats that take up their position on the back of our heads, with a trail of flowers and ribbons depending therefrom en cascade on to the shoulders. There is also on the new models a regular riot of ribbons massed in generous loops, often with the aid of bizarre headed pins which compose the sole trimming. But ribbons do not obtain to the exclusion of flowers, for blossoms blooms on our headgear in greater profusion than ever before, roses, hyacinths, jasmine, etc., interstudded with delicately hued and contrastingly tinted ribbon. The paradise plume and the long ostrich feather droop from the back of fetching hats, hanging to the shoulders, as these feathers did on the turbans of our great-grandmothers.

Push Button Chairs.

The newest ease producer is a chair which tilts backward or forward as much or little as desired without getting up to adjust the parts. There is no rod, but instead a series of stops controlled by a push button. You simply touch the button and the weight of the body carries the back to any angle wanted. Sit up straight and touch the button again and the chair straightens up at the same instant.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

The Sunshine way of placing coal in the furnace.

THE LARGE DOUBLE FEED DOORS

on the Sunshine furnace provide an opening deep and wide enough to admit great rough chunks of wood that would either have to be wasted, or chopped up for an ordinary furnace.

As for putting coal in the Sunshine, why, it's the easiest thing imaginable!

Such a generous opening would be next to impossible to miss. And you can easily deposit the coal in any spot you desire.

After you have experimented with small feed-doors, and hit the edge of the door frame a few times, you will recognize more completely the ease and advantage of the Sunshine method. The illustrations hint at the difference.

If you will examine the fire-pot of the Sunshine you will notice that the sides are straight up and down.

On many furnaces the fire-pots slope, forming a rest on which the ashes accumulate.

As ashes are non-conductors of heat they prevent the fire-pot from radiating as much heat as it should; they clog up the draft and deaden the fire.

But the Sunshine fire-pot is a wonderful radiator of heat. No ashes can cling to the straight, sheer sides of its fire-pot. The live, red-hot coals are always snug up to them. There is nothing to prevent the radiation of every unit of heat produced by the fuel.

The Sunshine is the most scientifically and perfectly constructed furnace. It radiates most heat with less consumption of fuel. It is the easiest-managed, cleanest, greatest labor and fuel economizer you can buy.

Moran of the Lady Letty

By FRANK NORRIS, Author of "The Octopus," "The Pit," Etc.

Copyright, 1898, by S. S. McClure Company

Winding well out from shore, even beyond the track of the coasters and passenger steamers, to catch the trades from the northwest. The sun was setting royally, and the floor of the ocean shimmered like mosaic. The sea had gone down and the fury of the bar was a thing forgotten. It was perceptibly warmer.

On board, the two watches mingled forward, smoking opium and playing a game that looked like checkers. Three of them were washing down the decks with kaiar brooms. For the first time since he had come on board Wilbur heard the sound of their voices.

The evening was magnificent. Never in Wilbur's eyes had the Pacific appeared so vast, so radiant, so divinely beautiful. A star or two burned slowly through that part of the sky where the pink began to fade into the blue. Charlie went forward and set the side lights—red on the port rigging, green on the starboard. As he passed Wilbur, who was leaning over the rail and watching the phosphorus flashing just under the surface, he said:

"Hey, you go talkee-talk one piecey boss, savvy boss—chin chin."

Wilbur went aft and came up on the poop, where Kitchell stood at the wheel, smoking an inverted clay pipe.

"Now, son," began Kitchell, "I matchly love you so that I'm goin' to do you a real favor, do you twig? I'm goin' to allow you to berth aft in the cabin, 'long o' me an' Charlie, an', besides, you can make free of my quarter deck. Mebbee you ain't used to the ways of sailor men just yet, but you can lay it to that those two are real concessions, savvy? I ain't a mush head, like mee dear friend Jim. You ain't no water front swine; I can guess that with one hand tied beehind me. You're a swell, that's what you are, an' your lines h ve been laid for swells. I ain't askin' you no questions, but you got brains, an' I figger on gettin' more outa you by lettin' you have y'r head a bit. But mind, now, you get gay once, sonny, or try to flimflam me, or forget that I'm the boss of the bathtub, an', strike me blind, I'll cut you open, an' you can lay to that, son. Now, then, here's the game: You work this boat 'long with the coolies an' take my orders, an' walk chalk, an', I'll teach you navigation an' make this cruise as easy as how-de-you-do. You don't, an' I'll man-handle you till y'r bones come three y'r hide."

"I've no choice in the matter," said Wilbur. "I've got to make the best of a bad situation."

"I ree-marked as how you had brains," muttered the captain.

"But there's one thing," continued Wilbur; "if I'm to have my head a little, as you say, you'll find we can get along better if you put me to rights about this whole business." Why was I brought aboard, why are there only Chinese along, where are we going, what are we going to do, and how long are we going to be gone?"

Kitchell spat over the side and then sucked the nicotine from his mustache.

"Well," he said, resuming his pipe, "it's like this, son: This ship belongs to one of the Chinese trading companies of San Francisco. Charlie here is one of the shareholders in the business. We go down here twice a year off Cape Sain' Lucas, Lower California, an' fish for blue sharks, or white, if we kin ketch 'em. We get the livers of these an' try out the oil, an' we bring back that same oil, an' the Chinamen sell it all over San Francisco as simon pure cod liver oil, savvy? An' it pays like a nitrate bed. I come in because it's a custom house regulation that no cooly can take a boat out of Frisco."

"And how do I come in?" asked Wilbur.

"Mee dear friend Jim ppt a knockme-out drop into your Manhattan cocktail. It's a capsule filled with a drug. You were shanghaied, see," said the captain blandly.

* * * * * * *

About an hour later Wilbur turned in. Kitchell showed him his bunk with its "donkey's breakfast" and single ill smelling blanket. It was located under the companionway that led down into the cabin. Kitchell hunked on one side, Charlie on the other. A hooked deal table, covered with oilcloth and ironed to the floor, a swinging lamp, two chairs, a rack of books, a chest or two and a flaring picture cut from the advertisement of a ballet was the room's inventory in the matter of furniture and ornament.

Wilbur sat on the edge of his bunk before undressing, reviewing the extraordinary events of the day. In a moment he was aware of a movement in one of the other two bunks and presently made out Charlie lying on his side and holding in the flame of an alcohol lamp a skewer on which some brown and sticky stuff boiled and sizzled. He transferred the stuff to the bowl of a huge pipe and drew on it noisily once or twice. In another moment he had sunk back in his bunk nearly senseless, but with a long breath of an almost blissful contentment.

"Beast!" muttered Wilbur, with profound disgust.

He threw off his oilskin coat and felt in the pocket of his waistcoat, which he had retained when he had changed his clothes in the fo'c'stle, for his watch. He drew it out. It was just 9 o'clock. All at once an idea occurred to him. He fumbled in another pocket of the waistcoat and brought out one of his calling cards.

For a moment Wilbur remained motionless, seated on the bunk ledge, smiling grimly, while his glance wandered now to the sordid cabin of the Bertha Millner and the opium drugged cooly sprawled on the "donkey's breakfast" and now to the card in his hand on which a few hours ago he had written:

"First waits—Jo."

CHAPTER III.

ANOTHER day passed, then two. Before Wilbur knew it he had settled himself to his new life, and woke one morning to the realization that he was positively enjoying himself. Daily the weather grew warmer. The fifth day out from San Francisco it was actually hot. The pitch grew soft in the Bertha Millner's deck seams; the masts sweated resin. The Chinamen went about the decks wearing but their jeans and blouses. Kitchell had long since abandoned his coat and vest. Wilbur's clothing became intolerable, and he was at last constrained to trade his pocketknife to Charlie for a suit of jeans and wicker sandals such as the coolies were, and odd enough he looked in them.

The captain instructed him in steering and even promised to show him the use of the sextant and how to take an observation in the fake short and easy coasting style of navigation. Furthermore, he showed him how to read the log and the manner of keeping the dead reckoning.

During most of his watches Wilbur was engaged in painting the inside of the cabin, door panels, lintels and the few scattered moldings, and toward the middle of the first week out, when the Bertha Millner was in the latitude of Point Conception, he and three Chinamen, under Kitchell's direction, ratlined down the fore rigging and affixed the crow's nest upon the for'mast. The next morning during Charlie's watch on deck a Chinaman was sent up into the crow's nest, and from that time on there was always a lookout maintained from the masthead.

More than once Wilbur looked around him at the empty coruscating indigo of the ocean floor, wondering at the necessity of the lookout, and finally expressed his curiosity to Kitchell. The captain had by now taken not a little to Wilbur, at first for the sake of a white man's company and afterward because he began to place a certain vague reliance upon Wilbur's judgment. Kitchell had remarked as how he had brains.

"Well, you see, son," Kitchell had explained to Wilbur, "on-tounsiblee we are after shark liver oil, an' so we are, but also we are on any lay that turns up—ready for any game from wrecking to barratry. Strike me, if I haven't theught of scuttling the dough dish for her insoorance. There's regular trade, son, to be done in ships, an' then there's pickin's an' pickin's an' pickin's. Lord! The ocean's rich with pickin's. Do you know there's millions made out of the day-bree and refuse of a big city? How about an ocean's day-bree? Just chew on that notion a turn. An' as fur a lookout, lemmee tell you, son, chet your eye out yon." And he swept the sea with a forearm. "Nothin', hey? So it looks, but lemmee tell you, son, there ain't no manner of place on the ball of dirt where you're likely to run up afoul of so many things—unexpected things—as at sea. When you're clear o' land lay to this here pree-cep'—'A million to one on the unexpected.'"

The next day fell almost dead calm. The hale, lusty lunged nor'wester that had snorted them forth from the Golden Gate had lanced to a sepayt.

The schooner rolled lazily southward with the leisurely nonchalance of a grazing ox. At noon, just after dinner, a few cat's paws curdled the milky blue whiteness of the glassy surface, and the water once more began to talk beneath the bowsprit. It was very hot. The sun spun silently like a spinning brass discus over the mainmast. On the fo'c'stle head the Chinamen were asleep or smoking opium. It was Charlie's watch. Kitchell dozed in his hammock in the shadow of the mainsheet. Wilbur was below tinkering with his paint pot about the cabin. The stillness was profound. It was the stillness of the summer sea at high noon.

The lookout in the crow's nest broke the quiet.

"Hy-yah, hy-yah!" he cried, leaning from the barrel and calling through an arched palm. "Hy-yah, one, two, plenty, many turtle, topside wattah; hy-yah, all same turtle."

"Hello, hello!" cried the captain, rolling from his hammock. "Turtle? Where away?"

"I tinkum 'bout qualiah mile, mebbee, four piecee turtle all same weatha bow."

"Turtle, hey? Down y'r wheel, Jim; haul y'r jib to win'ward," he commanded the man at the wheel; then to the men forward: "Get the dory overboard. Son, Charlie and you, Wing, tumble in. Wake up now and see you stay so."

The dory was swung over the side, and the men dropped into her and took their places at the oars. "Give way," cried the captain, settling himself in the bow, with the gaff in his hand. "Hey, Jim!" he shouted to the lookout far above. "Hey, lay our course for us." The lookout nodded, the oars fell, and the dory shot forward in the direction indicated by the lookout.

"Kin you row, son?" asked Kitchell, with sudden suspicion. Wilbur smiled.

"You ask Charlie and Wing to ship their oars and give me a pair." The captain complied hesitatingly.

"Now, what," he said grimly—"now, what do you think you're going to do, sonny?"

"I'm going to show you the Bob Cook stroke we used in our boat in '95, when we beat Harvard," answered Wilbur.

Kitchell gazed doubtfully at the first few strokes, then with growing interest watched the tremendous reach, the powerful knee drive, the swing, the easy catch and the perfect recover. The dory was cutting the water like a gasoline launch, and between strokes there was the least possible diminishing of the speed.

"I'm a bit out of form just now," remarked Wilbur, "and I'm used to the sliding seat, but I guess it'll do."

Kitchell glanced at the human machine that once was No. 5 in the Yale boat and then at the water hissing from the dory's bows. He spat over the bows and sucked the nicotine from his mustache thoughtfully.

"I ree-marked," he observed, "as how you had brains, my son."

A few minutes later the captain, who was standing in the dory's bow and alternately conning the ocean's surface and looking back to the Chinaman standing on the schooner's masthead, uttered an exclamation:

"Steady! Ship your oars! Quiet, now! Quiet you fools! We're right on 'em. Four of 'em, as' big as diain' tables!"

The oars were shipped. The dory's speed dwindled. "Out your paddles, sit on the gun'l and paddle ee-asy." The hands obeyed. The captain's voice dropped to a whisper. His back was toward them, and he gestured with one free hand. Looking out over the water from his seat on the gun'l, Wilbur could make out a round greenish mass like a patch of floating seaweed just under the surface some sixty yards ahead.

"Easy, sta'board," whispered the captain under his elbow. "Go ahead, port. E-e-easy all! Steady! Steady!"

The affair began to assume the intensity of a little drama—a little drama of midocean. In spite of himself, Wilbur was excited. He even found occasion to observe that the life was not so bad after all. This was as good fun as stalking deer. The dory moved forward by inches. Kitchell's whisper was as faint as a dying infant's, "Steady all, s-steadee, ah-stead"—

He lunged forward sharply with the gaff and shouted aloud: "I got him! Grab holt his tail flippers, you fool swabs—grab holt quick! Don't you hear! Get him there, Charlie? If he

Modern business houses experience difficulty in finding capable employees.

The directors of Business Systems, Limited, who, for years, have been closely allied with the systematizing of the largest Canadian commercial institutions, are asked almost every day to recommend men competent to take charge of offices. They are seldom able to do so. Practically all the good men are already placed—the demand far exceeds the supply. So, in order that they may have really capable men—men whom they feel they can recommend—they have arranged for the opening of a training school.

Students of Business Systems Commercial School, Limited, when they enter a business house, will not have to be taken in hand as juniors and taught the work.

Every student who graduates from Business Systems Commercial School, Limited, will be a practical man in every sense, and able to step right in and take complete charge of any office, anywhere. That's the whole story in a nutshell.

A.—Business Systems Commercial School, is not confined to the forms manufactured by Business Systems, Limited, but includes all modern accounting ideas.

B.—Throughout, practical methods as adopted by the leading commercial houses are taught, going thoroughly into the detail of the work from the time the order is received, following it through the billing department, ledgers, etc., and thoroughly educating the student as a specialist in modern methods.

C.—The School teaches thoroughly, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial Spelling, and in the more advanced courses, Commercial Law and modern banking.

D.—After thoroughly investigating the best schools in America, Business Systems Commercial School have installed the latest system of Shorthand and Typewriting teaching.

E.—Only expert teachers who have had practical business experience are employed, and retail as well as wholesale business methods are taught.

F.—There are Special Night Courses for students who already occupy positions, and who are desirous of fitting themselves for something better.

If you only want to make yourself a fair bookkeeper, do not bother writing us; you are not only wasting your own time, but ours as well. If you really desire to make yourself a capable office man and equip yourself to hold down a first-class position, write us for booklet on the courses taught..

ALL RUN DOWN

Weak---Nervous---Unstrung.

Thousands get run down and become invalids before they realize anything is wrong. By permitting low vitality to develop, the way is paved for fevers, pneumonia and diphtheria. To put off makes it all the harder to get well. The time to repair the system is right now, before the damage gets any worse. The remedy is Ferrozone; it revitalizes, renews, builds up vitality that outlasts old age.

FERROZONE is a genuine invigorator that banishes weakness, and instils surplus force and vigor into every organ of the body. Ferrozone sharpens the appetite, produces rich nutritious blood, and thereby contributes that sense of buoyancy that adds so enormously to one's pleasure and usefulness in life.

For all forms of debility, weakness, lack of blood or nerve tone, sleeplessness, tiredness and exhaustion, there is no medicine so vitalizing and potent as Ferrozone. Even one trial demonstrates its rapidly and certainty of action.

To restore the energy of youth, to get back your vital stamina and reserve force, there is positively no treatment so certain as Ferrozone. You have only to try Ferrozone to know the enormous benefit it invariably brings to all in poor health.

FERROZONE

Miss Dorothy E. Leduc of Chester gives the following convincing evidence of Ferrozone's power:—"My work compels me to rise early in the morning and work ten hours daily as a saleslady. Last Spring I was run down, pale in color, and fell off in weight. I seemed to lack ambition and the life was out of me. A friend recommended Ferrozone, and I took one tablet after meals with wonderful results. Ferrozone brought back my complexion, and has given me new strength and abundance of energy and spirits. I would advise all young ladies to use Ferrozone."

Mrs. H. G. Wilder of Dexter says—"My daughter was not very well last Winter, and lost her strength completely when the Spring came. I gave her Ferrozone, and am glad to say it did wonders. After six boxes were used my daughter was strong, and looked the picture of health."

Gave New Strength

FERROZONE

It makes the weak strong, the sick well, and assures lasting good health.

WARNING—Beware of any substitute for Ferrozone; it alone can cure you. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine, only in 50c boxes containing 50 chocolate-coated tablets. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

The Biggest Kind of a Change that Ever Happened to Any Magazine Has Happened This Month to

THE SCRAP BOOK

THE SCRAP BOOK for July is issued in two sections—two complete magazines, each with its own cover and its own table of contents. One of these sections is an ALL-ILLUSTRATED magazine; the other is an ALL-FICTION magazine. Each is a mammoth magazine in itself. The one presents an overwhelming array of human interest articles and illustrations; the other an enormous tonnage of fiction—160 pages of absorbing stories.

Ten years ago I created a new type of magazine—the ALL-FICTION magazine. Now I am creating another distinct type—the ALL-ILLUSTRATED magazine. This is the age of specialization. The conventional magazine, with its smattering of illustrations and its smattering of fiction and its smattering of special articles, doesn't contain enough of any one thing to make it satisfying. The ALL-FICTION magazine and the ALL-ILLUSTRATED magazine, joined together as a unit, strengthen each other, and make something really big and forceful and convincing.

The Only Way to Know a Thing is to Try It

The two-section magazine idea is brand-new to the world. It is not quite new with me, however, as I have given it, at odd times, four or five years of thought. It first came into my mind in response to a desire to couple, in some way, the strength of the all-fiction magazine with the illustrated features of the conventional magazine. It has been a difficult problem to work out. Now that the idea is perfected, I wish to see what there is in it. It looks to me to be very good, but the only way to know a thing is to try it.

Two Magazines for a Quarter—Easy Money

The price of this two-part magazine is twenty-five cents, which is equal to twelve and one-half cents a magazine. Most magazines which were selling at ten cents have been advanced to fifteen cents. THE SCRAP BOOK in two parts means two magazines for twenty-five cents against thirty cents for two fifteen cent magazines.

Sits away, you swine, I'll rip y' open with the gaff! Heave now—heave—there—there—son, stand clear his nippers. Strike me, he's a whacker! I thought he was going to get away. Saw me just as I swung the gaff an' ducked his nut."

Over the side, bundled without ceremony into the boat, clawing, thrashing, clattering and blowing like the exhaust of a donkey engine, tumbled the great green turtle, his wet green shield of shell three feet from edge to edge, the gaff firmly transfixed in his body just under the fore flipper. From under his shell protruded his snakelike head and neck, withered like that of an old man. He was waving his head from side to side, the jaws snapping like a snapped silk handkerchief. Kitchell thrust him away with a paddle. The turtle craned his neck and, catching a bit of wood in his jaw, bit it in two in a single grip.

"I, tol' you so—I tol' you to stand clear his snapper. If that had been your shin now, eh? Hello! What's that?"

Faintly across the water came a prolonged hallooing from the schooner. Kitchell stood up in the dory, shading his eyes with his hat.

"What's bitin' 'em now?" he muttered, with the uneasiness of a captain away from his ship. "Oughta left Charlie on board, or you, son. Who's doin' that yellin'? I can't make out."

"Up in the crow's nest," exclaimed Wilbur. "It's Jim. See; he's waving his arms."

"Well, whadus he wave his blasted arms for?" growled Kitchell, angry because something was going forward he did not understand.

"There, he's shouting again. Listen—I can't make out what he's yelling."

"He'll yell to a different pipe when I get my grip of him. I'll twist the head of that swab till he'll have to walk back'ard to see where he's goin'. Whadus he wave his arms for—whadus he yell like a philly-loo bird for? What's him say, Charlie?"

"Jim heap sing, no can tell. Mebbee—tinkum sing, come back chop-chop."

"We'll see. Oars out, men; give way. Now, son, put a little of that Yale stinge in the stroke."

In the crow's nest Jim still yelled and waved like one distraught, while the dory returned at a smart clip toward the schooner. Kitchell lathered with fury.

"Oh-h," he murmured softly through his gritted teeth, "jess lemmee lay mee two hands afoul of you wunst, you gibbering, yellow philly-loo bird! Believe me, you'll dance! Shut up!" he roared.

When you dilute spirits with York Sparks you not only gratify your palate but you benefit your digestion. Some few imported waters are almost as good as this pure charged water; but these few cost more than "Shut up, you crazy do-do, ain't we comin' fast as we can?"

The dory bumped alongside, and the captain was over the rail like quicksilver. The hands were all in the bow, looking and pointing to the west. Jim slid down the rattines, bubbling over with suppressed news. Before his feet had touched the deck Kitchell had kicked him into the stays again, fulminating blasphemies.

"Sing!" he shouted as the Chinaman clambered away like a bewildered ape. "Sing a little more! I would if I were you. Why don't you sing and wave, you fool philly-loo bird?"

"Yas, sah," answered the cook.

"What you yell for? Charlie, ask him whatfo him sing."

"I tinkum ship," answered Charlie calmly, looking over the starboard quarter.

"Ship!"

"Him velly sick," hasarded the Chinaman from the rattines, adding a sentence in Chinese to Charlie.

"He says he tinkum ship sick, all same; ask um something—ship velly sick."

By this time the captain, Wilbur and all on board could plainly make out a sail some eight miles off the starboard bow. Even at that distance and to eyes so inexperienced as those of Wilbur it needed but a glance to know that something was wrong with her. It was not that she failed to ride the waves with even heel; it was not that her rigging was in disarray nor that her sails were disordered. Her distance was too great to make out such details. But in precisely the same manner as a trained physician glances at a doomed patient, and from that indefinable look in the face of him and the eyes of him pronounces the verdict "death," so Kitchell took in the stranger with a single comprehensive glance and exclaimed:

"Wreck!"

"Yes, sah. I tinkum velly sick."

"Oh, go to, or go below and fetch up my glass—hustle!"

The glass was brought. "Son," exclaimed Kitchell—"where is that man with the brains? Son, come aloft here with me." The two clambered up the rattines to the crow's nest. Kitchell adjusted the glass.

"She's a bark," he muttered, "iron built—about 700 tons, I guess—in distress. There's her ensign upside down at the mizz'nhead—looks like Norway—an' her distress signals on the spanker gaff. Take a blink at her, son—what do you make her out? Lord, she's ridin' high."

Wilbur took the glass, catching the stranger after several clumsy attempts. She was, as Captain Kitchell had announced, a bark, and, to judge by her flag, evidently Norwegian.

"How she rolls!" muttered Wilbur.

"That's what I can't make out," answered Kitchell. "A bark such as she ain't ought to roll thata way; her ballast 'd steady her."

"What's the flags on her boom aft? One's red and white and square shaped, and the other's the same color, only swallowtail in shape."

"That's H B, meanin' 'I am in need of assistance.'"

"Well, where's the crew? I don't see anybody on board."

"Oh, they're there right enough."

"Then they're pretty well concealed about the premises," returned Wilbur as he passed the glass to the captain.

"She does seem kinda empty," said the captain in a moment, with a sudden show of interest that Wilbur failed to understand.

"An' where's her boats?" continued Kitchell. "I don't just quite make out any boats at all." There was a long silence.

"Seems to be a sort of haze over her," observed Wilbur.

"I noticed that—air kinda quivers oily-like. No boats, no boats, an' I can't see anybody aboard." Suddenly Kitchell lowered the glass and turned to Wilbur. He was a different man. There was a new shine in his eyes; a wicked line appeared over the nose; the jaw grew salient, prognathous.

"Son," he exclaimed, gimleting Wilbur with his contracted eyes, "I have roe-marked as how you had brains. I kin feel the coolies, but I can't feel you. It looks to me as if that bark yender was a derelict. An' do you know what that means to us? Chaw on it a turn."

"A derelict?"

"If there's a crew on board, they're concealed from the public gaze. An' where are the boats then? I figger she's an abandoned derelict. Do you know what that means for us—for you and I? It means"—and, gripping Wilbur by the shoulders, he spoke the word into his face with a savage intensity—"it means salvage, do you savvy? Salvage, salvage! Do you figger what salvage on a 700 tonner

"Well, of course I'm with you, cap."

would come to? Well, just lemme drop it into your think tank, an' lay to what I say. It's all the ways from fifty to seventy thousand dollars, whatever her cargo is. Call it sixty thousand—thirty thou' apiece. Oh, I don't know!" he exclaimed, lapsing to landman's slang. "Wha'd I say about a million to one on the unexpected at sea?"

"Thirty thousand!" exclaimed Wilbur, without thought as yet.

"Now y'r singin' songs," cried the captain. "Listen to me, son," he went on, rapidly shutting up the glass and thrusting it back in the case. "My name's Kitchell, and I'm hog right through!" He emphasized the words with a level forefinger, his eyes flashing. "H-o-g spells very truly yours, Alvinza Kitchell; ninety-nine swine-an' me make a hundred swine. I'm a shote with both feet in the trough first, last an' always. If that bark's abandoned, an' I says she is, she's ours. I'm out for anything that there's stuff in. I guess I'm more of a beachcomber by nature than anything else. If she's abandoned she belongs to us. To blazes with this cooly game. We'll go beachcombin', you an' I. We'll board that bark an' work her into the nearest port—San Diego, I guess—an' get the salvage on her if we have to swim in her. Are you with me?" He held out his hand. The man was positively trembling from head to heel. It was impossible to resist the excitement of the situation, its novelty—the high crow's nest of the schooner, the keen salt air, the Chinamen grouped far below, the indigo of the warm ocean, and out yonder the forsaken derelict, rolling her light hull till the garboard streak flashed in the sun.

"Well, of course I'm with you, cap," exclaimed Wilbur, gripping Kitchell's hand. "When there's thirty thousand to be had for the asking I guess I'm a 'na'chel bawn' beachcomber myself."

"Now, nothing about this to the coolies."

"But how will you make out with your owners? Aren't you bound to bring the Bertha in?"

"Rot my owners!" exclaimed Kitchell. "I ain't a skipper of no oil boat any'longer. I'm a beachcomber." He fixed the wallowing bark with glistening eyes. "Strike me," he murmured, "ain't she a daisy? It's a little Klondike. Come on, son!"

The two went down the rattines, and Kitchell ordered a couple of the hands into the dory that had been rowing astern. He and Wilbur followed. Charlie was left on board, with direction to lay the schooner to. The dory flew over the water, Wilbur setting the stroke. In a few moments she was well up with the bark. Though a larger boat than the Bertha Milner, she was rolling in lamentable fashion, and every laboring heave showed her bottom incrusted with barnacles and seaweed.

Her fore and main topsails and topgallants were set, as also were her lower stays'ls and royals. But the braces seemed to have parted, and the yards were swinging back and forth in their ties. The spanker was hauled up, and the spanker boom thrashed idly over the poop as the bark rolled and rolled and rolled. The mainmast was working in its shoe. The rigging and backstays sagged. An air of abandonment, of unspeakable loneliness, of abomination, hung about her. Never had Wilbur seen anything more utterly alone. Within three lengths the captain rose in his place and shouted:

"Bark ahoy!" There was no answer. Thrice he repeated the call, and thrice

Art in Pianos

Appearance should not be THE essential of a piano. It should be AN essential.

The New Scale Williams are masterpieces of architectural beauty. They are ornaments to every home. They lend an elegance, a refinement, that nothing else can fill. They are made in all woods and colors to harmonize with the drawing-room, parlor, den and hall.

The veneers for the New Scale Williams Pianos are of every fine kind of wood—principally MAHOGANY from Spain, Brazil and the West Indies—WALNUT, from France and the Circassus—QUARTERED OAK AND SATINWOODS from the southlands.

There are four veneers on the case—two inside and two outside. They are cross banded—that is, the grain of each veneer runs in a different direction from the one next to it—thus adding strength.

The case of the

is made of five thicknesses of hardwood. All woods used in the New Scale Williams—in case as well as action—are seasoned for three years after reaching Oshawa. Then they are perfectly dry—can never swell or shrink—and wear like iron.

Every New Scale Williams receives seven coats of varnish. Each is allowed to sink in the wood and dry, before the next is put on. This gives the brilliant, lasting finish that is so admired. The sympathetic touch—the magnificent tone—the sweetness and volume of the New Scale Williams are fully in keeping with its exquisite appearance.

These features and many others are illustrated and described in our Booklets. May we send the three? FREE, of course. We will tell you about our Easy Payment Plan, too.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY WORST STORM OF THIS SEASON

Charlotte Street Methodist Church Was Struck and Roof Damaged —Many Chimneys Were Struck.

THE RAINFALL WAS HEAVY

Canoe Paddled Up Charlotte Street Saturday Night--Damage in the Country.

The electrical storm of Saturday may have been described as a chimney sweep, for during its progress a number of chimneys in the city were struck. Incidentally, the theory that lightning never strikes twice in the same place was shattered, for, on Smith street, a chimney on a house belonging to Mr. W. Leslie was struck and badly damaged. The peculiar fact is that the same chimney was struck in the same place last year. The house, fortunately, did not take fire, and the only damage done was that to the chimney.

Other chimneys in different parts of the city were struck, though no serious damage resulted.

The Charlotte Street Methodist Church had a narrow escape. The cupola on the west end of the Sunday school adjoining the church was struck, and the ridge pole and southeast supporting post torn out, and the fragments scattered around the church and parsonage lawn, one piece of timber being thrown fully 150 feet. The damage to the roof, however, was the extent of the injury wrought to the building.

The Brinton Carpet Company's building also had a close shave. The lightning struck the glass roof, but the glass, acting as a non-conductor, saved the building, doubtless, from damage which might otherwise have been wrought.

The residence of Mr. John Jamieson at 85 Aylmer street was also struck, and the occupants of the house at the time were terror-stricken. The lightning entered the house by the chimney, and in one of the upstairs rooms the furniture was practically turned upside down. The mirror in the dresser was smashed into a thousand pieces, and the room generally upset. The destroying fluid left the house, however, before any injury was done to the occupants.

In the country the ravages of Saturday's storm worked havoc in various localities, but no great damage has been reported. The heavy rain assisted the lightning, and in many places small bridges were swept away.

On the fourth line of Smith a couple of telegraph poles were struck by the electric fluid and split up into kindling wood. A city resident who drove out in that direction yesterday stated that the poles at first appeared to have been cut up with axe, so small were many of the pieces.

In North Monaghan a couple of bridges and culverts were washed out. One in the vicinity of Crawford's Grove was completely demolished and traffic was stopped on that road.

Mr. Robert Bestard of North Monaghan was reported to have had to walk through water five or six feet deep to save his cattle from drowning.

The rain accompanying the storm was very heavy, and it is considered somewhat singular that the quantity of rain which fell on Saturday was exactly the same as that which came as an accompaniment of the storm of Wednesday, viz., .66 of an inch on the level. This was the official measurement of the Peterborough branch of the Observatory, though it is believed from reports that have been received, that the precipitation outside the city was heavier than that here. Mr. S. D. Carver of North Monaghan informed the Examiner, that there was a very heavy rainfall in that township, and old settlers say that they never saw as much water running through the culvert on his farm as was noticed on Saturday, the flood running fully six feet deep. A chimney was also struck there but not much damage was done.

The heavy rainfalls are doing considerable damage to the crops. Had the same quantity of rain fallen more gently it would have done untold good to the growing crops, but it is feared that the benefits have been minimized by reason of the fact that the ground has in many cases been badly washed, and the grain, too, is exposed to the sun.

There was a miniature creek on Charlotte street during the progress of the rain, and one of Dr. Blanchard's sons actually had a canoe ride from the Snowden House to Aylmer street, along the ditch by the sidewalk, and there was plenty of water in which to navigate, too. In some places the water was flowing over the walks eighteen inches deep. P. C. Newhall was bringing a prisoner off the G.T.R. train and was unable to cross Charlotte street. He had to go as far west as Stewart street ere he could negotiate a crossing.

In addition a number of transformers were struck, and burned in various parts of the city, one near E. Hucks & Co's office, being temporarily put out of business, and another near the George Matthews Co's packing house suffering a similar fate.

Lightning struck the barn of Mr. Jas. Greystock of Dummer yesterday, but not much damage is reported. One or two of the rafters were split, and three hogs dying in an adjoining shed were electrocuted.

Other reports from North Monaghan state that a barn on Mr. Walker's farm was knocked over during the storm, and that a stone bridge belonging to Mr. Geo. Webber was swept away, causing a loss of about $100.

The posts of Mr. J. J. Bennett's barn in North Monaghan were also reported to have been split, but the building was not ignited.

Gouged Cooper's Eye Out In Revenge For Attack On Sergt-Major Fee

A Terrible Affair Reported From Petawawa Camp, in Which Members of 24th Battery Are Implicated.

FEE INJURED ON THE TRAIN

R. C. H. A. Men Supposed to Have Avenged Their Former Comrade's Injury by Attacking Cooper.

Petawawa, Military Camp, June 22.—The sequel of a terrible accident occurred here when Gunner Cooper, of the 24th Peterborough Battery, was waylaid by a number of men at the camp canteen, and one of his eyes nearly gouged out. It was a case of revenge and a Gunner named Poole is in the guard house, pending an investigation.

The quarrel started on the train from Toronto. Cooper had been drinking and when ordered out by Sergt.-Major Fee, struck back at him but put his fist through a window, showering the particles of glass upon Fee. The latter fell to the ground, writhing in pain. He was cared for by the Medical Officer, while Gunner Cooper was placed under guard. When Tweed was reached it was found necessary to send the injured man back to Toronto for treatment.

Cooper, when brought up for trail, pleaded that the assault was not intended and was let free. It now seems as if he had paid dearly for his rash attack, with chances of receiving further punishment.

Later reports from Toronto say that there is little hope of saving Fee's right eye, while the left eye is in great danger.

Fee is an old member of the R.C.H.A., and it is thought that some of his old comrades may have revenged him.

The same despatch refers to an accident alleged to have taken place the victim of which was Sergt.-Major McAllister, the despatch says, of the 24th Battery. There must have been a mistake in recording the affair, because there is no Sergt.-Major McAllister in the 24th.

Father And Three Sons Injured In Premature Explosion Of Dynamite

Father Dies on Way to Hospital— A Shocking Fatality at Rettie's Station, North of Lindsay.

A BARN FOUNDATION

Examiner Special.

Lindsay, June 22.—As the result of a premature explosion of a dynamite charge on the farm of James Rettie, Burnt River just before six o'clock last evening, James Rettie is dead and his three sons badly injured. The eldest, Lorne, a lad of about 14 years of age, is in the Ross Hospital. The other two sons—mere boys — are slightly injured.

Mr. Rettie, with the assistance of his three young sons, was doing some excavating, preparatory to building a foundation for a new house on his farm at Burnt River. Dynamite was used to do some blasting. A charge was set, and the elder son, Lorne, was tamping the charge in place with a crowbar. It is thought the charge was ignited by the steel bar coming into sharp contact with the dynamite. The entire charge exploded, and Mr. Rettie, who was standing close by, was terribly injured. One eye was gouged out and his face frightfully mangled; one arm was torn off at the elbow and he was otherwise injured. Lorne sustained injuries on the head.

Suffering intense pain, the father was carried into the house, and Dr. Gould of Fenelon Falls, called. He did all that was possible to alleviate the pain, and this morning the sufferer was brought to Lindsay on the Haliburton train. He died just as the train was coming down Victoria avenue. The body was taken to Anderson & Nugent's undertaking rooms, and was taken back to Burnt River on the 11.20 train.

The son was taken to the Ross Hospital, and is badly injured, his skull being fractured.

Mr. A. Rettie, brother of the victim of the explosion, accompanied the injured man to town. No one saw the accident occur, he said. Mrs. Rettie was just going out to call her husband and sons to supper.

The people of the entire neighbourhood were shocked at the dreadful tragedy, and great sympathy is expressed for the bereaved ones.

SIGNIFICANT ANNIVERSARY

Twenty years ago yesterday, June 23rd, 1887, Sir Wilfrid Laurier accepted the leadership of the Liberal party of Canada. He is a bold man who would outrage the truth to say that the choice has not been amply justified, both from a party and national viewpoint. The general elections of 1891, although they went against the Liberal party, paved the way for the succeeding victory in 1896. In this election Laurier became a national figure, and popular acquaintance with him was improved by the campaign of speaking he performed between 1891 and 1896. It was in one of his addresses delivered in Toronto that Sir Wilfrid said that "when he came to power there would be no necessity for the people proving their prosperity by figures; they would find it in their breeches pocket." He threw himself, with tremendous energy, into the campaign of 1896, and its result has become history, and a brilliant history, too. Laurier became first minister, first citizen of Canada after an apprenticeship in the leadership of the Liberal party of nine years. How he has justified the confidence of the people is well known. No Premier of Canada has ever entrenched himself so firmly in the affections and esteem of the people of Canada. Under the Premier has Canada made such magnificent and wonderful progress and enjoyed such splendid and persistent prosperity. His achievements in the past, eleven years have been a series of triumphs over difficulties regarded as insurmountable, on triumphs of statecraft, loyalty and common sense. The settlement of the Manitoba school difficulty, the preferential tariff, the opening of the West, the promotion of immigration, the organization of agriculture, the transcontinental railway, the creation of two new provinces, the prudent regard for tariff, stability and industrial progress, are but a few of the great items to the credit of the accounting of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his administration to the country. He has achieved a credit and a reputation that will retain him in power so long as life and health last. Indeed, it is probable that the Conservative party of to-day regard the situation in a similar manner to what Laurier did when he became leader—and believed that the Conservative party could not be defeated so long as Sir John Macdonald lived.

SHE IS GETTING SENSE

Germany is beginning to see the foolishness of her course toward Canada, and to feel that she is getting very much the worst of the tariff war she sought. At a Berlin banquet a few days ago, Herr Von Rosenthal, a prominent banker, spoke of the racial and commercial ties between the German and the British peoples. "It would," he said, "be very desirable if the trade relations between the two great States, Germany and Canada, were again to become normal and friendly. There is no divergency between them in the fields of commerce and politics, and we should be friends." A large representative assembly before whom these words were spoken gave them a most cordial reception. Nothing stands in the way of better relations but the hostile German tariff. Germany must recognize Canada's right to give a preference to the Empire. If she does that and removes her discrimination against us, we are ready to forgive her and drop the surtax. But till then we shall not budge.—Hamilton Times.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Tenders, separate and in bulk, for the several trades, will be received up to six p.m., on Tuesday the 9th of July, endorsed, "Tender for Church," and addressed to His Lordship, the Bishop of Peterborough, for the erection of a stone church, and sacristy, on Romaine street, in this city, the plans and specifications for which may be seen at the office of the Diocesan Architect, Mr. John E. Belcher, C. E., city.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Bishop of Peterborough, equal to 7½ per cent. of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the tenderers decline to enter a contract when called upon to do so. All cheques will be returned in case of non-acceptance of tender. The lowest or any tenders not necessarily accepted.

JOHN E. BELCHER, Diocesan Architect.

Peterborough, June 22, 1907. 4d149

UNFOUNDED ASSUMPTION

The Review is collaborating with other journals short of political ammunition, in trying to revive the Dundonald incident. Lord Dundonald has been relieved from duty with the British Army by the Imperial Government. The London Free Press says that Lord Dundonald has been driven out of the Imperial Army by the Government of Canada. This is fog-day madness. Lord Dundonald, brave and skilful soldier as he is, lacks the essential quality of a good soldier, deference to constituted authority. He was relieved of his command for an offence tantamount to insubordination, itself an euphemism for mutiny. No doubt the exercism of the same characteristics in England led to his being relieved of his military duties. The Free Press says Lord Dundonald was slighted out of deference to Canadian susceptibilities. When has Great Britain allowed the tail to wag the dog or been solicitous about wounding Canadian susceptibilities? The Imperial Government can give way slices of Canadian territory without a thought of our susceptibilities, not to say rights. Is it likely that it would weaken its army by an uncalled for deference to Canada, which has no feeling in the matter. Lord Dundonald took a course which forbade his retention in a military capacity. With his departure the incident was closed. The fact that Great Britain found it necessary to deal as it has done with Lord Dundonald justifies the action of the Canadian Government.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The lightning these days is more mischievous than malicious. It seems contented with playing the role of chimney sweep.

By oversight, an article, entitled "Ministers in Secular Callings," appeared in Saturday's Examiner without being credited, as should have been done, to the Toronto Star.

The Canadian railways in the five-year period ending with 1906 manufactured $14,430,190 cars as compared with $8,954,172 in the preceding five years. Surely, the railways are making a real effort to meet the demands of the growth of the country.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's enemies will now charge that he has broken the Lord's Day Act, for which he is responsible, by allowing the twentieth anniversary of his acceptance of the Liberal leadership to fall on a Sunday. That would be as reasonable as some of the charges made.

Rev Dr. J. G. Shearer declares that Canada has now the best Sunday law on the statute books of any nation, and that by its processes already 100,000 men have gained a hitherto unknown rest day. The significance of this statement is emphasized by recollecting that this law is due to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in whom many good persons on account of his creed see no right thing. But Laurier is much larger than the microscopic souls who think that no good can come out of Nazareth.

The Review ingenuously observes that "here is Uncle Sam copying after the banner Province of the Dominion," because the United States Government has sent to Ron. Mr. Mathison for a copy of the Succession Duties Act, which that gentleman, when in Opposition, fought tooth and claw. The merit of adopting this act, which has been so fruitful a source of revenue to Ontario belongs entirely to a Liberal Government, which adopted it in spite of the protests of the then Opposition who, now in power, take credit for its results.

FISHING SEASON LOWERS PRICE OF HOGS

So States a Local Hog Dealer—Pork Not Eaten in Hot Weather

The price of hogs is again on the decrease. Only a week ago hogs, live weight, were selling at $7.00 per cwt., but this morning they are down to $6.50. One of the local buyers states that the cause for the fall in price is the opening of the fishing season and the departure of so many for the lakes where pork is used but little, evidently a great many will be compelled from force of circumstances to go without pork or fish if they refuse to purchase the former.

THE WEATHER

The thunder storm of Saturday was sudden and unexpected, but a strange circumstance was the fact that the downpour was identical in amount with the storm of a few days previous, viz., .66 of an inch. The rainfall yesterday was .24 of an inch. Saturday's highest temperature was 85 degrees in the shade, on Sunday, 82 degrees, and to-day at noon, 83 degrees, with a moist atmosphere which made the heat oppressive.

COUNTY COUNCIL CLOSED SESSION

Saturday's Session Was Devoted to Reading and Adopting Reports and Passing By-laws

On Saturday morning, the June session of the county council closed when the reports of the different committees were adopted, and by-laws confirming them passed.

At the Friday afternoon session Mr. J. K. Galvin addressed the council asking for damages for loss of cattle on P. C. Bridge, 1904.

The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Council resumed on June 22nd, 8.30 p.m..

The reports of the following standing committees were read and adopted: Committee on Appointments, County Property, Roads and Bridges, Schools and Finance.

On motion of Messrs. Scott and Mober, the treasurer was authorized to pay the House of Refuge surgeon as salary dating from Feb. 1, 1907, the sum of $150 per annum, said amount to cover the drug expenses; and if Dr. Brown refuses to accept the same the superintendent and the Board of Management are hereby authorized to employ medical assistance when required.

Bylaws Nos. 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, and 917, received the necessary readings and were signed and sealed with corporate seal.

A bylaw to provide for the issuing of debentures to raise $4000 for the purpose of building bridges, in the county, received its first and second readings without amendment, and upon motion of Messrs. Breault and Mober, the council adjourned, to meet October 2nd, for the purpose of giving the said bylaw its third reading, at the same time authorizing the clerk to advertise said bylaw, in accordance with the law.

A really reliable remedy for headache—Zutoo.

If you have got it into your head that Zutoo Tablets will hurt you, you are mistaken.

It isn't fair to us for you to judge Zutoo by the drug cures.

It isn't fair to yourself to suffer from headache, when this really harmless vegetable headache cure is within your reach.

The fair thing for both of us is—to judge Zutoo on its merits—to test it.

If you find it does not cure your headache, sick, nervous or otherwise, in twenty minutes, and leave you feeling good every time—no bad after effects, then discard it.

But do not condemn it unfairly without a trial, and keep on suffering from headaches. You really do not have to, and one trial of Zutoo will prove it.

All we ask for Zutoo is fair play—that you give it a trial before concluding as to its merits or demerits.

Wont you do this? You'll be glad ever after if you do.

Stony Lake Granite For Roman Catholic Church

Mr. James Brodie Will Supply Material From His Quarry Near the Head of Stony Lake.

1,700 SQUARE YARDS

The granite for the new Roman Catholic church, tenders for the erection of which are now being called, will be quarried at Stony Lake. Mr. James Brodie, of Stanstead, Que., who owns a quarry near the head of Stony Lake, of fifteen acres, has undertaken to supply the stone for the new building, and at the present time has a staff of men at work quarrying it. Over 1700 square yards of rock will be required for this building, which, when completed, will be a beautiful structre, and an ornament to the city as well as a credit to the denomination building it.

The stone in Mr. Brodie's quarry is about the same quality as that at Eagle Mount, and is of a light red colour. There are thousands of tons of the rock on Mr. Brodie's island, and it is probable that he will take out a considerable quantity, other than that required for this particular building.

The stone will be brought to Lakefield by barge and transhipped there on to cars, to Peterborough. Shipping will be commenced as soon as a derrick, which Mr. Brodie, is now waiting on, arrives.

This is by no means the only quarry Mr. Brodie has. At Stanstead he owns an immense quarry and ships building stone from that city to different parts of Canada, for building material. He has also supplied stone from his Stony Lake quarry for Toronto, where it is used as flag stones.

ARTIFICIAL POND ON EDINBURGH STREET

"Health" Calls the Attention of the Citizens to What He Describes as an Intolerable State of Affairs

Editor Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — Permit me through the columns of the Examiner to call attention to the artificial pond on Edinburgh street. This miniature lake has only been created by a crude system of being supplied from the accumulation of water that is conveyed from George street during one of our genial Showers. The bottom of this oblong pond is made up of an incongruous mass which I am not able to describe. The Board of Works has not yet been able to see their way clear to place in a subterranean passageway for an outlet.

Before further action is taken on this gigantic road building would it not be wisdom to learn the dangers that are incurred by taking the refuse from the back yards of our citizens without the liberty of our sanitary inspector? Then the dragging of this rubbish up and down this street to be washed over week after week to supply perfume for the citizens in this part of the city, is not anxiously desired.

Yours very truly,
HEALTH.

The Sufferings of the Dyspeptic

DUE TO NEGLECTING TO KEEP THE LIVER RIGHT, THE DIGESTION GOOD, THE BOWELS HEALTHY BY USING

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

You may shudder to think of yourself as a dyspeptic—as one who, through stomach troubles, has come to look on the dark side of things, and to be ill-tempered and grouchy—but if you neglect treatment for repeated attacks of indigestion you will most assuredly become a chronic dyspeptic.

The great mistake is to put the blame on the stomach, and strive in vain for lasting benefit from tablets and so-called digestives. The real cause of trouble in nine cases out of ten is with the liver.

Thousands of persons are being cured of complicated cases of indigestion by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, because of their direct action on the liver, thus ensuring a good flow of bile—good digestion and healthful action of the bowels.

Mr. C. D. Bennett, Maple Grove, Magantic Co, Que., writes; "I had dyspepsia very bad. The food would sour, my stomach would swell up, I suffered a great deal and could not sleep. As the result of using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I am now entirely cured, and can eat any kind of food without feeling any bad effects. They have made a new man and a younger man of me, and I cannot say too much in their praise.

"Dr. Chase's Ointment cured a friend of mine of piles when he was so bad he could not work or even stand up."

Mr. Wm. G. Purdy, Bridgetown, N. S., writes:—"When I wrote to you for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I was a sufferer from kidney disease, stomach troubles, and liver and bowel disorders. By using one pill at bedtime every night my health has gradually improved until I can say that I am in better health than I have been for twenty years. All other medicines failed, but Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me."

This treatment is thorough, far-reaching and of lasting benefit, and cures the most severe cases of chronic and intestinal indigestion, as well as biliousness and constipation; 25 cts. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Mr. John Drummond, of Keene, Meets With Good Luck—Little Illegal Fishing Reported This Year

ELECTED FAIR'S OFFICERS

Examiner Special.

Keene, June 22.—Since the fishing season opened on Monday a number of good catches have been reported; in fact, few fishermen have been unsuccessful. A peculiarity that has been noted by many anglers is that a larger proportion than usual of small maskinonge are being caught this year. It is claimed by some that there has been less illegal fishing in the past few years than formerly, and that in consequence, more fingerlings have been allowed to spawn—thus the increase in the number of small fish.

We might note one exception to the general rule. Mr. John Drummond, on Thursday, caught a 19-pound lunge in the Indian River.

DEACON GRAHAM THE NEW MODERATOR

Member of Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church Elected to the Head of the Peterborough Association of Baptist Churches

THE CONVENTION CLOSED

Port Hope, June 22.—The meetings of the Peterborough Association of Baptist Churches, which began here on Wednesday, June 19, were continued throughout Thursday and Friday, closing with the meeting on Friday evening.

The morning session Thursday opened at 9.30 with a short experience and testimony meeting conducted by the Moderator. The Nominating Committee was completed by the addition of the following: Revs. A. H. Bruce, L. McKinnon, J. R. Webb, J. P. McLennan.

At the introduction of new pastors, Rev. J. R. Webb, pastor of the Murray Street Church, Peterborough, was presented by Rev. C. H. Emerson, and Rev. Mr. Beattie of Baillieboro by Rev. A. H. Bruce. Both these introductions called forth brief but very felicitous responses. Rev. A. C. Fournier, representing Grande Ligne Mission, being present, was introduced by Mr. Webb, and responded in a short but very forceful address, in which he traced the steps by which he was led from the priesthood of the Roman Catholic Church to the Baptist ministry. He recounted his dissatisfaction with the principles and practices of the Romish Church, his struggle for better things, his introduction to the work at Grand Ligne, where he found light and peace and the consequent devoting of his life to the interests of that work. His remarks were listened to with marked attention and interest.

The reports of the associational secretaries of the various mission enterprises were then given, Home Missions, Foreign, Western and Grande Ligne Missions, and also the Baptist Young People's Unions, followed by the reading of the clerk's statistical statement. These all contained much to encourage, showing both larger membership and increased contributions.

The reading of the annual letters from the various churches comprising the association, in which there was much of interest and large encouragement, concluded the morning session.

The exercises of the afternoon began with a devotional half hour conducted by Rev. G. Victor Collins of Lakefield.

Rev. L. S. Steedman of Warsaw then preached the annual sermon from the text, "God is a Spirit," and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." It was an earnest, thoughtful, instructive, thought-compelling presentation of the necessity and requisites of real, true worship.

This was followed by an address on Grande Ligne by Rev. A. C. Fournier. Mr. Fournier's remarks in the morning had made larger preparation for the interest with which his address was listened to, as with telling force and the relation of many facts and incidents, he set forth the conditions in the Romish Church, which justified the prosecution of such a work as that of Grande Ligne, ending with an earnest plea for greater interest in, and larger support of, that work.

An address on "Christian Education was then given by Mr. A. T. MacNeil, B.A., Principal of Woodstock College. Owing to the lateness of the hour Mr. MacNeil was unable in his address to do justice either to himself or his subject; nevertheless, he revealed the heart of the matter. Only the briefest outline of his remarks can be given.

"Any young man or woman who would properly relate themselves to their own age must come into a knowledge of the past, out of which have grown our industrial conditions, our social relations, our political organizations, our free and representative institutions, and also our religion. They must not only be familiar with the past, but also with the social, political and national conditions of the age in which they live. They must make themselves familiar with the forces at large in society. Not tradition, not superstition, not science is the largest factor in this new century life, but the force of truth. Emphatically are the words of the Great Teacher being exemplified, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." In the three great forces of present-day life, the nation, the Church and the home, the dominant power must be Christian. And why? Because, in this age of the world's civilization, there is no training which is applicable except the Christian conception; anything else falls short, anything short of Christian education spells decay and death and ruin. These are the needs of the Baptist educational institutions."

A quet, "I Will Give You Rest," was most tastefully rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

The evening session opened with a praise and prayer service led by Rev. B. Davies of Colborne.

The report of the Nominating Committee was then presented, but, on motion of Rev. J. R. Webb, was referred back for further consideration.

An address was then given by Rev. G. Victor Collins on "How to Make the Young People's Society a More Effective Power in Church Life."

This was followed by an address on "The Two-fold Obligation of Every Young Christian," by Rev. A. H. Bruce of Park Street Church, Peterborough. These were shown to be development of personal Christian life and character, and service for the salvation of others.

Owing to the lateness of the hour the discussion was dispensed with and way made for the address, "The Call of the West," by Rev. Walter Daniel, pastoral representative of Western Missions, who, in breezy, racy, hearty, and, at times, humourous manner, set forth the greatness of the demand of Western Missions, the strenuousness of the life, the arduousness of the labour, but, withal, the great satisfaction of the possible results.

A solo, duet, and selections by the choir, with hymns by the congregation, greatly brightened the evening's exercises. The meeting closed with the benediction by Rev. W. Quarrington of Cobourg.

Friday morning session opened with devotional meeting led by Pastor Beattie of Baillieboro.

Twenty-minute addresses upon the "Efficient Church" were then delivered as follows: Rev. B. Davies, "The Church and the Word"; Rev. J. P. McLennan, "The Church and Work"; Rev. C. H. Emerson, "The Undeveloped Resources of the Church." These were all very thoughtful, plain, pointed, practical and urgent, setting forth the demands made upon the church, and how they may be met.

A short but very earnest address was then given by pastor L. McKinnon on "Stewardship." Stewardship is being entrusted with the goods of another for administration. A sense of God is necessary in order to the right discharge of our obligation. Stewardship involves the unselfish use of money, the prudent manipulation of forces. Our business is so to manipulate and so to use our money that we may do the best we can to help on the Kingdom of God.

At 2 o'clock the afternoon session was opened with the presentation of the claims of the Canadian Baptist and the Book Room by the business manager, Mr. R. D. Warren.

Briefly, but very effectively, Mr. Warren set forth the aims of the Canadian Baptist, and the ground of its claim for our hearty support, and also the efficiency of the Book Room in its equipment for the prompt and satisfactory supplying of the needs of our churches and Sunday schools in literature.

This was to have been followed by an address upon "The Pastor and the Sunday school," by Rev. W. B. Merrill, B. A., of Toronto, General Sunday school superintendent.

As some time had already been lost and not wishing to encroach further Mr. Merrill suggested that his address be omitted, and the conference on Sunday school work be entered upon. This resulted in the strong presentation of several phases of this work as related to both pastor and superintendent as well as teacher, in which Mr. Merrill in answer to one question gave what he called "the bones" of his address.

This was followed by a memorial service in honour of the loved and respected brother, Rev. J. E. Trotter, which was participated in by Rev. C. H. Emerson, Rev. L. McKinnon, Rev. B. Davies, Rev. —. Quarrington, and Rev. James Desson, and which very fittingly gathered up, and bound together, the many expressions of sincere appreciation, of high respect, and of loving grief, which have been constantly heard during the meetings. At the close of this service, a resolution, which had been passed at an earlier session, was read, placing on record the feeling of the association, in tender, grateful recognition of the services rendered the Association by Pastor Trotter, and of his noble, consistent Christian life, and also expressing deep, brotherly sympathy with the church in Port Hope, in their sudden and irreparable loss. During this service a solo, "Come unto Me," was beautifully sung by Mrs. Randall.

The evening session opened with a prayer and praise service led by Pastor Beattie of Baillieboro. Immediately following this came the introduction by the Moderator of the Moderator-elect, Deacon Graham, of Gilmour Church.

Deacon Graham responded in a few remarks, in which he expressed his thanks for the honour conferred upon him.

Rev. J. G. Brown, D. D., of Toronto, secretary of Foreign Missions, then spoke on conditions in India. He spoke of the political unrest in that country, showing its cause, its dangers and its possible outcome, also the social unrest in the breaking down of the age-long caste system, and the tremendous significance of that condition; and further of the wide-spread religious unrest. Dr. Brown clearly showed the relation sustained to these conditions by the missionary work of the churches, and its largely increased importance in such times of crisis.

Rev. W. Quarrington of Cobourg, then gave an address in which he sought to gather up and compact together the inspiration, impulse and power of the meetings, and gave them direction, point and purpose.

In earnest words by Scripture teaching, by exhortation and injunction, he set forth the problems which make their demands upon individuals and churches, and urged a more devoted service rendered effective by the spiritual power of prevailing prayer.

A solo by Master Piper and a few earnest words by Moderator Graham were followed by the reading of a resolution expressing appreciation by the Association of the kindness of the Port Hope church and other friends in full handed and open-hearted entertainment, and the efforts of all who have contributed to the success of the gathering, especially the organist, choir and individuals who assisted so greatly in the beautiful music.

The singing of Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow, prayer, by Dr. Brown, and Pastor Quarrington, with the benediction by the ex-Moderator, Rev. Jas. Desson, brought to a close another most helpful gathering of the Peterborough Association of Baptist churches.

FORESTERS ATTEND CHURCH.

Ancient Order Worshipped at Knox Church Last Evening—Address by Rev. H. J. Keith

A VERY HELPFUL SERMON

To avoid the so called friends that lead one away into things that tend to destroy one's vitality, and to cling to Jesus Christ as their inspiration was the advice given by Rev. H. J. Keith to the members of Court Stanley No. 7680 on the occasion of their annual church parade to Knox Presbyterian church last evening. In spite of the threatening weather there was a very large representation of the brethren present and as the members of the congregation turned out in large numbers the accommodation of the church was taxed to its utmost. Rev. Mr. Keith delivered a brief but eloquent and forcible sermon in which the principles of the order present were referred to and endorsed.

The text chosen was from Proverbs 18, 24: "There is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother." In beginning the speaker referred to the fact that people were coming to understand that certain obligations rested upon them to help their fellow men as long as help was needed. He pointed out that people were dependent upon each other even for their food and clothing and each must help the other in view of the obligations laid upon everyone. Speaking of other obligations the speaker believed that the time was not far distant when the compulsory use of the ballot and assistance in governing the country would be in force and those who did not fulfill their obligations along this line would be punished. Reference was made to the changes in this direction that were being brought about. In those days the people were held responsible for the evils in political life.

Passing on the speaker proceeded to to warn his hearers against the wrong kind of friends. He spoke of the "hale fellow well met," who sought friends not for their own good but for his own selfish ends, leading them to idle away their lives in useless pastimes that would destroy their vitality. When hardship comes upon one where are these so called friends? the speaker asked.

People should be banded together in the higher ideals of life seeking to help each other and set towards each other as Damon and Pythias or David and Jonathan.

They should have an inspiration to guide them in their efforts and the speaker referred them to Jesus Christ who would be a friend whose patience could never be worn out and who would be always ready to extend sympathy.

The members of the Companion Court of Lady Foresters occupied seats at the front of the church. The choir rendered two anthems, "Now the Day is Ending" and "Forever with the Lord," in a finished and effective manner and Mr. Duncan Campbell sang a solo in excellent voice.

WOODMEN OF WORLD CHURCH SERVICE

Rev. E. A. Landfeldt Preached Eloquent Sermon to Members of This Order Last Night

BENEFITS OF FRATERNALISM

About seventy-five members of Sherwood Forest Camp, No. 50, W. O. W., marshalled by Woodman W. J. Johnston, paraded to St. Luke's church last evening, where the annual service was held.

There was a large congregation in attendance and the members of the Order joined heartily in the singing of the hymns and reciting the responses. This is the second year St. Luke's has been chosen for the annual church service of the local Woodmen, which is an evidence of the popularity of Rev. Mr. Langfeldt with them.

The sermon preached last night by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt was an earnest one and contained much valuable advice for a benevolent society. This eloquent sermon was based on the words found in the 33rd verse of the 6th Chapter of St. Matthew, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness and all things will be added unto you."

In the speaker's opening remarks he extended a hearty welcome to the visiting brethren. He wished to speak to them on some practical questions on the principles of the gospel as practiced in daily life.

In conclusion the speaker referred to the motive of the society, viz., the supporting of those in need. Seek not the glory of your order, but the glory of God, and in the voyage of life steer for the high things and the mind's best intelligence.

After the sermon, Miss Ruth Dawson sang, "I am a Pilgrim," in her usual excellent manner.

The society marched back to their hall, where a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Langfeldt for his excellent sermon, and the congregation, for giving up their pews and to the choir for their excellent singing.

DELIGHTFUL OUTING AT STONY LAKE

Employees of Colonial Weaving Company Held Excursion Saturday

The annual outing of the management and employees of the Colonial Weaving Company on Saturday to Juniper Island, Stony Lake, was enjoyed by a large number and a delightful day is reported. About one hundred persons took the trip, going from the city on the regular G. T. R. train in the morning, and from Lakefield the Steamer Stoney Lake was taken to the objective point. During the trip on the steamer and at the pavillion, music was furnished by Mr. Paul Velfinkle, a German violin player, who has been spending a few days in the city. He was accompanied on the guitar and mandolin by Mr. Jos. P. Zepp, superintendent of the mill, and on the mouth organ by Mr. Moher. Mr. Gill rendered several fine songs. Master Joe Clancy also contributed songs which delighted the gathering.

Some enjoyed themselves boating and fishing, while others spent the time dancing in the pavillion until the party were called for by the steamer for the return trip. Some very flattering remarks passed by some gentlemen on board regarding the very fine badge, which was designed and woven at their mill, stating that they were surprised to see such beautiful work executed in Canada, and spoke very highly of the behaviour and apparent intelligence of the gathering.

Those on the committee were, Jos. P. Zepp, Howard Clegg, W. Dath, Harry Zepp and M. Clancy.

CHARMING MUSKOKA.

The Grand Trunk Railway System, the pioneer line to Muskoka, will continue to give its patrons the best of service, and "Muskoka Wharf" will remain the principal gateway, being the headquarters of the Muskoka fleet of steamers.

The beautiful scenic trips from Toronto, skirting along the shores of Lakes Simcoe and Couchiching and around Kempenfeldt Bay, crossing the Narrows at Orillia and Atherly Junction and the Severn River, make the route the only way to go.

Muskoka Wharf has been widened 20 feet and lengthened 100 feet, enabling four steamers to dock alongside the Grand Trunk expresses.

The trip up Lake Muskoka to Beaumaris, Little Pittsburg, among the islands and beautiful summer homes and a stand no other way, therefore it is not unlikely that the Grand Trunk will not be able to retain the patronage of its old customers.

Full information may be obtained from W. B. Burton, City Agent, and F. Sandy, Depot Agent, or write to J. D. McDonald, Union Depot, Toronto, Ont.

GARBAGE BY-LAW IS EXPLAINED

Ald. Elliott Points Out the Advantages it Will Afford the Citizens, if Adopted

AIM OF THE COMMITTEE

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Before any further action is taken on the Garbage Bylaw, I think the general public should be thoroughly informed regarding the two propositions that were submitted to the Council by the committee who had the bylaw in charge, for raising the necessary funds to carry out the system. I believe that every citizen of Peterborough wishes to see the city kept in as cleanly and sanitary condition at the smallest possible cost. The idea of the committee was to remove the garbage, ashes and, in fact, refuse of all kinds, from the premises of the citizens once a week (from private houses and business places oftener) regularly systematically, not to cost the ratepayer any more than he is paying at present with our once-a-year cleaning-up process. We found, by communicating with other places that have a system, what this would cost our city with a population of 15,000. The next thing done was to find how many private houses, business houses, hotels, factories, and, in fact, every kind of place that required the services of a scavenger there were. Then we tried to levy a rate that we thought would be equitable to all parties.

The first proposition was to charge each householder 15 cents per month for a once-a-week service, which is $1.80 per year to everybody. Business or other places, requiring services two or three times a week were to be charged in the same proportion per visit. These fees will raise the amount necessary to carry out the system successfully, but is it equitable to all?

The other proposition is to place 7-10 of a mill on the assessment, which works out this way: For instance, there are hundreds of small houses in Peterborough whose assessed value is from $500 to $1,000. Now, a house, valued at $500 and assessed in this way for this purpose, would pay 35 cents per year. A house at $700 would pay 49 cents; a $1,000 house, 70 cents; a $1,500 house, $1.05; a $2,000 house, would pay $1.40, and so on all the way up. I submit, Mr. Editor, that it would not be just and equitable that these hundreds of small houses should be charged the same price for services of scavengers, as the scores of handsome residences, whose assessed value is from $3,000 to $5,000, and who burn from two to twenty tons of coal each year. These fine residences would be taxed from $2 to $3.50 per year for the purpose, and it is certainly worth it. This plan will raise the necessary funds to carry out the system, and I may add that the Sanitary Inspector's salary is included in both these propositions, as part of the expense in connection therewith. So far as I am concerned, and I believe that the majority of the Council hold the same opinion, the only and proper course is to submit the bylaw to the people for their approval or otherwise. Also, an expression of opinion as to which of these systems of payment is the more desirable.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for valuable space, I remain,

Yours truly,

GEO. E. ELLIOTT,

Peterborough, June 24, 1907.

ADDRESS AND LOCKET TO MR. J. BAIN

Employees of Spinning Room of Auburn Woolen Mills Remember Their Foreman

HAS SEVERED CONNECTIONS

Mr. John Bain, foreman of the spinning department of the Auburn Woollen Mills, was agreeably surprised by those engaged under him when they gathered to say farewell. Mr. Bain has severed his connection with the mill, and, on his departure was presented with a handsome gold locket, with his initials engraved thereon. Mr. Bain replied in a suitable way, thanking his friends for their cooperation on all occasions, and their hearty assistance to him. He expressed his gratitude for his beautiful remembrance and said that it would always recall the days spent in the Auburn Mills.

The address was as follows:

To Mr. J. M. Bain,
Auburn Woollen Mills,
Peterborough, Ont.,

Dear Mr. Bain, — It is with feelings of deep regret that your friends of the Auburn Woollen Mills have assembled here this afternoon to say good-bye, ere you sever your connection with the firm, which has been the scene of your faithful labours for so many years.

We should deem ourselves ungrateful were we to allow so favourable an opportunity to pass without expressing our heartfelt appreciation of your kindness and good work.

During the years you have superintended our department you have been a model to us all, ever so cheerful and willing to assist us, at all times genial and self-denying, consolentious and honourable in all your dealings, which have been duly recognized and have earned for you the confidence and esteem of those committed to your charge, as well as the respect of all with whom you have come in contact.

Needless to say, we envy those among whom your future lot will be cast, still, rest assured, our heartiest good wishes will ever attend you, and we sincerely hope your future labors will prove as successful as did those of your past.

Mere words, however, cannot express the regret thatt we all experience on your departure from our midst, of so zealous a manager and so faithful and benevolent a friend.

We ask your acceptance of this slight token of our regard in the spirit in which it is offered, as a tribute to your merits and an expression of our sincerity and gratitude.

Signed on behalf of your co-workers.

Peterborough, June 22, 1907.

THE TATE OPTICAL CO.
PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of ever getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

THE FRENCH REVOLT IS CRUSHED

Leader of Riots Pays Visit to Premier Clemenceau.

MUTINOUS TROOPS RETURN

Mob Attack Prefect—Beat Him and Tear Off His Clothes—Worst Crisis of Years—President Fallieres Declines to Intervene—Newspapermen Treated as Spies—Troops Mobilized—Quiet Restored.

Paris, June 24.—The most interesting event yesterday in the wine growers' revolt was the visit of Marcelin Albert, the leader of the disturbing element in the south of France, to Premier Clemenceau.

Yesterday morning the man for whom the police and troops have been vainly scouring the country for a fortnight, appeared suddenly at the Ministry of the Interior. He wore the simple garb of a southern peasant.

The cotton shirt, the silk handkerchief around his neck and the carpet bag in his hand aroused the suspicion of the corps of detectives now constantly guarding the Premier. But when he had established his identity, Albert was admitted to the presence of Clemenceau, with whom he had a fifteen minutes' talk.

A semi-official account of the interview says that the Premier used extremely strong language, virtually blaming his visitor for all that has happened in the south, the refusal to pay taxes, the strike, the resignation of the officials of municipalities and the bloodshed that has occurred—everything in fact.

A profound sense of relief now pervades the French capital at the check to the outbreak in the south, which is described by ex-Premier Ribot as the worst internal crisis in France in the past 37 years. The Government now apparently is satisfied that it has the situation well in hand. Overwhelming forces of troops garrison the whole area to prevent a recrudescence of the armed revolt against the central power. Such a mobilization of military forces has not previously been witnessed in the life of the third republic.

Despatches report that a general surface calm prevails, although there are one or two storm centres in isolated districts.

Senators and deputies representing the south called at the Elysee Palace Saturday night and asked President Fallieres to intervene personally to secure the release of the members of the Argelliers committee, under arrest as the surest means of ensuring pacification. The President regretted that his office did not permit him to comply with the request.

No further disturbances of importance were reported yesterday, the mutinous troops returning to their barracks at Agde, and the roll call showed only one man missing.

Later details of the capture of Sub-Prefect Leullier show that soldiers who tried to protect him were forced to retreat before the fury of the mob. M. Leullier's clothes were literally torn from him and he was badly beaten.

Disturbances Over.

The fear that yesterday, being Sunday, would witness a renewal of the rioting in the affected districts, fortunately was not realized, although the prefecture at Niems was stoned.

There is a heavy concentration of troops at Narbonne, Montpeillier and other centres of disturbance.

Gen. Cailley, who is in command at Narbonne, thinks the chief danger now is from professional agitators and anarchists. He has information that a large number of anarchists have crossed the frontier from Spain, but declares he now has a sufficient force to patrol every foot of railroad in his territory.

The peasants view every stranger with suspicion. Two newspaper correspondents narrowly escaped lynching in the mistaken belief that they were spies.

Several deputies from the south, who hurried home on Friday to aid in calming their constituents, received such a hostile reception that they were forced to return to Paris.

M. Albert left for the south at nine o'clock.

Just before he left, it was officially stated that he had promised M. Clemenceau to do his utmost to induce his countrymen to return to work and to cease their disturbances.

Cheered the News.

Narbonne, France, June 24.—The funeral of the sixth victim of the rioting on Thursday last was held yesterday. There was no disorder.

Despatches describing Marcelin Albert's interview with Premier Clemenceau, were read to crowds throughout the south and were received with thunderous cheers. The affair appears to have made a most marked impression.

Fresh troops continue to arrive and are being distributed over the country. It is estimated that their are now more than 70,000 in the three departments.

THE WATER CLAIMS ITS HEAVY TOLL

Police Magistrate Drowned At Pincher Creek.

HOD STUART'S FATAL DIVE

Breaks His Neck on Jagged Rocks—Boy Drowns at Ottawa—Boat Upset—Deckhand From Barge Falls Overboard—Young Scotchman's Tragic Death—A Little Girl Drowns—Other Accidents.

Belleville, June 24.—"Hod" Stuart, the famous hockey player, was accidentally killed here yesterday afternoon, while diving near the Grand Junction dock.

"Hod" had his swimming suit and set out for a swim to the lighthouse, about a quarter of a mile away, while his companions waited for him.

He reached the lighthouse all right, and climbed up on the platform which surrounds it, and which is about five feet above the water. There he rested a minute or two, and was then seen to dive into the water. The watchers waited for him to come up, but waited in vain.

After a few minutes they became alarmed, ran for a boat and rowed to the lighthouse, where the body of poor "Hod" was found, lying on the bottom in two feet of water. He had dived head first on a lot of jagged rocks.

There was a terrible gash in his head, and his neck was broken. The body was taken across to the Rathbun dock, and Coroner Yeomans was notified.

After viewing the body and hearing the stories of the men who had been in Stuart's company, he decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Winnipeg, June 24.—A. J. Bainville, foreman at the Eureka mine, was literally boiled to death in the shaft, which was being emptied out. Bainville was lowered into the water, through mistaken signals and although promptly rescued died of his injuries soon after.

Oshawa Football Team Showed The White Feather

Decamped From Riverside Park Before the Game Had Scarcely Begun—Looked Like a Bunch of Catalogued Rarities.

QUAKERS WON THE ROUND

Scarcely had the football match between the supposedly fast Oshawa team and the Quakers' begun on Saturday afternoon on Riverside Park when the visitors in a sudden fit of timidity marched off the grounds and refused to finish the game. It was an action unparalled in the history of the game in Peterbrough and happened with such suddenness that the assembled fans and the local team scarcely realized the import of it until the alleged soccer players with the big "O" printed on the breasts of the sweaters had disappeared across the bridge and had made their "elegant sneak" for home.

A week ago the intermediate Quakers journeyed to Oshawa and showed their team up by trimming them on their own sloping playgrounds by the score of 2—1. The locals were prepared to repeat the dose on Saturday afternoon when to their chagrin six of the visitors followed a leader and decamped, pursued by the jeers of the fans. Four of their number were true sports and would not leave the field until they found it a hopeless game to entice their comrades back again.

The direct cause of the unexpected action of this septette of peculiar specimens of football followers who looked as if they were catalogued in some collection of rarities yet remains a mystery. However, the only reason that can be assigned by those who witnessed their action is that it suspiciously indicated a sense of timidity.

On account of the rainstorm in the early afternoon the game was delayed about an hour. Precisely at 3.20 o'clock, the ball was kicked off and the game progressed about eight minutes. For the first minute or two the visitors were lively and pressed the Quaker defence a couple of times, but after that they were simply outlassoed and bewildered by the combination of the locals.

The beginning of the baloon ascension of the Oshawa team came when Orough and one of the visitors checked hard, the latter getting the worst of it. The Oshawa player apparently was looking for "scrap" and struck the local centre forward with his clenched fist. Orough immediately retaliated, knocking down his assailant and the two men decorated the fence for 3 minutes each. This appeared to settle the difficulty —and the ball was again on the move. A foul was called on one of the Quakers and Oshawa kicked off, sending the leather into touch. Archibald was on the point of throwing it in when one by one seven of the visitors darted from the field apparently with every particle of their hither-to bottled-up indignation effervescing and their passions could not be appeased.

The referee's whistle recommenced the play, Yates sending the ball between the stakes and the game was awarded to the Quakers.

Referee Fred Doherty of Norwood stated that he never before saw such a cowardly act on a football field and had he stuck to the letter of the regulations Orough should not have been sent to the fence as he was struck first.

Whether the little mix-up had anything to do with the visitors leaving the field so disgracefully is not exactly known. One or two of them complained that they had little time to catch their train. But this appears to be groundless, as the match began at 3.20 and their sin did not leave until after 5 o'clock, giving them almost two hours. Evidently the parlour style of football they are accustomed to, did not prevail in Oshawa last week and they were fearful lest the locals might dish out a few bumps. The fact that some wanted to leave the field before the match began seems to bear out this assumption.

The Quakers have therefor won the round by 3—1 and will play in the semi-finals next week against the winners of the Keene—Warkworth series. The Quakers line-up on Saturday was,—Laing, Sullivan, Scrimshaw, Archibald, McDonald, Dingman, Yates, Brodie, Crough, Cannitt and Hagley.

WARKWORTH WINS FROM CAMPBELLFORD'S ELEVEN

Defeated the Latter by 2-0 on Norwood Grounds—Champions of Their District

On Friday afternoon on the Norwood grounds, Warkworth trimmed Campbellford by the score of 2—0, and won the championship of the three-cornered eastern district.

The game, according to Referee Doherty was one of the best ever seen on Norwood grounds and was witnessed by a large crowd, 124 fans accompanying the winners from Warkworth.

Burwash, the victors' right hand man, was the star of the game; Will Cook, on the left wing, shone for Campbellford.

The Warkworth goals were scored by Allen and the losers' goal tender who carried the ball between the stakes before throwing it out.

Warkworth and Keene will play off in the semi-finals this week.

COBOURG AND QUAKERS PLAY FIRST GAME

On Riverside Park on Wednesday Evening at 6.45 O'clock

The return game in the finals for the senior championship of the Midland Football League will be played on Riverside Park on Wednesday evening, between Cobourg and the Senior Quakers. Cobourg has one of the best teams in the league and will endeavour to trim the Quakers on their own grounds. They have two of the finest backs in the league, so that the local forwards will have to extend themselves some if they intend to do any scoring.

The home team have had little financial support this year in their games here and as they are a winning team this game should be largely attended. The match will be begun at 6.45 o'clock, the admission being 15 and 10 cents.

BIG LACROSSE MATCH ARRANGED

Beaverton Will Play Here on the Holiday —Has a Great Team

The biggest lacrosse game of the season will be played here on Monday next when the Beavertons, Peterborough's great rivals of two years ago, will clash against the locals at the Riverside Park. The Peterborough bunch have been practicing faithfully all last week, and are now rounding into good shape. With another hard week's work this week they will be in a condition to play the game of their lives. Beaverton has succeeded in rounding up a fast team, as their 6—2 defeat of Newmarket last week indicates, and they are bound to take Peterborough's scalp on the holiday. The locals will not go down without a hard struggle and the enthusiasts may rely on seeing a great game.

The team had a splendid practise on Saturday afternoon and some of the men are taking a run every morning.

Band and free moving pictures at Jackson Park to-night.

FOOTBALL

The Quaker senior and intermediate teams will practice this evening on the exhibition grounds.

When Your Health Fails, What Then

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle. Success is for the strong and alert — for those whose blood is rich and whose nerve cells are filled with vigour and energy. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion and to keep health at high water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Safeguard Against Followers of the Circus

Chief Roussel has asked the press to call the attention of the citizens to the fact that there will likely be a number of thieves with the circus to-morrow, and that householders should not leave their houses unlocked. There is usually a motley crowd following every circus, and this will probably be no exception to the rule. A word to the wise is sufficient.

He has been in the employ of the Grand Opera House since the opening of the house two years ago, and will now take a well-earned holiday. He may return to Messrs. Turner & Co., but is not determined on this point. Of the treatment he has received he has only good word to say and is very much pleased with the city. His many friends hope that he will return to Peterborough and be on hand at the opening of the theatrical scenery in the autumn.

Costs and Fine Will Amount to Over $50 Before Magistrate To-morrow

John Donnelly, who was found guilty by Magistrate Edmison of stealing eggs in Otonabee a few weeks ago, will come up for sentence to-morrow. It is probable that if he is able to pay the fine, including costs and amount of restitution he will be allowed to go. # MAY TAKE LEGAL ACTION AGAINST CITY

Decayed Logs Left Underneath Parlour Window on Stewart Street

Legal action will probably be taken against the city by Mr. Wm. Roberts, Stewart street, who complains of the stench of some old, decayed logs, posts and lumber, which have been left by city employees, just underneath his parlour window. His residence is situated on Stewart street beside the G.T.R. tracks and adjoining his property is a three-cornered lot owned by the city. The rotten sidewalks which Mr. Roberts claims might have been piled elsewhere have been placed on the property so as to prohibit all chances of obtaining pure ozone.

Mr. Geo. Edmison of Edmison & Dixon, law firm, has charge of the case for Mr. Roberts and unless the nuisance is removed action will be taken against the corporation.

"JIMMY" REYNOLDS COLLAPSED WITH BUT FIFTEEN MILES TO WALK

Port Hope Pedestrian Forced to Abandon His Effort to Walk From Port Hope to Toronto and Return, Near Newcastle.

HE WOULD HAVE FINISHED

Had the Heat Not Been Too Much For Him — Was Well Within His Scheduled Time When Overcome.

Examiner Special.

Port Hope, June 25.—At 9.30 this morning, after having covered all but 15 miles of his 130-mile walk from Port Hope to Toronto and return, "Jimmy" Reynolds collapsed about three-quarters of a mile west of Newcastle, and was taken to the hotel in that village, and placed under a doctor's care, and a telephone message from a member of the band, which went to Newcastle to meet him, to the Guide was to the effect that he would be unable to complete his walk, though he would undoubted have finished it well within the time had he not been overcome with the heat. He had five hours and a half in which to make the fifteen miles, and would have done it easily.

It was stated that he was sick at his stomach at intervals after leaving the Halfway House, but would not give in, fighting his increasing physical inability as well as he could until his collapse.

He will be brought to town this afternoon on the train.

About $1,000 changed hands on the race here, the greater number of these bets having been made after the report that he had reached Toronto was received. Even money was bet by both sides. Reynolds himself bet $500 to $500 that he would make the trip in the 38 hours.

There is keen disappointment among his friends here, the majority of whom were confident that he would make the trip, which he would, undoubtedly have done it in cooler weather.

EARL GREY ENDORSES ALL BRITISH FAST STEAMSHIP SERVICE PROPOSED

"I congratulate you that through the action of your representative at the Imperial Conference, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the representatives of the Empire, in conference assembled, have resolved that the time has time has come for the establishment of a mail and passenger service, between Great Britain and Canada, which shall be equal to the best that is supplied in New York, and that the time is not far off when Canada shall reap the great advantage of the geographical position with which nature has endowed her, by the establishment of a service which will stop our British letters travelling over two sides of a triangle, via New York, and which will cause the merchant in New York, to whom time is a consideration, to travel to and from, and to communicate by post with, the United Kingdom, through Canada.—Earl Gray, before the Ottawa Board of Trade.

Dummer Resident Had Fight With Scarecrow

An Egg Dealer Who Thought it Was a Fight to the Finish Interfered, but Was Not Needed.

WAS A PRACTICAL JOKE

A story of a peculiar conflict comes from Dummer, in which a prominent egg dealer of that township was much interested. The occurrence took place last week, in the cornfield of Mr. Nathan Bell, a farmer who resides a short distance east of Warsaw. From reports received, it appears that Mr. Bell, and another Dummer farmer, Mr. Wm. Dunford, had some difficulty over a transaction, and were not on extra good terms. Even on the morning of the strange conflict while the two men were unloading milk at the cheese factory, their wagons collided, and this estranged them still further, so that their friendship appeared to hang by a delicate thread.

The egg dealer called at Mr. Bell's residence in the morning in question, in search of hen fruit, and on his way towards the house, so the information goes, he noticed a man standing in the cornfield a short distance away, and upon inquiry a couple of times he was told that it was Mr. Dunford who had come for revenge. He stood there in the field, with an indescribable air of jaunty impudence, and Mr. Bell is said to have shown signs of fear.

From the information received, he (is represented as asking the egg-dealer to remain to see that he got fair play. His request would have been granted but for the lack of time. As the egg man passed the spot where the supposed pugilist stood, and without disputing the veracity of his optics, he is said to have exclaimed in a loud tone to him, "You had better go home, and not stay here looking for a fight!"

Mr. Bell heard his remarks and, grasping a cudgel he walked across towards the man in the cornfield, with threatening strides, but even his commanding and confident appearance did not seem to satisfy the driver on the wagon. The latter, after noticing the two men engage in a struggle, according to report, hastened over and discovered that Mr. Dunford was on the top side, and that apparently Mr. Bell was getting the worst of the struggle.

"No biting, for that's penitentiary work," he is reported to have said as he rolled up his sleeves, to disengage the two men on the ground; but instead of grasping an animated body his eyes met the tattered form of an ancient scarecrow, done up in brief remnants of old clothes.

BATTERY WILL REACH HERE SUNDAY

24th Battery Will Leave Petewawa Camp on Saturday Night, and Arrive Here Next Morning

A letter was received this morning from Lieut. Leary of the 24th Battery in which he states that the 24th will break camp on Saturday and will reach here on Sunday morning about 7 o'clock. A special train will bring the soldiers home. Farmers who have horses hired to the battery are asked to be at the armoury, East City, on Sunday morning to take charge of their animals. The letter states that all the horses are in splendid condition.

SPLENDID RECITAL BY MISS SISSON

Given at the Conservatory Last Evening —A Pupil of Mr. Gliddon

A number of the friends of Miss Annie Sisson assembled at the Conservatory last night and listened with great pleasure to her splendid recital. She displayed brilliant technique and good expression in her various piano numbers, which were all contributed from memory. Miss Sisson's recital reflects great credit upon the tudorship of Mr. Gliddon of whom she is a pupil. Her piano numbers included "Sonata" Op. 13, Bathoven; "Aufesbwung," Schumann; ("Valse Brilliant" Op. 34, Chopin; transcription on Walter's prize song from the Meister Singer by Wagner; and a double number, (a) Lullaby, (b) The Tournament, Polonaise, from Suite "In Arcadia," by Nevin.

During the recital, Mr. Hague Sawyers rendered, in pleasing style, two vocal solos, "Blue Eyes" by Reige and "Muleteer" by Henrion.

OBITUARY.

JOHN DOUGLAS

The friends of Mr. John Douglas, formerly of this city, will regret to learn of his death, which took place in Minto, Manitoba, on the 9th inst. While in Peterborough the late Mr. Douglas was a member of the firm of Douglas and Logan, carriage manufacturers, and was very well known, and news of his death will be learned with surprise here. The deceased was for many years a member of the town council, and was a man of vigour and force. He removed to Manitoba about fifteen years ago and has since then made his home there. Last winter he met with an accident by a fall, and during the confinement made necessary he developed internal complications, which resulted in his death. He was buried in the Minto cemetery.

DELIGHTFUL OUTING FOR THURSDAY

St. Paul's Young Men's Guild Will Run Excursion to Idyl Wyld on Thursday Afternoon

The excursion under the auspices of the Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, which will be held on Thursday afternoon next, promises to be well patronized. The executive of the Guild has departed from the old-time custom of devoting the entire day to the excursion, a feature of the outing being the hour of leaving Peterborough. Business men and others can attend to the greater part of the day's business and still enjoy a holiday. The steamer Otonabee, the largest, most modern boat on the Trent Canal, will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 1.30, and the street railway wharf at 2 o'clock, arriving at Idyl Wild at 4 p.m. Four hours will be spent at Idyl Wild, the prettiest spot on Rice Lake.

TRESPASSERS ON G. T. R. TRACKS WERE FINED

Seven Boys Appeared Before Magistrate Dumble This Morning

Seven boys, mostly from the West End of the city, appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning on the charge of having unlawfully walked on the G.T.R. tracks, contrary to the Railway Act. They pleaded guilty and were called upon to pay a fine of one dollar each. The Magistrate said that it had been a courtesy of the G.T.R., to allow the public to walk on the track but when complaints have to be made by the engineers and brakemen of boys throwing stones, then the company need no longer tolerate them.

One of the boys cried out, "What about the other boys who are walking the tracks, they are as much to blame as we are!" His Worship replied that that was the affair off the G.T.R. Company.

The company's special detective was the prosecuter, and will probably have a few more offenders before the court.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SKITCH WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

Floral Offerings Were Numerous and Beautiful

The funeral of Mrs. Fred Skitch was held yesterday from her late residence, 231 Dublin street, to the Little Lake cemetery. It was largely attended by friends of the family, who paid their last tributes of respect to the departed. Rev. Dr. Crothers conducted the obsequies at the home and also at the cemetery. The floral offerings were beautiful and by their number testified to the general regret that is extended the family in their bereavement.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Cox, Lash, Williamson, W. J. Thompson, W. A. McCann and W. D. Morrow.

TRANSFER INTEREST IN KNOX CHURCH

Congregational Meeting of St. Paul's Will be Held to Consider Matinee

At a special meeting of the office bearers of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, last night, it was decided to hold a congregational meeting on July 15th, when the question of the transfer of the interest of St. Paul's church congregation in Knox church building will be considered. The Knox church office bearers wish to make some interior improvements, and before doing so it was necessary to secure the consent of St. Paul's congregation. It is largely a domestic matter, and the office bearers have, it is understood, signified their willingness to grant the transfer asked, but before doing so, will allow the congregation a voice in the matter.

ST. JOHN'S YOUNG LADIES HAD ENJOYABLE OUTING

Tea at Jackson Park Last Night Proved Delightful

The Girls' Guild of St. John's church, held a most enjoyable outing to Jackson Park last night, and spent a very pleasant time in this beautiful place. They gathered together at six o'clock, and had a delightful tea in the open air afterwards playing games and enjoying themselves immensely.

The outing served as a relaxation after the sultry heat of the day. The park proved an ideal place for the open air tea.

THE WEATHER

The picnic will be a great boon to the thousands of visitors the ceremony will attract, as it will provide food and other conveniences usually supplied by first-rate hotels, of which of course there is an absence at Kirkfield. ### COMING OUR WAY

The New York Herald's Omaha correspondent wires it that in the first half of April 428 persons from Nebraska and Iowa moved across the border and became citizens of Canada. They carried seventy-nine carloads of household goods, and their combined property was worth $324,-805. The movement Canada-ward is, says the Hamilton Times, so great that the United States census bureau reports that the Middle Western States have not gained in population in five years, despite the thousands of new settlers who have arrived from the east. According to this census the out-going settlers just about balanced the incoming ones—and the principal destination of the outgoing settlers was Western Canada.

The New York Herald's informant points out that the men going into Canada from Nebraska and Iowa are not those who have made failures and are moving along hoping for something to turn up. On the other hand, "they are the best farmers in the country." They have means, and are good farmers, and are the very sort that will thrive in Canada, and Uncle Sam's loss is Canada's gain. For long the United States drew off thousands of our people, but the tide has turned in our direction now. The economic Jove of the Toronto Telegram will have to revise its dictum that emigration is always from the lower tariff country to the higher.

TRIBUTE TO SIR SANFORD FLEMING

Lord Grey, in acknowledging the invitation of the Ottawa Board of Trade to co-operate in promoting the success of the All Red Line, thus refers to the gentleman through whom the request was transmitted, Sir Sanford Fleming, has this to say of that gentleman, who is well known in Peterborough: "But Sir Sanford Fleming, the member of the Board of Trade through whom this request for this interview has reached me, invests it with an exceptional urgency. The admiration I feel for him and the sympathy I have for the objects with which his name is so closely and honourably connected, would make it difficult, almost impossible, for me to refuse your request.

"For upwards of 25 years Sir Sanford Fleming has devoted his energies to the task of securing for Great and Greater Britain the advantages of cheapened telegraphic service. The bare recital of his efforts in this direction suggest the missionary sermon of St. Paul. He has, without hope of personal gain, visited five continents; he has traversed all the great oceans, and the Atlantic many times; he has given himself, his time and his substance ungrudgingly and without stint to the service of the Empire, and, in the realization of his hopes, which I trust is not far off, and in the general recognition that the life of Britons all over the world will have been made the happier by his efforts, he will find at the appointed time his well-merited reward.

"Referring to the address you have presented, I thank you for the welcome you have given me on my return from England. The chief reason that caused me to absent myself from my happy home in the Dominion for a space of less than a month, was my desire to support Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his endeavour to impress upon the members of the Imperial Government the importance of establishing a fast trans-Atlantic service between Canada and England, and of thus making Canada not only the natural and God-appointed, but the accepted, mail and passenger route between Great Britain and the Orient and those great British dominions in the Southern seas of New Zealand and Australia."

THE SAME SPIRIT

The Toronto News rather scores Hon. Mr. Aylesworth for scoring the family compact, "whose deeds passed into history two generations ago." Why shouldn't Mr. Aylesworth refer to a matter which may have passed into history? If the spirit of the Family Compact had passed into history, with its deeds, and remained there as another blot, we might let it rest. The spirit of the Family Compact represented a form of the spoils system. It made the public service and the public interest subservient to the fattening of a few favourites. To-day the spoils system is making the public interests, the interests of justice, and even the interests of religion and the church, serve the minions of the hour, the Conservative party, in power. The spoils system of to-day is the spirit of the Family Compact in twentieth century garb, with Premier Whitney, instead of Sir Edmund Bond Head, as the headsman.

THE AXE IN BRANT

The Toronto Independent-Conservative News says:— Mr. Thomas Woodyatt, for many years Police Magistrate at Brantford, will be dismissed and the local Conservative Association, with a delicate sense of propriety, already has nominated his successor. Mr. Woodyatt was charged by two clergymen with using "intemperate language" and this accusation was seized upon with deadly zeal by his opponents in order to effect his removal. It is no secret that the party workers have been on Mr. Woodyatt's trail ever since the Whitney Government came into office, and that more than one scheme to effect his overthrow proved abortive. At length, however, these two clergymen appeared as his accusers, and the axe fell with amazing promptness. The Church in sheer innocence is serving the spoils element to some purpose. In Toronto a minister, after long and weary waiting, steps into another man's job and retains his church connection. In Brantford two ministers, animated by no sinister purpose, have enabled the workers to open another office and to provide for still another faithful adherent of the grand old party. Of course it is entirely proper that the Police Magistrate should be recommended for appointment by a party association. We know that all criminals are connected with the Liberal party, and magistrates, therefore, should be selected by Conservatives. It is singular that the party associations neglect to nominate County and Superior Court judges. We are, however, moving in that direction, and in time the more ideal condition will develop. Upon the whole, Mr. Woodyatt was a satisfactory Police Magistrate, and nothing about his dismissal is so offensive as the pretence that he was removed for any other cause than to provide a job for a Conservative. If every person who uses "intemperate language," occasionally, was visited with dismissal, there are few institutions that would not be turned up side down. Even the Cabinet in Queen's Park would not escape. The Premier himself would be in danger.

When Your Health Fails, What Then

Good health is the capital of persons who earn their livelihood with brain and muscle. Success is for the strong and alert — for those whose blood is rich and whose nerve cells are filled with vigour and energy. It is not pleasant to contemplate what might happen with failing health and for this reason it is well to heed the first symptoms of nervous exhaustion and to keep health at high water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Statistics state that every woman in five is a bread-winner. There would be more happy homes if every woman in five were a good bread-maker.

Mr. A. H. U. Colquhoun, Deputy Minister of Education, moves on a high plane of sentiment. He tells the student teachers at the Normal School, that they should "reckon pecuniary reward as their last care." A viewpoint from a salary of over $3,000 a year, and a viewpoint from a salary of $300 a year, are quite different things.

Who Gets the Most Out of Life?

Not the wealthiest, not the most learned, nor the idler—but the man who has good health and works for his living. This truth is trite, but not trivial.

Every man should guard his health as his most valuable possession. The more so because health is easier to retain than regain.

Keep your grip on health by regular exercise, reasonable care in eating and requisite sleep. Take Beecham's Pills occasionally, to tone the stomach and keep the liver and bowels in good working order. And don't worry.

Observe these simple rules and you will agree that the one who gets the most from life is

TWO COMPANIES OFF FOR THE CAMP

Left This Morning to Join Composite Regiment at Barriefield Camp

WILL RETURN ON FRIDAY

About 9 o'clock this morning the two composite companies from the local batallion entrained at the G. T. R. station and left on the regular Belleville train to join the Composite Regiment at Barriefield Camp, Kingston. The companies leaving consisted of about 80 officers and men under the command of Major Clegg, who will also be Major of the Composite Regiment at Camp.

The station was the scene of an active time as the two companies marched to their train headed by the Bugle Band of the 57th Regiment.

The officers in command in addition to Major Clegg, are Captains McWilliams and Mills and Lieut. Best, Adjutant. Rev. Canon Davidson also accompanied them and while in camp will act as Chaplain of the whole regiment. Capt. Bennett will be the Adjutant of the Regiment which is in command of Col. Helliwell, Belleville. A detatchment of the Bugle Band also accompanied the companies and will be in command of Sargt. Miles.

The companies leaving here were composed of men from the various companies of the regiment and consisted of a soldierly looking lot of men who will be certain to make a fine impression at Barriefield Camp at Kingston.

The Regiment will break up camp on Friday and will return on that evening.

A DEMONSTRATION OF PIPE-TAPPING

Water Main Will be Tapped Under Pressure To-morrow Morning

To-morrow morning at 8 o'clock a demonstration will be held at the corner of George and Brock streets under the supervision of the Water Works Department, the nature of which will be to make an 8 inch connection with a 12 inch water pipe without shutting off the water supply in that vicinity in doing the same.

The pipe will be tapped and threaded under pressure without interfering with the supply. The Water Commissioners will put into test an apparatus purchased recently from the A. P. Smith Manufacturing Company, Newark, N.J.

SUNDAY FISHING ON THE RICE LAKE WATERS

Local Citizen Says It is Becoming Too Prevalent Among the White Men

Sunday fishing in Rice Lake waters according to a local sportsman who recently spent the week end there is very much in evidence and should, he believes, be strictly prohibited. He is a conscientious angler who abides by the law and expects his fellow-men to do the same but he states, that the amount of fish extracted from Rice Lake on Sunday is immense.

The only people, who as a whole, keep to the regulations are the Indians. He noticed that on Sunday not one of the red-men could be seen fishing on the lake and he considers that if the Indians can keep the law in this respect, the white men should also do the same.

NO ICE YET IN THE DRINKING FOUNTAIN

Many Complaints are Being Made in Reference to Matter

The fact that there is no ice in the drinking fountain at Central Park is causing a great deal of complaint. The fountain at present is but a snare and delusion as the water is almost undrinkable. Hundreds of people stop there for a drink, expecting to get some water that if not cold has at least the warm taste taken off it, but they are doomed to disappointment and if the members of the council heard some of the things that are being said about the water they would remedy the matter at once.

THE T. A. S. PICNIC IS NOW NEAR AT HAND

Arrangements Are Already Complete for Great Event

Just another week and Dominion Day will be here and with fine weather the T.A.S. expect to have a record crowd at their annual picnic at T. A. S. Park. The grounds could not be improved upon. They have been rolled and cleaned; benches for one, two or three persons have been placed in pleasant locations, swings have been erected and altogether the grounds are in excellent condition. A large dancing pavilion, a fine refreshment booth and a dining booth have been erected and everything is in readiness for a crowd.

Messrs. Lang and Mosher have a large pennant of blank and red colours with "Otonabee 1907" marked on it. The tickets are for sale with street railway coupon and those desiring them now can easily procure them.

PAID A TRIBUTE TO THE DEPARTED

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Referred to Late Adam Dawson and His Many Good Qualities

On Sunday morning, preceding his sermon, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt referred to the death of Mr. Adam Dawson. For 25 years, he said, the departed brother had been a member and regular attendant at St. Luke's. For two years he was rector's warden, and at all times was much interested in the material welfare of the church, which he supported liberally, and in the councils of which he took a prominent place. No one ever had a doubt where Adam Dawson stood. He never compromised a principle. While, perhaps, some could not see eye to eye with him in everything, no one doubted the sincerity of his principles. We remember him as a true servant of God, who delighted to be in God's House, and who tried to live up, loyally and faithfully and without wavering, to what he perceived to be right. To the bereaved widow and children, Mr. Langfeldt said, heartfelt sympathy was extended by St. Luke's congregation, who mourned with them over the loss of a noble and true man. Mr. Langfeldt asked the congregation to rise and join him in a short memorial service, taken from the office for the Burial of the Dead, and prayers for the widow.

The hymns at the morning service were of a commemorative nature, suitable for the triumphant victory over death of God's children.

MEETINGS THIS WEEK AT ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

The following meetings were announced on Sunday to be held this week: Tuesday, 8 p.m., the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, in the Sunday school room; Tuesday, 8 p.m., meeting of the Channel Guild will be held at the residence of Mrs. G. R. Browning, Harvey street. The members are urgently requested to attend. On Wednesday, Mr. Langfeldt will hold a cottage meeting at the residence of Mr. Edwin Curtis, brickyard, at 8 p.m. A meeting of the Advisory Board will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the infant class room.

IS YOUR COAT DUSTY?

You Probly Have the White Scab of Dandruff on it

If your coat or shoulders have a white dust upon them, the chances are that it is from dandruff. The only way to permanently cure dandruff is to remove the cause, which is a germ. Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ. Every toilet table should have such a hair-dressing that combines also the destroyer of the dandruff and hair-falling germ. It stops all irritation, and keeps the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome. Remember, that something claimed to be "just as good" will not do the work of genuine Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1. McDermid & Jury, Special Agents.

JIMMY REYNOLDS ON HIS WALKING TOUR

Mr. Wm. Mitchell of Port Hope, brother-in-law of Reynolds, the long-distance walker, was in the city yesterday and was registered at the Oriental. Mr. Mitchell is said to be prepared to back his brother-in-law to the extent of $1,000 in his long walk to Toronto and back.

Jimmy Reynolds left the Queen's Hotel, Port Hope, yesterday morning at 1 o'clock, the wager being that he walks to Toronto and back in 38 hours. He started off amidst a fusillade of fire-crackers, with the whole town out to see him go.

BLOOD POISON THROUGH STOCKING DYE

Curious Case at Kingston

While attending to her household duties, Mrs. A. Harrison, Place-de-Armes, Kingston, Ont., struck her ankle against a projection which inflicted a cut. She paid little attention to the wound at the time, but in a few days it became swollen and very painful. A medical man was consulted and it was then found that the dye from her stocking had got into the wound and set up blood poison. Then began a trying period of pain, which, had it not been for Zam-Buk, might not even yet have been ended. Mrs. Harrison says:—"The doctor ordered certain treatment, which I followed out; but the wound got no better, and refused to heal. It was most painful, and sometimes I could hardly bear to walk. I was almost in despair when a friend advised me to try Zam-Buk. It soon reduced the swelling and inflammation, and the pain—so acute before—got less and less until the ankle was quite easy. Then the wound began to heal, and a little more perseverance resulted in a complete cure."

Zam-Buk draws the pain and the poison from a wound at the same time. It heals ulcers, chafing sores, bad feet, bad legs, and varicose ulcers. It cures insect stings, sunburn, summer rashes and heat spots; while, as a cure for chronic wounds, eczema, prairie itch, ringworm, scalp sores, and sores due to blood poison, it is absolutely without equal. All stores and druggists sell at 50 cents, or post-free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

MICHAEL FALLON WAS DISCHARGED

His Honour Judge Weller Dismissed the Charge of Housebreaking

The charge against Michael Fallon, of having broken into the residence of Mr. Richard Nimmo, on the morning of June 8th, was dismissed by His Honour Judge Weller.

Fallon's relatives swore that he was at home at the time of the incident and against this was only the evidence of Miss Nimmo. The judge did not say anthing complimentary of Fallon as he reviewed the case, and the strong alibi saved him.

Police Officers Newhall and McDonald devoted considerable time and attention to this case, but as a result of the decision the housebreaker is still at liberty.

DOUBLE RUNAWAY THIS MORNING

Caused Some Excitement on George Street This Morning

A double runaway made things interesting on George street for a few moments this morning. A team of horses attached to one of Rehill's ice wagons, was left standing on the market square, became frightened at an automobile, and bolted, and with them a delivery horse owned by Mr. H. P. Kennedy. They swung on to George Street almost together, and it looked as if a serious accident might occur. The teams were flagged just west of the corner, while the single horse was stopped half way to Simcoe street.

DREDGING MATTERS EXPLAINED

Statement in Reference to the Dredgings in the Otonabee River—Mr. Mahoney Has No Ground for Complaint

The following statement has been handed to the Examiner for publication:

In view of the complaints of Mr. Mahoney to the city council, regarding the manner of dumping material from the Government dredge in the Otonabee River, to the dumping cars in control of Mr. Mahoney, Mr. J. G. Sing, engineer in charge of the Department of Public Works, was in the city yesterday for the purpose of inspecting the work being done. Accompanied by the Mayor, Mr. Sing visited the works on Friday, it being the first time any member of the Board of Works had appeared during working hours at the scene of the operations, or made from the responsible officers any inquires regarding the condition. A thorough inspection of the manner in which the work had been performed satisfied Mr. Sing that there could be no change made, and the work would be continued as it was being done.

Mr. Sing was disappointed in not seeing the dredge and scows in operation, owing to the fact that Mr. Mahoney, the city contractor, had allowed his dump cars to get off the track, and they had rolled down the embankment. During the visit it was observed that the Government employees were engaged in assisting Mr. Mahoney to replace his dump cars on the track.

The Government engineer expressed himself as satisfied with the work generally being done, and Mr. Mahoney had very little complaint to make. If half the trouble had been taken to remedy the complaint that there was to exaggerate it, and to create trouble for the man in charge of the dredge on account of ill-feeling, this "tempest in a teapot" would not have occurred. The city business might well be conducted without regard to matters that have no connection whatever with the city business.

A PRESENTATION TO MR. SCHNEIDER

Popular Pianist of Y. M. C. A. Given Suit Case Before Leaving for Holiday Trip to Germany

A very pleasing event took place in the parlours of the Y.M.C.A. last evening, when a number of members of the Association were gathered together to do honour to Mr. Geo. F. Schneider.

For a number of years Mr. Schneider has given the Association the benefit of his excellent musical talents on numerous occasions, particularly in the men's meetings, the orchestra and the social work. His contribution to the work of the Y.M.C.A. in this way can scarcely be estimated.

Mr. Williamson, General Secretary, occupied the chair and called on Mr. J. F. Thornton, chairman of the Evangelistic Work, who read in well-worded address and at the same time presented Mr. Schneider with a handsome travelling case. Mr. Schneider was entirely taken by surprise, yet managed to reply in his modest way with a few well chosen words. He said that what he had done was a pleasure to do.

Short speeches were made by Messrs. R. E. Harding, A. E. Dixon, A. Bradshaw, A. Clendenr and others, all expressing their admiration of Mr. Schneider's talents and gratitude for his services in the Association.

The present to Mr. Schneider was a very opportune as it is understood he is leaving in a few days on a holiday trip to Germany.

Unique Honour Done To Rev. Dr. Crothers Last Night

Was Presented With Purse of Gold at a Largely Attended Meeting of Citizens in Council Chamber —Many Speeches Made.

WILL LEAVE IN TWO DAYS

The City Council Chamber was the scene of an unique event last evening when a large number of citizens gathered to do honour to Rev. Dr. Crothers, pastor of the George Street Methodist Church, who will leave the city in a few days to take charge of a church in St. Catharines. The gathering was a representative one, those present including people of different religious and political parties, all of whom seemed to be intent on showing their esteem and affection, and it was a tribute to that gentleman which he will doubtless retain as one of the happiest incidents of his sojourn in this city.

The principal event of the evening was the presentation to Rev. Dr. Crothers of a purse containing 20 sovereigns, or about $100. Accompanying the purse were a number of speeches from representative citizens, all of whom paid tribute to the recipient's many good qualities and expressed the regret which they felt at his leaving the city. His Worship the Mayor occupied the chair. Mr. J. H. Burnham made the presentation, and in doing so he stated that he felt it an honour to be permitted to occupy the position which he did that evening.

From the list of those contributing to the fund, he was sure that the movement was a general one and not confined to political or religious lines. He expressed the regret with which the people of Peterborough would part with Dr. Crothers, not only because he was a good man, but because of the principles which he had so strongly upheld during his residence in Peterborough. He then called upon Dr. Crothers to come forward, and when he had done so presented him with the purse, the contributors to which were as follows: Messrs. M A Morrison, C Fessenden, S R Armstrong, J H Burnham, V Eastwood, A E Dixon, W H Hill, Wm Madill, Rev E A Langfeldt, Wayne Bros., F Mason, H P Luddy, Rich. Hall, Robert Neill, Dr Halliday, John Nugent, Ald. Geo E Elliott, Dawson Kennedy, Geo H Williamson, Rev Canon Davidson, Jas Kendry, E F Mason, Col J W Millers, F W Dunn, F H Dobbin, F S Schneider, R M Waddell, Wm Hartley, A W Crossman, W E Conway, Robert Mann, George Ruth, Geo Baird, R J Soden, Col H C Rogers, E J Might, E B Clegg, W Might, Thos Barrie, Dr Geo Burnham, R S Kingan, H LeBrun, Ed Green, H H Kenner, J Crane, D Hughes Charles, A A Hollingshead, H P Kennedy, H C Stubber, W Higgins, B F Ackerman, F Brownscombe, A Parker, J J McBain, W F Morrow, J S Knapman, Jos Middleton, J Pentland, G M Gordon, A K Mickle, J C Shook, R P Best, A Allison, G W Hatton, A Peak, S Oke.

Rev. Dr. Crothers was very much taken by surprise, and said that he should have time to pull himself together. He could, he said, hardly find words in which to thank the citizens for their gift. Speaking of his residence in Peterborough, Dr. Crothers said that he had always tried to be a good citizen. He had interested himself in municipal affairs, and had prayed for those at the head of municipal matters.

He wished, he said, to publicly thank the clergy of Peterborough, especially Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rev. Canon Davidson and Rev. Wm. Major, for the help and inspiration which they had been to him during his residence here, and state that he had grown to love and respect them all.

In conclusion, the speaker referred to the pleasant associations which he had enjoyed in Peterborough, and expressed the hope that in his new field of labour he would meet with similar conditions.

Rev. Dr. Crothers' remarks were received with much applause. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt of St. Luke's Church gave expression to the regret with which he would part with Rev. Dr. Crothers. He had, he said, greatly enjoyed the communion with him and felt that it had been of great assistance, and he was sure that it would not terminate with Dr. Crothers' removal from the city.

Mr. Jas. Kendry said that the citizens of Peterborough, generally, were sorry to lose a citizen like Dr. Crothers, to whose qualities he paid a warm tribute. In conclusion, he remarked that what was Peterborough's loss was St. Catharines' gain.

Dr. Morrison stated that, although he was not a member of Rev. Dr. Crothers' congregation, he had grown to admire and respect him for his his good qualities, and felt sure that his regret at Dr. Crothers' leaving the city would be shared by every citizen of Peterborough.

Rev. Canon Davidson was the next speaker, to add his tribute and spoke in terms of highest praise of the gentleman in whose honour the gathering had been arranged. In the course of his remarks, he stated that Dr. Crothers had felt that his duty not only was to guide his congregation, but to help the community at large. The speaker also paid a compliment to Mr. J. H. Burnham, who had been chiefly instrumental in beginning and carrying out the movement, represented by the occasion, saying that Peterborough could not have too many of such citizens.

Col. J. W. Miller was the next speaker and remarked that he liked and admired Dr. Crothers because he hit hard and fair and that was the kind of a minister he thought would do the most good.

Mr. G. N. Gordon, on behalf of the young men of the George street Methodist church, said that Dr. Crothers had been singularly successful in gaining and holding the affection of the young men of his congregation, and that they would be very sorry to lose him.

Mr. A. W. Cressman said that speaking for the Boards of George street church they would very much regret Dr. Crothers' departure from the city and endorsed the remarks of the other speakers in reference to his many good qualities.

Mr. A. E. Dixon as a member of the George street congregation was very sorry that the rules of the church made it necessary for Dr. Crothers to leave the city. He was sure if it were possible that they would keep him for ever.

Rev. Wm. Major of All Saints' church also eulogised Dr. Crothers and stated that he should be gratified at the recognition of his services. He said that Dr. Crothers had supported him on several occasions and expressed regret at his leaving the city.

Mr. G. H. Williamson, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., said that Dr. Crothers always had a clear, truthful message for the young men of the Y.M.C.A. and was always at their service when needed.

Mayor McWilliams said that on behalf not only of those present, but of the citizens whom he represented, he extended best wishes for Dr. Crothers' success in his new field of labour. Speaking for himself he said that he had grown to respect Dr. Crothers; one reason was because he was out spoken and he admired a man who possessed this quality, even if he was opposed to him.

This concluded the speeches and the meeting was brought to close. Nearly everyone present remained for a few words and a handshake with Dr. Crothers.

The Big Circus Arrives In City; Great Show And Parade

A Daring Act, "Beyond the Limit." the Great Automobile Sensation of the Century, Seen at Both Shows.

THOUSANDS SAW PARADE

Some Features of the Performance Which Delighted Great Crowd This Afternoon—Fine Weather.

This morning was the time of their lives for the small boys. They were in their glory, and were up in swarms with the sun. The occasion was the arrival of the circus — it only comes once a year — and this morning parents who heard a stealthy step on the stairs at an unseasonable hour, did not ring for the police or become alarmed—they knew that it was only Jack and Bill getting up to see the circus "unload." The small boys, however, were not the only enchanted ones. The grown-ups were out in force, and young ladies and their young men found it a good opportunity of meeting in the grey dawn.

Yesterday the Forepaugh - Sells circus showed in Toronto, and arrived in Peterborough early this morning, the first train pulling in about four o'clock, and three other sections came in at intervals up to 8 o'clock, the route taken being by way of Port Hope on the G.T.R., all the sections double headers.

Two performances are billed for to-day, the first is being given this afternoon to a crowded tentful of interested and delighted spectators and the second will be given to-night. The driving park, where the show will be given, is easily reached by the street car line, a special service having been arranged for. The grounds have been converted into a small city in which all is activity and bustle, but where despite the hundreds of people and animals, there is still system and order.

The principal streets of the city were paraded this morning, the pleasant pageant being witnessed by thousands.

The Parade

For hours before the parade was due this morning crowds of ladies and children lined the streets, and every point of vantage was eagerly snapped up. When the first notes of the band accompanying the parade could be heard workmen in stores and clerks in business houses dropped their work and hastened to the windows.

The parade left the show grounds at 12 o'clock noon and when it was fully stretched out it measured over a mile. It was certainly one of the best that has been seen in the city in years and well repaid those who turned out to see it. All the way the crowds on the streets were twenty and thirty deep on both sidewalks, while the windows were packed with children, eager to see everything and interested to the very last.

The features which delighted everyone were the splendid collection of horses of all shades and sizes and the fine equestrians the circus has with it. A troupe of Mexican cowboys in their picturesque native costumes made a fine showing. The parade was punctuated with music from the seven bands they carry.

The animals are always a drawing card and the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers circus is not lacking in these. As the lions, tigers, leopards, polar bears and hippopotamus, in open cages, passed, the admiration of the crowd was evinced. The camels, each bearing a gorgeously dressed driver and riders, were perhaps the best features of the animal part of the show.

Particular mention must be made of the splendid exhibition of firemen and apparatus which was another popular item in the parade. The brigade was one which any city might be proud to own.

Features of the Performances

When such features as "looping the gap," and the "death leap," were introduced by the circuses in past years it was said that the limit of human ingenuity and daring had been reached, but the Adam Forepaugh and the Sells Brothers circus put on a feature which is so much in advance of any of these former curdlers, that it is designed "Beyond the Limit." It is the act of Mlle. LaReque, and it certainly is a thrilling one. Mlle. LaReque rides in an auto weighing 1200 pounds, her own weight being 150 pounds.

The plane on which the car descends has an elevation of about 45 feet and an angle of 65 degrees. At the bottom of the descent the car takes a sudden jog, ascends into space at an angle of about 60 degrees, rises 30 to 40 feet, and then the front of the car dips and it describes a complete revolution in mid-air, descends and alights upon a platform with its daring rider smiling.

The effect upon the vast audience this afternoon as the rider and car took their places on the upper platform was intense. A silence and stillness that could be felt came over the audience. When the descent, the sudden ascent, the somersault and the final landing, are complished the crowd breaks into the most demonstrative applause.

The great fire scene is another thriller. Five hundred people are seen about the square in front, and around a large hotel. Four fire companies, with aerial truck, steam engines, hose wagons, etc., arrive and the most thrilling rescues are performed as the fire is fought in realistic style.

There are other splendid features in the show. The company carries water-proof tents so that there need be no fear in case of rain.

ONTARIO FLOUR IN THE MARITIMES

A Nice Blend, With Ontario Wheat Predominating, Catches Eastern Trade

Ontario has for many years been losing many enterprising agriculturists to the free land and fertile acres of the Northwest. Hand in hand with the exploitation of the wheat fields and the exodus of farm labourers has followed an era of high prices for labour, and a decrease in the market for Ontario wheat, which has seriously raised the price of bran and shorts. Not only has the loss of the profitable home market been a financial calamity to the Ontario miller and farmer but the stockman and the dairyman have felt the drain caused by the increased cost of an essential portion of their feed, if they are to get the best results.

While some Ontario farmers have helped to build up the west by buying the strong western flour, some far-sighted millers have succeeded in capturing the market of the Maritime Provinces by a carefully blended flour, made of sufficient western wheat to bring up the percentage of gluten, and keeping the colour and nutty taste of flour made from the best Ontario winter wheat. The flavour of the bread is much improved and the percentage of gluten is sufficient for all requirements.

What has been adopted eagerly by unprejudiced consumers in Nova Scotia may well deserve the attention of the Ontario public. In Toronto and other centres there is already a large demand for the new product which is used by several of the largest firms of wholesale bakers. A fair trial of the new blended Ontario flours will convince the most skeptical that this flour is surpassed by none and its increased consumption will be to the great advantage of the Ontario farmers and the public generally throughout the province.

AN AUTOGRAPH QUILT FOR MRS. LEWIS

Members of Mrs. Speer's Sunday School Class Honour the Retiring Pastor's Wife on Eve of Departure

EPWORTH LEAGUE SOCIAL

Last night a gathering of more than usual interest was held at the Mark Street Methodist Church, when, under the auspices of the Epworth League, a farewell social was held, and the young people of the church were given an opportunity of bidding good-bye to the pastor and his wife. Advantage was taken of the social by the members of Mrs. Speers' Sunday school class to present to Mrs. Lewis a very handsome autograph quilt made by them. During the course of the evening an address was read by Miss Florence Dormer, and Miss Alice Wand presented Mrs. Lewis with the quilt. Mr. Lewis, in responding on behalf of his wife, expressed the pleasure it had given them to have been associated with the young people of the Mark Street Methodist Church for the last four years, and the regret they felt at leaving them.

He assured them that they would always look back with pleasure upon the time they had spent in Peterborough.

A splendid programme was given, the arrangements for it having been made by Miss Maud Howson, convenor of the Literary Committee. At the close, refreshments were served, and altogether a most delightful evening was spent. The following was the programme:

RIVER BOATS AND TRAINS BROUGHT IN CROWDS

Visitors to See the Circus Crowded the Streets

There was a large number of people in the city to-day from points on the Otonabee River and Rice Lake. Three steamers, the Water Lily, Rainbow and Monarch, conveyed the crowd and each had her full share. They arrived in the city in good time and the people on board were all booked to see the circus and, incidentally, to spend their money in the city. Each of the morning trains was also crowded with people from the neighbouring towns.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of ever getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

In Peterborough the day was observed with the customary honours. The local brethren met together in Masonic Hall and spoke of their fraternity. Friendship and brotherhood and the abiding note of the fraternity—which spring from the acknowledgment of a Supreme Ruler, instructor and guide.

The officers and members of Corinthian Lodge No. 101, and Peterborough Lodge No. 155, convened together at 7.30 p.m. Each lodge went through with routine in the usual manner,—the W. Some New and Entertaining Views Were Shown Last Night

There was a big crowd at Jackson Park last night when the moving pictures were shown for the first time this season. New views were shown, some of them most amusing, and the crowd found them most enjoyable. The pictures will be shown every night and will be changed frequently. The band gave a good concert in addition to the pictures.

CANOE 8 1-2 FEET LONG LAUNCHED

The Property of Mr. W. A. Bailey, Who Is Himself Over 6 Feet Tall

The launching of an unique canoe took place on the Otonabee River, yesterday morning about 10 o'clock, which attracted a good deal of interest and comment.

It was a slight affair, only 8 1-2 feet in length, made in clap-board fashion, and covered on the outside with canvas.

It was manufactured in a miniature south end shipyard by Mr. W. A. Bailey, and he was also the personage who attended to the launching yesterday at the southern terminus of the street railway line.

Mr. Bailey is over six feet in height, so that this canoe is only about two feet longer than he. He runs it with a double bladed paddle, and, it is stated on good authority, he paddled across the river, and back, without upsetting.

WEDDING BELLS

STENSON-ARMENT

A wedding of considerable local interest took place in 92nd Street Presbyterian Church, New York, on Wednesday, June 19, when Mr. George Stenson, sixth son of Mr. J. T. Stenson, of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Edna Armenpt of New York City, the wedding being performed by Rev. Dr. Allen in the presence of a number of the friends of the contracting parties. The groom has lived in New York for a number of years and is manager of one of the stores of the Riker Drug Company in Brooklyn, in which borough they will reside.

HOME-MADE MEDICINE

Said to Relieve Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism

Ode ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion;

One ounce Compound Salatone;

Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla;

Mixed and taken in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime, is stated by a prominent physicism to give most excellent results in kidney or urinary afflictions, and also in rheumatism and sciatica. The mixture opens the clogged pores of the kidneys, thus assisting them in their work of filtering all waste and poisonous matter from the blood, and expels these in the urine. To allow this poisonous matter to remain means that it will settle in the muscular tissues or joints, and cause the untold misery known as rheumatism.

The mixture is composed of harmless vegetable ingredients which can be purchased at any good drug store, and mixed at home.

Anyone suffering from any of these afflictions will no doubt be pleased to learn of so simple and highly recommended remedy.

DO NOT TREAT SYMPTOMS, GET AT THE CAUSE.

Indigestion, dyspepsia, and biliousness surely indicate that there is something wrong with the liver, kidneys and bowels. So-called cures for indigestion do not go to the root of the matter. Remove the cause and the symptoms will disappear. King Palmetto Compound succeeds where everything else fails, because it acts directly on the kidneys, liver and nerves. You are not ask to take these statements on faith. Look at the formula, we print it on the wrapper, and explain it fully in our printed matter, which goes with every bottle. If you are not acquainted with the action of the drugs of which it is composed, ask your physician. He will tell you that Saw Palmetto has wonderful efficacy in regulating the kidneys and that Cascara Sagrada is the best tonic and stimulant for the bowels known to medical science. These are only two of the constituents of King Palmetto Compound, the rest have equal merit. It is not a cure-all, but it will prevent the development of incurable diseases. It will not only relieve, but permanently remove the cause of constipation, that curse of health which is responsible for more than half the diseases that afflict the human race. Is your digestion imperfect? Are your bowels irregular? Are you bilious? If so, now is the time to act. Send for a free sample bottle of King Palmetto Compound to-day. Address King Palmetto Company, Bridgeburg, Ontario. This medicine is made upon honor and sold upon merit. One dose a day will meet your needs.

Sold and guaranteed by MacDermid & Jury, druggists.

THE DEFENCE'S ATTACK ON ORCHARD

Counsel Says He Is the Most Monumental Liar.

DEFENCE SCORE GOOD POINT

Attorney for Prosecution the Very Man Who Laid Basis for Western Federation—Not a Murderous Organization — Repudiates Orchard's Evidence—He Did Not Participate In Crimes.

Boise, Idaho, June 25.—The largest crowd of the Haywood trial attended the defence yesterday morning. Promptly at 10 o'clock Sheriff Hodgin called for order, the doors were closed and Charles S. Darrow began the opening statement.

Haywood's wife and daughter were present and his mother was in her usual place at his side. Mr. Darrow took a friendly attitude with the jurors, standing close to them, with hands in his pockets and opening his argument in conventional tones.

"You have heard the evidence and the theory of the state," he said. "It is now our story. This case, like everything else, has had two sides. Nominally Hayward is charged with the murder of Governor Steunenberg. The state has gone into a wide field to show its case. Mr. Hawley told you the Western Federation of Miners from its inception was a terrible conspiracy to kill, to control politics, to gather money to hire lawyers, and other criminal purposes."

Mr. Darrow related the history of the Western Federation of Miners, telling the jury the organization was born in the jail beneath where they sat, and that James H. Hawley was the godfather and first attorney of the Western Federation of Miners.

Mr. Hawley continued their attorney for a long time. If there was anything criminal in their appropriating money for a lawyer, the miners did not know it.

"The federation is an industrial, not a murderous organization."

Characterizes Orchard.

Mr. Darrow characterized Orchard during his address as follows:

"Harry Orchard was a cheap soldier of fortune, a shoestring gambler who had never done a day's work in his life. He owned a sixteenth share of the Hercules mine, but sold it because of his needs and continued his gambling.

"We will show that he did not participate in most of the crimes, of which he has here boasted. I don't like to take any of the bloom off a peach like that, but while we will show he is not the murderer he boasts himself, we will compensate him by proving him to be the most monumental liar that ever existed.

"If Orchard to-day held his one-sixteenth interest in the Hercules mine he would be worth half a million dollars, but I think he would rather have what he has got, because it is more valuable to the newspapers."

C.P.R. BRAKEMAN KILLED.

Fell From Pilot of Engine and Broke His Neck.

Kenora, Ont., June 25.—F. C. Heathcote, a brakeman employed on a C. P. R. freight train, was instantly killed at Dinorwic, about 80 miles from here, by falling from the pilot of the engine. His right arm, leg and neck were broken.

He was an Englishman, 22 years of age, and had no relatives in this country.

PREACHER IN TROUBLE.

Arrested on Charge of Misappropriation of Church Moneys.

Brantford, June 25.—Rev. John Taylor, a colored preacher of Woodstock, who has been collecting funds for the British Methodist Episcopal Church, now in convention here, was arrested in Montreal on a charge of misappropriating church moneys. The warrant for his arrest was made out at the instance of Rev. H. D. Wright, Toronto, secretary of the conference.

Taylor collected a considerable sum of money and it is alleged refused to turn it over to the conference or allow his books to be examined, and his departure for Montreal led to his arrest.

SUBSIDIES OBSTRUCTED.

Banbury Wants Extension of Time for British Columbia.

London, June 25.—In the House of Commons in committee yesterday on the British North America bill, Sir F. Banbury moved as an amendment that the period during which the annual grant of £100,000 is to be made by the Dominion to the province of British Columbia should be extended from ten to thirty years. Banbury was speaking when the House adjourned. Churchill said it was a most disgraceful and flagrant act of obstruction.

LADY SHOPLIFTER SENTENCED.

Threatened to Suicide Fearing Disgrace For Her Daughters.

Detroit, June 25.—Threatening to commit suicide Mrs. Isabella Smart, formerly of Toronto, was led to the Police Court yesterday, where she pleaded guilty to shoplifting and was fined $25 or 15 days in the house of correction.

"Would to God my daughters, who are in a London (Ont.) boarding school, would die before they learn my disgrace!" Such said a sorrowful woman.

HOUSE OF PEERS ATTACKED.

British Premier Moves Resolution Curtailing Their Power.

London, June 25.—Premier Campbell-Bannerman yesterday moved his resolution curtailing the power of the House of Lords before the fullest House of the session. The galleries also were crowded, those present in that part of the House including many peers, who were anxious to observe the beginning of the attempt to reduce their power to control legislation.

MUTINEERS SENT AWAY.

Surrounded by Soldiers and Transferred to Secret Destination.

Beziers, France, June 25.—The mutinous soldiers of the Seventeenth Infantry have been transferred from Agde without notice. Three other regiments quietly marched into that town yesterday, surrounded the barracks and escorted the mutineers to a train, in which they were locked. A large number of the mutineers came to Beziers without permission, and were arrested on their return. The destination of the mutineers is kept secret, but it is believed to be Briancon, in the Department of Pautes Alpes, far from the scene of their insubordination.

An Incipient Mutiny.

Paris, June 25.—A delegation from Nimes visited Premier Clemenceau yesterday and pleaded for the release of M. Ferroul, ex-mayor of Marbonne, and the imprisoned members of the committee of Argelliers and the quashing of the proceedings against the resigned mayors and others members of the municipalities.

Clemenceau replied that the Government would show clemency at the proper time.

An incipient mutiny occurred yesterday at the barracks of Avignon, fifty miles from Marseilles. Some soldiers hissed Col. St. James and sang a revolutionary song, forcing the colonel to retire. Later Lieut.-Col. Dalbies addressed the men and restored order.

UNWRITTEN LAW AGAIN.

Judge Loving Shoots Man Who Wronged His Daughter.

Houston, Va., June 25.—The trial of former Judge W. G. Loving, of Nelson County, for the murder of Theodore Estes, son of Sheriff M. R. Estes, of Nelson County, began in the Circuit Court here yesterday, Judge Barksdale presided.

Judge Loving, armed with a double-barrelled shotgun, instantly killed young Estes, while he was unloading a car of fertilizer in Oak Ridge, on April 22. The shooting was the sequel to the buggy ride taken on the evening prior to the homicide, by young Estes and Miss Elizabeth Loving, the 19-year-old daughter of Judge Loving. The girl, when brought home, had been drinking, and it is alleged that her escort had maltreated her. Acting under the impulse that his daughter had been drugged and assaulted, Judge Loving immediately went in search of Estes. After the shooting he said:—"I shot to kill. Every drop of blood in my body called for vengeance. I would have gone a hundred miles to kill him."

The plea of the defence will be emotional insanity and the "unwritten law." The relatives of young Estes, whose family connections extend to the Governor of this State, will exert every effort to clear the memory of the dead man from any stain of wrong doing.

JAPS STOP SEALING.

Complies With Request of United States Pending Conference.

Ottawa, June 25.—The Government has been advised that the Japanese Government ordered a suspension of pelagic sealing in the neighborhood of Robben Bank, a noted sealing ground off the coast of Saghalien Island, which was formerly held by Russia.

The rookery the only one held by the Japanese, passed into possession of the Mikado's Government as part of the spoils of war.

This action is in compliance with the proposal of the United States Government to suspend sealing in that region until some agreement is concluded in the forth coming conference at Washington of Great Britain, the United States and Russia regarding pelagic sealing in Behring Sea.

The prohibition of sealing off Robben Bank, which the Japanese have renamed Seal Island, will have the effect of diverting the large fleet of schooners to Behring Sea and Copper Islands sealing grounds.

LAUDED THE MUTINEERS.

Anti-Militarists on Trial In France Maintain Defiant Attitude.

Paris, June 25.—The trial of ten anti-militarists, who signed the manifesto which was placarded on the walls of Paris on May 1, appealing to the soldiers to join the workmen and fight against capital, began here yesterday, with Gustave Pere as principal counsel for the defence.

When interrogated, the accused maintained a defiant attitude, lauding the mutineers of the 17th Regiment, at Agde, and affirming their determinations to continue the anti-military propaganda.

HELD UP BY BRIGANDS.

Bandit Chief Is Busy In Persia—Troops Sent Out.

St. Petersburg, June 25.—A special despatch from Teheran, Persia, says the situation in the northern part of Azerbaijan Province is becoming serious. The bandit chief, Martus Khuli Khan, assisted by Kurds, is waging war on the population and destroying villages. Constant fighting is occurring in Maku, 162 miles from Tabris. Two companions of Persian troops, with six field guns, are being despatched to Maku from Tabriz.

Killed In Station Yards.

Rochester, June 25.—John Wheeler, 24 years old, was instantly killed Sunday night at the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg Station at Alton, by jumping from a train which was going 40 miles an hour.

CROCKETT LIBEL CASE: NEW SITUATION

Crown Demurrer Is Dismissed By Judge Landry.

RESERVE CASE IS GRANTED

Court Again Adjourns—Crown Asks For Further Delay—Trial May Proceed To-day — Emmerson Suit Rather Mixed Up—Counsel For Defence Casts Reflection on Procedure — Objects to Delay.

Fredericton, N.B., June 25.—Decision was rendered yesterday on one count against the Emmerson forces in the prosecution of Mr. Crockett, but the crown had more obstacles to prevent the progress of the trial. Judge Landry refused to refer the question raised in the demurrer to the supreme court of New Brunswick, as the crown had requested him to do, but J. H. Barry, K.C., of Fredericton, had another application ready for a reserved case. This the court granted, and then the question arose as to whether the trial could proceed before a decision was obtained on the reserved case.

"The practice," said the judge, "of referring to the court important questions arising on circuits might lead to abuse, and to much unnecessary and vexatious delay. Each time such a practice would be invoked and followed the proceedings at circuits would have to be stopped and put off to another circuit, and one can readily see how often recourse would be had to such a practice if once established."

Judge Landry adjourned proceedings until this morning.

Mr. Barry then moved for adjournment of the trial of the indictment. "I might point out," said he, "that while we have demurred against the plea, there is on the record a denial of all the statements of fact. The question of fact has yet to be tried. Where questions of law and fact occur in the same case, questions of law are always decided first."

Will Not Make Reference.

To Mr. Hazen's objections, Judge Landry replied: "Does it not seem very evident," he said, "that you can't go on? If the crown says we are ready you would have to apply for an adjournment to get your witnesses."

"We make no such application," replied Mr. Hazen. "We can send for our witnesses."

"Because of the action of the crown we ask you to dismiss this application as our absolute legal right. My learned friend's sole ground is the reserved case. It is not sufficient."

Mr. Hazen, insisting that his client, Mr. Crockett, was entitled to a speedy trial, grew indignant at the continued delay.

"I say boldly," he declared, "and knowing it to be true, that from first to the last there has been no bona-fide intention of the crown to go on."

The defence, because of Mr. Pugsley's intimation on Friday, had no witnesses in court yesterday, although all of Mr. Crockett's counsel were there. The crown attorney was not present in court, nor Mr. Emmerson himself, who apparently confident of adjournment, has left for Toronto.

Trial a Week Hence.

Belleville, June 25.—Dorland Foote, the young self-confessed firebug who started a fire in the Queen's Hotel stables, No. 1 firehall and the Jenkins & Sons' stable, was up before the magistrate yesterday morning, and his case was enlarged for another week.

The girl, Amy Babcock, who, Dorland says, incited him to commit arson, also had her case enlarged.

IMPORTANT MEETING CITY LEAGUE

Question of Moment to be Decided on Thursday Night at the Y. M. C. A.

THE FIRST SERIES CLOSING

On Saturday next, if there are no new developments, the Intermediate City Baseball League will be closed and the winner of the silver trophy will be determined. There will be three games on Saturday, the Lakeviews and Excelsiors will meet on the Driving Park, the Strathconas and Lillies will play a game that the Executive has ordered, and the West Ends and Karenota will fight it out on the Oval. Thus all the teams will be engaged, but the game on the Oval will be the deciding one. By their recent fall before the Strathconas, the West Ends are tied with the Karenota for first honours, and the nine that comes out with the larger end of the score are deserving of the cup. The Karenots will have to stake a decided brace to trim Jack Oldham's bunch, and the game should be full of excitement.

In the meantime a meeting of the Executive is called for Thursday at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 o'clock to arrange the double schedule, and thus the league will have to proceed and a new series of games taken with those already played, will decide the winners of the league.

Now the question arises, "Is this fair to the winning team?" They have been playing with the expectation of securing the silverware, and neither the Karnots nor the West Ends are in favour of the continuation of the games. Likewise, none of the other teams would favour it if they were in the front rank. The initial intention was to play a single schedule, and the result has been most satisfactory. The teams were enthusiastic, they have played good ball, and every one of them has had an off-day. The league has been a great success, thanks to the energy of the President, Mr. Lang, and the support of the Executive, but why continue the games? The interest is bound to flag. Besides, the Karnots will drop out, it is said, and the West Ends will probably follow. This will leave four teams to play for the cup, while the team really deserving it will be left out. The Executive should think this over at the meeting before the schedule is drawn up, and let each team be good enough to acknowledge their defeats. If they want to play on, do so, but give the cup to the team that won it according to the understood idea of a single schedule. There are arguments in favour of a double schedule, and these should be considered at the meeting.

BIG LACROSSE GAME ON HOLIDAY

Beaverton Will Clash With the Locals on July 1st

The Peterborough Lacrosse Club had another splendid practice last night at the Riverside Park, and by July 1st will be in the best of shape for the first home game of the season with Beaverton. The boys of the north have collected a first class team and are confident of defeating the locals on their own grounds. By their victory over Beaverton last week the Beaverton team demonstrated that they will take a lot of beating, but Peterborough will be strong, and with the team in good shape, should put the Indian sign on the visitors. At any rate the enthusiasts will see a good game, and there will no doubt be a good crowd present on the holiday afternoon.

EXCELSIORS DEFEATED LILLIES LAST NIGHT

Score at End of Fourth Innings Was 5 to 4—A Close Contest

The Excelsiors defeated the Lilies in a four innings game at the Patterson street field last night, the score being 5 runs to four. It was a hot contest all through and neither team had much on the other. Belleghem pitched good ball but the Lilies were generally there. The game does not affect the League's standing for first honours.

FINAL SENIOR GAME TO-MORROW EVENING

Quakers and Cobourg Meet in Their Last Match—Great Game in Prospect

Much interest is being centred in the big football match which takes place to-morrow evening on Riverside Park. Cobourg has notified the locals that they are bringing up a stronger team than that which played the first match in the lake shore town, two weeks ago. The Quakers held their final practice last evening when a large number turned out and they are confident of holding down the fast visitors.

This is also the final game in the senior series of the Midland League and should attract a large crowd.

HOWARD IS ENTERED IN MARATHON RACE

Mr. R. J. Begley of Lindsay was in the city to-day and succeeded in inducing Ben Howard, the Hiawatha Indian, who won the five-mile race at the Exhibition grounds on May 24, to take part in the ten-mile Marathon race which will be held in Lindsay on July 1. Howard shapes up like a good runner, and should make things interesting for the other competitors at Lindsay. Several Toronto runners are entered.

BASEBALL

Harry (Burridge, Peterborough's clever backstop, caught for Port Hope in their league game in Oshawa on Saturday and made five hits out of six times up. He made a home run, two doubles and two singles, a total of ten bases, which is certainly stinging the pill some.

* * * *

It is likely that a series of three games will be arranged with the Strathconas of Toronto for Saturday and Monday next. The first game will be played on Saturday and the last two on the holiday. The series on May 24 and 25 proved very popular, and no doubt one with the Strathconas would be equally well patronized. The Strathcs have one of the fastest amateur teams in Toronto and will make things decidedly interesting for the locals.

SPRINTING

A local sprinter won a bet at the Exhibition Grounds last night by running 100 yards in 11 3-5 seconds. The bet was that he couldn't do it in 13 seconds. A large amount of money changed hands in the race.

LADIES' GOLF

Miss Bertha Moore won the Captain's prize.

The ladies from Port Hope Golf Club will play the Peterborough ladies on Thursday afternoon on the home links.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, June 25. — Strength in the London Market to-day where trading for the new account started, which included substantial recovery in consols and other gilt-edged issues, was communicated to this market to-day, and the traders were found ready and willing to help along the upward movement. While there was a small amount of investment buying the advance was largely at the expense of the short interest and there was a good deal of profit taking on the part of recent buyers during the afternoon. In the last hour the market was not far from the top which showed gains of from one to three points among the better issues, generally, and there did not seem much follow up to the buying.

We do not think that the important banking interests are in sympathy with any attempt to mark up quotations at this time, and would not be surprised if the market would undergo a sharp reaction on the appearance of large supplies of stocks from this quarter. For the time being we would rather recommend using a bugle like this to take profits than to suggest further buying. The closing was quite active at the best of the day. Regular dividends were declared on Amn. Locomotive and Anaconda Copper to-day.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

NOT SHAKING. JUST A GENTLE ROCKING OF THE LEVER.

Shaking is a hard, back-breaking exercise, peculiar to common furnaces, while you can stand erect at the Sunshine—and moving the lever, to and fro, about half the length of your arm, a few times, is mere play. A child can easily do it.

Grates of the Sunshine are in two sections—right and left. By gently rocking the lever, a few times, the ashes are released from the right. Repeat the operation on the left and the ashes from that side drop into the ash-pan, too. You couldn't wish for anything easier than the Sunshine Method.

When this lever is not in use it can be disconnected from the grates and the opening capped. But when connected it fills up the opening so snugly that no dust from the falling ashes can escape.

Every detail is thought of on the "Sunshine"—that's what makes it the best.

If your local dealer does not handle the "Sunshine," write direct to us for FREE BOOKLET.

Mr. J. Malone, However, Says That His Son Became Ill From Heat

It was reported to-day that the family of Mr. John Malone had been stricken with ptomaine poison and that several of the members were in a serious condition. The report came from East City and seemed authentic but when Mr. Malone was asked about it he said it was all nonsense, and that his son had been merely affected by the heat.

Ptomaine poisoning it is learned is caused by eating food that has been influenced by heat. In this case it was not canned goods but ordinary food. The family are all well so that in any case the attack was not very severe.

The moonlight excursion that was held last night under the auspices of St. Luke's Men's Guild was a decided success. The weather was delightful, and the moon had her eyes on the steamer Otonabee all the time. The start was made from the Wolfe street wharf at 8 o'clock, and after a pleasant sail of seven miles down the river, the boat returned at a reasonable hour. Singing and music was the chief source of entertainment, and Mr. A. J. Tovey's mandolin selections were appreciated. Glasses were invented a great many years ago—so were Eyes. The Eyes in construction are the same to-day, but the Glasses have changed. The science of Optics has steadily advanced, until now we are able to grind Glasses to correct all defects of vision, and the defects are many and of varied forms. Few persons, comparatively speaking, have perfect Eyes; an Eye which is not perfect is and annoyance to the brain; the Eye and the brain are very intimately connected. When the Eyes differ, we have unequal vision—unequal vision causes headache and nervousness; these are symptoms of eye strains. I correct unequal vision with lenses scientifically made. Optical lenses are made from scientifically made glass, except in cheap spectacles; in these the glasses are made the same as for windows. I use pure and faultless crystals only.

Our Optical Parlor is one of the best equipped in Ontario. We have not only fitted people with Glasses in our own city but from many of the surrounding towns, who have heard of the good results we give and have made a special trip here to have their eyes treated. Don't take our word for it, call and examine our Record Books. We guarantee satisfaction and our examination is free.

Alleged Pick-pockets Were Remanded For A Week

Four Prisoners Appeared in Police Court This Morning ---Had Been Riding on the Street Cars for Hours in the Afternoon---Particulars of Arrest

The local police force evidently made a clever haul yesterday afternoon, when they arrested four young men, all strangers to the city, on suspicion of pocket picking. The men gave their names as Henry Goldfield, Chas. Phelps, Ray Bradford and Henry Lewis, but whether these names are fictitious or not is not known.

Whether the police have captured the right gang or not it is certain that pickpockets were at work yesterday afternoon, and their operations were confined to the street cars. Several complaints have been made to the police, the principal victim being Samuel Baird, a middle-aged man of Gooderham, Ont., who was touched for a roll of bills containing in all $600. Baird was carrying the money which consisted of 56 ten dollar bills and five twenty dollar bills, in his hip pocket, and had it safe when he got on a south bound street car to go to the circus. Soon after leaving the car he missed his money but did not report his loss to the police until this morning.

William J. Hurl, who lives in Smith Township, a short distance north of Young's Point, was another victim, losing his pocketbook containing $12.50.

W. V. Hartley, corner of Smith and George streets, also had his pocket book taken out of his pocket on a street car but did not lose much, the wallet containing only about 75 cents. In another pocket he had some bills, but they were not located. Mr. Hartley, at the police station yesterday, pointed out Phelps the biggest and oldest of the prisoners, as the man who had jostled him as he was getting on the car. A Homewood avenue man was relieved of $25.

The four prisoners had aroused suspicion early in the afternoon by their continuing to ride up and down on the street cars, travelling to the exhibition grounds. They would go as far north as Central Park and then take a south car again. Mr. J. H. Larmonth, manager of the Peterborough Radial Railway, noticed this and grew suspicious of the men. He notified P. C. Newbold, who was at the exhibition grounds and the constable in civilian clothes boarded the same car as the men. He rode up and down with them several times and their actions were very suspicious. The constable kept them under close watch all the time and several times, he states, he noticed them jostling people. Once they left a car at the end of George street and the constable followed. From snatches of the conversation which he heard, he found that the gang were preparing to leave Peterborough on the 4.45 C. P. R. train.

On their trip up street the four left the car at the corner of George and Brock streets and entered the Commercial Hotel. The constable slipped off the car also and telephoned to the police station for reinforcements, Constables Adams and McHarry, assisted by Mr. Lucas, were on hand quickly and the four were put under arrest.

At the police station the men were searched, Phelps the most talkative of the gang, who is regarded as the leader, passed over $37 and a gold locket and chain, the former containing the photograph of a lady. A search of his garments revealed $25 more, hidden in a small pocket on the inside of his trousers. Harry Lewis, who said that he arrived here from Montreal yesterday morning on the 7.20 G. T. R. train, had $44. There is no G. T. R. train from Montreal at 7.20, so that this part of his story is manifestly untrue. Goldfield and Bradford each had $30 in their clothes.

All four professed to be at a loss to know why they were arrested. They denied that they knew each other except for meeting on the cars and in the hotel yesterday.

One of the prisoners, just before the arrest was made had purchased a cap and left his Christie in the hotel. Some of the others had purchased shoe laces and collar buttons, several of the latter being found on each of the prisoners. It is thought they made these purchases for the purpose of changing the money.

It is suspected that there was a fifth member of the gang, who got away when the others were arrested. At the time the haul was made it was thought that there were but four, but it is said that another got away.

The four men appeared before Magistrate Dumble at police court this morning, and the interest being taken in the case was shown by the large attendance. Only one charge was made against the men, that of stealing $12.50 from W. J. Hurl. The prisoners did not plead and Phelps, who as usual did the talking, asked if they would have an opportunity of consulting a lawyer.

They were informed that they would be given a chance to see a lawyer and the magistrate, after inquiring of the Crown Attorney as when he would be ready, remanded the prisoners for a week.

This morning the four were photographed at the Roy studio and the photographs and descriptions will be sent to Toronto to see if they can be identified by the authorities there.

OBITUARY.

MR. RICHARD GRAHAM

The Examiner has received the following report on the death of an old and very highly respected resident of this county:

It is with sincere regret that we have to record the death of Mr. Richard Graham, which took place at the family residence, 16th concession of Smith, on Thursday evening, June 20th, at the ripe old age of 88 years, after a somewhat lingering illness. Deceased had been ailing for some time but was able to be about his usual duties up to the day before his death. The late Mr. Graham was a native of Ireland, coming to this country when a young man, and soon after he settled upon the 16th concession of Smith, where he has resided ever since, for a space of over sixty years, and was successful in making for himself and family a comfortable home. It was amusing to hear him tell of his early days of pioneer life and the hardships he had to endure when he first commenced to clear the timber off the farm on which he had lived for so many years.

Mr. Graham became a member of the Wesley Methodist Church about forty years ago, and for a number of years was a member of both the trustees and quarterly official board of Wesley circuit.

Mr. Graham was of a retired disposition and to know him best was to meet him in his own home, for it was there that the noblest traits of his sterling character shone out. Mrs. Graham and two daughters and two sons mourn the loss of a kind husband and loving father. The daughters are, Miss S. J., at home; Mrs. John Northey, of 13th line of Smith; and the sons are A. A. Graham, 12th concession, Smith, and Burt, who resides on the homestead.

The funeral, which was held on Saturday, was largely attended. Dr. Metzler, of Bridgenorth, conducted the funeral service.

LIBERALS IN ONTARIO

The following which appears in the Recorder, the journal published by Hon. G. P. Graham, leader of the Liberal party in Ontario, deserves considerable attention. Mr. Graham in his capacity of leader is likely to be made the depository of information not accessible by the general public. Besides he has moved about the province a good deal and encountered many conditions favourable to the formation of a sound opinion; and as he travels with open eyes and is able to size up a situation readily and accurately, the following deductions from his experience and observation may be accepted as defining pretty accurately the existing political conditions:—

: "It is true that Liberalism has but comparatively few representatives in the Ontario Legislature. It is equally true that the public sentiment of this Province at the present moment is not truly represented in that Legislature."

"The Liberal party after giving the people many years of Government, acknowledged to be in the best interest of the public, went down. No one has argued that in all those years of wonderful development no mistakes were made, but it is almost universally accepted as a fact that the legislation placed upon the statute books by the Liberal party was on the whole wise and prudent, while even the Tory papers in several instances have not hesitated to say that the utmost economy prevaded every department. In comparison with the present prodigality in expenditure, the Liberal management might almost be termed penurious."

"But notwithstanding the very decided reverse sustained at the last general election in the Province, the Liberal party is rapidly recovering from the blow, and to-day from one end to the other it is characterized by hope and enthusiasm. Liberals who for various reasons satisfactory at the time to themselves, refrained from supporting the candidates of the party. If even they did not go the length of voting against them, now realize the mistake they made, and are saying so by the hundreds. They have discovered that, while Premier Whitney in his gratitude for the victory, acknowledged that it was largely due to Liberals, he very soon forgot all about this phase of the campaign, apparently, and has acted and is now acting as an extreme partizan both in methods and in legislation."

"Those who believed the Conservative leader and the party sincere in declaring that the control of the liquor license branch of Government would be removed from the realm of politics, now know that it has been plunged deeper into the political maelstrom than it ever was before. The unearthing of the party heeler, pull and ward politician grafting in Toronto, has caused Liberals in every riding to not only think, but to make inquiries near home, with the result that there is scarcely a county in the province from which some complaint is not made of juggling on a smaller scale. Men engaged in the liquor trade, who dare not allow their names to be made public, knowing under the present regime they would probably lose their licenses, tell of being imposed on in more ways than one by the men to whom they have to look for licenses."

"The public generally, but the Liberals in particular, have discovered that the promises of the Conservatives in Opposition were proven mere vaporings, and there is no attempt being made to carry a great many of them out."

"The Liberals are awaken to the deception that was practised upon them, and are not backward in saying so. As a proof of the enthusiasm that exists among the Liberals all over Ontario, attention need only be called to the candidates who are accepting nomination. Some of the very brightest men in Ontario, men who heretofore could not be induced to even consider such a suggestion, are now allowing themselves to be placed in nomination, and there is no difficulty whatever in securing good men, anxious to run in the interests of Liberalism."

"It is a good thing, not only for the party, that this is true, but for the country as well."

JUSTIFICATION FOR THIS CRIME

Judge Loving Takes Stand On a His Own Behalf.

GIRL MAY SAVE FATHER

Tells Story of How Her Ruin Was Accomplished—Was Drugged While Riding — Story Exasperates Her Father—He Determined to Take Vengeance For the Wrong—Claims Irresistible Impulse.

Houston, Va., June 26.—The trial of former Judge Loving, charged with the murder of Theodore Estes, was resumed yesterday. After an argument of an hour, Judge Barksdale permitted the defendant, who was on the stand, to relate a conversation with his brother-in-law, Harry Sneed, who told him of the alleged drugging of his daughter which led to the killing.

"This revelation came to me as a thunderbolt from a clear sky," said the defendant. "I loved my daughter and no power on earth could have restrained my hands."

Here the witness wept and several of his relatives also gave way to tears. Continuing Loving said:—"In this condition of mind I went out intending to put that man to death. I got my shot gun and drove at once to Lovingston. When I got there I called a boy and asked for Estes, but found he was at Oak Bridge. I went to Oak Bridge and I inquired for Estes. I learned that Estes was in a car at the station. I then turned my horse to a livery stable and got out of the buggy and loaded my gun. I saw Estes in the car with two negroes and waved them aside and said to Estes:—"You are the young man who takes ladies out driving and drugs and ruins them?"

"I heard no reply and when he made a motion as if to leave the car I shot him. I then surrendered myself to the nearest magistrate."

He was followed on the stand by Sneed, who corroborated him.

Streaming from her eyes, Miss Elizabeth Loving, aged 19, testified of her alleged ruin by the young man, whom her parent shot to death.

Estes, she said, gave her a drink of whiskey from a flask he had in his pocket, while they were out buggy-riding on the afternoon prior to his being killed. After taking the drink, she declared that she immediately began to feel dizzy and her head "spun around" as if she had been given some powerful drug. In this condition her escort drove her along an unfrequented road and then abused her.

She realized nothing more until she regained her senses in bed late that night at the home of County Clerk E. L. Kidd. On the following morning she related to her father on bended knees the statement she made yesterday.

This recital, the defence contends, so affected the mind of Judge Loving that he committed a crime which, according to his statement, could have been prevented by no power "except God Almighty."

Argellieres, France, June 26.—Marcelin Albert, the "Redeemer," was cheered here by 12,000 persons.

He announced that the Premier promised, if the wine growers would give up their illegal attitude, he would release the prisoners, withdraw the troops and take the most lenient view of everything that had occurred.

The committee resolved, owing to the vagueness of the promises made by M. Clemenceau, to continue the movement peacefully.

Composite Companies Of The 57th Arrive At Barriefield

Local Soldier Boys at Camp and Found Ample Preparations for Their Reception—Major Clegg is in Command.

TWO SMART COMPANIES

Examiner Special.

Barriefield Camp, Kingston, June 26. — The two companies of the 57th Regiment for the Composite Regiment of six companies, arrived in camp yesterday afternoon, and at once went into the quarters prepared for them. Quartermaster Capt. McLean, who was in command of the advance guard had made very complete arrangements for the city regiment, and they were made comfortable. The companies from the other two city regiments, at Kingston and Belleville, arrived at the camp before the Peterborough detachment and extended to the latter a warm welcome on their arrival.

The boys enjoyed the trip from Peterborough and arrived feeling in the best of spirits. The smart appearance of the 57th men created a favourable impression among the other men in camp, and they will be favourites in the Composite Regiment.

Major Clegg, who is in command of the Regiment, is a popular officer, and has capability is being shown already.

No. 1 Company is in command of Capt. Mills, with Lts. Hodgson and Merritt as subalterns, while No. 2 Company in the meantime, is in command of Lt. Best, in the absence of Capt. McWilliams, who will, however, be in the camp to-morrow, and will be here for the closing Field Day.

The boys are well pleased with their outing so far and they are all in good health and spirits.

NEWCOMERS GIVEN A WARM WELCOME

An Interesting Service at the Salvation Army Barracks on Sunday Afternoon

Pilgrims Told Their Stories

To the many people who, notwithstanding the intense heat and showery weather, attended the meeting on Sunday afternoon at the Salvation Army quarters in Peterborough, a treat indeed was given, and a welcome treat at that in more ways than one, for this was the day when the newly arrived comrades from the Homeland were received in true Army style, and to anyone who has ever had the pleasure of hearing a welcome from these people of the strenuous life, no doubt will be left in their mind of the sincerity of their good will.

The meeting, which was in the capable charge of Adjt. Wiggins, commenced with a Salvation Song, followed by two earnest prayers. Then Bro. Moyes, one of the recent arrivals sang a solo. Very interesting it was to see the perfect time kept by a tot of about seven years, whose tambourine is already being used in good service.

A splendid band selection was then followed by some testimonies from various members of the assembly.

KILLED FAITHLESS WIFE.

Husband Murders Guilty Pair and Then Shot Himself.

Sudbury, Ont., June 26.—A double murder and suicide took place at Creighton Mine, some 12 miles from Sudbury, on the Manitoulin and North Shore Railway, about 11 o'clock on Saturday night. The victims were John Restula, his wife Sophia Restula, and the latter's paramour, Herman Vick, Jr., all Finlanders. The three bodies were found early Sunday morning on the railway track between three and four hundred yards west of the station, which is at the west end of the village.

Shot Wife First.

Apparently Restula had shot his wife first in the back of the head, close to the neck. Vick, who had evidently started to run away, was shot in the back, under the left shoulder blade, and dropped within a few paces. Restula then turned the revolver, a 32-calibre, on himself, firing one shot near the left side of the throat, and another in the left breast. He fell close to his wife and all were found lying face downwards.

Vick Had a Weapon.

In Vick's hand was a 32-calibre revolver, but not in very good working order and apparently discovering this fact, he had started to run away.

Restula went to work at Crean Hill mine a short time ago, leaving his wife at Copper Cliff. Some two weeks ago she left there and went to Creighton Mine, where she took up with Vick, and they lived in a house at the Gertrude Mine, one and a half miles west of Creighton.

Restula was informed on Friday how his wife had acted, and on Saturday came to Sudbury and purchased a revolver in one of the hardware stores. Before leaving Crean Hill he told his foreman, Frank Anderson, that if he found his wife with Vick there would be some shooting, and he kept his word.

An inquest was held by Coroner Struthers on Monday, and a jury, of which J. C. Kelly was foreman, brought in a verdict in accordance with the facts as given above.

Restula was about 28 years of age, and Vick about 23 years.

St. Petersburg, June 26.—The police Monday night searched a department of the War Ministry and found it to be the headquarters of one of the revolutionary groups. Much illegal literature was seized.

Nothing Serious.

Paris, June 26.—The sensational newspapers are printing extras announcing new mutinies of troops in the south, but the war ministry declares that nothing serious has occurred.

THE COUNTY BRIDGES REPORTED ON

Detailed Reports Presented by County Engineer and Commissioners for Various Bridges

THE BOUNDARY BRIDGES

At the session of the County Council just closed reports on the bridges of the County were presented, by the County Engineer, as well as reports by the commissioners for the various bridges. These reports are as follows:—

Peterborough, June 19.

To the members of the Committee on Roads and Bridges throughout the County of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—In submitting this annual report on the bridges throughout your county, I might say regarding the floating bridges, that notwithstanding the fact, the breaking up of the ice during the present spring was accompanied with very high winds, both combining to make the circumstances of a very adverse nature. Yet I find those bridges on the whole in very good state of repair; this is no doubt, partly due to the very efficient manner in which the caretakers of these bridges perform their duties.

Young's Point Bridge. — This bridge is in good condition, with the exception of a few repairs of minor character, which the caretaker is attending to.

Mud Lake Bridge.—This bridge is in very good condition, after the going out of the ice a few repairs of a trifling nature such as chains, etc., was found necessary, which was attended to by the caretaker. The expenses of repairing this bridge during the recent spring has been about the same as the average season.

Gannon's Narrows Bridge. — This bridge is in good condition. Owing to the severe strain during the breaking up of the ice this present spring, one of the anchors was drawn about seven feet from its proper position, thereby leaving a sharp curve in the bridge, a circumstance which although it does not materially affect public travel, yet it spoils the appearance of the bridge somewhat. The caretaker, however, assured me that he would make an effort to have it replaced to its proper position. I might remark that there is very little mud in the bottom of the lake at this point, making it difficult to anchor the bridge.

Pigeon Creek Bridge.—This bridge is in very good condition everything considered, it being a very old structure. The railing is in bad condition, and I would suggest that some action be taken to have it made safer for public travel. The greater part of the old material could be utilized in making the necessary repairs. The approach on the west side should be repaired by a few loads a gravel at the point where it meets the bridge.

Burleigh Falls Bridge.—This bridge we found in need of some repairs. The flooring of the approaches is not in the very best condition, the stringers on north approach are not so strong as the traffic over the bridge should call for. The Commissioners, however, have been attending to it and there are four stringers on the ground preparatory to having them placed in position. I might add that in my opinion the caretaker is not paid sufficient salary considering the size of the bridge. From end to end this bridge is four hundred feet long, and being built some time it requires a good deal of attention.

Burns' Bridge.—This bridge is in very good condition in every respect, excepting the fact that it is badly in need of painting.

Sullivan's Bridge. — This bridge is in good condition, it having been refloored about three years ago. It is also in need of painting.

Indian River Bridge.—This bridge which was built in 1905, is in good shape in every respect, excepting the western approach, which seems to have been built in a very slipshod manner, there being scarcely any stone outside the posts of the railing, being held in place by being wired to some old stringers, which were left from the old bridge, consequently they are very badly out of line, and will doubtless continue to get worse, if some steps to repair the same are not taken.

Warsaw Bridge. — Is in a good state of repair, with the exception of the railing which needs some repairs, which I ordered to be done.

I might add that I will be particularly pleased, and request the several commissioners of bridges to bring in their respective reports, thereby enabling us to intelligently discuss the matters pertaining to all the bridges.

F. MOHER,
Chairman Roads and Bridges.

Council Chamber, June 19, '07.

Report to Committee on Roads and Bridges:—

We beg to report that we have inspected the bridges under our supervision, excepting those adjoining Northumberland county. The bridge crossing the Indian River, called Evans' bridge, as you are aware, was newly built last year with the approaches left unfinished. We have now the filling in of the approaches and the building of a railing completed, costing in the neighbourhood of two hundred dollars. We found the abutments and the superstructure in good condition.

We found Leary's bridge in as good condition as when last inspected.

We carefully inspected Armstrong's bridge, and found it in our opinion, unsafe for heavy loads on wagons, or traction engines. We lifted the flooring between each pier and could drop a crowbar half way through the stringers in some places. We would recommend the building of an iron bridge next year.

In inspecting Hope's Bridge we found the approaches needing repairing and ordered the repairs to be made. We also advised the caretaker to examine the structure underneath when the water became low and to report to us.

In inspecting the Allandale bridge we found the southeast corner of the abutment giving away, the abutment being built up with dry stone, but in our opinion it can be repaired by an ordinary mason at a trifling expense.

Two years ago Mr. Carey the commissioner had the Keene station bridge repaired by putting a new stringer in the centre and cutting flooring, turning worn part outside, and we now consider it safe for a number of years.

We have examined the Keene bridge on several occasions, and now find that the abutments have closed tight to the ironwork, leaving, in our opinion, no room for expansion.

We had the railing put on the posts on the approaches to this bridge, and had it painted and fixed up complete.

Respectfully submitted,
W. J. PORTER,
J. H. FIFE.

1. Having examined the bridge known as Payne's, I find this bridge in good condition.

2 Spencer's bridge, although an old bridge, the substructure seems to be in a fair state of preservation, with the covering in need of some repairs, which will not entail any great expense.

3 The bridge on boundary between Asphodel and Dummer, under the supervision of Mr. Robson, I find in a similar condition to that of Spencer's bridge, the covering in need of some repairs.

4 Warsaw bridge is in good condition.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

CHRS J DARLING,
Commissioner.
May 18th, 1907.

Report on Bridges in the Township of Belmont and Methuen

1 Brown's bridge I find in good condition, with no repairs for this year.

2. Taylor's bridge is also in good repair.

3 Preston's bridge is also in good condition.

JOSEPH JOHNSTON
Commissioner.

To the Warden and Members of the County Council and Chairman of Roads and Bridges Committee;

Gentlemen.:

I beg to report that the bridges in the municipality of Burleigh are in the following condition;

Brown's Falls bridge, in good order.

Burleigh Falls bridge.—The railing is in bad order and one approach wants being renewed. I would request that the caretaker's salary be increased, he not being sufficiently paid for so big a bridge. The bridge also should be painted.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

CHARLES R. D. BOOTH
Reeve of Burleigh.
Peterborough, June 19, 1907.

Report on County Bridges in the Township of Dummer

To the Members of the Roads and Bridges Committee of the county of Peterborough;

Gentlemen.:

Having examined the bridges which come under my jurisdiction as commissioner, I beg leave to report as follows;

Special Report on Deer River Bridge

This bridge from shore to shore at present water level is 90 feet; at high water mark it is about 120 feet The east approach is 54 feet, the west is 40 feet. This bridge has been rebuilt some five years ago, and is in good state of repair. The stringers are somewhat small, and would recommend, if assumed by the county, that some action be taken by the commissioner to have them strengthened.

When we consider the fact that Chandos has six bridges all nearly the dimensions required by the county, before assuming as county bridges and that there is a great deal of traffic over this idge now under consideration, I would recommend that the county would assume the same.

F. MOHER,
Chairman Roads and Bridges Committee.
Peterborough, June 19, 1907.

The following reports were presented by the County Engineer in reference to bridges in the county:

The Warden and gentlemen of the County Council:

Gentlemen,—I have received your instructionns to report on the bridge over the River Ouse in the Township of Asphodel on the highway leading to the village of Hastings. I have known this bridge for many years and truly it has done a "Yeoman's work," but though apparently some small repairs have been done to the trusses of the old structure, I think it is about time that your council should take it into your serious consideration and "Requiescat in Pace," should be your motto. It is now about 33 years since I measured and reported, aided by Mr. Michael Sanderson, on this bridge, or what what remains of it. The bridge is not a credit in appearance to the progressive town of Norwood, but taking into consideration that in itself Norwood has the maintenance and construction of some five or six additional bridges together with unmurmuringly paying its quota to all the other county bridges for the last 36 years, the town is not much to blame for this bridge's dilapidated condition.

The bridge, in my opinion, should be replaced by a steel structure of from 70 to 75 feet in clear span, having a reinforced concrete floor and concrete abutments with a roading width of 18 feet with a sidewalk on the upstream side of 5 feet wide. The Bridge should be well kept up so as to aid the grading of the street.

If, gentlemen, I have stepped outside my official character, in sympathising with an old friend — the Norwood bridge—though none of my family—I feel sure that many, if not all, of you can appreciate "Auld Lang Syne."

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,
Yours obediently,
JOHN E. BELCHER,
County Engineer.

Peterborough, June 20, 1907.

Gentlemen—On the 26th of last April, in accordance with instructions from your council, I proceeded to Havelock and met Mr. Johnson, Reeve of Havelock, and Mr. McNulty, the Warden of the County, and with them proceeded in an easterly direction towards Round Lake, in the Township of Belmont, driving on the leading and only road to the back country, to Cardiff, Anstruther and other northern townships. This road in consequence of the roughness of the country, is of devious directions, and at a point on the road between the 8th and 9th concessions, on the 23rd lot, a bridge crosses a creek running into Round Lake. That bridge is an old one of but small span, say 25 or 30 feet, which, after crossing one is met by an almost inaccessible hill, and travellers claim that it is thoroughly so when frost forms, as from its direction one a curve—to avoid a high grade—it is with difficulty ascended and becomes really dangerous with a load in frosty weather. The following report will explain. In reporting on the peculiar position of this bridge and how it came to be built there I might state that at a glance at sketch will suffice, the creek where the narrow is flanked by precipitous and rocky banks, the little gully in which was sedged by the astute lumberman as a ready spot possibly to roll on a gang or to form a dam to run out his logs; thus likely the spot became sufficiently known and convenient to erect a little bridge to reach camp; and which subsequently resolved itself into the dignity of a highway bridge, regardless of its future, and so I find it, practically useless for the purposes of travel on the only highway to the north by way of Round Lake.

I would advise that the bridge be a steel one, clear span of about 100 feet, more or less—possibly less—much depending on the bottom, which from the surroundings I should say was solid. The abutments would be of concrete with concrete floor to bridge. This should be raised high to permit the bridge abutments and approaches to aid in reducing the hill. Of course, should your committee give the matter your favourable consideration, and which the case deserves, the township should guarantee the construction of the approaches.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. E. BELCHER,
County Engineer.

Peterborough, June 20th, 1907.

Mr. Warden and Gentleme of the County Council,—

Sirs, — Having received instructions to examine a bridge site on the concession line between concessions 6 and 7 of lots 14 in the township of Asphodel over the River Ouse, I proceeded to Norwood on March 4th, 1907, and in company

Local Residents' Share In Buffalo Estate Increased

The Amount Left by Late Dr. Robert Campbell Much Greater Than First Reports Stated.

MORE THAN $100,000

The Examiner a few weeks ago, contained a story in reference to the death of Dr. Robert Campbell, at one time Buffalo's most popular physician, and at that time it was stated that he had left a fortune, it was estimated, in the neighbourhood of $15,000, in which Peterborough persons, the children of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Lowery, and Mr. John Campbell, of Douro, would share. It now appears that the fortune will be much larger than that, as the following despatch in the Globe of to-day from Buffalo, would indicate:

Buffalo, June 25. — Papers filed in Surrogate Court to-day make more strange the manner of the death on May 27th of Dr. Robert E. Campbell, once the most fashionable of Buffalo's physicians. He died unattended and in apparent poverty in a small room at the Park Saloon Hotel. Letters of administration of the estate were taken out by Dr. Edward N. Pfohl. George F. Schultz was engaged as lawyer in straightening out the estate, which is to be divided between the survivors among the Canadian relatives.

Lawyer Schultz has discovered that instead of the $15,000 or so, at which thee value of the estate was estimated at the time of Dr. Campbell's death there is on deposit in different banks $50,000; and also that the dead man owned a vast amount of rental property in Nebraska, the value of which will easily swell the aggregate worth of the estate to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Dr. Campbell was born in North Monaghan near Peterborough, but left there during his early manhood.

MORE MEMBERS ADDED TO COURT STANLEY

Regular Meeting of Importance Was Held Last Night

There was a good attendance of members at the regular meeting of Court Stanley held last night in the S. O. E. Hall; the C. R., Bro. T. Hendry, presiding. Three candidates were duly initiated and six propositions were received for membership. The court is in a flourishing condition, and with the assistance of new members it will not be long before it will be the banner court in the district. Several of the new members present gave addresses saying that they were pleased to become members of the Court.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Church Parade Committee, Bros. T. Hendry, R. J. McWilliams and S. Adlam, for the arrangements made, and the C. R. thanked the members for turning out so well.

Votes of thanks were also tendered the Rev. H. J. Keith for his excellent address, to the choir for the singing, and to the board for the use of the church.

Rev. Mr. Keith replied, saying that it was a great pleasure for him to address the members of the society for the first time in Knox church.

A HAVELOCK CHURCH HONOURS PASTOR

Rev. A. E. Camp Presented With Gold Watch and Fob by Members of His Congregation

IS LEAVING FOR STUTTON

A most interesting congregational gathering was held in the Presbyterian church, Havelock, on Monday night, on the eve of the departure of Rev. A. E. Camp, B.A., for Sault Ste. Marie.

A very complimentary address, expressive of the high esteem in which Mr. Camp was held by his people, was read by Mr. George Childs. The address bore the signatures of Mr. James Thompson, clerk of session, and Mr. Alex. Rose, chairman of the Board of Managers.

Miss Marjorie McKay, the little daughter of Mr. Kenneth McKay, presented Mr. Camp with a handsome gold watch and fob, together with a purse.

Mr. Camp was very much affected by the overwhelming expressions of regard, and was deeply moved as he sought to utter words of appreciation. It is only on such occasion that the real ring of loyalty and devotion is evidenced. Havelock is pre-eminently a railway centre, and her citizens ever on the alert for the call of duty are not profligate with eulogies, and many a Christian worker is too apt to think of their attitude as indifferent, but it was evident that there had existed a very strong attachment to Mr. Camp during the years of his pastorate and the entire community had thus proved in such an emphatic form that they fully appreciated what he had endeavoured to do on their behalf.

The Rev. Mr. Camp left on the four o'clock train for the west and will be inducted in the charge of St. Paul's church, Sue west, on Friday night.

DONNELLY SENTENCED TO ONE MONTH

Term Made Light in View of Promises to Lead a Better Life

Yesterday James Donnelly came before County Magistrate Edmison, for sentence, after being found guilty of the charge of stealing eggs from Mrs. Manley of Otonabee, over a month ago. The prisoner was apparently in a penitent mood and promised to lead a better life in the future. He was given a month in jail by the Magistrate who was inclined to be lenient with him on account of his youth and of his promise.

As Donnelly has already spent 15 days en gaol he will be given his freedom in a half month from yesterday.

LAST WEDNESDAY IN JUNE SEES MANY HAPPY BRIDES

HALL-MacKAY

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Paul's church this afternoon, when Miss Alice Mary Hall, daughter of the late Jas. Hall, former Sheriff, and ex-M.P., was united in marriage to Mr. William MacDonald MacKay, secretary of University Y.M.C.A., Toronto. Only the immediate friends and relatives were present in the church, which was prettily decorated in pink and white.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Torrance, assisted by Rev. Robert MacKay, of Toronto, a cousin of the groom. The young couple were unattended. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Sir Sandford Fleming, of Ottawa.

The bride's gown was a charming costume of cream satin over taffeta, with lace trimmings. She wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white roses.

The ushers were Rev. George Hackney of Toronto, Dr. Smith, of Stratford, and Mr. Harold Hall, city.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party went to the residence of the bride's mother, Rubidge street, where a recherche repast was served and many good wishes expressed for the prosperity and happiness of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. MacKay left on the 4.48 C. P. R. train for Toronto. They will spend their wedding trip on the St. Lawrence and at Muskoka, and will take up residence on Hazelton avenue, Toronto.

The bride's going away gown was a neat costume of white serge with a white hat trimmed with wings to match. The bride was one of Peterborough's most popular young ladies and her departure from the city will be regretted. The esteem in which she is regarded by her many friends in this city was evidenced by the large number of beautiful and costly presents that were received. Among them was a very handsome vase from the teachers of Knox church Sunday school which was accompanied by an eulogistic address, and there was also a fern pot from the members of her Sunday school class of Knox church.

MAYOCK-HOWREN

This morning at 6 o'clock a wedding was solemnized at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Mr. Michael Mayock, son of Mr. Martin Mayock, of this city, was married to Miss Mary Howren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Howren, also of Peterborough. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Father O'Leary, and the bride and groom were supported by the former's sister and the latter's brother. After the wedding the breakfast was served at the home of the bride's father, and Mr. and Mrs. Mayock left on the C. P. R. local on a trip to Western Ontario, and on their return will reside at 351 Water street.

SELBY-WHITCROFT

The wedding of Miss Frances Elizabeth Whitcroft, second daughter of Mr. William Whitcroft, Aylmer street, to Mr. J. Fraser Selby, Toronto, this morning at ten o'clock was one of the happy events that young Cupid has effected during this his most fruitful month. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate friends of the contracting parties by Rev. William Major of All Saints' church. The bride was given away by her father in the drawing room, which was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and palms. The marriage was celebrated under a canopy of evergreens and orange blossoms.

The happy couple was unattended, except by Miss H. Whitcroft as maid of honour. The bride's wedding gown was of Brussels net trimmed with white bebe Irish lace and Valenciennes over chiffon taffeta. She wore a bridal veil with orange blossoms and carried a handsome shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Hazel Whitcroft was becomingly attired in Nile green muslin with Valenciennes and carried a bouquet of pale pink carcarnations. Wagner's Wedding March from Lohengrin was played by Miss Ola McCarthy of Toronto.

The bride's travelling suit was of blue chiffon taffeta with touches of plaid, and she wore a hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Selby left on the 11.40 a.m. G.T.R. train for Niagara Falls Buffalo, with a holiday at the Jamestown exposition, Virginia. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl sunburst and a pearl ring to the maid of honour.

Many beautiful gifts were received from friends in Peterborough and other cities. A silver bread tray was the remembrance from the Girls' Guild of All Saints' church, of which the bride was an esteemed member.

Mr. and Mrs. Selby will reside in Toronto.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of ever getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

WILL NOT DISMISS LIBEL CASE

But Judge Landry Refuses Postponement of Emmerson Case.

COMPLICATED SITUATION

His Honor Tries to Please Everybody—Case Must Come on Again in January — Counsel for Mr. Crocket Claims Discharge—Defendant's Own Recognizance Accepted—Emmerson Did Not Appear.

Fredericton, N. B., June 26.—The Emmerson-Crocket case has been postponed again, and it now looks like the last postponement unless His Honor finally grants the request of the prosecution.

Yesterday morning His Honor Judge Landry was not fully decided as to whether he had better allow a postponement until after the reserved case is argued before the full bench of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick. The crown has announced that if their demurrer to the plea of the defence is not allowed to stand they are not prepared to go on. Judge Landry has refused the demurrer to stand, and the full bench, it is expected, will sustain his decision.

In the meantime His Honor is going to look up some authorities, in order that he may give the question the closest consideration.

To Please Everybody.

His Honor expressed a willingness to give his decision at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, but Mr. J. D. Hazen, the leading counsel for the defence, had an engagement in Sudbury County yesterday afternoon, where he is entertaining the members of the County Council, and he asked to have it put off until six o'clock. His Honor preferred to take time after tea to give out the decision, and when Mr. Hazen suggested seven o'clock, Mr. J. H. Barry, K. C., counsel for the prosecution, wanted to have it made eight o'clock. His Honor split the difference and made it 7.30.

Mr. Emmerson Away.

As was the case Monday, Mr. Emmerson was not in court. It is stated he has gone to West Virginia. Mr. Crocket was on hand, and occupied a seat near his counsel. Mr. Barry was the only one of counsel for the prosecution present, and Mr. Hazen and Mr. O. S. Crocket, M. P., were the lawyers present for the defence, Mayor McLeod having left yesterday morning for Camp Sussex, in command of the 71st York Regiment, of which he is senior major. There was no stenographer present to take notes of the proceedings of the court, Special Stenographer McPeake, who was on the job Monday, having also gone to Sussex, as captain of one of the companies of the 71st.

Why the Delay?

"I had hoped," explained Judge Landry, in giving his reasons for postponing the giving of his decision, "that I could have given my decision as to the question of postponement this morning, but I was engaged here in the afternoon until after six o'clock, and was not able to look up certain authorities which I wanted to consult. I feel that it is due to myself to take further time to look up these authorities."

Afterwards His Honor told the jurors that they need not be in court unless ordered to come by the sheriff, until Aug. 20, when civil business will be again taken up, and in the course of his remarks His Honor said that the court would adjourn in the evening until that time. He corrected himself in a moment, and then it was that the idea was given that he may order the prosecution to proceed with the Emmerson-Crocket case when he takes his place on the bench this evening.

May Order Case On.

"When I said that the court would adjourn this evening," said His Honor, perhaps I said something that I should not have said. I cannot anticipate what will happen. However, the jury need not come back before the 20th of August unless ordered to do so by the sheriff."

Postponement Refused.

The last has been heard in the courts of the Emmerson-Crocket libel case until January next, with the possible exception of an argument on a legal point or two. Perhaps it should be said that it is all over now.

Judge P. A. Landry last evening refused to allow the application of the crown for a postponement.

The court was crowded.

The judge, in his decision held that the article was written in the public interests, and again decided that the defendant's plea should stand and that the demurrer of prosecution should not stand.

When court was adjourned and Mr. Crocket was held in his own recognizance, to appear in January next—"if there should be an indictment against him"—it was generally felt among the crowd that the last has been heard of the case.

The defence claim that Judge Landry having refused to grant a postponement, and the crown prosecutors refusing to proceed with the case when a postponement is not allowed, the indictment is killed.

If it is decided by the prosecution to have the point on which they have been granted a reserve case argued before the supreme court, that argument will not take place until November.

"In my opinion," said the judge, "the rights of the crown to get a postponement of trial remains the same as though no reserved case existed, leaving aside, therefore, the consideration of the reserved point, no case has been made by the crown for a postponement. Hence I must refuse it.

"I do not think I am called upon to note or consider in this application what the representative of the crown said on Friday last, viz., that the crown would not go on with the trial till the decision given was reversed.

"If the meaning of that declaration was that the crown would be able to convince me that it had sufficient reasons for asking and obtaining the postponement, it has so far failed to present those reasons.

"If the declaration meant that the crown had means to postpone the trial without an order for that purpose from the presiding judge, then I leave it to the crown to exercise those means or to go to trial. In the meantime the case stands before, so far as the crown is concerned, ready for trial, and demanding from me a disposition of it."

SEVEN PERSONS KILLED.

House Collapses Burying Them Under Tons of Debris.

New York, June 26.—Seven persons, six of them members of one Italian family, were killed yesterday in the collapse of a ramshackle tenement in the downtown Italian quarter. Three other members of the same family were rescued from the ruins. An old man was rescued from a two-foot ledge 40 feet from the ground by firemen.

The building was a four-storey affair, built over 50 years ago. It had been in a dangerous condition because of excavations next door. The constant rumbling of subway trains a block away was too much for it.

The seven persons who lost their lives were buried under tons of debris.

Some had been instantly killed, but others escaped death in the first crush only to be smothered by bricks, broken timbers, plaster and dust.

Two of the younger occupants of the house who reached home shortly before two o'clock yesterday morning, warned by the severe shaking of the house, ran through the building and warned sleeping tenants of impending disaster, and dozens of persons ran into the streets in their night clothing.

CHURCHMEN AT THE HAGUE.

British Dean Heads Deputation to Hague Conference.

The Hague, June 26.—The President of the Peace Conference, M. Nelidoff, yesterday received a deputation from Christian churches throughout the world, headed by Very Rev. Wm. Henry Fremantle, Dean of Ripon, who presented an address urging the conference to ensure peace, justice and humanitarianism. The address was signed by all the leading churchmen of Great Britain, except the British Catholics, who refused to participate, even indirectly, in a conference to which the Pope was not invited. Nine American Catholic Bishops signed the address.

M. Nelidoff thanked the deputation for the interest taken in the work of the conference, to which he said the address would be communicated, adding that everyone earnestly desired the success of its work.

The proposition which France has presented to the second committee (land war) will express the wish that a declaration of war become compulsory before the opening of hostilities.

Among those present was J. Pierpont Morgan.

MURDER OR ACCIDENT?

Woman Found Hanging In Barn—Evidence of an Assault.

Hamilton, June 26.—Word has just been received here of a tragedy at Benford, a postoffice five miles south of Ancaster. Mrs. John Reinhardt was found dead in the barn by her husband when he returned home on Monday night. The woman was hanging by her neck and had evidently been strangled. From marks on her body it looked as if she might have been assaulted. When Crown Attorney Washington was notified he took charge of the case and ordered an investigation.

THE COUNTY BRIDGES WERE REPORTED ON

with Mr. A. Breault, reeve of Norwood, proceeded to survey the site in question, where we met the Warden.

The concession line runs north and south, and at a point about 200 yds. distant from the northern boundary of lot 14 jogs east some 400 yards, being stopped short by the low-drowned land caused by the overflow of the river Ouse. After jogging easterly about the above distance the road thence pursues a southerly direction, crossing higher up on the stream a most dilapidated bridge over the said Ouse river. The continuation of the concession line from the point of divergence east aforesaid, has recently been chopped open through the drowned land, and the old bridge now being condemned for travel, it is sought to continue the concession line in its southerly direction of opening up, raising, trenching and grading the concession road for this purpose, a 75 to 80 feet waterway, having steel bridge will be necessary of say from superstructure and concrete abutements, and further a deepening of the creek at this point, and for a distance above the bridge site for at least 200 yards to confine the waters to cut a near channel; there is no doubt that the bridge is now a necessity, and most desirable. It is the straight concession, and should be opened through for the purpose of travel, but yet it is for your council to determine its adoption, and it is one that I can honestly recommend to the consideration of your honourable body as being of much need in the locality, basing this statement on the representations of the residents of the locality.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN E. BELCHER,
County Engineer.

Peterborough, June 20, 1907.

A diagram showing proposed new bridge accompanied the report.

LIGHTNING DOES DAMAGE.

Miles of Telegraph Poles Shattered—Barn Burned Down.

Brockville, June 26.—A violent thunderstorm passed over this district yesterday morning, doing great damage. A barn belonging to Frederick Darling of Springvalley was burned.

Telegraph poles along the main traveled roads were shattered and broken for miles.

Lightning struck the residence of William Atcheson at Fairfield East, but the occupants escaped. The damage to the house was light.

Stunned by Bolt.

Woodstock, June 26.—Monday evening at Lakeside Mrs. Arch. Martin was milking a couple of cows in the yard when lightning killed both of them. Mrs. Martin was badly stunned. William Harris was in the stable feeding the cattle when lightning stunned him as well as several head of cattle.

Japan is Aggressive.

Mukden, June 26.—Without waiting for an announcement of the policy of the new Manchurian administration Japan, on the grounds of the defence of her treaty rights, has begun a program apparently directed toward forcing action by China.

STRATHCONA AT HOME

KNEBWORTH PARK ONE OF THE HIGH COMMR'S RESIDENCE.

Ancient Mediaeval Castle Built During the Tuder Period—Time Worn Banners Hang From Its Wall—Griffins Guard Its Parapets—Fountains and Statues Grace the Grounds—Haunt of Bulwer Lytton.

Britain is a country of homes and in his love of home Lord Strathcona is a typical Britisher. He has no fewer than four homes in England and Scotland, namely, his London residence in Grosvenor Square, his near London estate of Knebworth Park, Hertfordshire, his near London shooting estate at Debden, and his Scottish home at Glencoe.

To pass from the Grosvenor Square residence to Knebworth is to pass from modernity to mediaevalism. You may be so fortunate as to make the transit in that most perfect of modern vehicles, the motor car, of the almost breathless pace with which the High Commissioner outspeeds the Great Northern train on its way North to his Hertfordshire residence. As you know, the police keep an eagle eye upon the motorist in England, and Mr. Balfour, ex-Prime Minister though he is, has been in their clutches. Lord Strathcona gets the pace without getting himself or his chauffeur into trouble; it is a little way he has. But as soon as the motor rushes you through the ancient village of Knebworth, past the venerable church, and lands you thoroughly aerated at the old doorway of the hall, you leave modernity behind you. You find old oak stairways o'erhung with the time-worn banners of stalwarts who fought fo England from the days of the Norman Conquest downwards; and in the park and grounds as in the house itself you feel as though time were of no account and the old sun-dial in the gardens were the only needed reminder of the flight of days.

Knebworth itself runs far back into history The mansion in which Lord and Lady Strathcona now reside stands on ground where a fortress held by Eudo Dapifer stood in the days of the Norman Conqueror, and where when Henry VII. was King, Sir Robert Lytton, a Privy Councillor, began to build the spacious Tudor home which was completed by his descendants. That home was a quadrangular structure, which good Queen

THE SOUTH FRONT, KNEBWORTH.

Bess came down to see; one of its four wings was used in the construction of the present house and the other three were pulled down. You approach the house by way of a shrubbery such as gardeners used to know how to make a century ago, but hardly know how to make in these hurried days, and from this point you see at their best the ivy clad walls and mullioned windows of the Strathcona home, the central castellated tower of which and the cupolas, bluish to the eye, are suggestive rather of a Moorish temple than an English home. Upon the parapet stand griffins, holding halberds before them. A gardener, the embodiment of civility, may invite you to wander freely in the gardens, and you will find them beautiful and spacious.

In the Shadow of Great Men.

Knebworth Park is still of course the property of the Lyttons, whose tenant Lord Strathcona now is, and it was here that the world-famed novelist Bulwer-Lytton loved best to be. For a picture of it all as the novelist saw it, and as many a Canadian sees it at a Dominion Day garden party we cannot do better than borrow from Bulwer-Lytton himself. He says:

"The place has something of the character of Penshurst, and its venerable avenues, which slope from the house down to the declivity of the park, giving wide views of the opposite hills, crowded with cottages and spires, impart to the scene that peculiarly English, half stately and wholly cultivated, character which the poets of Elizabeth's day so much loved to linger upon. As is often the case with similar residences, the church stands in the park at a bowshot from the house, and formerly the walls of the outer court nearly reached the green sanctuary that surrounds the sacred edifice. The church itself, dedicated anciently to St. Mary, is worn and grey, in the simplest architecture of ecclesiastical Gothic, and, standing on the brow of the hill, its single tower at a distance blends with the turrets of the house, so that the two seem one pile. Beyond, to the right, half-way down the hill, and neighbored by a dell girdled with trees, is an octagon building of the beautiful Grecian form, erected by the present owner; it is the mausoleum of the family. Fenced from the deer is a small surrounding place planted with flowers—those fairest children of the earth, which the custom of all ages has dedicated to the dead. The moderness of this building, which contrasts with those of its vicinity, seems to me, from that contrast, to make its objects more impressive. It stand out alone in the venerable landscape, with its immemorial hills and trees—the prototype of the thought of death—a thing that, dealing with the living generation, admonishes them of their recent lease and its approaching end. For, with all our boasted antiquity of race, we ourselves are the ephemera of the soil and bear our truest relation, so far as our mortality is concerned, with that which is least old." In that mausoleum Bulwer-Lytton expected to lie, as he has told us in the pages of The Student; but he was decreed a grave in Westminster Abbey.

Cooking Vegetables.

Put a lump of sugar in with the green vegetables you are about to boil, and it will greatly improve their flavor and also retain their color.

Ill Temper From a Bad Liver

Calyle justly attributes the ill-temper which made him a monster in the eyes of the world, to a bad liver. Nothing makes one feel more miserable or gloomy and discouraged than liver complaint, and consequent biliousness and dyspepsia, and nothing so thoroughly and promptly sets the liver right and overcomes these ailments as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the great family medicine.

IMPROVEMENT IN WRITING

Mr. Wm. Pringle Finds More Keen Competition for Silver Medals Donated by Him for Good Writing

THE WINNING COMPETITORS

There is a marked improvement in the writing of the scholars of the schools and Collegiate Institute of the city, is the opinion expressed by Mr. Wm. Pringle, who for the last four years has donated three silver medals to the pupils in the commercial form of the Institute, the Fourth Book and Entrance Classes in the Public and Separate Schools and the Third Book Classes. He stated that with the readoption of the old form of writing and the abolition of the vertical system there was a gradual improvement noticed.

The writing competition for Mr. Pringle's medals is proving popular with the scholars, and this morning he literally had an armful of specimens of writing submitted. The writing of the Collegiate Institute pupils was examined by Messrs. Walker and Pringle and for the public and Separate Schools by Messrs. Scrigley, Walker and Pringle. Mr. Pringle is not in possession of the names of the winners of the medals, the competitors simply numbering their papers. The numbers of the winning specimens, however, were supplied to the Examiner to-day, and they are as follows:

Collegiate Institute—1st, 19; 2nd, 27 and 3rd, 15.

Fourth Book—1st, 177; 2nd, 176; 3rd, 126.

Third Book—1st, 666; 2nd, 240; 3rd, 245.

Those holding the numbers indicated above are asked to communicate with Mr. Pringle at once. The medals will be presented at the opening of the fall term, since it will take some little time to have them made and engraved.

The neighbouring town of Oshawa is booming at the present time, and it is noted among other improvements and accessions that the Canada Life Assurance Company have recently entered into their new premises in the "Arcade." The place, we are told, is substantially fitted up, and in every way put in excellent shape for the Company's large and growing business.

Mr. Scrib, who business headquarters are now in Peterborough, has had general oversight and direction of the Oshawa office, and was present at the opening on Monday. Mr. T. J. Robson, of Oshawa, is in charge and will now be in a position to do even better work for the Canada Life than formerly. dg

G. T. R. DETECTIVE AND POLICEMAN NEEDED

To Watch the Big Crowd at the Station Last Night

The Grand Trunk station was the scene of great excitement last night during the loading of the circus wagons and until 3.30 a.m., when the last train left the station, a large crowd was in attendance. It is estimated that fully two thousand people assembled in the vicinity of the station. Small boys, as usual, preedominated, and they were to be found clinging to all possible points of vantage, to obtain a view of the departing performers. The gates at the Charlotte street crossing were at times literally covered with boys, so that the police had to be requested to take a hand in the game. P. C. Newhall and a Grand Trunk detective were on the spot and no particular damage was done. One of the switches just north of the station was broken while the wagons were being loaded but this was repaired early this morning.

The circus train left in four sections for Belleville, which is the location for the next performance.

LINDSAY OFFICIALS IN THE CITY TO-DAY

Inspecting the Local Waterworks System —Mayor Vrooman Among the Number

The Water Commissioners have made a very important addition to their mechanical equipment. It is a device for tapping water mains by which a connection of from two to eight inches in diameter can be made with a water-main without for one second reducing the pressure. The importance of this device can easily be seen. Instead of shutting off the pressure for a considerable space of time, as in the ordinary way the connection is made and the pressure high or low is maintained effective in the mains.

In the presence of the Commissioners, the delegates from Lindsay town council and waterworks, a test was made of the Smith patent tapping machine this morning, under the superintendence of Mr. Stalbein, agent of the A. P. Smith Manufacturing Company, Newark, N.J. The mechanical staff of the city waterworks system made the excavation at the corner of George and Brock streets, applied the tapping machine and in less than two and a half hours the eight inch connection was made with the 12-inch main, without for one moment affecting the pressure or wasting half a gallon of water. The operation of the tapper is exceedingly simple; a disc of the diameter required was cut clean out of the 12-inch main. A detailed description of the operation of the machine would be lengthy and only of interest to mechanics, who since the tapping machine is acquired by the Commissioners, may see it in operation almost any day such work is done.

The machine seems to be a good investment; it makes a saving of time in making connections and what is more important, permits of the maintenance of continuous fire and general service pressure in the mains.

One satisfactory result and an interesting one too, is the fact that the disc cut out of the 12-inch main, showed the pipe to be in excellent order, clean and smooth on the internal surface, showing that the pipe is in perfect condition with no adhesion of sand or organic matter, and no sign of electrolytic action as might be expected from the fact of the pipe lying parallel with the electric railway track. The main is of Scotch make and that it is in such perfect condition is revelation worth agood share of the price of the tapping machine by whose operation this condition was so plainly revealed.

Messrs. T. F. Matthews, chairman, W. H. Hill and W. H. Moore, Water Commissioners were interested spectators of the successful test of the machine, and have on the strength of the test completed its purchase.

BREAK-DOWN THE CAUSE OF DEARTH OF MATTER

Owing to an accident—a breakdown in its composition department—the Examiner has had to omit the publication to-day of much matter of local interest. No one regrets this circumstance more than the management of the paper.

LORD ROBERTS ON CANADA.

Says Her Defences Are a Matter of Vital Concern.

London, June 26.—In the House of Lords, Lord Roberts, referring to Haldane's army scheme, the merit of which he acknowledged, remarked:

"We could not leave out of account the most extensive exposed of all our frontiers, Canada's. Could we be silent about the defence of Canada without inevitably conveying to Canadians the impression that we did not consider the defence of Canada of vital importance. Surely if there are any nations to whom we could not afford to give ground for offence they are the nations within the empire. But how could we offend them more deeply than by refusing to discuss questions which matters of life or death to them.

"If the empire is to be defended at all, the co-operation of the colonies and India is indispensable."

He looked, in the great imperial struggle, not to small contingents, ear-marked for our use in return for our holding corresponding, though far larger, expeditionary forces available to help them. War could not be waged on limited liability principles.

Getting Ready For War.

New Orleans, June 26.—A despatch from Port Barrios, Guatemala, says that the forces at the east coast ports held in readiness to repel invasions number 500 men at each place, each battalion of this size having six rapid-fire and six siege guns.

The despatch also confirms the reports that the coast fortifications are being erected at several ports.

The Guatemalan Government is reported to be negotiating for a 400-ton steamer of 18 knots speed to be armed with eight rapid-fire guns.

London, June 26.—The finest tribute which Mark Twain has received in England was the Pilgrims luncheon in his honor yesterday.

After speaking in a humorous strain for some minutes, however, he paused and said:

"I have chaffed and chaffed and chaffed, but man does not reach the verge of 72 years without knowing life."

Moonshiners Rounded Up.

Asheville, N. C., June 26.—A party of revenue officers have returned here, having captured 35 moonshiners and destroyed 13 illicit stills.

Glasses were invented a great many years ago—so were Eyes. The Eyes in construction are the same to-day, but the Glasses have changed. The science of Optics has steadily advanced, until now we are able to grind Glasses to correct all defects of vision, and the defects are many and of varied forms. Few persons, comparatively speaking, have perfect Eyes; an Eye which is not perfect is and annoyance to the brain; the Eye and the brain are very intimately connected. When the Eyes differ, we have unequal vision—unequal vision causes headache and nervousness; these are symptoms of eye strains. I correct unequal vision with lenses scientifically made. Optical lenses are made from scientifically made glass, except in cheap spectacles; in these the glasses are made the same as for windows. I use pure and faultless crystals only.
Our Optical Parlor is one of the best equipped in Ontario. We have not only fitted people with Glasses in our own city but from many of the surrounding towns, who have heard of the good results we give and have made a special trip here to have their eyes treated. Don't take our word for it, call and examine our Record Books. We guarantee satisfaction and our examination is free.

Peterborough Passengers Had New Experience

Mr. J. J. Turner and Others From This City Were on Virginian When Transfer of Mails Took Place.

AN INTERESTING LETTER

The Examiner has received an interesting letter from Mr. J. J. Turner, sr., who is in England on a business trip. The letter, which is published herewith, gives some interesting information in reference to the trip across the Atlantic, and the experiences of the passengers, a number of whom are Peterborough people. Mr. Turner writes:

To the Editor of the Examiner:
Re Steamer Virginian, Liverpool, England, June 15th, 1907.

I send you a few words as I thought they might be interesting to some of you readers. I left Montreal on June 7th, on the good but slow Steamship Virginian of the Allan Line, and arrived at Liverpool on Saturday, June 15th, making about nine days to do the trip in, which is too long and is the reason, I believe, for so many people going by the New York route. We had very calm weather all the way over and our average speed was only about 380 miles a day. That is not fast enough now and we could have steamers that would make at least twenty-five knots. We had a delay of several hours at Sydney, Cape Breton, in taking on the mails and we also came very near having a bad accident as the steamer Montcalm, (that brought the mails off) is not a suitable steamer for this work. She seems to roll too much. The first attempt she made she rolled so that she smashed her sides considerably and we had to run in close to the shore, which was a considerable delay, but we got the mails on all right the second time. There are some people from Peterborough on Board. Miss Deane, Robert Fair and Dr. Bell; also from Millbrook. We have Mr. Kells and Mr. Ruddy. I am sorry to say that the weather has been very cold nearly all the way over, and sied damp, so that it was unpleasant for getting about. We had about one thousand passengers on board all told, and a great many of them were from the North-west and British Columbia, where they had made considerable money, and were going to England, Scotland, Ireland or Germany to meet their old friends once again. I am pleased to say that I enjoyed the voyage very much, but I expect to be back in our good City of Peterborough again in a few weeks.

With kind regards to all
I remain,
Sincerely yours,
J. J. TURNER.

EXCEPTION TAKEN TO THE CONDUCT OF MINISTERS

Toronto, June 26.—Charged with immoral conduct, Rev. D. M. Coultman, former pastor of a Baptist church in St. Catharines, has been expelled from the ministry by the Baptist council.

A resolution was passed at a meeting Monday at which charges of immorality were preferred against Mr. Coultman, and at which he was summarily deposed, which divests him of the right of ever again holding a position as an ordained minister.

Mr. Coultman has not been preaching for a year, but has been interested in mining stocks, and doing business in London and Toronto.

Misappropriating Funds

Brantford, June 25.—Rev. John Taylor, coloured minister from Woodstock, arrived in the city from Montreal to-day. He will be arraigned at the Police Court to-morrow in connection with the alleged misappropriation of the funds of the Conference. He says he is innocent. The entire Conference will attend the Police Court proceedings.

This Pastor Right

Windsor, June 26.—The trustees of the B. M. E. Church have decided to stand by their minister, Rev. C. H. McGowan, who has been expelled from the Conference in session at Brantford this week. The trustees claim that the Conference had no right to expel their minister, and explain that the church was not represented at the Conference, which was illegal, as it should have been held in August, instead of June.

HALF A TON OF BUTTER WAS BURNED

Disastrous Fire in Haliburton, Caused by Lightning

Examiner Special.

Lindsay, June 27. — The severe electrical storm which passed over this district on Saturday last did considerable damage in the Haliburton vicinity.

The Allsow creamery, owned by Mr. C. D. Kellett and operated by C. V. Jones, located eight miles from Minden, was struck by the lightning and burned to the ground. This happened between 4 and 5 o'clock. The machinery and 1000 lbs. of butter were completely destroyed. The loss was partly covered by insurance. Mr. Kellet contemplates rebuilding the factory.

STORE AT M'CRACKEN'S LANDING OPENED UP

Mr. A. F. Choate of Warsaw, has opened up the Stony Lake branch of the Warsaw Departmental Store, for the season. The store is situated at McCracken's Landing, and the owner will have supplies of all kinds for the camper, cottager and tourist. It will be in charge of his son, Mr. Hal. Choate, for the summer season.

BUSINESS IS WAR

All People Will Fight at Any Old Time or Place for Business!

Business is a fight — a continual struggle—just as life is. Man has reached his present degree of development through struggle.

The business warrior who takes the blows of his rival's hammer in a jaunty spirit can walk to business every morning with a geranium on his Semi-ready coat and a silk handkerchief nestling close against the Semi-ready Signet of Surety. "We know all about the business war," the President of the Semi-ready Company, "for our success was only achieved after a ten years' struggle with every contending interest injured by our revolutionary system of making men's fine clothes."

TWO FISHERMEN GET SEVEN 'LUNGE

A Successful Day's Outing Down the Otonabee Yesterday

Mr. Al. Haskill, the well-known Simcoe street barber, together with Mr. W. F. Green, of Water street, were on a fishing excursion down the river yesterday in the vicinity of Hale's Bridge. The result of the day's outing was a catch of seven 'lunge, and fine specimens they were too. The lucky anglers were certainly entitled to the congratulations of their many friends who met them on their return home with the trophies of the day's outing.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF THE CONSERVATORY

Will be Held To-night in the Grand Opera House

The closing exercises of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music will be given to-night in the Grand Opera House under the the direction of Mr. Rupert Gliddon. It will consist of orchestral music and vocal and instrumental numbers by the pupils of Mrs. Roger Collins, Miss Lora Newman, (Miss Adamson, Mr. Van der Water, and Mr. Gliddon. The programme is a varied one and has been tastefully selected. It should prove a good drawing card as the concert last year was of unusual excellence and this should be even better.

SHARPEN THE AXE

Mr. Whitney, Premier, or, as he insists, on being named, Prime Minister of Ontario, has declared that he is "bold enough to be honest, and honest enough to be bold." He has justified this claim in regard to the spoils system. He is honest enough to openly practice the most vicious principle that has cankered our politics. If he were not so bold, the ward heeling element wouldn't be encouraged to similar boldness. The Conservatives of Lincoln are, as they have a right to be, under the operation of the spoils system, discontented, because certain Liberal officials are not more speedily kicked out to give way to good Conservatives. They even threaten to put up a new Conservative candidate who will have no scruples about chopping off a few heads. But they should be patsent. Mr. Whitney is so busy elsewhere that he can't attend to all the details at once. Let the Lincoln patriots be patient. The "Grit" office holders' day of doom may come either by the stately medium of a commission, or by a similar swift stroke as that which prostrated Police Magistrate Woodyatt. If Mr. Whitney will satisfy his followers he must sharpen his axe, and appoint a permanent commission.

EDITORIAL NOTES

If the Conservative journals thought the Laurier Government as bad, and as unpopular, as they represent it, they would be busy foraging for timber for Mr. Borden's cabinet, instead of wasting time in rearranging Sir Wilfrid Laurier's cabinet.

If Prince Fushimi's gratitude for "a good time" and good treatment in Canada enters into home consumption when he arrives in Japan, the entente cordiale between the Land of the Rising Sun and the Land of Hard Wheat will be profitably strengthened.

With a score of achievement by Canadian manufacturing industries like that recorded, it would be interesting to hear Mr. Borden point out where his "adequate protection" would make an improvement.

Mr. Billy McLean, M.P., will not be diving up to his record or his opportunities, if he doesn't obtain credit for the two cent rate on United States railways.

It appears that the two cent a mile railway rate which is said will be adopted on all the United States railways is in effect nothing new. The present rate, counting special rates, return excursion and commutation rates are claimed to average two cent a mile, so that the traveller under the new rates will be enjoying what has really been in force.

The great growth of customs collections, which indicate great commercial activity are made on a lesser tariff rate than last year, when with the free imports considered, the average rate was 16.31 p.c., whereas the last year's returns are based on an average rate of 15.81 p.c.

ANNUAL SPEECH DAY INTERESTING EVENT

Grove Preparatory School Students Enjoyed the Day—Presentation of Prizes Took Place

REV. MR. LANGFELDT THERE

Examiner Special

Lakefield, June 26.—Yesterday was a red-letter day in the annals of the Lakefield preparatory school, of which the Rev. (A. W. Mackenzie, M.A., is the head master. A large number of friends and parents of the boys were present to witness speech day and the distribution of prizes. The visitors present were Mrs. Lefroy, of Millbrook; Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Delafosse; Mrs. Cumberland, Mrs. and the Misses Atwood, Mr. and Mrs. Drayton, Mrs. and Miss Hilliard, Mr. J. H. Burnham, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Miss Owen, Miss Sylvia Strickland, Miss Peady, Rev. W. J. Creighton and others.

The proceedings took place in the spacious drawing room of the "Grove," and were presided over by the headmaster, Rev. A. W. Mackenzie.

In presenting the prizes he said that he regretted exceedingly that on account of illness several boys were unable to be present, however, they were well enough to go to their homes by Thursday. The work during the year, in the athletic department, had been very successful, and several victories over the other schools had been won in hockey and cricket. As to the work in the school proper Mr. Mackenzie had many words of appreciation to say of the boys, for applying themselves earnestly to their studies and bringing about good results.

The prizes were distributed as follows:

Form I.—General proficiency, won by T. Gordon.

Form II. — General proficiency, T. Cook; classics, Aylmer Lefroy.

Form III.—General proficiency, A. L. Patterson; classics, Percy Nelles; mathematics, A. L. Patterson; prize in swimming, H. Pearce; prize in music, Aylmer Lefroy; prize in botony, H. Atwood; best bat, A. L. Patterson; 100 yards swimming, medal presented by Mr. H. Strickland, won by A. L. Patterson.

The medal presented by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt for the best boy in all departments, especially the best in exercising good influence among the boys, was awarded by the masters of the school to A. L. Patterson. On the medal is engraved the motto, "Primus inter omnis. Mr. Langfelt presented the medal himself, and acknowledged his thorough approval of the selection of the boy, whom he had known for several years, and whose selection he himself anticipated. He gave a short address of valuable advice to the boys on "Opportunity."

This ended the prize-giving, after which short remarks were given by Mr. J. H. Burnham, who is always a welcome visitor to the school, Rev. W. J. Creighton and others.

After the close of the proceedings refreshments were served to the guests and the boys by Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Mackenzie.

The boys are leaving for their respective homes. The next great event looked forward to at the Grove School is the meeting of the Old Boys in September.

MORE DRUNKS AT THE POLICE COURT

"Vag" Ordered to Shake the Dust of Peterborough From His Boots

An unfortunate drunk was given fifteen days to sober up by Magistrate Dumble this morning. Whiskey has completely deprived him of energy and ambition.

Fred Rawlings, who claims Lindsay as his home, was given a couple of hours to leave the city. He was charged with vagrancy and pleaded guilty. He said he has been working for the past four months in Smith and previous to that had been employed at the Ross Memorial Hospital. Old as he is and fast becoming infirm it seemed a pity to tell him to get out of the city as soon as he could. But such is life and the world goes on just the same.

An Old Charge

John Shannahan was charged with having been drunk and disorderly. Incidentally a charge of having assaulted William Copperthwaite on June 22nd was preferred against him. Chief Rossel jogged his memory and hunted up an old summons, to which the accused was charged with having committed an assault on John Clancy Feb. 10th, 1894. The latter was soon disposed of as there was no evidence to be heard. Magistrate Dumble was inclined to be lenient with prisoner for his mother's sake. He advised him to leave whiskey alone. A fine of $2.00 was demanded as a settlement of the assault charge.

Ben LaBar pleaded not guilty to having been drunk and disorderly on the evening of June 22. Michael Barrie, bartender at the Royal Hotel, stated that LaBar had been drinking at the time in question. He had a fight with Shannahan, and as a result the police were called in. Shannahan, according to the evidence, was the aggressor throughout. LaBar was discharged.

THE CIRCUS WAGONS DO DAMAGE

Ald. Duncan Says $300 Will Not Repair Lock Street—City's Revenue is $25

It may be news to many to know that the city received $25 from the Forepaw and Sells Brothers circus for the use of the city streets for the parade. But according to Chairman Duncan of the Board of Works Department, the damages done to the streets through the parade will not be nearly covered by a quarter of a hundred.

He stated at the Board meeting last night that Lock street from Lansdowne street north was badly cut to pieces by the big waggons and that he believed $300 would be necessary to have that street repaired.

Nothing was mentioned about effecting repairs at present.

WILL TRAVEL ENTIRE LENGTH OF THE CANAL

Mr. Watson and Family Enjoying a Pleasant Summer on Local Waters

Mr. Matson and family of Pennsylvania, who have been cruising on Rice Lake waters in their new yacht during the past few weeks, left to-day for northern waters. They went up through the lift lock and Trent Canal and will go by water as far as Lake Simcoe. They have all the necessary camping apparatus with them and they are spending a pleasant summer on this beautiful stretch of water.

must win upon their merits. The International Dictionary has won a greater distinction upon its merits and is in more general use than any other work of its kind in the English language.

A. H. Sayce, LL.D., D.D., of Oxford University, England, has recently said of it: It is indeed a marvelous work; it is difficult to conceive of a dictionary more exhaustive and complete. Everything is in it—not only what we might expect to find in such a work, but also what few of us would ever have thought of looking for.

A supplement to the new edition has brought it fully up to date. I have been looking through the latter with a feeling of astonishment at its completeness, and the amount of labor that has been put into it.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

THE SECRET OF PERFECT HEALTH.

It used to be the general idea that there was some mystery about getting well and staying well. Sellers of quack nostrums took advantage of this fact and grew rich. We are growing wiser, however, and know that good food, fresh air and cleanliness are all that are required. Cleanliness, however, means that you must be clean inside as well as outside. If your kidneys, liver and bowels are not properly performing their functions, they are accumulating a mass of filth, as a result of your violation of some natural law, and you must assist nature in nature's way to cleanse the system. No necessity, however, to risk using some secret preparation. You can obtain a perfect compound of vegetable remedies, everyone of which is endorsed by your physician. The formula of King Palmetto Compound is printed plainly on the wrapper. No secret, no mystery, just plain common sense. King Palmetto Compound will regulate the liver, bowels and kidneys, tone the system and prevent serious results which might arise from neglect. Give it a trial. Write for a free sample bottle to the King Palmetto Company, Bridgeburg, Ontario.

Phoenix, The Wonderful Mining Town Of The West

Dr. R. B. Boucher, Visiting His Parents Here, on His Way to England, Describes the Western Mining Centre to the Examiner —No Chinamen There.

AT ALTITUDE OF 4600 FEET

Dr. R. B. Boucher, son of Dr. R. B. Boucher, city, who has been practising for the last seven years at Phoenix, B.C., is spending a short visit with his parents en route to England and the continent where he will spend the next two years in specializing along certain lines of medical work. Dr. Boucher, jr., who received his early education in the public schools and Collegiate Institute here is well known to many Peterborough citizens and is being given a warm welcome.

To an Examiner reporter who interviewed him this morning, Dr. Boucher gave some interesting information concerning Phoenix, which is one of the most important mining camps in Canada. The population is between 2000 and 3000 people and the only occupation is mining. The mines there employ between 900 and 1000 men and the pay roll each month is very large.

Phoenix is the highest town in British Columbia, the altitude being 4600 feet above sea level. The town is situated in what is called the Boundary district, being only three or four miles north of the boundary between Canada and Uncle Sam's domain. The Grimby mine is one of the biggest in Canada and although now owned by Americans, was originally held by Mr. Miver, of Grimby, hence its name. It has between fifteen and twenty miles of underground workings and only experienced miners are engaged. All the mines in Phoenix are preparing to increase their working forces, the only difficulty in the way being the lack of good miners.

Being a mining town the population of Phoenix is essentially a cosmopolitan one; many different nationalities are represented there, but strange to say there is not a single Chinaman or Japanese in the town. Phoenix has thus the unique record of being the one place in British Columbia that does not contain one of these Orientals. The residents regard the celestials with much disfavour and so bitter are they against them that a knight of the pig-tail is not permitted to set foot in the town. It is said that a few years ago one Chinaman climbed the heights as far as Phoenix, but some of the leading citizens pointed out to him the fact that such a bigoted attitude would be detrimental to his health and he was promptly headed down the slopes again. The reception has had its effect and the Oriental races leave the place strictly alone.

Phoenix has now two railways, the Great Northern and the C.P.R., and is a bustling, thriving place.

Speaking of the fruit growing industry of British Columbia, Dr. Boucher stated that it was making rapid progress. Many sandy tracts that had been considered of little use were being irrigated and thereby greatly improved. Fruit lands were being sold for $200 an acre, and after being improved for a few years could be disposed of at as high a figure as $1000.

Dr. Boucher is impressed by the rapid growth of Peterborough during his absence, which, he said, was very noticeable.

Annual Excursion Was Held at Idyl Wyld---Doctors Won the Ball Game by a Big Majority---A Most Enjoyable Event

"The best yet!" was the unanimous verdict of everyone who had the good fortune to be present on the annual excursion of the Doctors and Lawyers of the city, which was run yesterday afternoon to Idyl Wild. This event is held each year and the doctors and lawyers take turns in playing the part of hosts. This year the legal fraternity were the guests of the doctors, and the latter are to be congratulated upon the success of the outing, not the slightest hitch occurring to mar the enjoyment of the occasion.

In addition to the doctors and lawyers there were a number of invited guests, and the party in all numbered one hundred.

The majority boarded the fine new steamer Otonabee of the Otonabee Navigation Company, at the street railway wharf, whence the steamer left shortly after two o'clock. The run down the beautiful Otonabee was made in good time, and the sail was greatly enjoyed by the party. The weather, which in the morning had been threatening was all that could be desired, and the river and its surroundings were at their best.

Idyl Wild was reached at 4.45, after an enjoyable sail across Rice Lake, which was swept by a strong breeze from the north-west.

The annual ball game between the lawyers and doctors, which is always one of the principal features of these excursion, was the first item on the programme after reaching Idyl Wild. The representatives of both professions had chosen their teams on board the steamer, and all that remained was to lay the diamond and decide upon an umpire. Mr. Chris Graham was finally decided upon and the game started with the lawyers in the field, Mr. Kerr occupying the box and Mr. Hatton doing the receiving.

Dr. Brown led off with a neat single and the medicos made three runs before the innings was out. The lawyers came back in their half and made four and the excitement was intense. The doctors in the second innings landed upon Mr. Kerr hard and banged the ball in all directions, getting thirteen runs before they were finally put out. The lawyers could only get two in their half, and thus the game ended, with the score 16—6 in favour of the doctors. The disciples of Blackstone aver that as they were the guests of the occasion they could not very gracefully win.

The feature of the game was Dr. Amys' slide for third base and a pretty running stop by Mr. O'Connell at short stop, for the losers.

The game contained several plays that were never seen on any diamond before, and the spectators were kept convulsed with laughter.

The teams were as follows:

Lawyers — G. W. Hatton c; F. D. Kerr, p; Cyril Hill, 1b; A. H. Stratton, 2b; D. O'Connell, ss; Ozias de la Plante, 3b; A. E. Dixon, rf; E. A. Peck, cf; W. S. Davidson, lf.

This important event having been settled to the satisfaction of the doctors and the spectators, if not of the lawyers, the next item on the programme was supper, and the effect of the brazing breeze was shown by the manner in which the party disposed of the repast prepared by Mine Host Londerville.

An impromptu football game between the married and single men of the party was an amusing feature that followed. The single men were outnumbered and were kept busy stalling off the benedicts, who won the contest by one goal to nothing. Mr. O'Connell doing the trick.

The steamer left Idyl Wild on the return trip at eight o'clock, and the home run was made in very good time. The trip was much enjoyed although the air was a little too cool for comfort. Proceedings were enlivened however by a number of songs and choruses and the time passed very pleasantly. The street railway wharf was reached shortly before eleven o'clock and the party dispersed after the guests had given three cheers for the doctors and lawyers. The affair was in every way a great success and reflected credit upon the doctors who so ably played the part of hosts.

DOURO BOUNDARY TO BE REPAIRED

City Engineer Reports it in Bad Condition—Routine Business of the Board of Works

REPAIRS FOR SIMCOE STREET

The Board of Works Committee of the city council met last night, and attended to a large number of matters, many of which were cleared off the slate. The docket consisted of the Douro boundary repair question, a communication from Mr. Jas. Bogue, the water-tabling of the eastern end of Charlotte street, a bill of damages for imperfect sewer connection in the house of Mrs. Campbell, Water street, and various other matters.

Those in attendance were Chairman Duncan, Ald. Johnston, Wilson, McIntyre, City Solicitor, City Engineer and the Street Commissioner.

The Otonabee Power Co. applied for the privilege of erecting two poles on John street, and one on King street, west of William street. This was referred to the City Engineer with power to act.

Douro Boundary

The engineer, who was instructed to report on the condition of the boundary road between the municipality of Douro and the city, reported that it was worn out; that it needed to be water-tabled and levelled, and that the ditch should be cleaned out. The estimated cost was $100. In 1898 the road had been fixed, costing $151.30. Of this $50 was paid by the city and the township of Douro each, and the remainder by Ashburnham. The section of road referred to runs from the north-eastern section of the Nicholls' Oval to the canal bridge.

Ald. Wilson moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston, that the clerk be authorized to write the parties interested to find out whether an agreement had been made between Ashburnham and Douro regarding the keeping in repair of this road. —Carried.

Private Connections

Mr. W. H. White waited on the board and asked whether the council intended making sewer conections with one dozen vacant lots on Sherbrooke street, where he is now constructing a sewer. A resolution had been previously passed stating that all connections must be made to vacant lots while the main sewer is being laid. This was done so that the streets would not have to be dug up every time a connection was made.

It was moved by Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the owners of vacant lots be notified that the intention of the city is to put in connections when the sewer is being laid and that if the owners wish to make any suggestions they must do so at once. — Carried.

Ald. Wilson asked Mr. White if it was true that he had allowed his men to work on private sewer connections during working hours, as he had been told by a party that he had. "He's lying!" was Mr. White's brief answer to the question.

Water Tabling Charlotte Street

Mr. Edward Green, Water street, wrote the Board, stating that with the filling in of the eastern end of Charlotte street, each successive storm caused a flood over his lawn, which carried gravel and other refuse over it, and he asked that this portion of Charlotte street be water-tabled.

Moved by Ald. Wilson and McIntyre, that the engineer attend to the water tabling of the same. — Carried.

The chairman read a communication from Mr. Jas. Bogue, regarding the proposed diversion of the Aylmer street drain. He stated he had put his property in its original state, and that if any damage resulted to it from the change in the Edinburgh street drain, which he considered was done to suit a few of the council's friends, he would hold the city responsible.

Moved by Ald. Wilson and McIntyre, that the communication be referred to the Committee of the Whole Council.

Account to be Paid

Mrs. James Campbell of Water street, through the City Engineer, wrote, asking for $25.85, the cost of the repairing of the sewer connections in her residence, caused by the inefficient laying of a granolithic sidewalk, in May, 1904. The Street Commissioner did not believe that the laying of the sidewalk had anything to do with the injury to the sewer, but that the pipe had not been properly laid in the first place.

Ald. Wilson was of the opinion that the cause of the trouble was in the installation of the sewer, which should have been done under the supervision of a city official, and that the city was therefore partly responsible.

Ald. Johnston considered that it was the city's fault and that the city should learn a lesson from it and see that it did not occur again.

Mrs. Campbell refused to pay the account to Adamson & Dobbin, as she holds the city liable.

Moved by Ald. McIntyre and Johnston, that the account be paid, subject to the engineer's approval. —Carried.

On Motion of Ald. McIntyre and Wilson, a somewhat similar account of $37.33 of the Peterborough Lock Co., was left in the hands of the city solicitor.

Repairs on Simcoe Street

The chairman reported that the road bed on Simcoe street west of Bethune street, was always flooded after a heavy rainstorm, and he advised that a storm drain be constructed from Rubidge street to the creek.

Moved by Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. Wilson, that the engineer be requested to report on the cost of a surface drain.

Ald. Johnston stated that Barnardo avenue between George and Water streets was in a bad condition. The street will be repaired with gravel at once.

Ald. Wilson reported that the sidewalk on the east side of Gilchrist street, south of Murray street was in a very bad condition, and that the plank should be replaced. He moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the sidewalk be repaired.

HAPPY RESULTS OBTAINED

By the use of the New Scalp Antiseptic

It wouldn't take long to number the hairs in the heads of some people, the reason being they haven't many to number. In most instances, however, the fault is their own. A germ at the root soon plays havoc with the most luxuriant growth and causes it to fade and fall out. A remedy for this has recently been discovered, called Newbro's Herpicide, that acts by destroying the germ that does the damage, besides removing all impurities from the scalp. In addition it permits new life and vigour to enter the scalp, and happy results are sure to be obtained from its use. Try it. Sold by leading druggists. # MR. P. MUNGOVAN MAKES HIS ANNUAL PILGRIMAGE

Making Himself and His Publication Popular

Mr. Mungovan, the veteran representative of the Catholic Press, is on his annual tour and simultaneous with Forepaugh and Sells' elephants he struck town Tuesday. It can be stated on visual authority that he looks well, on his authority that he is doing well, while we have it on authority unimpeachable that he is "doing" the public at a rapid rate. He is here renewing old acquaintanceship, creating new friends and popularizing himself on behalf of the Catholic Register.

Mr. Mungovan speaks glowingly of Peterborough's present position and future prospects, and readily asserts that except Brantford, alone there is not one in the last batch of Canadian cities which have been created which has gone forward with such leaps and bounds as Peterborough. He tells us that the country is enjoying unprecedented prosperity, for which favour he thinks God should be thanked more than the politicians.

Party politicians, he thinks, are doing so well that the Canadian people desire no change. Laurier holds his ground and so does Borden, the Opposition leader, who, for the task of keeping his followers on the left hand side of the Speaker is eminently fitted, even without the stimulus of $7,000 per annum for doing so.

Mr. Mungovan sympathizes with the "immortal" Sproule in his condemnation of that new deal between the Vatican and the Finance Minister. He does not want the introduction of Romanizing politics into Canada, although he is as ignorant as Dr. Sproule himself of the meaning of the phrase.

Contractor Mahoney Applies To City For More Money

Finds He Cannot Dispose of Dredgings Profitably at 8 1-2c Per Yard—Ald. McIntyre Wants New Tenders Called—Unfair to Other Tenderers, He Says.

BOARD OF WORKS DISPUTE

Since Mr. Daniel Mahoney took the contract from the city to dispose of the dredgings from the "Trent," agreeing to do the same for 8 1-2 cts. per yard, he has found it necessary to ask for a raise in price. The next lowest tenderer was Mr. Kylie who asked for 12c. and Mr. Mahoney applied to the Board of Works last night for 11 1-2c and also asked the city to repair the cars. Considerable discussion took place but the question was left over until next week.

Mr. Mahoney wrote the Board in connection with his contract for disposing of the material from the dredge to the river front and asked that he receive 11 1-2c. per yard instead of 8 1-2c., which he now claims was too low a figure. In explaining his reasons he wrote that conditions were not as he had expected and that he had to pay $25 for the use of the rails which he understood belonged to the government. Until recently, he stated, he had to pay two men at the dredge which were last year paid by the government. The cars were not in a good condition and a break might occur at any time to delay him. He admitted in his letter that he had figured too low and that he now wanted 11 1-2c per yard and also he asked that the cars be repaired.

Mr. Mahoney was present at the meeting and further explained the situation.

Ald. Wilson and Johnston did not like the idea of the city looking after the cars and believed that the contract which governed Mr. Conroy last year should be adhered to in this case. It stated that the contractor must look after the repair of all appliances in connection with the removal of the dredgings.

Mr. Mahoney then agreed to do the work at 12c per yard and repair the cars himself, but as this was the price of the next lowest tenderer, the offer did not meet with the approval of the committee.

Ald. McIntyre stated that he knew when the contract was let that the work could not be done with profit at 8 1-2c. and he was not in favour of raising it to 11 1-2 or 12c. He advised that the next tenderer, Mr. Kylie get the contract at 12c.

After some discussion Mr. Mahoney agreed to accept 11 1-2c. which the chairman offered. The City Solicitor stated that if the contract is taken away from Mr. Mahoney the only way to proceed would be to call for tenders again.

Ald. McIntyre was opposed to having the price raised and advised the calling for tenders. The committeee then decided to leave the matter over until the Committee of the Whole meeting next Tuesday night. In the meantime the contractor will proceed as before.

6,000 SQUARE FEET OF SOD TAKEN FROM A CITY STREET

A rather novel system of making money was brought to light at the meeting of the Board of Works Committee last night but a system which in future will probably be strictly prohibited. The facts of the case so far as related indicated that a citizen has for some time been cutting sods on Margaret avenue free of cost and disposing of them at about 14c. per square yard laid down. In this way about 6,000 square feet of sod were lifted and sold. At this price the dealer in sods would realize over $90. The committee considered that the city should receive at least 5c. per yard or a total sum of about $33 and and have placed the case in the city engineer's hands to make investigations.

The city engineer reported the case to the Board, stating that he had been informed of the circumstance by Mr. Huffman, of Margaret avenue. He went up to look over the situation and ordered that the work be discontinued finding about 6,000 square feet of sod gone. Mr. Huffman informed the engineer that he knew who had taken the sods.

The Board advised that the party who took the sods be found and made pay for them. Ald Wilson considered that this work was becoming too prevalent and that it should be stopped at once. He believed that the city should be paid at least 5c per yard. The engineer was advised to investigate the case and collect the damages.

A SPLENDID RECITAL LAST NIGHT

Pupils of Peterborough College of Music Win Distinction in Musical Numbers

MRS. MORROW, PRINCIPAL

The pupils of the Peterborough College of Music, under the direction of Mrs. W. JJ. Morrow, its principal and guiding spirit, gave a delightful recital of vocal and instrumental music at St. Peter's Hall last night. There was a fairly large attendance adn everyone was highly pleased with the artistic manner in which the various selections were rendered.

The feature of the evening was the duet singing and the ensembles in the second part taken by Mrs. Archer Miss L. Halfihan and Messrs. Morphet and King. Mr. King and Mr. Frowde were heard to good advantage in Bonheur's "The Battle Eve," the stirring strains of which were rendered faultlessly. Miss Halfihan, Mrs. Archer and Mr. Morphet and Mr. King in Miss Leahmann's arrangement of "The Daisy Chain" showed themselves to be finished singers. Mention should also be made of Mrs. Davidson's number "May Morning" and Miss Pentland's "I Think" by d'Hardelot. With so lengthy a programme it is impossible to enter into individual detail, but it is a pleasure to state that all the contributors to the programme acquitted themselves in a manner giving promise of future excellence, but ing promise of future excellence, and efficient teaching and development.

Mrs. Morrow and Miss Rudkins rendered a charming waltz by Gottschalk that was favourably received. (Mrs. Morrow played the accompaniment for the different numbers in an exquisite style. Her skill and expression were of great assistance to the vocalists.

The glass had been broken in the box and the bottom had been smashed in by the thief to reach the contents. The box was found by a boy who was playing in the neighbourhood and was returned to the company by him.

Since the box disappeared this is the first trace found either of it or of the man who made the daring robbery.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

MRS. THOMAS J. BEGLEY,

PLAIN TALK FROM THE DOCTOR

A prominent physician, famous for his success in the treatment of kidney and bladder troubles, stated that to the following prescription is due a great deal of his success:

One ounce fluid extract dandelion;
One ounce compound salatone;
Four ounces compound syrup sarsaparilla.

Mix and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime, drinking plenty of water.

This mixture will be very positively cure any disease arising from weak, clogged or inactive kidneys, and will assist these organs to cleanse the blood of the poisonous waste matter and acids, which if allowed to remain, cause lumbago, lame back, rheumatism and sciatica, and at the same time will restore the kidneys to healthy normal action. The ingredients, which are purely vegetable and entirely harmless, can be procured from any good druggist and mixed at home at very little cost.

This advice will undoubtedly be much appreciated by many readers.

WHAT DEFENCE SEEK IN MURDER CASE

To Show Haywood Could Not Have Committed First Murder.

ORCHARD NOT IN WARDNER

Revenge and Mine Owners' Conspiracy Causes of Crime—How Miners Were Provoked—Witnesses Deny Orchard's Story — But Are Severely Cross-Examined—Davis Acknowledges Hiding.

Boise, Idaho, June 27.—William F. Davis of Goldfields, Nevada, one of the most important witnesses for the defence of William D. Haywood, accused of the murder of Frank Steunenberg, was called to the stand at noon yesterday, and his cross-examination had not been completed when court adjourned.

Harry Orchard testified that Davis led and commanded the mob that destroyed the Bunker Hill and Sullivan Mine in 1899; inspired, as the agent of Haywood and Moyer, the Vindicator explosion and the train wrecking plot at Cripple Creek, and was an accomplice in the Independence Station crime.

On direct examination by Clarence Darrow, Davis went over the story of his working life and made positive denial of every statement of Orchard that involved him or his associates in any form of crime. Davis denied that he was even a member of the union when the Bunker Hill and Sullivan Mine was blown up.

At the conclusion of his general story, Davis swore that at Cripple Creek during the strike Orchard told him of the Hercules Mine affair and threatened to kill Steunenberg.

The cross-examination of Davis by Senator Borah was severe and searching. It was chiefly devoted, as far as it proceeded, to the Bunker Hill and Sullivan affair and the circumstances under which Orchard made the threat against Steunenberg.

Davis said that he remained in hiding after the mill was blown up because he did not want to be deported or thrown into the "bull-pen," and that he changed his name when he departed from Butte shortly afterwards, because he feared the mine owners' "blacklist," made up from a petition that the employes of the Bunker Hill had sent to Governor Connell protesting against the unsafety of the mine. Borah showed that the petition had been presented six years before and that Butte was a federation camp where the blacklist was ineffective.

On Side of Peace.

The defence is trying to prove that Orchard was not at Vulcan on the day of the explosion. The defence has been allowed to ask questions bringing out the story of the disturbances at Cripple Creek during the great strike of miners there. The state has objected to opening up this wide field, but the defence persisted that it had the right to go deeply into this matter of labor troubles in order that it may show what was done by the military and the provocation that was given to the striking miners.

While the foundation for proof of conspiracy on the part of the mine owners to exterminate the Federation and thus eliminate an element that interferes with the working of the mines under conditions such as the mine owners would dictate, makes a large part of the fabric the defence have built up so far, Orchard is never lost sight of, and witness after witness is called to show that Orchard, through all the years that intervened between his flight from Idaho in 1899 and his return to this state in 1905, carried with him continually a private grudge against Steunenberg.

What Defence Seek.

If a sufficient weight of evidence can be brought to show that the assassination of the former governor was merely the culmination of one man's grudge and not the part of a conspiracy, counsel for the defence say the state's case must fall. Orchard will stand convicted out of his own mouth of this one murder, and if a conspiracy on the part of the detectives employed by the mine owners to destroy property or cause riot in order to continue a state of martial law can be shown, it is the opinion of counsel that the jury will abandon the conspiracy idea and their clients will go free.

While the defence is trying to break down Orchard by sheer weight of testimony, the state is pushing each witness as far as possible to show that they are subject to impeachment later. The large number of witnesses to be examined by the defence gives promise of a long period of rebuttal testimony.

Whole Train Crew Suspended.

Ottawa, June 27.—The whole train crew of the G. T. R. light engine, which crashed into the New York and Ottawa freight train at Eastman's Springs on Saturday evening, killing Fireman W. E. Douglas, was suspended yesterday.

This was the result of investigation proceeded with by Morley Donaldson, superintendent, at Ottawa.

Grand Trunk Station Burned.

Thamesville, Ont., June 27.—The Grand Trunk Depot, erected here by the Great Western Railway in the early fifties, was burned to the ground. The pump house was also destroyed.

This was the third time the depot has been on fire during the past few weeks.

THE ARMY DISCIPLINE SEEMS LAX

Insubordinate Spirit of Troops In France Causes Anxiety.

STRIKE STILL CONTINUES

Albert's Attempt to Stop the Agitation Fails—Yields Himself to the Authorities — Government Will Deal Sternly With Mutineers—Difficult Position of Cabinet—Will He Weather the Storm?

Paris, June 27.—The Government's hope that the return of Marcelin Albert, leader of the wine-growers' movement, to the south, after his interview with Premier Clemenceau would result in a change of attitude on the part of his followers has been blasted. The federated committees have decided to maintain the civic strike and the "redeemer," or "apostle," as he is variously termed, has no alternative but to surrender himself to the authorities in accordance with his promise to M. Clemenceau.

Nevertheless the excitement in the disturbed territory continues to subside and the Government believes that, barring some unfortunate incident which may again inflame the people, the latter will gradually come to their senses and realize that a prolongation of the present situation will only increase their misery.

The Government now apparently is quite as much concerned about the insubordinate spirit manifested among troops as the attitude of the wine-growers, for in spite of the efforts to minimize them new incidents showing the lack of discipline in the army are occurring daily. The Government seems to have awakened to the necessity of dealing sternly with the demoralization engendered by the socialistic anti-military propaganda, and the press commends the decisions of the Government to exile the mutineers of the 17th Infantry and to postpone indefinitely the bill providing for the abolition of court-martial in time of peace.

The position of the Cabinet grows increasingly difficult, and M. Clemenceau's sole object seems to be to weather the storm until the summer vacations of Parliament affords a breathing spell. To-day, when the Premier replies to the interpellation on the general policy of the Government is likely to decide whether he will be able to overcome the difficulties in his path or fail in his attempt to do so.

Money Returned to Clemenceau.

Paris, June 27.—M. Albert yesterday gave himself up to the authorities at Mont Pellier. He received a chilly reception from crowds at Narbonne. His comrades of the committee of Argelliers have from their prison issued a statement repudiating him and declaring for a continuation of the civil strike. Later M. Albert sent this letter to M. Clemenceau:—"In two or three days you will have proof that I kept my promise. Enclosed find the 100 francs you loaned me, for which accept my thanks. As agreed, I have surrendered myself to the authorities."

Yale Student Dies From Broken Back —Three Others Injured.

New Haven, Conn., June 27.—An automobile accident, causing the death of one under-graduate, and injuries more or less serious to two other students, and to a guest, cast gloom over the commencement exercises at Yale University yesterday.

The victim was D. Leet Oliver, of Pittsburg, one of the most prominent socially of the upper classmen. He died from a broken back, received by being crushed under his automobile after it had jumped off a bridge. The machine apparently skidded.

Many Deaths By Drowning.

Reston, Man., June 27.—Walter Hansell, 5 years old, was drowned in an old well.

Arrested on Murder Charge.

New York, June 27.—James Murray, a Bronx contractor, who formerly lived in Little Falls, N. Y., was arrested yesterday in connection with the murder of Julius Rosenheimer of Pelham. Murray denied any knowledge of the crime and declared that his arrest was the result of political ill-feeling against him in Little Falls.

Prof. MacCallum Honored.

New Haven, Conn., June 27.—The award of honorary degrees by Yale University, announced at the commencement exercises yesterday, included doctor of science, Archibald Byron MacCallum, professor of physiology in the University of Toronto.

Boston, June 27.—Prof. Louis Savoy, Dexter Abrams, who yesterday received the degree of doctor of laws at Harvard, sailed for Quebec yesterday afternoon, on board his agship, the Varesco.

Tiflis, Transcaucasia, Russia, June 27.—Ten bombs were thrown yesterday in the Erivan Square, in the centre of the town, which was thronged with people.

The missles exploded with terrible force.

Many persons were killed or injured, and windows and doors were shattered over a large area.

The police are preventing all approach to the scene of the outrage.

During the excitement a wagon containing $125,000, escorted by Cossacks was robbed of all its contents. This was apparently the motive for the outrage.

Tried to Steal Explosives.

St. Petersburg, June 27.—An attempt was made Tuesday night by terrorists to force an entrance into the the magazine of the proving grounds, near St. Petersburg, containing a large amount of explosives. A sentry was fired at and wounded by the men engaged in the attempt, but the shots caused a patrol to hurry to the spot and the terrorists fled.

The loss may run up to $300,000; partly insured.

Between 40 and 50 structures were consumed, and probably 1,000 persons are homeless. It was learned that a negress was burned to death in one of the houses.

Shelburne, June 27.—While assisting at a barn raising on the farm of George McAuley, in Melancthon Township, James Culliton was struck on the head by a falling beam and died a few hours after the accident.

The Latest Sports

BIGGEST GAME OF THE SEASON

Beaverton Will Play Here on Monday Afternoon Next

The biggest lacrosse game of the season will be played here on Monday next, when the speedy Beaverton bunch will clash with the Peterborough seniors in an intermediate C.L.A. game. The contest should be a battle royal. Beaverton is confident of its ability to defeat the locals, while on the other hand, the Peterborough team feels sure that it will have the honours of the contest. Which ever way it goes, those who like to see a good game of lacrosse will make no mistake in visiting the Riverside Park on Monday. Both teams will have their strongest line up, and the locals, although the majority of the men will be the same will be a very different team from that which went down before the Young Torontos two weeks ago. They have been practising hard lately and will be in the best of shape.

TWO INDIANS FOR THE LINDSAY RACE

Mr. R. J. Begley Arranges for Appearance of Simpson and Howard in Marathon Race

When Mr. R. J. Begley of Lindsay, was in the city on Tuesday, he completed arrangements for the entry of Jim Howard and Fred Simpson, the two Hiawatha Indians, in the ten mile race which will be a feature of the Dominion Day sports at Lindsay. Howard, it will be remembered, won the five mile race at the driving park on Victoria Day, and Simpson was the man who made such a good showing in the Examiner road race last fall. Their appearance in the Lindsay race will do much to popularize that event and there is little doubt that they will make the one who wins out cut a fast clip.

The race will be started on Kent street about a mile and a half from the exhibition grounds and the remaining eight miles and a half will be run on the track.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUERS ARE AFTER A GAME

Are Anxious to Get on a Game With a Peterborough Team

A letter has been received by the Examiner from Mr. Palmer E. Rogers of Toronto, asking for a game with some baseball team of this city for July 1st. The letter says: — "The Capital baseball Club of Toronto would like a game with some team in Peterborough for the first of July. The Capitals are leaders of the intermediate league, with seven games won and one lost. Any team desiring a game on the holiday kindly address Palmer E. Rogers, secretary, 48 Empress Cres., Toronto."

IT'S A WAY THAT THEY HAVE IN CHICAGO

Everybody Does Their Best to Rattle the New York Giants

The following will show how the sports on the other side spend their money to get a baseball team in the air, especially Chicago, when New York Nationals are playing:

Here are some of the things the Chicago fans employed to rattle the Giants in the recent series in the Windy City: Huge yellow kite bearing the word "Muggsy" and the form of a baseball player supposed to be McGraw attached to an aerial trapeze, performing all kinds of ludicrous contortions over the field. Cocoanuts thrown at the Giants, on one side of which was a picture of Tinker covered with spikes. Burlesque song with brass band accompaniment, entitled Cheer Up Muggsy, Don't Be Sighing. A flock of 19 yellow-striped aloons set adrift to commemorate that memorable defeat of the Giants by Chicago at the Polo grounds last year by a score of 19 to 0. Immense fog horns that worked automatically and emitted doleful noises every time a Giant got on a base. Thousands of small yellow flags bearing the word "Giants." A chorus of 25,000 fans singing So Long, Muggsy, how we hate to see you go. The Chicago Board of Trade spent $1000 in purchasing these contrivances.

PETERBOROUGH NOW IN LEAGUE

Will Finish Out the Schedule in Bowmanville's Place—Have Good Chance of Winning

PLAY PORT HOPE FIRST

It will be welcome news to the local fans that the Peterborough baseball team will henceforth this season play in the Midland Baseball League. Last night a telephone message was received from Blake Crawford, of Port Hope, and the gentleman stated that the Bowmanville club had dropped out of the league and asked the locals to take their place. The local management, while not feeling any too friendly to the league for sidetracking them at the annual meeting, decided to accept the offer and will play out the Bowmanville club's games.

The locals start off in second place with a record of three wins and two losses and are tied with Cobourg, while Port Hope leads the league with four wins and one loss. Peterborough will play their first league game on Monday afternoon with the leaders in Port Hope, and the first home game will be played on Saturday, July 6th, with Cobourg. The locals have a good chance of winning the pennant as they have seven games yet to play in the league.

MORE GAMES WITH THE ARCTICS

Clever Toronto Bunch Will Play Here on Saturday and Monday Next

The Arctics, of Toronto, who played a series of games with the Peterborough baseball club here on May 24th and 25th, have written for a couple of games and the locals have completed arrangements for their appearance here on Saturday and Monday morning. The Arctics will have a stronger team than on their first appearance here and are confident of trimming the locals. The first game will be played at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, and the second on Monday morning at the same place at 9.15 to allow the locals to catch the 11.45 train for Port Hope, where they will play The Litchfrod News and Advocate their first league game.

PAUL LAWSON WAS INJURED

First Baseman of the Arctics Loses Al His Fingers

Local fans who saw the recent ball games with the Arctics, of Toronto, will regret to hear of the serious injury sustained by Dave Lawson, the clever first baseman of the Toronto aggregation. On Tuesday he had his hands caught in some machinery in Smart's bag factory, where he was employed and had the fingers of both hands taken off. Lawson was a very clever fielder and made a decided hit with Peterborough people by the manner in which he covered first base in the series of games played here. He will have the sympathy of all those who saw him play against Peterborough.

FAULT LIES WITH THE MOTHERS

Correspondent Refers to the Duty of Parents to Their Children

Editor of Examiner, —

Dear Sir, — In Monday evening's issue of the Examiner, I read a sermon on the "Duty of parents to their children." It is about time that such sermons were delivered from the pulpits of the Peterborough churches, but I believe that the parents who should hear a sermon like that never see the inside of a church. There are parents who are not capable of teaching their children. How can we expect the boys and girls to do right when they see nothing but dirt and hear a great deal of evil in their homes? I think the Children's Aid Society should wake up a little, and know more about the state of some homes in this city. There are mothers who are more fit to be in the reformatory than to have a home and children under their care. If a mother is not "right" how can we expect the children to be "right?"

Home is the place for mothers, with their children, in the evenings. I say it is all right for mothers to take the little ones but in the evenings to the parks and other places of amusement, but I say it is not right for mothers to walk the streets and go to the parks, leaving their children to the mercy of the world at home, or perhaps on the street—children from ten years of age down to little infants. Hoping that a widespread move will be soon commenced, I am, yours sincerely.

SOUTH END.

WELL KNOWN BELLEVILLE RESIDENT DEAD

Geo. W. Ranney, Formerly of Peterborough, Passed Away This Morning

This morning there passed away in Belleville, George W. Ranney, a former resident of Peterborough, at the ripe old age of 76 years. The deceased was a man well and most favourably known in this city, having for 25 years been a resident on Gilmour street, and having been connected for many years with the Trent Canal in its early days. He was for a number of years Government Superintendent of Public Works, his jurisdiction extending from Bobcaygeon to the southern outlet of the Trent River. In fact he was so intimately connected with the work on that stretch of water, that a cataract in the vicinity of Campbellford — Ranney's Falls — has been named after him.

The late Mr. Ranney was born in Prince Edward County, and during his lengthy life has been a prominent civil engineer. His death was greatly due to his advanced age. His wife predeceased him about seven years and his only son is also dead some years. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles Ranney resides at the corner of Rubidge and Simcoe street. Mrs. A. H. Stratton is a niece of the deceased.

The funeral will be held to-morrow morning on the arrival of the 8.20 train, to the Little Lake cemetery.

Examiner Special

Keene, June 27. — The Keene football team defeated Warkworth yesterday evening by a score of 2—0, on the Agricultural Society's grounds, in the best game the home team has played this season. The locals are getting into good shape, and are confident of again beating Warkworth in the return match on Friday. If they succeed they will play against the Quakers, the winners of their district, for the intermediate championship.

The line up was as follows:

Warkworth — Goal, Gilray; backs, Wilson, Liscumbe, half backs, Hill, Covert, Humphries; forwards, Burwash, Allen, Thompson, Knight, Gallagher.

Eyesight Specialist

Glasses were invented a great many years ago—so were Eyes. The Eyes in construction are the same to-day, but the Glasses have changed. The science of Optics has steadily advanced, until now we are able to grind Glasses to correct all defects of vision, and the defects are many and of varied forms. Few persons, comparatively speaking, have perfect Eyes; an Eye which is not perfect is an annoyance to the beain; the Eye and the brain are very intimately connected. When the Eyes differ, we have unequal vision—unequal vision causes headache and nervousness; these are symptoms of eye-strains. I correct unequal vision with lenses scientifically made. Optical lenses are made from scientifically made glass, except in cheap spectacles; in these the glasses are made the same as for windows. I use pure and faultless crystals only.

Our Optical Parlor is one of the best equipped in Ontario. We have not only fitted people with Glasses in our own city but from many of the surrounding towns, who have heard of the good results we give and have made a special trip here to have their eyes treated. Don't take our word for it, call and examine our Record Books. We guarantee satisfaction and our examination is free.

THIRD CLOSING CONCERT OF PETERBOROUGH CONSERVATORY

The third annual concert to mark the conclusion of the year of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, was held last night, in the Grand opera house, which was fairly well filled for the occasion. The fact that the Conservatory is succeeding so well is explained by the evidence of the excellent teaching, and musical training, furnished by the capable and, in many cases, artistic manner in which the programme was presented.

The programme was opened by the strong and well-balanced Conservatory orchestra, which gave a fine production of the "White Squadron March," followed by "Reminiscences of Balfe," the two beautiful Verdi excerpts — Miserere scene from Il Trevatore, and the "Pilgrim's Chorus," from I. Lombardi, concluding with "In the Highlands" by Otto Lange. The work of the orchestra, which is a new feature of conservatory musical activity, was very clever, giving promise of future excellence. It is hoped that it will prove a rallying point for something like a permanent orchestra, which is a greatly needed feature of the musical equipment of the city. In piano, the pupils of Mrs. Roger-Collins were represented by Miss Gladys Seward, who performed a Beethoven sonata with fine finish and effect, demonstrating that musically she is, and promises to be, the daughter of her father, the late Mr. Lewis Seward, in his day one of the best musicians that ever lived in Peterborough, and Miss Grace Taft, a pupil of rare promise and proficiency, gave a very satisfying Beethoven selection. Miss Irene Philip, another pupil of Mrs. Roger-Collins played Lisst's "Cantique D'Armour, with musicianly expression and taste. The Arensky suite for two pianos played by her and Gladys Seward, was a very artistic performance, marked by perfect tempo and accord, and excellent shading and expression. Miss Lora Newman's pupils were very creditably represented by Miss Florence Bell with a fine performance of Handel's Air with variations, and Miss Edith Aylmer, who gave a fine and spirited rendering of a Mozart Sonata. The pupils of Mr. Van der Water were Mr. Hague Sawyers, who sang the rather difficult selection the "Muleteer of Tarragona," with good, well-placed tenor voice and with considerable dramatic spirit, and Miss Irene Sanderson, who gave a sweet rendering of the "Slave Song"—Del Riego Miss Ruth Dawson gave a spirited and well-interpreted production of Pelissier's "Awake." The Conservatory Madrigil Club, composed of several young ladies and gentlemen, gave, unaccompanied, of course, a delightful madrigil "In May," with most tuneful affect, under Mr. Gliddon's direction, the niceties of shading, expression and balance of tone were decidedly alluring. The work of the Madrigil Club, as well as that of the orchestra, demonstrated very effectively Mr. Gliddon's efficiency as a conductor. The Mandolin Club, under Mr. Lewis Mandel, performed a beautiful selection in a very artistic manner.

Outside of the orchestra, Miss Addamson's violin pupils were represented by Miss Julia Choate, a promising and already very proficient violinist. Her playing of the sprightly and tuneful Alard selection "Brindisi," Op. 49, was quite artistic. Her clarity of tone was conspicuous, while the encore number duly and fire the audience called for were successfully imparted. Her musicianly work in this selection was worthy of special commendation. She was presented with a beautiful bouquet, warmly applauded and insistently recalled.

A Gerhardt-Heintzman pianoforte was used for the concert.

Altogether hearty congratulations are due the Conservatory directors and staff upon the great success of last night's concert. The contributing pupils are also deserving of praise for the manner in which they reflected credit upon themselves, the Conservatory and the staff.

The next Conservatory concert will be given in the new Music Hall of the Conservatory, which will be formally opened some date in September, when a programme, worthy of marking the advent of another important addition to the musical equipment of the city will be put on

CLEAN SPORTS

The action of Police Magistrate Dennison, of Toronto, who has imposed a sentence of fifteen days in gaol, upon a player of the Toronto baseball team, who pleaded guilty to assaulting an umpire, opens a new chapter in dealing with roughness and rowdyism in sports. In imposing sentence the Magistrate remarked that men had been killed in games of various sorts, and there has been altogether too much rowdrism, and he wanted to discourage this sort of thing. He would not impose a fine, because it would not serve the purposes of justice. One need not pronounce upon the justice or injustice of the Magistrate's sentence, in order to sympathise with his object.

The object of sport, if anything, is to develop manhood, both physical and moral, and this object is not served, if the sole ambition is to win, fair or foul; and if in order to win, it is found necessary to maim an opponent, or intimidate an umpire, whose function is, primarily, to see fair play, and that the best man, or team, wins, by the best play, in a cleanly contested struggle. The mistake must be dealt with. In despatches, of the same date, the information is given, that a Montreal judge, has committed for trial, two lacrosse players charged with assault in connection with a rough game.

These two instances tend to justify Magistrate Dennison's desire to discourage rowdyism. As in other things, in these games a few hot-headed, hot-tempered, ruffianly-inclined players, can discredit, not only the game, but the vast majority of players, who are inclined to play fair, and behave decently. To play first-class baseball, or lacrosse, requires a splendid physique, great skill, good judgment, and self-restraint. It will not be denied that the vast majority of players are inclined to be decent, and to sympathise with the exhibition of a true, sportsmanlike spirit, and to deplore roughness and rowdyism. They are, it is true, prepared, like true "sports," to take, and give, hard knocks, if "it's in the game." Severe bumps, not intentional, but incidental to strenuous play, are given, and received, without malice, but deliberate maiming, or wounding, of an opponent, is quite indefensible.

If the good reputation of the players, and of the game itself, are to be maintained, and to find favour with the public, from whom the support of games comes, the latter must be made to correspond with their names, and not to deserve the title of slugging matches. The public do not pay their money to see slugging matches, and brutal assaults; they pay to see good games, in themselves, skilfully played. It takes no skill to kick a man in the stomach, with spiked boots, or lay open his head with a lacrosse stick. Any beer-sodden slum blackguard could do that. The few members of sporting organizations who practice rowdyism should, in the interest of the game they play, be taught a lesson. If they persist in qualifying themselves for punishment, they must blame only themselves for the consequences. It may have been all very well, and compatible with the spirit of ante-Christian days, to butcher captives of war to make a Roman holiday, but the twentieth century demands something better than the blood-letting brutality of barbaric days, or, at least, evidences of a similar spirit.

Magistrate Ellis fined a man in Toronto one dollar for hitting a woman. He should have hit harder. Striking a woman is a much greater offence than "slugging" a baseball umpire.

A handsome little brochure, containing Mr. Fowler's graft speeches, is being circulated in the Maritime Provinces. The speeches are neatly printed on asbestos paper, and are supposed to be read holding a lump of ice to the back of the neck, thus preventing, the Toronto Star argues, a rush of blood to the head.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It seems to be a greater offence for a doctor to cut a slice off his bill than to cut off the wrong leg.

Manitoba reports a decrease in acreage under crop this year, of more than 300,000 acres, representing, at twenty bushels an acre, six millions shortage in yield.

While Peterborough, with its comparative immunity from large fires, cannot sympathise, it can condole with, Belleville, which has been recently severely dealt with in this regard. The destruction of the city gas plant, its sixth fire in the last few months, puts the citizens to great inconvenience.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company displays a wise deference to the Lemieux Act, in applying to the Department of Labour, for the appointment of a Board of Conciliation to look into matters in dispute between the company and its 1300 locomotive engineers. The matter of wges, rules and hours, are in question.

REDUCED RATES HAVE TAKEN EFFECT TO-DAY

Holiday Rates Means Heavier Traffic on Railways

The holiday railway rates on the G.T.R. and C.P.R. lines came into effect this morning and resulted in an increased traffic that was very noticeable. Many people are taking advantage of the reduced rates, and are enjoying a holiday extending the full limit, until Tuesday. The rush will, of course, be more apparent on the train to-morrow, and the employees of the two stations should be very busy. As there are few special attractions in the city, there will be a heavy exodus to various places for the holiday.

QUIETNESS PREVAILED AT POLICE COURT

Things Becoming Slow—Only One Drunk To-day

Police Court stock ebbed rapidly this morning. There was only one case, that of Edward Chamberlain, who was charged with having been found drunk in a public place yesterday. He pleaded guilty to the charge and said that it was his first offence. He has been in Canada only three weeks, and in Peterborough the same time. Mr. Dumble discharged him, advising him to leave Canadian intoxicants alone.

THE FOUR MEN WERE PHOTOGRAPHED

Alleged Pick-pockets Faced the Camera at Roy's Studio

The four alleged pick-pockets, who were arrested by the members of the local police force, were photographed at the Roy studio on Wednesday. Chief Round has a bunch of the finished pictures and will endeavour to find out something about the men's past. The likenesses are very true and give the full figure of each man standing up. The police of the larger cities will be communicated with in the hopes that something definite may be learned.

MR. RANNEY'S REMAINS LAID AT REST THIS MORNING

The body of the late George Rannis, whose death was announced in yesterday's issue, arrived in the city from Belleville, at 8.10 this morning, in charge of Mr. Babbitt, a nephew. The funeral took place from the station to the Little Lake cemetery, where the burial services were conducted by Rev. W. Major. The pall bearers were Col. H. C. Rogers, Dr. Halliday, Messrs. J. E. Belcher, R. E. Wood, E. H. D. Hall and Charles Stapleton, jr.. Thus passes from earthly associations one of the best known and most highly respected of the former residents of the city and district.

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellog of Denver, Color Bearer of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sends thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1628 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Colo., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.:

Dear Mrs Pinkham:

"For five years I was troubled with a tumor which kept growing, causing me intense agony and great mental depression. I was unable to attend to my house work, and life became a burden to me. I was confined for days to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and all hope.

"I could not bear to think of an operation, and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to sick women decided to give it a trial. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week, thought it only meant temporary relief; but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size.

"The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I a well woman. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacements or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such trouble.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female trouble.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease has been advising sick women free of charge. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

WEDDING BELLS.

A quiet wedding was celebrated on Wednesday evening at the Queen's Hotel, when Miss Bertha Allen became the wife of Mr. Fred Boarde. Rev. H. M. Manning performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends. Afterwards a dainty repast was served by the proprietor, Mr. Tuoley and a pleasant time spent.

Beware of Ointments For Catarrh That Contain Mercury

Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Passed the Medical Council and Are Now Full Fledged M.D's.

In the results of the examinations of the Ontario Medical Council, which were announced through the Toronto press to-day, there are two names which are of interest to people in Peterborough. Mr. A. W. MacPherson is announced as having successfully passed his intermediate examinations. In the final examinations Mr. MacPherson was also successful, as was Mr. R. W. Mann of Bridgenorth. The Council thus gives the successful candidates permission to practice in Ontario. The friends of these young men must feel proud that they have succeeded so well in their college course. Mr. MacPherson has been appointed to the Medical Staff off the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto.

If it does not do all that is claimed for it, then discard it. But don't confound it with the drug cures and condemn it without a trial. That isn't fair to

A. H. Sayce, LL.D., D.D., of Oxford University, England, has recently said of it: It is indeed a marvelous work; it is difficult to conceive of a dictionary more exhaustive and complete. Everything is in it—not only what we might expect to find in such a work, but also what few of us would ever have thought of looking for. A supplement to the new edition has brought it fully up to date. I have been looking through the latter with a feeling of astonishment at its completeness, and the amount of labor that has been put into it.

CHOIR ENJOYED ITS OUTING

Members of Choir of Charlotte Street Methodist Church Given Trip to Stoney Lake Yesterday

Through the generosity of the Trustee Board, the members of the choir of the Charlotte street Methodist church, are each year given a day's outing. This year's trip was taken yesterday, and the objective point was Mount Julian, Stony Lake. In every respect the outing was a delightful one, and evidence of the appreciation of the members of the choir of the thoughtfulness of the board, were not lacking. Nothing possible to human agency seemed lacking to ensure the success of the undertaking, and as a result of the very complete and lavish preparations, all those who participated in the outing were unanimous in their declaration that it had been the most enjoyable function of its kind in the history of the organization.

About 45 persons constituted the party, which left the city on the regular morning train for Lakefield, where the steamer Empress was press was boarded, and the trip around the lake was made on that boat, the captain and crew of which were assiduous in their attentions, and showed every consideration for the pleasure and comfort of the passengers.

At Mr. R. Neill's cottage a stop of some considerable length was made—it was, however, an involuntary stop, for, while it is doubtful if at any other point on the lake a day could have been more pleasantly spent, the stop there yesterday was not part of the programme. The high wind blowing drove the steamer's hull on to a sunken rock, and the natural result followed — the steamer was unable to leave when the time came and, but for the timely assistance of the steamer Majestic, the captain of which responded to the distress signal, it is hard to say how long the party would have been obliged to remain at the island. The journey was proceeded with however after a short delay, and Mount Julian was reached shortly after noon and dinner was taken there. Games incidental to a gathering of this kind followed, and after a couple of hours spent most pleasantly the return journey was undertaken and Lakefield was reached in time for tea, the party arriving home at 6.40.

SPECIAL MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD

North Ward School Janitor Resigns—Heating to be Improved in West Ward School

NEW SCHOOL SUGGESTDE

The Board of Education in a special meeting held last night executed with great precision the lengthy list of considerations on the slate. The Board met at 8 o'clock and shortly after 9 was adjourned. In the absence of Chairman R. Fair the meeting was presided over by Dr. Burnham, the most important question arising being that of the appointment of public school teachers for the coming school year.

The members present were, Dr. Burnham, chairman; Messrs. Pringle, Hill, Ackerman, Robinson, Crane, Dumble and Dr. Morrison.

Communications

H. H. Hillar tendered his resignation to the board as janitor of the North Ward school, the same to take effect on Aug. 1st. His resignation was received and accepted.

J. J. Turner & Sons wrote the Board again in connection with the flag pole for the new King Edward School. This was referred to the Property Committee.

Miss Helen S. Graham, of Toronto, applied for the position as teacher in the Household Science department which will be opened in the Normal School when completed. — Committee on Appointments.

West Ward School

The question of remodelling the heating apparatus of the West Ward School was discussed at length, during which Mr. Pringle advised the disposal of the property as it was the most unsightly one in the city and was situated in the best resident location and that a new site be secured and a new building located thereon. Mr. Dumble did not think it advisable to have another school built for a few years to come and considered that if some repairs were made the school would be satisfactory.

It was decided to leave the matter of heating in the hands of the Property Committee with power to act.

The advertising of tenders for wood and coal was also left to the Property Committee.

On motion of Messrs. Pringle and Robinson, the taking over of the work of the King Edward School contractors was left in the hands of the Building Committee.

On motion of Dr. Morrison the first payment to Contractors Lamgford & Sheehy was ordered to be made.

Decided To Increase The Y.M.C.A. Membership Fees

At Rates Prevailing in the Past Not Sufficent Revenue Has Been Derived — Annual Meeting of Association Held Last Night.

MORE DORMITORIES ADDED

At the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A., held last night in the association building, some important matters were under consideration and action was taken on some of them. Perhaps the most vital point was that in reference to the membership fees. These were increased, and in future intermediate boys' tickets will be $3.00 a year, an increase of 50 cents, and men's limited tickets, tickets $4.00 and full membership $6.00, an increase of $1.00 in each case. It has been ascertained that the fees paid previously were not high enough to pay for the actual outlay, and, in increasing the fees the example set by the larger city associations is but being followed.

Another decision of interest is that to increase the dormitory accommodation of the building by taking in two large class and store rooms on the second story. There has been a rapidly growing demand for rooms, and it is believed that the time is not far distant when dormitories will be erected over the gymnasium. This it is estimated, would cost about $5,000, and that a good revenue would be derived from this expenditure.

In future the association year will end with the calendar year, instead of on May 31st, as in the past, and the next annual meeting of the association will be held shortly after January 1st, next.

Last night's meeting was well attended, a feature of the gathering being the attendance of a fair number of the committee force of the association.

Election of Officers

The meeting last night was presided over by Mr. R. E. Harding, who has proved himself a most efficient president of the association during the past year, and who was last night honoured by an unanimous re-election. The other officers were also re-elected and are as follows:

1st Vice-President—Mr. J. C. Shook.
2nd Vice-President—Mr. R. J. Kidd.
Treasurer—Mr. J. J. Howden.

The following gentlemen were re-elected as directors for a term of three years: Messrs. G. M. Roger, R. J. Kidd, B. F. Ackerman, J. J. Howden, and J. H. Connell. Messrs J. F. Thornton and V. Eastwood are new members on the Board of Directors, elected last night.

The general secretary paid a high tribute to the excellent work done by Mr. Harding during the past year, and referred to his deep interest in the work of the association in every department. Mr. Harding replied briefly, signifying his acceptance of the office.

The reports generally showed that the work of the association during the past year had been satisfactory.

Secretarys' Report

The most important report was that of the general secretary, which was as follows:

In presenting this, the twenty-sixth annual report, covering the work of the past year, the activities of the different departments have been placed before you by the chairmen of the respective committees.

The work during the year, like every other year, has had its encouraging and discouraging features, yet on the whole the work has been fairly well sustained.

The evangelistic work is a special cause for gratitude to God, and while some figures may be given, yet they do not begin to measure the work done on the results obtained.

The boys' work will require a boy secretary for the winter months, at least if the work is to be done commensurate with the opportunity.

The physical department had a good year, when due consideration is made for the lack of permanent leadership for the period proceeding the coming of Mr. Dingman. This department should, however, attract and help a larger number of men. The same might be said of the educational department.

The Bible study classes have been well sustained, the Saturday Bible Club has been the bright and uplifting feature of the year. The shop Bible class work was never more encouraging, and as it is a layman's movement, it should be extended as capable teachers can be secured.

The membership of the association is 675, including sustaining, full, limited, intermediate and boy members.

Many transfers have been given to members who have left for other associations, a most valued feature of association membership.

The great event of the year was the very commendable action of the trustees of the Nicholls Estate, who, under the discretionary powers vested in them by the will of the late Mrs. Nicholls, deeded over to the association the lot on the south side of the building, thus insuring space for extention of the work as the years go by.

The trustees of the estate at the same time, asked to be relieved of the trusteeship of the association, and the Board of Trustees for the Association was appointed as follows: Messrs. B. F. Ackerman, W. D. Scott, M.D., G. M. Roger, B. J. Kidd and J. J. Howden.

We regret the condition of the finances are not better; and that they are not better is due to no lack of effort.

When we consider that we hold a building free of debt, and with no heavy interest bill to carry, as many associations have, our position should be easier. A deficit is, however, a heavy burden for any officers, or associations, to carry, and, as we have frequently stated, robs the work of its best degree of efficiency.

The Ladies' Auxiliary have shown the same solicitude for the welfare of the work as in the past, and have had a most successful year, having a present cash balance on hand of $72.

Before closing we wish to express our deep gratitude to all who have in any way contributed to help the work during the past year, and to express my personal gratitude for the kind consideration I have received during my ten years of service in the association, which was completed on May 12th, 1907.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEO. H. WILLIAMSON,
General Secretary.

Physical Work

As is to be expected, physical work forms an important feature in the curriculum of the association and, in view of this fact, the report of the Physical Department, was one in which considerable interest was taken. It was presented by Mr. G. Galley, chairman of that committee, and stated that there were enrolled in the different classes of this department, 59 men and 95 boys, a total of 154. Eleven of these were business men. During the year 74 class sessions were held in the men's classes and 153 in the boys' classes, with a total attendance of 3142. Reference was made in the report to the basket ball league. The field day held by the Harriers was also mentioned and the association was congratulated on its success.

The following statement of assets and liabilities was presented by Mr. A. E. Dixon, chairman of the Finance Committee:—

Various Reports

Mr. Richard Lees, in his report of the Educational Committee stated that the work of this department had been carried on with varying degrees of success, the attendance on the whole, in the evening classes being good, and the work done was excellent.

The report also referred to the Saturday night "Pops," of which there were seven, special mention being made of the lecture by Mr. Frank Yeigh and that of Rev. E. A. Langfeldt. The reading room of the Association proved very popular, the report stating that it was scarcely possible to ever find it vacant.

Wilfred Shiner presented the report of the Bible Study Department, which stated that seven study classes were conducted with a total attendance of 3,314, the number of sessions of the different classes being 207.

In the Strangers' Fellowship Club report mention was made of the fact that 382 visitors' tickets were issued during the year. The Club has a membership of 22, and held 10 meetings.

The Social Department, according to the report presented by the chairman is one of the most important in the Association. Over 600 young men have attended the various social functions held under the auspices of the association during the year. The report gave a general outline of the work attempted by this department.

The Committee on Boys' Work reported that the interest in the work was still very keen and good had been accomplished both morally and physically. The next conference for older boys in Ontario and Quebec will

Public School Teachers Re-engaged For Next Year

Report of Committee on Appointments Adopted by Board of Education---Pedagogues to Receive Raise in Wages---Kindergarten Appointments

For the public school teaching year of 1907-08, the teachers of the city who have been teaching for one year or more on the local staff will receive a raise in salary of $50 per annum. The report of the Committee on Appointments which was adopted by the Board of Education last night included the above clause. The committee's report, in fact, was the important question that come before the Board. It embraced the list of teachers recommended for reappointment with their salaries attached, the appointment of a principal and an assistant for the new King Edward School, and of a janitor for the Queen Alexandra School.

Mr. W J Dunlop, of Tavistock, was awarded the position as Principal of the King Edward School at a salary of $1,000 and Miss Morley, of Chesley, will be his assistant at a salary of $400, if they will accept.

The position of janitor of the Queen Alexandria School was awarded to Mr. Richard Baker, formerly janitor of the Y.M.C.A., at a salary of $450 per annum.

The following is the detailed report as presented by Mr. W H Hill, the chairman of the Committee:—

As instructed, your committee advertised for applications for the position of Principal of the King Edward School. For this position we received 37 applications, 6 from University graduates, 23 from teachers holding first-class professional certificates and 8 from teachers with professional second-class certificates.

Your committee after carefully considering these applications, recommend that Mr. W J Dunlop, of Tavistock, be appointed to the position at the minimum salary of $1,000.00 according to schedule. Mr. Dunlop is highly recommended and has been a very successful teacher. He is the holder of a first-class professional certificate and has also had university training.

For the position of lady assistant, there has been received 61 applications. Your committee recommend that Miss Dollie Morley, of Chesley, who is the holder of a first-class certificate, be appointed to the position at the minimum salary of $400.00, duties in each case to begin on the 1st of September, 1907.

Salary Increase

Your committee recommend that clause 9 of the salary schedule, passed by this Board on the 11th March, 1907, be amended by adding the following clauses:—"That each teacher re-engaged for the ensuing year, who has taught one year or over, shall receive at least $50.00 over present salary.

We recommend that the Kindergarten assistants who teach one-half day be paid at the rate of $225.00 per annum.

We recommend that Mr. Baker be appointed janitor of the Queen Alexandra School at a salary of $450 per annum, services to begin August 1st, 1907.

Your committee recommend that the following teachers be re-engaged on the public school staff for the ensuing year at the salary opposite their respective names.

Your committee recommend that Miss May Denne and Miss Ada Gillespie be appointed Kindergarten assistants at a salary of $225 per annum.

We recommend that Miss Cameron, who has been acting as assistant in the Kindergarten, be appointed directress of the Kindergarten in the King Edward School at a salary of $375 per annum, subject to transfer by the inspector if found necessary.

Revolutionizing Tailoring Business in Canada

Census Reports Show That the "Semi-ready System of Making Men's Fine Clothes Has Achieved a Large Measure of Success in Ten Years

A bulletin recently issued by the Dominion of Canada Census Bureau shows that while the value of custom-made clothes in Canada decreased from $8,775,439 in 1900 to $6,996,926 in 1905, the value of clothing made in the large factories in that period increased from $6,980,291 to $12,383,311.

The custom tailoring decreased by $1,778,513, and the ready-to-finish clothing increased by $3,403,020, or a total gain of $5,181,533.

This shows a tremendous change in a short period of five years. The Semi-ready Company has recently increased its capital in order to keep pace with the growing demand for what they term the modern method of making fine clothes.

They have carried on a strong propaganda during the past five years, confining their announcements to the newspapers, and keeping every improvement made well before the public.

Their progress is best evidenced by the figures recently made public at the annual meeting of the company. While the total business of their stores is well up in the millions, the number of these stores now in Canada will give a simple and concrete example of growth:

In 1900—Semi-ready stores, 10.
In 1901—Semi-ready stores, 12.
In 1902—Semi-ready stores, 15.
In 1903—Semi-ready stores, 21.
In 1904—Semi-ready stores, 31.
In 1905—Semi-ready stores, 45.
In 1906—Semi-ready stores, 55.
In 1907—Semi-ready stores, 105.

Decoration Day Ceremony A Most Successful Event

Oddfellows of City Decorated Graves of Their Departed Brethren Yesterday and Their Example Was Followed by a Large Number of Citizens---Inspiring Addresses Were Delivered.

The members of Peterborough and Otonabee Lodge I. O. O. F. last evening carried out the beautiful and significant annual custom of decorating the graves of their departed brethren, and the function was one of the most successfully conducted in the history of the order in Peterborough. The weather conditions were perfect and the beautiful and well kept for cemetery never looked better than it does at the present time. The late hour in the afternoon at which the affair was held, together with the splendid weather, had the effect of making the crowd in attendance one of the largest that has ever participated in this event. That the splendid example set by the Oddfellows in decorating the graves of the deceased members of the order is having its effect upon the public generally was shown by the very large number of graves that were decorated with bouquets of beautiful flowers. All through the cemetery these floral tributes formed a silent but striking testimony to the fact that those who are gone before are not forgotten by the friends whom they left behind. Even after the ceremonies in connection with the affair were over, many people were still hurrying to the cemetery with their floral offerings.

The members of both lodges assembled in Central Park at 5.30 and headed by the 57th Band, marched to the cemetery. There was a large turnout of members, each with a bouquet, and the procession was an imposing one.

After reaching the city of the dead the Oddfellows were drawn up into two lines and a short prayer was offered by Rev. J. G. Potter, after which the gathering sang "Rock of Ages," and then were divided into four sections for the purpose of placing their bouquets upon the graves of the deceased members.

This important ceremony concluded a number of addresses were delivered by the local clergymen present. Bro. William Hill acting as chairman. In his brief address he thanked the general public for the interest they had shown in the function by turning out in such large numbers.

Miss Carrie Reesor, of the George Street Methodist Church choir, was heard to great advantage in a solo, in which her powerful soprano voice was splendidly exhibited.

Rev. Wm. Major, of All Saints' Church, was the first speaker, and in the course of his remarks referred to the appropriateness of showing respect for the memory of the departed. He thought, however, that while the ceremony was most beautiful and befitting, that perhaps the lesson should be learned not to postpone the showing of appreciation of a person's good qualities until after he was dead, as was too often the case. There was the danger, of course, that he might be puffed up with vanity and inclined to look condescendingly upon people, but he thought that appreciation should be shown before he had passed away. While it was not possible for all to achieve renown in literature, or on the field of battle or some other prominent field, every one was able to gain renown for honesty and a reputation for excellent qualities.

Rev. H. J. Keith, of Knox Church, in the course of his address remarked that the ceremony just concluded was not important to the Oddfellows themselves, but as an object lesson to others. The function was a reminder of the great fellowship in the life beyond.

It was a strange fact that people were liable to forget those who were gone. At first it appeared as if the vacancy could never be filled, but as people entered upon the activities of life once more, they found that the vacancy was filled.

He referred to the cemetery as a veritable Eden, filled with hope and resurrection glory. The ceremony helped to commemorate the good things for which the deceased had stood during their lives.

Rev. J. R. Webb, of the Murray Street Baptist Church, was the last speaker and delivered an inspiring address. He had been greatly impressed by the ceremony which he had seen for the first time yesterday and had been struck by the idea that the ceremony indicated that a friendship existed between man and man which even death itself could not destroy. In this connection he referred to the friendship of Johnathan and Davidson. It was also a prophecy that that they would do their duty to the living and help and assist them when help was needed. The speaker referred to th fact that the people now inhabiting the earth were only a handful of those who had lived on the earth. The others, the great majority, were on the other side, and the speaker advised his hearers to look forward with hope to seeing them again.

The leaders of the different sections which had in charge the decorating of the graves, were as follows:—

No. 1 section, Bro. M. Brackenridge, P.G.
No. 2 section, Bro. Wm. Hill, D. D. G. M.
No. 3 section, Bro. W. G. Freeburn, P. G.
No. 4 section, Bro. F. Wise, P.G.

Bro. J. W. Miller, P. D. D. G. M., acted as Master of Ceremonies.

THE TATE OPTICAL CO.

PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY AT ARNPRIOR

Mother and Little Ones Cremated In Their Home.

WERE CUT OFF FROM ESCAPE

Five Lives Lost In Fire at Steam Laundry — Only Father and Husband Survives Out of Family of Six—Explosion of Gasoline Cut Off Only Means of Rescue—The Building Was Gutted.

Arnprior, June 28.—Mrs. W. P. Armstrong and four children were burned to death in the most disastrous fire in the history of this town, and which took place yesterday morning.

William Armstrong, manager of the Arnprior Steam Laundry, where the fire broke out, who, with his wife and four children was sleeping over the laundry, rushed down to learn of the fire. A gasoline tank exploded, and it was impossible for him to return. The family was cut off from all means of escape and all perished in the flames.

The cause of the fire is not known, but it started in the engine room at the rear of the building, and had worked its way through the entire lower storey before being discovered and cut off all means of rescue.

The firemen were soon on the scene, and had several streams of water on the fire in a short time. The laundry was completely destroyed, all the walls falling in.

The other firms occupying the block were R. Charbonneau, butcher shop, and residence upstairs, and the Hamilton & Lewitt Knitting Co.'s factory. The upper storey over the butcher shop was completely gutted, but the lower part suffered only from the water.

The fire worked its way into the attic over the knitting factory, and it could not be got at for some time until it burst through the ceiling, but it was soon subdued there. The machinery in the factory will be considerably damaged by water.

The bodies of the unfortunate victims were recovered from the debris by seven-thirty and removed to the morgue. They were charred beyond recognition. The loss on the buildings and stocks has not been estimated, but is fairly well covered by insurance.

FIRE ON STEAMBOAT.

Engineers Leave Room With All Machines Turned On.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., June 28.—The steamer Batchewana of the Ganley Tug Line was totally destroyed Wednesday night at Coppermine Point, fifty miles west of the Soo.

It was due, it is said, to the explosion of a lamp. The flames made rapid progress, compelling the engineers to make a hurried exit from the engine-room, leaving the machines in operation.

The vessel was turned to the shore one mile away and beached, the crew of fifteen men, under Capt. James Ganley, all being landed safely.

The Batchewana carried a cargo of iron ore from the Helen Mine for the Algoma Iron Works, and was partly insured.

FIRE AT GAS WORKS.

Dangerous Fire at Belleville—Incendiarism Suspected.

Belleville, Ont., June 28.—Between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday morning the greater portion of the gas works owned by the city were completely gutted by fire, but fortunately there were no explosions and no person was injured. The roof and framework was burned, and the machinery was damaged by water in consequence of the fire. There is much inconvenience throughout the city, but it is thought that it will be possible to manufacture gas by this evening. How the fire originated is not known, but there is every suspicion that it was incendiary. The loss will be at least $5,000, and is covered by insurance in several companies.

HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE.

Berlin Visited by One of Worst Blazes In Its History.

Berlin, June 28.—One of the largest fires Berlin has ever known destroyed the great warehouses and stables of the Berlin Omnibus Co. on Wednesday night. The whole fire brigade vainly fought the flames for many hours, but the firemen saved the adjoining Royal victualling warehouse, where 5,000,000 litres of spirits were stored. These were threatened for a long time, causing fears of a terrific explosion.

ACCEPTED FATAL DRINK.

Man Bought Poison for Himself and Gave It to Another.

Rochester, June 28.—Peter and David Morad of Philadelphia, en route to Geneva, N. Y., on the Black Diamond Express, accepted a drink of whiskey from Leo L. King, who boarded the train at Wilkesbarre. Peter Morad took a first drink out of a second flask, when King discovered that he had given Morad a bottle containing cyanide of potassium. Morad died in a few hours.

King was arrested. He said he secured the poison for himself.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Three Persons Killed—Church Steeples Damaged—Severe Storm.

New York, June 28.—A death-dealing electric storm Wednesday afternoon following a day of sweltering heat, soaked with humidity, swept over the city and surrounding territory killing three persons, injuring several, causing many fires and doing considerable damage. In this city the only places struck were two churches. The steeples of both were torn into fragments by the lightning bolts.

J. A. McKenna, of Newark, N.J., and his two young daughters were caught in the storm near Union, N.J. They took refuge under a tree, which a few minutes later was struck by a lightning bolt. The younger girl was killed outright, and the father and elder daughter severely shocked.

At Fishkill-on-the-Hudson, Walter Dixon, a negro, was struck by lightning and killed. A woman who accompanied him was stunned and burned. A lightning bolt hit John Lawless while he was at work on a canal boat in Gowanus Canal, Brooklyn, and instantly killed him.

A bolt struck one of four small steeples on St. Monica's Roman Catholic church and sent it hurling through the air to the sidewalk. It landed, pinnacle foremost, within a short distance of a group of children, but while they were covered with dirt from the debris none were hurt.

FOUND DEAD IN COAL BIN.

Brutal Murder of Eight-Year-Old Girl In New York.

New York, June 28.—Eight-year-old Viola Bylan, who had been missing from her home in Second avenue since last Monday, was the victim of an atrocious assault. Her body, horribly mutilated, was found in a coal bin in the cellar of her home yesterday. She had been dead for many hours. No arrests have yet been made, but the police are searching for two young Italians who, they have been informed, were seen trying to entice the child to enter a cellar with them several days ago.

The disappearance of the child was reported to the police last Monday, and since that time the whole neighborhood has been searched. No trace of her was found, however, until one of the occupants of the tenement house where the child lived, stumbled on the body by accident. He had gone to the cellar for wood, and in the dim light got into the wrong bin. The little body was found lying in a corner, and it was apparent that she had been dead some time. When the Coroner came he found that the child had been strangled and the condition of her clothing and body told plainly of the brutality of the crime of which she had been the victim.

HEROIC RESQUE BY A BOY.

Saves Three Men From Drowning In Niagara River.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 28.—A fifteen-year-old boy named Dick Carpenter was the means of saving three men from drowning in the lower Niagara River. The men were James Stewart of Queenston and James Scott and Hector Lidger of Lewiston, all fishermen. They went out on the river in a skiff and got caught in the whirlpool below Bofling Rock, and in spite of their efforts the skiff shipped water and they were thrown out. Young Carpenter saw their plight and put out in another small boat to their aid. Scott and Lidger were able to catch his boat and climb in, but Stewart was helpless. Scott grabbed for him and got his hat, but the man went down. When he arose for the last time Lidger managed to catch him, but could not get him into the boat. Scott and Carpenter pulled the boat to shore and Lidger dragged Stewart behind. He was nearly dead, and it took a doctor some time to resuscitate him.

BALLOON FELL IN SEA.

Tug Failed to Overtake It and Aeronauts Were Drowned.

Nieuport, Belgium, June 28.—Tugs that went out Tuesday night in an attempt to reach a balloon that had fallen into the sea returned Wednesday night, their search proving fruitless. They were unable to catch up with the balloon, which was driving along with great speed before the south-west gale. The balloon, which carried two men, was sent up at Dunkirk and when the accident occurred the men took refuge in the netting, as the basket soon was under water. They undoubtedly have been drowned.

Ottawa, June 28.—The brightest comet seen in four years has just come to the notice of J. S. Plaskett, who has charge of the big telescope at the Dominion observatory. The wandering member of the solar system is approaching the sun, and is daily growing more brilliant.

At present the comet can be seen through an opera glass in the early morning towards the southeast, and in a few weeks will probably be visible to the naked eye.

The object can easily be distinguished from a star on account of its haziness and large diameter.

On Trail of Stolen Cup.

New York, June 28.—Three Scotland Yard detectives arrived on the Oceanic. They refused to talk of their errand except to say that they were going to the British consulate as soon as possible.

A rumor that gained ground on the steamer was that they sought the recently stolen Ascot Cup.

THE BUNKER HILL CRIME RECALLED

Defence In Haywood Case Allege Counter Conspiracy.

JUDGE'S IMPORTANT RULING

Davis Tells How He Hid In the Mine—Heard of Murders at Cripple Creek—Arrival of Troops—Detectives Accused of Staging Train Wreck — Men Incited to Violence by Mine Owners.

Boise, June 28.—In his cross-examination yesterday morning Senator Borah took Davis over the period he spent in hiding in the Hercules mine after the Bunker Hill explosion. He said that Paulson and another man were there. He remembered two men calling at the mine while he was there. They were union men getting out of the country. Orchard said that he was at the Hercules at this time.

Davis was unable to recall Orchard as one of these men, nor could he remember when he first met Steve Adams at Cripple Creek. Davis said he was at home on the night of the Vindicator mine explosion and denied that he had called at Orchard's house early and taken him to a union meeting.

At Cripple Creek.

Davis could not tell when he last saw Orchard prior to the explosion. Referring to his previous testimony that all was quiet at Cripple Creek before the troops were sent there, Davis admitted that he had heard of various murders there, but that some had occurred after the troops arrived.

However, he insisted that he would stand on his previous statement regarding the condition of Cripple Creek before the troops came there.

Denver Convention.

Davis said the mine owners continually sought to disrupt the Federation. He believed the two men killed at the Vindicator Mine were non-unionists. He denied telling a representative of the Vindicator Mine that if the property was opened with non-union men there would be trouble. Davis also denied that there were unusual features of the Denver convention of the Federation, regarding which Orchard had testified that Haywood had told him that something should "be pulled off."

Detective Wrecked Train.

W. W. Rush, formerly engineer of the Florence and Cripple Creek Railway, testified that Detectives Scott and Sterling staged and executed a train wreck on his line during a strike of miners.

"Ed." Boyce, formerly president of the Western Federation of Miners, and now one of the owners of the Hercules mine, testified that in 1893 James H. Hawley, now leading counsel against Haywood, but then retained as counsel for the miners, suggested to Boyce the organization of the Western Federation of Miners as an offset to the Mine Owners' Association.

He denied the existence of an "inner circle," or of a conspiracy in the organization to do an illegal act. The main feature of the Boyce cross-examination was the production of a copy of a speech by him at the convention of the Federation at Salt Lake in 1898, in which he said that every union should have a rifle club and every member a rifle, so that the Federation could march 25,000 armed men in the ranks of labor.

A ruling by Judge Wood while Boyce was testifying may limit materially the showing by the defence about the existence of a counter conspiracy against Haywood and his associates.

Mr Hawley for the state, objected to the general question as to the policy and practice of mine owners throughout the west of blacklisting union miners. In the argument that followed Clarence Darrow for the defence, claimed the same latitude to proving counter conspiracy that the state had in showing a conspiracy.

Mr. Hawley contended that the state had directly shown the existence of a conspiracy by Harry Orchard and by so doing had laid the foundation for all the evidence subsequently offered on the subject. He said that the defence was trying to prove a counter conspiracy by various isolated instances for none of which a proper foundation had been laid.

EXCELSIORS LOST THEIR GAME TO LILLIES

Garrison Finish Put Lillies to the Good and Won Game

The Lillies won another game by overcoming the lead of one run that the Excelsiors had gained on Monday night, and with a crippled team trimmed them in the complete seven innings by 10 to 7. The Excelsiors held the game well in hand until the Lillies came to bat in the last innings, when four runs were notched. Bellegham pitched effectively at first but weakened after. He had four strike outs to his credit. The Lillies were without Hillier, their catcher, but Bartley went behind and did good work. Graham was retired from the game after the first innings and Dixon went on to even up. Connors pitched the rest of the game and made three Excelsiors hit the wind.

The lineup was as follows:

Excelsiors—Bellegham, p; Billington, c; Chaney, s.s.; Heaslip, 1b; Russel, 3b; Tobin, r.f; O'Shea, 2b; Fallon, c.f.

Lillies—Graham and Connors, p; Price, 1b; Jim Simmons, 2b; Foley, ss; Connors, 3b; Pilling, cf; Bartley, c; N. Simmons, l.f.

Umpire—Mr. Stacey.

TORONTOS WANTED PATSY M'DONOUGH

Jimmie Murphy Tried Hard to Land Him Last Night

Jimmie Murphy, manager of the Torontos, has been making diligent efforts to secure the services of Pat McDonough for to-morrow's big N. A. L. U. game with the Tecumsehs. He was in telephone communication with the local player and tried hard to land him, but Patsy could not hear him at all, and will be found on the Peterborough hom on Monday, when the locals clash against Beaverton's all star aggregation.

WILL BE GREAT GAME MONDAY

Much Interest Being Taken in the Beaverton-Peterborough Game

"Peterborough or Beaverton?"

That is the question which is agitating the minds of the sporting fraternity of Peterborough just now, and that will continue to do so, until the answer comes Monday afternoon. The two teams will clash at Riverside Park, and the contest promises to be one of the best that has ever been seen in this city. Both teams are supremely confident of victory, and looking at it from here it will be a ding dong contest, with the honours practically even.

It will be a changed team that will represent the locals on Monday. They are in shape now, and anyone who saw them play against the Young Torontos will fail to recognize the gingery bunch that will wear the locals' uniform on Monday. The last two weeks' practice has accomplished wonders in the team. They have been working out often and hard and will be able to travel the whole distance at a pace that should cause the all-star aggregation representing Beaverton to pedal backwards.

The Beaverton bunch is, however, a most formidable opposition. They have succeeded in rounding up a dozen players who will take quite a bit of beating, and their line up includes such men as Dinny Dobbin, Pennock, the well known player and referee of Stouffville, Marrin of Barrie, Tucker and Marshall of Orillia and other well known men.

There promises to be an enormous crowd on hand for the contest.

TO-MORROW'S GAME WITH ARCTICS

Should be a Big Crowd at Riverside Park for Occasion

There should be a big crowd at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon when the Arctics of Toronto, will be be here to play the first of a two game series with Peterborough. The Arctics have a stronger team than when they played here the last time and will make a big effort to trim Peterborough. Greer, the St. Mary's crack pitcher, will be on the slab for them and they will have a new catcher in the game, while Moran will play first. In view of the fact that Peterborough has gained admittance into the Midland League a decided impetus has been given to baseball in the city and there should be a big bunch of enthusiasts on hand. The game will be called at 3.30 o'clock.

BASEBALL

The city league executive will meet to-night at eight o'clock in the Y.M.C.A., and every team is expected to have a representative present as very important business is to come up for discussion. Among other things the matter of whether the schedule should be extended or not will be finally settled.

LACROSSE

The Peterborough Lacrosse Club will practice to-night and the finishtouches in preparation for Monday's game with Beaverton will be put on to-morrow afternoon with a good work out in the sun. The team will practice before the ball game and the players are requested to be on hand at 1.30 o'clock sharp.

be held here next Easter. The boys boys want a gift of a few hundred dollars to build a pavilion at the camping grounds.

The report of the evangelistic work was indeed encouraging and the Evangelistic Band deserves great credit. Fifty-one men's meetings were held during the year with an average attendance of 42 and of 65 for the winter months. The total attendance was 2,707.

The Social Bible Club was re-organized last October and it met on Tuesday evenings when a course of Bible study was taken up. Once a month a social and literary evening was held and much pleasure was taken out of them. There were sixteen members and the attendance was good. A banquet on May 14th closed the season.

The Bible study department is a most important branch of the work. There were classes for men and for boys and two shop classes. The total enrolment was 94, and 45 in the shop classes, making a total of 139, with a total attendance of 3314. There were 207 class sessions held.

The Saturday evening Bible study class under the leadership of Mr. J. C. Shook, was well attended and very helpful. A class of Personal Workers was held Sunday mornings early with 17 on the roll.

The report of the Foreign Work Committe drew attention to the need of greater efforts in this branch. It referred to Mr. Farquhar's visit here last winter and the good results of it. There are now 70 secretaries of Y.M.C.A's in foreign fields supported by the association of North America, and last year over $190,000 was contributed for this work. The local society gave $30. The committee expects to increase this next year.

MR. KYLIE'S ARTISTIC WINDOW DRESSING

Mr. Jas. Kylie, the Hunter street shoe man, is always in line with the march of progress, and his window dressing is an unfailing indication of this fact. Just now he is displaying a very appropriate and artistic window in which the central idea is to honour the celebration of Dominion Day. In the centre of the window is a handsome oil painting of Hon. George Brown, one of the Fathers of Confederation, and red, white and blue bunting are artistically used in draping the window which, in addition, contains a handsome line of shoes. Id

JUDGE QUOTES THAW CASE.

Trial of Judge Loving is Drawing to Its Close.

Houston, Va., June 28.—Taking evidence in the trial of ex-Judge Loving in the Circuit Court of Halifax County for the murder of young Theodore Estes in Nelson County last April 22, was concluded late yesterday. The court then adjourned till this morning, when the instructions to be given to the jury will be argued before Judge Barksdale.

Yesterday saw one important turning point in the case. Judge Barksdale rendered an opinion concerning the admissability of certain evidence, dealing a heavy blow to the plans of the prosecution.

Attorney Daniel Harmon, for the prosecution, announced that he would have witnesses show that the story told by Miss Elizabeth Loving to her father, that she was drugged and assaulted by Estes, was a falsification.

The defence objected on the ground that such evidence had no bearing on the case, and had nothing to do with the question of Loving's mental state at the time of the tragedy. The judge sustained the defence, and among the cases he cited as authority was the Thaw case in New York.

NEW COMET HAS BEEN LOCATED

Rev. Dr. Marsh Tells Where to Look Early in the Morning for New Heavenly Body

A new comet has been discovered. An Ottawa despatch credits the discovery to a professor in that city, but to-day Rev. Dr. Marsh telegraphed to the capital, and was advised in reply that it had not been discovered there; it had simply been seen by the professor. The position of the comet is such that it can be seen only in the early morning, so that comparatively few Peterborough people will see it.

This afternoon the president of the local Astronomical Society, described to the Examiner, the location of the new comet. For those uninitiated into the wonders of astronomomy it may be stated that it is 50 degrees and 9 minutes above the horizon in the southeastern heavens.

BUSY WEEK IN STORE FOR STEAMER MONARCH

One Excursion Will Extend Over Period of Three Days

Beginning with Monday next, the steamer Monarch will have its busiest week of the season. It has been chartered by St. Peter's T. A. S., for the excursion on Monday, and on Tuesday morning it leaves Gore's Landing on a three days' voyage through Rice Lake, Otonabee River and the Kawartha chain of lakes as far as Lindsay with a private party from Toronto.

On Friday it will carry the excursionists of the Cold Springs Presbyterian Sunday school, to various Rice Lake points, and on Saturday the boat will run her regular trip to Peterborough.

IMMENSE SUN SPOTS PASS FROM VIEW

They May, However, Reappear in the Course of a Few Weeks—Dr. Marsh's Opinion

Rev. Dr. Marsh of Springville, informed the Examiner to-day, that the large sun spots, which have been in evidence during the past two weeks, disappeared from view on Wednesday. That they disappeared from the view of those on the earth, however, does not necessarily mean that they have left the face of the sun. That body revolves on its axis once in 27 days, and it is possible when that portion of the sun is in view again, in about two weeks, the spots will be still visible.

Ill Temper From a Bad Liver

Carlyle justly attributes the ill-temper which made him a monster in the eyes of the world, to a bad liver. Nothing makes one feel more miserable or gloomy and discouraged than liver complaint, and consequent biliousness and dyspepsia, and nothing so thoroughly and promptly sets the liver right and overcomes these ailments as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the great family medicine.

COMPOSITE COMPANIES RETURNED

Won Praise From Lieut.-Col. Edwards for Their Marching

The two composite companies representing the 57th, that went to camp at Kingston on Tuesday, returned this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, reporting a pleasant and profitable time. When they arrived at their destination a half holiday was announced for the rest of Tuesday. On Wednesday there was Battalion and Brigade drill under Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, Brigadier of the 7th Brigade to which the composite regiment was attached. Thursday was field day and the whole camp were engaged in manoeuvres that proved interesting. The plan was to form a convoy of ammunition through a supposed hostile territory and as a part of the guard the composite regiment had to march about 11 miles.

On Thursday night Major Davidson, chaplain of the 57th Regiment, had the honour to act as chairman at a concert given by the soldiers.

A general good time is reported. Many of the members of the composite companies suffered from the sun, receiving burns on the face, especially the nose. Many were seen to-day with ointment over the raw parts. The meals were good as the Government rations have greatly improved. The arrangements made by Captain McLean, Quartermaster, were perfect. He was ably assisted by Waterman, Q.M.S., of Company IV., of the 57th. The Bugle Band won many honours by their good work.

EXCURSION TO IDYL WYLD YESTERDAY

Pleasant Outing of St. Paul's Young Men's Guild

A fairly large crowd attended the excursion to Idyl Wyld yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's church. The trip was taken on the new steamer Otonabee, which performed the voyage in excellent time, and a pleasant outing was the result.

Eyesight Specialist

Glasses were invented a great many years ago—so were Eyes. The Eyes in construction are the same to-day, but the Glasses have changed. The science of Optics has steadily advanced, until now we are able to grind Glasses to correct all defects of vision, and the defects are many and of varied forms. Few persons, comparatively speaking, have perfect Eyes; an Eye which is not perfect is an annoyance to the brain; the Eye and the brain are very intimately connected. When the Eyes differ, we have unequal vision—unequal vision causes headache and nervousness; these are symptoms of eye strains. I correct unequal vision with lenses scientifically made. Optical lenses are made from scientifically made glass, except in cheap spectacles; in these the glasses are made the same as for windows. I use pure and faultless crystals only.

Our Optical Parlor is one of the best equipped in Ontario. We have not only fitted people with Glasses in our own city but from many of the surrounding towns, who have heard of the good results we give and have made a special trip here to have their eyes treated. Don't take our word for it, call and examine our Record Books. We guarantee satisfaction and our examination is free.

DEPARTING TEACHER IS HONOURED

Miss Eva Cochrane Presented With Medical Dictionary and Travelling Bag by St. Luke's Sunday School

On Thursday afternoon Mr. T. H. Adams, as a representative of St. Luke's Sunday school, waited upon Miss Eva Cochrane at her home and, on behalf of that school, presented Miss Cochrane with a medical dictionary and a leather travelling bag. Miss Cochrane, who has been a member of the teaching staff of St. Luke's Sunday school, left this morning for Galt, where she will enter upon a course of training in the General Hospital, Galt.

The address accompanying the gift is as follows:

Ashburnham, June 27.

Miss Eva Cochrane,

Dear Friend, — On the occasion of your leaving Peterborough, we desire to place on record our appreciation of your faithful services rendered as teacher in St. Luke's Sunday school. In your capacity as teacher you have won the esteem of your scholars and the affectionate regard of your fellow-teachers.

We part with you very reluctantly, but we feel that the profession of nursing the sick, which you have chosen to be your future work, will open to your excellent qualities of heart and mind, great opportunities for employing your talents, which, to our mind, singularly fit you for this work.

As a token of our warm regards, we ask you to accept the accompanying gift, which we hope will ever keep alive the pleasant inter-course and co-operation in church work which united us with you during the last five years.

We remain, on behalf of the officers and teachers of St. Luke's Sunday school.

Very sincerely yours,

E. A. Langfeldt, Rector. David Spence, Superintendent.

T. H. Adams, Sec.-treasurerr.

FORTUNATE DRAWER AT ENNISMORE PICNIC

Mr. T. H. Crowley Received a Scuffler and a Cushion

Mr. T. H. Crowley, of Peterborough, was the lucky participant in the drawing contests at the Ennismore picnic, being fortunate enough to obtain two articles on the lengthy list. One of them was a beautiful cushion which Mr. Crowley has received from Rev. Father Fitzpatrick. The other was a scuffler donated by the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company, which was taken out to his residence yesterday and he is very much pleased with it.

For all kidney and bladder troubles try Miller's Compound Iron Pills. Sold by W. Madill.

THE LEAGUE RALLY AT CHEMONG PARK

An Interesting Gathering Will be Held in Connection With Summer School on Wednesday

Next Wednesday afternoon in connection with the summer school at Chemong Park, a rally of the Epworth Leagues of the Peterborough district, under the direction of Rev. Dr. Metzler, the District President will be held. A discussion on the work of the Leagues, so far as it relates to this district will take place, and a full representation of the members hip of the District Leagues is desired. It is expected that a number will attend from the three societies in the city.

MARKET SCALES MAY HAVE TO BE CLOSED

Unless Repairs Are Made Soon—Dirt Has Clogged the Machinery Beneath

It is probable that the market scales may have to be closed down in the near future for repairs. The apparatus beneath appears to have been filled with dirt, so that at times the scales work rather stiff. It is understood that the inspector will soon close them down unless the city council authorizes repairs.

ANTS WORKERS ONLY

TYPE OF BRITISHER CANADA CAN WELL SPARE.

Many Are Unsuited For New Country —Lack Perseverance and Pluck— Farmers Want Laborers, Not Ladies and Gentlemen—Many Newcomers Get On Well—No Abject Poverty Here.

"Amongst a shoal of letters which every week reaches this office says 'Canada", one occasionally finds an item of correspondence which shows very clearly how unsuited some Englishmen are for a new country such as Canada, and how unworthy they are to share the advantages which a little perseverance would bring to an immigrant gifted with a moderate amount of pluck and imagination. Two such letters lie before us now. The one is written by a farmer in Austin, Manitoba, regarding farm help which some booking agent in England sent to him. It reads:—

"I met last night's train and took some with me the couple you sent out, but am sorry to say I was obliged to take them back to catch this morning's train to Winnipeg, as they are entirely unsuited for farm work.

"They seem to have extraordinary ideas of farm life here; they thought they would be allowed a cottage for themselves, the woman's work, apparently, being to look after her husband's welfare while he worked whenever he felt like it. He said he objected to feeding horses on Sunday, and expected to do nothing on that day. I suppose he thought I would do it all.

"What I require are farm laborers, not ladies and gentlemen. This woman hadn't the least idea that she would be expected to do the usual housework for my wife, but only look after her own cottage. We want a good stout woman who can wash and scrub, etc., and a man who has been used to manual work; and please don't send me another lady and gentleman.

The letter needs no comment. It is just this kind of inadaptable people that are not wanted in Canada, where, naturally, people who accept new and totally strange conditions must make up their minds to creep before they walk.

The other letter is one of five from persons who have been assisted to Canada by a very useful agency which is dealing with the unemployed problem in Brighton. The writer of the first letter says: "I am getting on first-rate, and like it very much." The second says: "We arrived on the 11th of April and I started work on the 16th." The third tells how he at once got work as a laborer at nine dollars a week; and the fourth, after saying "it is a grand country," informs his benefactors that he got work at good wages the day after he landed in Toronto, and that he had been so pleased with his prospects that he had recommended his two brothers, his mother, and his sister to at once come out to him. "For we are pinched, half-starved women and children, or shoeless ones, out here," he says. "No street tramps and beggars. Everyone seems well-clothed and fed; so different to the Old Country."

And against the testimony of the four just quoted comes one from Winnipeg, in which the writer first of all grumbles at the accommodation he received on the ship which carried him over, and at the fact that he was obliged to pay his own fare to get to the place where the railroad was being made, and where, presumably, there was work awaiting him. He goes on to say:—

"It is not all honey out here, for it is snowing now, and there are plenty out of work here, and it is a shame for them to keep on sending men out here, for they do not know what to do with them yet, as it is too soon. There will not be any work till two months' time, and you cannot get the money they state in the papers."—home, for it is a fraud. It will be some time before I shall be able to send any home, but I will see that you have some, and as soon as I can save enough to come home I shall be there if things don't alter. We got lost in a fog on the way out. We were four days late, and there was a smash on the line. We were supposed to have gone by the same train, but got too late, or I might have been killed. I hope you are all right at home. Had I known as much as I do now I would never have come out here. I pity them that are married and have children, for it is a shame, for it will cost twice as much to come home."

The letter, on the face of it, is that of a chronic grumbler, who, instead of striking out for the place where labor is wanted, waits helplessly in a big town for something to turn up. "It is not all honey out here," he whines, and surely no sane man would expect it to be. It is a place where one has a thousand times better chances than in England, but fortune does not await the shiftless. But such a person as this would find anything a hardship; indeed, he almost makes a grievance of the fact that he escaped being killed in the railway accident!

BRITISH PEOPLE ARE COMING.

Most Desirable Immigrants Are Being Received by the Dominion.

An analysis of Canada's immigration returns for the past two years and a comparison with the figures of immigration into the United States emphasizes the superiority of the class of immigrants now coming to Canada, and answers the statements made in some quarters, notably by Premier Roblin in his recent speech at Picton, to the effect that if the present ratio of increase in the number of foreign-born immigrants is continued for a few years Canada will soon be overrun by citizens who have come from foreign lands and who will be able to dominate Canadian politics. The facts are that Anglo-Saxon immigration is increasing at a much more rapid rate than immigration from other European sources, and, as compared with the United States, Canada is getting a far larger proportion of her new citizens from the countries considered most desirable as sources of supply. For the last fiscal period ending March 31st, British immigration totalled 55,791, an increase of 18,170 over the same period of 1905-06, while continental immigration totalled 34,217, an increase of 14,001. The increase in English immigration was 37 per cent. and in Scotch immigration 34 per cent.

Comparison With United States.

As compared with the character of the immigration into the United States, Canada has also much cause for gratification. The countries considered most desirable from an immigration viewpoint are Great Britain and Ireland, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Servia, Montenegro, Denmark, France, German Empire, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, Australia, Tasmania and New Zealand. From these countries the United States received for the fiscal year 1905-06 thirty-eight per cent., out of a total immigration of 1,100,735, while from Italy alone the percentage was 25, and from Russia, including Finland, came 20 per cent. of the total. From Russia and Italy therefore came last year almost half the whole American immigration. During the same period Canada received out of a total immigration of 189,064 no less than 56 per cent. from the favored countries, from Italy only four per cent., and from Russia and Finland only two per cent. From the United States Canada received thirty per cent. of the entire immigration for the year, while the United States got in return from Canada and Newfoundland combined less than one-half of one per cent. of her entire immigration.

THE HUDSON BAY ROUTE.

A Blanket Charter Kept In Abeyance by Rival Railroads.

The utter blockade of eastbound freight on all the railroad lines of the Northwestern States and Western Canada has given great impetus to the agitation for a short route to Europe by way of Hudson Bay, says Agnes C. Laut, in The American Review of Reviews.

Any schoolboy looking at a globe knows that distances east and west are shorter towards the pole than towards the equator. From Japan to Liverpool by way of San Francisco is 11,000 miles; by way of Seattle, 10,800 miles; by way of Vancouver-Montreal, 10,000; by way of Prince Rupert—the new Grand Trunk terminus—and Montreal, 9,300 miles; by way of Prince Rupert and Hudson Bay, 8,275 miles.

Take a map and look at the Atlantic seaports. New York and Montreal are both on the broadest belt of America—both at the greatest possible distance from the western shipper. Look at the little fur post of Churchill, up on the Hudson Bay. It is from 1,500 to 2,000 miles nearer the western shipper than New York or Montreal. The spokes of a wheel running from San Francisco and Denver and Salt Lake and Portland and Vancouver and Edmonton to a hub at Churchill are just half as long as the spokes of a wheel running from these points to Montreal or New York.

That is the fact as to distance. It means that a railroad to Hudson Bay would cut the haul of the big transcontinental roads in half and move Liverpool 2,000 miles nearer western shippers. One hardly needs to add that such a project has been and will be furiously opposed by eastern seaports, and railroads that feed those seaports. For twenty-five years railroad projects from Winnipeg to Hudson Bay have simply been blanket charters smothered and kept in abeyance by rival railroads, but a change has come.

Canada and the States.

Time's whirligig brings many changes; none stranger than the entirely altered relations of Canada with the United States. Fifteen years ago Canada seemed to have no future outside absorption by the United States; she was a suppliant for fiscal favors which would give her an entrance to the magnificent market on her southern border. But America was an overhard bargainer, and the tariff wall from Oregon to Maine grew higher and higher. It was sharp medicine, but gave Canada just the tonic that was needed to brace up her national spirit and develop her resources. Instead of to the easy market to the south, Canada diverted her energies to the east and to the west. She is now in the position of granting fiscal favors rather than soliciting them. In her trade with the Motherland and the Pacific she finds abundant outlet for the illimitable resources that have scarcely been scratched. Here is the opportunity of the century—if the Imperial Government can rise to the height of it.

Value of Woods For Charcoal.

The different woods which are to be used in making charcoal may be estimated as to their relative value by this rule: Of the oaks, 100 parts will yield 23 parts of charcoal; the beech, 21; the elm, the apple and the white pine, 23; birch, 24; maple, 22; willow, 18; poplar, 20; hard pine, 22. All charcoal used in the manufacture of gunpowder is made from either willow wood or alder wood.

Lucky as a Windfall.

The harsh forest laws of William the Conqueror are responsible for the meaning of good luck now so often associated with the term windfall. Under the Norman monarch it was a criminal offense to cut down timber in the forests, but as the peasants were allowed to gather whatever wood the wind had blown down they always hailed a storm as an omen of great good luck.—New York Telegram.

She Proved the Accusation.

George Selwyn once remarked in company that a woman could not write a letter under any circumstances without adding a postscript. A woman present replied, "The next letter you receive from me, Mr. Selwyn, will prove that you are wrong." Accordingly he received one the next day in which, after her signature, was the following: "P.S.—Who is right now, you or I?"

WESTERN RATTLESNAKES.

Interesting Facts as to Rattlesnakes In Central British Columbia.

A correspondent from Kamloops, B. C., writes: Some time ago I was much surprised at reading an article from the pen of one of your readers, who claimed that there were no rattlesnakes in British Columbia; very probably he was correct as far as his own observations were concerned, for this is a province of magnificent distances; and many large areas are entirely free from them, but it is equally true that other districts—particularly parts of Yale—contain numbers of them; and in this respect I can endorse the letter of Mr. McDonald, who wrote some time ago from Nova Scotia, in referring to which the editor stated as his opinion that there were no rattlesnakes north of Thompson River. This is a mistake, natural enough in one not familiar with this locality. These snakes may be found anywhere along the north bank of the Kamloops Lake (a river expansion about 15 miles long) and the Thompson River, from Kamloops to where it joins the Fraser at Lytton—but they are particularly numerous in certain favored localities, e.g., Rattlesnake Bluff, between Kamloops and Trangville, and at Rattlesnake Mountain, about five miles up the Cariboo Road from Ashcroft. A few years ago a rancher took up a homestead near Rattlesnake R[illegible]; he possessed a hog which he facetiously named Rattlesnake Bill from his success as a snake killer; this gentleman states positively that to his certain knowledge this hog killed twenty-three rattlesnakes in one summer; and of course he is likely to have killed many more without the owner being aware of it. One night this rancher found a rattler under his bed, it had made its way into the house through a knot hole in the floor, which was made of single boards for summer use. But though there are many rattlesnakes, fortunately fatalities from their bite or sting are very rare; though I know of two deaths from this cause—one a child who was gathering peas in her father's garden near Vernon, and the other that of a lady near Ashcroft, who stooped from the verandah of her house to pick a flower and was bitten on the finger—in each case medical assistance was secured, but to no avail.

CANADA IS POPULAR.

Information Eagerly Sought by People In Great Britain.

Canada is the most talked-of country to-day in Great Britain, and appreciative audiences listen eagerly to lecturers from over the sea. Mr. Joshua Fletcher, president of the Alberta Farmers' Association, gave an address recently to an assembly of business men in Manchester, England, giving in brief form the advantages offered by Canada. The three prairie provinces, he said, constitute the granary of the British Empire. They have an area of 580,000 square miles, or about four and one-half times the size of England, Ireland, and Scotland put together. In this vast agricultural country the population is about half a million, or, counting men, women and children, not quite one person to each square mile. Leaving the Great Lakes, going West there is one hundred and fifty miles of comparatively rough country, where mining, farming, and lumbering are all carried on. West from Winnipeg the land stretches away in one vast plain as level as the sea for a thousand miles, and in its natural state the land was covered with a rich nutritious grass and was the home of the buffalo and the beaver. Generally speaking, the soil is a deep black loam with a clay sub-soil. Manitoba is Canada's great wheat province, and the Scotchmen there have made it famous for Clyde horses and shorthorn cattle. The southern portion of Saskatchewan is an open country, rather more rolling than Manitoba, and is a great cattle ranching country where the cowboy reigns supreme. The southern portion of Alberta is also a cattle country, but of late years the farmers have been making a brilliant success of winter wheat known as "Alberta Red."

Snake and Porcupine.

The following Indian story is intended for the tale of the white man and the red. There were once two men who lived a long way apart; one was poor, and had nothing but his hunting grounds; the other was rich, but he wanted the poor man's land. The poor man's poohegan, or attendant spirit, was a snake; the rich man's poohegan was a porcupine. The porcupine went to visit the snake, but at first the snake refused to let him in, saying: "I will stick my arrow into you." The porcupine said: "Then I will stab you with my sword." The snake said: "My arrow has only one barb; but it is a good one." And he ran out his tongue to show the barb. The porcupine said: "My tail is full of swords; but I will guard them very carefully if you will let me come in, for my home is far away." The snake said: "I am here with my children, and am very poor. It is not for the rich to come to the poor for help; but rather for the poor man to visit the rich. If one of my children were to go to your house, you would kill him. Then why do you come here?" However, the porcupine promised so fairly that the snake at last let him in. All went well at first; but in the morning the porcupine began to quarrel, killed the whole snake family, and took possession of their land.

Found the Way Home.

An extraordinary instance of the affection of a horse for its old home has occurred at Turvey. A farmer at that place recently sold a horse he had had for several years to a farmer from Hanslope. The horse was taken to Hanslope and was placed in a field for the night, but after darkness had set in he broke bounds and made the cross-country journey of a dozen miles from Hanslope to Turvey, where his former owner found him on Sunday morning quietly grazing in his paddock.

Lock of Napoleon's Hair.

An interesting relic of Napoleon Bonaparte has been placed in the Nottingham Castle Museum. It consists of a lock of hair of the Emperor, which was cut off about an hour after his death, and was given to Naval Surgeon Dickson by one of Napoleon's attendants.

Newbro's Herpicide

WHAT HERPICIDE DOES

Newbro's Herpicide destroys the tiny vegetable growth in the scalp that causes dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair and baldness. Once this microbic enemy of the hair is destroyed and kept out of the scalp, the hair is bound to grow as nature intended, except in cases of chronic baldness.

WHAT SUNLIGHT DOES

Sunlight is nature's germ destroyer and prophylactic. The effect of sunlight upon the scalp proves highly benefical, if a complete plan of scalp cleanliness is carried out. This cannot be done without the use of Herpicide, which prevents reinfection and keeps the scalp pure and wholesome.

More men and women have gotten positive results from the use of Newbro's Herpicide than from all other hair remedies combined.

HOT WEATHER TROUBLES

The perspiration that exudes in increased quantities during the summer months, carries out poisonous and refuse matter that would otherwise clog up the pores of the scalp.

Incomplete elimination of this waste, produces a hot and feverish condition of the sweat glands known as Prickly Heat for which Herpicide gives immediate relief. Herpicide stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Col. Thomp Burton, Member of the Board of Managers of the Ohio Penitentiary, writes as follows of Newbro's Herpicide:

"As to Herpicide I find it an excellent hair dressing as well as being the first and only absolute dandruff cure I have found. Upon my advice a number of my friends are using Herpicide, and the unanimous verdict is, that Herpicide is, in all respects, everything that its manufacturers claim for it."

LIFE IN LABRADOR.

How the Hardy Fishermen Work—The Coast Uncharted.

Labrador is associated in the minds of most people with almost Arctic desolation—a bleak coast against which dash the waves of the Northern Atlantic and a vast interior which is largely yet an unknown land. Such a picture is on the whole in accordance with the facts, and yet from the waters of this rugged coast is taken each year one million dollars worth of fish. It is one of the great harvest fields of the hardy fishermen of Newfoundland.

From the Strait of Belle Isle northward to Hudson Straits the Labrador coast extends a distance of fully one thousand miles. The coast is stern and precipitous, ranging from one to four thousand feet in height, destitute of vegetation, deeply indented with inlets and harbors, and fringed with chains of rocky islands.

Of the several branches into which the cod fishery of the Newfoundlanders is divided that prosecuted along the rugged coast of Labrador each summer is the most perilous and toilsome. Save for the annual migration of the Newfoundland fisherfolk there, the region would attract little or no attention. Each of the countless harbors and inlets is the objective of some daring Newfoundlanders, who establish themselves and their families there, in huts built from the wreckage of fishing craft, and banked high with turf, and here these people remain from June till October, engaged in a most exhausting occupation and subjected to discomforts and miseries which none could hope to contend against except those whose whole existence is an unceasing battle with the elements.

Prosecuting the Fishery.

When the fisherfolk reach Labrador they frequently find the houses they are to occupy filled with snow and ice from the previous winter, and has to dig these out and make great fires of wreckwood before they can enter them. This done, the household gear is bestowed there and the fishing equipment in the sheds used for this purpose. Then they wait for the cod to "strike in" or approach the shore, and when this occurs the season's labors may be said to have begun in earnest. Stirring are the scenes witnessed daily along Labrador in the height of the fishing time when cod are abundant and the voyagers busy with their catch. There are two main classes of fisherfolk—"stationers," who operate from special harbors and occupy establishments ashore, and "floaters," who cruise up and down the coast in their smacks, living on them and following the fish in their migrations. Both classes use "traps" or square pockets of netting many fathoms wide, in which the fish are enclosed and hauled to the surface, the catch being then emptied into the boats and the traps reset. When the stationers bring the fish to land they wash and pickle them, and later expose them to the sun and air daily until dried hard as leather, in which condition they are shipped to market ad will remain good for months, even in tropical climes. The floaters, instead of drying their fish, pack them in the vessels' holds, thickly sprinkling the salt, till they return to their Newfoundland homes in the autumn, when they dry and cure them there.

Value of the Catch.

About 350,000 to 400,000 hundredweight of dry fish, weighing fully twice as much when taken from the water, represents the annual take of cod there, and much of this is shipped as it is cured to European countries, chiefly on the Mediterranean, by means of large sailing vessels, and small tramp steamers, which visit central harbors of Labrador in July and August for the purpose of securing cargoes.

The cruising of the fleet in quest of cod is attended with great hazard. The coast is absolutely uncharted, has not a solitary lighthouse along its entire front, and abounds in reefs and islets, frequently shrouded by fogs and with the water cumbered by floes and bergs. Fully a thousand vessels ply there every summer, facing these varied and serious dangers, and the wonder really is that more disasters do not occur there than are recorded from season to season. Yet from the fisherfolk's point of view they are numerous and ruinous enough, since every season witnesses the loss of many ships and scores of lives, depriving not a few families of their bread-winners and reducing otherwise affluent persons from comfort to beggary, after a single gale, as the hazards of the region make marine insurance prohibitory. The whole seaboard is dotted with the bleaching ribs of smacks that have driven ashore there, and at almost every mile a rude wooden cross tells of some life lost there.

The coast is also ravaged by terrible storms at times, which spread havoc over its whole face and cause monetary losses grevious in the extreme. The fishing last until October. It is a proof of nature's generous provision for man's welfare that, though this Labrador fishery has now been conducted for nearly 400 years, the shoals of finny denizens of the deep are undiminished in quantity or quality, and the Newfoundlanders have been securing virtually the same catches annually for nearly a century, despite the improvement in vessels and engines of capture and the competition from other quarters.—Canadian Life and Resources.

Lives of Old Violins.

Strange indeed are the "lives" of the old Italian violins, says George Lehman. For years or decades they either repose in the amateur's velvet lined cases or sing with their own peculiar incomparable sweetness to multitudes of admiring listeners, adored by their fortunate possessors, coveted by all whose love of their fascinating qualities is far greater than their material means. And then, when it is least expected, some Strad or Guarnerius, known the world over, is tenderly placed in the hands of a new master or mistress and a new chapter in the history of its long life is begun.

Calcutta's "Jungle Villages."

The houses, or huts, rather, that form the majority of Calcutta's dwelling and working places are low and mean and crazy to a degree. This vast congeries of dwellings that stretched itself along the Hooghly bank scarce deserves the name of town except for its supreme commercial and political importance and its great population. It is not a town, this city of huts, except in the central African sense. It is a series of jungle villages spread out and plastered on the river bank with a trowel.

JUDGE REPORTS C.P.R

Justice Riddell Holds Railway Guilty of Criminal Offence.

SAYS BRIDGE WAS NEGLECTED

Sends Judgment In Damage Action to Attorney-General — Crown May Prosecute—Company Pays Damages But That Not Sufficient—Wreck Might Have Been Prevented — Villeneuve Case.

Toronto, June 28.—"The facts of this case disclose a crime," says Mr Justice Riddell, of the suit brought by the widow of Andrew M. Villeneuve against the C.P.R.

Villeneuve was a trainman and was killed on April 29th at Fire Hill, Nipissing, north of Lake Superior. It was admitted by counsel that the engine upon which the unfortunate man was fell through a bridge owing to the fact that the bridge had been allowed to decay.

"The claims agent of the company investigated the facts and found that the company had no defence," says Judge Riddell, "to an action at the instance of the widow and step-children of the deceased; accordingly an agreement was come to that the company should pay the sum of $2,318.58, the amount of three years' wages of the deceased.

Willing to Settle.

"A writ was issued by the widow and her two children, step-children of the deceased, and the case was brought on before me at the weekly court at Ottawa, June 22nd, by way of a motion that the plaintiff be awarded judgment for the sum of $2,318.58, or an apportionment of the amount among the plaintiffs, and for an order for payment into court of the infants' share."

After quoting from Union Colliery v. The Queen, Mr. Justice Riddell says:—"I have quoted this largely from this case because it is exactly in point. Here the defendants maintain a railway, they have a bridge; it is their duty to maintain it that an engine will not fall through; they disregard that duty; the anticipated event happened (that such an event was to be anticipated is manifest,—it is notorious that but the other day a similar occurrence took place in a city in Ontario, fortunately without loss of life)—'they are criminally responsible for it,' and it makes no difference that the unfortunate victim was an employe. No doubt also in this case there is some one person—perhaps more than one—who is guilty of personal negligence, and therefore equally liable to an indictment and for manslaughter."

Crown May Take Action.

Mr Justice Riddell approves of the settlement and adds: "it being the duty of the Crown, if so advised, to prosecute for crimes, 'offences against the public at large,' and this kind of offence has been held to be, by the the Supreme Court, a copy of this part of my judgment will be sent to the Attorney-General for such action against the company or an employe or officer thereof as may be considered justified by facts."

The apportionment is as follows: Susan M. Villeneuve, $1,250; Lavan Ferguson, $318.58; Mary Ferguson, $750. The defendants must also pay the costs of the plaintiff's solicitor, $130.

Fleet For Nicaragua.

Mexico City, June 28.—Minister Deldago, representing the Republic of San Salvador in Mexico, received a telegram Wednesday night from President Figueroa of that country saying that the Republic of Nicaragua was fitting out a fleet of three gunboats on the Pacific side and that an attack was expected at any time. The message added that Salvador was fortifying its ports.

NO WAR WITHOUT NOTICE.

French Proposition at Hague Conference Is Opposed.

The Hague, June 27.—The French proposition presented to the second committee (land war) of the peace conference, June 22, regarding the reopening of hostilities, is strangely opposed by the countries relying on prompt mobilization, chiefly Great Britain, Germany and Japan.

The proposition is as follows:

"Article 1—The contracting powers agree that hostilities among them cannot begin without advanced and unequivocal notice, having either the form of a declaration of war supported by facts or the form of an ultimatum with a conditional declaration of war.

"Article 2—A state of war must be communicated to neutral powers without delay."

PREACHER DENIES FRAUD.

Wanted to Retain Books In Order to Keep Good Subscribers.

Brantford, June 2.—Rev. J. G. Taylor, the colored preacher charger with retaining books of the B. M. E. Church, with intent to defraud, pleaded not guilty yesterday and the case was adjourned until the books are forthcoming from Montreal.

Taylor said he did not wish to hand over the books to this successor to work with, as they contained names of the best church contributors in the country, including Carnegie, Morgan, Hattie Green and Rockefeller. Relinquishing the books, he claimed, would frustrate his purpose of erecting a large church in Montreal.

WOMAN FOUND DROWNED.

Body Was In Water Barrel and Suicide Is Suspected.

Cornwall, June 27.—Mrs. Thomas Keys of Harmony, in Dundas County, was found drowned in a water barrel under circumstances which seem to indicate suicide. Her daughter-in-law, injured in a recent runaway accident, was unable to leave her bed, and her husband and son were milking when the sad affair occurred. On their return they were horrified to find her body in the barrel.

Mrs. Keys had been ill for some time, and this is supposed to have affected her mind.

"CRYSTAL STREAM" MYSTERY.

Cook Gives Sensational Evidence at Enquiry Into Recent Fire.

St. John, N. B., June 28.—There is considerable excitement here regarding the burning of the steamer Crystal Stream, in which four men lost their lives. At the enquiry things took a sensational turn when the cook, Mrs. Coleman, gave evidence pointing to Capt. Perry, of the steamer Aberdeen, as the incendiary.

The two steamers are rivals in one section of the river and there has been bad feeling between the crews for some time. It was stated that the Crystal Stream people agreed not to compete with the Aberdeen this summer, and when the agreement was broken Capt. Perry, it is alleged, promised to get even.

At the enquiry Mrs. Coleman swore that Capt. Perry declared he would have revenge if it took ten years. She also swore that on running to the deck, after discovering the fire, she saw Capt. Perry running across the wharf in his bare feet. This statement is vigorously denied by Capt. Perry.

YOUNG ENGLISHMAN KILLED.

Cut to Pieces by Engine at Brockville Station.

Brockville, June 28.—A young Englishman named Witt, who came to Canada a few weeks ago, was killed directly in front of the station here on Wednesday night by a light engine. Witt was employed as fireman on the Grand Trunk between Brockville and Montreal. He was crossing the tracks in company with Car Inspector Hannah, and both men failed to notice the approach of the engine of No. 5 passenger train, which was backing towards her train. Witt was literally cut to pieces and death was instantaneous. His companion was picked up unconscious, but, aside from the shock, does not appear to have sustained injury. An inquest will be held.

BIRRELL'S PATHETIC PLEA.

Asks House of Commons to Pass Irish Evicted Tenants Bill.

London, June 28.—Mr. Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, in introducing the evicted tenants bill in the House of Commons yesterday, said:

"Rain is falling pitilessly in the west of Ireland, the turf is rotting and the seaweed used as manure is as wet as when taken from the sea.

"Such a measure as this will be taken by that population as a token of good feeling.

"It will do much to bind up many a well-nigh broken heart, and in some measure staunch bleeding wounds.

"There are two thousand tenants to be reinstated, and the Government wants to make a clean job of it and must acquire land compulsorily."

LAURIER IN PARIS.

Premier and Colleagues Entertained by President Fallieres.

Paris, June 28.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Premier; W. S. Fielding, the Minister of Finance; and L. P. Brodeur, the Minister of Marine, of Canada, who have returned here from their trip to Italy, were entertained at lunch by President Fallieres at the Elysee Palace, yesterday.

Wellman For Thaw.

New York, June 27.—Tuesday was the first anniversary of the killing of Stanford White on the Madison Square Roof Garden. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and Lawyers Daniel O'Reilly and A. Russell Peabody visited the slayer.

Walking between two other men accused of murder, Thaw laughed and joked over the printed reports of his ill-health.

From trustworthy sources it was learned Tuesday that Francis Wellman, the noted criminal lawyer, will act as chief counsel for Thaw at his next trial.

Wellman, it will be remembered, appeared for the Hymes brothers when they were on trial for murder in Toronto.

Find Company Negligent.

Port Hope, June 27.—The inquest on Harry Wright of Toronto, the C.P.R. lineman who was killed here on Monday, resulted in a verdict that "the C. P. R. knew that the electric light company's wires were on their poles and that they were negligent in not having the current shut off while the men were working."

Escape From Police Station.

Niagara Falls, June 27.—Two prisoners made their escape from a cell at police headquarters. They were two boys named Park Stewart and Cash Robinson, who had been picked up on the street as suspicious characters.

SAILORS CAPTURE SNAKE.

A Fifteen-Foot Constrictor Was Killed by the Crew of the "Angler."

New York, June 27.—Captain "Al" Foster, of the steamer Angler, brought to shore Tuesday afternoon a huge snake that when alive had caused some annoyance to the crew by winding itself about the paddle box. The skipper said he knew something was wrong with the machinery, but was loathe to stop to make an investigation. When the Angler got to 18th street and North River the crew was ordered to look around.

"When the paddle box was opened," Captain Foster said, "we saw a big snake of the constrictor variety. I called the crew and we attacked it with hooks. It fought furiously, but we finally killed it, and there it is!"

With this the skipper threw on the floor fifteen feet of snake. It is supposed the reptile escaped from a collection being brought into port by some unidentified steamer.

ONTARIO AND B.N.A. ACT.

Col. Matheson Says Government Is Counting on Getting Subsidy.

Toronto, June 27.—Ontario is interested to the extent of $800,000 in the passage of the amendment of the British North America Act, in the Imperial House this week.

"If the bill does not go through," said Hon. Col. Matheson yesterday, "it will mean that we will be short $400,000 this year. The measure must pass within the present week or it cannot be put through this session, and we will be unable to get this money that we have been counting on."

If the amendment carries Ontario will receive two instalments of $400,000 each, but it is very necessary that the bill should be carried at once, as the Government has been counting on at least one instalment of the money and will be considerably out in its accounts if it is disappointed.

VOTE AGAINST THE LORDS.

Resolution to Curtail Their Power Carried by 432 to 147.

London, April 27.—The three days' debate in the House of Commons ended at midnight, when Premier Campbell-Bannerman's resolution in favor of curtailing the power of the House of Lords in vetoing bills passed by the House of Commons was carried by 432 to 147, amid loud Ministerial cheers.

The amendment introduced by A. Henderson (Laborite), Durham, for a total abolition of the House of Lords was previously rejected by 315 to 100, the minority being composed of Laborites, Nationalists and a few Radicals.

In this division the Unionists as a body abstained from voting.

The Premier, on leaving the House, was given a great ovation.

THE COUNTRY MUST JUDGE.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson Leaves Reputation to Public Opinion.

Toronto, June 27.—Hon. Mr. Emmerson was in the city yesterday en route to Virginia.

"I leave my reputation to the great jury of the country at large," he said. "If it is as the court ruled, I might as well have been in Newfoundland as in Montreal on that night. I couldn't have got a verdict of libel, so long as they say they beleived me guilty. I can't prove that they did not think they were telling the truth, so why bother any more about it."

OUR CANADIAN FRONTIER.

Lord Elgin Says the Question Has Not Been Forgotten.

London, June 27.—(C. A. P.)—In the House of Lords Lord Elgin, replying to the criticism of Mr. Haldane's scheme, said it was untrue that elementary facts, such as the Canadian frontier, had not been faced, for the views of Canada and the other colonies had been placed before the Imperial Conference. The principle underlying Mr. Haldane's statement was local autonomy under the guidance of a General Staff recruited from the forces of the empire as a whole.

Montreal, June 27.—Mr. Poliquin, secretary-treasurer of the Longshoremen's Union, complains that the longshoremen were not properly treated by the Department of Labor at Ottawa with regard to the recent arbitration.

The longshoremen answered the board of conciliation without delay and they claim that the announcement of the contents of their letter before the reply of the shipping men had been sent in was unfair to the longshoremen.

The longshoremen say that this practically leaves the matter in the hands of the shipping federation.

A CASE OF NERVOUS PROSTRATION

Relieved In a Remarkable Manner By Pe-ru-na.

Pe-ru-na Is a Systemic Catarrh Remedy.

Especially Adapted to Cases of Nervous Prostration

Caused By Overwork, Mental Strain or Extreme Summer Heat.

IN latitudes where warm weather is of long continuance, the inhabitants become more or less accustomed to it.

In Temperate Zones, however, where the change from winter to summer is great, the system is sometimes poorly prepared to meet the exigencies of hot weather. This is the cause of much sickness.

Stomach catarrh, indigestion and dyspepsia are not among the least of summer ailments.

When the digestion is disturbed, the assimilation is also affected, and as a result the body does not receive the nourishment it should. Lassitude, weakness, brain fag, loss of flesh and nervous prostration are the natural results.

INDIGESTION CAUSES WEAKNESS.

What is needed is a remedy that will restore the digestive organs to their normal condition.

Such a remedy has been found in Peruna. It has proven itself of great value in thousands of cases of this kind.

Its action has been remarkable at times in restoring some patients who had given up all hope of recovery.

But there is nothing strange about Peruna's action. It simply tones up the mucous membranes of the organs involved, restoring them to their normal conditions and leaving Nature to perform her duties unhindered.

PE-RU-NA'S BENEFICIAL EFFECT.

That person who has sound, healthy mucous membranes lining the entire digestive tract is well-guarded against the usual summer ailments.

Peruna is the means whereby to attain this most desirable condition.

If you suffer from any of the above mentioned symptoms, try a bottle of Peruna.

One bottle of this remedy is often sufficient to convince any one of its merit as a safe and reliable remedy for all catarrhal conditions.

We have many letters of gratitude received from persons who have experienced its benefits.

These testimonials are proof to us that Peruna has not failed in the mission for which it was intended, that of relieving suffering and restoring health.

MR. P. BRIEN, 23 Third Street, Limoilou, Quebec.

"The fatigues entailed by my duties as accountant began to weaken my system about a year ago. I felt that I would not long be able to withstand the severe strain upon my nerves, as, a thing unknown to me before, I would long for office hours to be over in order to rest.

"I gradually grew weaker and a few months later my sight was impaired. I then broke down completely and was obliged to take to my bed. I was also suffering from palpitation of the heart.

"After a few weeks' treatment by a local physician, I was in the same critical condition and as the doctor held out no great prospects for me, I decided to experiment on myself.

"I took several remedies advertised as tonics, but did not derive any benefit.

"Peruna was then given a trial, and before I had taken it a week I felt my condition improving. After a few weeks more had elapsed, during which time I followed the directions carefully, my shattered nervous system became firmer, my sight stronger and I hoped to be out soon again.

"My expectations were realized, for in three weeks I assumed my duties as accountant at the office.

"Peruna certainly worked wonders on my system, and for persons run-down from overwork, I believe it is the most efficacious tonic."

Assistant War Correspondent Recommends Pe-ru-na.

Mr. H. E. Manley, Assistant War Correspondent during the War in China, care "Black and White," 698 Craig St., Montreal. Canada, writes:

"When a man travels in extremely hot or cold climates, he realizes how valuable a friend he has if he carries a bottle of Peruna.

"I know of no article in my traveling outfit which I have learned to praise higher.

"If you are suffering with the extreme heat, Peruna restores you, or if you are afflicted with a cold, la grippe or bronchitis, Peruna restores you in a short time.

"Or if you suffer with sleeplessness or if your appetite is poor, again Peruna acts as a good, true friend and is the tonic needed.

"I have tried it for months and am only too glad to acknowledge it as a true, loyal standby in times of trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend it to all."

Completely Run Down—Pe-ru-na Restored to Health.

Mrs. J. Colson, 851 Notre Dame street, Maisonneure, Montreal, Can., writes:

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold which affected my head and throat so I had to take to my bed and could not do my housework. A friend advised me to get a bottle of Peruna, and I procured a bottle. I felt better from the start. I have taken three bottles and am a new woman. My daughter's system was also completely run down and after using Peruna she is again restored to health."

Half-Hearted Consent.

London, June 27.—(C.A.P.)—The Tribune says its article on the all-red route gave expression to the view prevalent in the lobby of the House of Commons where it is thought advisable to do what can be done to prevent any possibility of Lloyd-George's half-hearted consent to the scheme being translated into action.

Caught a Turtle.

While fishing recently, off the coast of Kathiawar, India, from a small boat, a naval officer, after having caught several nice fish, felt an unusually strong pull at his line, so hard that the boat was being pulled violently about in the stream. A few minutes after, to his great surprise, a huge turtle came to the surface with a rush. For an hour and a half the boat was towed hither and thither, eventually getting about two miles and a half from shore, before the turtle was conquered and made fast alongside the boat. It was towed back like that for about four miles to the ship, and hoisted on board, where it turned the scales at 325 lbs.

It is the result of the modern investigations into the cause and cure of all disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys.

King Palmetto Compound is a kidney and liver tonic and blood purifier of wonderful virtue, and the diseases which arise from impure blood and sluggish liver and kidneys are quickly cured by its use, as cystitis, catarrh of the bladder, nervous prostration, general debility and rheumatism.

VOGUE POINTS.

Dyed Laces and Braids Modish Trimmings—A Smart Leghorn Hat.

Japanese colorings abound in the season's dress scheme. Dyed laces and braids are embroidered in these beautiful colorings.

A very lovely leghorn hat has its brim weighted down with roses of the pastel family and a band of silver braid. The crown is formed of many folds of yellow chiffon, and a crushed bandeau of the chiffon has a single rose peeping out from among its puffings.

Colored trunk tags and colored trunk labels are a convenience to the traveler in the identification of baggage. They come together bound in a book, three dozen of each, in pink, blue or lavender.

The American woman now arrays herself in the styles of all nations. Her waist is of French batiste, has a Dutch yoke, and German valenciennes lace is the trimming. Japanese sleeves, kimono and Russian laces find a place in her costume. All nations unite to serve her. A linen frock trimmed with bits of hand embroidery is very attractive for girls of ten and twelve. Such a frock is to be found in the cut.

GLIMPSES OF FASHION.

Good Luck Stocks Latest in Neckwear. Parasols With Chintz Motifs.

Swastika stocks are on hand made of linen with the good luck symbol of swastika embroidered by hand on the front tabs. These stocks are extremely new and are only to be found in the shops that carry very new things. But it is a simple matter to make one of these neck pieces at home.

This year the linen parasol will be much to the fore, and the newest examples are adorned with immense bunches of flowers or fruit cut out of chintz and appliqued to the linen, a tiny border of the narrowest black velvet ribbon outlining the design.

The number and beauty of the brown belts is a conspicuous feature of the season's accessories of dress. There have always been belts of tan and brown leather, but never has there been so wide a range of brown shadings or so varied an assortment of designs.

The sleeve reaching to the knuckle is the latest wrinkle in fashions. It promises to have an enormous vogue and thus far has had one good result. The prices of kidskin, which has risen enormously since the reign of the elbow sleeve, is now reduced to its normal level.

In footwear nothing is more fascinating than the new sandal, which partakes of the most charming characteristics of the low shoe and the high boot. The back and sides are like the ordinary boot, while the front is cut in many little straps, each with its own particular decorations of bows, buckles or beading. Tan and all shades of brown shoes are popular.

The breakfast jacket illustrated is of embroidered flouncing, while the skirt is of white lawn and trimmed with embroidery exactly matching the jacket.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Up to Date Riding Habit—Breton Embroidery—Lucky Dress Patterns.

The up to date amazon rides astride in a perfectly cut divided skirt. Her habit is completed by a short jacket or sack coat opening over a neatly plaited chemisette of linen. The new style looks as effective in dark blue and smoke gray as in the more old fashioned black. Some of the little coats are simply stitched, while others, less sportsmanlike, are braided.

Many of the most beautiful evening dresses have white silk and chiffon inside, which want constant renewing. Some of the skirts are not lined about the hips at all, but have deep flounces from the knees and are worn over silk petticoats.

Embroidered linen frequently forms the waistcoat of the wool street suit, and the French are fond of the red and blue Breton embroideries upon string colored linen as a relief for coats of dark or neutral line.

The Z decorates many of the handsomest of the imported gowns. It is seen in lace designs and is carried out in many trimming schemes. When asked the origin of this popular style a dressmaker replied: "It is lucky, and it is likewise simple and beautiful. We advise the Z in all cases possible simply because it is both quiet and elegant."

French linen is especially soft and pretty for children's dresses, and the frock seen in the cut is of a pale blue linen, while the embroidery, which, by the way, is of the hand variety, is done in white. The dress is worn over a guimpe of white lawn.

WHAT IS THE ENGLISH THRONE?

Several Seats Which Are Occupied by the Sovereign.

The English throne—what is it? Is it the stone chair of Westminster Abbey? That is only occupied once by each king or queen, and that only at the coronation ceremony. Is it the chair of state in the House of Lords or the reception chair at Buckingham

THE CORONATION CHAIR.

Palace or the sumptuous gilt thing which the King uses at Windsor when he receives the foreign envoys?

It is an interesting question, which some people would like to have answered. Most everybody, however, has come to the conclusion that in the majority of countries the throne is merely a symbol, and the expressions "he has succeeded to the throne" and "speeches from the throne" are only metaphors.

HERE AND THERE.

Hints For the Trousseau—Coats of Dyed Lace—Neck Ruff Smart.

The bride who is wise will include in her wardrobe all the fancy jewelry she can afford to buy. She should have strings of beads and as many of them as possible. She should select them with an eye to the matching of her trousseau frocks, and she should be sure to include belts, buckles and small ornaments in the way of little pins and slides and fastenings.

Evening coats of dyed lace are very lovely, though sometimes it seems like rank extravagance to color so handsome a lace as Irish point to meet what must at most be a passing fancy. A handsome long empire coat of Irish lace seen not long ago was of rich red wine color called mulberry trimmed with chiffon to match.

Neck ruffs are extremely popular this summer. They are made short and finished with long ends of soft satin or velvet ribbon. For older women these neck pieces are very pretty when shaped a little like a collar. They are made with rows of knife plaiting of varying widths arranged upon a silk or satin foundation and finished with long loops and ends of ribbon.

The frock in the cut is of French voile in a lovely shade of nut brown. Silk ends trim the pretty model. Guimpe and sleeves are of cream batiste.

FORECAST OF FASHION.

A Smart Tailored Hat—Gauze Fabrics For Afternoon Gowns.

A smart tailor hat has clusters of moss rose buds in the form of floral aigrets high on either side of the front and a wreath of white hyacinths around the crown.

Violet and white striped gauze is a fashionable fabric for afternoon gowns, and so is the new brown and columbine red striped tussore trimmed with embroidery tinted to the natural shades of the silk and relieved with a silk trimming in one or the other of the colors shown in the stripe.

Many ostrich feathers are seen dyed in shaded colorings from the darkest tones down to the palest and most delicate tints.

The grip of the veil is apparently irresistible. The Parisian has taken unto herself the umbrella violette, an adjunct directly influenced by the automobile. There are varieties worked with chenille, hemmed with a border of crape, finished with a frill of chiffon or narrow silk fringe, while others are edged with a deep vandyked lace and worn very full and loose.

Chamois gloves are more in demand than they have been for ten years. They look fresh and smart and tailor made, and as they are inexpensive as well as washable there is no excuse for not always having an immaculate pair.

This white serge coat for mademoiselle will be found very useful for cool days this summer. The same model could be carried out in red for mountains or seashore wear.

Some people are going to be mighty surprised when they find out that there is a difference between real goodness and a receipt for pew rent.—Florida Times-Union.

GOOD LUCK JEWELRY.

Fad a Result of the Popular Oriental Idea.

Good luck jewelry is the fad of the moment. Into every variety of ornament emblems and forms are introduced that are supposed to have some significance of happiness and good fortune to the wearer. The fad has probably come with the use of the oriental and Indian ideas that are so popular at present. In everything in the way of jewelry the interesting swastika design is utilized and not in jewelry alone, but in embroideries and stencil borders, carrying always a suggestion of good luck and prosperity. One sees it in stickpins, in brooches, in belts, buckles, hatpins, introduced into shirt waist patterns and ornamental linens, everywhere the curious little form greets one, and, though its name is not always known, every one has grown familiar with the design of the cross, with its ends bent at right angles. It is the most popular of the good luck emblems. Except as a vague symbol of good fortune, however, its significance is not well known.

The real origin of the swastika, as a matter of fact, is shrouded in mystery. There are so many conflicting explanations of it that one is confused in trying to find the most plausible. Writers and investigators of all ages have tried to fathom the meaning of the design, but with them all it has been largely a matter of supposition. The symbol is so old that there is no record of its birth. It is known at least to be the most ancient form of the cross, and traces of its use are found in every land and with every people and almost always associated with some of their gods and their religious ceremonies.

The name, swastika, which is the generally accepted term for the symbol, is Sanskrit, and means happiness, pleasure, good luck. Though the form has been used as a symbol of almost every known god, in every country and in all times, there has attached to the swastika the character of an amulet or charm, as a sign of blessing, good fortune and long life. It is with that meaning it has been introduced into our bits of jewelry today. When the history and association of the symbol are known, those bits of jewelry become infinitely more interesting and significant to the possessor.

Another emblem that is being introduced into popular jewelry is the ankh, which is also a form of the cross, and, according to Egyptian mythology, was regarded as an emblem of Ka, the spiritual double of man.

Scenting the Hair.

A good method of scenting the hair is to drop five or six drops of oil of jasmine or some other perfume of the same kind into the palm of the hand and rub hard over the brush, so that the oil is transferred to the bristles. The hair should then be well brushed and will be found to be quite sufficiently perfumed by this method. This should be done after it has been first washed. Damp hair loses its curl. Hot weather increases the perspiration of the scalp and so causes much tried woman a little extra trouble. There are many excellent lotions for preventing and remedying the mischief. Here is a prescription: Five parts of hazeline, two parts of eau de cologne and one part of spirit of rosemary, well shaken together.

His Choice.

A witty member of the legal profession was once a guest at a dinner remarkable for its meagerness. The dining room had been newly and splendidly furnished. Some of the guests congratulated the host on his taste in decoration.

"For my part, I would rather see less gilding and more carving," said the wit.

The Latest In Automobile Veils—Hemstitching Much Used.

Green dotted net is the newest material for traveling and automobile veils. It may be fashionable, to be sure, but I am not so sure about its beauty.

Hemstitching is a great factor throughout the dressmaking world. It is used with the utmost impartiality on all and every imaginable garment and is simply invaluable to the cause of the narrow frills that go to the formation of some of the daintiest sleeves of the moment.

Hand embroidered linen handkerchief bags, change purses, cardcases and chatelaine bags will be carried with summer gowns.

For women in half mourning handbags of black suede with gun metal clasps and trimmings are good.

The new cotton voiles are fascinating, especially those with irregular pin spots—blue or pink—and the shaded mauve, green and pink stripes on a white ground.

For smartly dressed girls, especially those of the younger set, are large black sailor hats of very rough straw. These are worn well set back on the head and are exceedingly becoming when the hair is arranged in large puffs.

Jeweled bugs are again coming into favor, and a quaint little brooch consists of two tiny gold bars, on which are perched three enameled lady bugs that are quite perfect in coloring. Another brooch is set with pearls and has an exquisitely enameled dragon fly with diamond studded wings perched in the center.

The gown illustrated is of gray French linen and is worn over a guimpe of embroidered muslin. The trimming consists simply of stitched bands of the material held by smoke pearl buttons.

The Hypothetical Question.

"Miss Prittly," said the young lawyer with the high brow and the Henry Clay forelock, "let me ask you a hypothetical question. Suppose that a young man of excellent habits and increasing income—a young man who believed himself fully capable of making a woman happy—were to appear before a young woman who had eyes of rare and radiant luster and hair of the texture and glory of spun gold, whose lips were more perfect than Hogarth's line of beauty, whose cheeks held a tint that put to shame the magnificent pink of the rose petal—a young woman whose culture and charm easily placed her immeasurably above all other women in the world—and he were to ask this young woman if she would"—

"Oh, Mr. Blackstone!" she whispered, sinking into his arms. "Yes!"—Judge.

Watkin Mills Talks

of his Ideas concerning the New Scale Williams Piano.

Perhaps no one in the musical world is so particular or critical in regard to a piano as Mr. Watkin Mills, the great English baritone. The following letter received from him by the Williams Piano Co., May 28, 1904, tells its own story:

The Williams Piano Co., Oshawa, Ont.

Dear Sirs,—I have heard your New Scale Williams Piano, and consider it a very fine instrument. Its tone is most satisfying and of beautiful quality, both for solo work and ordinary use. It will hold its own with the very best pianos made on this continent. Faithfully yours, (Signed) R. WATKIN MILLS. 30 Block. Peterborough.

FOUNDED 1,000 YEARS AGO.

Historic Town of Romsey Reaches Its Millenary.

Within a few miles of Southampton the little town of Romsey, on June 25 and the two following days will celebrate the 1,000th anniversary of its existence.

Romsey is a typical English town, "all in a flowery vale," with that famous trout stream, the Test, wandering through its meadows and beneath its bridges, and the old, gray abbey rising among its clustered red tiled roofs.

Few towns have greater natural advantages, either in the way of history or locality, for celebrating a brilliant pageant. The beautiful park of Broadlands, the home of generations of statesmen, and especially associated with Viscount Palmerston, the sturdy premier of the '60s, lies at the gates of the town, and an ideal spot beside the broad stream of the Test, sheltered by leafy woods, will be available for the performance by the permission of the Rt. Hon. Evelyn Ashley, who, it will be remembered, is in the habit of entertaining the members of the Atlantic union at Romsey every year.

At this spot each day, after a solemn thanksgiving in the abbey, with a sermon by one of the bishops, and services in the other places of worship, practically the whole population of Romsey will join in giving—in the spirit of the ancient mystery plays of the middle ages— a series of dramatic representations of the most important events in its long history of a thousand years.

To Repeat King Sweyn's Raid.

In a country district, like Hampshire, there are still to be found many links with the past. For instance, in one of the scenes which will represent in a striking manner the looting and destruction of the Abbey of Romsey in 994 by King Sweyn and his marauding band of Danes, the ships in which the warriors will appear rowing up the river will be copied from the remains of actual Danish pirate ships of King Alfred's time, the ribs of which are still to be seen sticking out of the mud on the opposite side of Southampton water.

Some of the ornaments of the warriors are copied from a beautiful gold torc dug up a century ago in the peat within a quarter of a mile of the spot where the pageant is being held, and doubtless worn by one of these same sea wolves who met his fate at the hands of the Romsey peasants on the river bank well nigh a thousand years ago, while the war songs of the Danes is taken from the early Norse songs of the Faroe Isles, and the litany, which is sung by the nuns imploring divine deliverance, is one both as regards words and music of contemporary date (tenth century).

On Historic Ground.

This, perhaps, is the peculiar attraction of the Romsey pageant. You are taken through scenes of actual historical occurrence, on ground hallowed by the tread of those who took part in them, whether it be in some of those ancient Saxon or Norman scenes, of which we have mentioned two out of some six or seven equally striking, or later ones which record the seizure of Romsey abbey by Henry VIII., the pathetic expulsion of the nuns, and the remarkable saving of the abbey church from destruction by the townspeople purchasing it from the king, and the visit of King James I. to Broadlands to grant a charter of incorperation to the mayor and burgesses of Romsey. In each case we are looking at the picture of scenes which actually took place on the spot or in the immediate neighborhood. You can go straight from the pageant ground and see in Broadlands gardens the fig trees which James I. planted to commemorate his visit. You will find preserved in the abbey church the deed of 1540, to which the royal seal is still attached, recording the selling of the church to the parishioners. Other actors in these far off events, besides Purkiss the charcoal burner, are the direct lineal descendents of those whom they represent, the part of Henry St. Barbe, who entertained James I., for instance, being taken by the present bearer of his name, Henry St. Barbe, Esq., of Lymington.

The historical scenes of the pageant close with perhaps the most impressive of all—the progress (taken from a note in a contemporary diary) of Charles I. through Romsey as a prisoner, shortly before his execution. Here again, every character represented, every detail down to the words spoke by the king, has historic authority.

These are some of the points connected with the Romsey millenary which distinguish it from similar representatives and give it a peculiar interesting character.

SURE HE COULD WIN.

What Happened After a Friend Staked Him For a Hundred.

At a dinner recently given by a Wall street man who is known for his hospitality gambling was the subject of conversation, and many stories were told to show how the turn of the cards or of the wheel had made fortunes for some men and had made beggars of others. The host told of one man who after pawning his watch at Ostend played and retrieved a fortune which had been lost and won "another for good measure." Similar stories were told by other members of the dinner company, and the subject seemed to have been exhausted when a quiet man who has the reputation for daring on the floor of the exchange said: "Some years ago at the Saratoga club house I saw a young man whose father I knew chip away thousands at the red and black game. He had been at it for three days, and I was present when his last chip was raked in. We walked out together, and when we reached Broadway he said, 'I feel it in me that if I could go right back now and begin where I left off I'd win.' His manner impressed me, and I staked him for a hundred and went back to the club. Now, from that little starter what do you think he won?" After all had guessed, naming sums away into the hundreds of thousands, he said, "He lost the hundred and owes it to me yet."

TIMBER WOLVES.

The Cunning With Which They Trap and Kill Deer.

Probably of all animals there is none which has more exciting experiences than a timber wolf. The wolf of fiction is a gaunt, hungry, evil looking animal. The wolf of reality in the north is slick and fat and about 80 pounds for females up to 140 for males. He never chases rabbits, but is willing to finish the remains of an owl's supper. But if some one has put a rabbit down doped with poison he generally polishes that morsel off.

They hunt deer by preconcerted plan. The pack station themselves down wind. Then one makes a circle and comes wind rights on the deer, which may be lying down or feeding, and of course makes a dash, never realising that there is a circle of death dealing enemies before him. When the deer is coming in full jump the wolf first makes a short spring of six or eight feet, but the next is from twenty to thirty feet, and before the deer realises danger his end is certain.

But if he chances to get off his doom is sealed, and within three to seven miles he is run down or corralled. They seem to get nervous and excited and to know that there is no escape and turn to bay, and that ends it.

Selecting Poultry.

In selecting poultry a well rounded form, with neat, compact legs and no sharp, bony angles on the breast, are the important marks which should be sought in selecting fowls for the table. The skin should be a clear yellow and free from blotches and pinfeathers. If it looks tight and drawn the bird has probably been scalded before plucking. The flesh should neither be flabby nor stiff, but should give evenly when pressed by the finger. If the feet are left on they furnish a test of age. In a young fowl they are soft and smooth, becoming hard and rough as the bird grows older. Turkeys, up to a year old, are said to have black feet, which grow pink up to three years old, and then turn gradually gray and grow dull.

Napoleon's Haughty Horse.

Napoleon when at St. Helena once said of his horse: "He has memory, knowledge and judgment. He distinguishes his master from his servants, although these are more constantly about him. I had a horse which distinguished me from the rest of the world and which manifested by his bounding and haughty gait when I was upon his back that he carried a man superior to those around him. He would not suffer any one to mount him except myself and the groom that took care of him. When I had lost my way, I threw the bridle upon his neck and let him pick his way, with the inevitable result of finding the right road."

Creative Interpretation.

Interpretation is your construction put on Beethoven. It is Bach filtered through your temperament. It is Mozart plus our personal equation. It is Wagner not minus the impersonal cymbols, but plus vital pulsations of your heart—and mind. Interpretation, declares the Etude, is as creative as composition. Your bricks are tones and rhythms. Being creative, it is not impersonal. Being creative, it is also not of the feelings alone. The subjective interpreter is a jellyfish; the objective one a rock. Your creative genius is one whose subjective and objective minds work synchronously.

Writers' Incomes.

A writer who tickles the popular taste makes an income exceeding even that of a Lord Chancellor. It is commonly reputed that Mr. Hall Caine's receipts are well over twelve thousand a year. Probably those of Miss Corelli touch a similar figure. Successful playwrights have reaped enormous returns. No one exactly knows what Mr. Gilbert has made out of the Savoy series and their many revivals, but certainly his income must have run into five figures.

Lecturing pays even better than writing. H. M. Stanley once made £29,000 in ten weeks during an American tour, and "Ian Maclaren" £10,000 in six weeks. But these are, of course, not rates which could be kept up for a year, let alone a lifetime.

In the accompanying illustration is shown a reproduction from the exquisitely modelled key with which His Majesty King Edward is said to have opened a newly completed Government building. The key is a work of art. It is richly ornamented with precious gems, and on one side there is a design showing the royal crown of England studded with good sized diamonds. There is also a beautifully executed monogram. Both sides of the key are specimens of the finest workmanship, and aside from its historic value it is a keepsake well worth handing down to posterity.

THE BRITON'S FIRST DUTY.

Lord Robert's Notable Preface to a Recent Publication.

Lord Roberts, V. C., has written a preface for the fourth edition of "The Briton's First Duty," which was published the other day by the National Service League at sixpence net. His lordship points out that the proposals of the league "do not involve sending a single compulsorily-trained soldier out of the country for service abroad, in either peace or war, unless he actually volunteers for the purpose." While in accord with those who wish to see international disputes referred to arbitration, he emphasizes the contention—"if we are strong, there is some chance of the other party in a quarrel agreeing to arbitration; if we are weak, the other side will certainly prefer to fight." In reply to those who urge that social reform claims the first place he says: "We cannot postpone the question of national safety; we must secure a sound and truly national system of home defence, founded on the bedrock principle that it is the duty of every citizen to be trained for the defence of his home. The universal military training thus involved will of itself largely help to solve many of our social problems, by improving the character, the morale and the physique of the race."

MADMAN IN CHURCH.

Armed With Revolver, He Sits Behind Duchess of Norfolk.

The people assembled for high mass at the Church of St. Philip Neri, Arundel, on a recent Sunday morning, were surprised by the arrival of a weirdly-dressed old man, who sat down directly behind the Duchess of Norfolk. Throughout the service his actions and grimaces disturbed the congregation.

In the afternoon the man went to Littlehampton, where his eccentric conduct attracted the attention of the police, who arrested him after a struggle. It was then discovered that he was in possession of a revolver. He was identified as Captain Wyndham Poulett St. John Mildmay, a gentleman of good family, and being certified as insane, he was conveyed by motor car to Graylingwell Asylum.

Lightning Killed the Fish.

A peculiar result of a stroke of lightning was noted near Dijon, France, one summer. A flash of lightning was seen to strike a fish pond, and an investigation made immediately after the storm had subsided proved that every fish that was in the little lake had been killed. This is one of the very few instances on record of lightning striking fresh water.

SOME FAMOUS BENEFITS.

The One For Grimaldi, in 1828, Long Remained a Record.

It was as far back as 1668, according to Samuel Pepys, that one Knipp came to him about the "woman's day" at the playhouse, which he was expected to patronize in order to increase the profits.

Perhaps the first organized benefit for a particular favorite, however, was that given to Mrs. Barry in 1687. On such occasions it was customary to charge for admission to the stage, which in consequence often became so thronged that when a player to whom the distinction was accorded had to make his appearance before the footlights to take up his part in the piece it had not infrequently to be stopped for several minutes while the attendants forced a passage for the unfortunate actor through the throng of his admirers.

Thus on the occasion of Quin's benefit at Covent Garden, in 1753, the old actor, who was incumbered with the heavy dress of Falstaff, was several minutes before he could pass on to the stage on account of the crowds that were assembled in the wings.

Perhaps one of the saddest of the many benefits which have been celebrated at Drury Lane was that given on June 27, 1828, for Grimaldi, the greatest clown the stage has known, when the heartbroken old man was wheeled on to the stage in an armchair and hopelessly broke down in his endeavor to sing his once famous ditty, "Hot Codlins." The old man's memory had completely forsaken him. On that occasion a sum of £1,700 was realised, which for many years remained a record.—St. James' Gazette.

A YANKEE RETORT.

Information For a Seaman on an English Man-of-war.

Just after the war of 1776 an American frigate visited England. Her crew of gallant tars had been principally recruited from the fisheries, and some of them, it is to be acknowledged, did not compare favorably in appearance with the spick and span, jaunty English naval seamen, for the former were of all shapes and sizes, from the tall, round shouldered, long armed Cape Coder down to the short, wiry members of the ship's company who hailed from various parts farther south.

One day the captain of the American ship paid a visit to the commander of a British man-o'-war at anchor in the same harbor. The cockswain of the gig was a great, lanky seaman, whose backbone was so rounded as to form a veritable lump. While the boat rested at the gangway of the visited vessel the English sailors gathered in the open ports and "took stock" in a rather disdainful fashion of the occupants of the gig. At last the seaman of the man-o'-war called down to the cockswain:

"'Ello, there, Yankee! I say, what's that bloomin' 'ump you have on your back?"

The American sailor looked up and called back quick as a shot, "That's Bunker Hill!"

A Floral Scrap.

"Did you hear of all the trouble in the flower circus?"

"No. What was it?"

"Well, to begin with, the tiger lilies boasted of the superiority of their tricks over the dandy-lions, and these cat-tales were brought to the elephant-ears, and it was very natural that the dogwood tell them where the cow's-lips would repeat them. That foxglove was on hand, although the cockscomb gossip was ahead. Then everybody was inclined to linger to admire the parrot's feather till they heard the cro-cuss like a trooper, and all hands got a fatherly lecture from the poppy flower."

Life as Childish Pleasure.

The wealthy woman with diamonds up to her knuckles was telling of a man she knew who was going abroad on a cattle steamer. "He is going for his health," she said. "He is very delicate, but he is so poor. Why should a man who has no health endeavor to preserve the little he has? With no money to make life agreeable and so little life left in the body, why should he keep on wanting to live?" One of her listening friends who is not particularly incumbered with this world's goods spoke up. "I suppose he takes a sort of childish pleasure in it. Most of us do."

The House of Romanoff.

The house of Romanoff passed out of existence with the death of its last survivor, Empress Elizabeth, daughter of Peter the Great, who was succeeded as ruler of Russia by her nephew, Peter of Oldenburg, duke of Holstein-Gottorp, son of her younger sister, Grand Duchess Ann. It is from this czar, who reigned as Peter III., that the whole of the reigning house of Russia are descended, and they are, therefore, not Romanoffs, but Oldenburgs.

Making Her Happy.

"You say you have subscribed to the Up to Date Fashion Magazine for your wife?"

"Yes; she gets so much enjoyment out of weeping over the gowns which I cannot afford to buy for her."

Unhealthy.

Man (to a friend)—I am done with doctors henceforth. One of them advised me to sleep with my windows open. I did so, and the very next morning my gold watch was gone from the bureau.

A Painful Face.

"My face pains me, doctor. What shall I do?" asked the patient.

"I'm sure I don't know," replied the doctor. "You know I have no way of improving your looks."

OFF TO THE FROZEN BAY

TRADERS LEAVE ENGLAND FOR TRIP TO FUR REGIONS.

Quaintest Fleet in the World — Far From Beaten Track of Commerce— Romance of the Seas — The Old "Discovery"—Ice Fields of North —How the Indians Barter for Furs.

The quaintest fleet in the world is just setting out on its only voyage of the year—a voyage that takes it through almost uncharted waters to a spot so far from the beaten track of commerce that cheque and bill have no use and trading is carried on by barter.

This is the fleet of three vessels that leaves London in the late spring to fetch furs home from the Hudson Bay. Its very existence takes us back to the days of the old merchant venturer, and is a reminder that steam and steel have not yet driven romance from the seas. These ships of the Hudson Bay Co. are the frontiersmen of commerce. All through the winter they lie in the South West India Docks, quaint old vessels with dismantled yards and decks stripped, but when the warmer days come, and the ice begins to break up in Hudson Bay, these vessels hear the call to go out again upon the old trail.

"A Faithful Old Tub.

The most interesting member of the little fleet is the Discovery, for this is the famous vessel in which Captain Scott made his Antarctic expedition a few years ago. She is built for work among the ice, and a crushing that would make a concertina of any other vessel only rubs her paint. Last autumn she came back across the Atlantic, half steaming, half sailing, with her sides planed so clean by the ice that she was white as new planks. But she was as sound as ever, and brought £100,000 worth of furs to London town like the sound and faithful old tub she is.

Tub is the word, for the officers who love her for her sturdiness, do not boast of her fine lines. She is made to tuck her blunt little nose into any ice she meets, and she does it, and when she crumples up, sailormen will have met an ice pressure that is new to them.

She will soon be passing the Nore light on her long, slow journey. Up to Peterhead, in Scotland, for the last stores, and then, steaming clear of the land, her captain will hope for a wind to fill his sails, for her small store of coal must be saved to run her engines among the floating ice in the Bay. Anything from 35 to 70 days will be occupied on the voyage out to the Hudson Bay Co.'s depot at Charlton, 12 more days will get her cargo out and see the furs aboard, and then she buffets away out through the ice again, and points the bowsprit for England once more.

Not a Ferry Job.

"It's not a blooming ferry job," said one of the men who will sail with her to a press representative. "We're not timed by minutes, side to side," and he gave just the suspicion of a sneer towards a haughty-looking liner across the dock. "There're no marks in the bay to work your boat in and out by, and the charts leave off here and there. Fact is the old man's got to do most of it out of his own head."

To the company's depot at Charlton, where the Discovery and Stork are going, and to ten other depots along the Labrador coast, the Indians come down each spring with their furs, to barter them for food, clothing, knives, and all the other articles they need.

A visitor to the Discovery or the Stork, as they lie beside the jetty this week end, can almost imagine the boats feel a gladness at the prospect of again going out on the tossing waters to the icefields of the north. The winter sleep in the still, stale dock waters has been dreary, but better days are coming, and soon the grind of the ice on the sides will tell of old sights and sounds come back, and the old venture once more entered upon.

Shop Without a Name.

In the Devonshire Town of Modbury there is a butcher's shop which has no name, nor has it had one for the last 120 years. The reason affords a striking illustration of the superstitious nature of west country folk. When this particular business was started, the owner for some reason or other did not have his name inscribed on the premises. Whether this fact had anything to do with the success of the business or not it would be difficult to say. Trade, however, was brisk, and the butcher duly retired, leaving the nameless shop to his son. The business has been handed down from father to son for more than 120 years, but none of those into whose occupation it has come would have his name put up on any consideration, fearing—as, in fact, the present owner does to-day—that such a procedure might break the spell of good fortune with which the business has been favored.

An Enthusiastic Astronomer.

So great was the enthusiasm of the French astronomer La Caille in the cause of science that he restricted himself to the use of one eye, resting the other solely for his telescope. It is almost incomprehensible that a man should thus voluntarily deprive himself of one of his most useful members, but it is recorded that by these means he was able to achieve many very interesting results.

RARE CHANCES FOR IDEAL HOMES IN ENGLEBURN PARK

The New and Beautiful Residential District in East City

ENGLEBURN PARK, situate in the most attractive part of the city of Peterborough, is destined to be one of the most beautiful residential spots, and the one into which is going the Best Grade of Development to be found in the city. It has been subdivided into lots in a most attractive manner, and is now offered for sale by R. A. Elliott & Co. It is in the heart of the city, within ten minutes walk from Street Car, Post Office, Market, and George Street (the main business street in the city). When the present plans are consumated, Engleburn Park will be so developed as to conserve its native charm, and cause each home-makers work to enhance the beauty of the whole.

Make Money Through Real Estate

The man who buys today will obtain for himself a home at once and probably financial inde pendence for the future. There is just one kind of property that cannot be stolen from you and that is a piece of the surface of the earth. The only thing we know to be real is that solid earth upon which we stamp our feet, and the man who can stamp his feet and say "This piece of earth belongs to me" is the wise man taking advantage of present conditions to protect himself and those dependent upon him. The man who buys and pays for and owns a piece of land has something to show for his money. Peterborough is building up rapidly and it will be difficult for some time to buy land that will fail to pay the investor well. In making selection of lots for a home, the purchaser will look for a healthy site; Engleburn Park affords all that heart or hand could wish for along that line. If you will take a little of your monthly earnings and put them into Peterborough real estate it will pay you, for in a short time what the wise man knows now the whole public will know, and it will be too late then for bargains. Buy all you can carry, but not one dollars worth more. Allow for sickness and possible lack of work, keep within your means; use your best judgment.

A Suburb of Homes

Intelligent co-operation, a pre-figured plan, a community spirit and an artistic and an enlightened forethought will make Engleburn Park a lesson to home building in the city of Peterborough. In Engleburn Park YOU CAN BE SURE OF YOUR NEIGHBORS, it will be strictly a district of homes. No one can build other than far enough back on his lot to protect his neighbor's right to outlook and air. A minimum for expenditure insures the erection of houses of a type satisfactory to all.

Engleburn Park will be the most beautiful residential spot in the city of Peterborough and no expense will be spared to carry out this object. Unlike other tracts of land that have been marketed in the city, instead of destroying the work of nature, all desirable trees will be preserved so that every lot buyer will have his share of this beautiful park. The main driveway will be illuminated with electric jets, materially adding to its beauty.

Aside from all this Engleburn Park has a surplus of all other elements of attractiveness. Its own virgin beauty is heightened by the picturesque environments, and while located within a few minutes walk from the business centre, it is far enough away from the manufacturing industries to preserve that purity of air which counts for so much in a distinctly residential districts.

Plan No. 124

Peterborough's Commercial Advantages

Peterborough, as a city of commercial advantages, stands in the front rank. Evidences of prosperity are on every hand; there is no city in the Dominion that has the same output from her industries as Peterborough, being fifty per cent. higher than any other according to the population. Peterborough's output last year was eleven million dollars. The weekly pay roll for wages at the Canadian General Electric amounts to over ten thousand dollars. This coupled with all the other large manufacturing concerns means a big thing for the working class of people and business men. Twenty-four passenger trains arrive and leave daily.

Peterborough has unlimited water power, resources convertible into electricity for manufacturing purposes, offers opportunities for investment of capital where electricity for manufacturing is used as a power. At the present time electricity is delivered into Peterborough at a lower rate than any other inland city in the Dominion.

The Quaker Oats Company manufacture into different kinds of cereals forty-two car loads of different kinds of grain daily. Two trains of cars depart from the Company's yards every day.

It is a well known fact that the underlying factors which start all the processes creating and distributing wealth are the energy and enterprise of the people. The constant increase in business and manufacturing enterprises are unquestionable evidence of the unity of spirit and determination of the people of Peterborough to utilize the natural advantages this favored spot offers.

It is not strange, then, with the foregoing facts, Peterborough continues to show a growth unequalled by any inland city in the Dominion. The demand for homes and places of business are unprecedented in the history of the city, affording openings for investiment of capital in the erection of Buildings for Business and Residences.

A Lot in Engleburn Park offers today the best opportunity for Real Estate Investment in the city of Peterborough Already several lots have been sold and are going to be built on at once.

TERMS—The Terms under which Engleburn Park Lots are offered for sale bring them within the reach of all, as follows: 25 per cent. payable at time of purchase and an additional 25 per cent. three months thereafter, balance to be secured by mortgage, with interest at the rate of 6% per annum.

BEER FOR BREAKFAST.

The Awful Morning Meal That Was Once in Vogue in England.

The breakfast appetite varies strangely. Some persons are content with a cup of coffee and a piece of toast. Others make it the most determined meal of the day. Once it was formidable indeed. In Sir John Hawkins' "History of Music" is quoted a sixteenth century manuscript belonging to the house of Northumberland which gives the breakfast arrangements of the Percy family both for Lent and for flesh days, and, oh, how some of us have fallen away in trencher work! Here is the simple Northumberland scheme: Breakfast for my lord and lady during Lent: First, a loaf of bread in trenchers, two manchets (a manchet was a small loaf of white bread), a quart of beer, a quart of wine, two dozen of salt fish, six bacoun'd herring, four white herring or a dish of sprats. Breakfast for my Lord Percy and Master Thomas Percy: Item, half a loaf of household bread, a manchet, a bottle of beer, a dish of butter and a dozen of salt fish, a dish of sprats or three white herring. Breakfast for the nursery for my Lady Margaret and Master Ingeram Percy: Item, a manchet, a quart of beer (this for the nursery), a dish of butter, a piece of salt fish, a dish of sprats or three white herring."

At ordinary times my lord and lady dined thus: "First, a loaf of bread in trenchers, two manchets, a quart of beer, a quart of wine, half a chine of mutton or else a chine of beef boiled." Lord Percy and Master Thomas Percy disposed of "half a loaf of household bread, a manchet, one bottle of beer, a shoeking or else three mutton bones boiled," while to the thirsty nursery went "a manchet, one quart of beer and three mutton bones boiled."

THIEVES FROM CHOICE.

Criminals, as a Rule, Steal Because They Don't Want to Work.

The theorists say that men are driven to crime by poverty and want, but the theorists are not always right. There are no doubt some cases of men stealing or swindling to get bread, but they are very few. Not one criminal in a hundred in this country pilfers, slays burglar or highwayman because he's hungry, but because he is a criminal from choice and would rather steal than work. He knows perfectly well that nobody ever made a fortune or even a decent living by picking pockets or breaking into houses or robbing people on the streets. He knows, too, that it is only a question of time when the penitentiary gates will open for him, and yet he chooses the uncertainties of criminal life and idleness in preference to steady work at good wages. Good times with the rest of the world signify nothing to the criminal, except that the man he robs is likely to have a little more money in his pockets. No matter how prosperous the rest of the world may be, its criminals are always hard up. When a sneak thief makes a haul or a footpad gets hold of somebody's roll the first idea is to spend it. It goes at cards, in dives, groggeries, anywhere, to anybody that wants it, and, no matter how large the haul, in a little while it is all gone and another job must be done to get more. General prosperity means nothing to the rogue. The devil pays low wages on small contracts.

A Minute Fish.

The most diminutive vertebrate creature in the world is said to be a small fish caught in a mountain lake in the Luson region of the Philippines. The largest of the species is less than an inch long, but its smallness may be best gauged by the fact that it takes about 6,000 of them to make a pound. Although so tiny, however, the fish, which is named sinarapan, is an important article of diet among the Philippine natives. Obviously it is too small for any net and is caught in coarse muslin sheets. The fish are preserved by being mixed with pepper and other spices and then dried in the sun. They are a great native delicacy.

"How does that fashionable parasite manage to get on as he does."

"Oh, he's such a jollier."

"Is he?"

"He went to the length of telling Molly Softed that he was sure Cholly had something on his mind."

WAS NO KIDNAPER.

Longshoreman's Story Acquits Him of Serious Charge.

The kidnaper came into court slowly when his name was called. Big, broad shouldered, muscular, huge hands so callioused that he could hardly close them, thanks to handling freight on the great docks, he stood with his head bowed down. The mother whose child had been stolen glared at him from a front seat. On her lap sat the golden haired three-year-old. She waved a pudgy little fist at the kidnaper and beamed and would have crawled off the maternal lap to go to the big fellow had she been allowed.

"I didn't steal the kid, God bless her!" said the kidnaper. "I'm a sort of a bum, I know, and I was drinkin' yesterday an' tryin' to forget. An' when I got into the Battery park the little un run to me an' said, 'Papa.' An', judge, yer honor, sixteen years ago I had a kid just like that, before her mother run away from me an' took the little un along. So we was sittin' on the bench, talkin', an' I was feedin' her some candy I got from a dago when all these people came runnin' up, an' they pinched me."

"You're no kidnaper," said the judge, with decision. "Go downstairs for a day and straighten up." As the longshoreman turned he addressed the mother timidly:

"Please, ma'am, can I kiss the kid—just once?"

ELUSIVE FAME.

How One May Perhaps Grasp This Mocking Will-o'-the-wisp.

Fame is the sum total of all the advertising a man has had, plus his superiority over others. When we desire it most it never comes, and when it does come we have forgotten that we wanted it.

Fame comes either before a man is dead or after. When it comes before it is not so likely to last after; but when it comes after it grows continually. Generally speaking, those who crave it most never receive it—that is, until after they have stopped craving it.

Fame is peculiar to itself. It is not religious or moral or wealthy or social or political. It rises above the Ten Commandments and, like nature, creates its own standards.

Fame is more common among the dead than amoug the living. No man living can be absolutely sure of it. But when it comes to a dead man he can be confident that it will remain.

Fame is the most useless thing in the world. Those who once realize this are the ones most likely to receive it.

To be famous, therefore, live long enough to avoid all rules, work without ceasing, create with courage the thing you take the most pleasure in, and then, having died, calmly await the result.—Judge.

Street Phrases.

In connection with the changes of fashionable street phrases a correspondent of the London Chronicle recalls from a song book dating far back in the nineteenth century a comic song, in which the singer complained that just as he had got used to one inquiry —"Does your mother know you're out?" if memory serves—it suddenly changed, and "now every little blackguard boy cries, 'Tell me, who's your hatter?'" It is remarkable to note the persistence of the hat among catch phrases. "Who's your hatter?" reappeared in much later times as "Where did you get that hat?" At another period the wearer of a white hat was greeted with, "Who stole the donkey?" And the "shocking bad hat" time must also be reckoned. "I'll eat my hat" and "My hat!" as an improvement upon "My conscience!" seem to be permanent tributes to the hat's importance in the order of things.

Latin in the Commons.

Some of the more radical and perhaps less educated members of the British parliament are inclined to find fault because a few of their colleagues are inclined on occasion to quote foreign languages. This recalls the advice of the Duke of Wellington to a young member of the house: "Say what you have to say. Don't quote Latin. And sit down." The celebrated Irish member Bernal Osborne once made use of a Latin quotation in a speech. Then he observed that he would translate for the benefit of the "unlettered millionaires" who sat around him.

The Horse's Nose.

It is easy to tell a horse's character by his nose, according to an army officer. If the profile has a gentle curve and at the same time the ears are pointed and sensitive the animal may be depended on as being gentle and at the same time high spirited. On the other hand, if the horse has a dent in the middle of his nose it is safe to set him down as treacherous and vicious. A horse with a slight concavity in the profile will be easily scared and need coaxing, while one that droops his ears is apt to be both lazy and vicious.

She Obeyed.

"You promised to love, honor and obey," said the husband.

"Well, I don't love, I can't honor and I won't obey," was the response.

"You go at once and buy that new hat," he rejoined, thus at one stroke demolishing all her theories.

That's What Hurt.

"I don't like that there Mrs. Swellman at all," said Mrs. Nuritch.

"Well, you ain't got to take no notice of her," replied Mr. Nuritch.

"But the trouble is she don't take no notice o' me."

Lesson in Physiognomy.

It is all right to rave over Grecian noses in poetry, but the nose we admire in everyday life is the nose that is kept out of other people's business.

A LINK WITH THE PAST.

Fountains Abbey Once a Magnificent Monastery Now In Ruins.

Yorkshire claims some of the busiest towns, the oldest buildings, and the most beautiful views in England. An up-to-date reminder of one of its great antiquities is the announcement that the estate of Thorpe Underwood, which lies between York and Harrogate, and covers 2,150 acres, is to come under the hammer of Messrs. Knight, Frank and Rutley in July next.

The property was formerly a Grange of the rare old Fountains Abbey, and the monks here enjoyed the sporting and fishing which distinguished the place before the Dissolution, when it came into the Mann family, and remains of their original gabled house still exist, also the original stew pond.

Portions of the property were scheduled by Sir John Goodricke when he compounded with the Parliament of 1645 for his "delinquency." A fine mansion in the Elizabethan style has recently been erected in the park.

Fountains Abbey is a sermon in itself. At one time the most magnificent and important of the monasteries of Britain, it is now but a picturesque ruin. It was several times despoiled by the Scots "of land and gear" in the Border wars, of which Yorkshire was too frequently the scene, but it always recovered. After the great rising against the closing of the monasteries, in the reign of the greedy Henry VIII., the last Abbot of Fountains was beheaded.

WILL SOON DISAPPEAR.

People to Leave Off Taking Medicine When They Are Sick.

Sir Frederick Treves, the King's favorite physician, frequently startles the public by his frank utterances of bright paradoxes. It was he who called a crowd of "nurses," who flocked to South Africa out of love of sensation and advertisement, "the plague of women." Speaking recently at the opening of an isolation hospital, he observed that the time was not far distant when the bottles on doctors' shelves would be reduced to a very small number. Resort would be had to simple living, simple diet, and plenty of sun and fresh air. He looked forward to the time when people would leave off the extraordinary habit of taking medicine when they were sick.

Referring to the discoveries in bacteriological science and the great results achieved in the reduction of the mortality from infectious diseases, Sir Frederick said that he looked forward to the time when it would be as anomalous for persons to die of scarlet fever, typhoid, cholera, and diphtheria, as it would be for a man to die of a wolf's bite in England.

A Perversion of Pageantry.

Louis N. Parker regards the Lady Godiva celebration at Coventry as a "perversion of pageantry."

"That organizers have stolen my title, 'pageant,' and applied it to a degrading and indecent spectacle," he remarked to an interviewer recently.

"If pageant necessitates searching for a woman who is willing to ride naked through the streets of a town non-existent at the period represented, in celebration of an event that never took place, it is all up with pageants.

"In all probability the story itself is a myth, but even though it cannot be considered as an historical event, it ought at least to be represented faithfully if at all.

"If the people of Coventry were to shut themselves up in their houses while Lady Godiva rode through the town and if all Peeping Toms were to be struck blind, then only would the legend be properly portrayed."

The Slim Boer.

A Dorchester correspondent forwards an extract from a private letter just received from Cape Colony. It is a fitting postscript to the remarks of Thomas Bent on the subject of the reception given to Mr. Botha in England. The extract reads:

"In the present state of South Africa we should not care to invest in a mortgage. We do not know whether we are most amused or disgusted at the fuss made over Botha and the fools the English are making of themselves; also the wily Dutchman's suggestion for Boer Volunteer Force, with field guns! If England agrees to this she can look upon South Africa as lost to her, for in spite of their protestations of loyalty, the undercurrent of disloyalty is as great as ever, and we are openly laughed at for our credulity and blindness. Every one gets consideration here except the loyal Englishman. Why is it?"

The Handshake In Norway.

Whenever we give a sufficient pourboire in Norway we were rewarded either by a charming little courtesy and "manje tak" (many thanks) from chambermaid or waitress or a serious handshake from porter, driver or guide. This habit of thrusting out the hand for a farewell shake, a little annoying to English travelers, is a sign of that independence which is so pleasing in Norway.—New York World.

Not Her Business.

Husband — Another new dress! Where do you suppose I shall get the money from to pay for it? Wife—You must excuse me. I didn't marry you to give me financial advice.

RIOT AT OXFORD.

Truncheons and Fire Hose Used In Fierce Fight.

Consequent on the great excitement caused amongst the junior members of Oxford University by the gaining by Christ Church of the headship of the river, and the great success of Merton in the boat races, an attempt was made to set fire to the stand erected upon the pageant ground, which adjoins Christ Church meadow and Merton fields. The design had been anticipated, and precautions had been adopted, a force of police, reinforced by members of the Volunteer Fire Brigade, who attended with one of their steam fire-engines, having been engaged by the committee. Bonfires were lighted as usual by the undergraduates in the Merton fields, and when the available fuel grew scarce a rush was made by two or three hundred of them for the planks and other material on the other side of the river. On endeavoring to cross the bridge they received a check, but only momentarily. A large number of punts were brought down by a detachment of the attacking force from Magdalen, and these, being massed together, enabled the undergraduates to get in the rear of the police, who were defending the bridge. The fire brigade were then summoned, and directed their hose upon the crowd, but owing to the state of excitement of the young men, this had no effect in stopping the rush, and a free fight ensued. The police were compelled to use their truncheons, and consequently fell back, confining their exertions to an endeavor to preserve the grand stand. Meanwhile, the crowd swarmed over the ground, cut the hose, and set fire to the secretary's tent, the flames being fed by a large number of chairs and the loose timber lying about the ground. Several attempts were afterwards made to gain a footing on the stand, but the firemen having replaced their hose the assailants were either washed off or thrown off by the police. The excitement lasted until soon after midnight, when the undergraduates gradually dispersed, having committed damage to the extent of several hundred pounds. No arrests were made, and it was only owing to the forbearance of the police that the consequences were not much more serious.

THE QUEEN'S VIOLETS.

Her Majesty's Gracious Act to Little Invalid Child.

A beautiful story was told some time ago by all the London newspapers of a recent incident in which the principals were the Queen and a workman's child. The little girl, whose name is Violet Victoria Veldon, is suffering from consumption, and was taken to the Catholic Apostolic Church in Camberwell to be blessed before entering the Brompton Hospital. In church the Princess Victoria's illness was announced, and prayers were offered for her recovery. On returning home the child wrote a little letter of sympathy to Her Royal Highness. The reply was unexpected. One evening a carriage drew up at the door. What followed is told most vividly by our contemporary in Mrs. Veldon's words:

"'Well, what should he do but knock at our door.

"'Does Mrs. Veldon live here?' says he, taking off his hat.

"'Yes,' I said. For the life of me I couldn't make out what it meant.

"'Then, the Queen's sent this.'

"And he handed me the basket of flowers you see standing in the window. For the moment I was too taken aback to understand."

"'The Queen?' says I.

"'Yes, her Majesty has sent these flowers, and this note to your little girl.'

"Before I knew where I was he had gone, leaving me with the flowers in one hand, and the note from the Queen and the Princess in the other."

In a large white and gold-enamelled basket was a perfect wealth of tulips, sweet-scented lilies of the valley, delicate ferns, and one perfect bunch of violets, the little invalid's name-flower. So, with the inclusion of her Majesty's favorite lilies, an act gracious enough in barest outline was beautified into one of those delicately personal courtesies which have rooted the royal family deep in the hearts of the people. Mr. and Mrs. Veldon distributed the violets among their friends, keepsakes of their little girl and her Queen.

Beginning Well.

"Begin your stories well," said an author, talking to a group of literary beginners. "There's nothing like a good beginning. Indeed, it's half the battle." Then, with a smile, this excellent beginner of stories added: "Always bear in mind the case of the young man who, desiring to marry, secured a favorable hearing from his sweetheart's irascible father by opening the interview with the words: 'I know a way, sir, whereby you can save money.'"

The Best Fiction.

The fond husband was seeing his wife off with the children for their holiday in the country. As she got into the train he said, "But, my dear, won't you take some fiction to read?"

"Oh, no," she responded sweetly; "I shall depend on your letters from home."

She Wasn't Engaged.

"And do you have to be called in the morning?" asked the lady who was about to engage a new girl.

"I don't has to be, mum," replied the applicant, "unless you happens to need me."

Best Sleep of All.

"I see that an eminent physician declares that two hours of sleep before midnight are worth more than six after that hour."

"Nonsense! Two hours of sleep after you're called in the morning are worth more than anything else."

Conflicting.

"Haven't I told you," asked the father, "always to tell the truth?"

"Yes, you told me that," the young man admitted, "but at another time you told me never to become the slave of a habit."

WAIF'S FRIEND HONORED

KING CONFERS KNIGHTHOOD UPON MR. JOHN KIRK.

Marked Fortieth Anniversary of His Work Among Slum Children—Quaint Incident at Buckingham Palace—King Was Alone at Work—Honor Was Unexpected — How Ceremony Was Performed.

The King recently conferred the honor of knighthood on Mr. John Kirk, organizer of the Fresh Air Fund and secretary of the Ragged School Union, on the fortieth anniversary of his work among the children of the slums.

The honor fell unexpectedly on Mr. Kirk. He had merely regarded the command visit to Buckingham Palace as a preliminary to the testimonial which was to be presented to him by the Lord Mayor. The Marquis of Northampton, the president of the Ragged School Union, knew of the coming honor, but by request of the King said nothing to the future Sir John.

Plain Mr. John Kirk therefore called for the Marquis of Northampton, and proceeded to Buckingham Palace, where upon the very threshold arose a quaint little incident.

A servant in the royal livery approached and handed to Mr. John Kirk a letter, which was addressed as follows:

To the postman:

Mr. John Kirk, secretary of the Ragged School Union: To be delivered by Thursday next, the 23rd inst., at Buckingham Palace, where he is to attend to receive the royal and personal congratulations of King Edward VII.

The letter, it appeared, was from one of the oldest scholars of the Ragged School Union. In fact, Sir John believes that the writer of the letter and one other man—both of whom live in Portsmouth—are the only people now alive who were pupils in the school founded by John Pounds, a Portsmouth cobbler, to whom the union owes its conception.

Cheered by this missive, which was couched in queer but affectionate terms, Mr. John Kirk proceeded upstairs and along many corridors to the apartment from which he was to emerge Sir John.

The King's Reception.

When he and the Marquis of Northampton were ushered in, they found the King alone, and evidently in the thick of a heavy morning's work, for an air of business pervaded the whole room, and His Majesty's writing table was laden with neat piles of papers.

The King immediately shook hands with Mr. Kirk, and showed his intimate knowledge of the work of the Ragged School Union by making the following charming little speech: "I remember quite well the dinner to the cripples at the People's Palace, at which the Queen and I had the pleasure of being present ten years ago."

Mr. Kirk hastened to express his gratification, and His Majesty asked several questions concerning the welfare of the union.

Then the King said: "I suppose you know that I wish to signalize your forty years' work by knighting you?"

This news came like a thunderclap to Mr. Kirk, who could scarcely find words with which to murmur polite protests. The Marquis of Northampton, however, intervened. "But you must accept the honor, you know," he urged.

"Now," said His Majesty, "I must ask you to kneel, Mr. Kirk." At the same time the King pressed an electric bell, and an attendant entered with a sword.

This His Majesty took, and laid for a moment lightly on Mr. Kirk's shoulder. "Rise, Sir John," was the royal command, and Sir John Kirk stood up, confused by the honor which had been done him.

The King at once set him at his ease by shaking him heartily by the hand and saying, "Give our congratulations to Lady Kirk."

This instruction Sir John immediately carried out, for having bade His Majesty good-bye he at once proceeded to a telegraph office, whence he despatched the following brief but touching little message to his wife: "Sir John's loving greeting."

City Vandalism.

The historical building in Bishopsgate street, London, known for enturies as Crosby Hall, will shortly be pulled down to make room for a new bank. Crosby Hall was built by Sir John Crosby in 1466, and was purchased by the Duke of Gloucester, afterwards Richard III. At one time it was the residence of the lord mayors of London, and was the home of Sir Thomas More, Queen Elizabeth presided there at a feast, at which such notabilities as Spenser, Sidney, Richard Grenville, Raleigh, Drake and Hawkins were present. Crosby Hall escaped destruction in the great fire of London, the banqueting hall being uninjured. It afterwards underwent many vicissitudes, becoming in turn a conventicle, a warehouse and a restaurant.

Mohammedan meals begin with salt and end with vinegar. The salt defends the believer from seventy diseases; the vinegar assures him increased prosperity.

ENGLAND

A Rochdale undertaker has had a startling experience. Recently a traveller named James Fegan, 26 years of age, was taken seriously ill with pneumonua at his lodgings. During the whole night he was extremely ill, and then apparently died. The undertaker was informed, and 3 hours after death was supposed to have occurred he proceeded to the lodgings of Fegan. When he reached the room he found the man's head propped up with pillows rather high, and one of the pillows was removed in order to secure a more correct measurement. The undertaker had already taken one measurement, and was proceeding with a second in order to verify the first when he was startled to see the body slightly heave. At first he thought he must have been mistaken, but after waiting a second or two, the body heaved again, and there was a slight twitching of the eyelids, which had been closed by the person who had "laid out" the body. The undertaker then plunged the man's hands into a jug of cold water, and the shock caused him to speak. He muttered, "Oh, I'm cold." (He had lain in a cold room three hours with only a sheet covering his body.) By means of brandy Fegan revived so much that in half an hour he was, with assistance, able to sit up in bed. Medical attention was given, and he soon recovered.

John Burton, the proprietor of a noted curiosity shop at Falmouth, who has entertained kings and statesmen with his dry wit, died recently, at the age of 68. Lord Rosebery once remarked that Burton was the greatest curiosity in the shop. When King Edward visited Falmouth he asked Burton to send him a selection of articles, but the proprietor of the curiosity shop declined in the following letter:

"Respected Albert Edward,—I much regret to find you are indisposed. If I were to bring a waggon load of samples it would be utterly impossible to convey the remotest idea of my ponderous conglomeration of curios, but if I could possibly prevail upon your Majesty to go through my shanty, I would give you local wit and humour that would throw you into such a state of laughter as would probably counteract your cold.—Yours until we meet in the next hotel. John Burton."

The king laughed heartily on reading the letter, and subsequently made purchase from Burton by commission. Burton started as a hawker of crockery, and died a wealthy man. He tried on one occasion to purchase Smeaton's lighthouse at Eddystone—when that structure was about to be taken down to make way for the new lighthouse. On another occasion he made an offer for the fire escape which figured in the Parnell-O'Shea episode.

A considerable sensation has been created by a report presented to the Halstead (Essex) Board of Guardians by the visiting committee stating that in their opinion there are persons in the county lunatic asylum who ought not to be there at all. A member of the committee, expressed his conviction that some of the patients in the asylum seemed perfectly sane, and could be looked after in the workhouse. The majority of those who are sent from the rural districts, like Halstead, to be cared for in the county asylum are aged folk suffering from senile decay and dotage generally. The patients from Halstead union are said to be quite conscious of where they are and the knowledge has a depressing effect upon them. It is frankly admitted by the asylum authorities that many patients are in the institution suffering only from infirmities and old age. Such people are certified on the testimony of relatives that they rave and cry out at night or tear up their clothing. Their presence in workhouse dormitories, therefore, is disturbing to all the other inmates. The method of certifying lunatics is declared to be wrong. It is alleged that there is an unconscious bias on the part of doctors to sign the certificate and pocket the guinea fee.

SCOTLAND

A sad story was told recently in an Edinburgh court when Matthew Pearson Dobie was charged with assaulting and murdering his father. Counsel for the defence said that the prisoner seemed to have been in the past, a sober, temperate and well-behaved man, and had never been in trouble previously, and had been for sixteen years in the employment of one firm. The deceased was addicted to drink, and when in his cups was of an abusive nature. On the night of the event the prisoner returned home about 8 in the evening. He had been looking for work. His father on the other hand had been loading draff for some farmers in return for a quantity of beer. The father was in bed much the worse for the beer. A quarrel sprang up over a letter that had just arrived, and the father seized a galvanized iron pail and threw the contents over the accused and struck him on the head. It appears that the son much enraged by the nature of the contents of the vessel, and by the wound in the head, and the blood flowing down his face, fell into a rage and he seemed to have lost control of himself absolutely, because he remembers nothing distinctly until his mother came in. His father was lying on the floor and accused and his mother put him to bed. The father survived to the following day and the accused tended him carefully. The Lord Justice-Clerk in sending him to penal servitude for eight years, said there was no doubt that prisoner had been subjected to considerable provocation.

The question of displaying the Scottish Lion on unofficial buildings, which has been referred to more than once in recent weeks, was again brought to the front in connection with the Lord High Commissioner's visit to the Assemblies at Edinburgh, the other day. The police were early afoot keeping an eye on the flags. About half past eight o'clock in the morning, a policeman called at the Workingmen's Club, in Infirmary street, and asked that the Scottish Lion, which had been hoisted over the building, should be taken down. After some hesitation, this was done. The flag had been displayed on other occasions without any official objection being taken—indeed as late as the occasion of the visit of Prince Fushimi. Hitherto the Scottish Lion has been amongst the most familiar of decorations on national occasions, but by Royal command it is now reserved for Royal residences and State buildings, on the rare occasions of Royal visits. The old Scottish National Flag, the white St. Andrew's cross on blue ground, is for decorative purposes. Several clubs and societies use the lion as their crest, and their right to do so in future may be challenged.

A thrilling story was related by a member of a party of fifteen fishermen, part of the crew of the wrecked vessel La Fole, of Dunkirk, who recently sought refuge in the Sailors' Home, Leith. Off the west of Iceland the vessel experienced stormy weather, and on the morning of the 27th of April, she sprang a leak and quickly filled. With ropes around their bodies two of the crew swam ashore through the boiling surf, and, at considerable risk, the rest of the crew were taken off. After reaching the land the men had to walk for an hour and a half in the snow till they came to a small house, where, being provided with horses, they were set on the road for Reykjavik, five days travel distant. The captain and two of the men are still in Iceland.

IRELAND

A farmer in the south of Ireland has a herd of about thirty-five cows, which are turned out to graze daily in a pasture some distance from the farm house and it has been the duty of the farmer's son, a lad of sixteen, to go after the cattle each night, and drive them home to be milked. Some time ago the boy found a hawk's nest, took the young ones home and raised one as a pet. Since then the hawk has always accompanied the boy. One day recently, the boy hurt his foot and was unable to go after the cows. The farmer had no one else to send; but at the usual time the cows came trooping in, not one was missing, and flying along in the rear of the herd was the pet hawk. Next evening the hawk again started out after the cows, but this time he was watched. First the bird drove all the cows together by assailing each straggler separately. Then the entire drove was started toward home. If a cow loitered the hawk flew after her, pecked at her back, and beat her with his wings. When all the cows were in motion the hawk perched himself on the horn of the rear one and calmly watched the progress of his charges.

The death is reported by drowning in Dublin Bay of Michael J. Dunn K.C., the well known Irish barrister, and his nephew, Michael F. X. Dunn. The two gentlemen left Kingstown one afternoon recently, with the intention of sailing to Dublin, and between one and two next morning Mr. James Dunn, son of Mr. Dunn, K.C., alarmed at the non-arrival of the yacht, cycled along the strand. At Pigeon-house Fort he found the body of his father in about two feet of water. Life was not quite extinct but before assistance could be brought Mr. Dunn expired. The yacht was subsequently found drifting in the vicinity, and on board the vessel was the lifeless body of the nephew. It is surmised that the yacht capsized, and that after struggling in the water for some time Mr. Dunn and his nephew succeeded in righting her. It is thought that after this the younger man clambered on board and subsequently succumbed to exhaustion, while the elder man was washed away.

A thrilling story of perils at sea was told by the crew of the French barque Moliere, which arrived at Belfast the other day after an eventful voyage from Australia. The Moliere left Port Pirie January last for the Channel for orders. Fairly good weather was experienced until the barque got to the westward of Cape Horn, when a severe gale was encountered. Heavy seas swept the vessel, doing considerable damage, and washing away the two starboard lifeboats. The poop ladders and other deck fittings were swept overboard, and some of the sails were also blown away. Captain Grouhel was on deck at his post when a heavy sea carried him overboard. Owing to the fearful weather prevailing it was impossible to rescue him and he perished. After this the chief officer took command, and navigated the barque to Falmouth, where she arrived after a passage of 117 days.

A remarkable story was related a couple of weeks ago at Dublin City Sessions during the hearing of a case in which a postal official was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for embezzlement. A lady named Miss McLoughlin had some time ago a tenant living with her named Mrs. Walsh. The latter was in the habit of receiving each week a letter containing 36 penny stamps addressed to Miss McLoughlin for Mrs. Walsh. Although Mrs. Walsh had been dead for two or three years the money had been still coming in and Miss McLaughlin had been returning the letters to the G.P.O. until now there are 180 of them lying in the dead letter office.

Great excitement was caused one evening recently in the neighbourhood of a quay at Kildysart, Co. Clare, by the appearance of a shoal of herrings, pursued by a large company of porpoises. Row boats were drawn across the mouth of the inlet and guns were brought into use for the destruction of the porpoises. These creatures, however, made a dash for liberty and with the exception of two, which were shot, they succeeded in getting through the line of boats. On opening the body of one of the dead porpoises a fisherman found it had devoured no less than a hundredweight of herrings.

DOMINION DAY AND HOW THE CITIZENS MAY ENJOY THE HOLIDAY

Many Pleasant Diversions for the 40th Birthday of the Dominion —Cheap Rates Attract a Great Many.

EXCURSIONS FROM CITY

Some of the Attractions for Those Who Will Remain at Home—Athletic Events Scheduled for Monday.

Monday will be a public holiday. On that day Canada will celebrate her fortieth birthday, and loyal citizens in all parts of the Dominion will join in the celebration.

So far as Peterborough is concerned there will be no public Dominion Day demonstration, but advantage will be taken of the holiday to enjoy the day. The special holiday rates on the railways will attract a more than usually large number of persons to spend the few days out of the city.

This year the time limit on single fare tickets is longer than usual, the cheap fare going into effect yesterdya, and all trains on both railways were crowded. This morning there was a repitition of the exodus, the Stony Lake trains having the call, and on both the morning and noon trains for that resort, standing room was at a premium. The Stony Lake season practically opens with the first of July, and to-day a number of cottagers went to their summer homes for the season.

For those who remain at home, however, there is a quiet day in prospect. The days of Dominion Day celebrations have passed, and baseball and lacrosse games are the only events scheduled for the holiday. In the morning the Aretics, of Toronto will play a baseball game with the locals, and in the afternoon the first championship lacrosse game of the season will be played between Beaverton and Peterborough. This event will likely attract a good crowd.

Three excursions are billed for the holiday. The annual outing, under the auspices of the Auburn Sunday School, to Stony Lake will be held, as well as the trip to the same place by the Bible Class of St. Luke's Sunday School.

The trip, however, which will in all probability prove the most attractive will be that to the T.A.S. Park, where the annual picnic of that Society will be held. Trips will be made at intervals during the day to the park, where a splendid programme of athletic sports will be given. With fine weather the crowd on this excursion will eclipse all previous records.

The members of the C.G.E. Angling Club will spend the holiday at their new club house on the Otonabee, near Rice Lake, and the official opening of the new building will be a feature of the day.

Jackson Park will be a popular resort on Monday, and the Radial Railway will provide a special service. All the cars will be on the line for the holiday.

It is probable, too, that advantage will be taken of the holiday by many of the citizens to spend the day in private picnics down the river. Already there has been a big advance order for canoes and skiffs and the prospects are that it will be a difficult matter to secure them on Monday should the weather be favourable.

AN EARLY BLAZE ON UNION STREET TO-DAY

Fire Broke Out in Ruins of a Building Shortly After One

A fire, without doubt of incendiary origin, occurred shortly after one o'clock this morning, in the ruins of a small house on Union street, which had been devasted by a fire some time ago. An alarm was sent in from the corner of Dublin and George street, and the brigade responded quickly. Half a minutes use of the hose extinguished the blaze. Some one had doubtless applied a match to the structure, as a lady living next door heard some one running down the street a few minutes before the alarm was given.

JUNE AN OFF MONTH FOR CUPID; FEWER WEDDINGS THAN USUAL

Cupid has been off the job during the month of weddings, which closes to-morrow. Statistics show that there has not been the usual quantity of weddings during June. Last June almost twice as many weddings were recorded in Peterborough, as there were during the same month this year.

What is the matter with the young people anyway? This is a question many have been asking this month. The man who sells the marriage license wants to know, so does the jeweler, and the dressmaker, and the florist, and the caterer, and the cabman, and a host of others who are today deploring the fact that Cupid has been neglecting golden opportunities.

BRINTON CARPET CO. TO ERECT HOUSES FOR THEIR EMPLOYEES

Will Build Dwellings on Their Property and Rent Them—A New Departure for Peterborough.

WILL BEGIN THIS YEAR

The Brinton Carpet Company is undertaking a new scheme which has hitherto been unknown in the city of Peterborough. The company intend to begin this year to erect dwelling houses on their property to the south of the city for the benefit of their employees. This statement was made to the Examiner yesterday by Mr. G. P. Preen the managing director of the Brinton Carpet factory of Canada.

The decision to build residences on their property breaks all precedents in the history of Peterborough. No manufacturing company of this city has yet undertaken to supply houses for their employees, so that their erection will be watched here with considerable interest.

The raidences to be built will be good, substantial buildings of frame and will be constructed by the company to especially suit the necessities of the employees.

For the first year the company intend to erect only about three houses. They will, however, continue to build next year until they have as many as their surplus property will allow.

The company have found in the past that with their employees living on their property they are more sure of their retention and are therefore in a position to serve them to the best advantage.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien Is Expected To Reach City Sunday Morning

Popular and Respected Priest Returning After Several Weeks Spent Abroad—Visited in Rome.

HERE FOR T. A. S. PICNIC

To-morrow morning Rev. Dr. O'Brien, who has been spending teh last few months on a trip to the British Isles and the Continent, is expected to arrive in Peterborough. It is thought that he will be here on the 5.16 C. P. R. train, word having been received that night to the effect that this steamer would dock to-day.

REV. DR. O'BRIEN,
Who will, it is expected, reach the city early to-morrow, after having visited in Europe

It is understood that the Reverend Doctor has been trying to arrange matters to be in Peterborough in time to attend the annual picnic of the T. A. S., in which he naturally takes a deep interest, and that he will be here to join in that event will be learned with pleasure by his many warm friends.

During his absence Rev. Dr. O'Brien visited Rome, and had an audience with the Pope, and in addition to spending some time visiting the other European countries, and England and Scotland, he spent some time in Ireland, the land of his ancestors.

BARBER SHOPS CLOSE AT NOON ON MONDAY

Will be Open However During Morning of Dominion Day

Monday being a holiday, the union barber shops of the city will be closed for the afternoon, but will be open in the morning until 12 o'clock.

NO ISSUE OF THIS PAPER ON MONDAY

After to-day there will be no issue of the Examiner until Tuesday. Monday, being a public holiday, commemorating the confederation of the Provinces of the Dominion in 1867, the Examiner will not be published, the mechanical and office staffs taking the holiday.

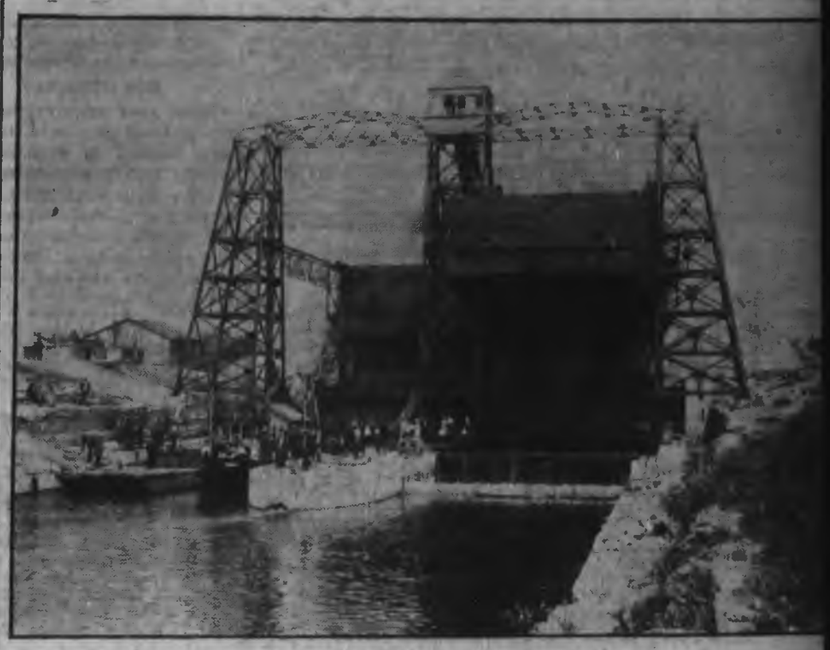
KIRKFIELD LIFT LOCK, THE OFFICIAL OPENING OF WHICH WILL TAKE PLACE ON SATURDAY, JU



It will be noticed from the above illustration of the Kirkfield Lift Lock, taken by the Roy Studio, that it dif[fers] ially in appearance from the Lock at Peterborough, the essential difference being in the superstructure, [which] in the case of the new Lock, is largely of structural steel, instead of concrete

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Is Shown High Honour By German Alma Mater

Is Now Doctor of Philosophy—Fredrick Franz University, of Rostock, Germany, Does Honour

AT RECENT CONVOCATION

The Examiner asks to be allowed to heartily congratulate Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, or, as he is entitled to be hereafter called — Rev. Dr. Langfeldt—upon the honour conferred upon him by his German alma mater. Yesterday Rev. Mr. Langfeldt received the documentary Testamur certifying to his having been given the degree of Ph.D., Doctor of Philosophy,

REV. E. A. LANGFELDT, M.A.
On whom the degree of Doctor of Philosophy has been conferred by His Alma Mater honoris causa, at the annual Convocation of Freidrich Franz University, Rostock, Germany. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt is a graduate of this University, with the degree of M.A., which qualifies him for the degree of Ph.D., so that while the degree conferred is at the same time an earned as well as honorary degree. The university at Rostock decided to confer this honorary title upon several of its graduates, who have, in foreign lands, by distinction in their callings and character, reflected credit upon their country, and their alma mater. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt's many friends in Peterborough and elsewhere will unite in congratulating him, not only upon the honour he has received, but upon being well worthy of it, and in wishing him many happy years to wear it.

ELECTRIC OPENERS ARE WANTED AT FIRE HALL

Doors Have to be Propped Open With Slabs of Wood

The officials of the fire hall are wondering when the city council will attend to the installation of the electric openers on the doors leading from the stables to the large room where the fire apparatus is kept. Six weeks ago the Committee of the Whole agreed to put in the improved openers and the work has not been done. The firemen have to use the ancient method of propping these doors open with slabs—the method in use in the centuries of the past—and it now takes two or three men to assist in getting the teams out. The firemen would like to know if the council is going to attend to this matter in the near future as the electric fasteners are necessary to expedition in getting out the wagons.

Thomas, Organizing Secretary from the head office, Toronto, will be present to address the meeting, and all members (including probationers) are urged to arrange to be present. Mr. Thomas will remain in the city over Sunday.

RECORD SIZED 'LUNGE FOR NEW JERSEY MAN

It is quite apparent that in weighing this fish the weight of the scales was taken into account, as well as that of the fish. Mr. E. Elcomb has received for mounting a lunge caught by a Mr. F. Hall, of Monchir, N. J., and the weight of this monster is represented to be 55 pounds, and the length 55 inches. This pretty nearly constitutes a record. It was caught in St. Lawrence waters.

DOMINION DAY

Forty years ago, the Confederation of Canada became a reality. It was conceived in deadlock and brought forth in compromise. For a few years preceding Federal union of the four provinces, which at first constituted the Confederation, there was a party deadlock. The party in power for the time being could command a parliamentary majority of only two, a circumstance which made effective administration and government impracticable. At this time Mr. George Brown and Mr. John A. Macdonald, united to bring about the Confederation of the provinces. In June, 1864, the coalition government in which both of these gentlemen were members, came came into power, and through its initiative and influence, the Imperial enactment, the British North American Act, uniting "Canada," (that is Upper and Lower Canada), Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, into one Dominion, was passed March 29th, 1867, and brought into effect by Royal Proclamation, on July 1st, 1867. Monday next is, therefore, the fortieth birthday of the Dominion.

The statesmen of that day were patriots who sank their party differences and patriotically united to bring about a condition that destroyed the deadly deadlock which paralyzed the middle sixties, and launched a new nation on the North American continent. The results that two score years have brought must represent a realization far beyond the most roseate dreams of the "Fathers of Confederation." Then we were four weak provinces, with a small population and limited development. Now we have gathered in enough to say "We are nine"—flourishing provinces. In all these, from ocean to ocean, over a thousand leagues of Canadian soil, the leaven of development is working like a mighty ferment. We have become a nation, a consolidated, yet expanding nation, infinitely advanced in character and achievement from the scrappy collection of provinces we were on the first Dominion Day. We have grown mightily in all the elements of true nationhood. Our commerce, and manufactures, our culture, our literature, have thriven apace. We have shown that, potentially, we are the granary of the Empire. We are respected abroad. What is better, we are worthy, and showing ourselves every day worthier of that respect. Our soil is the highway of the Empire; we have bound the East and the West of the world, with triple links of steel, continent long. We do not boast, but are humbly, yet proudly grateful to the Divine Providence that has prospered us, and made us what we are. When we, of mature years, look back upon the day of small things, which the Dominion was when it saw the light forty years ago, and compare it with what we are now, and what our destiny declares, will be our portion, we have reason to admire, the wisdom, foresight and patriotism, of the Fathers of the Dominion, who, optimistic as they were, builded better than they knew; to feel grateful for the divine benediction which has gone with us, like a pillar of cloud by day, and by night a pillar of fire, guiding us onward, and upward. When we think on all these things we have reason to rejoice on our national anniversary, and be glad on Dominion Day—

Let other tongues in other lands,
Loud vaunt their claims to glory,
And chaunt in triumph of the past,
Content to live in story.
Though boasting no baronial halls,
Nor ivy-crested towers,
What past can match thy glorious youth?
Fair Canada of ours.
Fair Canada,
Dear Canada,
This Canada of ours.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Fergus Kyle's Dominion Day cartoon on Saturday Night's front page is the most timely and best of the Confederation quadridecade.

The fact that so many of the fish caught are big ones may, perhaps, be explained by the suggestion that the scales are weighed with the fish.

On the other hand, says the Toronto Star, many people will commend Colonel Denison for his practical effort to establish cricket manners in all field sports.

"Toronto has the worst children of any city on the continent," says Mr. Henry O'Brien, K. C., of that city. Of course! What else could you expect, asks the Ottawa Free Press, from a city which elects nothing but Conservatives to Parliament?

The first Governor General of the Dominion of Canada was an Irishman, Viscount Monck, who was a descendant of Charles Le Moyne, who was sent by Louis XIV of France to represent le Grand Monarque in Canada, then called New France. There is therefore a sentimental connection of the French race with the inception of the Dominion.

When Jimmy Reynolds, the Port Hope pedestrian barber, collapsed in his long distance walk at Newcastle the residents of that hamlet raised $60 in a few minutes. When Longboat, the "Toronto" runner, conquered the continent and came home a victor, Toronto raised $30 of an educational fund. Others, besides he who runs, may read.

Let the middle aged Canadian who remembers first Confederation Day, shut his eyes for the moment and call up this country as he saw it then, then open his eyes and look at Canada, after the lapse of forty years. He will be astounded at the change and at the tremendous progress that has been made in every department and detail of national interest. The Canada of then was no more like the Canada of to-day than was the hob-bledehoy freckled awkward lad in knickerbockers, compared with the alert bank manager, successful business man or professional man into which he has developed.

The Hamilton Spectator, whose party loyalty justifies to itself almost anything done by its leaders in the interests of the political family, from arson to manslaughter, must be badly bit when it ventures to reprove Mr. Whitney, Prime Minister. The Spectator remarks in a disgruntled tone of handwriting that the people expected "when Mr. Whitney (but the organ does not say Prime Minister (Whitney) became Premier, to have some changes made, along the lines laid down in the Stony Creek speech, and we are obliged to admit that, so far, these reasonable expectations have been disappointed and that—so far as Hamilton is concerned, at any rate—the people are worse off than they (were under Ross." Perhaps the Spectator could not even regard the suggestion that the Education Department is wooden-headed in more than name of the leader of the triumvirate by which it is manned.

Business Systems Establish A New School Of Commerce

New Unionism Methods Which Enterprising Concerns Will Introduce in Toronto Soon.

MODERN BUSINESS SCHOOL

There are two kinds of education, the kind that is taught in the public schools, mostly rudimentary and to discipline the mind, and the kind that aims to fit a man for his profession or business. The lawyer, the doctor, the druggist, the teacher, the dentist and the minister, they all have their special training schools and colleges; but what about the young man who wants to fit himself for the commercial world, for the business of business? The salesman, the office clerk, the future manager—where is he to learn his work? What provision is made among the colleges and universities for the class that comprises about nine-tenths of the wage earning population of the country.

True, certain business colleges have done some good work along this line; but they cannot be said to have kept pace with the rapid progress that modern business and modern business methods have made. They have waited until a demand along certain lines has been created by the business world before they have made any effort to prepare students to fill that demand. New ideas have come to light that these business colleges have not got hold of; new appliances have been invented of which they do not teach their students the use; and new systems have been introduced that have far eclipsed the methods they teach. Between the modern business world and the methods taught by the average business college, there is a wide gap.

The Directors of Business Systems, Limited, of Toronto, constantly in touch with the largest commercial houses throughout the Dominion, who are installing new methods of accounting, note that one of the greatest difficulties with which business men have to contend is the finding of capable men to take charge of their offices. These business men are willing to pay good salaries to secure thoroughly competent help but it is next to impossible to get it.

In order, therefore, that they have a number of men and women always ready to fill such positions, the directors of Business Systems, Limited, have arranged for the establishment of Business Systems Commercial School, Limited—a business school on lines entirely new in the field of commercial education. Where the ordinary business college educated mere bookkeepers, Business Systems Commercial School, Limited, will educate specialists in modern methods, teaching not only in the form devised by Business Systems, Limited, but introducing all the most recent innovations in modern accounting. The school is in quest of bright, aggresive young men and women who have latent in themselves, the germ of success, and to all of this type who graduate, good positions are open in which they can be immediately placed.

The new school will be located at 46-52 Spadina avenue, Toronto, and will occupy the second and third floors of "Systems Building" a large new building recently erected by Business Systems, Limited, for their rapidly growing business.

The fall term opens September 3rd, and booklet on the course taught will be gladly sent on request.

Piano Played While The House Was Rolled Along

Daily Duties in a Sherbrooke Street Boarding House Never Stopped While it Turned Completely Around.

MR. McCARTHY, CONTRACTOR

While the piano played and while the family and seventeen boarders ate their meals and walked about, the large two storey and a half frame building on Sherbrooke street, between Aylmer and George, was moved from the front to the rear of the lot. This difficult feat was performed under the supervision of Mr. Albin McCarthy, the widely known house mover of East City, by the Messrs. Huffman, of Millbrook.

The big dwelling, which is owned by Mrs. Kelly of Brock street, is used as a boarding house, and during the whole time that it crept inch by inch across the lot it was occupied by about twenty persons. Last night it was placed safe and sound in its new site, completely turned around. It was raised off one cellar and carefully rolled along several feet and put on another. No less than thirty-five rollers had to be utilized in the difficult operation and the fact that no damage whatever was done speaks volumes for the careful work of the operators. The house was 37x40 in dimensions and the reason for its removal is that a large terrace will replace the old site.

Mr. McCarthy leaves next week readily for Parry Sound, where he has a three months' contract in removing houses from the proposed sites of the new railroad being constructed there.

BANKING BY MAIL, THE BANKING SYSTEM OF THE FUTURE; ITS ADVANTAGES

The Natural Process of Development, Following Shipping by Mail, and Other Uses for the Mails.

A POPULAR SYSTEM

To accept deposits and pay drafts by mail is a new departure for a savings institution. One of the large financial corporations of Toronto, however, has recently introduced into its banking system an up to date feature in the shape of a banking by mail department. This, so far as Canada is concerned, is an innovation, although it has been in successful operation by some of the most important depositories of the United States for some years and has there proved a great convenience to the public.

One of the most pleasing features of the banking by mail idea is that most of the institutions which conduct a mail banking branch allow four instead of three per cent. on deposits and compound the interest quarterly instead of half-yearly, an evidence that such institutions are not only wide awake, but that they are presided over by a broad-minded and progressive board of officers. Four per cent. on deposits, large or small, with the interest compounded quarterly, is a feature which a great many people take advantage of when they become acquainted with it, since four instead of three per cent means an increase of thirty-three and a third per cent in one's income, while compounding the interest quarterly instead of half-yearly means a still further increasing the earning power of money, a point which thoughtful people are not slow to appreciate.

Another desirable feature in connection with the banking by mail principle, from the depositor's standpoint, is the fact that deposits are subject to withdrawal by cheque at any time without notice.

Uncle Sam's mail trains are playing a wonderfully important part in the commercial activities of the United States. The dweller in rural districts, or in out of the way parts, no longer has to depend upon the markets of his own community for the necessities or the comforts of life. The great trading centres have been brought to his door. His rural delivery box, tacked to his front gate, has become the medium of bringing to him every desire, from a newspaper to a piano or an automobile. The habit of doing business by mail has consequently become almost universal and is every day growing.

The more people get to understand the workings of the business by mail system the more they take advantage of it. The great department stores were the pioneers of the business by mail idea. Their methods are familiar to the public. The determination of these houses to make the satisfaction of their customers their chief aim and the spirit of give and take displayed by them, is a matter of common knowledge. Realizing that a permanent business could be built on no surer foundation, the financial companies are following the example of Wanamaker and Eaton in their new departure of banking by mail. They are apparently intent on making good service and satisfied patrons their first consideration.

The idea of banking by mail followed other business done by mail as a natural process of development. Some bright mind saw the need and catered to it. The American public, quick to appreciate a real convenience, responded readily, and banking by mail became an established branch of the banking business. Progressive banking institutions promptly realized the enlarged field of usefulness opened to them through banking by mail, and there are today millions of dollars on deposit with these houses belonging to people who have never seen the institutions with which their money is entrusted. Many of these great banking houses have thus become international in their scope. Their progressive measures have incidentally exercised a strong influence in promoting home the gospel of thrift and economy to every civilized nation.

The depositors' register of one of the best known banking by mail institutions in the United States shows that it now has depositors living in every State in the Union, all but three of the Provinces of Canada, four of the countries of Central and South America, Porto Rico, Cuba, Hawaii, the Philippines, England, Russia, Spain, Germany, Italy, and one or two African countries. Other banks have undoubtedly reached still other points, so that it is no exaggeration to say that banking by mail has in the brief period of its existence, been introduced into all parts of civilization.

The depositors are from every station of life. The cowboys and ranchman of the West welcome the opportunity of placing a portion of their income in a safe place, where it will be earning something for old age or a rainy day. Officers in Uncle Sam's army and navy, stationed in the Philippines and other out of the way corners of the world, have sent orders to Washington for part of their pay to be sent each month to the companies with which they have their accounts, thus obligating themselves to save systematically and regularly. Other depositors are found among farmers, mechanics, laborers, school teachers, professional men, miners, men and women in every pursuit. Even bankers living in sections where interest rates are low send their money to the four per cent paying companies, in order to increase its earning power. Another class of depositors is made up of those who have trust funds to invest. Four per cent. interest, compounded four times a year, without danger of loss or deterioration, is one of the most attractive propositions that can be placed before the average trustee or executor. Hundreds of thousands of dollars of trust funds, therefore, find their way through the mails to the mail banking institutions.

As to the safety of sending money by mail—an important consideration to the depositor—so far as the writer can learn there has never been a dollar lost to depositors through the failure of the mails to take care of their part of the transaction. Millions of dollars travel back and forth over the country every day. In Canada our mails are even more secure than in the United States. In either country, however, if the sender uses ordinary care in addressing and mailing his letter, his express or post office order is just as safe within the envelope as it would be in his pocket. Should the remittance be in currency it can be made secure by registration.

COBOURG'S HORSE SHOW WILL BE FIRST AND THIRD

First in Quality and Character and Third in Numerical Order

Cobourg is ambitious and its ambition takes the form of horseflesh. It has undertaken to present a horse show that promises to be a splendid success.

Cobourg Horse Show

The third Cobourg horse show will be held on August 21st, 22nd and 23rd in Donegan Park, one of the prettiest show grounds in America. Although last year's show was the best ever held in this part of Canada, the show this year promises to be far larger in every respect.

While the show has so many high class events, such as tandem, four-in-hand, high jumpers, etc., the management this year is offering prizes for all kinds of agricultural and roadster classes, and intend showing the public what this section of the country is producing.

The first day there will be a large excursion from Rochester on the Grand Trunk Ferry Boat, carrying about 2000 passengers. The second day is Cobourg Old Boys day and a large excursion from Toronto and elsewhere will take place. The third day has for one of its great attractions a hunt club races and other interesting events. Reduced rates on railways. For prize list and other information application may be made to the secretary, John H. Davidson, Cobourg P. O., Ont.

Last year's show was a great success but that of this year is to eclipse it in every way.

PETERBOROUGH MAN AS MODERATOR

Dominion Presbyterian States That Ex-Mayor G. M. Roger, of This City, is Well Qualified to Fill That Position

A NOVEL PROPOSAL

In the recent discussion on the proposal to elect elders to the Moderator's chair, the name of ex-Mayor G. M. Roger is mentioned by the Dominion Presbyterian as a suitable man to occupy that exalted position, a position which in the past has been invariably held by a clergyman. Referring to this same matter the Ottawa Journal says:

"The Dominion Presbyterian is quite sound in its statement that there is a large quantity of moderator material among the laymen of the Presbyterian church in Canada. Certainly in no other church are the laymen more highly skilled in the science of church government. The Presbyterian seems to imbibe from his birth the intangible but potent spirit of the Presbytery, a spirit born, perhaps, in the blood of the martyrs; and quite certainly tinged with a temper purely racial. It is the habit of the Presbyterian to be a Presbyterian, unless he flies off altogether. And when he reaches Presbytery, Synod or Assembly he has the knack of the thing, whether he be minister or not."

SUN AND SNOW

Sometimes Help the Hair to Go

In any changeable climate the hair is apt to become brittle and to break off stubby here and there. This makes a hair-dressing almost a necessity, especially to ladies. In using a hair-dressing, why not get the best, one that combines with it the efficiency in killing the dandruff germ, the germ that eats the hair off at the roots, causing what is called falling hair, and, in time, baldness. Newbro's ("Herpicide" is that kind of a hair-dressing. You have no idea how delightful your scalp will feel and how stylish your hair will appear, after an application or two of Herpicide. It is certainly a wonderful innovation as a scalp antiseptic and hair-dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. # THREE PREACHERS TO FAREWELL

Two Methodist and One Presbyterian Minister Will Bid Their Congregations Good Bye on Sunday

To-morrow three Peterborough preachers will deliver farewell addresses to their congregations. Two Methodist ministers, Rev. Dr. Crothers and Rev. J. G. Lewis will close their pastorates and will depart for their new fields of labour during the coming week, and the resignation of Rev. Dr. Torrance from the pastorate of St. Paul's church will take effect on that day, so that he, too, will preach his farewell sermon.

Eczema's Itch Is Never Ending

EXCEPT BY ACTIVE AND PERSISTENT TREATMENT WITH THE GREAT ECZEMA CURE.

When left to itself, eczema runs on indefinitely, causing keen distress from itching and covering the body with sores that refuse to heal.

Even with careful treatment, eczema is obstinate in yielding to curative measures, but the regular and persistant use of Dr. Chase's Ointment is the most certain means known of overcoming this torturing disease.

Internal treatments for eczema have long since been discarded, except the use of medicines to regulate the bowels and enrich the blood, while local applications are used to relieve the itching and heal the sores.

It is the remarkable success of Dr. Chase's Ointment in the cure of eczema which has given it world-wide recognition as the standard ointment for itching skin diseases.

Mrs. Robert Clendenning, Welland Station, Ont., writes:—

"For three years my daughter, Fanny, was afflicted with eczema in an intense and persistent form, and for nine days she was totally blind. The burning, itching and disfigurement were horrible, her entire face being completely raw for months, and the distress so great that she could not sleep.

"The best efforts of two eminent physicians failed to even mitigate her awful suffering. One day when I was low-spirited over my daughter's condition Dr. Chase's Ointment was recommended to me and to our surprise Fanny was helped with the first box and she has since been entirely cured by this treatment.

"Her face is now as smooth as a baby's and she is in splendid health. The cure lit for this cure is entirely due to Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I cheerfully give you permission to state my daughter's case, hoping that it will lead many others to secure the same good results."

There are a score of ways in which Dr. Chase's Ointment, with its extraordinary soothing, healing properties, is useful in every home; 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The Mode Of Manufacture Of The Brinton Carpets

The Differences Existing Among the Brussels, Wiltons and Axminster---Human-like Machines That Weave the Webs---The Success of the Brinton Carpet Company, of Canada.

When the city of Peterborough secured the location for the factory of the Brinton Carpet Company, of Canada, is undoubtedly secured an establishment of thrift which promises to be one of the leading factories of the district. It was scarcely over a year ago when the Brinton Carpet Company decided to anchor their ship of manufacture here and to-day they are giving employment to 70 persons with the prospects of doubling that number in the near future, and turning out products which are in the greatest demand throughout the Dominion of Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Although their Canadian factory is scarcely to be compared with the size of their immense establishment in Kidderminster, Eng., yet, the company is doing even more than they anticipated in the brief space of time since their decision to locate on the banks of the Otonabee. They have already almost 40 looms in operation turning out three different kinds of carpets continuously, carpets which are of the finest quality and which are in great demand throughout the Dominion.

The Brinton Carpet Company of Canada have already salesmen travelling all over the Dominion who are fidning ready sales for the high class products of the local factory. Their business is particularly satisfactory to them as they are finding great difficulty in meeting the demands of the retail consumers. Their export shipments are large and greatly in excess of what the company anticipated in such a brief space of time.

At the local factory through which an Examiner representative was given the privilege of a trip recently, are manufactured three kinds of carpets. They are the Brussels, the Wilton and the Brinton Axminster, the latter being exclusively manufactured by the Brinton Company.

The machinary in connection with the various looms is of course, the most interesting part of the manufacture to witness and there are few persons in the city who have any idea of the human-like manner in which they grasp and put in proper place the various materials used in the construction.

Through the kindness of Mr. G. P. Green, the local managing director, the explinations of the various modes of manufacture were given. Mr. Prean, though young in years is old in knowledge of carpet manufacture and is thoroughly acquainted with every step in the process.

Factory Construction

The construction of the factory is of reinforced concrete and steel, with a special English corrugated wiredglass roof made at St. Helens, Lancashire. The heating and ventilating system is one of the most modern. In winter the cold air is drawn through coils of steam-heated pipes and distributed by means of a high speed 12-foot fan through large ducts throughout the building. In summer the cool air from the shady side is drawn in and distributed as before, but it does not pass through the hot pipes.

The various departments of the factory are the boiler house, mechanical department, where repairs are made; store room, yarn washing, dyeing and drying room, winding and sizing rooms, Brussels and Wilton weaving and Axminster weaving departments, drying room for finished goods, shearing, shipping, designing and card stamping, colouring and sample rooms.

In the forement of the eastern end of the factory, the company is now constructing a store room in modern style.

Mode of Construction

The carpets are constructed of worsted yarn made from wool obtained in Canada, Australia and New Zealand. They contain a certain amount of cotton, which is secured in the United States, and there is also a small quantity of jute and Italian hemp in them, the former being obtained in Scotland.

The processes of manufacture are simple to the experienced, but rather complex to those who for the first time have seen the making of the various fancy carpets. The worsted yarn is washed thoroughly in special scouring machines, conveyed through boxes containing cleansing materials and then rinsed and prepared for dyeing, into whatever colours required, by power operated dyeing machines. The latter keep the yarn moving in the boiling dye liquor in order to obtain an even colour. Having been dyed the yarn is placed in an electrical driven hydro extractor, which is a machine for extracting the surplus water by centrifugal force.

The yarn next goes into the drying conveyance, in which it is thoroughly dried and carried into the coloured yarn store. From this it passes to the winding room where it is wound from the skeins on to small spools placed in the spool frames, at the back of the looms.

The cotton jute and linen all have to be dyed, sized and wound on to warp drums, which also are placed in the looms.

Brussells and Wiltons

The process of manufacture for the Brussels and Wilton carpets is somewhat similar. The coloured worsted ends are selected by a jacquard machine, which has cards with holes and blanks stamped in them, and these select the right colours, according to design. The ends are raised up and under them is placed a wire, which is also operated by machinery. They are then carried down and bound into place by strong cotton bindings, which again are held in place by linen weft. The wire is then withdrawn, leaving the well-known loop of the Brussels carpet.

In the case of the Wilton carpet, the binding process is repeated more often and more securely. The wire, too, has a knife on the end, which cuts the Brussels loop and gives the pile known as the Wilton, or velvet pile.

The Brinton Axminster

The process of manufacture of the Brinton Axminster is entirely different from the others in its main features. It has the jacquard to select the colours, but a special gripper, shaped almost like human fingers, takes hold of the selected end, and carries it a distance of 15 inches to the fabric, where it is securely bound in its proper place by means of a binding thread. After the goods are woven they are dried and shorn in the same way that a lawn mower shears the lawn, giving a level, even surface to the fabric. It is then carefully examined to see that it is in perfect order, baled up, and prepared for shipment.

Uses of Designs

The designs are prepared on squared paper and the card cutter takes each square leaving a blank on the jacquard card, corresponding with the position of colours on the squared paper. This blank pushes back a wire rod in the loom causing it to draw up the corresponding colour of the worsted thread below.

The above is a brief description of how the carpets are manufactured by the Brinton Carpet Company, of Canada, the prominence of which is being widely recognized. The company is undertaking a new departure, unknown to Peterborough, in erecting buildings on their property in the south end, for their employees' benefit, an account of which may be seen in another column of this issue.

ST. JOHN'S CHOIR AT IDYL WYLD

Outing Enjoyed by About Seventy-five, Constituting Members of the Choir and Their Friends Yesterday

Thursday, the annual outing of the members of St. John's Choir was held to Idyl Wyld, and a delightful day was enjoyed. The party, numbering about seventy-five, left the Wolfe street wharf at 9.10 a.m. Thursday morning on the steamer Water Lily for Idyl Wyld, arriving about 12.30 p.m. Lunch was at once served, after which a good programme of races was run off, resulting in every boy obtaining a prize. Miss Emily Horsfield and Miss Lulu Seward won the ladies' race, and Mr. George Chandler and Mr. Stanley Richardson won the silver cups in the men's race. Baseball, swinging, boating, bathing, fishing, etc., were heartily enaged in until 5 p.m., when the whole party sat down to tea. Embarking for home at 6 p.m. the party assembled on the deck, when Mr. R. J. Devey presented Mr. N. Greenhalgh with a splendid group of St. John's choir, (just completed by Mr. Roy) and wished him God speed in his journey home to England on Saturday next. Mr. Greenhalgh suitably responded. A very pleasant feature of this year's trip was the exceedingly liberal way in which members of the congregation contributed to the success of the outing. The Church Wardens, Mr. D Hughes Charles and Mr. Chas. H. J. Mitchell, chartered the boat. Mr. A .A. Hollingshead sent a large supply of G. B. candies. Mr. T. Hooper sent a freezer of ice cream, another being provided by Messrs. Chandler, Greenhalgh, Coleman and Richardson. Mr. A. H. Stratton, Mr. W. E. Conway, Mr. MacGriane Wilson, Mr. Hughes Charles, Mr. Taylor and Mr. J. R. Bell contributed the prizes, and Mrs. Bell, of Cedar Park, sent an ample supply of cream.

Rounds of applause were given to all these kindly donors, and the party arrived home about 9.15, having had a real good time. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Devey directed all the arrangements and to them is greatly due the success of the day.

REGULAR BAND CONCERT IN VICTORIA PARK

Numbers Selected for This Evening's Programme

The largest crowd of the season heard the concert given by the 57th Band last night at Victoria Park. The programme selected was one which afforded a pleasant variety, the popular numbers being interspersed with sufficient heavier numbers to give the programme balance. All were rendered in a thoroughly pleasing manner, and several encores were demanded.

The large crowd present last night expressed its admiration of the floral decorations placed by Jordan Bros. in the band stand, and the thoughtfulness of this firm is apparently being appreciated.

WEDDING BELLS

McINTYRE-GILLESPIE

Examiner Special.

Keene, June 28.—A pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Peter Gillespie, near Villiers, Wednesday evening, when her daughter, Jean Gillespie was married to Mr. John McIntyre. Rev. D. D. McDonald, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Keene, performed the ceremony in the presence of about thirty guests. The bride was handsomely attired in white nun's veiling trimmed with lace and chiffon and was given away by her brother, Mr. Alex. Gillespie. The ceremony took place at 7.30. Little Miss Florence Hutchison acted as flower girl. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast.

The bride received numerous and handsome presents. The happy couple will reside in Otonabee.

Ill Temper From a Bad Liver

Calyle justly attributes the ill-temper which made him a monster in the eyes of the world, to a bad liver. Nothing makes one feel more miserable or gloomy and discouraged than liver complaint, and consequent biliousness and dyspepsia, and nothing so thoroughly and promptly sets the liver right and overcomes these ailments as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the great family medicine.

Mr. James Stevenson To Lay The Corner Stone

Of the New Collegiate Institute—Honour Given to Him in View of His Lengthy Connection With the School Board.

AN IMPRESSIVE EVENT

Mr. Jas. Stevenson, for 55 years a member of the Peterborough School Board, will be given the honour of laying the corner stone of the new Peterborough Collegiate Institute in course of erection on Central Park. This decision was reached by the members of the School Board Thursday night in view of Mr. Stevenson's long and faithful connection with the Board extending over the period of more than half a century.

The question was introduced by Dr. Morrison who referred to the feeling of the public that a demonstration in connection with the laying of the stone be held. It was moved by Dr. Morrison, seconded by Mr. Hill that a corner stone be laid on the new Collegiate Institute; that the chairman of the Building Committee be empowered to instruct the architect to have a stone prepared with a hollow in the centre and that the words "Corner Stone, 1907," be cut on it; that the stone be laid at the north-east corner to complete the foundation; that the stone be laid by Mr. Jas. Stevenson and that the chairman have a trowel made suitably engraved and that the arrangements be left in the hands of the Collegiate Building Committee. — Carried.

The Freight Car And Some Of Its Unusual Features

Population of Freight Yards is a Most Cosmopolitan One—Cars From Lines All Over the Country Visit Peterborough.

HOW THEY ARE TRACED

There is no more prosaic or unromantic looking object than a common, ordinary every day railway freight car, but like everything else it has its interesting features, if one looks for them. The magnificent passenger coach is, of course, far superior in the matter of looks, but pure looks are not everything and the freight car has more adventures and covers more territory than does the elaborately finished coach. The passenger car may spend more of its life on one run but the freight car goes everywhere on the continent where the twin line of mile makes progress possible.

Of the proof of this statement the local yards at the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railways furnish an interesting proof. As a rule, the population of the yards, if cars may be spoken of as population, is decidedly cosmopolitan in nature. Freight cars from nearly all the railway lines in the country are to be found there. A Michigan Central car may be seen coupled to a car from the Wabash Line, and in the same train there will be representatives of half a dozen big freight lines.

An Examiner reporter visited both yards last night and found a great many lines represented. Among the number were noticed the following: Boston and Maine, Central, Lehigh Valley, Intercolonial, Sherbrooke Line, Wabash R. R., Pennsylvania Coal Line, New York Central and Hudson River R. R., the Big Four, Baltimore and Ohio R. R., C. and E. I. R. R., Southern R. R., Michigan Central, Chicago and North Western R. R., New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk R. R., Lake Shore and Michigan Southern R. R., Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, Grand Trunk Pacific, the Pere Marquette R. R., Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland and St. Louis and Erie R. R.

A little different from the ordinary freight cars are the refrigerator cars, owned by the big packing houses of the States, which make frequent visits to the local yards. These include Swift's, Armour's and Cudahy's of Chicago, as well as Clarke's of Montreal. The Moonie firm, of London, Ont., manufacturers of biscuits, etc., have a special line of cars as well as other firms in Canada and the United States, and most of these find their way to Peterborough, sooner or later.

Speaking to a local railway official it was learned that the looking after and tracing of freight cars is one of the most harassing and vexing problems in the management of a railway. There is a system in use which, if perfectly carried out, would enable the railway men to tell the whereabouts of any particular car, but this often goes wrong. Cars are transferred from line to line and are often lost sight of for months by their original owners. They may remain for a long period at some small siding or are hurried across the country many hundreds of miles away from the line operated by the company which owns them. Tracers are sent out by the company and in this way most of the cars are kept sight of.

The number of Grand Trunk Pacific cars in use on the Grand Trunk between Midland and Montreal is a matter of comment. The company is having a large number of these cars built and as soon as they are finished, they are placed in commission to prevent any shortage in the supply of cars.

The numbers on the Grand Trunk Pacific freight cars seen passing through the city run as high as 330,000.

The local freight business is very brisk at the present time, and many goods pass through Peterborough daily.

A KIRKFIELD FARMER SUICIDED

Elderly Bachelor Hanged Himself in Barn Near Kirkfield—Was Temporarily Insane

BROTHER FOUND HIM

Examiner Special.

Lindsay, June 29.—The body of Peter Graham, of the 11th concession of Eldon, near Kirkfield, was found hanging from a purline brace, with a logging chain around the neck yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. His brother Duncan, discovered the body hanging limp from the beam, but as it was high above his head, and no ladder being available, he was unable to do anything until he had summoned help from the house, over half a mile distant.

Coroner Dr. Wood, of Lindsay, was notified by telephone and immediately left for the place. He found that death had resulted from the neck being broken, and as the conditions pointed to suicide, decided that an inquest was unnecessary, the rash deed having evidently been committed during an attack of temporary insanity.

The details of the melancholy affair are meagre as yet. The victim was a bachelor and about 60 years old.

Soldier Boys At Barriefield Had An Enjoyable Outing

Their Appearance and Marching Won Words of Praise From Officers---Pleasure Intermingled With Daily Drills---The Sun Burned Many Noses But Everyone Had a Good Time.

The two companies representing the 57th Regiment at Barriefield Camp at Kingston, returned yesterday afternoon, after a four days' trip that combined pleasure and systematic drill. The camping grounds, are in the form of a large commons, about two miles from Kingston, and are of rather high altitude, thus allowing the breezes from Lake Ontario to cool the grounds and thus alleviating to some extent the heat of the midsummer days.

Two companies left Peterborough on Tuesday, under the command of Capt. Mills, with Lt. Hodgson and Lt. Merrit under him, and Capt. McWilliams, with Lt. Best.

There were two other companies from Belleville, in the composite regiment, but the 14th Regiment of Kingston, was unrepresented. The Peterborough companies were larger than the others and were consequently divided into three companies. The third company was placed under the direction of Lieut. Hodgson.

Owing to the serious illness of Lieut.-Col. Helliwell, Major Clegg was given command of the Regi- Capt. Bennett acted as Adjutant, Captain McLean as Quartermaster, and Major Davidson, chaplain, of the 57th, was appointed chaplain of the regiment. Major Vermilyea of the 15th Regiment, was appointed paymaster. The Belleville companies were commanded by Captain Allan, with Lieuts. Hudson, Carman and Bain under him.

Arrival at Camp

The soldiers were given a rest after their journey and had no work to do on Tuesday. For the most part the men strolled about the camp, making friends with the soldiers from the other Regiments, and acquainting themselves with the methods of camp life. There were 3,000 men assembled on the grounds, comprising six infantry and three cavalry regiments, and detachments of the Army Medical Corps, and the Army Pay Corps. The whole camp was under the command of Col. Gordon, commanding in Eastern Ontario, assisted by Lt.-Col. Hemming, Chief of Staff, and Lt.-Col. Young, Deputy-Adjt. General.

The infantry was organized into two brigades, the 6th, under Lt.-Col. John Hayes, and the 7th, under Lt.-Col. E. B. Edwards. The latter included the 47th, the 49th Hastings Rifles, and the composite city regiment.

A large number of Peterborough men were at camp as members of the Third Prince of Wales Dragoons, and a number gained experience with the 45th Regiment, whose headquarters are at Lindsay. This was considered the pick of the rural regiments at the camp.

At Drill

On Wednesday morning the Peterborough boys had an hour and a half of hard regimental drill followed by brigade work for the same length of time. Major Clegg had his first experience in commanding a regiment and acquitted himself in a manner that made the officers feel proud of him.

In the afternoon of that day another holiday was given the local boys, as the other regiments had arranged for one.

Sham Battle

The feature of the outing was the sham battle on Thursday. It took the form of conducting an ammunition convoy from Kingston to Kingston Mills, a distance of six miles up the Rideau. The composite regiment formed a part of the defending force whose duty was to protect the convoy. The duty of the attacking party was to prevent the ammunition being taken through and capture it, if possible. To the composite regiment fell the duty of escorting the ammunition waggons. Capt. Allan, with No. 1 Company, had the advance guard, and Capt. McWilliams, commanding No. 5, had the rear guard; the other three composed the centre.

Result

The battle ended in a draw, the armies meeting at a point where it was impossible to carry out manoeuvres, without destroying private property, which is contrary to the rules. The Peterborough men had no opportunity to meet the enemy, but received an experience of how such convoys are conducted, which is one of the phases of actual warfare. The men showed that they were game for anything that was demanded of them. After marching ten miles in the dust and heat they returned to camp as fresh as at the beginning.

On Friday morning they were up before 5 a.m., had breakfast at 7, and were all ready and on the move at 9.30 a.m. At Belleville a special was provided by the G.T.R., and the trip was made in record time.

The arrangement for transport, for the eating and sleeping of the men, were carried out under the direction of Quartermaster Captain QMcLean, whose work won high praise from the members of the regiment and also the officers in command of the camp.

The showing of the composite regiment was materially improved by the presence of the Bugle Band, which did splendid work, and kept the men to the top notch in marching. The members of the regiment had ample opportunity to enjoy themselves, and see Kingston, and they invariably took advantage of it. It was difficult to get them to bed every night, but they were generally up before the reveille at 5.30 a.m.

They returned home a rather tired but a pleased lot of men, with a considerable addition to their military experience, and greatly improved in their drill.

Incidents

The Major is said to have made a great speech at the Y.M.C.A., in the camp, while the chaplain became so friendly with the boys that they purloined his bedding.

The dwarf officer is said to have tied his tent to his foot, to prevent it being carried away while he had a little nap. Altogether it was a pleasant trip and will be long remembered.

FRED SIMPSON GOING TO LINDSAY

Will Represent Peterborough in the 10 Mile Race Dominion Day

Fred Simpson, the Indian runner from Hiawatha, will be in Lindsay on Monday to participate in the 10-mile road race there. He is being trained by Mr. Dick Baker and will represent Peterborough in the race. Simpson has been practising strenuously for the event and has been making very good time of late. He will run the 10 mile this evening.

OBITUARY.

MRS. BRIAN HELPS

On Wednesday about midnight there passed away in Warsaw, Mrs. Brian Helps, at the advanced age of 75 years, who for over half a century has been a resident of Dummer township. Her death was sudden, due to internal troubles, and she had only been ill a day or two previous to her demise. Besides her husband the deceased leaves to mourn her loss two brothers, Albert, a blacksmith, at Warsaw, with whom she recently lived, and Jas. of Dummer township, and one daughter, Mrs. Samuel Herring, of New Liskeard. The deceased was well and favourably known throughout Dummer in view of the fact of her long residence there. The funeral took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock to St. Mark's Cemetery, Warsaw.

THE TATE OPTICAL CO.
PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

ACCIDENT OR CRIME?

Haywood Defence Wants to Prove General Conspiracy.

HOW SHAFT WAS BLOWN UP

Story of Vindicator Mine Explosion—Wood Denies Orchard's Charges—Left Dynamite in the Shaft—Saw Revolver In Beck's Pocket—Easterly Gives Contradictory Evidence—Scored by State.

Boise, Idaho, June 29.—The effort of the defence to open the way for a showing of a general conspiracy extending over many states on the part of the mine owners to crush out the Western Federation of Miners has now become one of the interesting features of the trial of Wm. D. Haywood. The state is resisting this very earnestly.

So far Judge Wood has ruled that evidence showing a conspiracy in the States of Idaho and Colorado will be admitted on the promise that the defense has not given up their effort to widen the field and yesterday the struggle was resumed.

The counter conspiracy and not the discrediting of Orchard has now come to the forefront. W. B. Easterly who, as a member of the famous Altman Union No. 19 of Cripple Creek, was on the strike committee and who Orchard swore was one of the men with whom he made the arrangement, flatly contradicted every statement Orchard made connecting him with the Independence Depot or the Vindicator Mine.

Clarence Darrow, who is conducting the defence, asserts positively that he proposes to go, directly if possible, into the conspiracy of the mine owners and aliases if he succeeds in broadening the scope he will be able to prove that a widespread conspiracy exists.

Thomas Wood, a miner, testifying for the defence, said that he was in the Vindicator mine on the eighth level at the time of the explosion. He said he saw a revolver hanging loose from Beck's pocket, half an hour before the explosion.

He had left a box of dynamite in the shaft on the eighth level. When he reached the shaft of the eighth level, after the explosion the powder was gone. When he reached the sixth level he found fragments of a revolver on the ground by the bodies of Beck and McCormick. The defence is seeking to show that the explosion was an accident.

W. Easterly and C. D. Copley both swore that they heard Orchard mention his loss in the Hercules Mine, and threaten to kill Steunenberg for it. On cross-examination the state scored Easterly because he received two letters and a telephone message from Orchard on the eve of Steunenberg's murder, and it scored Copley for remaining quiet when the two men knew a crime might be committed. Easterly contended that he did not know Steunenberg lived at Caldwell, and explained that although he knew Thomas Hogan was Orchard, he took no steps immediately after the crime except to consult counsel for the Federation, because he was not an informer.

Copley asserted that he did not take Orchard seriously when they met in San Francisco, and Orchard told him of the Bradley crime.

TO FACE MURDER CHARGE.

Henry Lockyer Committed For Trial At Stratford.

Stratford, June 29.—Henry Lockyer, who in a fight here some weeks ago struck the blow which the Coroner's jury found caused the death of Noah Hills, was brought before Police Magistrate O'Loane yesterday. Crown Attorney McPherson prosecuted, and Mr. W. H. Gregory appeared for Lockyer. Medical and other evidence, which was practically the same as that given before the Coroner's inquest, was heard, and the Magistrate sent the prisoner for trial on the charge of murder. Counsel for the defence tried to have the charge changed to manslaughter, but the court held that the jury might if they wished make a change in the charge. The trial will likely take place at the Fall Assizes in September. Bail was refused.

DEATH STRUGGLE IN WATER.

Captain and Engineer of Fishing Tug Mysteriously Drowned.

Port Arthur, June 29.—Captain John McGinnis and Engineer John McKenzie of the fishing tug James Story, owned by G. M. Titus of Port Coldwell, were drowned in Lake Superior on Thursday at a point between Jackfish and Horne Point. The tug had been run down to Jackfish for coal, and was on the return trip. Besides the captain and engineer two men were on the tug. How the drowning occurred they could not say. The first they knew was when they saw the captain and engineer locked in each other's arms struggling in the water. For a short time they stood spellbound, watching the struggling men, unable to render assistance. As neither knew how to manage the engine, the two unfortunate men were left to their fate. The men on the tug managed to bring the craft to port, where they reported the tragedy. As the drowning occurred in deep water, with no landmark to indicate the place, it is not likely the bodies will be recovered.

MAY REPEAT MASSACRES.

Troops on Russian Frontiers Prevent Armenians From Returning.

Tiflis, Russia, June 29.—On account of the anarchical conditions of Bitlis, Turkish Armenia, where much fighting between Mussulmans and Armenians has occurred, the Russian troops on the Turkish frontier have been heavily strengthened, in order to prevent the transmigration of Armenian refugees, and a spead of the agitation to Russian territory, and also for the moral effect of the movement on the Turkish Government. A repetition of the big Armenian massacres of 1896, when thousands of Armenian refugees crossed the frontier and settled in Southern Caucasus, is feared. The Russian Government first encouraged the movement as a valuable industrial and civilizing factor, but later it felt obliged to prohibit immigration, asserting that the rapid occupation of Tartar lands by colonists was responsible for the Armenian-Tartar racial warfare, which has since periodically drenched Southern Caucasus with blood.

RECTOR WAS BLACK SHEEP.

Deposed Chicago Clergyman Suspected of Poisoning His Wife.

Chicago, June 29.—Walter Swinburne Hancock, who is under surveillance in London, suspected of poisoning his wife, was, during 1896 assistant rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, one of the leading churches of the denomination here, and was inhibited by the late Bishop McLaren upon charges preferred by Rev. James S. Stone, who is still rector of St. James' Church. Hancock came to Chicago from St. John's, Nfld., and investigations made there by Bishop McLaren showed him to have been a "man of evil repute." "The charges brought against Hancock here," said Mr. Stone Thursday night, "were that he was given to consorting with lewd women. They were never made public, but Bishop McLaren was convinced of his guilt. Being a British subject, Hancock could not be deposed, and after his inhibition he dropped out of sight."

"ALL-RED" ROUTE CRITICIZED.

Government May Not Endorse Lloyd-George's Concessions.

London, June 29.—(C. A. P.)—Referring to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's scheme of an "all-red" route to Australia through Canada, The Yorkshire Post says this was the subject on which Lloyd-George was pressed very hard by the colonial Premiers, and it may be found that in the end he conceded more than his colleagues in the Government will be disposed to endorse. At any rate he has aroused the suspicion of some of the Radical economists. Concluding, The Yorkshire Post says it is doubtful whether our recent experiments in subsidies have been beneficial to the country. The fruit dealers recently protested that the subsidy paid Sir Alfred Jones is decidedly injurious to their trade.

Sixteen scenes, illustrating a thousand years of history, the arranging of which has been in the hands of Oxford's best scholars and writers, including Stanley Weyman, Laurence Housman and A. T. Quiller-Couch, formed a beautiful spectacle of pictorial imaginative drama.

Fifty people were on board and eight men sitting on the stern and ten canoes on the hurricane deck were sent over into the river. Four struggling men were swept down the rapids. ### STRUGGLE WITH MADMAN.

Old Man Meets Death in Scuffle at Montreal Hospice.

Montreal, June 29.—While struggling with an insane man, Augustin Loizeau, 62 years old, met death last night in a cell of the Hospice Camelin, a charity institution at the corner of Fallum and St. Catharine street. During the scuffle, which had arisen because Joseph Sorel, an insane inmate, refused to go to bed, Loizeau fell violently to the floor, and severed an artery in his neck, which caused him to expire in a few moments.

Joseph Sorel, the insane man, is now locked up in a padded cell of the Central Police Station, pending the coroner's inquest into the case. There was only one witness of the struggle. This was Adolphe Vaurin, the keeper, who had first tried to persuade Sorel to retire. The latter, who had never previously showed signs of violent insanity, refused to obey the order, and a struggle between the two ensued, during which the keeper called upon Loizeau, who was a boarder, to come and help him. To a morgue employe, who went down to the institution for Loizeau's body, Vaurin said that Sorel had kicked him in the stomach during the struggle, and that Loizeau on coming to intervene also received a violent kick, which caused him to fall to the ground.

The Government made it 14c, but the porters, who demanded 17 1-2c, have now definitely decided to do out on strike unless they are paid the money demanded.

EARTHQUAKE IN ENGLAND.

Buildings Were Shaken—Seismographs Record Unrest.

London, June 29.—A severe earthquake occurred at Anglesey on Thursday. Buildings and their contents were much shaken. Otherwise the shock was harmless.

Various seismographs recorded much unrest at different times. Prof. Belar reported a very violent shock, lasting two hours, 2,500 miles from Laibache. Mr. Milne reported a great disturbance 7,200 miles distant, probably in the East Indies.

Modest Contributors.

A man was coming up from Chemchen province with a sum of money which had been subscribed for the payment of the public debt. He was met by robbers, who took the money and started away. He called after them that the money was a subscription to the fund for the raising of the debt, whereupon they came back and handed him the money and begged his pardon for their mistake, and they gave him 10 yen extra as a contribution on their own part. He asked their names to publish in the papers, but they said they did not want to obtain notoriety in that way and declined, but said they were glad to pay something toward helping the country.—Korean News.

English Versus French Roads.

In England it is almost impossible to attain speed with safety. The roads twist and turn and the walls and hedges prevent the driver's seeing what there is beyond a curve. An average pace of twenty-five miles an hour is fairly good time in England. Of course the country is settled much more thickly than France, which adds to the danger of speeding. Speed laws are enforced with severity in England, but if you will try the mettle of your motor cross the channel. In France the road is yours.

Tampering With the Truth.

A schoolteacher trying to explain to his class the meaning of the word "conceited" said:

"Suppose I would go around saying, 'Look how good I am to my class,' or bragging about how much I know or how good looking I am—what would you say I was?"

"A liar," instantly responded his class.

Not a Mourning Suit.

Brown—I just met White a few minutes ago on his way downtown to recover his son's body. Green—You don't tell me! Was his son drowned? Brown—Oh, no. But his father said he needed a new suit of clothes.

Young Children's Narrow Escape From Injuries

Gentleman Driving Last Night Reports Gross Carelessness in Parents Out With Children on the Streets.

A WARNING ISSUED

Two narrow escapes from accidents which might easily have resulted seriously are reported to-day. The blame, it appears, too, rests with mothers of small children. A gentleman who was driving last night informed the Examiner that twice he nearly ran down young children about five years of age who ran across the street in front of his horse, which was trotting slowly. Had he not been driving slowly he thought that both the children would have been knocked down and seriously hurt.

It appears, from the information supplied the Examiner, that had the children been hurt only the parents or those in charge of the children would be to blame. Young children, of tender years who are left to roam about the streets on a Friday night, when there are many vehicles out are running a great risk, and should they be injured the parents will have themselves to thank for it.

PATRIOTIC SERVICES AT ST. ANDREW'S

The Pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter, will Preach Special Sermons To-morrow

To-morrow, the day preceding Dominion Day, appropriate services will be held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. At both the morning and evening services special subjects will be spoken on by the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter. In the morning there will be praise service, and the sermon will be from the text "Thanks be to God, who leadeth us in triumph," and at the evening service the subject will be "The unique method of Christ in raising a world empire." In connection with these services there will be a special offering for Home Missions.

C. P. R.'S NEW CROSS-CONTINENT FLYER

"Trans-Canada" Makes Fastest Time Across America

The business of the country is growing to such an extent that the C. P. R. finds it necessary to run an additional train between Montreal and Vancouver, making three trips a week during July and August. This train, which will be known as the "Trans-Canada Limited," will make the fastest time of any train across the American continent. It will carry baggage car, dining car, and palace sleeping cars only, of the very latest design and with most modern appointments, and only first class passengers will be carried. She will leave Montreal on the first trip July 2nd. Berths can be reserved in Toronto for passage from North Bay to points west of Winnipeg at which the "Trans-Canada Limited" stops. Passengers will be carried from Toronto for Winnipeg or points east thereof, as Winnipeg passengers arrive only one hour later by taking the "Imperial Limited." List of stops, full particulars and berth reservations can be obtained at C. P. R. local ticket office, or from C. B. Foster, D.P.A., C.P.R., Toronto.

KEEP THE CHILDREN WELL

Stomach and bowel troubles kill thousands of little ones every year during the hot weather months. Diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum often come without warning and if prompt aid is not at hand the child may be beyond help in a few hours. If you want to keep your children healthy, rosy and full of life during the hot weather, give them an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets. This medicine prevents illness by cleansing the stomach and bowels, and cures summer complaints when they come unexpectedly. Every mother should keep these tablets in the home at all times. Mrs. Robert Currie, Loring, Ont., says: Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine that I know of for stomach and bowel troubles. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box, from the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

BUTCHER FINED TWO DOLLARS FOR CRUELTY

Michael Hatrick Explained Why He Had to Bind Two Calves

Michael Hatrick, a butcher, drove through Springville yesterday with two calves bound together in the bottom of his rig. The minister at Springville considered that it was unnecessary cruelty and 'phoned to the Chief of Police. The latter despatched one of the officers to meet Hatrick and found the calves as described. Mr. Hatrick pleaded guilty but said that he could only use one horse and the cage was too large for a single rig. The Magistrate imposed a fine of $2, telling Hatrick that he was being let off easily as it was his first time and would possibly be sufficient warning.

GAMES OF TO-DAY WILL DECIDE

Championship of City League Hinges on Result

The senior lacrosse club had a rattling practice last night and those who saw them work out are confident that they will take a fall out of Beaverton on Monday. The team will finish its training by a practice in the sun and will be in the best of shape for the hard struggle that is bound to come on the holiday.

On paper both teams look to be evenly matched and both are confident, so that the game is a good betting proposition. The Peterborough team will be chosen from the following: Backus, Dillon, Regan, Morgan, Derocher, Meagher, McGrath, Judd, Robertson, McDonough, McLean, Glover and Best.

The Beaverton aggregation will have their strongest line up and will be accompanied by a big crowd of supporters. The game will be called at 2.30 o'clock sharp.

OLD LADY'S LONG JOURNEY.

To Join Her Boy in Canadian West At 81.

At the call of her son in Canada an old dame of 81, recently an inmate in the City road Workhouse, London, England, is journeying some 6,000 miles to join him in his new home.

The name of this brave old lady is Mrs. Sarah Russell, and she left England on June 8, sailing from Liverpool for Quebec by the Vancouver. Then, at the end of six days' toilsome travel on the C.P.R., she will be met by her son at Saltcoats, Saskatchewan, where, surrounded by grandchildren, she will live out her time in days of peace and plenty. That is the end of the story, and this is the beginning:—

Some little time ago the Holborn Guardians received a letter from Mr. Arthur Joseph Russell saying that he would like his mother to come out to him in Canada if she was willing and well enough to travel. He was ready to pay all expenses provided they could be spread over a couple of years. The guardians made inquiries, and then had the old dame before them, when she expressed her willingness to undertake the journey. Permission was obtained from the Local Government Board for granting the loan, and arrangements have now been made for Mrs. Russell to travel all the way in the care of the Salvation Army.

"Granny" Russell, as she is known, is a hale and hearty old woman, possessed of all her faculties, even to a youthful twinkle in the eye. Her cheeks are plump and fresh. She was clad in white bonnet-cap, green plaid shawl, and light cotton print dress. But she wore that shawl with an air!

"I knew I shouldn't die in England," said "Granny" cheerfully. "You know the dicky-birds in the street—the tell-fortune birds?"

The interviewer readily admitted it.

"Well, twenty years ago I paid my penny, and this is the fortune I got:—

You will eat bread in two countries, and be very much better off in your old days than in your young. You will live till you are 86.

"Now, I've thought of those words ever so many times lately, as they are coming true," continued Granny. "Fancy me going to Canada—a young thing like me! The others here say I'm too old.

"But I've got plenty of spirit, and as my boy wants me to go, I am going to Canada. I'm not afraid of the sea. I trust to fate. God's will be done, and help me through my troubles, and I'll be as good as I can.

"On board ship there will be plenty of people, and I am sure to fall into somebody's notice. I've never been further than the Nore before; but, bless you! why should I be afraid?"

"When my son went to Canada three years ago he asked me to go with him. But I thought the money would be better in his pocket, and I stayed at home. For a year I lived with a daughter in London, but she was too poor to keep me, and so for the last two years here I've been.

"I've not been unhappy. I'm not very discontented, but I do want to see my boy again and all his children. They are sure to let me see my daughter before I sail, won't they? I know I shan't be of much use in Canada, as my nummy fingers and the rheumatics won't let me. But as I lived with the family for five years, I know all the children—and there are seven of them—will be as pleased to see me again as I shall be to see them. I had nine children of my own, and oh! a glorious husband! He was a carpenter, and worked for Cupid's, in the Gray's-inn-road. My husband and most of my children are dead.

AN AMUSING NOTARY.

Old Quebecers Tell How Legal Fees Were Increased.

The older generation of Quebecers tell a number of amusing anecdotes of a former notary of St. Paul's Bay, who was a bit of a wag, and whose notarial instruments were not always quite intelligible, especially if they had been prepared after one of his apparently thirsty spells. At such times it is said that his pen would wander beyond the margin of the paper, and he would continue to scribble on the wood of the high desk at which he sat with magisterial dignity. A portion of the text would remain there, and the missing words would be supplied from memory when the time came to deliver copies. Some of his poor clients were in the low habit—in professional eyes—of "marchandeing" (bargaining) about the fees they intended to pay him. When there seemed to be no help for it, the notary would quietly pocket the small coin, but slily insinuating at the same time that for such a miserable fee nothing but a very indifferent deed could be expected: it might hold good, it might not. "Why don't you order a first-class one?" he would say. "You know my charges; one dollar for a first-class deed, warranted; half a dollar for a fair one, which may turn out well, and for a third-class deed a quarter; but a third-class one I cannot recommend. You can only expect to have your money's worth. It is a mere chance if it is good for anything."

Enforce Lord's Day Act.

The Department of Justice has decided that the Lord's Day Act is applicable to the Yukon Territory, and that it is the duty of the officers of the law to enforce it.

For some time the opinion had been prevalent in the Yukon that the act could not be applied, inasmuch as its enforcement is entrusted to the "Attorney-General of the province," and the Yukon not being a province or having an attorney-general, the territory would be exempt.

The Deputy Minister of Justice pointed out, however, that under the interpretation act the Northwest Territories and the Yukon are specified as provinces, the attorney-general for whom is the Attorney-General of the Dominion.

There is consternation in Dawson over this decision, as it is contended that with the short summer season it will entail severe loss upon the mining and navigation interests to suspend work on Sunday.

A Cookery Wrinkle.

Most people when making forcemeat use beef suet, but if beef or pork dripping be used instead of suet it will be found a very great improvement and equally good cold as hot.

THE KING'S CLOTHES.

How His Majesty's Wardrobe Is Replenished—Many Uniforms.

M. A. P. gives us some interesting sartorial particulars of King Edward. He has never been guilty of eccentricities in the matter of dress nor does he ever wear anything that would markedly distinguish him from other well-dressed men; jewelry, as an article of male adornment, he abhors. His beard is well trimmed, his hat, coat, trousers, and boots fit him to perfection. All is unobtrusive and irreproachable. And yet, despite this subdued note, King Edward is, without doubt, the best dressed man in Europe.

There is a general but quite mistaken impression that the King wears a suit upon one occasion only. As he wears three suits a day this would mean about a thousand suits a year. M. A. P. continues:

"The idea has arisen probably from the fact that he is never seen in the same suit twice in succession, an arrangement made possible by the enormous size of his wardrobe, which is being continually augmented at the rate of about thirty suits a year. At his various residences he has stored away some 300 suits, in addition to numerous uniforms all ready for instant service.

"The King's knowledge of tailoring technique is considerable. He is well acquainted with the respective merits of cheviots, Saxons, diagonals, and checks. He does not pay such extravagant prices for his clothes as may be supposed. For a pair of trousers he gives from $10 to $12.50, for a lounge suit $50, and for an evening suit $75. These are high prices for the average rich man, but plenty of society men pay as much.

"Altogether the King's yearly clothes bill amounts to about $6,000. His uniforms are the most expensive considerations. He is honorary colonel of over thirty regiments and he must have a uniform for each. He has at least 100 uniforms all ready for use at any moment."

Although the King is certainly liberal in the number of suits that he keeps on hand, no one can accuse him of extravagance in the prices that he pays. Of course the low cost of clothing in England must be taken into consideration.

CHIEF JUSTICE AS SINGER.

Lord Alverstone Has Splendid Voice, Sings In Church Choir.

To see the usually stern and dignified lord chief justice of England, dressed in soutane and surplice, leading the choir in a London church is a spectacle at once interesting and unique.

Despite the cares of his great office and the large responsibility which it entails, Lord Alverstone assiduously attends the services at St. Mary Abbot's, Kensington, every Sunday and takes his place among the somewhat humble members of the church choir. His lordship is an enthusiastic musician, and possesses a really magnificent voice. Indeed, if he were not the highest legal functionary on the English bench he could make a fortune on the operatic stage.

During the recess, when Lord Alverstone spends his time on his estate in the country, he invariably sings in the village church, which, it need scarcely be said, is almost invariably crowded by tourists and other strangers impelled by the natural curiosity of seeing the lord chief justice in a position so opposed to all the traditions of rigidness and severity which environ the English judicature.

NATURE AS SCULPTOR.

Curious Rocks Which Look As Though Carved By Man.

Among all the curious freaks of nature due to the long continued influence of climatic routine there is nothing more wonderful than the specimen shown herewith. It is in Devonshire, England, and stands in the middle of a level plain that is almost destitute of rocks. When viewed from certain favorable directions it is almost impossible to believe that it is not the work of man.

Pretty Bashful.

At a village church a wedding was fixed for a certain date. The happy morn arrived, and in due course a youthful swain and faire ladye presented themselves at the chancel steps. The service proceeded smoothly as far as the question, "Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife?" Whereupon the supposed bridegroom stammered blushingly:

"Please, sir, I'm not the right man."

"Not the right man," exclaimed the clergyman, aghast. "Then where is the right man?"

"He's down at the bottom of the church, sir. He's asheenmed to come up."—Church Family Newspaper.

A Russian Pastime.

If the human jaws need some occupation in the intervals of meals and gossip, says Health Culture, masticators could learn a lesson from the peasants of southern Russia, who exercise their teeth on the hard seeds of the Caspian sunflower. There is not a suspicion of a stimulant about it, no chewing gum dyspepsia or navy plug nuisance. It is a pastime and incidentally an excellent dentifrice. In Astrakhan a pint of the exquisite seeds can be bought for a quarter of a penny.

Why Shells Fly Straight.

Many people wonder why the cone shaped projectiles in their flight through the air do not wabble, but drive straight ahead. This is easily explained. Round the bottom of the shell is a narrow band of copper which varies in width according to the size of the projectile. Being made of soft metal, this band is cut by the steel rifling of the gun on the shock of explosion. This action causes the shell to revolve with lightning rapidity, with the result that it keeps steady during its flight through the air. — London Mail.

Looks Easy, but Try It.

Did you ever notice a jeweler wearing his magnifying glass in one eye? It looks easy, but try it. The inexperienced citizen who tries to look at something with such a glass is sure to close one eye. He can't look at the magnified object with the other eye opened, as can the jeweler. This is only another evidence that one must learn all the details of one's trade. What is easy for the experienced jeweler is all but impossible for the novice.

Making a Distinction.

"Of course you know something about that candidate's political opinions?" said the trusty adviser.

"I don't care a rap about his opinions," answered Senator Borghum. "How are his epigrams?"

What Irl Hicks Thinks Of July's Weather Prospects

Missouri Weather Prophet Looks for the Usual Storm Periods During the Coming Month.

WHAT WE MAY EXPECT

Those who follow the forecasts of Prof. Irl Hicks on the weather for the month of June were surprised at their accuracy. To-day his prognostications for the month of July are given for the benefit of the Examiner readers. Follow them and see if he strikes the weather conditions as well for the coming month as he did for June.

It will be noticed that he again promises storms for the second month of summer. His forecast, as continued in the current issue of his work Words and Works, is as follows...

The first storm period, reactionary will centre on the 2nd and 3rd, with moon at last quarter and on the celestial equator on the 2nd. On the 5th earth is in aphelion, and Uranus is in opposition, and Neptune is in conjunction within a few hours of each other. To say the least, threatening to violent July clouds and thunderstorms will appear generally from the 2nd to 4th. Cloudbursts need not surprise anyone. Watch your barometer, squint at rising clouds, be ready.

The second storm period, regular, is central on the 8th, with the opposition of Mars on the 6th, Moon in apogee and at north declination on the 9th, and a new on the 10th. A very warm wave will cross the country from the 6th to 11th, the barometer will fall at low readings, and blustering thunder storms will reach active to violent culminations on and touching the 8th to 10th. Look for only scattered rains possible cloudbursts in localities widely separated. Rising barometer and change to cooler from about the 10th.

The third storm period, reactionary, is central on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the 14th, 14th and 15th. The planet Mars is no. only passing opposition, but he is nearer us July 13th than for fifteen years past, or than he will be for fifteen years to come. This fact enters largely into terrestrial problems through all this part of the month, also Jupiter's conjunction on the 16th. Seismic and volcanic disturbances will be most natural for a period of several days, centering on or about the 10th the date of a solar eclipse. Low barometer, threatening conditions and perhaps heavy rain summer storms will culminate about the 13th, 14th and 15th. Existing causes may prolong storms and other disturbances on and through the 16th and 17th, into the next storm period.

The fourth storm period, regular, is central on 20th, covering the 18th to 23rd. We fear that the rainfall at this and other central and late July storm periods will be scattering and light. Very blustering storm clouds will almost constantly appear at the culmination of storm periods, and phenomenal "water spouts," may occur here and there; but the general rainfall will be far below the actual needs of the season. The 20th to 22nd will be culminating storm days following which look for rising barometer and change to some cooler.

The fifth storm period, reactionary, is central on the 24th, 25th and 26th. The full moon at an eclipse node and in perigee falls on the 24th. Within forty-eight hours of sunset on the 24th many storms and marked seismic disturbances will be heard from in many parts of the earth, so that a maximum of such phenomena may be noted. Thee temperature will fall after these storms.

The sixth storm period, regular, falls within a Mercury period. It is central on the 31st and extends from the 29th two days into August. Change to much warmer and gathering thunder storms will begin in the west by the 29th, and during the four days following these conditions will pass eastwardly across the country.

As a matter of history, and not of information to our readers, it is proper that we should record the phenomenal conditions that have prevailed through April, May and into the opening days of June. In all parts of the United States, leaving other countries in the northern hemisphere out of the case, all previous records of cold, unseasonable conditions have been broken. Frost, snow, sleet and freezing have persisted in all parts of the country, destroying vegetation and compelling replanting of crops two or three times in some sections. As we write, now June 7th, careful reports of agricultural conditions show that the crop outlook is almost unprecedently late and unfavourable. It is impossible for us to itemize all the facts, and it would be useless if we could. Everybody knows that it is now a matter of history that April and May of 1907 constitute a record breaker in the way of cold, unseasonable weather conditions.

At the bottom of page 73 of our 1907 Almanac, the the matter having been written in the summer of 1906, we gave specific warning of what might be expected, promising to fully explain our forecasts in our April 1907 Words and Works. On page 5 of April 1907, Words and Works, we fulfilled our promise, declaring that seasonal conditions will be late and unfavourable in most parts of the northern hemisphere. Our explanation was set in type on March the 9th, in the midst of the most phenomenal heat ever recorded for that month. It will by wise and safe, were our added words of warning, for agriculturists and others to take their cue for the month of May from the storm and weather conditions which they find prevailing the last half of April. Let each and all extremes of our continent note this fact and govern their affairs accordingly.

We hope our friends, and all lovers of truth, science and humanity, will join in ramming these facts into the open mouths of a class of critics who make it their business to publish and proclaim that all the weather prophets have proven frauds and failures concerning this season. In the fear of Him who rules in heaven, and earth, we solmenly affirm that the testimony of thousands of our readers is literally true—that we could not now describe more practically and accurately storms and general conditions after they have passed, than we had done in our forecasts a year in advance in our Almanac and Magazine.

As to our forecasts of storms, tornadoes and earthquakes in May and June, the record is an open one to all who will look into it. Every special warning in our May forecasts was verified by corresponding storm or other phenomena. Many lives and hundreds of thousands of dollars in property were destroyed by tornadoes rains and hail storms. See some samples by the camera on our editorial pages.

On May the 15th the most violent earthquake since the awful April 14th visited Chilpancingo, Mexico. Find our forecast on page four, May Word and Works. As we passed out of May earthquakes were reported, and recorded by seismographs, practically the earth over. Later advices show that four thousand people were killed by an earthquake in one city in China. This seismic wave continued into June 1st in many parts of the sea and land. Coming into June, we find that the destructive storms and tornadoes devastated parts of the country, especially southward, on and touching the 4th, the central day of the first June period. Reports from Dallas, Gainesville, Rhome and El Paso, Texas show loss of life and possibly half a million dollars in property in these localities on and next to the 4th. Our warning given one year previous, may be found page 17 of our 1907 Almanac. This warning and exortation was repeated on page 5 of our June Word and Works.

BORN MIDST BATTLE SMOKE

Detroit, June 26.—Saturday the anniversary of the battle of Waterloo was also the ninety-second anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Mary Sullivan, an inmate of St. Luke's Church Home, of this city. She was born on the field of battle during the great struggle. Mrs. Sullivan says she is the only living person who was present at the battle, a claim which was borne out by a letter she has from King Edward in which his Majesty says he personally investigated the matter and found that such was the case. Relatives of her family participated in different memorable land and naval fights in the English service. Mrs. Sullivan's husband was killed by a fall at the barracks in Quebec. Mrs. Sullivan is in excellent health.

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR T.A.S. PICNIC

Natural Enclosed Dancing Pavilion on the Grounds

Last night a meeting of the ladies and gentlemen looking after the T. A. S. picnic was held and final arrangements made in connection with the excursion. The first boat, the Monarch and barge, will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 8 o'clock in the morning. The Rainbow will be the second boat to go down the river, leaving the Street Railway wharf at 8.30 o'clock.

As tickets are issued for the excursion in conjunction with the Radial Railway, those going down the river should obtain them before leaving the city. Tickets are on sale to-day at Lane & Bano's, Lang & Maher's, Merrell & Meredith's, the T.A.S. Rooms, and at John Malane's store, East City.

The gasoline yacht race has been arranged to begin at 11 o'clock. A big platform has been erected for the dancing in the prettiest spot on the whole grounds. It is all that nature and the skill of the carpenter could make it. It is constructed among five large and beautiful trees in such a manner that old Sol can never get a look in. The booths, seats, and dining hall are all in position ready for the day's big events. The flag pole was erected yesterday so that every detail has been thoroughly attended to, in the committee's attempts to make the T.A.S. picnic of 1907 a pacemaker for the future.

NOTHING BUT VAGS. AT POLICE COURT

Fine Weather Allows Them to Start Their Wanderings

Andrew Wilson pleaded not guilty to the charge of being a vagrant, at the police court. He is a rather old man and has seen better days. His ear is completely severed from his head it having been injured by a kick from a horse. His home is in Gooderham and he came to Peterborough to assure himself that his head was all right. He was told to leave the city as soon as possible and on that condition he was allowed old go free.

Roland MacDonald, a little Scotchman who has been seen on many occasions playing on the bagpipes, was also accused of vagrancy. He replied that he was not a "vag," but had $15 in the bank and $6 in cash. He is a painter by trade, and asserts that he has plenty of work. He was found sleeping in an out house on Charlotte street, but explained that, by saying that he had no lodging house on that occasion but was trying to get one. His money he sends to his "hame" in Scotland, so he says, where he has a wife and 12 "bairns." He has been in Canada 12 months. Magistrate Dumble told him to go to work and keep sober or he would send him to the gaol where some painting is needed.

My wife is having the best of health. Miller's Compound Iron Pills did it. Sold by W. Madill.

Mr. H. A. Thurston, of 228 Vermont St. E., Indianapolis, Restored by Ferrozone.

"A year ago I took the grippe. I was as weak as a child. I was no longer able to eat. My blood was thin. My cheeks were white and hollow. Doctors gave me all kinds of medicine, but none of them brought me strength. My friends said I was wasting away with some slow disease, and I bade them good-bye. Then I heard of the wonderful Ferrozone. After three days it gave me an appetite. I gained strength and became cheerful. Under Ferrozone I improved steadily. I am well to-day. I weigh fifteen pounds heavier than ever before, and feel like a new man.

GLAIM BODIES OF DEAD

The general county rate is 1-5 of a mill less than in 1906. The rate is 2 3-5 mills; the school rate is .15 mills, or the same as last year, and a new rate of 2 mills for the maintenance of the County House of Refuge. The total amount of money to be raised is $27,168.44.

PASTOR ENTERTAINED YOUNG MEN

Rev. S. S. Burns, of Lakefield, Gave Young Men of Presbyterian Church a Pleasant Evening

FATHER PHELAN GENEROUS

Examiner Special.

Lakefield, June 26.—Mr. Jas Watson is spending his vacation in London and Essex.

Miss Halpin, of Peterborough, is visiting in the village, the guest of Mrs. Kenneally.

Mr. James Edward, general freight trasnfer manager of the G. T. R., Moncton, N.B., spent a few days in the village this week the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. A Tanner.

Mr. and Mrs. James Walton and children left on Saturday for a two weeks' visit with friends in Rochester, N.Y.

Miss Minnie Quigley, of Oshawa, is visiting in the village the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. Quigley.

Miss Maude Breeze of Peterborough, spent Friday in the village on her way to Stony Lake.

Mrs. R. P. Davidson and son, are visiting friends in Rochester, N.Y.

Mr. Charles White, of Cobourg, is spending a few days at his home in the village.

A pleasing event took place at the manse on Monday evening, the 17th, when the members of the Presbyterian choir were entertained by Rev. and Mrs. Burns. The early part of the evening was spent in games and music, after which refreshments were served. As the evening was growing toward the small hours of the morning, the pastor was called upon to address two young men of the choir who were severing their connections—Mr. Doidge for the West and Mr. Tomilson for his home in Scotland. Mr. Doidge was presented with a suit case and Mr. Tomilson with a leather bound copy of Burns' poems. The young men were very much surprised, but replied in a very fitting manner. The pleasant evening was then brought to a close by singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Mr. W. H. Casement is spending a few days at Stony Lake.

Through the efforts of the Board of Trade the Dominion Government has promised to erect a waiting room at the wharf and also have two electric lights placed in it for the convenience of passengers going and coming from the boats.

Miss Green of Toronto, is the guest of Mrs. H. G. Fitzgerald.

Miss Grace Lillicrap is visiting friends in Toronto.

Rev. Archdeacon Allen and Mrs. Allen of Millbrook, were in Lakefield on Wednesday and took a trip to Stony Lake.

Rev. Father Phelan with his usual whole souled generosity, has announced to Mr. Gordon, the principal of the Lakfield public school here, that he would give a five dollar gold piece to the pupil in Mr. Gordon's class who takes the highest standing in the entrance examinations that are being written on this week. This act shows an interest in education that is much to be admired. Mr. Gordon has quite a large class for the entrance this year, and this will have a tendency to encourage the pupils to put forth their greatest efforts on their work.

Miss Jewell, of the public school staff left Tuesday for Bellevill where she will attend the fiftieth anniversary of the Albert College in that town.

Miss Brown of the public school staff left on Tuesday for her home in Agincourt.

Miss McGorman, of the public school staff left on Tuesday for her home in Brighton.

Mr. Gordon, principal of the public school went up to Apsley on Tuesday where he will attend the examinations of that village.

CRUEL BACKACHES

The Trouble Usually Due to Poor Blood —Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the Cure

There is a common notion that backache is a sign of kidney disease, but this is absolutely wrong. Not one backache in a thousand has anything to do with the kidneys. Hundreds of people die of kidney disease who never had a backache—and hundreds who suffer continually from backache have nothing wrong with their kidneys. By far the most common cause of backache is muscular rheumatism. Nearly all the rest of the backaches are due to weakness and poor, watery blood, or in the case of growing girls and women, to those secret ailments that make the lives of so many of that sex miserable. Don't let a backache frighten you into the belief that you have kidney trouble. What is really needed to cure the average backache is a tonic, blood-building medicine, and Dr. Williams Pink Pills are the greatest blood making medicine medical science has yet discovered. Every dose actually makes new, rich red blood, thus curing such common ailments as anaemia, headache, backache, heart palpitation, indigestion, neuralgia, rheumatism and the ailments of girlhood and womanhood. Mrs. W. Gee, Strathcona, Alta., says:—"I was a great sufferer from anaemia. I was completely run down and was tortured with headaches and backaches and dizzy spells. I doctored for a long time but was no better than when I began. Then I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they completely restored my health."

Get the genuine pills with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Hound of the Baskervilles

Another Adventure of Sherlock Holmes.

train. There is a complete absence of motive. No, my dear fellow; we must reconcile ourselves to the fact that we have no case at present, and that it is worth our while to run any risk in order to establish one."

"And how do you propose to do so?"

"I have great hopes of what Mrs. Laura Lyons may do for us when the position of affairs is made clear to her. And I have my own plan as well. Sufficient for to-morrow is the evil thereof; but I hope before the day is past to have the upper hand at last."

I could draw nothing further from him, and he walked, lost in thought, as far as the Baskerville gates.

"Are you coming up?"

"Yes; I see no reason for further concealment. But one last word, Watson. Say nothing of the hound to Sir Henry. Let him think that Selden's death was as Stapleton would have us believe. He will have a better nerve for the ordeal which he will have to undergo to-morrow, when he is engaged, if I remember your report aright, to dine with these people."

"And so am I."

"Then you must excuse yourself and he must go alone. That will be easily arranged. And now, if we are too late for dinner, I think that we are both ready for our suppers."

Sir Henry was more pleased than surprised to see Sherlock Holmes, for he had for some days been expecting that recent events would bring him down from London. He did raise his eyebrows, however, when he found that my friend had neither any luggage nor any explanations for its absence. Between us we soon supplied his wants, and then over a belated supper we explained to the baronet as much of our experience as it seemed desirable that he should know. But first I had the unpleasant duty of breaking the news to Barrymore and his wife. To him it may have been an unmitigated relief, but she wept bitterly in her apron. To all the world he was the man of violence, half animal and half demon; but to her he always remained the little wilful boy of her own girlhood, the child who had clung to her hand. Evil indeed is the man who has not one woman to mourn him.

"I've been moping in the house all day since Watson went off in the morning," said the baronet. "I guess I should have some credit, for I have kept my promise. If I hadn't sworn not to go about alone I might have had a more lively evening, for I had a message from Stapleton asking me over there."

"I have no doubt that you would have had a more lively evening," said Holmes, drily. "By the way, I don't suppose you appreciate that we have been mourning over you as having broken your neck?"

Sir Henry opened his eyes. "How was that?"

"This poor wretch was dressed in your clothes. I fear your servant who gave them to him may get into trouble with the police."

"That is unlikely. There was no mark on any of them, as far as I know."

"That's lucky for him—in fact, it's lucky for all of you, since you are all on the wrong side of the law in this matter. I am not sure that as a conscientious detective my first duty is not to arrest the whole household. Watson's reports are most incriminating documents."

"But how about the case?" asked the baronet. "Have you made anything out of the tangle? I don't know that Watson and I are much the wiser since we came down."

"I think that I shall be in a position to make the situation rather more clear to you before long. It has been an exceedingly difficult and most complicated business. There are several points upon which we still want light—but it is coming all the same."

"We've had one experience, as Watson has no doubt told you. We heard the hound on the moor, so I can swear that it is not all empty superstition. I had something to do with dogs when I was out West, and I know one when I hear one. If you can muzzle that one and put him on a chain I'll be ready to swear you are the greatest detective of all time."

"I think I will muzzle him and chain him all right if you will give me your help."

"Whatever you tell me to do I will do."

"Very good; and I will ask you also to do it blindly, without always asking the reason."

"Just as you like."

"If you will do this I think the chances are that our little problem will soon be solved. I have no doubt ——"

He stopped suddenly and stared fixedly up over my head into the air. The lamp beat upon his face, and so intent was it and so still that it might have been that of a clear-cut classical statue, a personification of alertness and expectation.

"What is it?" we both cried.

I could see as he looked down that he was repressing some internal emotion. His features were still composed, but his eyes shone with amused exultation.

"Excuse the admiration of a connoisseur," said he, as he waved his hand towards the line of portraits which covered the opposite wall. "Watson won't allow that I know anything of art, but that is mere jealousy, because our views upon the subject differ. Now, these are a really very fine series of portraits."

"Well, I'm glad to hear you say so," said Sir Henry, glancing with some surprise at my friend. "I don't pretend to know much about these things, and I'd be a better judge of a horse or a steer than of a picture. I didn't know that you found time for such things."

"I know what is good when I see it, and I see it now. That's a Kneller, I'll swear, that lady in the blue silk over yonder, and the stout gentleman with the wig ought to be a Reynolds. They are all family portraits, I presume."

"I suppose they are."

"Do you know the names?"

"Barrymore has been coaching me in them, and I think I can say my lessons fairly well."

"Who is the gentleman with the telescope?"

"That is Rear-Admiral Baskerville, who served under Rodney in the West Indies. The man with the blue coat and the roll of paper is Sir William Baskerville, who was Chairman of Committees of the House of Commons under Pitt."

"And this Cavalier opposite to me—the one with the black velvet and the lace?"

"Ah, you have a right to know about him. That is the cause of all the mischief, the wicked Hugo, who started the Hound of the Baskervilles. We're not likely to forget him."

I gazed with interest and some surprise upon the portrait.

"Dear me!" said Holmes, "he seems a quiet, meek-mannered man enough, but I daresay that there was a lurking devil in his eyes. I had pictured him as a more robust and ruffianly person."

"There's no doubt about the authenticity, for the name and the date, 1647, are on the back of the canvas."

Holmes said little more, but the picture of the old roysterer seemed to have a fascination for him, and his eyes were continually fixed upon it during supper. It was not until later, when Sir Henry had gone to his room, that I was able to follow the trend of his thoughts. He led me back into the banqueting-hall, his bedroom candle in his hand, and he held it up against the time-stained portrait on the wall.

"Do you see anything there?"

I looked at the broad plumed hat, the curling love-locks, the white lace collar, and the straight, severe face which was framed between them. It was not a brutal countenance, but it was prim, hard, and stern, with a firm-set, thin-lipped mouth, and a coldly intolerant eye.

"Is it like anyone you know?"

"There is something of Sir Henry about the jaw."

"Just a suggestion, perhaps. But wait an instant!" He stood upon a chair, and holding up the light in his left hand he curved his right arm over the broad hat and round the long ringlets.

"Good heavens!" I cried, in amazement.

The face of Stapleton had sprung out of the canvas.

"Ha, you see it now. My eyes have been trained to examine faces and not their trimmings. It is the first quality of a criminal investigator that he should see through a disguise."

"But this is marvellous. It might be his portrait."

"Yes, it is an interesting instance of a throwback, which appears to be both physical and spiritual. A study of family portraits is enough to convert a man to the doctrine of reincarnation. The fellow is a Baskerville—that is evident."

"With designs upon the succession."

"Exactly. This chance of the picture has supplied us with one of our most obvious missing links. We have him, Watson, we have him, and I dare swear that before to-morrow night he will be fluttering in our net as helpless as one of his own butterflies. A pin, a cork, and a card, and we add him to the Baker Street collection!" He burst into one of his rare fits of laughter as he turned away from the picture. I have not heard him laugh often, and it has always boded ill to somebody.

I was up betimes in the morning, but Holmes was afoot earlier still, for I saw him as I dressed coming up the drive.

"Yes, we should have a full day to-day," he remarked, and he rubbed his hands with the joy of action. "The nets are all in place, and the drag is about to begin. We'll know before the day is out whether we have caught our big, lean-jawed pike, or whether he has got through the meshes."

"Have you been on the moor already?"

"I have sent a report from Grimpen to Princetown as to the death of Selden. I think I can promise that none of you will be troubled in the matter. And I have also communicated with my faithful Cartwright, who would certainly have pined away at the door of my hut, as a dog does at his master's grave, if I had not set his mind at rest about my safety."

"What is the next move?"

"To see Sir Henry. Ah, here he is!"

"Good morning, Holmes," said the baronet. "You look like a general who is planning a battle with his chief of the staff."

"That is the exact situation. Watson was asking for orders."

"And so do I."

"Very good. You are engaged, as I understand, to dine with our friends the Stapletons to-night."

"I hope that you will come also. They are very hospitable people, and I am sure that they would be very glad to see you."

"I fear that Watson and I must go to London."

"To London?"

"Yes, I think that we should be more useful there at the present juncture."

The baronet's face perceptibly lengthened.

"I hoped that you were going to see me through this business. The Hall and the moor are not very pleasant places when one is alone."

"My dear fellow, you must trust me implicitly and do exactly what I tell you. You can tell your friends that we should have been happy to have come with you, but that urgent business required us to be in town. We hope very soon to return to Devonshire. Will you remember to give them that message?"

"If you insist upon it."

"There is no alternative, I assure you."

I saw by the baronet's clouded brow that he was deeply hurt by what he regarded as our desertion.

"When do you desire to go?" he asked coldly.

"Immediately after breakfast. We will drive in to Coombe Tracey, but Watson will leave his things as a pledge that he will come back to you. Watson, you will send a note to Stapleton to tell him that you regret that you cannot come."

"I have a good mind to go to London with you," said the baronet. "Why should I stay here alone?"

"Because it is your post of duty. Because you gave me your word that you would do as you were told, and I tell you to stay."

"All right, then, I'll stay."

"One more direction! I wish you to drive to Merripit House. Send back your trap, however, and let them know that you intend to walk home."

"To walk across the moor?"

"Yes."

"But that is the very thing which you have so often cautioned me not to do."

"This time you may do it with safety. If I had not every confidence in your nerve and courage I would not suggest it, but it is essential that you should do it."

"Then I will do it."

"And as you value your life do not go across the moor in any direction save along the straight path which leads from Merripit House to the Grimpen Road, and is your natural way home."

"I will do just what you say."

"Very good. I should be glad to get away as soon after breakfast as possible so as to reach London in the afternoon."

I was much astounded by this program, though I remembered that Holmes had said to Stapleton on the night before that his visit would terminate next day. It had not crossed my mind, however, that he would wish me to go with him, nor could I understand how we could both be absent at a moment which he himself declared to be critical. There was nothing for it, however, but implicit obedience; so we bade good-bye to our rueful friend, and a couple of hours afterwards we were at the station of Coombe Tracey and had dispatched the trap upon its return journey. A small boy was waiting upon the platform.

"Any orders, sir?"

"You will take this train to town, Cartwright. The moment you arrive you will send a wire to Sir Henry Baskerville, in my name, to say that if he finds the pocket-book which I have dropped he is to send it by registered post to Baker Street."

"Yes, sir."

"And ask at the station office if there is a message for me."

The boy returned with a telegram, which Holmes handed to me. It ran: "Wire received. Coming down with unsigned warrant. Arrive five-forty.—Lestrade."

"That is in answer to mine of this morning. He is the best of the professionals, I think, and we may need his assistance. Now, Watson, I think that we cannot employ our time better than by calling upon your acquaintance, Mrs. Laura Lyons."

His plan of campaign was beginning to be evident. He would use the baronet in order to convince the Stapletons that we were really gone, while we should actually return at the instant when we were likely to be needed. That telegram from London, if mentioned by Sir Henry to the Stapletons, must remove the last suspicions from their minds. Already I seemed to see our nets drawing closer round that lean-jawed pike.

Mrs. Laura Lyons was in her office, and Sherlock Holmes opened his interview with a frankness and directness which considerably amazed her.

"I am investigating the circumstances which attended the death of the late Sir Charles Baskerville," said he. "My friend here, Dr. Watson, has informed me of what you have communicated, and also of what you have withheld in connection with that matter."

"What have I withheld?" she asked, defiantly.

"You have confessed that you asked Sir Charles to be at the gate at ten o'clock. We know that that was the place and hour of his death. You have withheld what the connection is between these events."

"There is no connection."

"In that case the coincidence must indeed be an extraordinary one. But I think that we shall succeed in establishing a connection after all. I wish to be perfectly frank with you, Mrs. Lyons. We regard this case as one of murder, and the evidence may implicate not only your friend Mr. Stapleton, but his wife as well."

The lady sprang from her chair.

"His wife!" she cried.

"The fact is no longer a secret. The person who has passed for his sister is really his wife."

Mrs. Lyons had resumed her seat. Her hands were grasping the arms of her chair, and I saw that the pink nails had turned white with the pressure of her grip.

"His wife!" she said, again. "His wife! He is not a married man."

Sherlock Holmes shrugged his shoulders.

"Prove it to me! Prove it to me! And if you can do so——!" The fierce flash of her eyes said more than any words.

"I have come prepared to do so," said Holmes, drawing several papers from his pocket. "Here is a photograph of the couple taken in York four years ago. It is indorsed 'Mr. and Mrs. Vandeleur,' but you will have no difficulty in recognising him and her also, if you know her by sight. Here are three written descriptions by trustworthy witnesses of Mr. and Mrs. Vandeleur who at that time kept St. Oliver's private school. Read them, and see if you can doubt the identity of these people."

She glanced at them, and then looked up at us with the set, rigid face of a desperate woman.

"Mr. Holmes," she said, "this man had offered me marriage on condition that I could get a divorce from my husband. He has lied to me, the villain in every conceivable way. Not one word of truth has he ever told me. And why—why? I imagined that all was for my own sake. But now I see that I was never anything but a tool in his hands. Why should I preserve faith with him who never kept any with me? Why should I try to shield him from the consequences of his own wicked acts? Ask me what you like, and there is nothing which I shall hold back. One thing I swear to you, and that is, that when I wrote the letter I never dreamed of any harm to the old gentleman, who had been my kindest friend."

"I entirely believe you, madam," said Sherlock Holmes. "The recital of these events must be very painful to you, and perhaps it will make it easier if I tell you what occurred, and you can check me if I make any material mistake. The sending of this letter was suggested to you by Stapleton?"

"He dictated it."

"I presume that the reason he gave was that you would receive help from Sir Charles for the legal expenses connected with your divorce?"

"Exactly."

"And then after you had sent the letter he dissuaded you from keeping the appointment?"

"He told me that it would hurt his self-respect that any other man should find the money for such an object, and that though he was a poor man himself he would devote his last penny to removing the obstacles which divided us."

"He appears to be a very consistent character. And then you heard nothing until you read the reports of the death in the paper?"

"No."

"And he made you swear to say nothing about your appointment with Sir Charles?"

"He did. He said that the death was a very mysterious one, and that I should certainly be suspected if the facts came out. He frightened me into remaining silent."

"Quite so. But you had your suspicions?"

She hesitated and looked down.

"I knew him," she said. "But if he had kept faith with me I should always have done so with him."

"I think that on the whole you have had a fortunate escape," said Sherlock Holmes. "You have had him in your power and he knew it, and yet you are alive. You have been walking for some months very near to the edge of a precipice. We must wish you good morning now, Mrs. Lyons, and it is probable that you will very shortly hear from us again."

"Our case becomes rounded off, and difficulty after difficulty thins away in front of us," said Holmes, as we stood waiting for the arrival of the express from town. "I shall soon be in the position of being able to put into a single connected narrative one of the most singular and sensational crimes of modern times. Students of criminology will remember the analogous incidents in Godno, in Little Russia, in the year '66, and of course there are the Anderson murders in North Carolina, but this case possesses some features which are entirely its own. Even now we have no clear case against this very wily man. But I shall be very much surprised if it is not clear enough before we go to bed this night."

The London express came roaring into the station, and a small, wiry bulldog of a man had sprung from a first-class carriage. We all three shook hands, and I saw at once from the reverential way in which Lestrade gazed at my companion that he had learned a good deal since the days when they had first worked together. I could well remember the scorn which the theories of the reasoner used then to excite in the practical man.

"Anything good?" he asked.

"The biggest thing for years," said Holmes. "We have two hours before we need think of starting. I think we might employ it in getting some dinner, and then, Lestrade, we will take the London fog out of your throat by giving you a breath of the pure night air of Dartmoor. Never been there? Ah, well, I don't suppose you will forget your first visit."

CHAPTER XIV.

One of Sherlock Holmes's defects—if, indeed, one may call it a defect—was that he was exceedingly loth to communicate his full plans to any other person until the instant of their fulfilment. Partly it came no doubt from his own masterful nature, which loved to dominate and surprise those who were around him. Partly also from his professional caution, which urged him never to take any chances. The result, however, was very trying for those who were acting as his agents and assistants. I had often suffered under it, but never more so than during that long drive in the darkness. The great ordeal was in front of us; at last we were about to make our final effort, and yet Holmes had said nothing, and I could only surmise what his course of action would be. My nerves thrilled with anticipation when at last the cold wind upon our faces and the dark, void spaces on either side of the narrow road told me that we were back upon the moor once again. Every stride of the horses and every turn of the wheels was taking us nearer to our supreme adventure.

Our conversation was hampered by the presence of the driver of the hired wagonette, so that we were forced to talk of trivial matters when our nerves were tense with emotion and anticipation. It was a relief to me, after that unnatural restraint, when we at last passed Frankland's house and knew that we were drawing near to the Hall and to the scene of action. We did not drive up to the door, but got down

THE MEDICINAL VALUE OF FRESH FRUIT JUICES

One of the Greatest Wonders of the Age.

Hundreds Have Been Made Well by Taking Advantage of an Ottawa Physician's Discovery.

Everyone knows how beneficial fruit is, when eaten regularly. Fruit is nature's laxative—the finest kidney regulator—and the ideal skin tonic. Unfortunately, the medicinal principle of fruit occurs only in minute quantities. In order to consume enough fruit to relieve Biliousness, one would also consume a large amount of woody fibre or pulp, which would upset the stomach and impair digestion.

An Ottawa physician discovered a way to get around these difficulties. He pressed the juice from apples, oranges, figs and prunes—and then forced one more atom of the bitter principle from the discarded orange peels, into the concentrated juices. This formed a new compound, having all the curative effects of fresh fruit—and in a highly intensified degree. These valuable tonics and internal antiseptics were added and the whole pressed into tablets.

These are "Fruit-a-tives" the wonderful Liver Tablets you hear so much about. "Fruit-a-tives" cure the most obstinate cases of non-action of the bowels, biliousness, headaches, sleeplessness, nervousness, kidney trouble, rheumatism, sciatica and neuralgia. They are the greatest blood purifying medicine in the world, while their action on the skin, in clearing and beautifying the complexion, is nothing short of marvelous. Ask your druggist for "Fruit-a-tives" and see that you get them. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50. By mail, postpaid, from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa. 118

DOES THIS INTEREST YOU?

A prominent physician, famous for his success in the treatment of kidney and bladder diseases, attributes a great deal of his success to the following simple vegetable prescription:—

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion;

One ounce Compound Salatone;

Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla;

Mix, shake well, and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

Your druggist can supply the ingredients, and the mixture can be prepared at home at very little expense.

This, the doctor says, acts directly on the kidneys, assisting them to filter the poisons from the blood and expel same in the urine, at the same time restoring the kidneys to healthy, normal action.

We feel that a great many readers will be pleased to learn of this simple prescription, and knowing the ability of the physician whose formula it is, we do not hesitate to recommend it to any sufferer.

Moran of the Lady Letty

By FRANK NORRIS,
Author of "The Octopus," "The Pit," Etc.

Copyright, 1906, by S. S. M'Clure Company

the dismal thrashing of the spanker boom and the flapping of the sails were the only answers. Kitchell turned to Wilbur in triumph. "I guess she's ours," he whispered. They were now close enough to make out the bark's name upon her counter, Lady Letty, and Wilbur was in the act of reading it aloud when a huge brown dorsal fin, like the triangular sail of a lugger, cut the water between the dory and the bark.

"Shark!" said Kitchell. "And there's another!" he exclaimed in the next instant. "And another! Strike me, the water's alive with 'em! There's a stiff on the bark, you can lay to that." And at that, acting on some strange impulse, he called again, "Bark ahoy!" There was no response.

The dory was now well up to the derelict, and pretty soon a prolonged and vibratory hissing noise, strident, insistent, smote upon their ears.

"What's that?" exclaimed Wilbur, perplexed. The captain shook his head, and just then, as the bark rolled almost to her scuppers in their direction, a glimpse of the deck was presented to their view. It was only a glimpse, gone on the instant, as the bark rolled back to port, but it was time enough for Wilbur and the captain to note the parted and open seams and the deck bulging and in one corner blown up and splintered.

The captain smote a thigh.

"Coal!" he cried. "Anthracite coal! The coal he'd up and generated gas, of course—no fire, y' understand; just gas—gas blew up the deck—no way of stopping combustion. Naturally they had to cut for it. Smell the gas, can't you? No wonder she's hissing—no wonder she rolled—cargo goes off in gas—and what's to weigh her down? I was wondering what could 'a' wrecked her in this weather. But it's as plain as A B C."

The dory was alongside. Kitchell watched his chance and as the bark rolled down caught the mainyard brace hanging in a bight over the rail and swung himself to the deck. "Look sharp!" he called as Wilbur followed. "It won't do for you to fall among them shark, son! Just look at the hundreds of 'em. There's a stiff on board, sure."

Wilbur steadied himself on the swaying broken deck, choking against the reek of coal gas that hissed upward on every hand. The heat was almost like a furnace. Everything metal was intolerable to the touch.

"She's abandoned, sure," muttered the captain. "Look." And he pointed to the empty chocks on the house and the severed lashings. "Oh, it's a haul, son—it's a haul, an' you can lay to that. Now, then, cabin first." And he started aft.

But it was impossible to go into the cabin. The moment the door was opened suffocating billows of gas rushed out and beat them back. On the third trial the captain staggered out, almost overcome with its volume.

"Can't get in there for awhile yet," he gasped, "but I saw the stiff on the floor by the table. Looks like the old man. He's spit his false teeth out. I knew there was a stiff aboard."

"Then there's more than one," said Wilbur. "See there!" From behind the wheel box in the stern protruded a hand and forearm in an oilskin sleeve.

Wilbur ran up, peered over the little space between the wheel and the wheel box and looked straight into a pair of eyes—eyes that were alive. Kitchell came up.

"One left anyhow," he muttered, looking over Wilbur's shoulder. "Sailor man, though. Can't interfere with our salvage. The bark's derelict right enough. Shake him out of there. Can't you see the lad's dotty with the gas?"

Cramped into the narrow space of the wheel box, like a terrified hare in a blind burrow, was the figure of a young boy. So firmly was he wedged into the corner that Kitchell had to kick down the box before he could be reached. The boy spoke no word. Stupefied with the gas, he watched them with vacant eyes.

Wilbur put a hand under the lad's arm and got him to his feet. He was a tall, well made fellow, with ruddy complexion and milk blue eyes, and was dressed, as if for heavy weather, in oilskins.

"Well, sonny, you've had a fine mess aboard here," said Kitchell. The boy—he might have been two and twenty—stared and frowned.

"Clean face from the gas. Get him into the dory, son. I'll try this bloody cabin again."

Kitchell turned back and descended from the poop, and Wilbur, his arm around the boy, followed. Kitchell was already out of hearing, and Wilbur was bracing himself upon the rolling deck, steadying the young fellow at his side, when the latter heaved a deep breath. His throat and breast swelled. Wilbur stared sharply, with a muttered exclamation.

"Heavens, it's a girl!" he said.

CHAPTER IV.

MEANWHILE Charlie had brought the Bertha Milliner up to within hailing distance of the bark and had hove her to. Kitchell ordered Wilbur to return to the schooner and bring over a couple of axes.

"We'll have to knock holes all through the house and break in the skylights and let the gas escape before we can do anything. Take the kid over and give him whisky. Then come along back and bear a hand."

Wilbur had considerable difficulty in getting into the dory from the deck of the plunging derelict with his dazed and almost helpless charge. Even as he slid down the rope into the little boat and helped the girl to follow he was aware of two dull, brownish green shadows moving just beneath the water's surface not ten feet away, and knew that he was being stealthily watched. The Chinamen at the oars of the dory, with that extraordinary absence of curiosity which is the mark of the race, did not glance a second time at the survivor of the Lady Letty's misadventure. To them it was evident she was but a for'mast hand.

However, Wilbur examined her with extraordinary interest as she sat in the stern sheets, sullen, half defiant, half bewildered and bereft of speech.

She was not pretty—she was too tall for that—quite as tall as Wilbur himself, and her skeleton was too massive. Her face was red, and the glint of blue ice was in her eyes. Her eyelashes and eyebrows, as well as the almost imperceptible down that edged her cheek when she turned against the light, were blond almost to whiteness. What beauty she had was of the fine, hardy Norse type. Her hands were red and hard, and even beneath the coarse sleeve of the oilskin coat one could infer that the biceps and deltoids were large and powerful. She was coarse fibered, no doubt, mentally as well as physically, but her coarseness, so Wilbur guessed, would prove to be the coarseness of a primitive rather than of a degenerate character.

One thing he saw clearly during the few moments of the dory's trip between bark and schooner—the fact that his charge was a woman must be kept from Captain Kitchell. Wilbur knew his man by now. It could be done. Kitchell and he would take the Lady Letty into the nearest port as soon as possible. The deception would have to be maintained only for a day or two.

He left the girl on board the schooner and returned to the derelict with the axes. He found Kitchell on the house, just returned from a hasty survey of the prize.

"She's a doisy," vociferated the captain as Wilbur came aboard. "I've been havin' a look round. She's brand new. See the date on the capst'n head? Christiania is her hailin' port—built there. But it's her papers I'm after. Then we'll know where we're at. How's the kid?"

"She's all right," answered Wilbur before he could collect his thoughts. But the captain thought he had reference to the Bertha.

"I mean the kid we found in the wheel box. He doesn't count in our salvage. The bark's been abandoned as plain as paint. If I thought he stood in our way," and Kitchell's jaw grew salient, "I'd shut him in the cabin with the old man a spell till he'd copped off. Now, then, son, first thing to do is to chop vents in this yere house."

"Hold up! We can do better than that," said Wilbur, restraining Kitchell's fury of impatience. "Slide the big skylight off. It's loose already."

A couple of the schooner's hands were ordered aboard the Lady Letty and the skylight removed. At first the pour of gas was terrific, but by degrees it abated, and at the end of half an hour Kitchell could keep back no longer.

"Come on!" he cried, catching up an ax. "Rot the difference!" All the plundering instincts of the man were aroused and clamoring. He had become a very wolf within scent of its prey, a veritable hyena nuzzling about its carrion.

"Lord!" he gasped. "To think that everything we see, everything we find, is ours!"

Wilbur himself was not far behind him in eagerness. Somewhere deep down in the heart of every Anglo-Saxon lies the predatory instinct of his viking ancestors, an instinct that a thousand years of respectability and taxpaying have not quite succeeded in eliminating.

A flight of six steps, brass bound and bearing the double L of the bark's monogram, led them down into a sort of vestibule. From the vestibule a door opened directly into the main cabin. They entered.

The cabin was some twenty feet long and unusually spacious. Fresh from his recollection of the grime and reek of the schooner, it struck Wilbur as particularly dainty. It was painted white, with stripes of blue, gold and pea green. On either side three doors opened off into staterooms and private cabins, and with each roll of the derelict these doors banged like an irregular discharge of revolvers. In the center was the dining table, covered with a red cloth very much awry. On each side of the table were four armchairs screwed to the deck, one somewhat larger at the head. Overhead in swinging racks were glasses and decanters of whisky and some kind of white wine. But for one feature the sight of the Letty's cabin was charming. However, on the floor by the sliding door in the forward bulkhead lay a body, face upward.

The body was that of a middle aged, fine looking man, his head covered with the fur, ear lapped cap that Norwegians affect even in the tropics. The eyes were wide open, the face discolored. In the last gasp of suffocation the set of false teeth had been forced halfway out of his mouth, distorting the countenance with a hideous simian grin. Instantly Kitchell's eye was caught by the glint of the gold in which these teeth were set.

"Here's about $100 to begin with!" he exclaimed, and, picking up the teeth, dropped them into his pocket with a wink at Wilbur. The body of the dead captain was passed up through the skylight and laid out on the deck, and Wilbur and Kitchell turned their attention to what had been his staterooms.

The captain's room was the largest one of the six staterooms opening from the main cabin.

"Here we are!" exclaimed Kitchell as he and Wilbur entered. "The old man's room, and no mistake."

Besides the bunk, the stateroom was fitted up with a lounge of red plush screwed to the bulkhead. A roll of charts leaned in one corner; an alarm clock, stopped at 1:15, stood on a shelf in the company of some dozen paper covered novels and a drinking glass full of cigars. Over the lounge, however, was the rack of instruments, sextant, barometer, chronometer, glass and the like, securely screwed down, while against the wall, in front of a swivel leather chair that was ironed to the deck, was the locked secretary.

"Look at 'em; just look at 'em, will you!" said Kitchell, running his fingers lovingly over the polished brass of the instruments. "There's a thousand dollars of stuff right here. The chronometer's worth five hundred alone, Bennett & Sons' own make." He turned to the secretary.

"Now!" he exclaimed, with a long breath.

What followed thrilled Wilbur with alternate excitement, curiosity and a vivid sense of desecration and sacrilege. For the life of him he could not make the thing seem right or regal in his eyes, and yet he had neither the wish nor the power to stay his hand or interfere with what Kitchell was doing.

The captain put the blade of the ax in the chink of the secretary's door and wrenched it free. It opened down to form a sort of desk and disclosed an array of cubbyholes and two small doors, both locked. These latter Kitchell smashed in with the ax head. Then he seated himself in the swivel chair and began to rifle their contents systematically, Wilbur leaning over his shoulder.

The heat from the coal below them was almost unbearable. In the cabin the six doors kept up a continuous car shocking fusillade, as though half a dozen men were fighting with revolvers. From without, down the open skylight, came the singsong talk of the Chinaman and the wash and ripple of the two vessels, now side by side. The air, foul beyond expression, tasted of brass. Their heads swam and ached to bursting; but, absorbed in their work, they had no thought of the lapse of time nor the discomfort of their surroundings. Twice during the examination of the bark's papers Kitchell sent Wilbur out into the cabin for the whisky decanter in the swinging racks.

"Here's the charter papers," said Kitchell, unfolding and spreading them out one by one, "and here's the clearing papers from Blyth in England. This yere's the insecrance, and here, this is—rot that, nothin' but the articles for the crew; no use to us."

In a separate envelope, carefully sealed and bound, they came upon the captain's private papers. A marriage certificate setting forth the union between Eilert Sternersen of Fruholmen, Norway, and Sarah Moran of some seaport town (the name was undecipherable) of the north of England. Next came a birth certificate of a daughter named Moran, dated twenty-two years back, and a bill of sale of the bark Lady Letty whereby a two-thirds' interest was conveyed from the previous owners, a shipbuilding firm of Christiania, to Captain Eilert Sternersen.

"The old man was his own boss," commented Kitchell. "Hello!" he remarked, "Look here." A yellowed pho-

SUNSHINE FURNACE

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE WATER-PAN

is not appreciated by many furnace manufacturers or the general public as much as it should be.

Without the moisture evaporated from the water in the pan, the hot air distributed throughout the house is dry and dusty. Cracks and opens up the furniture—is not fit to breathe into the lungs.

Yet, mind you, some furnace makers place this important water-pan where there is often not enough heat to evaporate the water. Put it out of sight in an awkward position at the side or back, where it cannot readily be filled without being removed—and when filled it would take a juggler to replace it without spilling a big share over himself.

Note the convenient location of the large water-pan of the Sunshine—just above the fuel door. Takes but a moment or two to fill it.

London Theaters Charm.

One of the delicious treats London offers Americans is the acting and accessories of her theaters. The orchestra stalls or balcony stalls are very sumptuous and very roomy and are evidently created on purpose to appeal to hearty diners. The usher is a very tidy young woman in black dress and coquettish cap and apron, possessed of a sweet face and a still sweeter voice. You pay her a sixpence for each programme. The stage settings are perfect in detail. Best of all is the elocution of the players. From the rising of the curtain even unto the going down of the same, each and every word uttered is as clear and tuneful as the tinkle of a silver bell. You don't have to wait till the middle of the first act before you can even guess what the plot is about. Under these unusual circumstances the interest one takes in a play is greatly enhanced, and he wonders why an American company is not as well drilled.

A Curious Widow's Cap.

A very curious cap forms the "widow's weeds" of the Australia aborigine in one part of the great island continent. Near the northeast bend of the Murray river it is the custom for widows to attend upon the tombs of their departed lords. Then, after shaving their heads, they cover them with pipe clay, kneaded into a paste. The head is first covered with a net to prevent the clay from sticking too tightly to the skin—a misfortune which is partly averted by the amount of grease with which every Australian native is anointed. A layer of this clay several inches in thickness is plastered over the head and when dry forms a sort of skull-cap exactly fitting the head on which it was molded. As it weighs several pounds, the widow's cap cannot be comfortable.

Why Age Improves Wines.

"Why do wines improve with age?"

"Because they marry," answered the expert.

"Marry?"

"Yes. That is the term used in the trade. 'This sherry,' we say, 'has married well' or 'that hock has married nastily.' We mean by a wine's marriage that its different components—the alcohol, the sugar, the carbonic acid and so on—have blended together smoothly. In a new wine this blending, this marriage, has not yet taken place, and hence the harshness of new wines. Old wines are valued because the alcohol and sugar and acids and others have all married together into one fragrant compound."—Exchange.

Weather Vanes.

The best weather vanes are made with the greatest nicety and precision, so that they balance perfectly and turn with the least possible wear. The vane is, of course, longer on one side of the socket than on the other, or it would not turn with the wind, but its weight is the same on both sides. If it is a narrow vane, for instance, the weight of the solid head is easily made equal to that of the longer, projecting, but thinner feather end, and all vanes, whatever they may be, are balanced as to weight and so adjusted that they turn easily and with the least possible friction.

Moran of the Lady Letty

By FRANK NORRIS,
Author of "The Octopus," "The Pit," Etc.

tograph was in his hand, the picture of a stout, fair haired woman of about forty, wearing enormous pendent earrings in the style of the early sixties. Below was written: "S. Moran Sternersen, ob. 1887."

"Old woman copped off," said Kitchell. "So much the better for us. No heirs to put in their gab, an'—hold hard, steady all—here's the will, s'help me."

The only items of importance in the will were the confirmation of the wife's death and the expressly stated bequest of "the bark known as and sailing under the name of the Lady Letty to my only and beloved daughter, Moran."

"Well," said Wilbur.

The captain sucked his mustache furiously, striking the desk with his fist:

"The bark's ours!" There was a certain ring of defiance in his voice. "Mang the will! I ain't so cocksure about the law, but I'll make sure."

"As how?" said Wilbur.

Kitchell slung the will out of the open port into the sea.

"That's how," he remarked. "I'm the heir. I found the bark. Mine she is, an' mine she stays—yours an' mine, that is."

But Wilbur had not even the time to thoroughly enjoy the satisfaction that the captain's words conveyed before an idea suddenly presented itself to him. The girl he had found on board of the bark, the ruddy, fair haired girl of the fine and hardy Norse type—that was the daughter, of course; that was "Moran." Instantly the situation adjusted itself in his imagination—the two inseparables, father and daughter, sailors both, their lives passed together on shipboard, and the Lady Letty their dream, their ambition, a vessel that at last they could call their own.

Then this disastrous voyage, perhaps the first in their new craft; the combustion in the coal, the panic terror of the crew and their desertion of the bark, and the sturdy resolution of the father and daughter to bring the Letty in—to work her into port alone. They had failed. The father had died from gas. The girl, at least for the moment, was erased from its effects. But the bark had not been abandoned. The owner was on board. Kitchell was wrong. She was no derelict. Not one penny could they gain by her salvage.

For an instant a wave of bitterest disappointment passed over Wilbur as he saw his $80,000 dwindling to nothing. Then the instincts of habit reasserted themselves. The taxpayer in him was stronger than the freebooter after all. He felt that it was his duty to see to it that the girl had her rights. Kitchell must be made aware of the situation—must be told that Moran, the daughter, the captain's heir, was on board the schooner; that the "kid" found in the wheel box was a girl. But on second thoughts that would never do. Above all things, the brute Kitchell must not be shown that a girl was aboard the schooner on which he had absolute command; nor, setting the question of Moran's sex aside, must Kitchell know her even as the dead captain's heir. There was a difference in the men here, and Wilbur appreciated it. Wilbur, the law abiding taxpayer, was a weakling in comparison with Kitchell, the freebooter and beachcomber, in sight of his prize.

"Son," said the captain, making a bundle of all the papers, "take these over to my bunk and hide 'em under the donkey's breakfast. Stop a bit," he added as Wilbur started away. "I'll go with you. We'll have to bury the old man."

Throughout all the afternoon the captain had been drinking the whisky from the decanter found in the cabin. Now he stood up unsteadily, and, raising his glass, exclaimed:

"Sonny, here's to Kitchell, Wilbur & Co., beachcombers, un-limited. What do you say, hey?"

"I only want to be sure that we've a right to the bark," answered Wilbur.

"Right to 'er—r-i-ight to 'er!" hiccoughed the captain. "Strike me blind, I'd like to see any one try an' take her away from Alvinza Kitchell now!" And he thrust out his chin at Wilbur.

"Well, so much the better, then," said Wilbur, pocketing the papers. The pair ascended to the deck.

The burial of Captain Sternersen was a dreadful business. Kitchell, far gone in whisky, stood on the house issuing his orders, drinking from one of the decanters he had brought up with him. He had already rifled the dead man's pockets and had even taken away the boots and fur lined cap. Cloths were cut from the spanker and rolled around the body. Then Kitchell ordered the peak halyards unrove and used as lashings to tie the canvas around the corpse. The red and white flags, the distress signals, were still bound on the halyards.

"Leave 'em on! Leave 'em on!" commanded Kitchell. "Use 'em as a shroud; All ready now; stan' by to let her go!"

Wilbur looked over at the schooner and noted, with immense relief, that Moran was not in sight. Suddenly an abrupt reaction took place in the captain's addled brain.

"Can't bury 'um 'ithout 'is teeth," he gabbled solemnly. He laid back the canvas and replaced the set. "Ole man 'd ha'nt me 'f I kep' 'is teeth. Strike, look a' that! I put 'em in upside down. Nev' min', upst' down, downst' up, whas odds, all same with ole Bill. Hey, ole Bill, all same with you, hey?" Suddenly he began to howl with laughter. "I think o' bein' buried with your teeth right down!

BETTER UNDERWEAR

Oh, me, but that's a good grind! Stan' by to heave ole Uncle Bill over! Ready, heave, an' away she goes!" He ran to the side, waving his hat and looking over. "Goo'by, ole Bill, by by! There you go, an' the signal o' distress roun' you—H E! 'I'm in need of assistance.' Lord, here comes the sharks! Look, look! Look at 'um fight! Look at 'um takin' ole Bill! 'I'm in need of assistance.' I sh'd say you were, ole Bill!"

Wilbur looked once over the side in the churning, lashing water, then drew back, sick to vomiting. But in less than thirty seconds the water was quiet. Not a shark was in sight.

"Get over t' the Bertha with those papers, son," ordered Kitchell. "I'll bide here and dig up sh' more loot. I'll gut this ole pill box from stern to stem post 'fore I'll leave. I won't leave a copper rivet in 'er, notta co'er rivet, do y' hear?" he shouted, his face purple with unnecessary rage.

Wilbur returned to the schooner with the two Chinamen, leaving Kitchell alone on the bark. He found the girl sitting by the rudderhead almost as he had left her, looking about her with vague, unseeing eyes.

"Your name is Moran, isn't it," he asked—"Moran Sternersen?"

"Yes," she said after a pause, then looked curiously at a bit of tarred rope on the deck. Nothing more could be got out of her. Wilbur talked to her at length and tried to make her understand the situation, but it was evident she did not follow. However, at each mention of her name she would answer:

"Yes, yes; I'm Moran."

Wilbur turned away from her, biting his nether lip in perplexity.

"Now, what am I going to do?" he muttered. "What a situation! If I tell the captain, it's all up with the girl. If he didn't kill her, he'd do worse—might do both. If I don't tell him, there goes her birthright, $60,000, and she alone in the world. It's begun to go already," he added, listening to the sounds that came from the bark. Kitchell was raging to and fro in the cabin in a frenzy of drink, ax in hand, smashing glassware, hacking into the woodwork, singing the while at the top of his voice.

"That's the kind of man I have to deal with," muttered Wilbur. "It's encouraging, and there's no one to talk to. Not much help in a Chinaman and a crazy girl in a man's oilskins. It's about the biggest situation you ever faced, Ross Wilbur, and you're all alone. What are you going to do?"

He acknowledged with considerable humiliation that he could not get the better of Kitchell either physically or mentally. Kitchell was a more powerful man than he and cleverer. The captain was in his element now, and he was the commander. On shore it would have been vastly different. The city bred fellow, with a policeman always in call, would have known how to act.

"I simply can't stand by and see that hog plundering everything she's got. What's to be done?"

And suddenly, while the words were yet in his mouth, the sun was wiped from the sky like writing from a slate, the horizon blackened, vanished, a long white line of froth whipped across the sea and came on hissing. A hollow note boomed out, boomed, swelled and grew rapidly to a roar.

An icy chill stabbed the air. Then the squall swooped and struck, and the sky shut down over the troubled ocean like a pot lid over a boiling pot. The schooner's fore and main sheets, that had not been made fast, unrove at the first gust and began to slat wildly in the wind. The Chinamen cowered to the decks, grasping at cleats, stays and masts. They were helpless, paralyzed with fear. Charlie clung to a stay, one arm over his head as though dodging a blow. Wilbur gripped the rail with his hands where he stood, his teeth set, his eyes wide, waiting for the foundering of the schooner, his only thought being that the end could not be far. He had heard of the suddenness of tropical squalls, but this had come with the abruptness of a scene shift at a play. The schooner veered broad on to the waves. It was the beginning of the end. Another roll to the leeward like the last and the Pacific would come aboard.

"And you call yourselves sailor men! Are you going to drown like rats on a plank?" A voice that Wilbur did not know went ringing through that horrid shouting of wind and sea like the call of a bugle. He turned to see Moran, the girl of the Lady Letty, standing erect upon the quarter deck holding down the schooner's wheel. The confusion of that dreadful moment, that had paralyzed the crew's senses, had brought back hers. She was herself again—savage, splendid, dominant, superb in her wrath at their weakness—their cowardice.

Her heavy brows were knotted over her flaming eyes, her hat was gone, and her thick bands of yellow hair whipped across her face and streamed out in the wind like streamers of the northern lights. As she shouted, gesturing furiously to the men, the loose skin of the oilskin coat fell back and showed her forearm, strong, round and white as coral, the hand and wrist so tanned as to look almost like a glove. And all the while she shouted aloud, furious with indignation, raging against the supineness of the Bertha's crew.

"Stand by, men! Stand by! Look alive, now! Make fast the stays'l halyards to the dory's warp! Now, then, unleave y'r halyards! All clear there! Pass the end for'ard outside the rigging. Outside, you fools! Make fast to the bits for'ard! Let go y'r line! That'll do. Sloh—soh. There, she's coming up."

The dory had been towing astern, and the seas, combing over her, had swamped her. Moran had been inspired to use the swamped boat as a sea anchor, fastening her to the schooner's bow instead of to the stern. The Bertha's bow, answering to the drag, veered around. The Bertha stood head to the seas, riding out the squall. It was a masterpiece of seamanship, conceived and executed in the very thick of peril, and it saved the schooner.

But there was little time to think of themselves. On board the bark the sails were still set. The squall struck the Lady Letty squarely aback. She heeled over upon the instant, then, as the top hamper carried away with a crash, eased back a moment upon an even keel. But her cargo had shifted. The bark was doomed. Through the flying spray and scud and rain Wilbur had a momentary glimpse of Kitchell backing at the lanyards with his ax. Then the Lady Letty capsized, going over till her masts were flat with the water, and in another second rolled bottom up. For a moment her keel and red iron bottom were visible through the mist of driving spoondrift. Suddenly they sank from sight. She was gone.

And then, like the rolling up of a scroll, the squall passed, the sun returned, the sky burned back to blue, the ruggedness was smoothed from the ocean, and the warmth of the tropics closed around the Bertha Milliner, once more rolling easily on the swell of the ocean.

Of the Lady Letty and the drunken beachcombing captain not a trace remained. Kitchell had gone down with his prize. The Bertha Milliner's Chinese crew huddled forward, talking wildly, pointing and looking in a bewildered fashion over the sides.

Wilbur and Moran were left alone on the open Pacific.

CHAPTER V.

WHEN Wilbur came on deck the morning after the sinking of the bark he was surprised to find the schooner under way again. Wilbur and Charlie had berthed forward during that night, Charlie with the hands, Wilbur in the captain's hammock. The reason for this change of quarters had been found in a peremptory order from Moran during the dog watch the preceding evening.

She had looked squarely at Wilbur from under her scowl and had said briefly and in a fine contralto voice that he had for the first time noted: "I berth aft in the cabin; you and the Chinaman forward. Understand?"

Moran had only forestalled Wilbur's intention, while after her almost miraculous piece of seamanship in the rescue of the schooner Charlie and the Chinese crew accorded her a respect that was almost superstitious.

Wilbur met her again at breakfast. She was still wearing men's clothing—part of Kitchell's outfit—and was beet-

Regimental Trip To The Garden City, The Best In Its History

St. Catharines, With Its Beautiful Surroundings Proved the Greatest Attraction to Boys of the 57th—Niagara Falls and Other Historic Spots Popular.

MILITARY DEMONSTRATIONS

The 19th Regiment of St. Catharines, Were Excellent Hosts—57th Participated in Civic Demonstrations—Something About the Trip.

Although the regimental trip of the Peterborough Rangers for the year 1907 belongs to the past, the memory of the event will live in the hearts of those who were fortunate enough to participate in it, for several years to come. Beautiful St. Catharines, the "Garden City" on the banks of the Welland Canal, was the temporary quarters of the regiment for the past two days, and it proved to be a spot which pleased the hearts of the boys for more reasons than one. Its pleasant, shady walks were strong attractions for the boys in red and blue, who apparently were successful in capturing the hearts of the belles of St. Kitts. Its close proximity to the world-famed cataract at Niagara, and the hospitable reception of the officers and members of the 19th "St. Catharines" Regiment of Infantry, all converged to make the trip of the 57th for the year 1907 the best in the history of the regiment.

The hospitality of the 19th deserves special mention. No stone was left unturned by Lt.-Col. Campbell and the officers under him to provide every possible means of comfort and interest for the 57th. They were all veten jolly good fellows and made themselves warm friends of Lt.-Col. Miller and his staff of officers and men, so that pleasant memories of the trip will long be cherished.

The historic situation of St. Kitts and the district surrounding it were a source of great interest. Spots famed in history, such as Beaver Dam, Stony Creek, Queenston Heights, Lundy's Lane, and Niagara Falls, can all be reached by electric railway from St. Catharines, and on Sunday afternoon, when the hovering clouds had blown away, the greater number of the regiment dispersed in every direction. The officers of the regiment, accompanied by many officers of the 19th, of whom they were guests, went by special car to Niagara Falls, and that beauty spot of nature's own was literally swarmed with red coats, who interchanged greetings with their American cousins across the line.

Departure of the Regiment

The departure of the 57th from Peterborough is familiar to a great many of the citizens, who braved the elements, and, notwithstanding the hinderances from a gentle rainstorm, lined the streets and station platform on Saturday night at 10 o'clock to see the gallants leave. The men fell in at the drill hall about 10 o'clock and, headed by the two bands, marched on to the Grand Trunk station, where 348 officers, men and bandsmen entrained about 11 o'clock. The train, which consisted of nine coaches and a baggage car, went via Port Hope, where a few rousing cheers awakened the inhabitants of that peaceful burg. At the Union Station, Toronto, which was reached about 3 o'clock, the boys again made their presence known to midnight wayfarers, but, on leaving there, gentle Morpheus exerted its omniferous influence over them, and little that subsequently passed was known until the train pulled into the station at St. Kitts.

The Soldiers Billeted

After some preliminary movements on the part of the Grand Trunk, the regiment formed in line two deep at the station and marched through a refreshing shower of rain to the armouries. There, they were received by by the advance guard under Capt. A. F. McLean and Capt. Eastwood, Quartermaster, and a detachment of officers from the 19th Regiment, who had every detail for their reception attended to.

In a very few minutes they were resting from their long journey in the 40 or more military marquees erected on the armoury grounds. The officers were billeted at the new Murray Hotel and the men at the various public houses of the city, where meals were secured. This portion of the programme was most carefully managed by Capt. McLean and adequate accommodation was provided.

On Sunday morning a military church service was held in the armouries but owing to the rain and the belated arrival, the church parade was cancelled. Hon. Major Rev. J. C. Davidson, chaplain of the 57th delivered a strong sermon on the appropriate text, "Every man in his place." Capt. Rev. Robt. Kerr, chaplain of the 19th, assisted in the services, and appled music was rendered by the St. Catharines regimental band under Bandmaster Wm. Peel. The 19th Regiment and a number of the N. D. Veteran Volunteers' Association

Narrow Escape From A Drowning On The Otonabee

Three Young Men Upset From Canoe and Only Prompt Action on the Part of One of Party Saved Companion.

MANY SAW THE ACCIDENT

A narrow escape from drowning is reported from the Otonabee River, about a mile and a half below the locks, and, according to the information, the peace and tranquility which characterized Dominion Day in the city, was almost marred by an accident which would have cast gloom into more than one home.

It appears that three young men were down the river in a canoe, and in some, as yet unexplained, manner, it was overturned and the three occupants were thrown, struggling, into the water.

Mr. W. Reade, one of those in the canoe, swam for the eastern shore, and was picked up by Mr. Harris, while Mr. Herbert Meehan, the third occupant, after turning the canoe upside down in order that Mr. Fair might keep himself above water until help could reach him, swam to shore, and, after securing a canoe, went to the rescue, who by this time was almost exhausted.

Had it not been for Mr. Meehan's prompt action it is probable that the unfortunate youth, who could not swim, would have drowned in sight of fully 25 persons.

Summer Cottage At Stony Lake Burned Yesterday

Summer Home of Mr. Richard Hall Struck by Lightning During Electric Storm—Furniture Was Also Consumed.

LOSS ESTIMATED AT $2,000

"Anchorage," the beautiful summer home of Mr. Richard Hall, at Stony Lake, was yesterday afternoon destroyed by fire resulting from lightning, during an electric storm. The cottage is situated on an island between Juniper Island and Mount Julian and was one of the most handsome on the Kawartha Lakes.

The electric fluid struck it about 3.30 o'clock, in the midst of a heavy rainstorm accompanied by sharp thunder and lightning. The cottage being composed of wood quickly fell a prey to the consuming flames. The main portion of the building burned first and although a brave attempt was made by many volunteer firemen, the kitchen was also consumed.

Owing to the vigilance of the fire laddies the ice house, containing about 100 blocks of ice and the boat house were saved. Mr. Hall has another small cottage on the same island, but it being situated some distance away, also escaped the flames.

The furniture of the cottage was also completely destroyed. Seven beds including the best of bed clothing, crockery and all the handsome furniture was burned. The loss to Mr. Hall will be about $2,000, which is partly covered by insurance. Owing to the advanced stage of the season Mr. Hall will not build this year.

MANY INDIANS IN THE CITY

Rama Reserve and Hiawatha Furnished a Number of Dusky Visitors Saturday and To-day.

On Saturday and to-day there were to be seen on the streets a large number of Chippewa Indian men, women and children. On Saturday, to the number of seventy, they were in the city en route for Chemong, where they assisted at the dedication of a new church at the Indian village yesterday, as reported in another column. To-day there are about fifty in the city, all day waiting the departure of the 5.30 train to Orillia, where the Rama Reserve is situated—about six miles northeast of the town. About twenty left for home this morning, and the fifty who remained, including the band, spent the time in seeing the sights, including the Lift Lock. The band, mustering eighteen, about one-half its full strength, played on the streets during the afternoon.

SUMMER SCHOOL OPENS AT CHEMONG PARK

Large Gathering of Methodist Young People to be Held This Week—Interesting Addresses

To-day the Summer School, held under the auspices of the Epworth Leagues of the Bay of Quinte Conference opens at Chemong Park, and the sessions will be continued until next Sunday. Addresses will be given by prominent ministers, and an interesting feature will be the addresses by a retired missionary from China.

It is expected that a large number of young people from this city will be in attendance at the various services.

AN UNEXPECTED BATH FOR TWO YOUNG MEN

A Part of Their Day's Fun Was an Upset

Messrs. L. H. McConghey and T. J. Carson of the C. G. E. Angling Club had a wet dip yesterday near their boathouse at Rice Lake. Their canoe was close to the steamer Otonabee when it passed, and in some manner it upset, throwing the occupants into the water. They struggled around for a while, handicapped by their clothing. They climbed on to the canoe, and made their way slowly to shore in an exhausted condition. They were soon all right again and but little affected by their sudden immersion.

MR. W. P. CASTRICUM HAD RIGHT EYE INJURED

Glass Flying From Bursting Water Glass Struck His Right Eye

A painful accident occurred this morning to Mr. W. P. Castricum, and, as a result, the sight of his right eye is somewhat endangered. He is employed as engineer on the tug Empire, and was down the river about six miles, when the water glass on his engine burst, scattering in all directions. Some of the flying particles struck Mr. Castricum on the eye, and, as a result, he had to return to the city to have the injured part dressed. He is progressing favourably, and no serious results are expected.

OBITUARY.

LILLIE ARMSTRONG

A sad death occurred on Sunday morning when, after an illness extending over four months, Lillie, the only daughter of Mr. John A. Armstrong, succumbed to tuberculosis. Miss Armstrong was 28 years of age and of a quiet, but winning, disposition. She was born in East City and had resided in the vicinity all her life.

Besides her father, she leaves two brothers to mourn her untimely death. They are William John of North Monaghan and Wesley, of Boone, Iowa. She was a faithful member of the Bethany Tabernacle.

The funeral was held this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence, 69 McDonel street, to Little Lake Cemetery.

REGIMENTAL TRIP TO THE GARDEN CITY BEST IN ITS HISTORY

under Commander Geo. Wilson, were also part of the unique congregation. At the conclusion of the service the men were dismissed to go where they pleased the rest of the day.

Military Demonstration

Dominion Day was ushered in with smiling skies and the military demonstrations were consummated without a hitch. At 9.30 the two regiments and the Veterans Association paraded at the armouries and marched to City Park where the military movements were held. Col. Carlyle formerly officer in command of the 19th, was in command of the brigade and on reaching the park the general salute was given.

The Regiments then formed into line in of quarter columns and the officers took their posts in review order and saluted again. This was followed by the march past in column and back again in quarter column, the staffs of the two regiments composing the reviewing officers. The 19th Regiment closed the movements by performing that pretty military spectacle of trooping the colours, accomplishing their tasks with great precision. These manoeuvres as well as the exercises that followed were witnessed by thousands of interested spectators.

Civic Demonstration

The proceedings were then shifted to Shipman's Gore at the corner of St. Paul and Ontario streets where elaborate civic demonstrations were held and in these the 57th Regiment was given the honour of participating. It was marked by various interesting features including the presentation of a steel flag pole to the city of St. Catharines by the Sons of England; a flag by the Daughters of England; a flag by the Daughters of the Empire, who also presented "Vetrans Park" and a fountain to the city and the Canadian ensign to the Veterans Association. Both regiments took part at the first presentation and the officers of each and the Veterans at the others. Mayor Riddell, of St. Catharines received the gifts on behalf of the city. As the flag was raised aloft to the inviting breeze and on the new flag pole for the first time, the 57th Regimental Band struck up the National Anthem amid much enthusiasm.

Officers at Home

Yesterday afternoon the officers' tent of the 57th Regiment was the scene of a pleasant function, when the officers were at home to their fellow officers of the 19th, their and daughters, lady friends and numerous prominent citizens. The 57th band supplied music for the occasion and many were the complimentary remarks passed upon its efficiency and upon the tutorship of its leader, Bandmaster Gliddon. Refreshments were partaken off in the officers' tent and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent. A pleasing feature of the at home was the presentation of a beautiful bouquet of roses by the ladies of St. Catharines to Lt.-Col. Miller. The officers of the regiment through their geniality and courtesy, made hosts of friends in the Garden City.

During the afternoon a lacrosse match was attended by scores of the men whose red coats were very prominent decorations on the grand stand. The opposing teams were Brantford and the Athletics of St. Catharines, who are struggling for senior C. L. A. honours, the result being 9 to 5 in favour of the home team.

The closing hours of the stay in the city were pleasantly spent. The officers of the 57th were the guests of the officers of the 19th at the Welland House, where an excellent supper was spread, and where a number of speeches were made. The evening was a charming one, and the men indulged in pleasant walks about the city before the departure and shortly after ten o'clock the bugle sounded the fall in. The regiment proceeded to the station, accompanied by the officers of the 19th, representatives of the Veterans' Association, Col. Dunn, Col. Carlyle, and Col. King, formerly commanders of the 19th, Rev. Robt. Kerr, chaplain of the 19th, and hundreds of the citizens, including Mayor Riddell. This act on the part of the 19th, and the citizens, greatly pleased the officers of the 57th, who have nothing but praise to offer for the excellent manner in which they were entertained throughout the whole trip. Both bands furnished splendid music along the route, and about 11.30 p.m., after many fond partings and farewells, the regiment entrained for home, arriving in the city before 7 o'clock. They marched to the drill hall in excellent style, showing no signs of fatigue after their two days' outing.

The Bugle Band, which was in command of Sergeant Miles, furnished fine music on several occasions, and were much complimented on their brilliant work.

The officers in command of the 19th "St. Catharines" Regiment of Infantry are Hon. Col. Major General F W Benson, C.B.; Lt.-Col. J S Campbell, commanding; Capt. and Bt. Major G J A Cunningham-Dunlop, Adjutant; Major S H McCoy, M.D., Medical Officer; Hon. Capt. M J Mulock, Paymaster; Hon. Capt. E. Gander, Quartermaster, and Capt. Rev. Robert Ker, Chaplain.

The 57th Regiment staff present were Lt.-Col. J W Miller, Major E B Craig, Capt. D Walker, Adjutant; Hon. Lt.-Col. J T I Halliday, Medical officer; Hon. Major L M Hayes, Paymaster; Hon. Capt. V Eastwood, Quartermaster; and Hon. Major Rev. Canon Davidson, Chaplain.

The only circumstance which in any way marred the success of the trip was the slowness of the Grand Trunk and its unsatisfactory accommodation. The officers were very indignant over the treatment, and their remarks referring to it were not very complimentary. On arriving at St. Catharines station, which is situated about a mile and a half from the centre of the city, a delay of about an hour was caused in waiting for a small engine to run up the side line near the armoury. The new engine failed to put in an appearance, and the train was taken to Merriton, a town about four miles distant. After various manoeuvres on several sidings, the train was taken back to the station, and the regiment walked into the city, arriving at the armoury after 3 o'clock on Sunday morning. For the return trip, three cars were taken off, and this left some overcrowded.

But apart from these unsatisfactory conditions, the trip to St. Kitts was in all respects most successful, and will long be remembered by the officers and men of the 57th Regiment.

The Toronto Globe's report of the visit of the battalion concludes as follows:

"The visiting soldiers spent a delightful two days and returned home to-night, much pleased with the visit. Not a single disorderly act was reported throughout the event."

MR. J. A. TULLY'S GOOD WORK IN SUDBURY

Special Agent for I. O. O. F. Relief Association Spent Some Time in New Ontario This Summer

A recent issue of the Sudbury Mining News has the following reference to the work done in that town by Mr. J. A. Tully, who has spent some time in New Ontario, in the interests of the I.O.O.F.:—"Mr. J. A. Tully, special agent for the Oddfellows' Relief Association, was in town this week in the interests of the Association. Mr. Tully was on his return trip from the Soo, where he spent a few days, and, after a stop at Sudbury will proceed to his home in Peterborough. Mr. Tully's territory extends from ocean to ocean, and in a few months he will commence a western trip, which will probably extedn to Victoria."

Mr. Tully arrived in the city on Saturday night, and will remain at home a short time, before starting out again. He looks well, and is feeling in good health after his trip.

BUT THREE MEN BROKE THE PEACE YESTERDAY

Celebrated by Getting Drunk and Creating a Disturbance

There were at least three loyal men in the city yesterday, but their patriotism did not extend beyond a drunk, closing with the night in the cells at the police station. Magistrate Dumble ironically commended them on their celebration of the day and the good example they had shown. Their was a noticeable absence of drunkeness on the streets on the holiday, and but the three men were arrested. They were Fred Leslie, Thos. Jones and Oscar Fowler. They all pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk and disorderly. The first two were fined two dollars, but Fowler, it was said was the cause of the trouble, and he had a total of $5.85. None of them had the ready cash but one went out and got the necessary.

RADIAL RAILWAY CO'S. BIG RECORD

7,000 Passengers Were Carried Yesterday by Local Street Railway.

Seven thousand passengers were carried yesterday by the Peterborough Radial Railway Company. This constitutes pretty nearly a record traffic for one day, and had not the rain fallen at a particularly opportune time in the afternoon the number would have been largely increased. A splendid service was given all day, and the prompt manner in which it was maintained aroused considerable favourable comment.

There is no dust nuisance in connection with the Sunshine.
Because the Sunshine is fitted with a dust flue (see illustration.)
When you rock down the ashes (no back-breaking shaking with the Sunshine) what dust arises is drawn from the ash-pan up the dust-flue, then across the fire-pot to the smoke-pipe, as shown in illustration, where it immediately ascends to the outer air.
Only two things to remember in connection with this operation:—open both the dust and direct draft dampers.

HUNDREDS SPENT THE HOLIDAY IN JAUNTS TO OUTSIDE POINTS

Dominion Day in Peterborough Was Quietly Spent—Feature of the Day Was the Exodus to Other Places.

ATHLETIC EVENTS HERE

Excursions to Stony Lake and Down the River Were All Very Well Patronized — The Weather.

Yesterday was one of the quietest Dominion Days in the history of Peterborough. More people left the city to spend the day than in years, and the result was that the crowds on the streets were less than on an ordinary day. The railways report a record traffic for the holiday, all the trains running in every direction carrying crowds to their full capacity. The exodus commenced on Saturday—Friday, in fact—and was continued on every train until yesterday morning, when those who had to remian in the city over Sunday took their departure for the day.

Stoney Lake had the call yesterday, and it is doubtful if there has ever been on a Dominion Day a crowd equal to that of yesterday leaving Peterborough for that increasingly popular resort. The two excursions running around the lake were well patronized, and the steamers were carrying capacity crowds.

The largest number leaving the city on any one excursion was that taken by the steamers chartered by the T. A.S., for the annual picnic at T.A.S. Park. From the first trip in the morning the steamers were crowded, and the picnic was a splendid success from every standpoint.

The steamer Otonabee had her record passenger list of the season, too, on he trip to Lily Wyld. On account of a slight mishap the steamer was late in starting on her trip, but good time was made.

Some statistics concerning the traffic on the G.T.R. to Lakefield may be of interest. Five hundred and thirty tickets were sold at the station in the morning, and in addition 100 persons boarded the train at Auburn, chiefly those going on the Auburn Sunday School excursion. The train at night from Lakefield carried 528 passengers. The traffic to Port Hope, too, was very heavy.

The two athletic events in the city, the base ball game in the morning, and the lacrosse game in the afternoon attracted fair crowds, the attendance in the afternoon, however, being affected by the rain, to a certain extent.

The Rattal Railway had a successful day's business, and Jackson Park had the largest crowd of the season.

Boating, too, was a popular pastime yesterday, nearly every boat owned in the city being in commission.

THE SALVATION ARMY BAND WAS ENGAGED

Divided Into Two Sections and Drove to Keene and Fairmount

The Salvation Army Band was divided into two section yesterday and had separate outings to Keene and Fairmount where lawn socials were given by the Methodist churches at each place. Fairmount is not far from Springville in North Monaghan. Both sections were engaged to provide music and report an enjoyable time at either place. Band Master Greene was in charge of the party that went to Keene, while the other was under the direction of Band Sergeant MacDonald and Deputy Bandmaster Darling. An open bus was used in both cases although a few drove in other conveyances.

Their music was appreciated by the people in Keene and Fairmount and the presence of the band added to the enjoyment of the affairs.

EXCEPT BY ACTIVE AND PERSISTENT TREATMENT WITH THE GREAT ECZEMA CURE,

When left to itself, eczema runs on indefinitely, causing keen distress from itching and covering the body with sores that refuse to heal.

Even with careful treatment, eczema is obstinate in yielding to curative measures, but the regular and persistant use of Dr. Chase's Ointment is the most certain means known of overcoming this torturing disease.

Internal treatments for eczema have long since been discarded, except the use of medicines to regulate the bowels and enrich the blood, while local applications are used to relieve the itching and heal the sores.

It is the remarkable success of Dr. Chase's Ointment in the cure of eczema which has given it world-wide recognition as the standard ointment for itching skin diseases.

Mrs. Robert Clendonning, Welland Station, Ont., writes:—

"For three years my dauthter, Fanny, was afflicted with eczema in an intense and persistent form, and for nine days she was totally blind. The burning, itching and disfigurement were horrible, her entire face being completely raw for months, and the distress so great that she could not sleep.

"The best efforts of two eminent physicians failed to even mitigate her awful suffering. One day when I was low-spirited over my daughter's condition Dr. Chase's Ointment was recommended to me and to our surprise Fanny was helped with the first box and she has since been entirely cured by this treatment.

"Her face is now as smooth as a baby's and she is in splendid health. The credit for this cure is entirely due to Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I cheerfully give you permission to state my daughter's case, hoping that it will lead many others to secure the same good results."

There are a score of ways in which Dr. Chase's Ointment, with its extraordinary soothing, healing properties, is useful in every home; 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT AT FAIRMOUNT

Miss Chasty, on Return From Garden Party Had Hip Dislocated—Horse Ran Away, Upsetting Buggy

Last night, while driving in from Fairmount, Miss Tryphena Chuasty met with a painful accident. With a friend, Miss Chasty was returning from the garden party and, while the horse was stopped at a watering trough the animal was frightened, and ran away, upsetting the buggy and throwing the young lady out with such force that her right bone was broken. Dr. McClelland and Dr. Boucher were called to attend her, and she was conveyed to the hospital in the ambulance. She will be laid up for some weeks, but no serious up for some weeks, but no permanently serious results are anticipated.

DOES YOUR SCALP ITCH?
Are Your Hairs Dropping Out By One

If your scalp itches you are doubtless suffering from dandruff. The dandruff germ is digging up your scalp in little flakes, called dandruff, and sapping the life of the hair bulb. No hair preparation that is a mere hair stimulant and tonic will cure dandruff, because it won't kill the germ that causes the trouble. Newbro's Herpicide is the latest scientific discovery, and it will kill the dandruff germ. Destroy the cause and you remove the effect; kill the germ, and you will have no more dandruff, falling hair, or baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1. McDermid & Jury, Special Agents.

SPLENDID MUSICAL SERVICES ON SUNDAY

Mr. R. Norman Jolliffe, of Toronto, Sang Two Solos at Charlotte Street Church —Other Numbers

The presence in the city over Sunday of a number of former members of the Charlotte street choir, made possible musical services of more than usual interest and excellence. At the morning service Miss Clara Bellegham sang as a solo, "Shall I Forgotten Be?" by Herbert Johnston, and after the sermon Mr. R. Norman Jolliffe was heard with delight in "Crossing the Bar," by Behrend. At the evening service Mr. Jolliffe again sung, his selection being Granier's "Hosanna," and the offertory number was a male quartette, "Where is my Wandering Boy to-night?" the members taking part being Messrs. Legge, Browne, Jolliffe and Dormer, the solo parts being taken by Messrs. Legge and Browne.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Alan Terrill of Greenbank.

REPORTS OF LARGE FISH BEING CAUGHT

One Man Hooked Forty Trout Yesterday —A Day's Profitable Sport

The stories of the local piscatorial artists are coming in thick and fast, and some record catches are reported. Mr. John D. Craig landed a 15 pound lunge in the vicinity of his summer cottage. Yesterday Mr. Frank Derrick caught forty speckled trout in one of the creeks in the vicinity of Manvers. They were dandies and it proved to be a great sport. Mr. Albert Rose of the G. T. R., ticket office, hooked two fine lunge yesterday morning just before eight o'clock. He was trawling in the Little Lake when he caught them. Mr. Robt. Howland brought down with him from Stony Lake, a magnificent specimen of lunge.

A FOGGY BRAIN

is usually the direct result of a clogged liver, and accompanying this is a disordered digestion, unstrung nerves and general lassitude. Eliminate the waste products of the body and enable the liver and kidneys to perform their proper functions and the entire system will resume its normal condition. King Palmetto Compound is the most perfect kidney and liver tonic, nerve builder and blood purifier ever prepared, and you are not asked to take it on faith. Its formula is not a secret, but is published plainly on the wrapper. If in doubt show it to your doctor. One dose a day is all that is required and the first dose will give you proof of its virtues; sick-headache, biliousness, and general nervous break-down respond immediately to its curative properties. Rheumatism and a host of disorders resulting from impure blood are relieved and eventually cured by its use. Neuralgia and all nervous disorders quickly disappear when their cause is removed. King Palmetto Compound is not an experiment, but a scientifically demonstrated success. Give it a trial. Write for a free sample bottle to the King Palmetto Company, Bridgeburg, Ontario.

Thirty-Six Years Resident; Passed Away On Saturday

Late Mr. Henry Trollope Died After Lengthy Illness — Had Been Employee of Auburn Woollen Mills for Thirty-Five Years.

BORN IN CROCKERTON

On Saturday, after an illness extending over a period of about 18 months, Mr. Henry Trollope, who for the last thirty years has been a respected resident of Peterborough, passed away, the cause of his death being dropsy and heart disease.

While the deceased has been ailing for more than a year it is only a few weeks ago that he took to his bed finally, but since that time he has failed rapidly.

The late Mr. Trollope was born in Crockerton, Wiltshire, England, on November 25th, 1839, and was therefore in his 68th year. In 1871 he came to Canada, and, settling in Peterborough, has lived here ever since, and for thirty-five years worked in the Auburn Woollen Mills, leaving the employ of the company about a year and a half ago.

He was married in England to Mary Ann Dredge who, with a family of three sons and three daughters, survives him. The sons are Harry of Peterborough; Frank, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Edward, of Toronto; and the daughters, Emma, at home; Mrs. A. E. Benton, Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Mrs. W. H. Moyes, of Toronto. The children were all at home when their father passed away.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon, from his late residence, 850 Water street, and it was attended by a very large number of the friends of the deceased, who gathered to pay their last respects. The pall bearers were Messrs. Richard Chrowe, George Pratley, Andrew Allison, David Wedgewood, Michael Burke and Ambrose Jones. The funeral service at the house and at the graveside was conducted by Rev. Dr. Crothers, pastor of the George street Methodist church.

There were a number of very handsome floral tributes, among them being the following: Pillar, from the sons and daughters of the deceased; gates ajar, from the employees of the Auburn Woollen Mills; cross from Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kendry; anchor from Mr. and Mrs. George Payne; star and wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Crawford; bouquet of

BATTERY IS BACK FROM CAMP

24th Arrived From Pettawawa on Sunday—A Most Profitable Two Week's Training

SOME OF THE FEATURES

The 24th Field Battery returned on Sunday afternoon from a two weeks' course of training at Petawawa, where with the 14th Field Battery, they formed the Tenth Brigade. The effect of the hard drilling they received was shown in the appearance of the men and horses, who attracted considerable attention as they marched up George street from the C. P. R. station en route to the armouries.

The members of the battery report a profitable and enjoyable visit to Petawawa, which is described as an ideal training ground for artillery, permitting of the use of loaded shells without the least danger to anyone.

When the 24th were at Petawawa there were eleven batteries there, ten with four twelve-pounders, and the howitzer battery from Guelph.

A battery of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery was in camp, and "B" Battery, the one that passed through Peterborough a short time ago, is at Pembroke.

One of the features off the camp was the bursting of a star lydite shell by the howitzer battery. The shell is used for illuminating purposes and this was its first trial in Canada.

Colonel Neil McNachton of Cobourg, was in charge of the 10th Brigade.

RECORD CROWDS AT ANNUAL PICNIC

St. Peter's T. A. S. Held their Picnic on the Otonabee, Seven Miles from City.

A VERY ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The outing under the auspices of the St. Peter's T. A. S., to their beautiful park on the Otonabee, about seven miles from the city, was a record breaker in many respects, pleasure and amusement for a large number of the citizens of Peterborough.

There are many things accountable for the success of the seventh annual excursion of the T.A.S., the fundamental one being the popularity that this event has attained among the people of the city. Again, the weather yesterday was ideal, instilling that longing for the river, that is usually felt on a holiday. Perhaps the greatest factor in promoting the general success of the day, was the arrangements made by the committee. Complete details had been planned, everything was in readiness, and the men worked like Trojans, with the well-oiled machinery, with the result that there was not the slightest hitch or confusion. The whole committee did their work nobly, but special mention should be made of Mr. Nicholas Bibbby, chairman of the committee, and particularly Mr. Jos. Maher, the were indefatigable in their efforts to make the picnic an unqualified success.

The grounds proved excellent for the requirements of the picnic, and the preparations made by Mr. P. Kane, and those who assisted him in the work from time to time, were in evidence yesterday. The swings, seats, etc., were in use all the time.

The Crowd

The number of people who took in the trip was astonishing, and the two steamers that made half-hour trips all the day long were crowded at all times. The system of conveying the people by street car and boat was also a commendable feature. On the grounds the dancing pavilion was ever a source of interest and pleasure. The dining table in charge of the ladies of the Sodality, provided for a want that would have been difficult to fill otherwise. The ladies' assistance was appreciated by the society, as they were prepared for almost any number.

Perhaps the source of most interest was the sporting events. They were carried out in a satisfactory manner by the following committee —W. S. Merrell, George Ahearn, P. O'Donnell, T. Cronin, John Noyes. The contests were keen and marked by close finishes. They were as follows.

In the morning the Wellingtons defeated the Bisons by 12—10 in a close game of ball.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien was present and was welcomed on every hand. He appeared in the best of health, after his ocean voyage and his journey to Europe.

Nothing occurred to mar the outing and the return trips were made in good time last night, after one of the greatest days in the history of the T.A.S.

The committee expressed themselves as highly pleased with the consideration and kindness showed by the crews of both boats. Their hearty co-operation was appreciated by the society and it is undoubtedly true that their assistance was very material.

The Street Railway Company also received just praise for the manner in which they carried the large crowds. They were busy throughout the day and did not stop until the last excursionist had returned. They were generous in their supply of cars and altogether were of great aid to the society.

The ladies of the Sodality had charge of the dining table and there were only words of praise for the excellence of the food, it's abundance and the tasteful manner in which it was served.

The new boat runs without a tremor and won general praise by its good work. The famous resort proved an ideal place for an outing and the people enjoyed themselves in many ways. The return was made at an early hour, after a pleasant run up the river.

CONFIRMATION AT THE CATHEDRAL

Two Hundred Children Received Sacrament of Holy Communion and Confirmation

AN IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

At the 9 o'clock mass on Sunday morning at St. Peter's Cathedral, His Lordship Bishop O'Connor administered the Sacraments of Holy Communion and Confirmation to about two hundred boys and girls. The ceremony was performed during the mass, which was celebrated by Bishop O'Connor. There was a majority of boys this year, which is somewhat of an exception. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday the children were prepared for the event.

They occupied the centre of the church, and, at the Communion time, filed to the altar. The girls were dressed in white and wore white veils, while the boys wore black suits, and each had a white ribbon tied on his left arm. The ceremony, which was an impressive one, was performed by His Lordship, assisted by Rev. Father McColl.

After the mass the children received the Sacrament of Confirmation, after which His Lordship addressed a few remarks to the children. He said that the day marked one of the most important events in their lives. Their baptismal day was the greatest, and, after that, their confirmation was of the greatest importance. Christ instituted the Sacrament, His Lordship said, to strengthen the faith that had been already fostered, and to enlighten the minds of the young people in the truths of religion. He urged the children to always be faithful in the practice of their religious duties, that they might be able to cope with the dangers of the world which they would meet when they grew older.

The children said the Apostles' Creed, Our Father, and Hail Mary, and Bishop O'Connor asked them to make three promises, which they did. They were, first, to abstain from all intoxicating liquors until the age of 21 years; second, to say their morning and evening prayers every day, and, third, to always receive Holy Communion at least once a year. If they remained faithful to these promises, he said, they would enter upon manhood and womanhood well equipped. Business to-day, His Lordship said, demanded men who did not drink. It also wants men who lead honest, pure lives, and, remaining true to the promises just made, they should make men and women of the best and noblest type.

His Lordship also complimented the sisters who had so carefully instructed the children. He asked the parents to do all in their power to keep their children under their care. Happy homes, where sobriety, honesty and purity were inculcated by the example of the parents, would do a great deal to cultivate the children according to the highest ideals. The parents, he said, should see that the children did not remain out late at night, but should make their home surroundings happy. His Lordship gave excellent advice to parents and children and then concluded the mass.

After the service the children returned to the convent, marching in separate bodies. Two banners were carried, one by the following boys: James Heffernan, Louis Barrette, George Bain, Kenneth Donoghue, John Cahill, and the other by the girls. Those chosen were Aileen Miloy, Morais McCarney, Kathleen Conroy, Marie Auguste, Rose Drennan, Hermanes Duranceau.

In the afternoon the children were enrolled in the scapular of the Blessed Virgin.

Forty Years Of Progress And Canada's Responsibility

Rev. J. R. Webb Preached Patriotic Sermon in Murray Street Church on Sunday, in Which Some Interesting Facts Are Given

Forty years ago she was a practically unknown colony of the British Crown. To-day Canada is attracting more attention than any other country on the globe.

In 1867 the area of the colony was 420,000 square miles. To-day the Dominion of Canada has an area of 3,745,574 square miles.

In only one country in the world, Switzerland, is there a lower death rate per thousand of population than in Canada.

Providence has favoured our land with the best — resources in endless variety and magnitude are hers. In view of these facts, what is the responsibility devolving upon Canadians to-day? Rev. Mr. Webb believes that it is to provide Canada with sons who have high ideas of what manhood should be.

The fortieth birthday of the Dominion furnished an appropriate subject for a patriotic sermon by Rev. J. R. Webb, in the Murray street Baptist church on Sunday, which brought out many points of particular significance at the stage in Canada's history when she has reached the age of forty years.

"Our Heritage" was the subject of the sermon, and the text was one peculiarly apropos, "Thou shalt remember all the way the Lord, thy God led thee these forty years," Deut. VIII; 2.

In dealing with the question, Mr. Webb, among other things said:—

These are the words of Moses to Israel. I use them to day in view of the fact that to-morrow will mark the fortieth anniversary of Confederation.

Canada was the first colony to form a confederation and to-day we have but two surviving fathers of the measure. These are Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. A. A. MacDonald, of P. E. I.

Previous to July 1st, 1867 the colony was but fourteen hundred miles long and from two hundred to three hundred miles wide, or 420 thousand square miles. We have now over three millions seven hundred and forty-five thousand five hundred and seventy-four square miles.

The population at the time of the last census was 5,371,315 and it must be remembered that the five and a half years that have since passed have been the most progressive of Canada's history.

Forty years ago the idea of Canada's importance was as far below what these years have justified as the any hill is below the Rockies. Parkman says "The springs of American civilization unlike those of the elder world lie revealed in the clear light of history." There is an immense advantage in living at a time when real history is being made.

The greatest lakes of earth wash our shores.

Derisively one said in the days of Lord Egin, "The far west is but a sea of worthless mountains." Time has made the tourist say, "A hundred Switzerlands in one," and made the citizen know that these are veritable treasuries.

The most glorious of creation's rivers glides through our land.

We own the largest granary the world has ever seen.

Where are there orchards to surpass those of Niagara Peninsula, and Okonagan Valley?

The extensive and fruitful fisheries of the far east and far west are among the world's wonders. The mighty forests together with the far-seeing policy of our Government regarding them, promise to furnish an almost perpetual supply of timber for our industries.

"The gold and silver and the cattle upon a thousand hills" are God's and He has put much of the former into our hills and the best of the latter upon them.

Peace has blessed our boundaries in an unexpected degree during these two score years.

No great famine or earthquake or conflagration has wrecked our heritage.

There is but one country under God's blue dome where the death-rate is lower per thousand than in this Canada of ours and twenty-five thousand miles of railway provide ingress for the multitudes attracted to our shores.

Educational advantages are, in spite of great obstacles, of the very highest order. The masculinity of our youth has been exhibited in every hour of our country's need and the beauty and thrift of our women has given them wide-world reputation.

The discernment of the excellent is a desirable quality in a rising people and in this Canadians are not wanting. Religious, educational and charitable institutions arise wherever our sons seek fortunes and find them.

What does all this mean to us to-day? It ought to mean to-day? It ought to mean gratitude to God.

"Thou shalt remember that the Lord led thee."

The Dufferin Valediction says:—"Love your country, work for her, pray for her, fight for her, live for her, die for her," and no advice in this classic is more worthy of our attention than the exhortation prayer, and methinks our petitions to-day should be turned to thanksgiving. Hosea said of the thoughtless: "She did not know that I gave her corn and oil and wine." It is our duty and privilege to know from whence these blessings come. Patriotism cannot find its superlative apart from Godliness. When God gave Scotland to John Knox in answer to prayer, Scotland received better government, larger liberty and better security. Let us remember that God and good cannot be divorced.

God comes down in the rain,
And the crop grows tall—
This is the country faith
And the best of all!

We should engage to-day in self-interrogation as to our duty.

Does the prosperity of our country and age lay any special obligations upon us? The slightest knowledge of history makes us know that we have but entered into the labours of others, and this implies a duty to the generation following. The range of direct influence is necessarily small, and yet every individual ought to see to it that, as much as in him lies, the faith and fibre of the future is what it ought to be. We are not in this world to get all we can out of it, but to put all we should into it. He spoke truly who said, "The world does not owe every man a living, but every living man owes the world a life." By instruction of those under one influence, by self-sacrifice, by upholding principle in the face of the most overwhelming opposition. By these things, the true patriot pays the debt he owes.

Our children ought to be taught that there is no success won where there is no service rendered, that blue blood is true blood, and not the poisoned stream that often crawls through the veins of so-called aristocracy. You can make no contribution of young country's weal that means more than the gift of sons with high ideals of what manhood should be.

"God give us men. A time like this demands
Strong minds, great heads, true faith, and ready hands;
Men whom the lust of office cannot kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honour; men who will not lie."

Tell your sons to be slow to judge any man whose life is lived "in that fierce light which beats upon a throne," but when he is proved to be a hireling, a time-server, or libertine, to denounce his practices regardless of his political stripe. What O'Connell said long ago stands to-day, "Nothing is politically right that is morally wrong."

These milestones that mark a prosperous path ought to urge us to new energy in the cause that lies nearest to the heart of our great Benefactor.

I know a man who, a year ago, cared nothing for postage stamp collections; to-day he is writing to every part of the globe for specimens. What wrought the change? He was saved from drowning by a boy who has a passion for these things. We have been saved and bountifully served by One Who loves not only Canada, but the world. He wants our help in securing the kingdoms of the earth and in bringing trophies from every zone to His feet. May Canadians ever be faithful to their worthy king, and most faithful to the King of Kings. "Thou shalt remember all the way that the Lord thy God led thee these forty years."

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely

COURT LITTLEJOHN C.O.F. EXCURSION TO NIAGARA

This Annual Trip, Which Has Acquired Well Deserved Popularity, Takes Place This Year on July 18th

One of the most successful Society excursions of the summer is the delightful trip under the auspices of Court Littlejohn, C.O.F., to Toronto and Niagara Falls. This is the excursion which "age cannot wither or custom stale," and has been looked forward to every Civic Holiday by hundreds who never failed to enjoy the two or three days' outing.

This year, however—because of the new order of the railway managers, who refuse to grant charters to societies, for excursion trains on Civic or public holidays—the committee of Court Littlejohn has selected an earlier date than usual for their annual event, viz., Thursday, July 18th. The C.P.R. will carry their crowd this year over the old route to Toronto, and the Niagara Navigation Company's elegant line of steamers will take them across Lake Ontario to Niagara Falls. The attractions there are as numerous as ever, if not more so, and those should go who never went before, and those who always went should go once more. The tickets are good going on Thursday, 18th July, and returning on any regular train up to 11 p.m. Saturday evening. Posters will be issued in a few days.

Go with the Murray Street Baptist Sunday School Excursion to Idyl Wyld on Thursday, July 4th, per steamer Otonabee. Adult Ticket 50c., Intermediate Classes 25c. Steamer leaves Wolfe Street Wharf at 8:30, Street Railway Wharf at 9:00. Always a good time at this picnic.

INSPECTION OF THE REGIMENT

Will Take Place This Week—Inspecting Officers

The inspection of the 57th Regiment will take place on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, of this week, with Col. Young, D. O. C., and Col. Hemming of Kingston, as the inspecting officers.

The right half of the battalion—Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 companies—will be inspected to-morrow night, at the armouries; and the left half of the Battalion on Thursday night. The regimental inspection takes place on Friday night.

3 MINISTERS CLOSE PASTORATES

Rev. Dr. Torrance, After 31 Years Leaves St. Paul's Church—Dr. Crothers' Tribute

REV. J. G. LEWIS ALSO GOES

In St. Paul's Church, at the close of the communion service on Sunday morning, Rev. Dr. Torrance spoke a few words of farewell in connection with the termination of his thirty-one years' pastorate.

He said that he had presided at every communion service in the long period of 31 years, with the exception of one, when he was ill. He looked back upon the hallowed associations when they had assembled in the King's banqueting house, and He had placed His banner over them, and that banner was love.

During the past five months of trial he had shed no tears, but it was difficult to keep them back now as he said farewell. He had come among the people 31 years ago, young and inexperienced. He spoke of the help and support received from the congregation, of their devotion and loyalty to him in the earlier and later days; how the membership had grown and the edifice had been enlarged; how kind all had been during his long illness of some years ago, and the many gifts, large and small, that had at different times been bestowed upon him as tangible proofs of their appreciation — on the occasion of his beginning housekeeping, his marriage day and on other occasions, and, lastly, the donation of $2,500 as a retiring honorarium.

He was not leaving Peterborough joyfully or willingly. It might be asked, then, why was he separating himself from the congregation. This severance was the greatest sorrow that had ever come into his life.

"I resigned my pastorate," he remarked, "because I was given to understand that a considerable portion of the congregation did not believe that it was for the best interests of St. Paul's Church that I should remain as pastor, and so I resigned. I was led to understand a number believed that under another pastor the church would make greater progress — spiritually and financially — and that every department of the work of the church would increase in activity. I therefore felt that it was my duty to resign. My interest in this church will never cease, and I shall watch it with deepest interest, and sincerely trust that your brightest expectations may be realized and that the church may be more promising than it ever has during its past history. May God's richest blessing rest upon you all, and may you all work together in the best interest of St. Paul's.

PAID HIGH TRIBUTE TO THE PRESS OF THE CITY IN FAREWELL SERMON

Rev. Dr. Crothers closed three years' pastorate in the George street church on Sunday evening. The edifice was crowded to the doors and the service which was one of song, was greatly enjoyed.

Accompanied by his wife and family he will leave on Thursday for St. Catharines, his future charge. Rev. E. A. Pearson, the new pastor of George street church, will arrive on Thursday morning, and will deliver his introductory sermons on Sunday next.

In bidding his hearers farewell Dr Crothers thanked all for their kindness to him, his wife and family during the past three years. These years had come and gone like a flash. If conditions were agreeable to the people, and the rules of the Methodist church permitted it, he would be most happy to spend the remainder of his life in the busy bustling city of Peterborough.

He also expressed his appreciation of the generous treatment of the local press, which had materially assisted him in his work. He could not thank the press too heartily. His relations with the quarterly official board had been exceedingly pleasant.

REV. J. G. LEWIS BIDS FAREWELL TO THE MARK STREET PEOPLE

The farewell sermons of Rev. J. G. Lewis, from the pastorate of the Mark street Methodist church on Sunday were of more than usual significance, because, as he stated, he was not only bidding good bye to the people with whom he had worked for four pleasant years, but he was also in a sense leaving his home, for in his earlier life he had lived in the community in which he had filled the duties of pastor.

The congregation at this church at both services on Sunday were very large, and there were many expressions of regret at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, to whom the members of the congregation had become warmly attached during the last four years.

In a few words Mr. Lewis expressed his gratitude for the many acts of kindness shown him during his pastorate, and for the hearty co-operation with which his efforts had been met. His relations with the official bodies of the church and with the membership had been most pleasant, and he left Peterborough to take his new pastorate with regret. He hoped that his successor would be the recipient of the same help which had been accorded him.

At the evening service Mr. R. Dormer who was in the city from Berlin, visiting, sang as a solo, "Face to Face" by Johnston.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF CLUB QUARTERS

Members of C. G. E. Angling Club Spent the Holiday at Rice Lake Opening New Club House

MANY FISH WERE CAUGHT

The official opening of the new club quarters of the C. G. E. Angling Club, took place yesterday, and the function was thoroughly enjoyable, and was participated in by about twenty members of the club, and their guests. The advance party left on Friday night, and made preparations for the reception of the remaining members, who arrived on Saturday on the yacht Tootsie. Saturday evening was spent in fishing, and some good catches were reported. Sunday was a day of rest, and on Monday the members were up bright and early for their fish, and enough were caught to provide three fish meals yesterday.

At the noon-day meal the official opening took place, when a banquet was held, when a five course dinner was provided by Chef Trombly. The chairman and toast master, was Commodore J. G. M. Wilson, who proposed the toast to the King. Mr. D. Carlisle proposed the toast to the uninitiated and the response to this toast, was unique but satisfactory.

Mr. T. Carson, was given the pleasant duty of proposing the toasts to the guests, and Mr. R. Dobie responded.

The afternoon was again spent in fishing, and the party returned to the city about nine o'clock, after a delightful outing.

A FATALITY NARROWLY AVERTED

Three Men Upset in Otonabee—Were Rescued Just in Time

On Sunday evening last as Arthur Rogers and Mr. Huffman, of Toronto, accompanied by a couple of friends, were returning from a pleasure trip down the Otonabee, they were startled by cries for help behind them, and on hurrying back half a mile or so distant, found three men upset in the river. One had succeeded in reaching shore, while the second man was floundering in an exhausted condition towards the opposite shore, and the third, who could not swim, was clinging frantically to the buoy.

The man in the water was helped to shore, and his companion, who was almost exhausted, taken from the buoy with the timely assistance of a canoeing party. How the accident occurred is a mystery, as the river was clear and the boat in apparently good condition.

Great credit is due the young ladies in Mr. Rogers' boat for their aid in helping the exhausted men to shore.

Peterborough Lost Hard Game To Port Hope

Locals First League Ball Game Played Yesterday---Lost by 3-0 Before an Enormous Crowd of Fans--- A Great Contest

The Peterborough Baseball Club have played and lost their first game in the Midland League, losing to Port Hope yesterday afternoon in the Lakeshore town by a score of 3-0, after one of the best games ever seen in the league. Everything broke badly for Peterborough. The morning game with the Arctics didn't do them much good and they had to go on the field without dinner. This was enough to take the gingerout of them and they did not step into them at the bat as they have been doin gall season. Jack Rosevear of Port Hope was umpire and did not give us anything, especially on balls and strikes, making it very hard for Quinlan who occupied the slab for Peterborough.

Quinlan was in great form and only allowed the hard hitting Port Hopers four hits, but Rosevear's bad decisions on balls and strikes got him into trouble. Surphlis pitched for Port Hope and was unhittable when his hits meant runs. The Pirates go to him for five singles, but he kept them scattered and although he was in trouble several times he got out of it in a very lucky manner. In the eighth with two on bases and two out he pulled down a hard grounder from Burridge that looked all to the good, retiring the side.

Port Hope scored two of their runs in the ninth after Brown had struck out. Boney started it by making Port Hope's first hit. O'Brien was hit by a pitched ball and Thompson received a base on balls, thanks to Rosevear's bad sight or generosity. Henderson supplied the needful in the shape of a pretty single over second on which Boney and O'Brien scored. O'Neil was handed a pass, Kolb hit to Graham and Thompson and Henderson were nipped at the plate by fast fielding. Henderson tried to score thinking that there was a block ball and was out a mile.

Again in the fourth Port Hope filled the bases with but one out but Quinlan steamed up getting Brown on a pop fly to Graham and striking out Boney.

In the sixth with one down Port Hope scored their last run. Surphlis put one over the fence giving him two bases on a ground rule, Poulter's fumble of Boney's grounder gave him a chance to score.

It was not until the third that Peterborough got a man on the bags. With two gone Graham drove out a pretty single but Burns grounded out to Surphlis. The same thing happened in the fourth with Callaghan and Burridge gone, Conners singled to left centre and stole second. Quinlan stranded him by fanning.

The prospects for runs in the seventh were very bright. With Burridge gone Conners got his second single and stole second, Quinlan hit to Surphlis who threw Conners out at third. Quinlan stole second and Haliburton drove out a pretty single between first and second He stole second and the last two switches were occupied. Poulter failed to do the necessary, going out catcher to first.

In the eighth with two gone, Burns was safe on O'Brien's low throw to first, and Callaghan bunted safely, Surphlis pulled down Burridge's grounder with one hand and another chance was gone.

In the ninth with two out Haliburton drew a pass but Poulter fanned and the game was over.

The work of the umpire was not satisfactory to the Peterboro team. Jack is generally all to the good but he was off yesterday and Port Hope benefitted, yesterday and Port Hope benefitted by his decisions on balls and strikes. It was hard on Quinlan who pitched a superb game and was given splendid support. The team fielded fast and snappily.

Although the fielding on both sides was clean and accurate, there was no sensational features. There was an enormous crowd at the game, including many Peterborough people. The following figures will tell the story of the disaster—

Everything went wrong yesterday. In the first place the team had not time to get their street clothes after the morning game and had to catch the train as they were. They went on the field without dinner hoping to catch the 4.40 train home, but missed it after all and were stranded in Port Hope for the night with their ball clothes on. Thanks to the kindness of the Port Hope team they were fitted out for the evening. To cap the climax not a bed could be secured and the boys passed the night on the floor.

Two More Victories From Toronto Artics

Peterborough Defeated Visitors on Saturday and Monday in Easy Fashion---Poulter Pitched Yesterday Morning and Won His Contest

Peterborough won the Saturday afternoon game in easy fashion. The game was decidedly listless, the superiority of the locals over the patched up Arctics being apparent at all stages. The visitors were weakened through the fact that a number of their men missed the train, thus disorganizing the infield.

Quinlan pitched three innings for the locals and in that period only nine men faced him, seven of them striking out. Burns finished out the game and though handicapped by a very sore wing, pitched good ball. He got into trouble in the fourth when three hits and a base on balls netted the visitors three runs, but he held them safe after that and there was no scoring for the Arctics.

The locals landed on Greer, the old St. Mary's pitcher, consistently throughout the game and aided by the Arctics' fielding which was bright green tinged with saffron and daring base running won the game without trouble.

Some of the features of the game were Poulter's work at short, a catch of a foul fly by Haliburton, Cowle's homer over the creek in the third and Burn's stealing home.

W. Wareham umpired satisfactorily as usual. The following figures will show the cause of the downfall of the visitors—

The Peterborough Ball Team have won another series from the Artics, winning on Saturday and yesterday morning. There was only a small crowd at the ball yards yesterday morning but they saw an instructive exhibition. Peterborough won without trouble. Poulter was in the box and did fine work, although somewhat wild. Peterboro' batted steadily all through and scored in every innings but one. The game was called in the eighth to give the locals a chance to catch the train for Port Hope.

EX-EXAMINER PITCHER TO PERFORM

The central figure in a baseball game of more than usual significances, which will be played to-night at 6.30, at the Riverside Park, will be Norman Jolliffe, the erstwhile twirler for the Examiner team — and several other minor aggregations. He will perform—the word is used advisedly—in a game in which members of the press, and a few other would-be ball players will participate. It will be the greatest contest of the season in many respects. It is understood that the team opposing that on which the Toronto twirler will play has imported a pitcher from Stony Lake, and a battle royal is promised.

SIMPSON, THE INDIAN RUNNER WON

Captured the 10 Mile Road Race at Lindsay—The "Longboat" of Hiawatha.

Fred Simpson, the Indian runner, representing Peterborough in the ten mile road race at Lindsay yesterday, captured first place and won the beautiful $10 genuine gold watch. The race was the principal feature of the programme of sports under the supervision of the Catholic Literary Society. The time was one hour and five minutes and would have been much better had the winners not had about four inches of mud to contend with.

Ben Howard, the Hiawatha Indian, who won the five mile race at the Turf Club's sports here some time ago finished second. Boyler and Taylor of the West End Y.M.C.A., Toronto, finished third and fourth respectively, and were about half a lap behind the red men.

Taylor lead for the first seven miles, followed by Howard, and Boyler with Simpson bringing up the rear. In the next two mile stretch Howard lead with Simpson following. About 300 yards from the finish the two Indians were running almost neck and neck, until within 50 yards from the goal Simpson sprinted strong and won by about 15 yards.

Simpson was trained by Mr. Dick Baker of Peterborough, who naturally is very enthusiastic over the win which was a very popular one among the Lindsay folk.

Mr. Baker states that Simpson has the speed and that he will probably enter him in some Toronto races in the near future. Simpson was nicknamed "Longboat" by the spectators.

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR YOUNG PEOPLE AT CHEMONG PARK

Important Gathering of More Than 100 Young Methodists From Different Parts of Bay of Quinte Conference.

FIRST SESSION ON TUESDAY

Good Addresses by Some of the Leaders in Young Peoples' Work — List of Delegates Recorded.

Special Correspondence

Chemong Park, July 3. Here in this magnificent spot on the shores of Chemong Lake, in a grove of stately pines, the Kawartha Lakes Methodist Summer School has commenced its work About one hundred delegates have already registered and every bus is bringing in its quota from all parts of the Bay of Quinte Conference. This school is under auspices of Bay of Quinte Conference of the Methodist Church, and is held for the study of the bible, and missions and methods of work. It is intended to be an aid especially to the Young People's Epworth League, Sunday School Teachers and others interested in church work.

The sessions started last night and will continue until Sunday evening next. In general the morning from 8.45 to 12 is devoted to studying proverbs, Prof. McLaughlin, MA, BD and Mr. Thos. Keough being among those who are lecturing and leading the classes. Besides these Miss Ethel H. Patterson, BA, Athens, and Miss Edna Drewry, Welland, are conducting mission study classes in China, the text book studied being, The Uplift of China, by Rev. Arthur H. Smith, for many years a missionary and still laboring in China.

The afternoons are left for recreation, conversation, etc. Rowing parties will be organized and tennis and other games will occupy many. The evenings are devoted to mass meetings when addresses of an inspiring nature will be delivered.

Preparations

Yesterday afternoon was spent in getting ready. Large roomy tents have been erected to accommodate the overflow from the hotel. Just here let us say that it is probable that never before has the hotel at the park been so taxed for a week as it is now, and Mr. George H Browne, the proprietor, is doing his utmost to make everything comfortable for the many guests. Every room in the large building is filled and tent accommodation is provided for about sixty outside.

Last night's meeting was addressed by Prof. J. F. McLaughlin and Mr. Thos. Keough, both of Toronto. The addresses were in the nature of an introduction to their studies of the week.

This morning Prof. McLaughlin spoke on the Missionary idea of the Bible. Rev. R. Embaugh gave an adress dealing with the recent union of the Methodist forces in Japan. Rev. H. W. Foley BA, BD, on Methods of League Work, and the study classes on the Uplift of China, were dismissed, while eighty young people sat with note paper and pencil, bible and text book, to take down all that was helpful.

The spot is ideal, the people are here to work, they are representative of the whole conference; their influence should be wide spread when they return.

Among the delegates are—

From Toronto—Prof. J. F. McLaughlin, Thos. Keouth, Miss E H Patterson, BA and P G Might.

A SUDDEN DROP IN STRAWBERRY PRICES

Strawberries took a sudden drop in price yesterday. On Monday night, hucksters offering this fruit for sale at the houses, were asking 25 cents a box, and they expressed the opinion that that price would be maintained. Yesterday, however, there was a different story to tell, when berries were being offered at 15 cents a box. The supply is rapidly increasing, and it is not anticipated that there will again be a shortage until the end of the season. The price should gradually go down to 12 cents a box, since the fruit is coming in in large quantities at the present time.

LOCAL DELEGATION DELAYED

Oddfellows From This City Were Unable to Attend Belleville Demonstration Because of Wreck

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT

The Oddfellows of Belleville held a demonstration on Dominion Day. It was reported as a splendid success, but that success was somewhat discounted by the fact that the Peterborough delegation which was expected, was unable to reach the Bay City. The Intelligencer, referring to the incident said:—

Of course there were many disappointments; this weary world is full of them as you may have noticed, perhaps. On Saturday night it was confidently believed that no less than seven visiting Cantons would be in the city, but all but two of them failed to turn up. To be sure there was an excellent excuse for Peterborough. That body of genial souls, with the Campbellford band and about 200 excursionists, were coming as fast as steam could bring them, when an unlucky freight train, just ahead of them, cheerfully ran off the track and put the Peterborough Canton's plans right "on the blink." They turned up among the missing.

Cullen, county constable, and brought to the city, where he remained in gaol until to-day. He was fined ten dollars and costs to be paid before July 18th.

COMMENCE OPERATIONS ON NEW TELEPHONE EXCHANGE BUILDING

Active work was commenced this morning by the contractors, Messrs. Hines and Gordon, on the excavations for the new central exchange building of the Bell Telephone Company. A number of men and teams were at work, and the foundation will be laid as quickly as possible.

It is understood that the company is desirous of having the building ready for occupancy at an early date, and the contractors, appreciating this, are using every means to complete the work within the time specified.

GAINING WEIGHT AT RATE OF 100 POUNDS PER YEAR

Pittsburg, July 2.—Suffering with the most pronounced case of "elephantiasis" in medical history, Mrs. David Lynch, aged 60 years, is attracting scores of physicians to her home in State street, McKeesport.

Five years ago Mrs. Lynch weighed 185 pounds; now she tips the beam at a shade over 500 pounds. The calf of her left leg is 7 feet in circumference, or about 2 1-2 feet thick. For months the woman has been unable to walk because of the size of her lower limbs. Her entire body is affected, and the attending physicians stated that Mrs. Lynch has absolutely no chance of recovery.

PETERBOROUGH YOUNG MEN ARE DEVELOPING A SAVING HABIT

A Remarkable Increase in the Number of Savings Accounts Opened for Young Men Recently

THE FAR-REACHING RESULTS

Some Depositors Describe Methods Made Use of by Them in Saving Their Earnings.

Have the young men of the city turned over a new leaf and started to save their money? Indications seem to favour this belief. This morning a young man, who, according to his own statement, could not save his money, (although he was earning a good salary, was now carrying a savings bank to deposit the contents—silver—in a local bank which makes a specialty of issuing these individual banks. When the teller opened the bank it was found that the amount contained in it was sixty per cent. more than the young man thought it would be, but the further volunteered the information that it he had not taken this bank he would in all probability have spent all the money he was then depositing, and would have derived no benefit from it.

A conversation with a member of the bank staff gave the information that recently a great many persons, particularly young men, were opening savings accounts, and some of them told of their methods of saving money for their banks. One young man stated that he had made it a habit of putting into his bank at home each night an amount equal to that spent by him during the day for tobacco or drinks.

Another young fellow gave his method, stating that every night when he went home he emptied all the silver or coppers from his pockets into the bank, and the rate at which his bank filled was a surprise to him.

Should the indications that the young men are developing a saving habit prove to describe the actual situation, it will be good news, and the solution of the problem of why young men do not marry may be reached.

KEEPS CONSTRUCTION OF CANAL OPERATING

Chief Engineer Butler Will Pay Official Visit to Trent Canal

Ottawa, July 2.—Mr. M. J. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, left this morning for Trenton to make an inspection of the work which is now going on, and the survey of the Trent Valley Canal.

$100 PER YEAR FOR THE DRIVERS

Will be Paid That Sum for Looking After Rooms in New Fire Hall

At the meeting of the Committees of the Whole last night, Ald. Johnston reported that the best terms he could obtain for the looking after the firemen's rooms in the new fire hall, was to pay W. and D. Parnell $60 each per year. He recommended that they be paid this amount, stating that they did the work in a very satisfactory manner.

On motion of Ald. Morgan, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, it was decided that the two fire drivers be paid $100 between them each year for looking after the rooms.

Ald. Johnston also recommended that electrical door openers be provided for the doors of the fire hall.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston, that the Fire, Water and Light Committee be authorized to have electrical door openers placed on six doors in the new fire hall at $25 each.—Carried.

On motion of Ald. Phelan the Property Committee was authorized to make the best arrangements possible for the supply of ice for the public drinking fountains.

LOCAL GENTLEMEN OFF FOR OLD LAND TO-MORROW

Will Spend Two Months Visiting Historic Spots

To-morrow, on the noon C. P. R. train, Messrs. R. J. Manro, proprietor of the Munro House; Wm. Leah and Chas. James leave for Montreal, from where they sail on Friday for the Old Country. They sail on the steamer Virginian, and will visit historic spots in Ireland, England, Scotland and France. They expect to be absent about two months.

PEOPLE WILL TRESPASS ON RAILWAY TRACKS

And as a Result a Large Number May Appear in Court

Trouble is brewing for at least 54 people in this city, and if things shape their course, as expected, there will be a busy session at the Police Court before the week is over. The man with the big stick is Mr. B. McQuay, detective for the C. P. R. Company, who has been in the city for the past four days and has kept a close watch on the tracks, with the result that he has a lengthy prosecution list to present before the Police Court. Judging by the action taken by the court in the G.T.R. case, the offenders against the C.P.R. can at least prepare to forfeit $1 for trespassing on the company's property. This will mean that $54 will be collected.

At four o'clock to-morrow afternoon a case of interest to Dummer people will be heard before Magistrate Dumble. Robert Payne, who is the defendant, is charged with assault by Peter Taylor, the trouble arising over a line fence dispute. The case promises to be an interesting one.

THE MEMBERSHIP IS INCREASING

Two Meetings Each Month Will be Held by Court Chemong I. O. F.

The brethren of Court Chemong, No. 330 I.O.F., are to be congratulated on the interest they are showing in forestric matters. There was a large and enthusiastic attendence of the members at the monthly meeting held in the S.O.E. Hall on Thursday evening. The organization work of Bro. A. Bradshaw, D.S.C.R, was again very much in evidence when twelve new members came forward for initiation, and the new initiatory outfit being again brought into use, they were put through the mysteries of the forest in true Robin Hood style. The Court having grown to such large proportions it was unanimously decided to hold two meetings each month on the second and last Thursdays, when it is hoped the meetings can be concluded by 10 p.m. The nomination of delegates to the High Court of Eastern Ontario, which meets at Ottawa on August 21st, and 22nd, was proceeded with when the following were nominated: Competitions Wallace and Bolton. Bros. Miles, McKee, Allison, Powell, Dale, Moore, Armstrong and Rooke. The names of the five successful delegates will be announced after the next meeting to be held on Thursday, July 11th. Bros. D. Wallace and A. Bradshaw being High Court officers will also go to Ottawa.

FOREST FIRES

It is an impossible to estimate the immense monetary loss caused this year by forest fires, as to suggest a certain means of prevention. This year, in Ontario and Quebec, the loss of timber by fire, has mounted into the millions, all due, no doubt, to the carelessness of a moment, a blazing match, used to light a pipe, hastily and thoughtlessly thrown aside, or to a camp fire, unextinguished, or some such apparent trifling, but really momentous act. We have a system of fire ranging in Ontario, but it is impracticable to have a staff large enough to protect all parts of the immense areas covered with timber. The operations of the lumbermen, no doubt, facilitate the outbreak of forest fires. The limbs, and other rubbish, resulting from these operations, furnish the best of fuel to encourage the sweep of the flames. In California, there is a more elaborate system of fire prevention, or, at least, of limiting the spread of forest fires. There the forest area is divided into townships, similar to ours, and in all these townships there are laid out fire lines, two or three hundred feet wide. All the inflammable matter, such as dead branches, leaves, etc., which would tend to feed the flames, is removed, or burned, at a time when there is no danger of fire spreading, so that, even if a fire breaks out, it is comparatively easy to confine it within these fire lines. At dangerous times of the year, these lines are patrolled by mounted fire rangers. It is, therefore, an easy thing for these to note the outbreak of a fire, and prevent it, before it can attain dangerous proportions, while the denuded fire lines afford invaluable assistance in limiting the spread of the flames. The construction of these fire lines, costs, it is stated, from $12 to $15 per mile, and about $300 to $400 per year for an area of 40,000 acres. It goes without saying, that the mounted rangers are provided with conveniences for the extinguishing of fires, at conveniently situated stations. They have full authority as constables, with power to prevent settlers, lumbermen, and tourists, from in, especially, dry seasons, placing out fires, that endanger the forest domain. It also goes without saying that these mounted rangers act as game wardens, and perform other duties of a somewhat extended character, similar to the functions performed by our Northwest Mounted Police, which which proportionately diminishes the cost of fire protection. It would, perhaps, pay the government of Ontario to investigate the system employed in California. No doubt its application to Ontario would be somewhat expensive, but its cost would be a trifle compared with its benefits, if it lessens the frequency and range of the forest fires, which in a few days destroy timber of a value equivalent to the maintenance of such a system for a century. Our timber, outside of its mere money value, is a national asset, worth making much effort to preserve.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The new law regarding the inspection of meats, fish, and tinned goods, comes into force September 3. The date has been advanced from August 1.

The population of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan was, in 1900, 419,512; in 1906 it was 808,863. In 1900, the area under crop of oats, wheat and barley was 3,491,413, and in 1906 it was 7,915,611.

The Mail and Empire remarks:—Our English friends have been sending grafters to the penitentiary; but that is because their justice department knows no politics.

—Except, of course, in the Orangeville case.

Toronto the good will have to revise its nomenclature. The holiday crop of offenders at the police court was 250, the largest recorded number for one day. Peterborough's behavior moded. The holiday made no increase in the offenders; in fact the pen population at the police court was yesterday, below the average.

The hearts of some of the Mormons are in the right place. A Mormon temple in Wyoming, U. S., was delayed a week in building in order not to disturb a robin, which had nested in a pile of building planks, till the eggs were hatched. Perhaps the same tenderness towards the beautiful and innocent explains the fondness of the Mormon for a plurality of wives.

FAMILY ROW ABOUT THE USE OF A STOVE

New Comers Had a Wrangle and Men Got Into a Fight

At the Police Court this morning John R. Cully was charged with having assaulted Fred Oliver, with intent to do bodily harm on the 29th of June. Oliver did not appear to substantiate the charge, and consequently no action was taken against Cully, who was allowed to go free. Although no testimony was received in court, the story of the affair was gleaned from the officer who made the arrest. The whole trouble was over the use of a stove in the house on the northwest corner of Reid and King streets. There were three families living in the house, and two of the men raised a row about the stove, with the result that there was a free fight, according to the report. Magistrate Dumble advised them to settle their private quarels out of court. Mr. Cully is now living on Patterson street.

Properties Showing Free Gold

New Liskeard, July 2.—To those who have never been in Northern Ontario, at least as far as this town and Cobalt, the statement that there are so many flies in the woods and mining camps, that the men are quitting the mines and woods in gangs, may possibly cause great surprise. Such is the case, however. Prospectors arriving here from Larder Lake and the new gold camp report the presence of large flies and myriads of fleas that make life almost unbearable, especially if one is residing any distance back from the lake.

It is also reported that the heat is intense and sultry. However, there are always two sides to a story and it is just possible that these tales of distress have been somewhat magnified.

The discoveries that have been made of late have caused great enthusiasm. Developments have been diligently prosecuted especially on some of the older properties, such as the Dr. Reddick, Harris-Maxwell, Blue Bell and Lucky Boys. The superintendents of the two latter companies have recently visited here and both speak in the highest terms of the values, showing free gold, that have been obtained from their properties.

Firemen Air Complaints About The New Fire Hall

Deputation Waited Upon the Council Last Night---Want Two Drivers to Sleep at the Fire Hall---Mr. Mahoney's Price Raised

A meeting of the committee of the whole council was held last night at which the principal item of business that came up was the hearing of a deputation from the fire brigade in connection with some matters concerning the new fire hall.

The complaints heard were referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee, who will make a report to the council at its next meeting.

There were present last night, the Mayor, Alds. Morgan, Morrow, Bradburn, Sheehan, Johnston, McIlwrye, Duncan, Wilson, Elliott and Tovey.

The deputation from the fire brigade consisted of Chief Rutherford and Messrs. Jos. Metheral, J. Gibbs, Chas. Butcher and W. Adamson.

Deputy Chief Metheral was the first speaker.

He said that at the regular meeting of the brigade held last night, they had been appointed to wait on the council and point out that there was only one driver sleeping at the fire hall. There were no bells in the houses of the drivers, and they did no know when there was a fire. The horses on the second rig were hitched by the men or by outsiders and driven sometimes by outsiders. This the firemen objected to and would refuse to go on the second rig unless it was driven by a regular driver.

Mr. John Gibbs, captain of the brigade, said that the electrical appliances for opening the doors were not in shape and he thought that they ought to be fixed at once. The brigade had decided that they would not have the formal opening of the new hall until this matter had been attended to.

The Mayor explained that it had been the impression of the council until a short time ago that two drivers were always at the hall at night, but it had been found that Engineer Wainright had not been sleeping at the hall.

Ald. Wilson thought that the stand taken by the firemen was a most reasonable one.

The firemen also complained that the bells in their houses were not loud enough.

Ald. Wilson moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan that the chairman of the Fire Water and Light committee be instructed to have the doors fixed at once. Carried.

Ald. Johnston said that was a matter that Foreman Fakenham should attend to.

Chief Rutherford corroborated the complaints of the members of the brigade. Referring to the foreman of the fire hall, the chief remarked that he did not know what his duties were and could not see what the city was paying him for, unless it was as an electrican only. He thought that there should be two drivers sleep at the hall and that the foreman should also sleep there. At present it took three men to get a team of horses out. With regard to the bells Chief Rutherford said that the bell in his residence was all right but he thought that some of the others were of an inferior quality.

The complaints were referred to the Fire Water and Light committee to report on at the next meeting of the council, on motion of Ald. Morrow seconded by Ald. Phelan.

Mr. Mahoney's Contract.

The first matter taken up was in reference to Mr. Mahoney's contract for depositing the dredgings from the river. He asked to be relelved of his contract because he thought the conditions were not what he had expected. He thought that he had tendered too low. Mr. Mahoney asked the council to raise his price from 8c to 11 1-2 per yard and to repair the cars for him.

Ald. Duncan stated that the City Engineer had recommended that Mr. Mahoney be paid 11 1-2c. He moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston that Mr. Mahoney be paid 11 1-2c provided he repair the cars and provide bonds to date from June 27th. Carried.

Tax Collector W. J. Green was present and asked the council that his salary be changed from the straight sum of $1000 to one per cent. of the money collected, and asked that his bond be reduced from $12,000.

Ald. Wilson moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyree that the question be referred to the Finance Committee. Carried.

Peterborough County Man Won In A Stiff Fight

Mr. R. J. Stuart, Formerly of Calgary, Elected Alderman of City in a Warm Contest.

SOME ELECTION INCIDENTS

Examiner Special.

In a bye-election for alderman, held in Calgary, Alta., a few days ago, Mr. R. J. Stuart, a former Norwood resident, and well known in Peterborough, was one of two successful candidates, polling two more votes than the combined vote of the two men who ran against him in his ward. Mr. Stuart's sunny ways evidently stood him in good stead in this election, for the News, in reporting the election, stated that "the gold hand is a winning game." That Mr. Stuart was up against a hard proposition is evident, and the News commenting editorially on his win, says:—

Word 4 put the witnesses all out of court. It had been decreed by some of our esteemed contemporaries that no matter who was elected in the ward, Mr. Stuart should not be. Everything nasty that could be said was said, and even alleged cartoons were brought into play. Malice was observable in every line that was printed against him, and the people have delivered a rebuke in a most unmistakeable manner.

The day has passed in Calgary when a newspaper combination can formed to hound any respectable man out of public life by unmerited censure and constant abuse.

Either Mr. Halliday or Mr. Brocklebank would no doubt have made a very suitable member for Ward 4 but neither could get the gratuitous advertising from certain of the local press that Mr. Stuart did. The election clearly demonstrated the truth of the saying, "To knock is to boost."

Put New Blood Into the Arteries

AND THE FEELING OF WEAKNESS AND FATIGUE WILL GIVE WAY TO HEALTH AND VIGOR

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

At this time of year nothing is of such great value to the human system as new rich red blood. Feelings of languor and depression, headaches, sleeplessness, irritability, impaired digestion, nervousness — these all tell of thin, watery blood and a run down system.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is above all else a blood building restorative which puts new blood into the arteries and by so doing lays the foundation for health and vigour.

It sharpens up the appetite, and strengthens the nerves, which control the flow of digestive fluids, forms new firm flesh and tissues, and gives vigour to thee vital organs of the body.

Mr. Fred H. Gould, Purdy, Hastings Co., Ont., writes: "I was troubled with nervous headaches, which at times were very painful and caused much suffering. It has been thoroughly cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I can recommend this treatment most highly and believe that as a general system builder it has no equal.

Mrs. W. Chappal, Barrie, Ont., writes, "I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a means of building up the nervous system and of improving the health generally and I have also found it a good remedy for female troubles.

"We have used Dr. Chase's Ointment as a household remedy for all kinds of sores and cuts and think it is a splendid ointment."

You can be sure that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is doing you good because each dose goes to the formation of a certain amount of pure, rich, red, blood. It cures by the building up process, and its cures are, therefore, thorough and lasting; 50 cents a box; 6 for $2.50, at all dealers; or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WEDDING BELLS.

SEDGWICK-KINGSLEY

The home of the bride's father, "Elmdale Farm," Dummer, Ont., was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, the 26th June, when Christina, daughter of Mr. Paul Kingsley, was united in marriage to Robert Sedgwick, 9th Lie Dummer, Rev. George A. MacLennan, B.A., officiating. The bride, who looked charming in a gown of cream brilliantine, trimmed with over-lace and chiffon, and carrying a shower bouquet of bridal roses, was given away by her father. To the sweet strains of the wedding march played by Miss Beulah Gardner, niece of the bride, they took their place under the beautiful evergreen arch with pendant wedding bell which had been erected on the lawn, and there pledged their vows as man and wife. Nieces of the bride, Miss Grace Gardner, as flower girl, bearing a beautiful bouquet of white and pink carnations, and Miss Isabelle Robb, as ring bearer, carrying the wedding ring in the depths of a basket of pink and white roses and lillies, attended her. They were dressed in gowns of dotted muslin and Valenciennes and insertion with pink sashes. The presents were many, costly and useful, evidencing the high esteems which the young people are held by their many friends. The grooms gift to the bride was a gold watch; to the attendant maids each a gold bracelet. The brides going away gown was an Eton suit of navy blue lady's cloth with silk blouse and white hat trimmed with ribbon and plume.

After the ceremony, the party numbering to about sixty, sat down to a sumptuous dejeuner. A hearty toast was proposed to the bride and groom by Rev. George A. MacLennan, B.A. Words failed to express all the appreciation in the heart of the groom of the good wishes extended to himself and Mrs. Sedgwick. Words of congratulations and good wishes were added by Messrs. Michael Barr and George Gardner. Two very pleasing associations added to the enjoyment of the occasion. First, there was the baptism of Miss Eva Elizabeth Gardner, infant daughter of Mr and Mrs. Jas. Gardner, and niece of the bride. The second was the presence of Mrs. John McLean, who despite her ninety-six years, is still wonderfully active in mind and body. Mrs. McLean brought up the bride's father from the time he was five years of age; was present at the birth of all his children, and was present at the marriage of his four daughters. The great age to which this good lady has attained, the wonderful vigour of mind and body which she enjoys, speak volumes for the sturdy Scottish people from whom she sprung as well as the splendid air of Dummer which has added so many years to the lives of its many older citizens.

IN MEMORIAM.

The following poetry selected in memory of the late Mrs. W. F. Skitch has been received by the Examiner:—

On Death of a Young Friend

She hath left her kindred, her childhood's friends,
That dear and gentle one;
May the prayer of each mourning heart ascend
Unto Him Whose will is done.
She has passed away in youth's bright hour,
The hour of hope and mirth;
Stern death hath broken the early flower,
And it blooms no more on earth.

So gentle, so loved, it was hard to bear;
And sad in that quiet home,
Is the father's sigh, and the mother's fear.
And the husband's grieving tone.
But Heavenly hopes, like star-beams, shine
From out death's dreary night,
And the Christian's faith, so pure and Divine
May they ever keep in sight.

They grieve, but 'tis not with that pining grief,
Whose deep and passionate woe
Is unobeared by that firm and fast belief,
Which softens the stunning blow;
For hath she not passed to a world more blest,
Than aught our dreams reveal;
When the haunting hopes of that haven of rest,
Through the wearied spirit steal.

She died, ere the summer of youth had passed,
Ere one cloud had dimmed her sky;
Time o'er her spirit, no shade had cast;
Grief had not taught her to sigh.
Years had not darkened that trust-truth,
Which fades 'neath the cold world's ard;
Oh! who is there, would not too, die in youth
With a pure and unchilled heart?

She lived not to feel how worldly cares,
Can creep in and taint the heart;
To fever through all the vain hopes and fears,
Which form of life a part.
To pine 'neath the struggles and bitter strife,
Which all alike must brave,
To tire of the hollow things of this life,
And yearn for the silent grave.

Oh no, in the zenith of truth and faith,
Her angel spirit passed,
Hers was a calm and blessed death,
Loving and loved to the last.
Then cherish her memory, let it be
A link of the holiest love,
Which may draw our thought from earth's vanity,
To her hallowed home above.

Price Of Cheese Lower At To-day's Board Meeting

11 5-16c. Was the Highest Price Paid---Biggest Sale of the Year With 4,386 Boxes Boarded---Cool Curing Rooms Advocated

The highest price paid at this morning's meeting of the Cheese Board was 11 5-16 cents, and most of the cheese was disposed of at that figure, the later selections selling at 11 1-9 cents. Four thousand three hundred and eighty-six boxes were boarded, the biggest of the year, and all but Buckhorn was sold.

Mr. Thomas Watkin of Belleville, one of the pioneer buyers of Ontario, was present and addressed the Board for a few moments on the subject of cool curing rooms. He congratulated those present on the successful way in which the business of the Board was conducted. Speaking of the cheese industry, he hoped that the factories in the district would do as those in the Belleville section, and install cool curing rooms. It would be money in the pockets of the owners.

FLOWER SERVICE AT ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

Members of Sunday School Attended in a Body—Sermon Preached by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt

Last Sunday morning was Flower Service in St. Luke's Church, and it was attended by the Sunday school children in a body. The flowers were beautiful and in large numbers, so that two large boxes could be sent to the Victoria Hospital for Sick Children. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt preached an appropriate sermon from the text, "The angel which delivered me from all evil, bless the lads."

Mr. T. H. Perry, B.A., preached at St. Luke's Sunday evening in the absence of the rector, and created a very favourable impression.

SUNDAY FISHING MUST CEASE

Lockmaster Collins Tells What Will Happen if He Discovers Fishermen on Piers on Sunday

Sunday fishing from the Peterborough lock piers has to stop. This is the mandate of Mr. Wm. Collins. Last Sunday he caught a number of youths fishing off the piers and warned them that the practice of fishing from Government property under his charge would have to be put a stop to, and that they were the last ones that he was going to warn—the next time the police would be notified.

CROWN ASKED FOR ANOTHER REMAND

Suspected Pick-pockets Have Not Yet Been Given a Hearing—Another Week

THE DEFENCE NOT PLEASED

Harry Goldfield, Ray Bradford, Harry Lewis and C. H. Phelps, the four Yankee pickpocket suspects, were remanded for another week, by Magistrate Dumble this morning. Mr. Gordon appeared for Bradford, and Lewis; and Mr. F. D. Kerr for Goldfield and Phelps. The Crown was not in a position to proceed with the prosecution, but the counsel for the prisoners demandedd that their clients be shown some consideration. There were three charges of stealing money preferred against the accused, and their counsel declined to elect. Chief Rossel asked His Worship that the case be enlarged for another week, but Mr. Kerr wanted a reason for such a request. He said the men were arrested on June 25th, and as yet they had not been given a hearing. He thought that surely the men were entitled to have their case proceeded with. Mr. Gordon remarked that if the Crown could ever make a case they could do it now, and that there was nothing to be gained by scouring the country in the endeavour to scrape up evidence.

Chief Rossel replied that these men came across the border to do up the country.

Mr. Gordon—"And you intend to do them up?"

Chief Rossel—"Well, it will be either one way or the other."

Mr. Kerr asked His Worship to instruct the Crown to be ready in a week. His Worship replied that they would perhaps be tried soon enough.

The four men were then remanded for another week. Court did not open until half past nine, owing to the prisoners being officially measured and photographed.

There was a rather large crowd waiting around the station, eagerly expecting some developments in the case.

The wife of Mr. Ray Bradford was present from New York. She was becomingly dressed and was interested in the proceedings, and accompanied the counsel for the accused. Her presence was distinctly American and, like her husband, she is quite young. She will probably remain in Peterborough until the conclusion of the case.

ADDRESSED THE VISITING TEACHERS

Rev. Dr. Symonds Spoke on the Relations of Schools to the National Spirit

During the recent visit of the American school teachers to Montreal, Rev. Dr. Symonds gave an address to them, in the course of which he referred to the wonderful work done by the schools of the United States in the way of unifying the diverse elements of the American population, and producing from them one united nation, was the theme taken by the Rev. Dr. Symonds in a very sympathetic and appreciative speech, which received the warm approval of the delegates. He declared that the same problem of unification was before Canada to-day, and he welcomed the visitors for the lesson they taught in the art of welding a people together.

Mr. Alexander was accompanied by his French valet, and was met here by Mr. "Jack" Hunter, the well-known guide, who will again be in his employ.

WHY DOGS ARE GIVEN STRYCHININE POISON

Examiner Reader Says They Are Allowed to Sponge on Neighbours

A gentleman called at the Examiner office this morning to give his explanation of the reason why so many dogs are being poisoned. Persons, he stated, leave the city without their dogs, allowing them to "sponge" on their neighbours' goodwill. They howl around the houses at night, and the only means to quiet them is a little bit of strychnine. Owners of canines that they wish to keep should take the hint and feed their dogs.

Ill Temper From a Bad Liver

Calyle justly attributes the ill-temper which made him a monster in the eyes of the world, to a bad liver. Nothing makes one feel more miserable or gloomy and discouraged than liver complaint, and consequent billiousness and dyspepsia, and nothing so thoroughly and promptly sets the liver right and overcomes these ailments as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the great family medicine.

THE TATE OPTICAL CO.

PETERBORO.

Practically during my whole life (prior to June 1905) I was troubled with terrible pains in my head which I attributed to violent attacks of neuralgia. I tried innumerable headache and neuralgic preparations, but without obtaining the slightest relief. The suffering I endured for a year or more previous to the time I consulted you is indescribable. At times I became delirious through the intense pain, and was obliged to call in a local Physician. Many times morphine was administered to allay the terrible suffering I was undergoing, but this did not give me the slightest relief. A friend advised me to consult your Mr. Babcock, I did so and found out from you that I was suffering from muscular nervous asthenopia, caused by astigmatism. It was remarkable the relief I obtained after the treatment I received, and the wearing of the glasses you prescribed and made for me, since that time I have experienced no difficulty with my eyes, nor have I suffered the slightest return of the old trouble. I cannot help but attribute the ill-health and suffering I experienced as being due to the trouble in my eyes before consulting you. I feel very grateful indeed for the interest taken in my case, as I had almost despaired of even getting any relief. I might also say I consulted opticians in Lindsay and Toronto in reference to my trouble, but obtained no relief. I desire to again express my sincere gratitude to you for the trouble taken in my case, as well as the wonderful cure effected. Yours sincerely,

MRS. THOMAS J. BEGLEY,

March 1907. Victoria Ave., Peterboro.

Masterly Pitching And Head Work Won The Game

Old Members of the B.A.C. Defeated the Youngsters by 10-3 in a Great Baseball Game Last Night—Jolliffe's Good Work

Those who imagine that because a man goes into musical pursuits, he must necessarily be unfitted for baseball, should have been at the Riverside Park last night, when Norman Jolliffe demonstrated before a good sized crowd of wildly excited fans,

A suggestion for the catcher on the old timers' team that his arm had not lost its cunning. The game in which he was the "works" was one between the old members and the youngsters of the B.A.C. Jolliffe did the twirling for the former and how well he did it may be judged from the fact that in the four innings played, only one hit was made off his delivery. He had everything that was on the calender—and some things that were not—his strong point, however, was his deceptive "expectorate" ball, which had the opposing batters madly beating the air. His support, especially at short stop, and behind the bat, was weak. Had these two Jolliffe working himself up to concert pitch for the delivery of his famous "expectorate" ball. The delivery which fooled the opposing batters strategic points been well manned, it is probable that a shut-out would have been recorded. As it was the score was 10—3, the youngsters having the three. When the game was called in the fourth, on acount of the darkness, the old men were at bat, with no one out and three fast men on bases. Undoubtedly the action of the umpire in calling the game at this stage saved the kids from a more ignominous defeat, for the old heads were finding Harmer's offerings with ease, and the balloon was due to go up at any minute.

What the players on either team knew about baseball—and what they did not know—would make a volume of Webster's unabridged look like a two cent paper covered edition of Diamond Dick.

In addition to distinguishing himself in the pitching box, Jolliffe also carried off the honours at the bat, getting a hit every time he was up, and scoring three runs. The old timers started scoring early in the game, getting three in the first innings, the same number in the second, one in the third, and three more in the fourth; while on the other hand the opposing team were easy outs in the first, and in the second, after one man was out Jolliffe went up in the air long enough to hit two batters after he had two strikes on them, and both scored runs, their third, and last, run, coming as a pretty three base hit by Ray Best.

The line up of the teams was as follows:

Old Timers — Hutchinson, c; Jolliffe, p; Best, ss; Robertson, 1b; Warne, 3b; Hetherington, 2b; Dobbin and Grey, outfielders.

Youngsters — Dobbin, c; Harmer, p; R. Best, 1b; Richardson, 2b; Easton, cf; McCrae, lf; Middleton, rf; Sisson, 3b.

Fred Craig umpired, and narrow-

KARNOTS ARE OUT OF RUNNING FOR THE CUP

Were Defeated by the West Ends in a Good Game on Saturday

The Karnots were put out of the running for the city league championship when they were defeated by the West Ends in an exciting game by 7—6. The contest was of a see-saw nature, and neither team had much on the other. Both Long and Hutchar pitched good ball, and were given excellent support by their teams. Mr. Campbell of the Lilies, umpired satisfactorily. The teams were as follows:

West Ends — McNern c; Butcher p; King 1b; Rose 2b; L Dobson ss; Cameron 3b; Moore lf; C Dobson cf; Grange rf.

Karnots — Carton c; Long p; Laing 1b; Campbell 2b; Gaile ss; Ray 3b; Borradaile lf; Johnston cf; Lees rf.

SENIOR QUAKERS ARE CHAMPIONS

Failure of Cobourg to Appear Gives Them the District.

The failure to show up on Wednesday night of the Cobourg Association football team to play the final match with the Senior Quakers, has caused the executive of the Midland League to award the senior honours of the league to the Quakers. Twice the Cobourg team announced their trip to Peterborough to play the final game and twice the Quakers were disappointed and out of pocket through advertising. On their second refusal to come through their inability in getting a team together, so they stated, the championship was awarded to the locals who had previously defeated them on their own grounds season, and the Stratton trophy remains here another year.

Through their winning the championship of the Midland League, the Quakers have now the opportunity of entering their team in the contest for senior provincial honours.

OSHAWA WANTS TO PLAY FOR MONEY

Think They Can Beat the Quakers—The Reason for Their Running Away.

The Oshawa football team do not think they have yet been beaten by the intermediate Quakers and have written the secretary of the Midland League to try and get on another game to show their prowess. The Oshawa bunch are apparently not satisfied with losing the game, but they want to drop a little money on the side. They have offered to play the Quakers again, in Port Hope, for $100. On thinking over their hasty retreat from Riverside Park last Saturday, they evidently came to the conclusion that it was ignominious and ungentlemanly and now want to redeem themselves.

They also hinted at the Quakers trying to disable them but this seems scarcely sincere as they ask for another game. They also complain of having no time to play the match and catch their train, but this of course, was only another of their multifarious excuses for their unsportsmanlike act in running away.

THE GOLF CLUB PLAYED ROSEDALE

In an Interesting Game on the Holiday Local Players Were Three Down

BEST GAME EVER SEEN HERE

Beaverton Beat the Locals by 6-5 on Monday—Spectacular Contest

TWO SPLENDID TEAMS

Owing to lack of space, all reference to the Peterborough-Beaverton lacrosse game played on Monday afternoon, was rowded out of yesterday's issue of the Examiner. Beaverton won by 6 goals to 5. The game was one of the most exciting and warmly contested ever been in Peterborough. From the first toot of the referee's whistle the teams went at each other hammer and tongs, and the result was always in doubt. For the greater part of the game the locals looked like sure winners, leading by 3—0 at one stage. The team was working well together, passing and handling the ball accurately and cleanly, and the home seemed to be able to bore in without trouble. They were up against a great team, however, and the all-star Beaverton aggregation, with the strong finish that seems to be a permanent asset of the northern boys, won out by a nose on a rally in the last two quarters, when they scored five goals.

There was little to choose between the teams. They were as two evenly matched twelves as could be found in the C. L. A., with the result that the encounter was one long to be remembered by those who were lucky enough to be present. The checking was hard and the game at times rough, as was to be expected remembering the equal calibre of the teams. No better lacrosse has ever been seen here, and although the locals lost the Peterborough enthusiasts went home satisfied that they had seen the game of their lives.

Thomas Henry of Beaverton, made a most satisfactory referee.

The teams lined up as follows:—

| Beaverton | Peterborough |

| | Goal. |
| Dobbin | Backus |

AGED MAN TUMBLED ON THE HARD PAVEMENT

Was Taken to Hospital in Dan Spence Ambulance

An unknown man of many years suddenly fell on the pavement at the corner of George and Charlotte terday afternoon, and was taken to the hospital in the Dan Spence ambulance. He was walking slowly along the street, when, suddenly, his body stiffened and he fell like a log. Possibly he was overtaken by epilepsy, or that a blood vessel burst in his head. He had not regained consciousness (when taken to the hospital.

Stony Lake Resorts Are More Popular Than Ever

Early News From Kawarthadom Tells of Excellent Fishing and Rare Rounds of Pleasure---Calendar for the Summer Foretells of Pleasant Events

Examiner Special.

Stony Lake, July 2. — Although the summer season of 1907, is still in its infancy, it would appear that it has preceded former years by about a fortnight, as already a large number of the cottages are occupied, and the settlers assert that that they have never before seen so many here at this comparatively early date.

This early rush may be accounted for by the recent hot spell, that has given people a desire for fresh air. Another reason for the early activity in the large amount of building, enlarging and decorating which is being done, and which, in many cases is being superintended by the cottage owners personally.

The new summer residence of Mr. A. L. Davis is being much admired, and is magnificent in appearance and location.

Mr. John Crowe is among those who are having their cottages enlarged.

Much artistic taste is exhibited in the pleasing colours that have been used in the decoration of many of the cottages.

The telephone at Juniper Island is already receiving much attention and will fill many a "long distance" want.

A new feature on the lakes this year is the supply boat, Bobs, which is under the management of Mr. A. L. Dunford, and which commenced daily calls on Monday.

Mr. "Bob" McCracken has also commenced his daily round of calls, with provisions.

The hotels and boarding houses are fast booking rooms for guests, who are due to arrive shortly, and already a large number of Americans are here.

The Sunday services have not yet commenced at the pavilion, so a number availed themselves of the opportunity of attending service at St. George's church on Sunday last.

Several excursions were seen on the lakes on Monday last, and all were well patronised, as was also the Majestic, which had the regular afternoon up-trip. The day's pleasure was marred to some extent by a heavy thunderstorm which passed over about three o'clock, and owing to the quickness with which it gathered caught a large number on the lake in frail crafts.

The fishing is excellent at the present time, even better than last year, which was far in advance of several years before. There is little doubt that the Kawartha Lakes are yearly becoming more popular.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Sutherland and Mr. Harry Sutherland, of Toronto, came up on Friday and are spending a few days at Inglestane.

A message has been received from Mr. L. M. Alexander, of Paris, France. Which states that he and his party will be here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Hunter, of Toronto, are at "Pepacton" for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Currier, Peterborough, were the guests at "Minnewa-wa" for Sunday and the holiday.

The following party were guests of the Misses Hall at "Wenonah" on Sunday and Monday: Mrs. Gardiner, Miss Anderson, Miss Aylmer, Miss Munro, Peterborough; Miss Rogers, Kingston; Messrs. Neilson, Reid Munro, H. Munro, G. Rackham, G. Lundy, W. Lawson, Peterborough; L. M. Watson, Toronto.

Mr. John Gouinlock, Mr. John Dobbs, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Gouinlock, and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gouinlock, are at Edithena for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Routley, of Peterborough, were here for the holiday, with the following party: Mr. and Mrs. Botsford, Misses Helen and Dot Routley, and Mr. Herb Routley.

A party consisting of Mrs. Perks, F. D. Burritt, A. H. Mulhern, Peterborough, and Mr. A. J. Perks, of Moncton, N. B., spent the holiday at Victoria House.

Other holiday guests at the Victoria House were: Misses E. Moore, K. Graham, G. Hutchison; and Messrs. E. Payne, B. Hutchinson, and T. Reynolds, all of Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Litz, of Pittsburg, Pa., are tenting on the Dummer shore.

Mr. George Jackson of Toronto, spent the holiday with friends on the Lake.

STONY LAKE VISITOR UNDERGOES OPERATION

The many friends of Mr. Harry Sutherland, at Stony Lake, will regret to learn of his severe illness through appendicitis. He and his parents arrived at their cottage, "Inglestane," on Friday, and on Saturday he became ill. An operation was performed at the cottage on Sunday, through which he safely passed, and from last reports he is progressing favourably.

DOMINION CARTRIDGE COMPANY FIELD DAY

An Athletic Association Composed of Members of Staff of This Progressive Company

Probably no better or more auspicious day than Dominion Day could have been chosen for the Annual Games of The Dominion Cartridge Company Athletic Association.

Over 2,000 people flocked to the association's grounds at Brownsburg, to witness the various events. The morning was taken up with a shooting match, open to all, in which many keenly contested for the prizes. A baseball match against The Stars, Montreal, and a football match against The Montreal Y.M.C.A. were the events of the afternoon. The former was declared a draw, while the Dominion Cartridge Company's team carried off the palm of victory in the latter.

Refreshments were served on the grounds, and dancing and music brought a most successful day to an enjoyable close.

The Dominion Cartridge Company is about the only private institution which fosters healthy athleticism among its employees. It possesses its own running track, baseball and football grounds, shooting range and hockey rink.

MR. HERBERT MEEHAN IS RELEASED ON BAIL

His Counsel's Request Was Granted by Mr. Justice McMahon

On Saturday, Herbert Meehan the young man who was committed for trial by Magistrate Dumble on a rather serious charge, was released on bail, two sureties of $500.00 being the required sum. His counsel Mr. F. D. Kerr, made application to Mr. Justice McMahon, of Toronto, and was successful in having his request granted. Justice McMahon signed the order giving his permission and Magistrate Dumble fixed the sum.

Mr. Meehan will appear for trial at the next assizes commencing Sept. 3rd.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Naylor, Entertained Friends on Saturday Night.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Naylor celebrated the 20th anniversary of their wedding at their residence on Aylmer street. It was what is called a China wedding and proved a very delightful and informal affair. The house was gaily decorated with bunting and flowers and the forty or more guests were given a very pleasant time. The evening was passed in games and music, vocal and instrumental. A sumptuous luncheon was served and and was done ample justice by the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Naylor received many compliments and presents of chinaware. They proved to be hospitable entertainers and did all they could to make the event one of the most enjoyable of its kind.

The guests were for the most part from Peterborough with the following from outside places: — Mr. and Mrs. Lamb, Mr., Mrs. and Miss Henderson, Miss Winnie Beatty, of Omemee; Mr. and Mrs. Power, of Toronto; Mr., Mrs. and Miss Smith, of Bowmanville; Mr. and Mrs. Naylor, of Islay; Mr. Bert Naylor, of Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. T. ## WELCOME DEARTH OF FLIES THIS YEAR

Confectioner Points to the Fact That This Summer the Fly is Extinct Practically

"Do you notice the almost total absence of house flies this season?" said a confectioner this morning, as he passed around his counters.

"Why, other years at this time," continued he, "we would have to use every possible means to keep down the pest. Screen doors and windows, sticky fly-paper, or fly poison, all are almost unnecessary this year so far."

"How do you account for it?" was asked.

"I don't know, unless it was the cold spring and that the young were killed off. If so, the cold weather was a blessing in disguise to us, for flies means a big loss every year."

HAD NARROW ESCAPE AT STONY LAKE

Toronto Lady Was Nearly Drowned There by Upset of Canoe

Word was received in Toronto this afternoon that Miss Nellie Rowe of this city had had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday at Stony Lake. She was out canoeing, when her canoe capsized, and she was thrown into the water. She was rescued by two young men who happened to be near by.—Toronto Star.

ELOQUENT APPEAL OF PREMIER

Sir Wilfrid Speaks At Dominion Day Banquet In London.

CANADA HAS HEART UNION

Premier Urges Great Britain to Assist All-Red Scheme—Must Encircle the Whole Earth—Strength of Imperial Connection — Canada Is Ready — Plea for Ireland— Tribute to Lord Strathcona.

London, July 2—(C.A.P.)—The Dominion Day dinner was held in the grand hall of the Hotel Cecil, and there was a record assemblage in point of numbers. For the twelfth consecutive time Lord Strathcona presided, having Sir Wilfrid Laurier on his right and the Duke of Argyll on his left. The guests in all numbered 400.

An enthusiastic reception was given the toast "Dominion of Canada" and "Governor-General," proposed by the chairman, Lord Strathcona, who traced the growth of the Dominion, indicated the strength of imperial connection and interest, and trusted that the bonds be drawn closer by an interchange of visits between the residents of the homeland and her chief daughter state, expressing the further hope that Ministers also might snatch a brief period in their busy lives to familiarize themselves with the conditions and circumstances of the great Dominion across the Atlantic.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was received enthusiastically.

In his response he made an eloquent appeal for the all-red route. He paid a tribute to the fathers of Confederation, those far-sighted statesmen who builded better than even they knew, and remarked that the Confederation which in 1867 was a bond on paper was now a union of hearts. The Premier directed attention to the growth so ably directed and assisted by Lord Strathcona of the Canadian railways.

"The next step to which we shall devote our enterprise," said Sir Wilfrid, "is truly an imperial scheme, for the time has come when the all-red line must encircle the earth. For that scheme the people of Canada are ready, and I ask myself if the people of England are ready.

"It is not for us to suggest, still less to insist, what shall be the policy of the English people, but it is not out of place if I remind you that the British people five years ago undertook heavy financial responsibilities to assist a line of steamers running between Liverpool and New York. I am not here to blame them for that policy. On the contrary, I might approve it if an Englishman, but may I not ask the British people and the British Parliament, whether what has been done for foreigners cannot be done for people who fly the British flag?" Here the speaker was loudly cheered.

Continuing, Sir Wilfrid urged that the British Parliament should not hesitate to adopt means of getting into better communication with the Dominion. Referring to the Governor-General, he said that Canada had been most fortunate with all its viceroys, and in a loyal peroration he declared that while he loved the British Isles one place took first place in his heart—Canada, covered by the British flag. (Loud cheers.)

Augustine Birrell, in responding to the toast of "Our Guests," proposed by Donald McMaster, expressed the hope that Ireland, which lay across the Empire, might not be left out of any scheme for its advancement. It was not for him to express any opinion, but if County Mayo, for instance, could be brought within three and one-half days of the glorious Dominion across the Atlantic, it would be a great thing for Ireland and a great thing for the Empire.

AGAINST "ALL-RED" SUBSIDY.

Labor Radical Paper Declares Against The Scheme—Others Differ.

London, July 2.—The Daily News, which voices the opinions of the more extreme Radicals, publishes a "somewhat alarming rumor" to the effect that the Government is "still considering the request for a subsidy for the all-red route." It says it is seriously suggested that a free trade government, bent upon economy, should spend anything up to £400,000 a year upon this preposterously extravagant scheme. The News declares no one knows the party would answer for the division if such a proposal were brought forward in the House of Commons.

The Morning Post editorially assures Sir Wilfrid Laurier that public opinion here is steadily setting in the imperial direction he desires, but for the moment it must be confessed the prospects are none too bright for the all-red route.

The Liberal Imperialist Chronicle hopes the Government will assist in carrying out the all-red route.

HANGED WHITE MAN.

Taken From Prison and Lynched for Criminal Assault.

Dalton, Ga., July 2.—Dock Posey, a middle-aged white man, the self-confessed assaulter of his nine-year-old stepdaughter, was taken from the Whitefield county jail here yesterday morning and hanged to a railroad viaduct in the middle of the city. His body was found there at daybreak.

Posey, who lived with his family some miles from town, brought the girl here after the crime and first accused another man of the assault.

Woman Takes Poison.

Athens, Ont., July 2.—On Sunday evening Mrs. George Tackaberry of Plum Hollow, the wife of a prominent farmer, took a dose of poison. She had been in ill-health owing to nervous prostration and her mind was weakened.

Heavy 'Quake Recorded.

Washington, July 2.—The coast and geodetic survey service reports that an earthquake was recorded at the Cheltenham, Maryland observatory yesterday, beginning at 8 hours, 15 minutes and 53 seconds and lasting an hour. The principal disturbance was from 8.22 to 8.25 o'clock, the largest motion being in a north-south direction. The shock was comparatively greater than that at Kingston, but not so great as the San Francisco earthquake.

Albany, N. Y., July 2.—The seismograph at the state museum at Albany registered a fairly large earthquake movement yesterday morning. The disturbance originated apparently at a remote point about 7,000 miles to the southwest.

According to State Geologist Clarke, "it is not unlikely that considerable damage may have been done if it occurred in a settled area."

A C. P. R. EXPRESS OFF TRACK

Eastbound Train Wrecked Near Medicine Hat.

WENT DOWN EMBANKMENT

Orangeville Man Killed—Cars Caught Fire and Eight Were Burned—Passengers Had Narrow Escape— None Severely Injured — Gas Tank Exploded — Broken Wheel Was the Cause.

Calgary, July 2.—Shortly before six o'clock Sunday night No. 2 express, east-bound, was wrecked at Brook Station, 96 miles west of Medicine Hat, and Express Messenger William McKinley of Orangeville, Ont., was killed through the explosion of the acetylene gas tank. His leg was blown off and he died a few hours later. Eight passenger cars were burned, as there were no means available to quench the fire, and no way of cutting the train, as the engine was on the wrong side of the fire. The line was reported clear at ten o'clock yesterday morning. The passengers have not yet been brought to Medicine Hat.

A broken wheel on the second baggage car is said to have caused the derailment, as this was the first car to leave the track, dragging with it two colonist cars, a first-class coach and diner, in the plunge down the embankment. Another coach left the rails and plowed along the ties, ripping them into matchwood. Baggageman McDonald was thrown about in the baggage car and stunned, but was able to crawl outside. None of the passengers suffered severe injury.

STRIKE-BREAKERS PELTED.

Ice-Drivers Cause Trouble and Give Police Lively Time.

New York, July 2.—Police reserves were called to quell several street disorders yesterday when the American Ice Co. made an effort to break the strike of the ice drivers.

The company hired several score of strike-breakers and issued an ultimatum that if the strikers did not return to work the new men would be put in their places.

When two wagons, driven by strike-breakers, drove from the company's pier on the East River yesterday a crowd of men set upon the drivers. Clubs and bricks were hurled and the police charged the crowd, which finally fell back. Two policemen were then assigned to each wagon.

More trouble occurred on Avenue C, when a score of men set upon a driver, but were beaten off by the police.

Divorces Actress Wife.

Geneva, Switzerland, July 2.—Herr Wolfing, who formerly was Archduke Leopold of Austria, but who renounced his expectations and honors about four years ago in order to marry Wilhelmina Adamovic, an Austrian actress, has been granted a divorce from his wife. The latter offended her husband by joining the Ascona Anchorites, in accordance with whose tenets she became a vegetarian, went without clothes in taking "sun baths," and acquired other eccentricities, with the result that Herr Wolfing sued for divorce.

JUDGE LOVING IS FREE.

Appeal to Unwritten Law Prevails and Killing Is Justified.

Houston, Va., July 2.—It took the jury but 53 minutes to decide that ex-Judge William Loving, who killed Theodore Estes for an alleged assault on his daughter, was entitled to an acquittal. Had it not been for a sense of propriety the verdict would have been rendered fifteen minutes after the jury retired, for on the first ballot all voted to discharge the prisoner. Judge Barksdale, presiding, warned the crowd that he would permit no demonstration, but notwithstanding this a considerable ripple of applause was heard in the rear of the hall of justice.

While awaiting his fate Loving, who was astonishing calm, as was his wife, who sat beside him, shed no tears. Scores rushed up to congratulate the couple as they withdrew from the court-room.

The Estes faction are profoundly distressed at the verdict, not so much because they are vindicative, as because the verdict indirectly casts an imputation of guilt on the dead man. As a matter of fact, collateral evidence touching his culpability was excluded and it was this ruling which scored the great victory for Loving.

The accused left for his home in Nelson County and will at once resume his usual walks of life.

SURROUNDED BY LIGHTNING.

Terrific Storm in England—Aeronauts Have Narrow Escape.

London, July 2.—England experienced on Sunday one of the fiercest thunderstorms in years. Two persons were killed and several others injured by lightning which created havoc in many other ways, causing fires and interference and break-downs with electrical installations. The most thrilling incident of the storm was the adventure of Ernest Bucknall in the balloon Enchantress, which was beaten to the earth by the force of the rain. Lightning played around the balloon till it descended. Eye-witnesses described a great flash of lightning which seemed to hit the balloon and then it dropped. The occupants, however, managed to scramble unharmed off the roof of a house.

It was a long distance aerial race with determinations to do some big record-breaking, but it rapidly degenerated into a hurried descent. Eleven competitors started in the full blast of the storm, but the elements became too much for the aeronauts, who came to earth as quickly as was compatible with safety.

STEAM CYLINDER EXPLODES.

Three Men Killed and Plant Wrecked —Opened by Mistake.

Schenectady, N. Y., July 2.—A tanton steel cylinder, loaded with brick of equal weight and filled with steam at a pressure of 120 pounds to the square inch, at the plant of the Schenectady Sandstone Brick Co., was opened by mistake without first reducing the steam pressure, and as a result exploded.

The cylinder head, which was partly unsealed, went in one direction, killing two men, wrecking a portion of the plant, twisting a steel water tower into scrap iron, wrecking a big water tank and windmill, and deluging the scene of carnage with water.

The big cylinder, five feet in diameter and 40 feet long, went through the end of the building, and a pile of brick five feet thick, across the highway, hit a carload of coal and a telegraph pole a glancing blow, killed a track repairer and skidded up the D. and H. track to a point fully 15 yards from its original position.

SOUGHT REFUGE, FOUND DEATH.

Couple Caught In Storm Enter Barn, and Are Burned.

Brockville, July 2.—Miss Jennie Grant of Clinton Mills and James Bond of Ellenberg Centre, aged respectively 20 and 23 years, were burned to death in a barn in which they took refuge during a severe thunderstorm.

They were driving home, but the storm became so severe that they sought shelter in the first building in sight.

They had no more than entered the barn, when it was struck by a bolt of lightning and burned to the ground, both of them perishing.

It is thought they were either killed or stunned by the shock and thus rendered helpless.

Their charred remains were found in the ruins.

DARING DAYLIGHT ROBBERY.

$1,500 Stolen From Messenger In Street by Gang of Three.

Montreal, July 2.—The information was given out last night that Gerald Murray, messenger of the Allan Line office, was jostled and robbed of $1,500 as he was entering the company's office Saturday at noon. There were three in the gang and all escaped.

Murray had just drawn the money from the Merchants' Bank.

Toronto Man Drowned.

Buffalo, July 2.—While taking soundings from a dredge off the foot of Porter avenue, yesterday, Joseph Roach, a deckhand 24 years old, employed by the Empire Engineering Co., which is deepening the harbor near the Buffalo Yacht Club, fell into the water and was drowned. The body was recovered and removed to the morgue.

Fellow workmen said Roach was an excellent swimmer, but it is thought his clothes hampered him. He lived in Toronto.

Game Inspector Dies Suddenly.

Kingston, July 2.—Jas. H. Brickwood, game inspector for this district, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon at his home of neuralgia of the heart. He was about 50 years of age.

Belleville, July 2.—C. Rits of Thurlow Township lost his life yesterday afternoon by drowning. He was fishing on the River Moira, near the Village of Foxboro, when he slipped off a ledge of rock into a deep hole and never rose.

Drowned While Bathing.

St. Hyacinthe, Que., July 2.—Agner Mailloux, aged 16, son of J. H. Mailloux, was drowned while bathing last evening.

SLEUTHS EXPLAIN THEIR METHODS

Pinkerton Man's Ruse to Make Haywood Unpopular.

DETECTIVES IN THE UNION

Methods of Dealing With Western Federation of Miners—How Relief Funds Were Handled — Gratia's Tried to Make Trouble—Orchard Played Poker While Mill Was Blown Up—Not at Wardner.

Boise, July 1.—At the trial of William Haywood on Saturday, Dominick Flynn, a merchant of Mullen, Idaho, declared that Harry Orchard on April 29, 1899, the day of the explosion at the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill, played poker in his place from noon until 4 p.m.

Cross-examined by Senator Borah, Flynn declared he had never been a member of any labor organization. He had known Orchard a year and a half and the man often played poker at his place. One of the men who played with Orchard was Patrick McHale.

McHale, who is a bartender in Mullen, followed Flynn on the stand. He said he played poker with Orchard in Flynn's cigar store April 29, 1899, and had never seen the man since.

On cross-examination McHale admitted that he had gambled every time he got a chance.

The witness declared he was positive Orchard was not at Wardner the day of the mill explosion.

On redirect examination McHale said everyone in Mullen except the saloon-keepers were arrested.

The defence also called Morris Friedman, formerly a stenographer to James McPartland of the Pinkerton Detective Agency. Friedman testified as to the methods of the agency in connection with the strikes in Colorado.

Friedman said a Pinkerton man named Crane became secretary of the Smeltermen's Union of Colorado City and was also chairman of the strike committee. Other operatives who were connected with unions in Colorado were: Joseph F. Gaddon, Charles H. Rymer, George W. Riddell, P. B. Bailey, Cummings Lutlow and Conibear. Friedman declared he handled most of the daily reports from these men for a year and a half.

Boise, Idaho, July 2.—The defence in the trial of William D. Haywood began the second week of direct examination of its witnesses, yesterday, when Morris Friedman, the young man who was at one time the stenographer in the Denver office of the Pinkerton Detective Agency, was recalled to the stand. He is looked upon by the defence as one of the chief witnesses to prove a conspiracy on the part of the Mine Owners' Association and others to exterminate the Western Federation of Miners.

The defence expects to conclude the direct testimony this week.

The closing of the case, which will probably be within the next two weeks, will be filled with sensational developments if the promises of both sides are made good. There is an increase of activity and many sensational reports are being circulated, but on investigation prove to be without any good foundation.

Friedman was introduced by the defence to expose the Pinkerton methods of dealing with the Western Federation of Miners. He identified many reports from secret operatives which, he says, he made copies of while in the Pinkerton office. The prosecution offered no objection to the introduction of the reports of the detectives in evidence, and many of them were read to the jury by Mr. Dawson.

Gratias, in one of his reports, wrote that he had told the men the strike would continue for a long time, and that unless it was ended by fall the union probably would have to give up. After telling of his intention to carry out his instructions to cut down the relief, in an effort to cause dissatisfaction among the men. Gratias wrote: "I will put the blame for not giving the men more relief as much as I can on William D. Haywood, by saying that I carried out his instructions."

Indian's Break For Liberty.

Edmonton, June 2.—The Indian Uellrum, imprisoned for horse-stealing, made a daring attempt to escape from the penitentiary. The Indian was working with numbers of other convicts at the brickyard. Being near the river bank, while the attention of the guard was for a moment detracted, he dashed for the bush, into which he disappeared. Guard Stewart captured his man, bringing him back at the point of a revolver. Stewart was the captor of Bill Miner and his crew of train robbers in Kamloops last summer.

Sentenced for Bigamy.

Welland, July 2.—Police Magistrate Burger yesterday sentenced H. Gibson of Sherkston to three months in jail, and let Mrs. Sidney Beam go on suspended sentence for bigamy.

This couple, who both have former partners living, went to Buffalo two weeks ago and were married.

Father Accused of Murder.

New York, July 2.—Thomas Boylan, father of little Viola Boylan, who was assaulted and murdered several days ago, was arrested by the police yesterday and taken before a magistrate, but was discharged, there not being sufficient evidence against him to warrant his detention.

TO FACE SERIOUS CHARGE.

Tweed Storekeeper Arrested for Alleged Criminal Assaults.

Belleville, Ont., July 2.—Philip Ketcheson, a storekeeper of Tweed, was arrested, charged with assault, committed on the 27th inst., on Mabel Arbuckle, 10 years old, and Edith Beatty, 14 years old.

The mother of the little Arbuckle girl came to the city Friday and laid the complaint.

The prisoner is now in jail here. He is a married man, about 45 years of age, with grown-up children.

FERROZONE

Miss Dorothy E. Ledue of Chester gives the following convincing evidence of Ferrozone's power:—"My work compels me to rise early in the morning and work ten hours daily as a saleslady. Last Spring I was run down, lost my color, and fell off in weight. I seemed to lack ambition and the life was out of me. A friend recommended Ferrozone, and I took one tablet after meals with wonderful results. Ferrozone brought back my complexion, and has given me new strength and abundance of energy and spirits. I would advise all young ladies to use Ferrozone."

Mrs. H. G. Wilder of Dexter says:—"My daughter was not very well last Winter, and lost her strength completely when the Spring came. I gave her Ferrozone, and am glad to say it did wonders. After six boxes were used my daughter was strong, and looked the picture of health."

Safest Medicine for Women's Complaints

Women certainly do neglect themselves. They work too hard—over-tax their strength—and then wonder why they suffer with diseases peculiar to their sex.

Most cases of female trouble start when the bowels become inactive—the kidneys strained—and the skin not cared for. Poisons, which should leave the system by these organs, are taken up by the blood and inflame the delicate female organs.

Moran of the Lady Letty

By FRANK NORRIS, Author of "The Octopus," "The Pit," Etc.

Copyright, 1902, by S. S. McClure Company

od to the knee, but now she wore no hat, and her enormous mane of rye colored hair was braided into long strands near to the thickness of a man's arm. The redness of her face gave a startling effect to her pale blue eyes and sandy, heavy eyebrows that easily lowered to a frown. She ate with her knife, and after pushing away her plate Wilbur observed that she drank half a tumbler of whisky and water.

The conversation between the two was tame enough. There was no common ground upon which they could meet. To her father's death—no doubt an old matter even before her rescue—she made no allusion. Her attitude toward Wilbur was one of deadness and suspicion. Only once did she relax.

"How did you come to be aboard here with these rat eaters? You're no sailor," she said abruptly.

"Huh!" laughed Wilbur mirthlessly. "Huh! I was shanghaied."

Moran smote the table with a red fist and shouted with sonorous, bell toned laughter:

"Shanghaied—you? Now, that is really good! And what are you going to do now?"

"What are you going to do?"

"Signal the first home bound vessel and be taken into Frisco. I've my insurance to collect (Wilbur had given her the Letty's papers) and the disaster to report."

"Well, I'm not keen on shark hunting myself," said Wilbur. But Moran showed no interest in his plans.

However, they soon found that they were not to be permitted to signal. At noon the same day the schooner sighted a steamship's smoke on the horizon and began to raise her rapidly. Moran immediately bound on the ensign, union down, and broke it out at the peak.

Charlie, who was at the wheel, spoke a sentence in Chinese, and one of the hands drew his knife across the halyards and brought the distress signal to the deck. Moran turned upon Charlie with an oath, her brows knotted.

"No, no!" sang Charlie, closing his eyes and wagging his head. "No! Too muchee lik' time; no can stop. You come down side cabin; you an' odd piece boss No. 2 (this was Wilbur) have um chin-chin."

The odd conclave assembled about Kitchell's table—the clubman, the half masculine girl in men's clothes and the Chinaman. The conference was an angry one, Wilbur and Moran insisting that they be put aboard the steamship, Charlie refusing with calm obstinacy.

"I have um chin-chin with China boys las' nigh'. China boy heap flaid no can stop um steamship; heap flaid too much talkee-talkee; no stop; go fish now; go fish chop-chop; lots heap time; go fish. I no savvy sail um boat; China boy no savvy sail um boat. I tinkum you savvy (and he pointed to Moran). I tinkum you savvy plenty heap much diss bay. Boss No. 2 no savvy sail um boat, but him savvy plenty many all same."

"And we're to stop on board your dough dish and navigate her for you?" shouted Moran, her face blazing.

Charlie nodded blandly. "I tinkum yass."

"And when we get back to port," exclaimed Wilbur, "you think perhaps I—we won't make it interesting for you?"

Charlie smiled.

"I tinkum ship company heap rich."

"Well, get along," ordered Moran, as though the schooner was her property, "and we'll talk it over."

"China boy like you heap pretty big," said Charlie to Moran as he went out. "You savvy sail um boat all right; wanta you for captain. But," he added, suddenly dropping his bland passivity as though it were a mask and for an instant allowing the wicked malevolent Cantonese to come to the surface, "China boy no likee funnee business. Savvy?" Then, with the smile of a Talleyrand, he disappeared.

Moran and Wilbur were helpless for the present. They were but two against seven Chinamen. They must stay on board if the coolies wished it, and if they were to stay it was a matter of their own personal safety that the Bertha Millner should be properly navigated.

"I'll captain her," concluded Moran sullenly at the end of their talk. "You must act as mate, Mr. Wilbur. And don't get any mistaken idea into your head that because I'm a young girl and alone you are going to run things your way. I don't like funny business any better than Charlie."

"Look here," said Wilbur, complaining, "don't think I'm altogether a villain. I think you're a ripping fine girl. You're different from any kind of girl I ever met, of course, but you, by jingo, you're—you're splendid! There in the squall last evening, when you stood at the wheel, with your hair"—

"Oh, drop that!" said the girl contemptuously, and went up on deck. Wilbur followed, scratching his ear.

Charlie was called aft and their decision announced. Moran would navigate the Bertha Millner, Wilbur and she taking the watches. Charlie promised that he would answer for the obedience of the men.

Their first concern now was to shape their course for Magdalena bay. Moran and Wilbur looked over Kitchell's charts and logbook, but the girl flung them aside disdainfully.

"He's been sailing by the dead reckoning, and his navigation is drivel. Why, a cabin boy would know better, and, to end with, the chronometer is run down. I'll have to get Greenwich time by taking the altitude of a star tonight and figure out our longitude. Did you bring off our sextant?"

Wilbur shook his head. "Only the papers," he said.

"There's only an old ebony quadrant here," said Moran, "but it will have to do."

That night, lying flat on her back on the deck, with the quadrant to her eye, she "got a star and brought it down to the horizon" and sat up under the rocking lamp in the cabin nearly the whole night ciphering and ciphering till she had filled up the four sides of the log [illegible] with her calculations. However, by daylight she had obtained the correct Greenwich time and worked the schooner's longitude.

Two days passed, then a third. Moran set the schooner's course. She kept almost entirely to herself, and when not at the wheel or taking the sun or writing up the log gloomed over the after rail into the [illegible]'s wake. Wilbur knew not what to think of her. Never in his life had he met with any girl like this. So accustomed had she been to the rough give and take, direct associations of a seafaring life, that she misinterpreted well meant politeness, the only respect he knew how to pay her, to mean insidious advances. She was suspicious of him, distrusted him utterly and openly ridiculed his abortive seamanship. Pretty she was not, but she soon began to have a certain amount of attraction for Wilbur. He liked her splendid ropes of hair, her heavy contralto voice, her fine animal strength of bone and muscle (admittedly greater than his own). He admired her indomitable courage and self reliance, while her positive genius in the matters of seamanship and navigation filled him with speechless wonder. The girls he had been used to were clever only in their knowledge of the amenities of an afternoon call or the formalities of a paper german.

"And we're to stop on board your dough dish?"

A girl of two and twenty who could calculate longitude from the altitude of a star was outside his experience. The more he saw of her the more he knew himself to have been right in his first estimate. She drank whisky after her meals, and when angry, which was often, swore like a buccaneer. As yet she was almost, as one might say, without sex—savage, unconquered, untamed, glorying in her own independence, her sullen isolation. Her neck was thick, strong and very white, her hands roughened and calloused. In her man's clothes she looked tall, vigorous and unrestrained, and on more than one occasion as Wilbur passed close to her he was made aware that her hair, her neck, her entire personality, exhaled a fine, sweet, natural redolence that savored of the ocean and great winds.

One day as he saw her handling a huge water barrel by the chines only with a strength he knew to be greater than his own, her brows contracted with the effort, her hair curling about her thick neck, her large, round arms bare to the elbow, a sudden thrill of enthusiasm smote through him, and between his teeth he exclaimed to himself:

"By Jove, you're a woman!"

The Bertha Millner continued to the southward, gliding quietly over the oil smoothness of the ocean under airs so light as hardly to ruffle the surface. Sometimes at high noon the shimmer of the ocean floor blended into the shimmer of the sky at the horizon, and then it was no longer water and blue heavens. The little craft seemed to be poised in a vast crystalline sphere where there was neither height nor depth—poised motionless in warm, coruscating, opalescent space, alone with the sun.

At length one morning the schooner, which for the preceding twenty-four hours had been heading eastward, raised the land and by the middle of the afternoon had come up to within a mile of a low, sandy shore, quivering with heat, and had tied up to the kelp in Magdalena bay.

Charlie now took over entire charge of operations. For two days previous the Chinese hands had been getting out the deck tubs, tackles, gaffs, spades and the other shark fishing gear that had been stowed forward. The sails were lowered and gasketed, the decks cleared of all impedimenta, hogsheads and huge vats stood ready in the waist and the lazy indolence of the previous week was replaced by an extraordinary activity.

The day after their arrival in the bay was occupied by all hands in catching bait. This bait was a kind of rockfish of a beautiful red gold color and about the size of an ordinary cod. They bit readily enough, but out of every ten hooked three were taken off the lines by the sharks before they could be brought aboard. Another difficulty lay in the fact that, either because of the excessive heat in the air or the percentage of alkali in the water, they spoiled almost immediately if left in the air.

Turtle were everywhere—floating gray green disks just under the surface. Sea birds in clouds clamored all day long about the shore and sand pits. At long intervals flying fish skittered over the water like skipping stones. Shoals of porpoises came in from outside, leaping clumsily along the edges of the kelp. Bewildered land birds perched on the schooner's rigging, and in the early morning the whistling of quail could be heard on shore near where a little fresh water stream ran down to meet the ocean.

"Heave!" she cried.

It was Wilbur who caught the first shark on the second morning of the Bertha's advent in Magdalena bay. A store of bait had been accumulated, split and halved into chunks for the shark hooks, and Wilbur, baiting one of the huge lines that had been brought up on deck the evening before, flung it overboard and watched the glimmer of the white fish meat turning to a silvery green as it sank down among the kelp. Almost instantly a long, moving shadow, just darker than the blue green mass of the water, identified itself at a little distance.

Enormous flukes preceded from either side, an erect dorsal fin, like an enormous cock's crest, rose from the back, while immediately over the head swam the two pilot fish, following so closely the movement of the shark as to give the impression of actually adhering to his body. Twice and three times the great man eater, twelve feet from snout to tail tip, circled finlike through the water. Once he came up, touched the bait with his nose and backed easily away. He disappeared, returned and poised himself motionless in the schooner's shadow, feeling the water with his flukes.

Moran was looking over Wilbur's shoulder. "He's as good as caught," she muttered. "Once let them get sight of meat, and— Steady, now!" The shark moved forward. Suddenly, with a long, easy roll, he turned completely upon his back. His white belly flashed like silver in the water. The bait disappeared.

"You've got him!" shouted Moran.

The rope slid through Wilbur's palms, burning the skin as the huge sea wolf sounded. Moran laid hold. The heavy, sullen wrenching from below twitched and swayed their bodies and threw them against each other. Her bare, cool arm was pressed close over his knuckles.

"Heave!" she cried, laughing with the excitement of the moment. "Heave all!" She began the chant of sailors hauling at the ropes. Together and bracing their feet against the schooner's rail, they fought out the fight with the great fish. In a swirl of lather the head and shoulders came above the surface, the flukes churning the water till it boiled like the wake of a screw steamship. But as soon as these great fins were clear of the surface the shark fell quiet and helpless.

Charlie came up with the cutting-in spade and as the fish hung still over the side cut him open from neck to belly with a single movement. Another Chinaman stood by with a long handled gaff, hooked out the purple black liver, brought it over the side and dropped it into one of the deck tubs. The shark thrashed and writhed, his flukes quivering and his gills distended. Wilbur could not restrain an exclamation.

"Brutal business!" he muttered.

"Hoh," exclaimed Moran scornfully; "cutting-in is too good for him. Sailor folk are no friends of such carrion as that!"

Other lines were baited and dropped overboard, and the hands settled themselves to the real business of the expedition. There was no skill in the matter. The sharks bit ravenously and soon swarmed about the schooner in hundreds. Hardly a half minute passed that one of the four Chinamen that were fishing did not signal a catch and Charlie and Jim were kept busy with spade and gaff. By noon the deck tubs were full. The lines were hauled in, and the hands set the tubs in the sun to try out the oil. Under the tropical heat the shark livers almost visibly melted away, and by 4 o'clock in the afternoon the tubs were full of a thick, yellow oil, the reek of which instantly recalled to Wilbur's mind the rancid smell of the schooner on the day when he had first come aboard of her. The deck tubs were emptied into a hogshead and vats that stood in the waist of the Bertha, the tubs scoured and the lines and boat shark hooks overhauled. Charlie discovered that he could hear some large fish playing and breaking off toward the shore. Then, without the least warning, he felt the schooner begin to lift under him. He rolled out of his hammock and stood on the deck. There could be no doubt of it—the whole forepart was rising beneath him. He could see the bowsprit moving upward from star to star. Still the schooner lifted; objects on deck began to slide aft; the oil in the deck tubs washed over; then, as there came a wild scrambling of the Chinese crew up the fo'c'sle hatch, she settled again, gradually appeared in the galley, supper was cooked and eaten upon deck under the conflagration of the sunset, the lights were set, the Chinamen foregathered in the fo'c'sle head smoking opium, and by 8 o'clock the routine of the day was at an end.

So the time passed. In a short time Wilbur could not have said whether the day was Wednesday or Sunday. He soon tired of the unsportsmanlike work of killing the sluggish brutes and turned shoreward to relieve the monotony of the succeeding days. He and Moran were left a good deal to their own devices. Charlie was the master of the men now. "Mate," said Moran to Wilbur one day after a dinner of turtle steaks and fish eaten in the open air on the quarter deck—"mate, this is slow work, and the schooner smells terribly foul. We'll have the dory out and go ashore. We can tumble a cask into her and get some water. The butt's three-quarters empty. Let's see how it feels to be in Mexico."

"Mexico?" said Wilbur. "That's so—Lower California is Mexico. I'd forgotten that!"

They went ashore and spent the afternoon in filling the water cask from the fresh water stream and in gathering abalones, which Moran declared were delicious eating, from the rocks left bare by the tide. But nothing could have exceeded the loneliness of that shore and bank land, palpitating under the flogging of a tropical sun. Low hills of sand covered with brush stretched back from the shore. On the eastern horizon, leagues distant, blue masses of mountains striated with mirages swam in the scorching air.

The sand was like fire to the touch. Far out in the bay the schooner hung motionless under bare sticks, resting apparently upon her inverted shadow only. And that was all—the flat, heat ridden land, the sheen of the open Pacific and the lonely schooner.

"Quiet enough," said Wilbur in a low voice, wondering if there was such a place as San Francisco, with its paved streets and cable cars, and if people who had been his friends there had ever had any real existence.

"Do you like it?" asked Moran quickly, fusing him, her thumbs in her belt.

"It's good fun. How about you?"

"It's no different than the only life I've known. I suppose you think it's a queer kind of a life for a girl. I've lived by doing things, not by thinking things or reading about what other people have done or thought, and I guess it's what you do that counts rather than what you think or read about. Where's that pinch bar? We'll get a couple more abalones for supper and then put off."

That was the only talk of moment they had during the afternoon. All the rest of their conversation had been of those things that immediately occupied their attention.

They regained the schooner toward 5 o'clock, to find the Chinamen perplexed and mystified. No explanation was forthcoming, and Charlie gave them supper in preoccupied silence. As they were eating the abalones, which Moran had fried in batter, Charlie said:

"Shark all gone! No more catch um—him all gone."

"Gone—why?"

"No savvy," said Charlie. "No likee, no likee. China boy tinkum heap funny; too much heap funny."

It was true. During all the next day not a shark was in sight, and though the crew fished unceasingly till dark they were rewarded by not so much as a bite. No one could offer any explanation.

"'Tis strange," said Moran. "Never heard of shark leaving this feed before. And you can see with half an eye that the hands don't like the look of it. Superstitious beggars! They need to be clumped in the head!"

That same night Wilbur woke in his hammock on the fo'c'sle head about half past 2. The moon was down, the sky one powder of stars. There was not a breath of wind. It was so still that he could hear some large fish playing and breaking off toward the shore. Then, without the least warning, he felt the schooner begin to lift under him. He rolled out of his hammock and stood on the deck. There could be no doubt of it—the whole forepart was rising beneath him. He could see the bowsprit moving upward from star to star. Still the schooner lifted; objects on deck began to slide aft; the oil in the deck tubs washed over; then, as there came a wild scrambling of the Chinese crew up the fo'c'sle hatch, she settled again, grad-

ANY remedy that benefits digestion strengthens the nerves.

The nerve centers require nutrition. If the digestion is impaired, the nerve centers become anemic, and indigestion is the result.

Peruna is not a nervine nor a stimulant. It benefits the nerves by benefiting digestion.

Peruna frees the stomach of catarrhal congestions and normal digestion is the result.

In other words, Peruna goes to the bottom of the whole difficulty, when the disagreeable symptoms disappear.

Mrs. J. C. Jamison, 61 Marchant street, Watsonville, Cal., writes:

"I was troubled with my stomach for six years. I tried many kinds of medicine, also was treated by three doctors.

"They said that I had nervous dyspepsia. I was put on a liquid diet for three months.

"I improved under the treatment, but as soon as I stopped taking the medicine, I got bad again.

"I took the medicine for two years, then I got sick again and gave up all hopes of getting cured.

"I saw a testimonial of a man whose case was similar to mine being cured by Peruna, so I thought I would give it a trial.

"I procured a bottle at once and commenced taking it. I have taken several bottles and am entirely cured.

"I have gained in strength and feel like a different person. I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Nervines, such as coal tar preparations, are doing a great deal of harm. Sleep medicines and headache powders are all alike,—heart depressants, and should not be used. The nerves would be all right, if the digestion were good. Peruna corrects the digestion.

ually at first, then, with an abrupt lurch that almost threw him from his feet, regained her level. Moran met him in the waist. Charlie came running aft.

"What was that? Are we grounding? Has she struck?"

"No, no. We are still fast to the kelp. Was it a tidal wave?"

"Nonsense! It wouldn't have handled us that way."

"Well, what was it? Listen! For heaven's sake, keep quiet there forward!"

Wilbur looked over the side into the water. The ripples were still chasing themselves away from the schooner. There was nothing else. The stillness shut down again. There was not a sound.

CHAPTER VI.

IN spite of his best efforts at self control Wilbur felt a slow, cold clutch at his heart. That sickening, uncanny lifting of the schooner out of the glassy water at a time when there was not enough wind to so much as wrinkle the surface sent a creep of something very like horror through all his flesh.

Again he peered over the side down into the kelp thickened sea. Nothing—not a breath of air was stirring. The gray light that flooded down from the stars showed not a break upon the surface of Magdalena bay. On shore nothing moved.

"Quiet there, forward!" called Moran to the shrill voiced coolies.

The succeeding stillness was profound. All on board listened intently. The water dripped like the ticking of a clock from the Bertha Millner's stern, which with the rising of the bow had sunk almost to the rail. There was no other sound.

"Strange!" muttered Moran, her brows contracting.

Charlie broke the silence with a wail. "No likee, no likee!" he cried at top voice.

The man had gone suddenly green. Wilbur could see the shine of his eyes, distended like those of a harassed cat. As he, Moran and Wilbur stood in the schooner's waist, staring at each other, the smell of punk came to their nostils. Forward the coolies were already burning joss sticks on the fo'c'stle head, kotowing their foreheads to the deck.

Moran went forward and kicked them to their feet and buried their joss sticks into the sea.

"Feng shui! Feng shui!" they exclaimed with bated breaths. "The Feng shui no likee we."

Low in the east the horizon began to blacken against the sky. It was early morning. A watch was set, the Chinamen sent below, and until daybreak, when Charlie began to make a clattering of tins in the galley as he set about preparing breakfast, Wilbur paced the rounds of the schooner, looking, listening and waiting again for that slow, horrifying lift. But the rest of the night was without incident.

After breakfast the strangely assorted trio—Charlie, Moran and Wilbur—held another conference in the cabin. It was decided to move the schooner to the other side of the bay.

"Feng shui in disa place. No likee we," announced Charlie.

"Feng shui—who are they?"

Charlie promptly became incoherent on this subject, and Moran and Wilbur could only guess that the Feng shui were the tutelary deities that presided over that portion of Magdalena bay. At any rate, there were evidently no more shark to be caught in that fishing ground. So sail was made, and by noon the Bertha Millner tied up to the kelp on the opposite side of the inlet, about half a mile from the shore.

The shark were plentiful here, and the fishing went forward again as before. Certain of these shark were hauled aboard, stunned by a blow on the nose and their fins cut off. The Chinamen packed these fins away in separate kegs. Eventually they would be sent to China.

Two or three days passed. The hands kept steadily at their work. Nothing more occurred to disturb the monotony of the scorching days and soundless nights. The schooner sat as easily on the unbroken water as though built to the bottom. Soon the night watch was discontinued. During these days the three officers lived high. Turtle were plentiful, and what with their steaks and soups, the fried abalones, the sea fish, the really delicious shark fins and the quail that Charlie and Wilbur trapped along the shore, the trio had nothing to wish for in the way of table luxuries.

The shore was absolutely deserted as well as the back country—an unbroken wilderness of sand and sage. Half a dozen times Wilbur, wearying of his inaction aboard the schooner, made the entire circuit of the bay from point to point. Standing on one of the latter projections and looking out to the west, the Pacific appeared as empty of life as the land. Never a keel cut those waters, never a sail broke the edge of the horizon, never a feather of smoke spotted the sky where it whitened to meet the sea. Everything was empty—vast, unspeakably desolate—palpitating with heat.

Another week passed. Charlie began to complain that the sharks were growing scarce again.

"I think bimeby him go way, once a me'."

That same night Wilbur, lying in his hammock, was awakened by a touch on his arm. He woke to see Moran beside him on the deck.

"Did you hear anything?" she said in a low voice, looking at him under her scowl.

"No, no!" he exclaimed, getting up, reaching for his wicker sandals. "Did you?"

"I thought so—something. Did you feel anything?"

"I've been asleep; I haven't noticed anything. Is it beginning again?"

"The schooner lifted again just now, very gently. I happened to be awake or I wouldn't have noticed it." They were talking in low voices, as is the custom of people speaking in the dark.

"There, what's that?" exclaimed Wilbur under his breath. A gentle vibration, barely perceptible, thrilled through the schooner. Under his hand that was clasped upon the rail Wilbur could feel a faint trembling in her frame. It stopped, began again and died slowly away.

"Well, what the deuce is it?" he muttered impatiently, trying to master the returning creep of dread.

Moran shook her head, biting her lip.

"It's beyond me," she said, frowning. "Can you see anything?" The sky, sea and land were unbroken reaches of solitude. There was no breath of wind.

"Listen," said Moran. Far off to landward came the faint, sleepy clucking of a quail and the stridulating of unnumbered crickets. A long ripple licked the slope of the beach and slid back into the ocean. Wilbur shook his head.

"Don't hear anything," he whispered. "Sh—there—she's trembling again."

Once more a prolonged but faint quivering ran through the Bertha Millner from stem to stern and from keel to masthead. There was a barely audible creaking of joints and panels. The oil in the deck tube trembled. The vibration was so fine and rapid that it tickled the soles of Wilbur's feet as he stood on the deck.

"I'd give two fingers to know what it all means," murmured Moran in a low voice. "I've been to sea for"—Then suddenly she cried aloud: "Steady, all! She's lifting again!"

The schooner heaved slowly under them, this time by the stern. Up she went, up and up, while Wilbur gripped at a stay to keep his place and tried to choke down his heart, that seemed to beat against his palate.

"Heavens!" ejaculated Moran, her eyes blazing. "This thing is"— The Bertha came suddenly down to an easy keel, rocking in that glassy sea as if in a tide rip. The deck was awash with oil. Far out in the bay the ripples widening from the schooner blurred the reflections of the stars. The Chinamen swarmed up the hatchway, voluble and shrill. Again the Bertha Millner lifted and sank, the tubs sliding on the deck, the masts quivering like reeds, the timbers groaning aloud with the strain. In the stern something cracked and smashed. Then the trouble died away, the ripples faded into the ocean and the schooner settled to her keel, quite motionless.

"Look," said Moran, her face toward the Bertha's stern. "The rudder is out of the gudgeons." It was true—the Bertha Millner's helm was unshipped.

There was no more sleep for any one on board that night. Wilbur tramped the quarter deck, sick with a feeling he dared not put a name to. Moran sat by the wrecked rudder head, a useless pistol in her hand, swearing under her breath from time to time. Charlie appeared on the quarter deck at intervals, looked at Wilbur and Moran with wide open eyes, and then took himself away. On the forward deck the coolies pasted strips of red paper inscribed with mottoes upon the mast and filled the air with the reek of their joss sticks.

"If one could only see what it was," growled Moran between her clinched teeth. "But this—this heaving and trembling, it—it's queer."

"That's it, that's it," said Wilbur quickly, facing her. "What are we going to do, Moran?"

"Stick it out!" she exclaimed, striking her knee with her fist. "We can't leave the schooner—I won't leave her. I'll stay by this dough dish as long as two planks in her hold together. Were you thinking of cutting away?" She fixed him with her frown.

Wilbur looked at her, sitting erect by the disabled rudder, her head bare, her braids of yellow hair hanging over her breast, sitting there in man's clothes and man's boots, the pistol at her side. He shook his head.

"I'm not leaving the Bertha till you do," he answered, adding, "I'll stand by you, mate, until we"—

"Feel that?" said Moran, holding up a hand.

A fine, quivering tremble was thrilling through every beam of the schooner, vibrating each rope like a harp string. It passed away, but before either Wilbur or Moran could comment upon it recommenced, this time much more perceptibly. Charlie dashed aft, his cue flying.

"W'at makum heap shake?" he shouted. "W'at for him shake? No savvy, no likee, pretty much heap fraid. Ale-yah, ale-yah!"

Slowly the schooner heaved up as though upon the crest of some huge wave, slowly it settled and again gradually lifted, till Wilbur had to catch at the rail to steady his footing. The quivering sensation increased so that their very teeth chattered with it. Below in the cabin they could hear small objects falling from the shelves and table. Then, with a sudden drop, the Bertha fell back to her keel again, the spilled oil spouting from her scuppers, the masts rocking, the water churning and splashing from her sides.

And that was all. There was no sound—nothing was in sight. There was only the frightened trembling of the little schooner and that long, slow heave and lift.

Morning came, and breakfast was had in silence and grim perplexity. It was too late to think of getting away now that the rudder was disabled. The Bertha Millner must bide where she was.

"And a little more of this dancing," exclaimed Moran, "and we'll have the planks springing off the sternpost."

Charlie nodded solemnly. He said nothing—his gravity had returned. Now in the glare of the tropical day, with the Bertha Millner sitting the sea as placidly as a breeding gull, he was Talleyrand again.

"I tinkum yas," he said vaguely.

"Well, I think we had better try and fix the rudder and put back to Frisco," said Moran. "You're making no money this way. There are no shark to be caught. Something's wrong. They're gone away somewhere. The crew are eating their heads off and not earning enough money to pay for their keep. What do you think?"

"I tinkum yas."

"Then we'll go home. Is that it?"

"I tinkum yas—tomolla."

"Tomorrow?"

"Yas."

"That's settled then," persisted Moran, surprised at his ready acquiescence. "We start home tomorrow?" Charlie nodded.

"Tomolla," he said.

The rudder was not so badly damaged as they had at first supposed. The break was easily mended, but it was found necessary for one of the men to go over the side.

"Get over the side here, Jim," commanded Moran. "Charlie, tell him what's wanted. We can't work the pintle in from the deck."

But Charlie shook his head.

"Him no likee go; him plenty much fraid."

Moran ripped out an oath.

"What do I care if he's afraid! I want him to shove the pintle into the lower gudgeon. What carrion!" she exclaimed. "I'd sooner work a boat with she monkeys. Mr. Wilbur, I shall have to ask you to go over. I thought I was captain here, but it all depends on whether these rats are afraid or not."

"Plenty many shark," expostulated Charlie. "Him flaid shark come back, catchum chop-chop."

"Stand by here with a couple of cutting-in spades," cried Moran, "and fend off if you see any shark. Now, then, are you ready, mate?"

Wilbur took his determination in both hands, threw off his coat and sandals and went over the stern rail.

"Put your ear to the water," called Moran from above. "Sometimes you can hear their fukes."

It took but a minute to adjust the pintle, and Wilbur regained the deck again, dripping and a little pale. He knew not what horrid form of death might have been lurking for him down below there underneath the kelp. As he started forward for dry clothes he was surprised to observe that Moran was smiling at him, holding out her hand.

"That was well done," she said, "and thank you. I've seen older sailor men than you who wouldn't have taken the risk." Never before had she appeared more splendid in his eyes than at this moment. After changing his clothes in the fo'c'stle he sat for a long time, his chin in his hands, very thoughtful. Then at length, as though voicing the conclusion of his reflections, he said aloud as he rose to his feet:

"But of course that is out of the question."

He remembered that they were going home on the next day. Within a fortnight he would be in San Francisco again, a taxpayer, a police protected citizen once more. It had been good fun, after all, this three weeks' life on the Bertha Millner, a strange episode cut out from the normal circle of his conventional life. He ran over the incidents of the cruise—Kitchell, the turtle hunt, the finding of the derelict, the dead captain, the squall and the awful night of the sinking bark, Moran at the wheel, the gruesome business of the shark fishing, and, last of all, that inexplicable lifting and quivering of the schooner. He told himself that

JAP PROPOSALS AT HAGUE.

Use of Neutral Ports by Belligerent Ships in War Time.

The Hague, July 3.—The sub-committee on arbitration met yesterday afternoon, M. Bourgeois presiding, to discuss the American proposition regarding the collecting of public debts.

Holland presented a proposal that 24 hours must elapse between a declaration of war and the presentation of an ultimatum and the opening of hostilities, and also providing that the neutral powers must be notified of a declaration of war.

The Japanese presented propositions on the subject of the treatment of belligerent ships in neutral waters, which provide that belligerent ships cannot use neutral ports or waters for any military purpose; that they cannot remain in neutral ports or waters longer than 24 hours, except in the case of putting to sea being dangerous; that more than three belligerent ships belonging to the same state cannot enter a neutral port; that belligerent ships are strictly forbidden to strengthen their forces in any manner while in neutral ports or waters, or to take on board ammunition, coal or provisions; that warships not conforming with these rules shall be disarmed and interned for the rest of the war by the neutral power whose port or ports they may have entered.

FIRED AT POLICEMAN.

Shot In Jaw Because Would Not Release His Prisoner.

Port Arthur, July 3.—Early yesterday morning Officer A. Grant of the C. N. R. local force arrested a man who was trespassing on the company's property and was proceeding with him to the cells when near the Bank of Montreal they encountered a young man, apparently under the influence of liquor, and who ordered the policeman to relase his prisoner. He threatened to shoot if his command was not instantly obeyed. The policeman made a move to secure his own gun, but the latter had his revolver out in a minute and fired. The bullet struck the officer in the jaw and plowed its way along to a point just in front of and below the ear. One of the city night men heard the shooting and hastened to the scene. The wounded man was taken to the hospital and a search instituted for his assailant. He was located at the Mariaggi Hotel and arrested. He gives the name of Arthur Carman.

22 YEARS IN PRISON.

Alex. Gillis Who Had Life Sentence Is Released.

Kingston, July 3.—Alexander Gillis, who has been for the past 22 years within prison walls on a life sentence, has been given his freedom.

In 1885 Gillis murdered a man in Nova Scotia, striking him on the head with a rolling pin. He was sentenced to be hanged, but later the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

For nine years he remained in the penitentiary at Dorchester, N. B. In 1894 eight prisoners from that institution were transferred to the penitentiary at Kingston.

He has gone to the United States. During his incarceration he was a model prisoner.

SET THE BED ALIGHT.

Woman Alleged to Have Burned Her Husband to Death.

Scranton, Pa., July 3.—Mrs. Kindra Howrato, aged 18 years, of Dunmore, is in the county jail, charged with having burned her husband to death, that she might be free to marry her former lover, Ignatz Hutro, who is also in jail, charged with being an accessory.

The woman got her husband drunk, and when he was stupefied in bed, she went to the room with a kerosene lamp. She poured oil from the lamp on the bed and then, she says, the lamp dropped on the bed setting it afire.

Midland Goes Dry.

Toronto, July 3.—The division court at Osgoode Hall yesterday, by judgment, restored Midland's local option bylaw, which had been quashed by Chief Justice Mulock, on the ground that it had been passed before the expiring time for application for a scrutiny of the ballots.

The high court held that the bylaw was not rendered void by this action.

Strike-Breakers Will Assist.

New York, July 3.—Work of cleaning up the rotting garbage piles in the streets, to prevent a possible epidemic, was commenced with vigor yesterday.

Several days may be required to clear the city streets of filth and refuse. Until the work is completed the strike-breakers will aid the regular drivers in the work.

Down for Twenty Years.

Toronto, July 3.—Stephen Miller, under sentence of twenty years in Kingston Penitentiary for attempted murder and horse-stealing at Port Arthur, was in Toronto Monday night. With him in charge of District Constable Stretton was Frank Veto, an Italian, who is to serve two years for manslaughter.

Pays Damage for Calumny.

Munich, Bavaria, July 3.—Herr Gruber, editor of The Munchener Post, who was sued by Dr. Peters, the African explorer, for calumny in accusing him of cruelty to the natives in East Africa, was sentenced to pay a fine of $125 and costs.

WITTE IS MARKED AS VICTIM

Revolutionist Seek To Murder Former Russian Premier.

TRAITOR BETRAYS THE PLOT

Intended to Throw Bomb Into His Carriage — Planned by Society to Whom Czar Wished Success— Assassin Was Betrayed and Killed by His Associates in Wood Where Explosives Were Hid.

St. Petersburg, July 3.—From revolutionary sources there has been obtained and published full details of a sensational reactionary plot to compass the murder of Count Witte, the former Russian Premier, who represented his country at the peace negotiations at Portsmouth in 1905.

This assassination was planned by the Moscow branch of the Union of True Russian People, the organization to which the Emperor sent a communication on June 17, conveying his blessing to the Ultra-reactionary party, and his hopes for the success of its purposes.

The execution of the plot was entrusted to the leader of the Moscow branch, a man named Kazantseff, who came to St. Petersburg the latter part of May and secured employment in a factory as a common laborer. He befriended several of his fellow workmen, and after announcing himself as an anarchist he enlisted four men to assist him in carrying out his commission. It was planned to throw a bomb at Count Witte's carriage from the window of a cheap boarding-house on Kamenny Island, while the count was on his way to attend a meeting of the Council of the Empire.

The plot, however, was betrayed by the revolutionist bureau, which gave Count Witte warning. The four workmen continued to pretend loyalty to Kazantseff in order not to arouse his suspicion. The day for the assassination was fixed, and that morning Kazantseff led his supposed assistants to a wood in the vicinity of St. Petersburg in order to get the bombs from a secret hiding-place, but at this point the four men turned on Kazantseff and killed him, carrying out the sentence of death passed upon him.

ONTARIO GETS SUBSIDY.

Extra $400,000 Also Included — Was Pleasant Surprise.

Toronto, July 3.—Hon. A. J. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, received a telegram from the Dominion Government yesterday announcing the issue of the Provincial subsidy cheque for the half year. He was not aware if it was the intention of the Ottawa authorities to include the extra subsidy now being authorised by the Imperial Government. This will amount to $400,000 or so, making a total of $1,064,000.

Last year the total amount of the subsidy received was $1,339,287.28. In future years it is expected to amount to $2,128,772.08.

From nineteen estates $50,217 in succession duties was received by the Ontario Treasury Department in June. The total for the half year is $541,417, of which $200,000 came in equal sums from the Fulford and Eaton estates, which are not yet closed. Last year the receipts ending June 30 were $300,746. The estimate for the year made by the Provincial Treasurer was $700,000. and it now looks as though this would be exceeded.

FARMER BEATEN TO DEATH.

Shot and Robbed by Highwaymen on Lonely Road.

New York, July 3.—Held up by highwaymen on a lonely road near Richmond Hill, Christopher Braas, a farmer, was shot and robbed early yesterday while driving home from market. Braas lived in Jamaica.

Evidences along the roadside showed that the farmer had made a desperate fight for his life.

Another farmer says that an attempt was made to hold him up early yesterday by three men, but that he whipped up his horses and got away.

All-Red Justifies Expenditure.

London, July 3.—(C. A. P.)—The Westminster Gazette in an editorial on the all-red line, says if the scheme can do what it professes to do, and in particular if it can accelerate and improve the mail service to Canada and New Zealand in the manner claimed for it, it does fulfill public objects which justify an expenditure of public money.

BRUTAL EXECUTION OF CITIZENS

Arrested and Sentenced On Trumped Up Charges.

CABRERA CLAIMS VICTIMS

Guatemalan President Weeds Out His Black List—Wealthy and Prominent Men Singled Out For Revenge— Absolute Chaos Reigns — Farm Hands Pressed for Soldiers— Crops Rotting In the Fields.

Mexico City, July 3.—Word has been received in Mexico City that President Cabrera in Guatemala has caused the arrest of 150 citizens of that republic on the charge of alleged complicity in the recent attempt to assassinate him. All were thrown into prison, and later herded into squads of twenty, and tried in groups.

Two bands have been tried, and many of the accused sentenced to death. Among the men imprisoned are some of the most wealthy and prominent men in the country. These men have long been on Cabrera's black-list, and the charges against them were trumped up for political reasons.

A note of protest will be forwarded to the powers by the diplomatic corps.

Absolute chaos reigns in Guatemala. Farm hands are pressed for military service, and corps are rotting in the fields. Troops are hurriedly rushing to the frontiers.

EXPRESS IN COLLISION.

Three Trainmen Killed and Passengers Badly Shaken Up.

George Lantz of Williamsport, the baggagemaster, was probably fatally injured. None of the twelve passengers injured was seriously hurt, and most of them proceeded after having their injuries dressed. Many of them refused to give their names.

The accident was caused by an open switch.

EXCITING MAN HUNT.

George Delcour Shoots at Constable and Flees to Woods.

Utica, N.Y., July 3.—An exciting man hunt after George Delcour of Lake Placid, came to an end at 2 o'clock yesterday morning near Bloomingdale, about 15 miles away.

Delcour had been driving his horse on the sidewalks in Lake Placid, and Policeman Fred Cutler and John Arnold went to gather him in. They found him in a barber shop getting shaved. Delcour, leaping from the chair, shot Cutler over the heart.

Arnold exchanged several shots with Delcour, but finally got a bullet through his pistol-arm. Then Delcour sought the woods.

The big hotels and various resorts turned out automobiles, livery rigs and horseback riders and armed men followed the desperado.

Japan Would Not Care.

Washington, July 3.—"No, Japanese would not regard it as an unfriendly act if the American Government saw fit to increase her naval representation in her territorial waters on the Pacific Coast or even if she sent additional men-of-war to the Atlantic station. These were the words of Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador to the United States.

DECLARE WITNESS THE REAL FIEND

Orchard Himself Proposed to Blow Up Miners In Hotel.

MALICH GIVES HIM THE LIE

Flatly Contradicts Whole of Orchard's Story—Knew Nothing of "Pettibone Dope" — Denies That $100 Was Offered to Do the Job—Heard Orchard Say He Would Kill Steunenberg — Dismissed.

Boise, Idaho, July 3.—Commencing the seventh day of direct examination of its witnesses yesterday the defence in the trial of William D. Haywood bids fair to exceed by several days its promise to close within eight days after the opening speeches.

The foundation laid by the testimony of the former stenographer of the Pinkerton agency, who, to use his own words, "gave back to the rightful owners" the secrets entrusted to him by his employers, was used yesterday, and on it will be built the structure by which the defence hopes to convince the jury and the public that there has been a widespread conspiracy to wreck the Western Federation and convict its officers of murder.

Council for the defence claim that they can show a conspiracy existing throughout many states in the union, and intended to affect union labor everywhere and they propose to try to get the whole thing before the jury.

Contradicts Orchard.

Max Malich, another of the men implicated by the testimony of Harry Orchard, made his appearance yesterday as a witness in behalf of Haywood. He directly contradicted all of Orchard's story relating to him.

Orchard testified that Malich proposed to him that he dynamite a hotel at Globeville filled with non-union men and offered him $100 to blow up the store of a business rival, and privately informed the prosecution that Malich had burned himself with "Pettibone dope," while preparing to burn his own store, and later burned his store with "Pettibone dope," and that Malich had agreed to help him with an alibi when he killed Detective Lyle Gregory.

Malich swore that Orchard had proposed destroying the non-union hotel and the killing of McDonald, and that he had refused to have anything to do with the crime. He also denied all knowledge of "Pettibone dope" and swore that Orchard told him that but for Governor Steunenberg he would be a rich man, and that he would kill him.

McPartland's Brother.

The next witness for the defence aroused unusual interest. He was Edward McPartland, a brother of Pinkerton Detective James McPartland, who has been in charge of securing evidence for the state. The witness said he was not a member of the Western Federation of Miners, but a shoemaker by trade. He was at work in his shoeshop in Victor the day of the riot there, following the Independence Depot explosion.

After the shooting started McPartland said five men came to his shop and said they wanted him. He was marched between lines of soldiers to the train and taken to Colorado Springs, where he and several hundred miners were transferred to the Santa Fe road and taken to within a short distance of the Kansas line.

"After we left the train three volleys were fired over our heads and we were told never to come back," said McPartland.

"Did you ever go back to Victor?"

"No, sir."

Moyer and Haywood Re-elected.

Denver, Colo., July 3.—Charles H. Moyer was retained as president, and William D. Haywood as secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners by the federation in convention yesterday.

Ice Drivers

CANADA AND FRANCE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Says the Dominion Has Free Hand.

London, July 3.—(C. A. P.)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, interviewed by The Journal at Paris on the subject of the improved relations between France and England, said that when terms between France and Canada had been arranged, the obtaining of the British Government's signature would be a formal matter.

"England, whose loyal subjects we are, considers us as sons, who have been given their independence, and grants us its signature without any difficulty, leaving to us every latitude in discussing our own interests, and it is surely to our interest, as it it is to yours, to strengthen the bonds which unite Canada and France.

"The commercial treaty that we desire will, in short, unite two near relations, mother and daughter," suggested the interviewer, but Sir Wilfrid was not to be caught that way.

"Leave the question of relationship in general terms," he said, adding, rather pathetically, "and mind you don't make me say a word more than I have said to you."

The Paris Figaro announces that the new treaty of commerce between France and Canada will shortly be signed by the Governments of the two countries.

FATAL QUARREL IN HOTEL.

Bartender Gives Man Unlucky Blow and Is Arrested.

Haileybury, July 3.—Chief of Police Powell arrested Gardner Hunter, a bartender at the Vendome Hotel, Haileybury, Monday night on a serious charge.

It appears that three weeks ago a man named Thomas Boland was in the hotel and became abusive because he was charged 15 cents for a bottle of sanitaris and lemon. Hunter put him out. In a few minutes he came back again, and Hunter walked from behind the bar and got him out again. Boland turned and advanced towards him, calling him vile names. Hunter came out and hit. Boland fell in the doorway and broke his jaw.

Boland was taken to Ottawa and died Monday.

The deceased is said to have been a quarrelsome man, and sympathy seems to be with Hunter in Haileybury. Hunter is a married man and his home is in Orillia.

FREIGHT MEN STILL OUT.

Halifax Trade Tied Up — The Strike Reaches Acute Stage.

Halifax, N. S., July 3.—The strike situation at the I. C. R. terminal here was unchanged last night.

The authorities brought in a number of men from the line last night, but they were intercepted by the strikers and returned home. Merchants who have perishable goods going and coming have to load and unload themselves.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon a motion passed and was telegraphed to M. J. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways, and David Pottinger, general manager, that the schedules of rates demanded by the freight handlers be immediately acceded to temporarily, as trade is paralyzed by the strike and immediate action is necessary.

Prof. Durward was 25 years of age, and a graduate of Cornell Agricultural school, class of 1906.
